COMMENTS

By W. J. Wheaton.

"Lo" The Poor Indian."

A score of Indians held a "Pow Wow" in the State of Utah and with the help of a little of the pre-Volstead-ean fluid conjured up and magnified their wrongs until they were tempted to resort to their ancient custom and took to the "War Path."

Tomahawks are poor weapons to pit against machine guns and TNT, and even the rocky fastness can't hide them from the eyes of the soaring plane. Foolish Indian: Soon he will be either annihilated or placed in irons for the remainder of his life.

Its a far stretch from the wilds of Utah to the civilization of N. Y. But Brooklyn staged a "Wild West" that was a hair raiser.

A trace of "Bucks" became peeved when they gazed at the sky scrapers of the Metropolis, and figured on how much their ancestors had been cheated when Father Knickerbocker bought Manhattan for a string of beads. They became so peeved that they started a young war and tore the raiment from the "white squaws and pappooses" sent the white braves to the tall buildings—there were no trees—and were only conquered when the reenforcements of the minions of the law came to the rescue of their fellows.

Down in Georgia the Christian? savages put on a better exhibition of the days of Leatherstocking and Daniel Boone, than the warriors of Utah and Broadway. They did it according to the best ethics of savagery. They had no real grievance against their victim save that his skin was of a darker hue. They sank an iron rod in the earth, chained their victim to it, and then lighted the fagots piled at his feet. When the flames began to hiss about his charring body they danced about, and took turns in thrusting red hot irons down his throat and into his eyes; meanwhile chanting the song of RACIAL HATE.

The government of the United States took cognizance of the uprising in Utah, and if it had been more pretentious, would, no doubt, have called the troops from Governors Island to quell the Brooklyn braves. But, as openly as the law was violated in that other uprising, and as atrocious as the act was; the Government failed to act.

It might be that there is a differance between the savagery of "Poor Lo" and the savagery sponsored by Christian? civilization.

Political Appointments

We claim, that we as a people, place to much stress on the importance of political appointments.

There never was a political appointee that amounted to a "Tinker's D" as far as his usefulness in forwarding the interest of the Race is concerned.

They are bound to, and compelled to, obey the mandates of those who appointed them, and they are so intent upon retaining their jobs that other obligations are forgotten or ignored.

It is better to elect one legislator than to have a hundred appointees. A spokesman in the halls of Congress is worth all the other cuts of political pie doled out.

It is better, far better, to put forward a candidate for office (an elective office) and be defeated, than to kow tow and drool at the mouth like a hungry hound waiting for a bone, you have at least made an effort for political recognition.

It is refreshing to learn that that fact his been recognized in Los Angeles and that they are supporting a candidate for the City Council.

With a spokesman in the Council, the property owner will not have to form protective associations for the purpose of keeping their property surroundings up to the sanitary standard desired. They wont have to beg some reluctant councilman to bestow that which is their right.

It cannot be gainsaid, that Los Angeles has one of the most beautiful residential sections occupied by Negroes any where in these United States. They should have in the city Council a representative to look after their growing interest.

In one section alone the residential property is valued, conservatively, at over one million six hundred thousand dollars, ($1,600,000.00). Of course we expect an elective position to be filled by one whose integrity and honesty is unquestioned.

Optimism

This is a good time for those who are despondent for the welfare of the Race, and are deploring racial conditions, to open up their eyes and allow the sun ray of optimism to clarify their sight. When the history of the Race for the past decade is reviewed we note a progress that is highly gratifying, though far from being satisfactory.

Dont you remember the old days that when a Republican was elected to the presidency, the Negroes would look upon it as a special dispensation of Providence.

A delegation of Bishops and Preachers would buy a Bible and present it in the name of the Race. Then they would look for some special favors because of their color.

Then there came along a President who did not believe in the color question, but, said that, "The door of opportunity should be opened to all alike." He with drew his hand from the color theory of political support, and said "Walk alone". It was hard to get away from the old conditions, but years have proved his wisdom, and, with the exception of some of those old fossils who have not as yet gone to their last resting place, we hear very little about the appointment, to political office because of Race.

As Doc Coue would say, "Every day in every way, politically, we are growing better."

It Happened in Oakland.

Judging from the following incident, the welfare clubs for Race betterment in Oakland have their work cut out for them. With the influx of immigrants from the South there is some who bring former environment with them.

There is a character who parades the section of West Oakland, where that class of the opposite race who know nothing of the refined Negro element, reside, and whose antics reflect on the entire Race.

He was noticed Sunday parading with a beaver hat surmounted by a tin can, "a la Hooligan" trimmed with feathers of variegated color. He carried a long tin pan which he strummed with his fingers, meantime chanting a "voodoo" song. The poor white element of that section followed him making remarks which would have been resented by any respecting person, but was taken as jest by the minstrel. If the fellow is crazy he should be taken care of; and if he is a degenerate; he should be imprisoned, or if only ignorant of the ethics of northern decorum, he should be taken in hand by someone of the welfare societies and instructed in the ethics of RACIAL PRIDE.

MEXICO---LAND OF THE NEGRO'S OPPORTUNITY.

Have you noticed that in the past four months the National Geographic magazine has twice made Western Mexico its central theme? If you did, you perhaps remember that this fruitful opportunity-land was freely praised. Don't think that it is simply beautiful scenery that has attracted these men. They see there vast undeveloped wealth for some thrifty and venturous persons. Already they have received such a hearing that men from all classes are down there looking the situation over with intentions of investing and hundreds of others stand on the threshold of similar designs.

Visionary Negroes

For five years a handful of visionary Negroes have been holding a panorama of this region before their fellows and trying to convince them that there is a chance to think fast and beat their wily white brethren to a great project. It was not a highly popular message because it was new and meant venture. It meant setting out where no paths had been worn and no white man had led. Since then a few hunters and hoboes have wandered down through the vicinity, and have come back with a tale that cures deafness. White people fall for it head first.

White Students Off For Mexico

Just this week two of the most promising and talented students in the College where I attend, left school and started for the University of Mexico. It is not that Mexico's educational system is even fit to compare with that of the U. S.; these fellows are out to succeed in this most promising field.

When more of these folk go into Mexico with their prejudices and corrupt society with the racial bitterness that is their alone, then perhaps the Negro will be willing to follow; then boot-blacking and table-waiting will flourish for the sons of Ham "in the tents of his brethren."

White Colonization

White associations have been organized (right in Los Angeles) to push colonization schemes that will put them in a situation to favorably tap the resources of that country. In spite of opposition to their greedy intention they continue to shove on. Mexico, on the other hanod, continues to invite Negro colonists. But Negroes, in their jovial satisfaction, choose rather to be hewers of wood and drawers of water in the white man's country. And just as long as they stand by idly waiting for the white man's approbation will they ever be the menials of the land.

The Gospel of Venture

I've got a gospel of venture that I want to propound, a doctrine of inde pendent and original endeavor in new fields. It is the only way to locate that success-gem we are all looking for, and it is the only way to better our unhappy situation in this nations' economy.

This Mexico proposition strikes me as about as sure a venture as a person could hope for. Some colored people are bold to state that they fear inconvenience and discomfort in establishing in a country like Mexico. They are afraid of bandit raids and governmental strife—as if their present situation were a model of tranquility.

A Mystery

It is strange that a white physician will give up his city practice in the U. S. and go to one of the Mexican towns across the border to practice where his services are in greater demand, while his swarthy chauffeur hesitates fearing that his condition may not be bettered and that his discomforts might be increased. I said it is strange; I meant it is ridiculous.

Of all people the Negro should be the most willing to plunge into venturesome projects for his racial uplift—he has less to lose. This does not mean recklessness, nor does it mean he should think less seriously of each move or count the cost less accurately. It means count for yourself, count fast, and act before someone else steps in and spoils the opportunities.

SERVILE GARVYITES CAUSE GREAT UPROAR IN NEW ORLEANS

Hot Denunciation of U. N. I. A. Branch Follows Letter to Mayor Endorsing Jim Crow Laws.

(Crusader Serivce)

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 21.—All self-respecting citizens of color here are up in arms against the local branch of The Universal Negro Improvement Association. Marcus Garvey's organization, as the result of the infamous letter to Mayor McShane in which a group of women, members of The U. N. I. A. went on record as upholding and endorsing Jim Crow laws, declaring that "we like your Jim Crow laws in that they defend the purity of races."

The letter pleaded that the mayor lift the police surveillance to which, ever since the murder of Dr. Easton, the Garvey organization has been subjected.

The Garveyites gave copies of the letter to the white press, and its publication in the columns of the enemy papers has aroused a fierce storm of protest and indignation in all circles outside of the Garvey crowd.

The letter, the full text of which follows, also refers to the American birth of the writers, members of the Garvey organization:

New Orleans, La., Feb. 16, 1923.
"Honorable Andrew J. McShane,
"Mayor, City of New Orleans,
"City Hall.
"Honored Sir:

"We, as members of the New Orleans division of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, wives and daughters of the same, an organization that stands for improvement and uplift work among Negroes, do hereby present to you our grievance for having been called undesirables by some newspapers on date of January 19 and for being dangerous characters, in spite of the fact that we were born in Louisiana graduated from Louisiana schools and are property owners and tax payers; never having been arrested before or considered base neighbors by anyone anywhere.

"It is true that some of us are not church members, neither have we any intention of joining church until we find a leader who is truly following in the footsteps of Jesus, and caring for the hungry nad naked children of the poor, as Christians. Then there will be no need of juvenile courts, but the majority of those professing to lead are busy building beautiful homes for themselves and buying beautiful automobiles while they fool fools about hell fire for a living.

"The Universal Negro Improvement Association is our church, our club house, our theatre, our fraternal order and our school and we will never forsake it while we live neither will our men forsake it, but fear has crept into our hearts because of the police's continued interference with our meetings. We are afraid that some night we may have serious trouble.

"On one hand we hear of members and friends speaking of leaving New Orleans to make their homes elsewhere. Therefore we appeal to you to read our constitution that you may know what our organization stands for. Then help us by coming out to our meeting on Sunday night and assuring our members that New Orleans is a city of fair play, even for its most humble and ignorant law-abiding black citizens as well as law abiding black strangers.

"We like your 'Jim Crow laws in that they defend the purity of races, and any person married to any but a Negro cannot become a member of our organization.

"We are not members of the Negro 400 of New Orleans, which is composed of that class who are spending their time imitating the rich whites, with card parties, eating parties and studying Spanish so as to be able to pass for anything but a Negro, thereby getting a chance to associate with you. We are not ashamed of the race to which we belong and we feel sure that God made black skin and kinky hair because He desired to express Himself in that type as well as in any other.

"We are accused of being implicated in the murder of J. W. H. Eason, who was fatally shot in this city on the night of January 1, 1923. Of this we can truthfully say, we know nothing. We do know, however, that Mr. Eason was a handsome, intelligent, money-spending woman chaser. If he could speak now, no doubt he would tell the world that New Orleans is a dangerous place for strangers to indulge in that kind of game.

"Therefore, may we expect you at our meeting on Sunday night with a message of peace and protection that we may feel safe to hold our meeting in New Orleans, La.

"Very respectfully yours,
Mrs. G. D. DANS, R. N.

WHAT SHALL WE DO?

What tactics must we adopt as a result of this world trend?

We must carefully build up our state and maintain the workmen's leadership over the peasants, but increase the latter's confidence and exercise maximum economy. Our advantage is that the whole world is in a state of evolution. Our disadvantage is that capitalists have succeeded in splitting the world. This split is further complicated by the fact that Germany, the foremost cultured country of capitalistic development, cannot succeed in getting on her feet.

All the capitalistic powers of the West prey upon Germany and refuse to allow her to rise. On the other hand, the entire East with hundreds of millions of exploited toilers has been driven to the last stage of human endurance.

But in this article we are interested in the question of the inevitability of victory for Socialism, but in the question of what tactics we should adopt to prevent the Western European counter-revolutionary powers from crushing us.

"COLD" MAY CAUSE LOSS OF HEARING

By: DR. E. B. LEWIS, B. Sc., M. D.
1618½ East 9th Street

Your knowledge depends upon the precise reception your senses give to things around you. If your eyes, ears, muscles, skin and other senses are inattentive or narrowed in their fields of activity, your powers are little better than if you were deaf or near-sighed. You are only as mentally alert as your ears, eyes, muscles and other senses are hale and hearty.

It is a disagreeable admission and an unfair condition, but none the less true, that anyone "hard of hearing" seldom is able to keep up with the advance guards of finance, medicine, economics, politics or business. Deafness, which may begin at birth, sometimes so alters the ventpipe between the ear and the throat—the eustachian tube and the more delicate structures of the ear as to bring about partial or complete, life-long disability.

Careful Attention Needed

Other types of deafness, however, originate in infections in the middle ear, all too lightly regarded as "colds." These may arise from adenoids, from enlarged tonsils, nasal obstructions, scarlet fever, earache treated by such vicious remedies as oil and other ailments of childhood's unhappy hours.

Deafness from any of these causes, if taken in hand early enough by a real aurist, not a mere "ear specialist," like the wife in the novel, "in name only," very likely can be cured. Treatment, however, of a radical sort must be begun before the damage spreads to the middle ear and the eustachian tube.

When the latter air pipe is blocked mechanically it is often the sequence of uncorrected conditions in the nose, the pharynx above the palate, which states are only too often known under that black sheep of a waste-basket term, "catarrh." If the cause of earache, running ears and other ear troubles is to be found in the nasal, pharyngeal, tonsillar and adenoid pathology, the prompt removal of these sources spells a saving of your auditory sense.

Drainage Sometimes Required

If fluids are discharged from the ear, the treatment must include the security of an open eustachian tube, and a free outlet for the pent-up discharge. The latter is to be drained into the nose and throat, and cleaned out by a skilful aurist. If, perhaps this infectious material invades the middle ear instead of running out freely into the throat and mouth cavity, serious injury may be done to the sense of hearing. The construction of the middle ear is such that microbes, dirt, matter and bacteria cannot enter it even to the slightest degree wihou damaging its delicate fabric.

Should it be discovered and correctly treated when simple congestion is present, the sufferer may barely escape with his hearing intact. The affection may subside before the anatomy is involved. Free drainage at the safest point is the thing to obtain, but it is an unfortunate truth that most mothers and fathers "let nature take its course" or put oil in the ears at this time instead of consulting an authority on the ears.

The middle ear should not be inflated, especially if drainage is obtained; at least not until all the exuding fluid either has been drained through a tube, has been absorbed or otherwise caused to cease to flow. Wisdom is the better part of valor in treating diseases of the ear.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered prsohally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618½ East 9th Street; Phones 820-389 and 822-417.

MEXICO NOT BARRING COLORED IMMIGRANTS

(Crusader Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Mex., March 21.—High officials in The Mexican Government brand as utterly false and malicious the statement appearing in the American press to the effect that Mexico has changed her traditional policy of friendship towards the Negro American and intends to bar Negro colonists henceforth.

According to these officials, Negro colonists are as welcome as ever and the statement that they are not is a canard broadcasted by the white American and British oil interests who are alarmed at the headway beng made by colored people from the United States.

The opposition of the oil interests is chiefly against permitting the colored people to colonize in the Tampico and San Luis Potosi districts, which are in the heart of the Mexican oil belt.

On January 25 a colony of Oklahoma colored people started for San Luis Potosi, in the heart of tropical Mexico. Other colonists have gone to the Santa Clara Valley district on the west coast of Mexico about 200 miles below Los Angeles, Calif. In this district the Lower California Land & Development Co., of Los Angeles, a Negro Corporation, owns and controls a vast estate of over 5000 acres of valuable farming, mining and oil lands.

In spite of the opposition of the oil interests, this movement to open up the fertile valleys of Lower California to the colored people has the hearty support not only of President Obregon but of the Mexican government as a whole, the Chamber of Commerce of San Diego and Los Angeles, Calif., and other influential interests.

Mr. C. H. Braden, being a stockholder in the National Airless Tire Co.

I attended a meeting on February 25 and in your remarks you spoke of the Old Nigger. I wondered if you knew what the word Nigger meant. If you call him a Nigger because he was a slave the same applies to the white man because he was the first slave.

And for a man of your intelligence I thought it was very much out of place. Read your history and find out what the word Nigger means or consult your dictionary for it. Mr. Braden you must remember that black men read and understand history as well as the white man. Had you been in a meeting of my Race we would have shown you the very most respect.

Brown University Awards Gaston Medal to Colored Senior

Louis Lorenzo Redding, a Senior at Brown University, won the Gaston prize medal contest in oratory in Manning Hall last evening before the largest crowd that has ever gathered to listen to the annual event. Mr. Redding's subject was "Booker T. Washington" and the decision of the judges, Professors Benjamin C. Clough and Robert McB. Mittchel and Leland M. Goodrich, was unanimous. The other contestants were John Andrew Wilson, who spoke on "Theodore Roosevelt," and David Alan Midley, who gave his views on "The Kansas Court of Industrial Relations."

The Gaston medal and a purse of $100 went to Mr. Redding, but there is a still greater honor that goes to the winner. On Wednesday, June 20, Redding will be one of the speakers at the 155th annual commencement in the First Baptist Meeting House.

Speaking with a mellowness of tone and enunciating perfectly, Redding told of conditions pertaining to the Negro with the final abolition of American slavery in 1865, and of the splendid and beneficial work that Booker Washington attempted.

"The man was too conscientious to deny or to unreasonably excuse the deficiencies of his race," said Mr. Redding. "He believed that exposition and condemnation of its deficiencies was far bitter than excessive praise of its virtues. He recognized that because of ignorance and pauperism the potentiality to crime was increased and he sought to diminish crime by removing the causes. He pleaded not for special tolerance for the Negro criminal because of his ignorance, but for adequate educational facilities to combate that ignorance.

"It is a remarkable demonstration of personal greatness that this man, born without patrimony or name, should leave a vast heritage, the contents of which is not diminished, but magnified by being shared among the thousands. In proportion to the growth of this heritage will the advancement of the Negro in America marked. And the advancement of any element in the nation is reflected in the nation itself. The encouragement of the nation to the heirs in an evidence of appreciation for the author of the heritage and, conversely, any unnatural suppression of the heirs is a defloecation of the heritage by the nation, and indicates a complacency in their backwardness. But only as the nation does manifest this appreciation can the Negro be expected to develop to the fullest possibilities of citizenship."

After the speakers had concluded, the judges retired to reach a decision and Prof. Albert Knight Potter, the presiding officer, introduced the 'Varsity quartet, which was encored repeatedly.

COMMENTS

By: W. J. WHEATON

IN THE LIME LIGHT

One of the annual athletic events between the universities of Stanford and California is a boxing contest. Whenever the name of a Negro student has appeared among the contestants Stanford—with one exception—has defaulted the bout.

This year the University of California had two Negroes on the list. Stanford demurred and drew the color line, claiming that the bouts between black and white would further intensify the racial feeling which, unhappily, existed. Roy Courtelyou, graduate manager for California, says that that University never consented to the elimination of any student who had prepared himself and was eligible through his standing as a scholar and athlete to compete in any of the events staged by the U. of C. There was no race riot when the Stanford contestant defeated the Negro entry of the U. C. before, and we feel confident that the only show of ill feeling, if any, would be on the side of the Stanford U. It's a poor and unsportsmanlike position for Stanford to take, but then, we recognize the situation. There is quite a number of students from "Dixie Land."

Some more subtle propaganda was started when an irresponsible person started the rumor that 2500 Negro miners were to be shipped to the Ruhr mining district to mine coal for the French government.

The papers published the news under startling headlines without waiting to ascertain the reliability of its source.

Instead of obtaining 2500, they could not get 25 signatures for such contracts. Knowing the antipathy of Germany towards the employment by the allied governments of black men, we are under the opinion that the rumor was started to create a feeling of sympathy for Germany by exploiting the American Negro. "Watch your Step" should be the slogan; we don't know where the next attack will come from.

There is one thing that doesn't seem to be contaminated by coming in contact with a Negro, and that is MONEY.

White women will publicly acknowledge their liaison with black paramours, or seek to establish the ligitimacy of their parentage wherever the dollar is concerned.

There died recently in San Francisco a Negro, "Bob" Lee, who was quite a character about the road houses during the "live" days of the city. Bob amassed a small fortune through the tips on stock given by some of his patrons and when he died willed it to a woman (white) with whom he had made his home. But now comes word from Boston that another claimant has appeared on the scene in the person of a daughter. What explanation the Boston claimant will make to her husband, who, it is alleged, is a white merchant of the "Back Bay City" when she acknowledges her Negro lineage, will be interesting. But, MONEY TALKS.

Siki, the black champion pugilist of France, has gone to IRELAND to fight. From all accounts it would seem as if the inhabitants of the Emerald Isle would have all "scraps" they need.

It seems a travesty to compel one to pay for what he has been furnished gratis for the past century.

Carrying a fight to Ireland is like furnishing coals for Newcastle.

THE TIDE OF EMIGRATION

From reports at hand the emigration of the Negro from the South continues, and the crest of the tide will be reached during the Spring and early Summer.

If the trend of emigration si wisely distributed it will be of Benefit. Otherwise, it will doubtless create a fluster in industrial circles. The trouble seems to be, is, that when a person who has emigrated from that community prepares to flock to that particular place thereby disturbing the industrial equilibrium.

Thousands of Negro workers can be placed in the industrial centers, and if properly distributed will not be noticed sufficient to cause friction.

Will our racial advisers and leaders be equal to the occasion?

—00—

THE HINDU

Like the Japanese, the Hindu has been declared ineligible to citizenship in the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States has so declared.

It is well: The Hindus themselves draw the line of caste. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

OUR HOMES

Is the home responsible for the lack of respect for authority on the part of our young people? That is a query that interests every man and woman who has a desire to see the Race set a standard of good citizenship.

De we leave too much to the teacher in the public school and fail to supplement the efforts of the teacher by home training?

It is a delicate question but it should be courageously met by our clergy, and the different women's organizations which seek the betterment of race conditions.

The home life of the American Negro must be preserved in its purity—they are the safeguards of our racial and moral structure.

WONDERS OF THE HOLY LAND

By Mrs. Leila Walker Wilson, Pres. The Mme. C. J. Walker Mfg. Co.

No matter in which manner approach to Palestine is made, one somehow feels that he has begun a sojourn among the most Holy of Holies, and not because of the absence of company, for there are many fellow pilgrims on the boats and trains that touch points in the Holy Land. There are merchants and traders too, from the four points of the compass and still hundreds of others moving about with apparently no thought of the sacred land in which they move. Their lack of appreciation of the unequalled wonders of their native land is common, just as America's wonders are often passed unnoticed by us.

Upon arriving, one is impressed with the politeness of the custom's officials whose virtues, by the way, do not include immunity from grafting and petty thievery. A coin placed into the examining officer's hands is known to be the trick that facilitates an easy and hasty entrance to the Land Where Christ Lived. Once in, you are known to all who chance to see you as a person of untold wealth. Foreigners, in spite of the thousands who visit there annually, are novelties and the natives seek to obtain souvenirs from every one they see.

Jerusalem, the first point of interest I visited in Palestine, and the largest and most important city, is situated on four hills, 2,500 feet above the Mediterranean Sea and surrounded on three sides by ravines, the fourth side joining one of the hills with the main range of mountains of the country. It is truly the Golden City, as may be seen by the countless golden domes, spires and minarets of a thousand and more churches, mosques and synagogues glittering and dazzling in the sunlight and the houses of white stone and rough marble silhouetted against the azure sky representing the residences and business shops of 70,000 Moslems, Jews and Christians. Scores of ill paved, crooked, narrow streets mark the paths through the city and lend their bit to the enchantment of the Holy Land.

Antedating the birth of Christ, Palestine has been a hotbed of religious wars, massacres and destruction, and much that is which allures and draws one there can be said to have resulted from these wars. In more peaceful times progress would have crept in and doubtless wiped out the history that remains.

Strange enough to say, Mohammedanism is the principal religion of Palestine and its hold on the majority of the people is remarkable, and even stranger to say, their principal church, the Mosque Omar erected A. D. 691, is the most beautiful structures of its kind in the world.

In Jerusalem there is to be seen the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, which it is said covers the spot where Jesus Christ's body was anointed by Nicodemus and which contains the Rock Calvary, a stone with two foot prints said to be those of Christ, and the stone that was rolled away from the mouth of the sepulcher by an angel. Then there is the Russian Excavation Church, which encloses the triginal gates of Jerusalem, the Garden of Gethsemane, the tomb of Mary and the Chapel of the Ascension on the Mount of Olives, containing a rock marked by tradition as the exact spot where Christ ascended into Heaven; there is the tomb of David on Mount Zion and the Chamber of the Lord's Last Supper; the Jew's Wailing Place, which is against the Wall of Solomon and is where the Jews go daily to cry and pray for the revelation of the burial place of the Ten Commandments.

The city of Bethlehem, the home of David and the birthplace of Christ, is interesting for its Church of the Nativity, erected over the birthplace of Christ and containing the resting place of the Manger. Here also is located the Chapel of Innocence. Bethlehem represents the beginning of the history of Christ and offers splendid opportunity for first hand comparison of much relating to His early life.

There is Jericho, the Promised Land with Elijah's Fountain beside the school of the Sons of the Prophets and Bethany, which is now an entirely Moslem City, with the spot where stood the house of Simon, the leper, and where Lazarus was resurrected by Christ; and then, the Dead Sea and the River of Jordan with muddy, turbulent, waters and which rises in Mount Hermon. These are by no means all the wonders of the Holy Land. There are as many more, of lesser importance, but interesting and related very directly to the more famous biblically historical places.

Palestine is wonderful, and though the least of all the lands, it is with influence that penetrates into the furthermost corner of the earth. It is not a beautiful land, but picturesque and possessing all the requisites that go to make beauty—hills and valleys, sloping plateaus and rugged shore lines, barren deserts and verdant meadows. To go there and see the wonders of the past is to receive an unequalled education, to be a master of biblical history and to gain a more clear and comprehensive knowledge of the Christ that was and the Christianity that is. A trip to the Holy Land and full realization of much the Bible speaks of should be aspired to by every one and most certainly by the large number of church-men whose chosen field is service and the perpetuation of the teachings of Christ. And such a trip is not impossible. It is within your reach. A trip to Palestine, the wonderful Holy Land, free of all cost, is yours if you determine to earn it.

Buy and read Race papers April 1, and learn how to make this unequalled trip free of all cost. Buy, Read and Act.

MASS MEETING NOMINATES TITUS ALEXANDER

Remembering the untoward conditions which were in evidence two yeas ago, when a multiplicity of candidates appeared from our group as contestants for the Councilmanic ticket, there has gone forth a hue and cry that this situation should not obtain again and that if possible we should unite on one man. With this idea in view the great Los Angeles Forum set about to bring this very thing to pass and on last Friday night as a result of the efforts of the Forum a great Mass Meeting was held at the 14th St. Schoolhouse, to which every voter in the City of Los Angeles had been invited to attend, and in the deliberation of this wonderful meeting every man and woman was given by the chairman, Editor J. B. Bass, every opportunity to be heard and after a full and free discussion nominations were made as follows:

Booker T. Washington, Jr.; J. W. Coleman; Percy Buck; Titus Alexander.

The result of the balloting was as follows:

Coleman	13
Buck	19
Washington	3
Alexander	44

Mr. Alexander was declared the nominee of the Mass Meeting and on motion of J. W. Coleman, the nomination was made unanimous.

On last Sunday the Forum confirmed the nomination and appointed a Committee of 25 to wage a tremendous drive on behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Alexander and truly the spirit of get together is moving on.

J. B. BASS

Editor of the California Eagle and District Grand Master, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows.

Grand Master Bass left Los Angeles on Monday, March 12th, for an extended trip up the Pacific Coast in the interests of the Order he represents, and also as advance agent for Chandler Owen, Editor of the Messenger, who will come to the Pacific Coast on a lecture tour next month.

LOUIS K. BEEKS IS ADMITTED TO THE BAR

Among the names of those who passed the recent State bar examinations with full honors, we are proud to see that of Louis K. Beeks.

For many years we have watched with friendly interest the career of this self-made youth of one of our old-established families. As a boy he was ever industrious, and an assiduous student. As a young man, he pursued he studies at Howard University, being graduated from the same with high honors. And now, shortly after his return to the Southland, he has become a "full-fledged" attorney and counselor-at-law. This may be said in all seriousness, for Attorney Beeks is not among those who must perforce hang out their shingle and wait patiently (and long) for a first client. Attorney Beeks' first case is already on file, and on Monday, March 19th, the date for the same will be set.

Independence, honor, the respect of one's fellow citizens, are the unfailing reward of ambition, backed with an iron determination to succeed.

Such will come to Louis K. Beeks, and we are only one of a host of loyal friends who wish him God speed on the road to success!

BIG NIGHT AT E. 36TH

An old time "Gospel Sing" will begin at 7:45. Songs will be on the illuminated screen. Miss Lowe will sing Rodney's "Calvary" with screen pictures to illustrate.

FIRST CONCERT SETS HIGH STANDARD

CLAUD V. PITTS, LYRIC TENOR, CHARMS LARGE AND RESPONSIVE AUDIENCE.

By: G. H. DANIELS

The Recital at St. Paul Institutional Baptist Church, on the evening of March 13th last, will long be a pleasant memory to those who had the good fortune on that occasion to hear Claud V. Pitts, and the associate-artists who so ably supported him n giving a pogram of surpassing excellence.

Mr. Pitts was presented by his instructor, Professor Patrick O'Neal.

He opened the program with Giordani's' "Caro Mio Ben." This is a lyric of great beauty and simplicity, by a composer of the early Italian school, and was exquisitely sung in Italian by Mr. Pitts. His following song was "Celeste Aida," that great aria ffor dramatic tenor, from Vedi's immortal opera, Aida. It was well sung in excellently articulated English by M. Pitts. Other numbers sung with most pleasing effect by the young artist wee Wooler's "Consider and Hear Me," and "The Lord is my Light," by Allitsen. Enthusiastic plaudits greeted each rendition, and Mr. Pitts received several splendid floral tibutes.

With his exceptional voice, his magnetic personality and decidedly winning stage presence, there is no question that Claud V. Pitts will win for himself an enviable place in the musical world. He has mounted the first steps of that steep ladde by which the artist climbs to fame. His spirit is imbued with the art that he loves; he is an untiring student, and fired with an unquenchable ambition to succeed. Why should not the musical world be his?

Mr. Pitts' accompanist was the talented Miss Lucile Banton, a pupil of Pofessor W. T. Wilkins.

Professor Wilkins himself played his monumental original work, "The Path of Destiny," which he has previously rendered with great success before the most critical of white audiences. Professor Wilkins, of whom local musical circles can boast no more finished an artist and polished gentleman, very generously donated his services to his co-artist, on this occasion.

Professor John Mitchell, violinist, endered two excellent numbers, accompanied by Miss Earl. Webb King gave an interesting interpretation of Shylock"s part in the court scene from Shakespear's "Merchant of Venice," and the program closed with two stirring numbers by the St. Paul Choir, of which Mr. Pitts is diector, and the presentation of Professor O'Neal by Mr. Pitts.

BARTLETT OUT FOR CONGRESS

Alfred L. Bartlett yesterday made formal announcement of his candidacy for the post left vacant by the death of Henry Z. Osborne, Congressmen from the Tenth District, coupling this with the statement that he will not participate in any conference by "interested politicians" to select and indorse a candidate.

Mr. Bartlett has been a resident of the Hollywood section of the Tenth District for seventeen years. He was a member of the California Legislature in the regular sessions of 1915 and 1917, and the special session of 1916. He was chairman of the Los Angeles Republican County Central Committee that conducted the campaign for Warren G. Harding for President, Samuel M. Shortridge for United State Senator, and Walter F. Lineberger for Congress.

Mr. Bartlett's statement follows: "The Tenth Congress District is one of the strongest Republican districts in the country. As such, I believe the sentiment of the community demands that whoever represents it be one who is in general accord with policies of the Harding administration as announced by the President in public utterances. I believe that California needs protection for her industries; that steps be taken for the proper conservation of waters of the Colorado River and that the government give adequate aid for an additional break-water at Los Angeles Harbor, and other harbor development work. So far as legislaton now pending in Congress is concerned, I favor Tubercular Hospitals, the Constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor, the Dyer anti-lynching bill, and believe that public policy demand the establishment of uniform marriage and divorce laws."

Mr. Bartlett is an attorney by profession, and has practiced here since 1909, most of the time as a member of the firm of Randall, Bartlett & White. He is a member of the University Club, Bar Association, Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, the Sons of the Revolution and other organizations.

A TALE OF OLD JAPAN

WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

Soprano Soloist—
Madame Ruth Watkins—O KIMI SAN.

Madame Watkins, the leading Soprano in A Tale of Old Japan, will twinkle more than that proverbial little star that appeared on the horizon some thousands of years ago. In the portrayal of O Kimi San she will be at perfect ease. She feels the part. Her bird-like voice rings with a clearness approaching that of a nightingale. Madame Watkins studied with several prominent teachers while in Chicago. The last, and, perhaps best work, was done under the tutelage of Madame Clara A. Hutchinson.

Contralto Soloists—
Miss Maud Mitchell—Cherry Blossom.
Mr. Charles White—Sawara.

His voice is light, pleasing and full of promise. Church-choir singing has improved his style and done much to enlarge his musical horizon. Mr. White has sung with several quartettes; each instance was successful. He will be the real Hero in A Tale of Old Japan. Mr. White is a citation for scholarship.

Baritone Soloist—
Mr. Leroy Albright—Yoichi Tenko.

There are greater baritone singers but none sweeter than Mr. Albright. He has become indispensable to the Club. Bears the same reputation with us that is sustained in the Wesley Chapel Church Choir. Los Angeles has not forgotten his work in Hiawatha. This time Mr. Albright will sing and act the part of Yoichi Tenko, and eminent Japanese Painter.

Premiere Danseuse—
Miss Anita Thompson—Ya Na Ka No.

The Club has engaged Miss Thompson to dance both evenings. She needs no introduction. Art is reflected from her finger tips to the rhythmical contorts of her toes. Miss Thompson is easily our finest ballet dancer. Come and see he rin oriental costume, delineating terpischorean scintillations of frozen music. Assisting Miss Thompson are four water sprites and three elysian nymphs, who, behold the every caprice of the imperial danseuse, importuning, hoping to win her affection and be clothed with th emysticisms of her intricate Arabesques.

Water Sprites:—Cornelia White, Corinne White, Flossie White, Le Vera White.

Elysian Nymphs:—Portia Pruitt, Mercel Pruitt, Gladys Mathonican.

GIVE YOUR NOSE SPECIAL CARE

By: DR. E. B. LEWIS, B. Sc., M. D.
1618½ East 9th Street

Shakespeare in "Two Gentlemen of Verona" emphasizes the importance and prominence of a man's proboscis in the words "O pest unseen, inscrutable, invisible, as a nose on a man's face, or a weather-cock on a steeple." If it is "as plain as the nose on your face" that this organ of curiosity, inspiraton and facial adornment must be kept in order, it is equally obvious that the everyday man should know its hygiene and care.

You cannot snuff the smell of mortal change on earth, if the sundry and various distortions of the nasal cavity are lightly dismissed as that ubiquitous "catarrh." If any particular structure of the human form divine honestly deserves the name of the organ of inspiration, it is the nose. One of the essential activities of this part of the anatomy is to breathe in fresh air as the stale air of your lungs is displaced to make its exodus by way of the mouth.

The mouth is especially the vestibule and outlet of the digestive department, the nose of the respiratory tubes. Ancient man, hundreds of hundreds of years ago, understood the hygiene of life. The old Hebrew scribes who transmuted word of mouth into the verses of Genesis: "The Lord God formed man of the dust of the earth, and breathed into his nostrils the breathe of life," knew physiology and science perhaps better than the average person of today.

The sound nose is a respirator and a filter as well as a receptacle for the sense of smell. The insertion of a bit of cotton, wool or some other artificial device with which to warm the air and to remove the dust and germs in it ere they penetrate beyond the nostrils, was forestalled in the nose itself these countless years man has trod this earth.

The circuitous, maze-like tortuosity of the healthy nose with its spongy, erectile lining membranes, cartilages, egg-shell bones and devious highways and byways sifts out the cinders, dirt and microbes, as it simultaneously warms the entering air to blood heat. Chemical and bacteriological tests of the air at the "adenoid spaces" in the back of the well nose after it has entered the nostrils proves it to be almost 99 per cent. pure as compared with the same air analyzed as it reaches the tip of the nose.

"Shut your mouth and save your health" is the before the slogan in this campaign. Indeed, many years ago a wise physician who wrote a book on diseases of the nose, used some such title as this. One of the "rules of three" for strong lungs and an unblighted throat is to keep the lips tightly closed and to breathe through the nose.

If you cannot do so, if one or both nostrils show obstructions, congestions or blocked canals, do not run for a "remedy for catarrh," but have the deflected membrane or the thickened bones correctly restored to their original and natural shape. To maintain your health, a liberal and accessible air space must be present in both nostrils through to the roof of your mouth behind the palate. Spongy masses of cauliflower-like growths called adenoids are often present and interfere with the right of way of fresh air.

Merely to squirt oils and other antiseptic washes into the nose is neither logical nor hygienic. While it is true that compound antiseptic fluids will, to some degree shrink the congested membrane over a deformed or bent bone and thus delude you into the fancy that this makeshift method will do, only a thorough excavation and permanent passageway for air will reinvigorate your air-hungry blood.

(This article on the care of the nose may be continued in the next issue.)

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618½ East 9th Street. Phones 820389 and 822-417.

Question: C. J. Are there any authentic cases where a cure for nervous diseases has been made by reputable physicians through the means of hypnosis?

Answer: I understand there are a group of doctors working under what is known as the Emmanuel movement in the city of Boston, who rely wholly on this method of treating nervous disorders. I also understand there is a physician in Philadelphia who specializes in th simethod. I know of no premanent cures htey made by this method. In fact, the Emmanuel movement is not hypnotism at all. I would venture to opine that you were reading extensively on Coueism.

KU KLUX PLANS GOVERNMENT SEIZURE

Klan Munitions Seized in New York. American Fascisti Organization Suspected fo Plotting Reign of Terror For Harlem Negroes. Aiming At Conquest of State Power. Klux-ers Encouraged By Overwhealming Success of Italian Fascisti, Have Long Been Dreaming of National Control.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—A big cach of modern military arms and ammunition wasdi scovered and seized in New York late yesterday afternoon and the authorities began an investigation in which their suspicions, at first directed toward the Irish rebels turned to the Ku Klux Klan.

According to a high officer of the Police Department two of the biggest New York officials of the Klan were taken in custody for investigation. This officer, who refused to be quoted by name, said that the police were asking them to throw light on a theory that the arms and munitions had been secretly assembled for "some warlike purpose of the Klan."

Two circumstances, the police informant added, led to the immediate course of the investigation toward the Klan. One was that Wilson D. Bush, described as Grand Cyclops of the Klan, was said to live at 225 West 25th Street; immediately behind that in West 24th Street, in which the military material was found. The other was that the second man whom the police said they were questioning, W. D. Moore, of 445 West 25th Street; lives within a block of where the cach was discovered.

Further, Moore was said to have rented recently a warehouse in Hoboken within one block from that in which the arms and munitions were said to have been stored before they were removed to New York, whither part of them were transported a month ago while the rest were moved yesterday.

The first discovery made by the police was that one hundred and seventy five cases of high-power ammunition, including enough hand grenades to wreck a big section of the city.

A single vigilant policeman, suspecting nothing more startling than hootch, was responsible for the discovery. Police officials, who loked over his fiind, heaved a sigh of relief, realizing that the great disaster might have ensued had the explosives stored in the basement of a tenement with twelve families living over them, suddenly let go.

Had Been Handled Carelessly.

They regarded it as singularly fortunate that no such disaster happened, particularly because the deadly missiles in their light woden boxes had been tossed about as if they really had been canned goods, as those who handled them pretended that they were. The grenades, most dangerous part of the stores, had been handled with the most striking carelessness. They were stuffed loosely into suitcases with no wrapping or packing to prevent the jar that might have set them off with force enough to wreck everything in their path.

The heavy store of explosives was seized in and in front of the three-story tenement at 265 West Twenty-fourth Street. Included in the 275 cases were thirty-two of Winchester cartridges, .38 and .45 calibre pistol cartridges, and a large quantity of deadly hand grenades.

Brief History of the Uniform Rank of K. of P.

The En Avant Co. No. 2, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythians, N. A., S. A., E., A., A., and A. make wonderful progress in short period.

Three years ago, January 1920 to be exact, The En Avant Company No. 2. Uniform Rank Knights of Pythians N. A., S. A., A. A. and A. was reorganized and new officers and members chosen and elected. The total membership of the company at that time numbered six, including officers and Sir Knights.

Captain S. Lees was chosen by the company as the man whom they believed would lead them to success.

During their first year they encountered the usual difficulties but through perserverance and co-operation they were successful not only in keeping up their regular weekly meetings, but they were able to add to their number, pay all their current expenses and buy uniforms, swords and other regalia amounting to the sum of $500.

During that first year they had endured much, but while they were struggling they were also thinking and planning how they might accomplish bigger and better things for the future.

The Uniform Rank is primarily social in its functions but En Avant Co., being composed of men who were Knights in deed and name conceived a larger vision for their company. During their second year they made all the usual progress, such as adding new members and buying their uniforms paying their current expenses and keeping up with their many social calls. Aside from this however, the Company appropriated and disbursed $60.00 at Christmas for warm clothing and candies. They made glad the hearts of several widows, orphans and needy ones who would other wise have been desolate at this season.

During the past year, January 1922 to January 1923 En Avant Company has made even greater progress They have spread the fame of En Avant Company No. 2 from South to North.

Their memorable excursion into the Northern California last summer brings back pleasant memories. The Company attended the State Grand Lodge at Oakland, California last July in a body, 25 men. A special private coach was chartered by the company for this occasion, special sight seeing excursions were enjoyed and a real all around vacation in community style was had by each member. Beside all this personal pleasure during their week in Oakland there was the Grand exhibition drill where they won the Grand prize of $50.00. All attention was not given to Social pleasure however. The more serious side of life was remembered as well. One Hundred and Fifty-one Dollars was given last year to charity.

Besides their second annual Christmas greeting to the widows and orphans they also contributed cash donations to the childrens day nursery and other organizations for both public and private benefit.

STRANGE CREATURES ARE THESE.

The ridiculous side of life is so often reflected, when the man or woman who has been an absolute failure in life, continues to insist that they can lead the people out of the wilderness.

MAKING COMMENDABLE PROGRESS

For the year 1923 the persons who are business inclined are making a most commendable showing along business lines which demonstrates the fact that slowly but surely we are becoming more convinced that our future lies in our aptitude to do business and to do business and to produce something. We might make special mention of the effort of groups of our professional men who have demonstrated their faith into the premises to the extent that they have gone deep into their pockets and erected a modern Hospital; also to the establishment on Central Ave. of a modern pharmaceutical Laboratory and demonstration of pathology by another able and energetic young man. Therefore thus far in the year 1923 we can discern a real awakening along the line of business efforts.

GETTING TOGETHER.

Last Friday night's Mass Meeting to which everybody was invited and which meeting by a majority vote (afterward made unanimous) nominated a man for the City Council and we are now much nearer succeeding in an effort of this kind than ever before. We are squarely behind the nominee of that Mass Meeting and feel that Mr. Titus Alexander is the one best bet as a winner at the coming primaries and election.

THE NEGRO JOURNAL.

Perhaps there is no other institution or agency that serves the peculiar need of the people, as the Negro Journal does. Nevertheless, the unsound financial foundation upon which this Journal has been erected causes it to be the object of pity, instead of the center of interest, as it deserves to be. Unfortunately, the group served by the Negro newspaper is not yet awake to the fact that it is the real sentiment-maker of the community. Hence, they do not realize that they are duty-bound to subscribe to it their support.

Moreover, as a rule, Negro newspaper readers are more technical in their criticisms of newspaper style and accuracy than any other class or group. Nevertheless, it never dawns upon these critics that they owe this unsalaried, unheralded, unpraised servant any semblance of respect or consideration.

For instance, the writer of this editorial was once commanded to appear in person at one of the most pretentious churches in a certain city to write up the season's largest affair. Upon this same occasion, a reporter from one of the white dailies appeared on the scene and was given every courtesy due a newspaper representative, such as the providing of a table upon which to write, a comfortable chair upon which to sit, etc., etc., while the poor little Negro Editor was crouched in against the wall, vainly seeking elbow room, in order that he might take down a few points of interest, out of which he might build his article for publication.

On another occasion, with pencils sharpened, courage at farenheit, we sallied forth to attend what we considered one of the greatest recitals of the season, by one whom we hope to see a future star in his profession. We were quite sure that here, at least, we would be accorded due courtesies in keeping with our profession. But to our great surprise and chagrin, at the door we were halted, but courageously announced our station, feeling sure that it would serve as a password that would permit us to enter the confines of the Holy of Holies of the newspaper profession. But not so. We were told that there were tickets for sale for all concerned, except fifty cents' worth of recognition, which entitled us to a cosy corner on the last pew in the said edifice.

Now, what we are getting at is this: That in order to gain recognition from others who have preceded us in the forward march of civilization, we must first recognize our own. The treatment accorded the average newspaper man of color, is similar to that accorded the average black child in the public schools of some of our great American cities. For we are told that the average caucasian teacher impresses upon the black child, that because he is black he is despised and can never be recognized as a full-fledged human being.

While the Black people outwardly despise the fact that they have been psychologized, they continue to psychologize themselves, in their manner of failing to recognize and appreciate their own efforts.

We might easily call attention to other avenues of endeavor prescribed against by Negroes, but we would have you, for the time being, think in this key, not selfishly, but because we believe that the newspaper is the greatest agency in vogue by which the Negro will get due recognition as an American citizen.

Why Not Enjoy Prosperity for at Least a Couple of Years Before Tinkering With or Stopping It?

By: George Wheeler Hinman

Chicago, March 13.—(By Universal Service.)—Are we already tired of our prosperity?

"I have just returned from a tour of the Middle West," said the president of one of the large banks yesterday, "and I saw more signs of individual prosperity than ever before in twenty years."

Yet there comes to the financial district over the wires pessimistic predictions of what is likely to check this prosperity—pessimistic predictions and solemn warnings.

One would imagine that the plainest evidences of our growing prosperity were but signs of approaching hard times. For instance:

The prosperity of the average American revives, as the Chicago banker observed. He buys more goods. Labor is in demand to make them. It gets high wages.

Then, to meet the growing demands of the buying public, more workingmen are required. They become scarce. So wages tend to rise, even above their high level of last year. A scarcity of labor and rising wages means higher prices.

Now all the business movements that bring about those higher prices are signs of increasing business and of growprosperity.

In the come-back from the hard times of 1920 and 1921 they are perfectly natural. Why? Because the people who were too poor to buy in 1920 and 1921 have suddenly become prosperous enough to buy now.

And those people are buying not only what they want from day to day, but also a lot of things that they went without in the bad years.

The present rush of families to buy homes at high prices is a case in point.

If we allow for the increase in wealth and population, we find that the revival of business is no more sudden, spectacular or speculative now than it was under the McKinney administration some twenty-three years ago.

Was anybody so senseless as to try to stop it then? Were the business men of McKinley's day afraid of the country's becoming too prosperous?

Did they regard prosperity as "inflation" and try to check it?

This revival is a thing to be welcomed. It must take place, unless this nation's business is to remain stricken and moribund, as it was two years ago.

Yet what do we get daily over the wires? Much optimism, to be sure, but also an outcry against "inflation."

There is great danger of inflation; let everybody look out, or he will get caught and lose his money. That is a daily warning.

Well, in properous times there is always danger of inflation at the end of the road. Are we, therefore, afraid to be prosperous?

But the gold reserve—that is another bogey that is always turning up on the broad tape.

We have too much gold—somewhere around $4,000,000,000—and the rest of the world hasn't enough.

Well, suppose we had not enough and the rest of the world too much. That was our condition in the business collapse of the nineties.

Do the business men of the United States want to go back to those times, when nothing seemed to help them, or to be situated as they are now, where only a little sense and prudence are required to keep them on the main road of progress?

Yes, but what about the scarcity of labor? How can we produce all the wealth that we need to produce as a nation, if we haven't enough labor?

To which the answer is: Do you want to go back two years and have 3,000,000 workers without wages or the power to buy? Do you want to be in the present position of England, with 1,500,000 too many workers and the superfluous men walking the streets? Of course not.

The problem of just enough workers to do the work—and no more—has never been exactly solved. It is not being solved in the United States today. But it is nearer solution in America than anywhere else. Surely, there is no reason for pessimism here.

Then, finally, there is the stock market. Isn't it too active? Aren't too many stocks bought and sold? Isn't there too much speculation? A book might be written on these questions. Here it is enough to say that a dead stock market, of course, is the sure sign of a dead business situation, and a big, active stock market is a part, an inseparable part, of a prosperous business situation.

How can industry revive without causing the stocks which represent that industry to revive also?

Are we tired of prosperity? Do we fear to expand our business? If not, why already begin to assail the very things that make prosperity? Why not enjoy prosperity for at least a couple of years before we try to tinker with it, restrain it or stop it entirely?

MAUDE MITCHELL, CONTRALTO SINGER CORRECTS STATEMENT

In last week's advance announcement of the coming production of "A Tale of Old Japan," Coeridge-Taylor's magnificent cantata which is to be presented early in April by the Coleridge-Taylor Study Club, it was stated that Miss Mitchell "has studied with some of the best teachers in the city." The notice should have read, "expects to study" with some eminent vocal instructor and this paper takes pleasure in rectifying this mistake. Miss Mitchell, in the phrase of those who are coaching her for this production; a "diamond in the rough;" she has had scarcely any professional training, but is the possessor of a voice which those who "know whereof they speak" declare to be well worthy of the highest cultivation.

At the same time, Miss Mitchell, whose modesty is not the least of her prepossessing qualities, believes that a correction of the above statement will enable her to give her audience an agreeable surprise, rather than a possible disappointment.

THE BYSTANDER

L. K. Beeks

It reminds one of a well trained, smooth working football team the slight of hand manner in which President Harding and the last Congress successfully juggled the political affairs of the colored people. During the first performance the Dyer anti-lynching bill collapsed, and ag a finis the Senate refused to confirm the nomination of Walter L. Cohen. Hardly could one say that the race suffers as a result of this particular blow for enough of us do not know Mr. Cohen and his works to merit the nomination to pass fair judgment. In fact many of these so-called political leaders of ours gain their distinction by quietng the disgruntled murmers and restless spirits of thinking progressive Negroes and it would be better for the race if such practice was discouraged and these veritable Judas Iscariots were left at the post. The anti-lynching bill did concern the race. Mr. Harding of course unqualifiedly sanctioned it, he is soon to be up for re-election. Senators re-elected to Congress and those independent of Negro votes blocked the President's fake forward pass and threw the race for a loss. This is the result of signal practice and team work.

INSPIRING

The colored people of Los Angeles were superbly entertained last Sunday afternoon by two young organizations which we hope will continue to be working assets. The Omega and Alpha fraternities, composed of young college men, displayed their wares and from general sentiment, the performance in each case was such as would reflect credit on any organization or any race of people.

The members of our race are looking to and depending on the younger aspirants to commemorate and perpetuate the ideals of this people. Such organizations as the fraternities, the Southern California Alumni Association and similar groups of intellectuals should either stand foremost as the statue of liberty pointing and guiding the way on all issues affecting the race or go out of business. Too long have those in school reaping the benefit of Shakespeare and Dante sat idly by and allowed the less trained to bear the burden because none else said, "Here am I." Fellow students, Full steam ahead and boldly give the good common people the benefit of your infinite wisdom gained from study, research and association.

ORGANIZE FOR WIDENING CENTRAL AVENUE

To promote the extension and widening of Central avenue to the harbor, property owners along that highway have formed the "Central Avenue to the Harbor Association." E. L. Duffy, a member of the DeWitt-Blair Realty company, subdividors of Goodyear Park, was elected president.

A committee was named to wait upon the board of supervisors and advise with them as to the best and speediest methods of going forward with the project.

The association passed a resolution going on record in favor of making Central Avenue 100 feet wide all the way to Wilmington, and through the resolution the property owners unanimously expressed their willingness to pay an equitable part of the cost of constructing a 22-foot automobile roadbed.

"Central avenue," said C. F. DeWitt of the DeWitt-Blair Realty Co., "is the shortest and best drained route to the harbor. It crosses Dominguez hill at an easy grade and strikes the eastern edge of Nigger slough, where there is no danger of highwaters. From Nigger slough southward the country is almost as level as a ballroom floor."

"For a distance of almost two miles along Goodyear Park we have widened Central avenue to 100 feet in anticipation of the street's coming importance. A wide street at this point is especially desirable, because on the west side lies W. H. Daum's Southwest Industrial Gateway Terminal, including the $10,000,000 Goodyear Tire and Rubber factory."

Activity in this district has caused the sale of over $2,700,000 worth of sites in Goodyear Park since October 1, according to Mr. DeWitt.

In this district is located Central Subdivision, consisting of 281 lots, which is being opened for sale Sunday, March 18, 1923, by the EAST-SIDE REALTY COMPANY, 1427 Central Avenue.

The subdividers have made arrangements to take care of a large crowd of buyers on the opening day, and if past records augur well, the greater part of the subdivision will be sold that day.

JOHN J. JOSEPHS RETURNS

NOW A PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER

Mr. Joseph J. J. Josephs, who has been absent from the city for some time, returned last Monday and dropped in to congratulate the Soaring Eagle on its progress in the world of Journalism during his absence.

During his stay in the East, Mr. Josephs was a student of the New York Institute of Photography and he returns to the city with a certificate of graduation from that institution.

As soon as a desirable location can be obtained Mr. Josephs will equip an up-to-date studio and branch out as a specialist in Artistic Portraits.

Mr. Josephs has been among us for the past eleven years and during that time has made for himself a host of friends.

The Soaring Eagle predicts for Mr. Josephs a very successful career. Los Angeles needs a first class race photo studio, and a professional photographer who can deliver the goods. We will have them both at our service in a very few days.

For further announcement watch the columns of the Soaring Eagle.

WESLEY CHAPEL

Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor

Watts came into its own Sunday and proved that a little child could lead them. Rev. O. Stout, a babe in the cause who head the divine call at Wesley brought his followers from Shaw's Mission and took possession of both services. Rev. Stout is a living example of what the spirit of God can do for a person. He had a message full of plain, simple, unadulterated gospel. It had the effect and its appeal. With winning fervor and animation this young pastor stirred the eagle's nest and reaped the fruits of victory. There was an unusually large crowd in attendance Sunday, particularly young people. The drive for 100 members by Easter is having its effect for each Sunday four and five persons find their way to the altar.

The usual good music by organist and choir assisted. These are wonderful assets to this growing church.

Football Prospects In California For 1924

By "Jake" Moore

Jake Moore

With the last rose of summer withering away, we find King Foot Ball with us again. In and out the class rooms, on and off the campus, it's foot ball talked everywhere; and the sport has prospects of its greatest year in California.

The coming of Glenn S. Warner as head coach to Stanford University adds a great amount of interest to the general foot ball situation on the Pacific coast. "Pop" Warner, as he is called, is a veteran coach known throughout the country and is one of the few coaches that have grown up with the American game. I knew "Pop" Warner when he was head coach at Pittsburgh University through Hunter Johnson, the veteran colored trainer connected with that institution and I know of his ability.

He is considered the game's greatest strategists for over a long period of years he has been responsible for more innovations in foot ball than any other mentor. His fundamental style of play has been adopted by a very large number of the most successful football coaches in America.

The Pacific Coast Conference title seems to be in the air with Stanford and U. S. C. heavy favorites. The University of California coached by Andy Smith with but four letter men back this year ceases to be the favorite with its "Wonder Team" of the past, but can be counted on to give trouble in the final games by superior coaching. The University of Washington has bright prospects with but two letter men missing from last year's squad and aside from this a very weak schedule confronts them. California being the only real opposition.

The real fight will be here in Southern California and fought to a finish in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The mighty Trojan coached by Gus Henderson will be the contender and with the mighty Trojan varcity we find two race lads of no little ability. John Riddle, a veteran back of two years standing playing last year of College competition, and Bryce Taylor, the one hand marvel that was the sensation of last year's freshman team playing his first year on the varsity. The two lads have the greatest opportunity of their lives to go down in football history along with "Fritz" Pollard, "Duke" Slater and Paul Robeson, picked by Walter Camps on his All American team.

The Trojan squad is exceptionally strong this year having lost but two letter men and reinforced by a wealth of material form last pear' Freshman team and that is why the Pacific Coast Conference Title is to be fought out in Southern California with Stanford the great menace. Its hard to tell so early in the season which of the two teams is the better, but this is a known fact, U. S. C. has the material andn Stanford the coach. Material is 50 per cent of any team and coaching is 50 per cent. So there you are. U. S. C. and the Golden Bears were on equal terms in material last year but Andy Smith outwitted Gus Henderson as you will remember. U. S. C. has a tough schedule in ten games, eight being here in the Coliseum, so we loyal Californians should turn out in goodly numbers to cheer our race lads on to victory.

The Schedule

Sept. 27—Caltek.
Oct. 4—Pomona.
Oct. 11—Arizona.
Oct. 18—Oregon Aggies.
Oct. 25—Nevada.
Nov. 1—California.
Nov. 15—Stanford.
Nov. 15—Whittier.
Nov. 29—Idaho.
Dec. 6—Syracuse.

SAYS WILLS WON'T FIGHT HIM

New York, N. Y., Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Negro Press)—Jack Renault, sensational Canadian heavyweight who has a knockout and a victory of George Godfrey to his credit, has announced through his manager, Lee Flynn, that he is through chasing Harry Wills for a bout, charging that it has been impossible to get Wills to sign for a bout.

WHY I PICK HILLDALE TO WIN THE WORLD SERIES

This is the first year that two Negro teams representing organized leagues from different sections of the country have met to decide the baseball supremacy of the United States. Each club is actually the class of the league it represents and the winner can rightfully be called the champion club of these United States.

The fact that this is the first inter-league series gives us no previous dope on who might be the ultimate winner of the series. William Ross, who formerly pitched for the Alexander Giants has written an excellent article for the Afro-American in which he tells why he think the Hilldale Club will win. The article which follows is a reprint from the Afro-American for which credit is here given.

Incidently Ross is expected to be in Los Angeles to pitch in the Winter League.

WHY I PICK HILLDALE TO WIN THE WORLD SERIES

By WILLIAM ROSS

(Member of Indianapolis A. B. C. in 1922, Washington Potomacs and Philladelphia Hilldale in 1923 and St. Louis Giants in 1924.)

Scores of fans in different sections of the country have asked my opinion as to the winner of the coming series between the Philadelphia Hilldale and Kansas City Monarchs for the colored championship of the world. My friends believe that since I have played in both the East and West that I am in a position to give a line on the individual players.

In comparing each man at the nine positions. I hope to explain why I believe Hilldale will win. First, however, I wish to make it clear that as amember of the St. Louis Giants of the Negro National League, I am pulling for the Monarchs to win, but on paper Hilldale must be given the laurels.

Infields About Even

At first base, Biss Mackey, (Hilldale), although only recently stationed at the doorkeeper's sack, will outhit and field as well as Hawkins (Monarchs).

At second the veteran Warfield (Hilldale) will have the edge on Allen (Monarchs) in fielding, batting and base running. Joseph (Monarchs) should outshine Judy Johnson (Hilldale), at third, although the latter is a greatly improved player. Joseph, in my opinion, is the greatest third baseman in the game today and Eastern pitchers will find him a dangerous man in the pinches.

Takins up the very important position, shortstop, Moore (Monarchs) should be one of the brightest stars of the series. It is doubtful if there ever was a better man at his position. His big bat will have a telling effect. Stevens (Hilldale) is a wonderful fielder, but weak at bat.

McNair, Great Player

A draw exists at left field, where George Johnson (Hilldale), and "Heavy" Johnson (Monarchs) are camping. George is much faster on his feet than is "Heavy" but at the stick it will be nip and tuck, both being long distance clouters. Thomas (Hilldale) is a more finished fielder and more dangerous hitter than Mothal (Monarchs) in center. The latter, a former catcher, used in the outfield for his ability, has played exceptional ball this season. The outstanding outfielder of the group is McNair (Monarchs). In addition to being one of the greatest natural hitters in baseball, McNair is an excellent ground coverer and a good base runner. Briggs (Hilldale) is a good all-around man and must be respected by the Western pitchers. The two outfielders as a whole look about even, with either of the above six likely to flash into a hero at any period of the series.

Duncan Best Catcher

With Duncan doing most of the work behind the bat, Kansas City has the better of this department. Santop (Hilldale), a powerfully built fellow, can stand a lot of work, is a hard hitter, but his slowness on bases may prove a target for double plays. Duncan is a fair hitter and is deadly poison to would-be base stealers.

Hilldale's Five Man Staff

Coming to the pitching problem which one might say is 75 per cent of the game. It is here that Hilldale impresses. The Eastern staff if five well-seasoned stars—Winters, Cockrell, Ryan, Lee and Currie—in a series for the best five out of nine games, have a decided margin over the Monarchs, the bulk of whose mound work will be carried by Rogan, Drake and Mendez.

Th eKansas City Club also has good men in W. Bell Morris, C. Bell and McCall, but I doubt if more than one of this quartet will get in the box score unless via the relief role. The Monarchs are greatly handicapped by not having a first class southpaw to shoot at the Bolden clan.

Hilldale Reserves Best

The Easterners are well prepared for any emergency with a number of men able to play two exceptional utility men on the bench—Carr and Allen. Car, an extremely fast big man, can play the outfield and first sack with credit. Joe Lewis is also sure to appear in a number of games behind the bat for Hilldale. The Monarchs have in Sweet a mighty handy person for reserve duty.

Many fans and players will disagree with me in naming the Hilldale aggregation to win the series. However, as I was a member of the Eastern champions last year and have opposed the Monarchs any number of times this season, I am basing my selection on what I have seen of the players of the two clubs.

Pasadena Merchants Have Strong Team For Sunday Game

The reputation of the All Stars as a winning team has travelled all over Southern California annd every club that comes to Good Year Park for the regular Sunday game brings the strongest possible lineup.

Next unday the Pasadena Merchants will come to Goodyear Park with the intention of leaving with the winners end of the gat ereceipts and that means Pasadena will bring a team that is instructed to do or die.

Now that so many Eastern and Southern Leagues have closed their regular seasons and many of the players have reached Los Angeles and Pasadena with the desire to play winter baseball, it would not be surprising if Pasadena come over with a team composed entirely of league players.

Slowtime Evans, manager of the All Stars, will stand pat with his regular lineup as he believes it will beat the best that Pasadena can offer.

A New Face

One new face will be in the batting order in the person of Cade all-around player from the Championship U. S. S. California nine. Just where Cade will play has not been decided but he will probably hold down an infield berth.

As an added attraction Jenkins' Orphan Band will give a concert and they are worth the price of admission alone.

Box Sates Now

Many requests have been made for box seats in th epast so the owners at Goodyear have built in boxes next to the screen and they will be available for next Sunday's game and may be reserved in advance.

SISSLE AND BLAKE ENTERTAIN FOR THE PRINCE OF WALES

The Cosden home at Fort Washington was the scene Sunday evening, after dinner, of an impromptu entertainment given in honor of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, by Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake, stars of "The Chocolate Dandies" show now at the Colonial Theatre. It was rather an exclusive affair to the few invited guests, and preceded directly the Prince's departure for Canada at 10 o'clock.

FORMER CALIFORNIANS WILL PLAY BIG PART IN FIRST WORLD SERIES

Los Angeles and California will eagerly watch for the returns of the first Negro World Series, because there are players on both the Kansas City Monarchs and the Hilldale teams who first attracted the attention of big league scouts while playing on California teams.

George Carr, home run slugger of the Eastern League is a member of Hilldale. George was born in Pasadena and was taught to play ball by Lonnie Goodwin, who organized and for years managed the Los Angeles White Sox.

Morris, a pitcher from the Pierce Giants of Oakland is serving his first year with the Kansas City Monarchs, will be closely watched by the residents of the northern city.

The Great Rogan

Wilbur "Bullet" Rogan played for several years on the L. A. White Sox before going to the Kansas City Monarchs. Rogan is now considered the world's greatest pitcher and the fans of Los Angeles will be pulling for him to win.

Lemuel Hawkins is another White Sox player who goes into the worlds series with the Monarchs. Hawkins is still at his old position of first base and i sconsidered the best in the Negro National League.

Other favorites who are well known in Los Angeles are Raleigh Mackey and Rube Curry on the Hilldales and "Dobbie" Moore, Hurley McNair, "Heavy" Johnson and Joe Mendez, manager of the Kansas City Monarchs.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
By William Narcisse

Mr. George H. Duncan, member of the S'24 graduating class of Lincoln High School ond also an ex-track star, is now posting at the above school; he is also attending the University of California (Southern Branch) taking a pre-medical course.

Robert Jackson of Jefferson High School, and a member of last year's relay team, went out for the lightweight football team last Monday. Jackson and his speed should be a great asset to Jeff's backfield. The Democrats have found a good tackle recent game, in which his school was in the person of David Horton. In a the victor by some 14 digits, he repeatedly broke thru the line and stopped his man.

A rather serious and sudden blow as dealt the varsity of Jefferson High a few days ago when it was announced that Kenneth Levy would not be able to play football this year. Levy was a member of the track team last spring. He had the makings of a splendid half back, and was showing great signs of promise, only to have his hopes shattered because of a weak heart.

Theophilus Smith, husky L. A. High fullback of last pear's eleven, will most likely hold down a half back position this year. When Smith hits the line, believe me, there's a dent somewhere. Last year the Evening Herald spoke of him as a coming Fritz Pollard.

Among this year's footbal lcandidates who are toiling to land berths on Poly's team, is Thomas Southern, who is out for end. Sherman Hudnell, veteran end of Poly's lightweight team is again playing at his old position. Chauncey Clark is also out for end.

LOCAL BALL PLAYERS TO BE GIVEN ACID TEST

Very soon we will know just how good the local players are or how they compare with the players that play the Eastern and National Negro Leagues.

As announced in these columns last week as fast as the big leagues close, big league players from both the white and colored leagues in the East, will be brought to Goodyear Park for the Winter League.

Along about the tenth of this month (October) Alonzo N. S. Cobb is due to arrive here with a team of St. Louis Stars who finished fourth in the Negro National League and who were climbing fast when the season closed. several other National League stars will be added which will make the club a real All Star aggregation.

This team will meet the All Stars now playing at Goodyear a series of three games.

The winning team reinforced by the best players from the losing team will then play teams composed of white big league and class AAA clubs.

If the local All Stars win the series they will play the strong "inter League teams. After the winter is over they will be eligible to go East and play in the Eastern and National Negro Leagues.

With the big chance at hand it is expected that the locals will get into the best possible condition so as to deliver a brand of baseball that means fame and fortune for them.

Nine games will be played for the championship. Opening dates, October 3, October 4, Philadelphia, National League ball park, Philadelphia, Pa.; October 5, Baltimore, Maryland. In the event of rain or tie game the dates 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 are left open for any postponements or tie games that might be had.

If at Philadelphia, October 6, 7, games postponed are tied at Philadelphia, will be played at the National League grounds. If rain at Baltimore ands there are not any postponed games at Philadelphia, it will be played the following day. Announcement will be made at each game in the event of any postponements so that fans will know what dates games will be played.

Players Who Are Eligible

Players eligible to play on Hilldale baseball club are as follows:

Winters, p; Ryan, p; Lee, p; Campbell, p; Curry p; Cockrell, p; Allen, 1b; Mackey; 1b; Warfield 2b; Stevens ss; J. Johnson, 3b; Briggs G. Johnson, Thomas, outf.; Carr, utility; Santop, c; Lewis, c.

No other players except the ones herein published will be allowed under any condition to participate in this series for the colored championship of the world.

Two Umpires From Each League

The umpires yet to be named for the Eastern games will be two officials, regular umpires of the National League. The ones to participate in the East will be two regular umpires from the American League.

Conditions under which the series will be played:

It will be directed, controlled and sponsored by a National Commission Composed of Edward Bolden, of the Hilldale club, George Robinson, of the Washington Potomacs; John T. Blunt and Andrew Rube Foster, of the Negro National League.

NO FLOWERS FOR STRIBLING

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Negro Press)—Although there were a lot of folks down this way pulling for Tiger Flowers to whip Harrey Greb, many whites being of that number, there are none of them who will talk above a whisper of a bout between Flowers and the famous Georgia schoolboy, Willie Stribling.

That would be a match to talk about. The men are about the same weight. In taking the measure of Greb, Flowers did a better job than any that Stribling has so far pulled, including his petting parties for McTigue. A bout between Flowers and the Georgia white boy would decide once for all the championship of Georgia and the "supremacy of the white race".

SAN FRANCISCO LIKES "STEPPIN' HIGH"

When you can take a Los Angeles made product to San Francisco and get the approval of San Francisco critics you have accomplished something worth talking about. It is a known fact that there is an open hostility between Los Angeles and San Francisco and a worthwhile achievement originating from one of the above mentioned cities is sometime severely criticized or entirely ignored by the rival city.

Steppin' High which opened in San Francisco last Friday night evidently melted the frozen hearts of the Bay City critics and they have admitted in print that it is actually a good show.

Two of the notices, one by Thomas Nunan in the San Francisco Examiner and one by George C. Warren in the Chronicle follow.

"STEPPIN' HIGH" AT CAPITOL COLORFUL

By Thomas Nunan

"Steppin' High". That's the name of it.

Steppin' fast. That's one of its main ideas.

The Capitol reopened last night with this all-Negro musical revue, and if it can continue to find shows as good as this one, it will stay open permanently.

Hazel Myers, of the phonograph records, commands much applause as the central figure and she is surrounded by a company that seems all rhymic life and feeling, with some extraordinary dancers, a couple of exceptionally funny comedians, an instrumental sextet that was just naturally jazzy and a lively chorus of girls. Seldom does such a well-trained chorus come along.

Miss Myers sings five or six of the songs made popular by her and she heads several attractive ensemble numbers.

The unusual comedians are Dike Thomas and Strawberry Russell, and it's worth the price of admission to see Dike give imitations of Napoleon Bonaparte, former President Taft and a Ford machine going up hill.

"Three Black Aces" on "Bronze Broadway" do some effective comedy with expert and difficult dancing and they make three other appearances, "Dancing Baseball" being one of the nnumbers.

Mary Richards, heading the feminine dancing list, gave ballet performances that made her thoroughly popular with last night's audience. Thomas and Russell are other principals of note.

The success of the opening indicates that "Steppin' High" will run for weeks. The show outclasses "Struttin' Along", which was a phenomenal success in the same theatre early last year.

"STEPPIN' HIGH" SNAPPY SHOW

Reopens Capitol Theatre With Much Good Dancing Ensemble and Solo

By George C. Warren

A lively show, "Steppin' High" which reopened the Capitol Theatre, Ellis street, near Market, last night, a snappy show, with much good dancing, ensemble and solo—some of its extraordinarily good singing that pleased, a comic genius in Strawberry Russell, and one of the phonograph singers, Hazel Meyers, who at least lives up to her records.

She was star of the revue, wore handsome costumes and many jewels, and sung half a dozen songs, perhaps one should say chanted them, sometimes melodiously, at others with rather raucous tones.

Everybody connected with the organization worked hard for its success and put it over very well, judging by the continuous laughter in the comedy scenes and the applause for the songs and dances.

Russell and his partner, Dike Thomas, have two scenes, one in the first act and the other in the second. The first named is funny before he speaks, a long, lank, illclothed figure, loose jointed and woebegone, whose every word or movement is instinctive with comedy and draws roars of laughter. Thomas has unction and a very good opinion of himself.

The ensemble dancing is pretty, good, one number, the "Charleston" craze, calling out hand clapping during the figure, and Mary Richards does many styles of steps and does them all well. The Three Black Aces roused the house with thei racrobatic dancing and the Seven Strutters are graceful and well synchronized in their movements, and somebody danced a hula that had the real spirit of the Hawaiians in it.

Harry Fiddler is seen in his familiar Chinese and some other impersonations, and the jazz band won favor.

"Around The Town"

WITH RAGTIME BILLY TUCKER

Williams and Taylor At Orpheum

Williams and Taylor one of the greatest acts in vaudeville and likewise two of the greatest dancers in the world, are one of the featured attractions at the Orpheum theatre this week. Williams and Taylor are not so well known out in this neck of the woods as they are in the Eastern states, but it suffices to say that once you see their act, you will always remember them. You no doubt have cen "Bogangles" Bill Robinson, Dancing Dotson and several others noted for dancing. But you 'aint seen nothin' yet until you see Williams and Taylor. They are one of the highest price acts in vaudeville and are sailing next week for Australia. Williams and Taylor are indeed welcome to the professional colony of Los Angeles.

Dewey and Godfrey At Hippodrome

The fheatured act is Billy Dewey and "Cry-baby" Godfrey, at the Hippodrome theatre this week. Billy Dewey was once apon a time with the same show as the writer "Shuffle Along" where he played a prominent part. Since the closing of Shuffle Along, Dewey has played with a young songwriter, "Cry-baby" Godfrey, they have one of the niftiest acts i nvaudeville and are making the natives sit up and take notice at the Main stree playhouse this week. They are direct from the East where they have been appearing in one of the larger musical comedy revues that are now ablaze, and where they were featured all through the show, they are stopping the show as still as a block and are worth going miles to see.

Sonny Clay, Leon White, Willis McDaniels, Joe Parker, Fred Kimball, C. L. Burke and two others are the jazz band that will appear with Billy Tucker's "Darktown Follies" at the Hippodrome theatre next week.

Billy Tucker's Shows Opens Sunday, October 5th

Ragtime Billy Tucker's "Darktown Follies," presenting their new act are to open Sunday at the Hippodrome theatre for a week's run, the offering for this particular engagement will be "A Dixieland Jubilee", the front lobby of this popular Main Street theatre seems as tho that the "Follies" are going to capture all of the business on Main street. There is a large banner in front of the theatre carrying the company's cast an dchorus with plenty of photos, some of whom have never been seen before in Los Angeles. The principals are Johnny Mae Venton, Buddy Brown and Billy himself, among the chorus will be found Pauline Elliott, Clotilde Woodson, Irene Ware, Georgia Precley, Delle Clark, Marie McDaniels, Ceelle Burke, Jeff Hutchinns and Fred McDaniels. Walter "Coot" Cox one of the principals of the Honolulu engagement will again be with the show as a principal. He is one of the funniest men under cork and has one of the most peculiar dances that you have ever sen. It would do well to go up and see what "Home-town" talent can do, and this is just a starter, there the any number of novel surprises in store for all and for a real good show you just "can't beat it".

Washington and Central

Since C. E. Johnson, president of the San Pedro Investment Company, has taken over the proprietorship of this Pleasure Seeking Palace. They have been drawing crowds with the Sunnyland Jazz Band as a featured attraction.

Every Saturday night all of the "Elite" can be found tripping to the light fantastic while the Sunnyland strums away wicked tunes to all. The best of order is being kept, while every night that the doors are open you are surprised with something new and original. Patrons will act wise to keep in touch with all the doings at the Palace of Syncopation, as any number of surprises are in store for all. Billy Tucker has been engaged as manager, and the Public knows what he means to dance lovers

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Gray

In the current issue of the "Etude" there is an editorial on compulsory piano study. It is of such value at this season of the year when students are resuming their studies, that we are giving the editorial in full. So many of our boys and girls want to quit the piano for some other instrument. If they could be made to realize that the piano is worth more to their musical development than any other instrument they would renew their efforts with increased vigor. It is with such an idea in mind that we append the following item:

"Many years ago, your editor made a tour of several thousand miles in Europe for the express purpose of visiting the great conservatories of music. In this way he had enviable opportunities for observing their methods and the resulting degrees of success.

"The thing which impressed him most was the fact that in nearly all of the great conservatories the study of the piano was compulsory. No matter if the student was studying voice, violin, French horn or what not, his musical education was considered deficient if he did not also acquire a good working knowledge of the piano. The little line in the catalog "Piano. Compulsory," meant a great deal to every teacher who saw it.

The wisdom of this is apparent to any instrumentalist who after having made a beginning with one instrument takes up the piano. In addition to opening up the world of harmony and counterpoint it compels the player to juggle with from two to ten different voices or parts where he has hitherto only concerned himself with one thin line of melody. The intellectual training resulting from this is incomparable. Many of the greatest singers and performers are also excellent pianists. Kreisler, Galli-Curci, Sembrich, Melba, are only a few outstanding examples. No matter what other instrument you may study, if you miss the piano you miss the most consequential step in musical education.

This is particularly true of the thousands of fine boys and girls in our schools studying other instruments. They will never get the best from the violin, the trombone or the saxophone until they back their work up with a good solid training in piano playing.

It was Maurits Hauptmann, the famous theorist, who said:

"The pianoforte is the Modern Foundation in all Musical Training."

THE SAM SEELIG CO. is one of the most welcome business competitors in a small community. They are invited into scores of towns because of the business activity stimulated by the establishment of one of their famous markets. People who have never realized the value of trading in their home town before will go down to Sam Seelig Co. for merchandise, and after trying the Seelig Market for culinary necessities they learn to drop into the local hardware store for that special hammer they need, or into the local dry-goods store for wearing apparel. They find that their own clothing merchants are up with the times, that most of them know the best Eastern markets, and "what is being worn this season." It becomes a habit for them to trade at home, even to visit the local dentists, the local doctors and the local stationer.—Eagle Rock Sentinel.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

SHALL THERE BE AN AUTO SHOW?

Dealers Should Consider Matter

Ever since the initial auto show held two years ago the auto public has looked forward each year to the annual auto show. This year the dealers on the Avenue have not made any plans in this direction. But to let such a popular event as this go by without holding some kind of a show would be a great disappointment to the public, to say nothing of the financial loss to the dealers. An auto show has an educational value in that it is interesting and instructive to the prospective buyer who has an opportunity to view the different models on display and weigh the merits of each before choosing or deciding on any particular make. So it is to be hoped that for the benefit of all concerned that there will be an auto show and that every dealer will rally to the colors and help make it the grandest ever. To do less will prove a step backward.

Tom Pillows from observation seems to be wearing the Chrysler colors these days.

Mrs. Frank Butler has decided that she did not care to learn to drive an auto after one or two narrow escapes.

Our good friend Owens on East 10th Street is still taking lessons in how to drive. He expects to be able to dismiss his chauffeur in another week or so.

Harry Beal, Branch Manager, White Auto Company, is spending a few days on a duck outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. John Barefield, who motored up to San Francisco taking with them a [illegible] of friends returned home last F[illegible] after a two weeks' trip. They re[illegible] having a delightful time.

[illegible] Montgomerw, Manager of Pearl's Garage, spent several days out of the city on business last week.

J. E. Prowd and Editor and Mrs. Bass spent the week end at Eureka Villa. They report a lively time.

Rev. E. E. Lightener entertained Rev. Miller of Boston to several auto trips while in the city.

Fifth More Autos Than Last Year

Total of 15,552,077 in Country; California Now Second in Registration

(By A. P. Night Wire)

Washington, Sept. 30.—Automobiles registered in the United States during the first six months of 1924 totaled 15,550,077, an increase of 20 per cent over the corresponding period of a year ago, the American Automobile Association announced today upon the basis of the semiannual count made by the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

There were registered during the first six months of the year, 13,645,726 passenger cars; 1,831,405 motor trucks, and 74,946 taxis, busses and cars for hire. In each of four States there were more than 1,000,000 motor vehicles registered from January 1 to July 1, 1924. New York had 1,233,362; California, 1,181,015; Ohio, 1,160,000; and Pennsylvania 1,085,285.

The total receipts from registration fees, licenses and permits amounted to $199,472,682, and from the gasoline tax in thirty-six states, $32,430,410. These funds do not include personal property taxes on automobiles, which are levied in thirty-six States.

In the amount of motor vehicle registration fees and taxes collected from motorists ,Pennsylvania heads the list with $23,086,413; New York comes second with $20,197,362; California, third with $11,794,078; Michigan, fourth with $10,950,393; Illinois fifth, with $10,696,508, and Ohio sixth, with $10,509,916.

BRANCH MANAGER OPTIMISTIC

Business Conditions Improve

There has been considerable disturbance in the auto industry during the year due to many unusual happenings. The year has however, proved a buyers' inning and while prices have been greatly reduced, greater values have been offered and more deals put over, says Mr. Beal of the White Auto Agency. "The situation is gradually clearing itself and business is again headed toward normalcy. With the November election out of the way and prohibition lifted in so far as rain is concerned, the future prospects look bright."

The Central Avenue Branch has, however, no complaint to offer. Sales have been moving right along and conditions point to a continuation of same. We have just received and have for display, in our show room, several of the latest designs of popular makes, and as soon as we will have disposed of these we will have made a sales record that we can well be proud of.

SEATTLE NEWS

By F. R. Brooks

Rev. T. F. Jones got back from the cnference which convened at Great Falls, Montana. All the people belonging to the A. M. E. Church and well wishers of the same were so very glad of the honor of receiving Rev. T. F. Jones of the A. M. E. Church as pastor of the came even for the next ensuing year. Rev. Jones is the grand and able preacher and is so well liked by each and every one of the church that it would have been a real shame at this time for Bishop Parks to send him elsewhere.

Mrs. Sarah Hooper has been quite ill with a very bad cold but not even so as to keep her from her daily tasks. It has been annoying her very much for the past week, but at this writing she is feeling better, after having the doctor, W. H. Calhoun and Horsefall.

Mrs. F. R. Brooks was quite ill for two or three days and unable to transact her daily duties and was partially confined to bed, but at this writing she is fine and dandy.

Mr. E. B. Murray of Seattle left to visit for a few weeks at Yakima, Wash This week his folks received a letter that he was extending his visit a few more weeks until the hunting season there is over. Then he will return to actual business services at home.

Mr. Al Huddleston, of 2200 Yesterway is still on the sick list. He had been pronounced of vast improvement, but it seems as though in the last few days he has been changing for the worst; but today he is resting very easy and is expected to change for the better in a short while. We wish for him came the Grand Deputy Worthy

A big fraternal get-to-gether meeting was held in Tacoma between Tacoma K. P's Mt, Tacoma Lodge No. 5 K. K.'s and the Courts of Calanthe of Tacoma. After the regular meeting of Tacoma Lodge No. 3, was over then the further exercises were turned over to the Calanthes for the get-to-gether program with S. P. Pierce, deputy chancellor Commander as toast master. The programme was opened with a speech by J. H. Edwards of Seattle, and it was a grand talk to listen to. He had no regular subject to confine himself to so he touched on many different and interesting subjects. After him came the Gran dDeputy Worthy Organizer of the Court of Calanthes who displayed a very beautiful talk in regards to the Court of Calanthes. Mrs. Tanner of Tacoma then came Sir. Green of Seattle with a grand and noble speech. Then the toast master ordered everybody around the table which the Calanthes had arranged.

A great luncheon which was very magnificent and much enjoyed at that time by all, was served. Then the little hero, Sir Steven Young talked to the point of K. P's and Calanthes which was a rousing discourse. Then F. J. Brodhead, Past Chancellor of the Tacoma Lodge, gave a grand and noble address that was interesting to every body present, then the toast master called Dr. J. F. Sawyer, M. D., of Tacome, Washington,, who rose to his feet and remarked, "I thank you toast master, I thrank you. I was afraid you were not going to call me and if you hadn't I would have busted wide open and I mean he delivered one more grand address". So well thought of was his talk by all present, after this the meeting seemed to resign itself to funny jokes and stories, which kept up enthusiasm throughout the evening. The meeting and program were in action until three o'clock A. M., and every body left the hall saying while shaking hands and talking that it was one of the grandest meetings they had witnessed for some time. There were fifteen Seattle K. P's from the Olympic Lodge No. 5 so they had motored over to Tacoma and didn't have to rush to catch the interurban. So before leaving Sir Heartsfield Lodge No. 5 Seattle extended a hearty welcome to the Tacoma Lodge and Calanthes to appear in Seattle, November 28th for another such meeting as that and they would show them equally as good a time as they have shown. So every one left the Castle Hall in grea tcheer and gave three cheers for the Mt. Tacoma Lodge No. 3 and the Court of Calanthes.

Have you yet calle din and given the Jones Chili Parlor the once over at 12th Avenue near Jackson Street? If you haven't don't overlook that, because it is the most beautifully established place in the city of its kind.

A. A. Taylor conducts a swell eating place, namely Kapper Kettle Kafe, at 2103 E. Madison Street, where you can be served with great courtesy, for your wife or sister that you can be given anywhere. And he serves steaks, chops, as nice as you can receive anywhere. Pies and cakes and coffe of the best type. So if you are hungry, when out that way stop in there at the Kapper Kettle Kafe and be served and hear music with your meals.

Don't forget yhen you are ready to have your laundry done to call E. 0967 and that will get the Chatters' and Laundry. He will call and get your laundry and bring it back to you nice and clean and sanitary, and white as cotton. If you don't believe what is said, try his method and be sure that what I say is right.

Biographical Sketch of Dr. C. V. Roman, A Graduate of Meharry Medical College

There is a figure that looms upon the horizon, a new Aldabaran in the Pleiades of a future de lination, a luminary whose radiance shines upon the pathway leading to the craggy heights whereon shall be written anew the story af o race's achievements. The image stands out in bold relief against the background of human endeavor, whose optimism grips the human heart and like the irridescent fres of an oriental opal, reflects the moorings of the past that added light may beam tenderly uppon the future.

Charles Victor Roman, A. M., M. D., LL. D., was born at Williamsport, Pa., on the Fourth of July, 1864, the child of colored parents. His father was a slave in the State of Maryland, but made his escape from bondage, and after many serious adventures finally landed in Canada by way of the underground railroad. Slaves could not breathe in Canada. Once their lungs received its air, that moment they were free. They touched that country and their shackles fell. After the close of the Civil War, which gave freedom to over four million slaves under the emancipation proclamation of the greatest benefactor of the century, President Abraham Lincoln, he returned to the United States with his young Canadian wife and located at Williamsport. Dr. Roman's father was a broommaker, a trade which he had learned while in slavery, at which he was an expert workman. The Pennsylvania atmosphere was not quite clear in those early days after the war for a colored man, so the father, with his young wife and baby boy, hiked back to where freedom was alike for black and white, and they made their home in Burford, in the county of Brant, where his wife's parents lived. Dr. Roman's parents lived in Burford till 1876, when they moved to Dundas, where young Roman began life as a worker in the cotton mill. That young colored boy had ideas of life beyond the weaver's shuttle, and when the opportunity for an education in the nigh tschool of Dundas appeared, he took advantage of it, and after his day's work in the cotton mill he spent a couple of hours every night at school, and on his return home studied far into the night.

The colored boy worked in the mill for some four or five years, when his parents made their home in Hamilton, and here he entered the Cannon Street School having for his teacher Prof. Morton who took more than ordinary interest in his colored student because of his bright intellect and his ambition to acquire an education. In the course of time he became a student at the Collegiate nstitute, graduating therefrom in 1885.

To show the nerve and ambition of the boy, from his early days in the Dundas cotton mill he made up his mind to become a doctor of medicine, and with that end in view all of his studies were directed along that line: and that he has reached the height of his ambition the sequel will show.

After graduating from the Hamilton Collegiate Institute the young cotton mill boy went South, and in the State of Kentucky began life as a school teacher. While engaged in teaching in the daytime he provided himself with elementary medical works and spent the long night in their study, till finally he gave up school teaching and entered a medical college, from which he graduated in the year 1890.

Dr. Roman was but eight years old when he began working in the Dundas mill, nearly forty years ago. Within the forty years the little mill hand has expanded into a world character the usefulness of which constitutes a history greater than the purport of these pages would allow us to relate.

n 1904 Dr. Roman limited his practice of Medicine and Surgery to the specialization of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Perhaps the most salient feature of his heturn to the South was the founding of the Department of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology in Meharry Medical College and which chair he now holds. His ability to hold such rank and station among educators of the day is due to the fact of his having pursued post courses in medicine in several American states also in London, England. Dr. Roman was editor-in-chief of the Journal of the National Medical Association, in connection with Dr. John A. Kinney, who assisted him in founding the paper and who succeeded him in the work as editor-in-chief.

When we contemplate the enormity of his volume, "American Civilisation and The Negro" our imagination is staggered, our senses swim, not within the habitues of pedantry, nr the confuse of academic abstractions and didactic discourse, but within these cooling streams where the travel-stained seeker after truth may immerse his tattered garments of recadent misunderstanding. We feel safe in declaring that there never has been a more comprehensive treatise, a more inclusive circle of relevant material; a more critical analysis, a more dispassionate discussion of ethnic problems, proclitis and enclitic, a more urgent appeal to reason and common sense, a more convincing argument in justification of its objects than is found in the volume fresh from the hand of Dr. Roman.

We submit for the mental stimulation of our readers a paragraph from the book just quoted:

"Man's sole right to pre-eminence over his animal kinsmen is his intellectuality. The mind makes the man. 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he". Not his looks, nor his stature, but his thoughts made the man. It is not the texture?iabovr|chhican :d Sa not the facial contour, whether it be angular or sharp and European or broad and flat and African: it is not the color of the skin, whether it have the achromatic pallor of the Norweigan or the midnight hue of the sunkissed Senegambian: no, neither facial angles, nor brain weight, nor set of teeth, nor length of arm, nor arch of feet, nor any other outward physical characteristic is the determining factor in life's complicated equation. As a man thinks, not as a man looks, finally fixes his status. Thoughts and not bites finally win the battles of life. This is as true racially as individually. Racial distinctions are psychical rather than physical. Slav, Saxon, and Latin are far more dissimilar in mental habit than in physical contour. Mental habit rather than physical form differentiated Greece from Rome. Many attempts have been made to classify mankind, but the intellectual division into sensorimotor anl ideomotor mind is the mast far-reaching. Just as the ideomotor mind is the winning one in the individual, so it is in the race. Reason should dominate sensation and will guide emotion if the individual or race is to keep the orbit of success. Such a mind never loses its sense of proportion nor thinks of the troubles incident to human existence its peculiar besettingainicn atts,tCg tln zl.... liar besettments.". ... etc ...

And thus every succeeding paragraph, chapter and be taken as a model for clear concise thinking, abounding with peach-skinned apples of literary allusions.

From the humble beginning as the son of a Maryland slave, whose boyhood was spent in the cotton mills of Dundas, from the Hamilton Institute to the various colleges that conferred upon him the several degrees, from the ranks of a school teacher in Kentucky and Tennesse to a chair in Meharry Medical College, Dr. Roman has pierced the veil of world recognition and stands out today as an authority on medical science which qualification has placed him in the service of his native land as an official lecturer of the American Army.

REAL CHAMPIONS.

When ou take in consideration the barriers which are up and the status which the Negro maintains along all of the various lines of effort, he must be appreciated, and we are by no means kidding ourselves when we say so. We cite for example the baseball situation in this country today. To anybody who knows, there is no question but what there are teams of Negro players which could be pitted against the Yankee team, which won the recent World's Series and make them look like selling platers at a horse race. Yet, these same players are denied officially an opportunity to play for the championship solely, because of the fact that they are colored. Therefore as a matter of fact the New York Yankees fail as to being real champions and are only cheese champions. By right the Kansas City Monarchs are the World's Champions for 1923, they bar none, and will defend their title against all comers. This makes of them real champions. The same conditions obtain in the boxing game. Jack Dempsey, the conqueror of "Firpo" is but a cheese champion. His continual dodging a match with Harry Wills takes away from him the mantle of champion, he is no real champion, he's a cheese champion of the white race only.

ABOUT MAYOR CRYER.

The New Age Dispatch takes a vicious poke at Mayor Cryer through an article by its anonymous first page, first column contributor "Moonfixer." We do not think Mayor Cryer deserves this castigation by any means whatever. We have found him always ready to lend a listening ear to even the most humble. That he has been imposed upon through the machination of false leaders of our group and his own group goes without saying, but for a raw recruit into the maze of political activities, we are satisfied that Mayor Cryer has done his best to act as the servant of th people fair and impartially. Tremendous indeed have been the problems, but in his own good time he has met them unflinchingly without dodging the issue at any step in the road.

True our group has failed to any direct recognition by appointment by the Mayor and in this he has not departed from the course of his predecessors. We make no excuse or apology for this phase nor do we hold any brief for honor, but we stand at all times for a fair and square deal.

PUT A "CRUSHER" ON DAILY PRESS AND PREVENT CATASTROPHE.

We would speak to Chief Vollmer to use his good office as Chief of Police of this great city, to call upon the management of the Daily Times, also the Examiner and protest against the headlining of absurd lies which could very easily work up the people in this community to such a state of mind as to cause a race riot. The same tactics caused one in New York, in Washington, Chicago, Omaha and do you want one here? If so, the daily Examiner and Times of last Wednesday morning are paving the way. This sort of journalism is crime breeding and reflects discredit upon its owners and the people whom they serve likewise. As a matter of fact, for the good of all concerned, this headlining and featuring of rumors, risking the fate of a community in the hands of skuttle head reporters, with their groundless and foolish imagination, should be called to a halt.

CHIEF VOLLMER'S PROGRAM.

The program submitted to the Police Commission and by them referred to the City Council for the creation of 7 or more Central Police Stations is not only constructive but progressive to higheat degree. The gist of this lengthy survey, and the reasons therefore, mark Chief Vollmer as one of the greatest geniuses engaged in police work. Any person of the everyday, average intelligence can read and reading understand the reasons as well as the benefits gained by adopting the plan outlined by the Chief. We are strong for the recommendation of the Chief, for in its fulfillment we see lawlessness at its lowest ebb, we see justice maintaining its place and every man and woman will receive their just recognition in this great city where law, order and common decency is its keystone. All races, all creeds will rejoice in the fact that there are yet high officials who stand for the people, regardless of what may come to pass.

COMMENTS

W. J. Wheaton

It seems as if there can even be disagreements between the Knights of the Sheet and Pillowslip. Serious ones at that: So serious that religious hate, racial malice and one hundred per cent Americanism is entirely forgot, and murder is the only recourse. It is hard to determine why the editor of the Imperial Night Hawk which is the official organ of the "Invisible Empire" and Attorney Cobourn, who at one time was chief invisible something in San Francisco, disagreed to the point of murder; but they did; and the editor of the Night Hawk placed four bullets in the anatomy of his foe and consequently there is one less of the "Hooded Klan".

It is believed that finances were the cause of the feud. Charges of gross mismanagement of the funds have caused numerous law suits; and ury by the gullible dupes, oahere money which has poured into the treasury from the gullible dupes, who are carried away by the cant of prejudice, has been, seemingly, diverted from its channel and the "cut" has not been equal. The one hundred per cent American, it appears, has been measured in dollars and cents, and patriotism has spelled graft.

Whenever "Thieves fall out" there is bound to be trouble of a most serious nature. A prominent Negro, who has been one of the main factors in a chimerical, illusionary project which had squandered the ill-got dollars of a trusting if ignorant clientage, decided that he was not getting a slice of the melon of sufficient size, and withdrew his activities from the organization. But the graft had been so easy that he started to organize a similar project. There are at all times fanatics, and in this case there was no exception, and murder was the outcome.

The N.A.A.C.P. has made a special plea for the restoration to freedom of those soldier boys in the Federal prison at Leavenworth. Some time ago this column made special mention of the cause of their incarceration, and the injustice thereof. The signatures protesting their further punishment should pour into the headquarters of the Association so fast and numerous, that it would take a special train to transport it to the Capital. This is a worthy cause, devoid of any semblance of graft, and, should enlist the ardent cooperation of every Race man, woman and child. Let's do the work in America before starting for Africa.

It is estimated that the Negro population of the United States was, in 1900, 11.6 per cent; 1910, 10.7; and 1920, 9.9 per cent. Why is the decrease? It cannot be due to increased mortality. Except in very remote cases, the Negro has kept pace with improved sanitation. The "White plague" which devastated the race in certain localities, has been practically stamped out. Of course the falling off of the birth rate may have something to do with it, but not to that degree. Below the Mason and Dixon line no difference how fair, they know when there is one drop of alien blood and they classify accordingly. We have numerous acquaintances who better their working conditions by not wearing their racial sign on the sleeve. Of course they fail to count in the census.

The art of division is as old as society. The ancient chiefs were wont to keep the loyalty of their subjects by keeping them angry at somebody else. It was one of the old tricks of our enemies to keep dissensin in the ranks of the Negro. To whisper in the ear of George that Bill was his enemy, and vice-versa, was the scheme by which the enemy kept the Race, for years, from making progress. Finally we "Got Hep" and presented a semblance of solidarity. Things became better and we advanced. Proscription drove us together, and we commenced to talk and act business. Wealth and culture followed in the wake of prosperity and the OTHER fellow began to worry.

A visionary came along with a scheme to found a State for the Negro. Ships manned by black men were to sail the seas of the earth and carry in their holds earth's treasures. He organized Legionares and nurses with an insignia on their caps—The Black Cross—The Legionares drilled, and the nurses practiced the art of bandaging wounds, all in preparation for the conquering of an empire. A band of Irishmen, sympathizers with their struggling countrymen were arrested because they were plotting against a "Friendly country". They were in earnest, and might have created international trouble. The organization of the legionares and their auxiliary was winked at by the government. It was harmless and diverted the mind of the American Negro from the more serious happenings which concerned him. It created a diversion.

The backbone of a nation is the home builder, home maker. The men and women who are firmly planted in the soil. The American Negro is making rapid strides in the maintaining of homes and thereby increasing his moral as well as his financial status

AMBITION

By Chandler Owen

It was Richard Ely who said "People suffer from two lacks. First a lack of goods for the higher wants. And second a lack of wants for the higher goods." Both types of wants are essential to be satisfied. For upon examination it is obvious that if one continues to lack the goods his wants will atrophy; and vice versa if one has no wants, no desires and no yearnings for higher things, there is little likelihood that he will get them because no effort will be put forth to attain the higher goods.

What do we mean by higher wants? The desire for education, culture, real estate, personal property, manhood rights, and all those subdued and finer sentiments, which, when embellished by poetry, music and art, throw a beautiful and irresistable charm over human life. This means that our young men and women should have higher ambitions than merely to wear gaudy clothing, to display diamonds and jewelry, and ape the rich in consuming beverages and viands which they can ill afford. This has become all too true of he city life of today. Our young men and young women are too prone to mere "society" life. It is all front and no back. We might call it a sort of "dickey" existence. Again, there is a group amongst us which is satisfied simply to earn money irrespective of the source. For instance, in many of our cities the leading Negroes have earned their money or secured their property by the running of gambling dens, speak-easy joints, houses of ill-fame, and other criminal and illegal practices. Moreover, there is a type which has little regard for manhood rights. This group will shut its mouth, turn its head, or wink its eye at any sort of proscription, caste and wanton narrowing of race opportunities, so long as it can hold political jobs or be continued in vice protection. Sometimes a group is not particularly seeking financial gains but simply desires to be let alone and freed from activity.

This easy going group is a menace because of its sins of omission. Those who oppose are less dangerous than the apathetic, the lethargic, the inert, and the indifferent, because the will to combat is not far from the will to believe. This group will throw away thousands of dollars in cabarets, but will not give a cent to fight against segregated schools, jim-crow cars, discrimination in public amusement, or for an anti-lynch bill.

Of course these classifications do not include all the Negroes, even though the race may marshall a few thousand batallions out of this drone class. Pressure must be brought to rid ourselves of this group, and if riddance be too difficult or impossible, then to reduce it to a minimum. There is no need of carrying dead wood, especially when the load is too heavy at best. We have observed for some time that Negroes do not lack money so much as they do organization of their dollars, along with the ambition to make these dollars bring in the greatest return. We, by no means, are blind to the economic condition of the Negro, yet we feel fairly certain that among his great needs is the need to breathe into his soul the breath of manhood ambition, so that this moribund man of color may have life, and have it more abundantly.

The Advancing Young Peoples Club will appear in their first musical and literary program on Friday, November 16th, at the A. M. EE. Zion

GAPING FORESTLAND

By: WENDELL P. GLADDEN, Jr.

X.

Since his scout had remained at the Leopard's Lair, Jamba, the young chieftain concluded that his oders were being obeyed, and that the courier was awaiting his coming and eventualities. He did not speak to Contier often. It was well perhaps, thought Contier, for talk now would mean argument and quarrel, and revolting on his part; for he was certain that half of the natives would follow him, since they knew his mission.

They journeyed on. The day was half spent now. An hour more and they would hear the roaring of the lion and see the long thatched roof of the animal colony. Here they could rest before the actual work of excavating began, and partake of what food they had managed to carry, together with the provisions to be had at the Lair. Then they would be ready to find the buried treasure.

Presently the men came to the trail which led to the Lair. Far ahead, where the trail began, they did not know that a group of their own tribesmen, for the sake of Jack Contier, and at the bidding of Anelo Fringes, awaited anxiously for whatever might come to pass. These men were valiant and strong. They had known the girl before she had gone abroad, and they were willing to help her.

The procession finally reached Leonard's Lair. Jamba was met by Bakwa, who was in charge of the place. "Why did not Mantuba, your good father, direct the expedition, Jamba?" Bakwa questioned.

"He is ill, and I am come instead," was the reply.

Not far from the entrance Contier saw the scout whom Jamba had sent in advance. He looked treacherous to Jack. Contier saw Anelo also. He dismounted and went over to where she was standing. She told him of the situation all of which he was aware. Anelo infomed him of the loyalty of the men in whom she had confidence. Contier was about to thank her for coming to his assistance, when Bakwa and Jamba quarreled and came to blows. The young chief seemed to fairly push the aged man aside, so strong was he. Jamba acted quickly. He was aroused and angered by the sight of Anelo with Jack. If he had planned to put aside any thought of bringing disaster to the procession, he would put them into operation now. He called to his men. About half of them came to his side, quickly. Contier seized his opportunity. He gave orders to the friends of Anelo to guard the cage and hut doors, so that the man whom he had reason to suspicion would not release the beasts and endanger their lives. He noticed that some of the men were reluctant to join Jamba, the young chief of their tribe.

Jamba rushed toward Contier. His was a murderous expression. Jack was ready for him. He carried on his person a revolver which he had deemed wise to bring on such an undertaking. He would not wound his adversary with it—not yet any way. Jack too, was every inch a man. Quick as a flash Jamba struck the American, upsetting him. Jack was up again and swung wildly at his opponent. Bakwa came forward, tugging at Jamba in an effort to put an end to the fray. Again he was knocked down. The storm arose. There was great commotion as the men engaged in battle. Spears and javelins glistened in the sun and there was clamor and disorder, such as Contier had not witnessed before. But here was his enemy still. Jamba, the powerful chieftain had to contend with. Jack met him this time with a hard blow to the head, stunning him. Cries arose. The men became frightened, the huge gates of the dens of the animals had been opened and some of them had escaped. Jack fought on, bleeding and ragged. He saw dimly the approaching animals. He left Jamba, drew his gun, and helped to stop the escaping beasts. A few men were killed. Fortunately, Jack saw the onrushing panther that made it way towards Anelo. He stopped it with a bullet from his weapon. The girl had fainted when he reached her.

Two of the guards, still struggling, making their way to the largest exit for the beasts, finally managed to close the gate, and thus prevented more from escaping. Jamba was struckly slightly by a dashing, crazed panther and rendered unconscious.

When all danger was finally over, the men forgot the cause of their fighting, and rallied to Contier and Bakwa who were assisting the wounded or moving away the dead.

"Anelo, you have helped to save my life and make possible my dream of finding the buried city." This was from Jack who stood over the weakened and convalescing girl. "Jamba has asked forgiveness and everything will be in readiness for the expedition tomorrow morning." Contier remained at her side throughout the twilight hours and late in the night, planning for a very bright future. He had found the girl of his heart and would find on the morrow the ancient buried city of his dreams.

Stanford Draws Color Line in Tourney

W. P. G.

The proposed championship boxing tournament between Stanford and California, scheduled for the night of March 9, was called off, according to the announcement made by Stanford's boxing coach, Harry W. Maloney, because California entered two Colored boxers.

According to Stanford's coach, an agreement was made between the two universities that no Negroes should be used. So that when California entered Errol Jones, a middleweight, against Jim Ross of the cardinals, and Mel Johnson, a heavyweight, the bouts were called off.

Lovers of the fistic game, and sports in general, were pleased with the attitude of the California coach in his statement to the effect that these boys were the best in their class and capable of representing their school. Fruther, that Colored boys are permitted to fight for their Alma Mater on the gridiron here as well as in the East, and epresent the universities in track and field events, they are capable of competing in boxing tourneys.

We say it is very poor sportmanship on the part of the cardinals, and they hurt themselves, not the fighters. We are glad that California is not so narrow as to exclude worthy athletes from contests, because of their color.

COLORED BOYS STAR IN TRACK MEET

(BY TRACK N. THUSIAST)

Four prep school track and field meets were held last Friday, March 9, which resulted in victories for L. A., Pasadena, Lincoln, and U. S. C. Frosh. Athletes battled a stiff wind and performed well considering this handicap. Colored boys helped wonderfully in bringing victory to their schools.

In the L. A.—Franklin contest, L. A. won by the one-sided score of 97 to 16. Chas. Diggs, sprinter and hurdler of L. A., was the high point man, garnering 13⅝ points; he placed second in a 10-4 100yd. dash; fist in the high and low hurdles without much competition in 17-2 and 28-2 respectively. The relay was conceded to L. A. Diggs is high point man at L. A. with a tot l of 21⅝.

Pasadena won over Polytechnic on the bull-dog's field by the tune of 60⅜-52⅝. Whizar and Hurlic, consisent point winners, lived up to expectations.

Whizar and Hurlic placed first and second respectively in the 100 yard dash time 10-1. Hurlic won the broad jump with a leap of 20ft. 2 in. He should place easily in the city meet; and he has a good chance to win this event. In the 220 yd. dash Whizar again showed his wares by taking first in the good time of 23 flat. Add ⅝ of a point to each of them for the relay, which reads: Whizar, 10⅝; and Hurlic 8⅝.

Out at Occidental Manual Arts and Lincoln tracksters stepped for honors, but Lincoln was victorious by a 66¼-46½ win. Patterson field is about the fastest track in the south and had it not been in for the high wind, even better time would have been registered, we believe. Gorge Duncan of Lincoln, and Brother of Manual got second and third respectively in the 100 yd. dash—10-4. Hurd of Lincoln finished second and Johnson of Manual, third in the 440 yard dash. Duncan won the 220 yd. dash by a wide margin—time 223 2-5. Johnson placed third also in the mile run. Brothers was on the relay team which won.

Ed. Shaw, the U. S. C. Frosh quartermiler won the event in 54 seconds flat. He tied with Ryder, his teammate, for first place honor in the high jump—height 5ft. 9 ins.

EDDIE CARLISLE NEW FED PREXY FIVE VICE-PRESIDENTS ELECTED OAKLAND CLUB GETS JULY TOURNEY; CLUB HOUSE SITE REJECTED.

By William Mells Watson
1555 Court Street —Wilshire 3742

Well folks it is a long sad story, but the majority of Fed members are happy, so what's the diff. The heat of excitement hovered around the selecting of a leader to guide the destines of tennis on the West Coast during the next nine months, and a dark horse in the person of Edward Carlisle president of the Westside club won the grapes by garnering seven of the fifteen votes cast, while ex-president William Dunn poled five, Clarence Brooks president of the Alpha club grabbed off two and Bill Tatum of the Westside squeezed one reluctantly.

Five beautiful ladies were crowned with vice-presidentships as follows: Mrs. Hazel Temple, (Westside Ladies) 1st. vice president; Mrs. Josephine Brown, (Alpha Parthenial and Westside Ladies, but representing the Racquette club 2nd. vice-president; Miss Victoria Grace Sherey, (president of Racquette) 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Irma Tatum, (Westside Ladies) 4th vice-president; Mrs. Mable Lee, (Alpha Parthenial and Westside Ladies) 5th vice-president.

Charles Black managed to retain his job as secretary by collecting nine to six over Mrs. Nellie Carlisle.

Charles Monroe Cameron of the Westside club who parks his flivver at his beautiful home (all paid for) 1561 West 35th Place was entrusted with the Fed's mazuma as treasurer.

William Marshall Dunn though canned as president was unanimously elected official referee.

Willie Watson as manager of publicity on promise of better behavior was permitted to continue forcasting tennis activities.

The executive committee appointed by president Carlisle who with other officers took office immediately after the hostilities subsided, consists of the following six representatives (one from each club): Mrs. Hazel Temple, Westside Ladies. Mrs. Sadie Louise McLaughlin, Alpha Parthenial; Mrs. Josephine Brown, Racquette; Miss Juliette Harris, Blue Triangle William Tatum, Westside, and William Watson, Alpha.

Racquette Club Gets Tourney

The reading of the Oaklandite's request for the Pacific Coast Annual Championship Tournament to be held in July on such courts as the Racquette club selects in either Oakland or Frisco, was a mere matter of formality as we southerners have had our nose pointed north for more than a year, and only the untimely death last June of the Racquette club's president, Herbert Hawkins prevented it's being held there last July.

Miss Shorey who will be appointed chairman of the tournament committee as an officer of the Federation will have her hands full from now until Sunday July 1st., when the first and second rounds of the championship will be played, and on Wednesday July 4th, the semi-finals and finals will hold sway. The grand climax comes off at the big dance Wednesday night following the tourney where the championship prizes including the handsome new Bertha Miller Trophy will be given the winners.

Clubhouse May Be

If the clubhouse spirit can be injected into our new president, and be fostered by him as by the past prexy, we'll be real estate owners within the year, but if as apparently was the case in many past meetings, we're to keep haggling about "ideal locations" indefinately, the clubhouse feature is "blowed," at least for some time, but let's hope that with co-operation efforts this difficulty can be removed.

HIS FIRST LOVE!

CONTRIBUTED

Fred paced the floor nervously. It was evening. His cozy den was flooded with golden light. He was wont to glory in this quiet place, to lounge in his comfortable Morris chair, gazing at the relics of his athletic days. Medals of bronze, silver and gold hung on the beautifully tinted walls of amber. On the mantel were three large silver trophies, and —her photo

He wanted to be alone. He was. But that lingering, haunting memory, now a stinging blow, rendered him so amazingly restless.

Then he stopped, folded his arms; next he held them out-stretched; he buried his chin in his hand meditatively; he paced again, stroking his hair. Fred's was a look of haggardness.

"It is all over now," he said. "The unbearable thing has happened!"

Was it not true that he, Fred Bangley, was president of the Senior class in Medicine? He was not the cringing sort of fellow with affected backbone. And yet—here he was. These and similar thoughts were surging through his mind. The supreme test had come. He paced on.

Presently someone tapped on the door. He started.

"Come in," cried he nervously, his voice quivering slightly. The door opened slowly. It was his sister.

She did not speak, but studied his face, critically. The girl was puzzled.

"What's the trouble, Fred?" He did not answer, but fingered the lapel of his coat.

Rushing to his side, she put his arms around him, and tried to console him. Fred put her aside gently and exclaimed: "I will end it all, Stella."

The girl clasped her hands, pleadingly. She begged him to tell her of his trouble. He went deliberately to the large library table on which were scattered pieces of paper and a letter, made half-visible by the handsome electric lamp, burning low. Fred glanced at the table, then at the photo on the mantel. His hand trembled. He opened the drawer quickly and seized a revolver. Stella sprang upon him, grappled with him, and finally succeeded in quieting him. Replacing the gun he nodded to the table and moved over to the opposite side of the room. She is assured that her brother is calm, now. There before her is an examination paper.

Could it be that Fred had failed in one of his subjects? Perhaps that was why he was so violent this evening. It was no longer a mystery to her. Yes, he had surely failed.

She picked up the paper and unfolded it, but he waved his hand to show his disgust.

"That is not the thing that is worrying me," said he. Fred pointed to the letter which the girl opened and read aloud:

Dear Fred: I married Jim today. He is so nice. Please forgive me, Fred.

ROSE.

It was to Fred Bangley as if a thousand daggers were stabbing his heart. His future seemed dark, all his sacrifices in vain. Surely he could not live without Rose, dear little Rose. Now she could never be his.

No more bitter pain can come to youth during his advent into his Wonder World of Love, than the knowledge that one who has been the ideal of his heart has been taken from him forever.

While Ferd is meditating Rose rushes into the room, followed by a host of students, They shouted in unison: "Congratulations! your 23rd birthday!"

Membership Campaign

The membership campaign leaders report fine results for the week, and are now more hopeful of reaching the goal. Every campaign worker and sympathizer should be present at the meeting Sunday, 18, at 3:00 p. m. A splendid program, including speaking has been arranged.

Hi Y Program at the Forum Sunday

Through the efforts of the Hi Y program committee, members of the club will be presented in a musical and literary program at the Forum Sunday 18, at 4:30 p. m. The Forum aided the Hi Y group last December when it was preparing to send seven of its number to San Diego for the Older Boy's Conference.

Blue Raggers Banqueted at Central Y

Interest in camp activities for the spring and summer was revived, and plans for the coming hiking and camping season were discussed at the banquet given for the Raggers Club at the Central Y last Friday evening, March 9th. Ninth Street branch sent three of its boys to the get-to-gether meeting. They were Wilbur Saddler, Wallace Markham, and Vernon Harden who are proud possessors of the blue rag, much coveted by the Raggers Club. A meeting of all the boys of the branch will be called soon for the same purpose.

Hi Y Team Beats Pasadena in Second Game

In the second of a series of three basketball games between the ancient rivals, 9th Street Hi Y and Pasadena Hi Y, the crown city boys were defeated in a hard fought battle by the score of 10-7. Bruce Jackson and Louis Rosser played a stellar game, and were aided wonderfully by the consistent work of Ralph Johnson, Benjamin Colly, and William Rosser. These are the men Captain Walter Towns started, but in the second half he used Sam Butler and Theophilus Smith. The third and final game will be staged in Pasadena Y on Marengo Street, on Saturday 24th.

LABORER'S DAY.

My day
Is but a little thing:
A round of work,
Of tiresome toiling,
Insignificant
In the eyes of men.
But I yearn
For the light of knowledge—,
Understanding,
The guidance of a Power
Infinite.
And somehow
My world of work, so small,
Is great.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The President's Council will meet Sunday at the residence of Mrs. H. Brown, 1409 W. 35th Street Sunday, March 18th, at 2:30 p. m. Important!

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Gray

There are some people who go through life bluffing. Or, to use another term, by putting up a big front. Appearances mean much to every walk of life, and there are few people who can be successful and yet ignore the established customs. Our race is known for its aptitude at imitating and its ability to adapt itself to the immediate surroundings. But, up ot the present time, our record shows that we have adopted more of the vices of other races than we have of their virtues.

We are clamoring for recognition and equal opportunity. We resent being called inferior. In other words, we want to be considered the equal of any other group of people in the country but we do not realize that we must prove to these other groups that we have the necessary qualifications that will compel them to recognize us.

All men are created equal, yes, but there is only one fundamental thing that raises one man above the other in the cycle of life. That thing is brains. One man is greater than the other only as long as he possesses the higher mental development. We maintain that by acting intelligently, looking intelligently and by striving continually for development we shall eventually emerge from one condition to enter another, both mentally and physically.

As an illustration let us consider our own country. The United States spends about five times more money, yearly, for music and art than all of the European countries put together. Yet, we are not a musical nation. We have the finest Symphony Orchestras in the world at present but we do not support them. We put up the front, though, and these appearances are gradually evolving a group of sincere lovers of the art who are learning to appreciate music for its own sake. Time will tell if we can become superior to the old world.

The thing that our race does not realize, however, is the fact that only a small per cent of the people who attend concerts, recitals, opera, art exhibits, etc., are able to understand or thoroughly appreciate that which is before them. But this does not stop their going and looking as if they did. They make a conscious effort and gradually absorb some of the world's culture until they develop a sincere liking for the same.

We imitate their fine homes, automobiles, clothes, society etc., but not their business methods, their philanthropy, their habit of fostering and supporting art. They have clubs and so have we. They study art in theirs and we pretend in ours. They make of opera a social excuse which gives the music lover a chance to enjoy it. We support no artistic endeavor and are poorer in that respect. They are forever searching for signs of talent among their youths and are raising money to develop it. We won't even buy a ticket to a recital, play or art exhibit that some ambitious youth among our race tries to present. We literally starve out all forms of artistic growth among our own people. Art is the only thing that the Negro has yet given the country that has been universally recognized as placing him above being merely a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water." It is the only thing that endures through the ages. Take the example of King Tut's tomb, now being opened in Egypt. This man was a Negro.

Every walk of life carries its responsibilities. The man or woman who has been fortunate enough to secure some sort of education, is duty bound to help his fellow man up. The man with money is responsible in a measure for the poverty around him. That is th[illegible] teachings of the great Or. Sunday she chiffon socks of weave so fine
By keeping up a front we not only set an example but we pave the way for others. Let us not shirk our responsibilities.

VISITING SAN FRANCISCO MATRON HONORED

Mrs. T. L. Smith, 733 Ceres Avenue, entertained on the morning of March 11th, with a charmingly appointed breakfast, complimentary to her niece, Mrs. Laura B. Allen of San Francisco. The table, exquisitely decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, was set for ten. The guests on this enjoyable occasion were Mr. and CMrs. J. B. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Adams, Mrs. W. H. Shores, Mrs. M. E. Foster, Mr. T. L. Smith and little Laura E. Smith.

Mrs. Alexander Hopkins recently entertained at the home of Mrs. A. M. Johnson, 1784 E. 33rd St. with a buffet dinner, in honor of Mr. Atkinson, of Abila, and Mr. and Mrs. Brookins. Sixty guests attended. The evening was delightfully spent with games and dancing. The house was lavishly decorated, a pink and white color being used. Music was furnished by Washington's Jazz Band.

Making Money

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome savings of their daily wage. But I submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have reached a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

Business requires your sole attention—Stocks mean sleepless nights and days of worry—Property works by itself for you without your care.
Select it—Set it to work—it takes care of itself and will take care of you.

A good example of this sort of investment is found in a few of my special listings as follows:

Seven room house, East 40th St., $4200.00; $1000.00 cash.
Five room house, corner Hooper Ave., $3950.00 $1000.00 cash.
Three rooms East 51st St., $1750.00; $500.00 cash.
Five room bungalow, Naomi St., $4200.00; $700.00 cash.

DR. W. E. B. DUBOIS HONORED IN SAN DIEGO

On Monday afternoon, March 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dodge, of Imperial Street, San Diego, entertained at a reception and dinner over thirty friends and admirers of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, at their beautiful and well appointed home, 2835 Imperial. It was perhaps the most brilliant affair eve witnessed in social circles of San Diego during the present season. It was truly a representative gathering, being numbered among the guests were superior court judges, ministers, doctors, journalists and authors.

The spacious dinning room was handsomely bedecked with cut flowers and potted plants, so cunninkly arranged that the whole place had the appearance of a veritable flower garden. The guests were received by Mrs. E. Worthington and Mr. Charles Dodge, Jr. The dining room looked especially pretty, its arrangement and decoration revealing splendid taste for the finer things in art. The immaculate white linen table covers were strewn with violets here and there adding grandeur and sweetness to the scene, and blended very beautifully with the huge vases of lilies, other flowers and great baskets of California's golden fruits. Miss Elizabeth Perry assisted in the serving.

The guests present were Judge and Mrs. J. S. M. Marsh, Rabbi and Mrs. Maxwell H. Dubin, Mrs. Charlotte Stearns Mrs. F. I. Johnson of Alta Lewis, Mrs. Ella Hutson, Mrs. Elsie Perry, Mrs. Ida Henderson, Mrs. Wm. Bomar, Mrs. E. Worthington, Miss Nellie Parsons, Miss Althea Warren, Miss Willa Townsend, Mrs. Edna Greene-Smith, Rev. L. S. Goolsby, Rev. Sidney Scott, Rev. R. H. Thomas, Messrs. E. J. Gentry, D. V. Maple Ave. All the members were present and enthused with zeal for the welfare of the Club. Mr. Edward Shaw was a welcome visitor. The Club is planting many elaborate social functons for this spring.

Miss Bernice Dials, who has recently entered Monovia High School and is gaining honors for high scholarly ability there, has recently been ill. Her brother, Mr. Oland Dials, is making good both as a student and an athlete. The high school is unquestionably proud of its Colored stars, Dials, Shaw and Hollins.

RECTOR'S GUILD TEA

The Rector's Aid Guild of St. Philip's Church, entertained more than seventy guests at a prettily appointed Lenten Tea, at the residence of Mrs. Eliza Johnson, 4200 Hooper Ave, on Sunday afternoon, March 11th. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

MRS. ANDRE PAYS TRIBUTE TO LOCAL TEACHER

Mrs. Russell Andre, formerly Miss Mary Woodland, in a recent notice gave a brief resume of her musical career, mentioning several eminent professors from whom she received piano instruction in the East but quite unintentionally omitted to give the name of a prominent and efficient teacher one to whom she is greatly indebted, one who always placed her upon his programs none other then Professor Elmer C. Bartlett.

Mrs. Andre has won scholarships from the great violinist, Clarence Cameron White, Madame Azalia Hackley, and Mrs. Neal Hawkins Butler, and has sung with Mr. H. T. Burleigh, of New York, in Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha." She has played with Mr Carl Diton of Philadelphia and Mr. Clarence Nolen, of Lawrence, Kansas, with Williams and Walker J. Rosamond Johnson and Will Marion Cook, and Blind Boone.

At Lincoln Institute, in Kansas, where Mrs Andre attended school, she was especially clever in music and literature, and had the honor of singing before Governor Hadley, of Kansas. Her brother is also a clever musical artist and the two, when quite young, were offered an engagement on the Orpheum Circuit which their conservative mother would not permit them to accept.

Mr. Russel Andre, is himself a musical artist of recognized distinction, and ths well mated couple unquestionably have before them a brilliant professional career.

UNIQUE DANCE AT HIAWATHA CLUB

Messrs. Matt Laws and Billy Tucker delivered the goods, as usual, on Wednesday night, March 14th, at Hiawatha Club, Washington and Central Avenues. They advertised a sensational Penny Shower—and true to form, the dance floor was waxed with 10,000 glittering coppers, to the great enjoyment of the throng of delighted patrons. The Jazzmania queen, a right royal beauty and royally arrayed, ruled over some five hundred willing "subjects" during the course of the evening.

Patrons of the Hiawatha Club are never disappointed. No matter how sensational the promises, Messrs. Tucker and Laws can be depended upon to live up the mark. For instance, who'd a tho't that Brown Skin Baby would really be given away as advertised a few weeks ago? But so it was! You can always expect the unexpected from these royal purveyers of high class entertainment.

REMEMBER "HIAWATHA"

The same Musical Study Club, under the same management an ddirection, will produce A Tale of Old Japan, cantata by S. Coleridge Taylor and Alfred Noyes, at Gamut Auditorium, Monday and Tuesday, April 9th and 10th. Don't Miss this Great Musical Event.

The Sunday Schools are making arrangements for the celebration of the Eastertide. In addition to their several programs, there will be a Community program rendered Easter Sunday afternoon.

The Building Committee of the Second Baptist Church has arranged for the beginning of repair work on the church this week. The first unit to be constructed will be the Social Hall. Plans are to make this unit of the church commodious and serviceable. The Hall will be available not only for the social affairs of the church but also for similar affairs of the Community. The capacity of the present hall is being doubled, a rest room for women is being installed, and other unique features are included.

In his report to the Board of Trustees of the School District, among matters Supt. Shibley discussed, is the conditions in Eastside School. He cites the large enrollment; the continuous growth and the necessity of additional teachers and an enlarged plant.

COLERIDGE TAYLOR MUSIC SOCIETY

PROF. H. DOUGLAS GREER

Who is directing the music in "A Tale of Old Japan."

Upwards of eight years ago Mrs. Clara Hulbert, then President of the Allensworth Club, assisted by Mrs. L. B. Kelso, proposed an organization to take up the study of music in a serious vein. Actuated by intelligent motives for impassioned clues to the deeper things in music we find these two persons working for the establishment of a real music society.

Their organization sprang forth. It was not out of the fashion, but out of the necessity of the time. Ragtime Music had seized our senses. We had begun to walk, talk, read write and even eat of Ragtime hallucination. The future forecast was dim, foreboding—there could be seen rising upon the decadent impulses of a new music whose deadening influence threatened to be more destructive than the latter-Jazz, that nameless, unknown quantity, so frequently associated with real music, was beginning to stalk abnormally through the vast domain of the higher musical thoughts and fancies. It was feigning a primitive originality, and, in a parasitic manner, was feeding upon and devouring the fondest illusions of musical intelligence and romance.

We shall leave it to the imagination of our readers to determine how effective has been the work of these two women in the interest of real musical art. We venture the statement that they are the real sponsors of the Coleridge-Taylor Music Society, which came as a result of inappreciation for Classics, particularly as they concern Negro Musicians and their works.

The first effort of the Club was to assist the Allensworth Literary Club raise money for the Old Folk's Home. The attention was directed to the Study of "The Wedding Feast," taken from the Triology of Hiawatha. Under the able leadership of Dr. Wilbur C. Gordon the Society developed a high degree of proficiency. Later Professor Robert G. Jackson was sent for that he might put the finishing touches to the work. The work was well done. The people of Los Angeles liked it. They insisted on having it repeated. With H. Douglas Greer as Director, the Club was heard in a recital of the two, first and second episodes of the Triology, namely, "The Feast and the Death.

Mr. Greer has labored with extreme zeal to hold the organization in tact. All energies have been directed to the works of Negro composers, believing that the major work of the Club should be confined to the author whose name it bears, for whom it was primarily and fundamentlaly organized.

Up to the present time the Club sustains a fine reputation. Many varied programs have been rendered. Los Angeles and nearby cities furnish testimony of the rich and rare contributions made in the name of the Coleridge-Taylor Music Society.

Object of the Society.

The Society has for its object the discovery and development of talent existing among our people. This talent is brought together, broadened, deepened, intensified for the ultimate expression of eager hopes and aspirations. The principal objective is the study of compositions by Negro authors, production of these works; teaching a reverence for the pure, the beautiful in Music, Art—Life. To this end the Club has dedicated itself to the task of assisting all worthy, deserving students to acquire their supreme desires along artistic lines, to establish scholarships for those who demonstrate unusual intelligence and musical ability.

Where to Attend Church

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH
Pico and Paloma Sts.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor
Res. 1217 Paloma St.

Zion experienced a great day in its history on last Sunday. The last days of the celebration are proving as interesting as its beginning.

Rev. W. E. Shaw, the pastor, preached from Luke 5th Chapter 12 and 13 verses. These sermons are making a great impression on all who are fortunate enough to hear them.

At 3 p. m. Memorial to Col. Charles Young under auspices of the N. A. A. C. P. and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was held here. A large audience paid high tribute to this late departed soldier. Rev. W. E. Shaw delivered the Eulogy in a pleasing manner. Madame Florence Cole Talbert captivated all hearts with her sweet singing. In fact each number was a star and the boys of the Omega Psi Phi deserve much praise for the excellent program.

The Bible Class and C. E. service was up to the standard in interest. Mrs. Pearl Walker Anderson favored the Endeavor society with a remarkably good paper on "Stewardship."

Rev. William Lofton delivered the sermon at 8 p. m. His theme was "Seeking the New Born King," Luke 2nd chapter.

On Wednesday evening all reports from the different clubs will be made. Some excellent reports are expected.

Bishop L. W. Kyles will arrive this week and possibly preach Sunday morning, March 18th. He will be accompanied by one of his younger sons.

Zion doors are open to all Strangers and friends given a cordial welcome.

Visit this church and make it your home.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
8th and Towne Avenue
Rev. A. M. Ward, Minister

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Johnson will occupy the pulpit in historic Eighth and Towne Avenue A. M. E. Church, Sunday at 11 a. m. and Pastor Ward will preach at 7:30 p. m. Both choirs will sing under direction of Prof. Bartlett.

Good old Methodistic religious services were enjoyed by large audiences last Sunday. Pastor Ward delivered the sermon in the morning when three young women, one young man convert, and a dear little boy were added to the membership of the church. The spiritual tide ran high; and there was great rejoicing.

A large representative and enthusiastic audience greeted our noted singer Florence Cole Talbert Sunday evening. Madam Talbert was presented by Prof. Bartlett and our Senior Choir. She captured her audience in her first classical rendition and held it in rapture through each number. Madam Talbert favored us Bernard's song "The Ragged Cross" and that good old spiritual "I Won't Turn Back." Madam Talbert last song with very great effect that wonderful song "Thinking," by Mr. Pace of Sacramento.

Madam Talbert was a member of 8th and Towne Ave. Church Choir when she lived in Los Angeles and the church folk are justly proud of her.

Holy Communion is to be celebrated on Thursday night, March 29th in commemoration of the anniversary of our Lord's supper instituted the night before He was put to death. Easter services will be held at 5 and at 11 a. m. respectively. The Sunday School Exercises will be given at 7:30 p. m.

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH
1252 East 25th St.
B. R. Guy, Pastor

The services at this church last Sunday were creditable. The Sunday School was in good condition and attendance creditable. At the eleven o'clock service, the Pastor spoke to a mixed crowd including visitors from Houston, Texas and Omaha, Nebr., from the text, "Cry aloud, spare not, lift up your voice like a trumpet and show my people their transgression and the house of Jacob their sins.

The Endeavor was quite interesting and profitable. At the night service, the pastor spoke from the text, "Lord make me to know mine end, and the end of my days what it is: that I may know how frail I am." There were a number of visitors present. At the morning service one person joined the church. The New Altar railing and new carpet attracted the attention of those present. Mrs. Riley of Omaha, Nebr., is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Guy, for a few weeks.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH
Duarte, California.
William Prince, Pastor

Rev. James Washington our Presiding Elder, held our second quarterly Conference on Tuesday evening. A large number of the members and friends were present to greet the Presiding Elder, and to hear the reports. After Rev. Washington gave a very interesting talk on his trip to the Bishop's Council which met in Columbia, South Carolina, the reports were read showing that there had been during the quarter, one conversion, and three probationers, also twelve new members added to the Church. Six infants were baptized. A splendid organized Choir of young people and $497.00 collected during the quarter. We are busy preparing the Cornerstone of our new Church the second Sunday in May. Rev. L. G. Robinson of Los Angeles, preached for us at 11 a. m. We all enjoyed the fine message that he brought. Rev. J. C. Reed occupied the pulpit at night to the delight of all present. Collection for the day $20.00.

A. M. E. CHURCH
Pasadena

Sunday, March 4th, Sunday School progresses rapidly with the efficient superintendent, J. R. Wright. We regret to say that one of our efficient teachers, Mrs. Sadie Wright, is on the sick list.

Sunday morning, Rev. Cooper preached a soul-stirring sermon; five members were added to the church. Sunday night, Rev. A. Burton of Pomona delivered a wonderful sermon on "Christian Perfection." We are glad to say that Rev. Burton is progressing in Pomona on his charge there.

Mr. J. A. Thomas has been visiting in Pasadena for the last five weeks, Saturday, March 10th, for Detroit, Michigan. He has become so infatuated with Pasadena and Southern California that he expects to return in early fall.

This church enjoyed a day of spiritual uplift and refreshing last Lord's day. Every department was favorably represented, and the minister poured forth soothing gospel messages. At 11:00 o'clock A. M. he spoke upon the subject of Christian obligation and responsibility, taking for his text, "Occupy till I Come," Luke 19:13. The church was much gratified with the presence of visitors and friends. It is hoped that you will be in attendance next Lord's Day, which promises to be a day extraordinary. Preaching 11:00 o'clock A. M. and 8:00 o'clock p. m. Bible School 9:45 a. m. and Christian Endeavor 7:00 p. m. Sister Helen Thompson and Sister Mary Ander on are leaders of Christian Endeavor services next Lord's day evening.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
8th and Wall Sts.
Rev. M. F. Mitchell, Pastor

We had inspirational services last Sunday. At eleven o'clock Rev. J. J. Willing preached for us. His subject was "The Life of Joseph." He drove home many vital lessons. In the evening the pastor filled his station as usual with an interesting discourse; subject, "The Strength and Weakness of Ester." The soloist for both morning and evening service was our directress, Madam Viola Harris Brandon. The efforts of the Choir added much in the preparation of the heart for the acceptation of the word. Special service next Sunday.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
34th St. and Central Ave.
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Pastor

Rev. J. K. Browne, D. D., who for thirty-eight year was a Missionary in Harpoot, Turkey, was the speaker at the morning service the past Sunday. He gave a splendid sermon on: "The Soil, the Seed, the Sower and the Harvest." An excellent audience was in attendance. At the evening hour the Pastor occupied the pulpit and spoke on: "Touching vs. Thronging."

This Sunday, March 18, the pastor will preach at both hours. Beginning Monday night, March 19th, we will have ten nights of pre-Easter meetings. Various pastors of the city will be with us in this series. All our Christian friends are cordially invited to join us in these meetings.

PHILLIPS CHAPEL C. M. E. CHURCH—

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH
9th and Hemlock Sts.—Y. M. C. A.
H. D. Prowd, Pastor

Our Sunday School was well attended and all enjoyed the instructive lesson. Presentation of The Cradle Roll was the inspiring feature. The Superintendent in a neat address accepted the gift of the Pastor. At the 11 o'clock service there were many visitors, and the Master was with us to bless all present. Dr. Prowd spoke from Luke 19:5 and 10—"Make haste and come down, * * * for The Son of Man is come to seek and to save, that which was lost." A goodly sum was taken up for the prospective House of Worship. The B. Y. P. U. held its usual session with interest and appreciation. The evening service was the largest in attendance. Seven reasons for observing the Lord's Supper were discussed by the Pastor. It was the occasion of our First Communion, and the hand of fellowship was given to the members of the Church including our Sister Kinzy who was baptized at 3 p. m. Those under the Watch Care of the Church were recognized as such and given the glad hand of welcome. These will soon be received into full fellowship. All good Christians will kindly pray for us. We invite all to our deep spiritual services—but request that you come [illegible] this Sunday.

ODE ON THE DEATH OF MY SISTER

By: N. Clement

After long years of toil and pain,
Like the setting of the sun
The Lord looked down on her dear life
And pronounced her work, "Well done!"
She never had time to say, "Good by!"
Not even to her children dear.
But we all know well, she's at rest on high.
By the way she walked down here.
Oh, how hard! how hard! is the parting,
With one we always have loved
Yet we know she's up with the angels,
Where all is joy, peace and love.
So, farewell! farewell! dear sister—
To say this closes sorrow and pain.
But in heaven on high, beyond the sky
Some day we'll meet again!

MOTHER'S DAY

By: N. Clement

We come this day, with solemn tread,
With voices sweet and low
In sacred memories of mother dear,
That left us long ago.
Some are asleep in distant lands,
And some repose quiet, near.
Each loving child would give half his life
If Mother were only here!
Her mind was ever centered on me,
Though often far away.
"Dear Father in Heaven, protect my child!"
Daily she did pray
At night when all was dark and still
Around our bed she would creep,
With motherly love, watching o'er us kids,
While we were fast asleep!
When her dear life came to a close,
The time for her to die.
We all joined hands and promised there to Meet her again on high
That's why, dear friends, that you can see
From the verses that I say,
Why I am out praising my God
For this is Mother's Day

AUSTIN BASEBALL CLUB

By: N. Clement

The Fort Worth team
A winner it seems,
But some wiseacre couldn't stay away
Till Austin went there
I tell you, my dear,
They showed Fort Worth how to play!
Babe Webb, back of the bat,
What do you think of that?
And Black Tank there in the box!
I saw Doyle playing the first;
I thought I would burst
For Austin was right as a fox
Mooney at second
Holding his record
And Brown playing the third
With Johnson in short
From Webberville brought
I knew Fort Worth was a dead bird.
Willie Townsend in field
After eating a square meal
Followed closely by Johnson and Brown
Couldn't last any day.
They framed up that way
Fort Worth was bound to go down.

Women Stages Jail Break

What was intended to be a wholesale jailbreak by many of the women prisoners now lodged in the City jail pending their trials, was averted by a number of other loyal women prisoners early yesterday morning.

Matron Maude E. Pratt was attacked while making her rounds of the women's deparatment of the jail before the breakfast hour. It appears that as she stepped into the cell room she was set upon by Elizabeth Castro and Molly Verdugo, who, with an iron bar as a weapon, knocked Mrs. Pratt unconscious, beating her severely over the head.

To all appearances the prisoners planned to seize the matron's keys and open their way to liberty, but this was thwarted. As the matron fell to the floor, before lapsing into unconsciousness, her screams brought many other women prisoners to the scene, who without any ceremony, set on the women pulling them off the now prostrate matron.

A general alarm was soon sounded and Jail Sergeant George Fisher and Turnkey Buchanan came to the assistance of the matron, placed the attackers into irons, and placed them into solitary cells.

After being treated ata the receiving hospital, Mrs. Pratt was taken to her home in a very critical condition.

ON THE WING

ON THE WING

The Eagle editor is on the wing making a swift flight across the country and at this writing is resting at the foot of Mt. Shasta at the lumber camp of Weed, California, a town of some 2000 persons of which perhaps quite one fourth of the population is Colored people. At this moment we are awaiting the fast express which will bear us on our way to the next stopping point, Portland, Oregon.

Leaving Los Angeles on last Monday evening the 12th inst., we landed at San Francisco on Tuesday, attended the great Peter Ogden Celebration given by Golden GGate, Areial Lodges and the Household of Ruth, addressed this great gathering and on Wednesday attended the Executive Committee meeting of the District Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows and on the following day met with the Press Boys.

We looked in upon the Tilighan Printing plant and noted the marvelous progress of this splendid young man. Also we noted the advancement made by new blood in the community by way of the Moss Lynotype Company. We met both Messrs Derrick and Wysinger of the Western Outlook and dropped in upon the bustling editor of the Voice, Mr. Marshall and his good wife, Mrs. Marshall, All of the newspaper people are in hearty accord for the organization of a Pacific Coast Press Association and at no far distant date the same will come ot pass.

Leaving San Francisco, we journeyed to the Stat's Capitol, Sacramento, with only a short wait between trains. We visited the old war horse the Hon. Jacob Soreas and his family, also Mr. and Mrs. John W. Scott and Rev. Fred A. Hughes, leaving here on Sunday, we landed on the next day at the big Golden West Hotel run by that prince of good fellows, Ed Macon, who is also head of the York Rite Masons of the West.

DR. W. H. BROWNING DIES

POPULAR DENTIST SUCCUMBS AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Teh many friends of Dr. William Henry Browning are shocked to learn of his untimely death, on Thursday morning, March 22nd, at his home, 1414 E. 21st street, this city, after a comparatively brief illness, thereby ending, in the very prime of life, a brilliant and promising career.

Dr. Browning was graduated from the Dental School of Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tennessee. He came to this city shortly afterward, and has been practicing dentistry here with great success for the last eight year. He was commissioned as lieutenant in the Dental Reserve Corps during the World War.

Dr. Browning leaves a number of relatives to mourn his passing, including his father, Mr. Henry Browning, a brother, the noted singer, Mr. Harold Browning, now in the East. A grandmother, an uncle, two aunts and other more distant connections, also survive him.

Dr. Browning's body will be lying in state at the undertaking parlors of Conner-Johnson Company, 1400 E. 17th street, until 12 o'clock Monday, March 26th. The funeral services will be held at two o"clock Monday afternoon, at Independent Church. The easket will not be opened at the church, however, to permit a view of the body.

INDIANS ON WARPATH SHOCK BROOKLYN TO ITS STAID CENTER

Trio of Iroquois Under Influence of Firewater Attempt General Massacre at Busy Corner, Halted Only by Dozen Reserves.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, March 21.—Three Iroquois Indians got more firewater than was good for them yesterday afternoon, went on the war path, and descended with whoops worthy of their ancestors upon the corner of Myrtle Avenue and Bridge Street, two blocks from the heart of the shopping district. By the time the police reserve arrived one of the busiest corners in the borough was a wilderness in which no white man was to be seen save two bruised and battered patrolmen in a gutter.

In the absence of trees or a blockhouse the thousands who had been passing fled for cover up elevated stairs or barricaded themselves in the furtherest recesses of nearby shops and prayed fervently for a relieving force.

The crowd was hardly expecting an Indian raid when the excitement began. The war whoops were met with tolerant exclamations of "Ah, Erasmus is out today," or "I wish I were in the Rotary Club." Even the first violence, in which a burly man was the victim, passed almost unnoticed as an outburst of fraternal feeling.

Crowds Finally Wake Up.

The panic began when the Indians grabbed a woman and started tearing off her clothes. In Brooklyn such sights are not uncommon, but when a second woman and then a little girl received the same treatment the crowd woke up. Two men started to the rescue, engaged the Indians long enough to let their victims make a screaming escape, and then fled pell mell to nurse their bruises. The Indians let them go and went after more women and children, chasing them down the block and up the elevated stairs. More men tried to interfere, were duly beaten, and took to cover.

Into the excitement came Patrolman George Stackler, of the Poplar Street station, six feet two. He came down the elevated stairs faster than he went up and lay without moving at the foot. Patrolman John Reagan reached his side just as he was losing consciousness, while an Iroquois jumped up and down and his chest and kicked him. The reserves arrived as Patrolman Reagan was going under from the same treatment.

Reserves Quell Uprising.

The reserves were twelve in number, all armed with night sticks. In due course they put down the uprising, not without receiving sundry black eyes and other bruises, but so thoroughly that the Indians had to be tossed into the patrol wagon. As the reserves drove off the most courageous of the crowds beleaguered in the shops stuck their heads into the streets.

100,000 ESTHONIANS IN CO-OPERATIVE SICIETIES

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The Esthonian Consumers' Societies, an organization of workers operating on the cooperative basis, according to reports to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce from that country, have a membership of about 100,000, mostly peasants, and in 1921 their sales amounted to about $2 per capita of the entire Esthonian population. A circular of the bureau shows the growth of the union, its sales, balance sheets and distribution of profits, and indicates their business methods.

COPPER BARONS OPPOSE LAND BILL

(Crusader Service)

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 21.—Copper barons in this state are opposing a bill that would permit inhabitants of houses built on leased lands to have the right of free passage to and from their homes.

Withholding of this gusarantee by the copper companies gives them a strong weapon in case of strike, when they can force employes to leave their home by denying them the right to walk across land leased by them.

CHRISTIAN FLEECED CHRISTIAN TO SAVE THEM FROM ROBBERY AT HANDS OF TURKS

(Crusader Service)

The Chicago Tribune correspondent at Constantinople tells how the big shipping companies robbed the "Christians" who, during the recent scare, sought to get away from Constantinople.

The nominal fare from the Piraeus was 25 Turkish pounds, but the shipping companies demanded L80 sterling for standing room only and a L50 bonus for every ticket sold. The next trick was to refuse to book passages for anywhere nearer than Marseilles or Liverpool and collect L300 or L400 for a ticket.

And they told the Christians that if they remained in Constantinople they would be robbed by the Turks.

Why be robbed by a Turk when you can get it done by a real, hall-marked, dyed-in-the wool Christian?—Glasgow Forward.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The will of Horatio P. Howard, who died Feb. 20 at 205 W. 115th Street, gives $5,000 to Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute to establish scholarships for deserving Negro students to be known as the Captain Paul Cuffee Scholarships. The residuary estate goes to Tuskegee. The will was filed yesterday.

WILL PENSION SLAVES "FAITHFUL" TO OPPRESSORS AGAINST OWN INTERESTS

(Crusader Service))

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 21.—"Faithful Negroes who servilely "stood by" their oppressors during a war fought to free them were voted pensions by the South Carolina Legislature today. The House passed the Johnstone bill providing such pensions which already had passed the Senate by a vote of 67 to 34.

The bill provides that slaves who served the State and their masters in the Confederate Army during the war shall be grnated pensions under virtually the same conditions as those now paid to Confederate veterans.

KLAN BILL HEARING IS SET FOR MARCH 21.

(Crusader Service)

ALBANY, March 19.— Responding to requests, mostly from individuals and organizations that propose to support it, Chairman Cotillo of the Senate Judiciary Committee, today arranged for a public hearing on the Walker bill, designed to unmask the Ku Klux Klan by making public the names and addresses of its officers and members and shedding light upon its activities. The hearing was fixed for Wednesday, March 21, at 2 p. m.

Introduced at the instance of The World, the Walker bill has been indorsed by Catholics, Protestants, Negroes and Jews. Democratic Senate Leader Walker has received many letters urging prompt enactment of the measure.

NEGROES NOT TO MINE RUHR COAL

Strike Breaking Detective Agency Finds It Impossible to Corral Colored Workers in Imperialist Game. Coal Not Being Mined. North Africans and French Communists Opposed to Occupation of Ruhr.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, March 21.—Negro nonunion coal miners of West Virginia and Southern Illinois will not dig coal in the Ruhr, even for a belt of 37 a day and board and transportation to Europe.

The Gorman miners won't mine coal for the imperialist bloodsuckers.

The coal can't be dug by French bayonets.

The organized French workers, Socialists, Communists and trade unionists, won't mine coal. Coal isn't being mined, because of the solidarity of the French workers, and coal is needed.

The imperialists turned to their imperial possessions and sought to flood the coal fields with Algerian colonials, but they couldn't do the job.

Then, in desperation, a "commissionaire" who was supplying the Algerians turned to a private detective agency, the Dougherty "Detective Bureau and Mercantile Police" of New York, which has a record of having engaged for several years in strike-breaking work, and called upon them to supply non-union Negroes to do what the Germans and the French soldiers and the French workers and the Algerians would not do.

And the Doughertys found that the non-union Negroes of West Virginia and Illinois wouldn't go to France to dig coal at the behest of "commissionaries" of the French imperialists.

That is why the matter was dropped by the Dougherty firm after a profitable transaction had been arranged by Harry V. in Paris and George S. in America. While Harry was promising to supply the miners, George was scouring the non-union coal fields to get the men, and found that he could not. "We couldn't get 100 men, let alone 500 or 1,500 or 5,000 men," he said.

Dougherty explained that there was a crossing of wires between him and his brother, George S., over the matter that caused him to announce that he had contracted to supply Negroes to mine the coal in the Ruhr in the place of the Arabs and Algerians who have been unable to stand the climate, he said. The colonials were being used because Germans and French miners simply wouldn't mine coal.

DISQUALIFY RUNNERS WHO ACCEPT 'LIFTS' IN PANAMA CLASSIC

PANAMA, March 21.—Colored athletes from the British island of Jamaica came to Panama to compete in an athletic carnival with their West Indian brethren who had moved to Panama. The visitors won a majority of points in the bicycle races, cricket matches and field sports.

The great event was the Marathon race. It had many entries. It started off with a dash. When it was over the officials disqualified every one of the runners. All of them had accepted 'lifts' or automobiles. The race was not rerun, because autos were still running along the road and officials thought it would be useless. The next visit, the officials say, will see the Marathon run cross country through the jungles.

FRENCH EMBASSY DECLARES NEGRO PLAN RUMORS FALSE

(Crusader Service)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Official denial was made by the French Embassy today of reports that American Negroes are to be imported into the Ruhr to operate the mines in place of German workmen.

The embassy officials did not go into details beyond stating the reports are false. At the State Department, it was said this Government had received no information supporting the story.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary of State Hughes has never been consulted regarding the plan of Harry V. Dougherty, international detective, to transport 5,000 Negro miners from West Virginia to the Ruhr coal fields, it is learned at the State Department.

OKLAHOMAN HAS PLAN TO LICENSE EDITORS

(Crusader Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21.—Intolerance is constantly on the job. A bill introduced in the upper house of the State Legislature today, would require all newspaper editors, reporters and all persons engaged in handling "copy" for publication to pass an examination before a State board of newspaper examiners and pay $10 for a license.

EGYPTIAN PATRIOTS ARRESTED BY BRITISH

Egyptian Independence a Mockery—Population Demand Action Against Brutal Oppressors.

(Crusader Service)

CAIRO, March 21.—There were more arrests today of Egyptians connected with the Zaghloulist organization and the papers suspended yesterday in consequence of the bomb attack upon the British troops. The Zaghloulists, determined to carry on one fight for real independence, have already elected another executive in place of the official imprisoned yesterday. This makes four executives in a little more than two years. The first was deported to the Seychelles, the second sentenced to seven years in prison and the third arrested yesterday.

There appears to be no hope of an early settlement of the political crisis and the Egyptian masses are apparently ready to the last man to back the fearless policies of their leaders.

ANGORA REJECTS ALLIES' TREATY

Door Left Open But Turkey Will Not Be Responsible for Outcome if Allies Are Insistent.

(Crusader Service)

LONDON, March 21.—The Turkish National Assembly at Angora has rejected the Lausanne Treaty, according to a Constantinople dispatch to Reuter's.

An official telegram from Angora, it is announced, states that the Assembly gave its decision this afternoon that the draft treaty was unacceptable, as it was contrary to the National Pact.

The Assembly disclaimed responsibility in the event of the Allies' insisting upon acceptance of the spirit and letter of the treaty.

An important majority of the Assembly authorized the Government to continue its efforts for peace under the following conditions:

The Mosul question, being of vital importance, must be settled within a provisional period: the financial, economic and administrative questions must be settled in accordance with the complete independence of the nation, and the occupied territories must be evacuated rapidly after the signing of peace.

WITNESS WHO FLED AT LAST EXAMINED IN MER ROUGE CASE

(Crusader Service)

BASTROP, La., March 21.—Harold Teegerstrom, nineteen, missing witness at the State's open hearing into the hooded mob outrage in Morehouse Parish, appeared today before the Grand Jury and was questioned for nearly two hours. It was the first time Teegerstrom has testified in the investigation of the Mer Rouge crimes.

Teegerstrom, nineteen, disappeared from the Carbon plant January 29. He was reported first as kidnapped and then slain. Federal agents searched in vain for him. He reappeared immediately after the open hearing.

LENIN SEES COLORED RACES VICTORIOUS

Says White Capitalism Is Forcing War on People of the Orient. Russia Orient's Ally. Soviet Russia, India, China, Egypt and Other Eastern Countries Will Ultimately Overwhelm Western Imperialism.

(Crusader Service)

MOSCOW, March 21.—Under the present system of international relations in Europe, one state is placed under the heel of others—victors, who are able to grant a few concessions to the oppressed classes; concessions which retard the revolutionary movement and create a semblance of social peace.

At the same time there are a number of Oriental countries, notably India and China, which, as a result of the imperialistic war, find themselves completely beaten out of their track. Their development has finally come to be directed on a general European capitalistic scale. General European fermentation has begun in those countries and the whole world can now see clearly that they have been dragged into the process which inevitably will lead toward a crisis in the entire world of capitalism.

ORGANIZES NEGRO CIVIC ASSOCIATION

(Crusader Service)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 21.—Indignant over the failure of the city authorities to provide proper civic improvements in Los Angeles colored residential districts, the colored property owners therein recently roganized the West Side Property Owners Protective and Improvement Association, through which property protective measures will be taken to secure necessary improvements.

The West Side district is without question the largest colored residential district west of the Mississippi river, comprising 483 property owners who own and control $1,683,000 worth of valuable residential property. About 20 square blocks are completed, covered with modern California bungalows costing on an average of $4000 each.

COLORED FRATERNITY BARRED AT SYRACUSE

(Crusader Service)

SYRACUSE, March 21.—For the second time in two weeks the charge of racial discrimination was raised at Syracuse University when the interfraternity conference by a vote of ten to one refused membership to Alpha Phi Alpha a national Negro fraternity. Vice-Chancellor William P. Graham announced that Alpha Phi Alpha will receive the same privileges as similar organizations.

RECITAL AT ALEXANDRIA HOTEL

PROF. WM. T. WILKINS AND PUPILS MAKE CREDITABLE SHOWING

WILLIAM T. WILKINS AND HIS PUPILS IN RECITAL AT THE ALEXANDRIA HOTEL

Mr. William T. Wilkins and his pupils assisted by Mr. Claud V. Pitts and Prof. W. V. Howard goes over the top again when they were presented in recital last Friday evening in the banquet hall of the Mason's Lodge Room at the Hotel Alexandria.

Mr. Wilkins was presented by Mr. Arthur Dittman before the Craftsmen Club No. 2 of U. S. A.

The members of the organization presented each pupil with a beautiful boquet of flowers for the wonderful work they did.

Prof. Howard scored in Dunbar Readings. So hearty were the applause he was compelled to respond with several encores.

Mr. Pitt sang "Celestie Adia" and as always brought down the house responding with a beautiful encore.

The pupils were all at their best. Each seemed to have caught a new inspiration. All received encores but did not respond. Special enthusiasm was shown over the rendition of Samuel Brown's, Little Francis Cury's Algie Collins and Gilbert Allen's number. Miss Lucile Banton received the honors of the evening among the pupils.

Mr. Wilkins was requested to again play his "Path of Destiny" which is being recognized by music critics and lovers of the white race. Mr. Wilkins received a storm of applause and was compelled to respond with an encore.

The program was enjoyed by all and the members were very much enthused and spoke highly of the advancement and style of playing of Mr. Wilkins and his pupils.

The speaker of the evening was the Hon. Benj. F. Bledsoe, of the Federal District Court.

SEATS FOR ALL ON MOTORBUSSES IS PROMISED

There will come before the voters, May 1st, a proposition which is of vital appeal to all classes of people. This proposition will be one where Los Angeles will be assured relief in a great measure from the transportation congestion.

The People's Motorbus Company has made an offer to the City to invest something like $2,000,000.00 to install motorbusses to give service in various parts of the City. This should not be confused with what is known as the jitney busses. The People's Motorbus Company will place on the streets expensive an dcomfortable busses like those which run on Fifth Ave. in New York and in other big cities.

At the head of the People's Motorbus Co. is Marco H. Hellman, President, and William G. McAdoo, General Counsel. Mr. Hellman is well known in Los Angeles, being a prominent banker nad has always been known as a friend of the colored people. Mr. McAdoo was Secretary of the United States Treasury and also managed the realroads during the war. He built the tunnels under the East River in New York.

Campaign headquarters have been opened in the Grosse Building at 6th and Spring Streets under the name of the People's Motorbus Campaign Committe. Some of our most prominent people, realizing the necessity of increased transportation, are using their best efforts to put through this proposition.

The People's Motorbus Company guarantees a seat to every passenger thus doing away with the strap-hanging which has become so much a part of the life of those who ride the street cars.

THE AMERICAN WOODMEN

The American Woodmen Begin Big Spring Membership Campaign To Give Away $300 In Cash Prizes March 8th to April 19th.

The American Woodmen known as the Million Dollar Fraternal Insurance Society has launched its big Spring Anniversary membership campaign, beginning March 8th and end April 19th. This giant of Negro Fraternal Societies operating in twenty-seven states, is one of the fastest growing institutions operated by members of the race. Since 1910 the membership has grown from less than four thousand to more than one hundred thousand, and assets to over a Million Dollars.

The Los Angeles camp No. 1 was organized in August 1922 and in six months has a membership of almost four hundred.

The American Woodmen is distinctly a race institution and merits the confidence of our peoule everywhere. It furnishes employment to thousands of our people; it gives expert advice upon the formation of building and loan associations among our people free of charge; and lifts the mortgage on hundreds of colored homes.

Mr. B. Harrison Graham, the Supreme State Supervisor of California, has placed with the California Bank, Three Hundred Dollars to be given away in prizes to contestants as follows: $50 to the member who brings in the largest number of applications over twenty-five; $35 for the largest number over twenty; $20 for the largest number over fifteen; $12.50 for the largest number over ten and $7.50 for the largest number over five. The Supervisor has decided also to give to eac contestant who does not succeed in winning one of the main prizes, One Dollar for each application he brings in during the drive.

Among the features which make the American Woodmen different as a Fraternal organization is the fact that there are no extra assessments or extra taxations to pay. The monthly rate is always the same and all claims are paid in full and at once.

A dispensation of $1.50 to join, entitling the applicant to full membership will be in effect during the campaign only.

The Campaign will be under the personal supervision of the State Supervisor, Mr. B. H. Graham, and will be under the auspices of Los Angeles Camp No. 1, Boyle Heights Camp No. 2, and West Side Camp No. 3.

The Office of the Woodmen is located at 1400 Central Avenue. Phone

WHAT IS BEST FOR THE NEGRO?

Should the Negro remain in the South or come North and West—is a question of great moment today. It is said that much propaganda, pro and con, is in circulation.

It was interesting, a few days ago, to notice that one of the Southern dailies published a lengthy artice, telling how Negroes who had migrated to the North during the World War period, were returning home, in many instances bringing with them oak boxes containing dead members of their group whom they were bringing home for burial. This white daily went on to explain that the Southern Negroes could not survive the rigors of northern winters, and hence inevitably returned to their native region, the warmer South.

On the other hand, we are told that in certain sections of the State of Georgia, signs are placed on the doors of dwellings of Negroes, warning them to leave the community on a few hours' notice, and thereby forcing them to abandon what they have struggled in the face of cruel handicaps and the most bitter oppression of fifty years to accumulate, in the way of homes, real estate, farm lands, live stock, and often all their chattels.

It seems strange to us that after a five years' chaotic condition caused by a war involving nearly all the "civilized" peoples of the world, America, the wealthiest, the most advanced along all lines, of the nations, should fail to profit by her experience of suffering, boodshed, and all the evils attendant upon a bloody struggle, to the extent that she allows those who gave their lives and their meager accumulation of wealth in the defense of her interests, to be prescribed against and persecuted, driven from pillar to post, as it were, like children without a home or the man without a country!

If the National Government continues to allow the South, that in 1861 seceded in part from the Union, to keep up this damnable practice of race proscription, race discrimination, race prejudice, Jim Crowism and mob violence, we are afraid that in time some of those who lend a sympathetic ear to the cries of suffering Armenia, to Ireland's pathetic pleas for independence, and even India's mournful prayers that Britain withdraw her iron heel from the native neck, will at last take notice of the God-like restraint until now exercised by the Black sons of America, only 60 years emerged from the school of 250 years' experience in the debasing institution of slavery; the group which contributed to the trying reconstruction period; and who, today, are the targets at which white America hurls its prejudice.

And having "taken notice," it is not impossible that these sympathizers with human distress, these champions of human liberty and democracy, will demand that white America accord to Black America at least some measure of that justice that White America so eloquently exhorts other nations to give to their subjects and dependencies.

THOMPSON WINS RECOGNITION FOR RACE

Not only the Race group of Los Angeles, but the entire people should take pride in the fact that a great daily newspaper, such as the Los Angeles Express, should have, as a member of its staff, a Colored man—Mr. Noah D. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson, from the time his connection with the Express was formed, has not limited his efforts to self-advancement and aggrandizement. He has constantly, in an ever-dignified and diplomatic manner, sanely and effectively espoused the cause of his Race in this community. Perhaps one of the most noteworthy of Mr. Thompson's accomplishments has been his success in influencing the great journal with which he is connected to print the word "Negro" with a capital letter, as a mark of respect t othe Race for which that word stands, instead of the small "n" formerly used; and to discontinue printing the words "nigger," "darkey" and similar derogatory or silly expressions still frequently voiced by the malicious or ignorant. For this moral victory alone, we owe Noah D.. Thompson a debt of gratitude.

Politically, also, Mr. Thompson stands alert on the watch-tower, looking out for the civic interests of his group in this section.

In fact, if our youth were truly aware of the interest taken by Mr. Thompson in their behalf, more of them would be eager to sit at his feet for inspiration and instruction.

In one noteworthy respect, Thompson is distinctly different from the average Negro. We allude to his willingness—nay, eagerness—to find merit in the acts of his fellow Racemen. This was vividly brought to our notice in an interview a few days ago, in which Mr. Thompson paid tribute and homage, in most touching terms, to the late Booker T. Washington, with whom he was associated for many years. And Mr. Thompson expressed, in glowing words, his unqualified admiration for the monument left by the great leader—already forgotten by many of those who were in touch with him during life, and who were less appreciative of, or more envious of, the achievements of their chief.

MANUFACTURERS OF PREJUDICE

The American prejudice makers are now very busy, in fact they are working overtime to manufacture a sufficient amount of prejudice to thwart the seeming onrush of the darker races of the world. The agents of this propaganda have now set up their offices in Europe and are putting out the poison of prejudice in wholesale doses. For instance to make France's invasion of the Ruhr the more hideous, they constantly hold up the vision of black troops at the front in the Ruhr. They are aware of the fact that in France everything is French and the color cuts no figure, but these propagandists have a program to put over and that program is to mold a sentiment in this country as to the horror of French invasion and to make it more hideous they are playing up black troops in the Ruhr. They go further and even play up Siki in a most ridiculous and unbelievable role when he boards a ship for Ireland to box McTigue, the Irish champion. Therefore as the organization goes forth to put across this propaganda both at home and abroad it behooves the people who stand for justice and the square deal to get together as never before.

The Eagle reporter had an opportunity to hear the talented Miss Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Anderson, recite and render Shakespearian parts this last week. Miss Hester Anderson is a genius in recitation an dwill no doubt make her mark. She is an adept in mimicry and excells in her interpretation of Dunbar. Miss Tabytha Anderson is a marvel in the Shakespearian roe with a voice which would do credit to anyone whom we have ever heard for this roe, in thunderous tones and the clearest ennunciation she truly recites with ease the heaviest roles of Shakespeare. We predict for this young woman a great future.

SEE AND BELIEVE

Ride upon the Common Carriers for business, pleasure, or touring and note how infrequently you can discern a member of your race as a passenger thereon and then in a small way you can see the reason for our contention for production, of being a business asset for the big things of our bailiwick. Up to date we play a very small part, not enough to attract any attention.

OWEN WILL TAKE UP THE SLACK

While Dr. DuBois did not bring to us any tangible remedy for our ills, he did serve us well by his illuminating dissertation upon the ills of the body politic, and we look for the brilliant Chandler Owen on his coming visit to take up the slack.

GOING AHEAD.

Despite the propagandist, Negro Colonists are marching on and going into the Republic of Mexico as colonists at a lively clip.

THE BYSTANDER

L. K. Beeks

Some few years ago Dr. William Pickens sprang into prominence by winning the Van Eyck prize at Yale University for high scholarship. After strange and curious meanders, he finally cast his lot with the N. A. A. C. P. For all this we had nothing but praise and adoration for the worthy gentleman but when he suddenly rushed out into the sea of dubiousness and infidelity, we were tempted to muse, "Has a little learning made him mad?

Only a short time ago a New York pastor leaped into prominence over night with his denunciation of some scripture. Whether this is the intention of our race brother or not we are loathe to say but whatever impelled him in this wild foray of composition, it is as little as any of us can do Mr. Pickens included, to follow the one book that has stood the test for ages, that becomes truer and truer daily, that has been the inspiration for that which is lofty and good in life and art.

Of all Mr. Picken's 'getting he seemingly failed to imbibe that men need religion, they need a God. They get tired inventing their own theories and trying to believe them.

PRIZEFIGHTING

Siki lost. It may be well for him that he did in Ireland around St. Patrick's day. However had he won no doubt there would have been another reckless exhibition of immorality and dissipation similar to that displayed after his victory over Carpentier. Siki alone may commit these breaches but the race wherever radio and wireless dispatch the news, suffers. No one person was any more responsible for hard feeling and intermarriage laws than the regrettable Mr. Jack Johnson.

This late crop of fighters spoils as soon as it ripens. It does not remain long enough to become useful. It would be a fair experiment to turn our attention and powers on other accomplishments.

LAW

Three members of the race matched wits with over one hundred fellow countrymen of Caucasian race in the recent bar examination. If civil rights are obtained in proportion to numbers we also ran. No doubt my successful colleague along with myself desire to make no elaborate statement of facts as to our future. Both of us are grateful to to a part of this great growing, thriving commonwealth and only selected this profession in order that we might in the interesting struggle for right and justice add our trained efforts.

Personally, I pledge myself to fight for that which is true and noble and combat along with other good citizens the obstacles which confront us.

COMMENTS

By W. J. Wheaton.

—In Passing—

Down in South Carolina the legislature has passed a bill to remunerate the faithful Negroes who served with their masters in the Confederate Army during the war and kept faithful guard over their households.

South Carolina pays a pension to the veterans of the rebel army, and the bill provides that the pensions to the ex-slaves shall be, virtually, the same as that paid to the veterans.

It's a tardy acknowledgement, that debt for toil under duress, but "Better late than never."

In the District of Columbia a Negro woman is seeking a divorce after twelve years of marriage to a man who she beleived to be of her race but who now declares himself to be a white man.

She declares that he has wilfully deceived her, and caused her undue humiliation.

It seems to the man in the tree top that the matter of "Social Equally" is, after all, a question of taste.

There is employed in the Government Printing Office, in the District of Columbia, a laborer, Shaw by name, who, when he attempted to mingle with the dancers in one of the Cafeterias used by the employees was told that it was for the use of the whites only.

Shortly after a fire broke out in that portion of the building, and the officials connecting the refusal of Shaw in the dancing and his probable the fire was of incendiary origin and the fire was of incendairy origin and have sought to place the deed on Shaw.

While maintaining that he has a grievance, Shaw equally asserts his innocence as to the source of the fire.

Editor Young of the Norfolk Journal and Guide, writes to say that he thinks it a "very gracious thing for the Daughters of the Confederacy to propose to "honor" the slave women of the Race by the erection of a monument to the " Black Mammies."

We have always claimed that environment had considerable to do with the formation ideas.

The perspective of Editor Young is limited by the same boundary of that of the Southerner, and therefore we pity, rather than condemn his "Uncle Tom" attitude in his acquiescence to the form of subtle humiliation offered by the Daughters of the Confederacy to the decendants of those noble women who served under duress.

Down in Palatka, a town in the State of Florida, a mob of white men stormed the jail trying to lynch a Negro.

Eleven of the mob were captured and jailed. We have not heard of their being sentenced or punished in any manner, but the fact that they were apprehended helps some.

SEEKING TO TAINT THE BLACK WARRIOR

It started prior to the Worlds War, this propaganda to belittle the Negro soldier. Abolishment of the Negro regiments of the United States has been recommended, not a few times, in the past years.

Germany, knowing the natural tendency in the United States to proscribe against its black citizens, has sought to gain the sympathy of this country by making a hue and cry against the employment of France of her black Colonial Troops for service on German soil.

Germany has sought to magnify, what they are deemed to term "wanton brutality" among the black troopers, picturing them as not a whit removed from jungle savagery.

Germany has already forgotten who invented the use of liquid fire which she used in combat, or the deadly poisonous gasses which not only killed but incapacitated the survivors of the conflict from further usefulness in life.

Who was it that crucified men and hung helpless infants from the points of their bayonettes? Surely those attrocities more than offset the charge made by them (the Germans) that Senegalese warriors cut the ears from their victims as trophies of war.

To ignore her black warriors would forever place upon the United States the stigma of being the most ungrateful nation on the face of the earth.

She would have to rewrite her history and erase the records of every war since Bunker Hill.

No step of her progress but is stained with the blood of Negroes, and the stability of her structure is braced by Negro loyalty to the Constitution and the flag.

In order to obliterate the story of her black warriors this country would have to ignore the achievements of George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Commodore Perry, Admiral Farragut, Gen. Grant and the galaxy of Civil War leaders, Theodore Roosevelt, Gen. Pershing, and those men who have builded and sustained the honor of the Nation. To do that would blot out all of its past history, and leave no stone on which to build.

Every red blooded American Negro would like to see a monument erected to the memory of our most distinguished Negro soldier, the late Col. Charles Young.

He was not only a credit as a soldier to the people with whom he was identified by race, but he was a credit to the nation which he represented.

His remains will be brought back from the shores of Africa for interment in the National Cemetery at Arlington.

Let us counteract the "Black Mammy" monument by one to a distinguished Negro American who has proven his worth to the whole nation as a freeman.

ODD FELLOWS FIGHT ENDS OUST DAVIS

ATLANTA, Ga., March 10.—After an internal fight which has lasted for several years, the Supreme Court of Georgia last week dissolved the injunction in their favor, thus ousting Ben Davis and B. S. Ingram from rulership over the Grand Lodge of Georgia of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows.

Under the decision Atty. Antoine Graves and his associates are again placed in charge of the order in Georgia. The litigation arose over the removal of Davis and Ingram as grand secretary and grand master, respectively. They were removed by the sub-committee on management of the national organization.

Contesting their case they obtained from Judge Bell, of Fulton County Superior Court an injunction restraining their removal. The case was then taken to the supreme court, which last Tuesday reversed Judge Bell.

Davis Ruled Georgia

Davis' acquisition of power in the Odd Fellows in Georgia is the history of a well knit political organizaton. Davis owned the newspaper which was picked as the lodge's official organ. Every Odd Fellow in Georgia was taxed for subscription to it. He owned the printing office that printed all Odd Fellow literature. He was at the head of the regalia company from which all lodges were compelled to purchase uniforms.

When the B. M. C. met in Atlanta it is said that Davis had more delegates present from Georgia than were present from the rest of the United States combined. In this way, it is said, he had planned to acquire complete control of the national organization.

The meeting broke up in a riot and police were called to restore order. The entire jurisdiction of Georgia was then ousted from the national organzation, and Davis set himself up at the head of the outlawed lodge in Georgia. The supreme court ruling last week finally dethroned him.

CHASE FARMERS FROM GEORGIA SEIZE HOMES

Drive Out Farmers; Seize Their Homes and Autos.

NEW YORK CITY, March 10.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has made public portions of a letter received from a person actively connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chattanooga, Tennessee, in which startling charges are made of the driving out of Negroes from Georgia towns, and confiscation of their property including houses, automobiles, crops, and the death of numbers of the fugities from exposure and hardships suffered on the flight. The name of the writer which is signed to the letter is withheld because it is feared the person's safety would be endangered were the name made public.

Notes Gove Warning

The letter says in part:

For the last month or two the white people have been putting the Negro to flight out of several towns in Georgia—about the time their crops were ready for gathering they began—some were run away from their home with their crops standing in the fields ready to gather—hence white people went to their houses and gave them notices to leave in so many days and no other instances notes were written and signed by, as indicated, K. K. K., and intimidated them so that lots of them left their homes furnished just as they were while they were at home. Some with their houses cleaned up, bed made up and everything done although they were at home—they left their homes with nothing but what they were wearing and a suit case and sometimes not that.

Swam Streams

One family had to go through the rain, snow and cold, wade and swim the streams and at last arrived here in Chattanooga for everyone of that crowd to die except one, in less than two months, from the exposure they received in making their escape from their pursuers. One man who had a nice automobile drove up to a filling station where he had always lived, to have has car filled, the man in charge asked him who the car belonged to and he replied that it belonged to him. Then the oil man ordered him out of his car saying that it no longer belonged to him—telling him that he got no oil from that station to move a car that belonged to him, and told him to leave the country. For weeks it was a most pitiful sight to see people travelling over this city by droves almost—through the rain and cold—with little bundles, suit cases, early in the morning and late at night, forlorn, hungry, cold and nowhere to go. They slept anywhere they could get to sleep and ate anything they could get—an organization contributed towards their food for several weeks.

Several hundred of these people settled down in Chattanooga and its vicinity, mostly in South Chattanooga.

Athens, Ga., almost all the colored people were run away and they were run out of Jesup, Ga., around in the neighborhood of northern Georgia near Summerville, and Lafayette, which is near the line of Chattanooga.

SHOOTS DRIVER THEN TAKES HIS AUTO AND CASH

HOMERVILLE, Ga., March 10.—Deputy Sheriff S. W. Elliott of Clinch County Friday captured near here the young white man who, Thursday night, engaged a taxi driver at Waycross and after being driven near Ruskin, Ware County, shot him, taking his watch, money and car and fled. The man was neatly dressed and waiting near town for nightfall before continuing his flight. The young man gave his name as Lewrence Palmerson of Philadelphia, aged 18. He was found with the car and watch. The car was a new Dodge.

Deputy Elliott left this afternoon for Waycross with his prisoner and car. Reports from Waycross are that the chauffeur will die.

Details of Crime

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 10.—A search extending to a number of South Georgia cities was conducted for a man described as wearing a blue pin stripe suit, a felt hat and a chocolate brown mustache, who shot and desperately wounded O. K. Hawkins, 26-year-old colored taxi driver of this city at Ruskin, Ga.

Hawkins is on the point of death. An accurate account of the shooting and description of the man, according to the victim's account of the affair: He was approached by a strange white man at about 9 o'clock and hired to drive the stranger to Ruskin. Within a short distance of the town the man ordered him to stop the car, pointed a pistol at him and ordered him to get out of the car.

Obeying the orders he was marched some distance down the road, and in spite of his entreaties two shots were fired into his body. Bending over the prostrate body of the driver, the stranger ran through several of his pockets taking fifty cents from one of them, but overlooking a roll of bills in another pocket.

A noise from one of the houses near at hand is believed to have frightened the man who returned to the car. Hawkins said he was able to turn over on his side and saw the stranger start the car and drive off. For some time he lay in the road helpless, before neighbors coming to investigate the shooting found him. He was brought to Waycross about midnight, where an operation was immediately performed, and the bullets removed. The operation disclosed the fact, that his intestines had been pierced ten times. Attendants at the hospital stated that Hawkins had only a fighting chance to recover.

YOUNG BODIES BITTERLY EXPLOITED BY SUGAR INTERESTS

(Crusader Serivce)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Charges made by The New York World during the tariff fight over sugar duties and indignantly denied by the beet sugar interests, headed by Senator Smoot (R., Utah), that child labor was employed in the beet fields were fully substantiated today by a preliminary report of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Summarizing a forthcoming report, the department announced that in 500 families studied "either a child under sixteen or a mother of a child under six worked in the beet fields in 1920."

"A district including part of three Michigan counties, believed to be typical not only of Michigan, but also of the entire Middle Western beet growing section, was selected," the survey said.

Many Under Ten.

"In the families studied 67 per cent. of the children between six and sixteen were found at work in the sugar fields. One-fourth of these child workers were less than ten years of age and only one-fifth had reached the age of fourteen years. Three-fourths of the boys and three-fifths of the girls of these ages had helped in the beet fields in 1920, as had 7 per cent. of their mothers.

Deprived of Schooling.

Mothers with small children were employed in this way in nine out of ten families. "The babies were sometimes kept in boxes or baskets without shelter of any kind," said the report. "Only half of the young children who were left at home were cared for by adults. The mothers worked long hours in the fields and did housework in addition." In consequence of the conditions, the children were deprived of schooling.

Worked Long Hours.

"The working day," said the report, "was found to begin about 6 a. m. continuing with the shortest possible rest time until 6, 7 and sometimes 8 or later in the evening. Over a fourth of the children reported eleven to fifteen hours daily work in the fields.

"One-fourth of the laborers" families expected to receive less than $600 for the six or seven months of work in the beet fields," the report disclosed in connection with the low wages allowed by the beet interests."

TRAIL OF KLAN LEADS TO HIGH CITY OFFICIALS

Magistrate and Attaches of District Attorney Don White Banton, Police Investigators Charge. Detective Seeks Recruits to Order. Bureau Heads Are Aware of Situation But Don't Know What Steps to Take.

(Crusader Service.)

NEW YORK, March 21.—Close on the disclosure of the foothold the Ku Klux Klan had gained in New York City's Police Department comes evidence that the hooded organization has been extending its influence and membership into other municipal and county bureaus and even to the courts.

Those charged with the duty of seeking out all city and county employees suspected of association in any way with the Klan assert that they have found that a certain prominent magistrate of Brooklyn has donned the white robe and hood of the order. They suspect a certain member of the Brooklyn District Attorney's staff, who is being watched continuously. They suspect a member of the staff of District Attorney Banton and it is common knowledge that an aid of one of the highest police officials at Police Headquarters is believed to be a Klansman.

Detective Seeks Members

It is said that a certain member of the detective force had actually been discovered soliciting members for the Klan and that a patrolman had attended meetings of the organization in his uniform. It was said by a police official yesterday that the first mentioned number of thirty policemen believed already to have taken the Klan oath told very little of the story and that there were more than 100 in the department suspected of being Klansmen.

A police Department official said that in one case one man they had come upon, numerous documents and communications which he had sent to Klan leaders and which he had signed with the first two initials of his name. In the case of another, they overheard a conversation about "great progress eing made with the men on the force they're coming fast; leave it to me."

Report Amazes Banton.

District Attorney Banton, when the matter was brought to his attention, said he could scarcely believe that any one in his office would tie himself up with the Ku Klux organization.

NEGRO IS REJECTED AS CUSTOMS OFFICER

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The nomination of Walter L. Cohen, prominent negro politician of the South, to be controller of customs at New Orleans was rejected by the senate, where it had been hanging fire for several months. The vote by which confirmation was refused was 27 to 35. Cohen's nomination was made as a reward for his handling of delegations from the South to the national convention.

GAPING FORESTLAND

By: WENDELL P. GLADDEN, Jr.

Jamba was unable to direct the excavating party the next day when it left Leopard's Lair for the secret trail to the buried city. He had been wounded seriously by the panther the day before, and was receiving such medical attention as could be given him in one of the aged guard's huts. Nevertheless, he confided the secret to Bakwa, and bade the procession god-speed, although he could not accompany them as he had desired..

The young chieftain sent a courier to his father's village to inform him of his accident, and for additional men and supplies, having realized now that it would require several days work to uncover some of the wealth of the ancient city. And to the Fringes home he sent another runner to inquire about Juba, the dancer, and the girl he had loved in other days. She was to come to his side and nurse him until he was able to return to the village.

Under the guidance of Bakwa the expedition party found the trail and after a short time, came to a cave through which they were to enter the buried city. Contier knew that it would require a tremendous amount of work to accomplish the task. Above all, he wished to keep his movements secret from all save Mantuba and his people and the Fringes, the missionaries. Anelo was at his side. She was radient. Jack Contier could not refrain from embracing her as they had come along the winding trails deep in the forestland.

"Love," Contier said to Anelo, when they dismounted at the opening of the cave. "You are very lovely this morning. The birds, wild flowers and trees, all nature, serald your entrance into the forest depths, and I am jealous of them."

Anelo strode along with the man she loved. She did not answer him. It was the great moment of her life. Here in the solemn, waking forestland, she found herself. She felt the strength of the open country and her own weakness but she revelled in the glory of the morning.

They spent the remainder of the day preparing to enter the cave. There was much work to be done before they could see the remains of the city. Contier was expecting more equipment and men, but kept those whom he already had, toiling incessantly.

After a period of four days all of the party, together with Mantuba and Juba who had just arrived, were able to enter and gaze upon the most wonderful architecture, works of art, statuary. Beyond, Contier and his followers saw a great gate, the entrance to the city proper. The city was a mass of ruins; buildings were shattered; some, however, were still standing. Rock and granite was everywhere. Decayed bones of animals and of men of ages past were noticeable. There were miniature valleys, and hills, but these were not beautiful; yet, there was an infusion of color, and a simplicity in these ancient landmarks that was stranger than anything they had ever seen.

THE END.

REMARKABLE RECORD OF LOCAL LAD SHOWS HE HAS THE MAKING OF GREAT FIGHTER

Introducing to you, exponents and followers of pugilism, lovers of true sport and rugged manhood, none other than Young Cicero, better known as the Boy Wonder, who won his fight last Monday night at Madison Square Garden, when he scored a technical knock-out over Jean Melody, in the fourth round of their scheduled four round bout.

The Wonder is still in his teens and has displayed fighting qualities and ring tactics worthy of an older and more experienced fighter. No, he is an amateur, still in school, but has met some of the best local talent. He has had seven starts and has been very successful in most of them. Anyone who has seen him in action will agree that he has a kick in his punches, exhibits clever foot-work, and good judgment; beside this he is a terrific in-fighter. We note with pride 'championship material' in him, and predict a wonderfully successful ring career for him. Following is his record to date:

Kid Slickum	Draw
Young Ford	K. O.
Kid Jackson	K. O.
Dark Secret	Technical K. O.
Young Sam Langford	Lost
Wop Flynn	Decision
Jean Melody	Technical K. O.

COLORED BOYS ARE VICTORS IN BOXING TOURNAMENT AT SOUTHERN BRANCH

In the boxing tournament between Calteck and Southern Branch, U. C., staged at the Branch, Saturday, March 17, Leon Whitaker fought Cunningham, and won every round of what was pronounced the best fight of the evening. Whitaker's opponent overweighed him by twelve pounds.

"Jeff" Brown won his fight by forfeit. However, He was matched with McNeil in an exhibition bout. Southern Branch was victorious by a score of four bouts to Calteck's one.

BABY GANS DRAWS WITH PAT CORBET IN MAIN EVENT AT MADISON SQUARE

The boxing contest staged under the auspices of the Elk's Monday night at Madison Square Garden, resulted in three draws, one K. O. and a technical K. O.

Baby Gans, the West Side king, and Pat Corbet were given a draw, after four rounds of good, scientific boxing. Both boys are clever and a very good drawing card.

Sam Langford, one of the fastest junior-lightweights on the coast, got a draw with Billy Murphey.

In the special event, Shadow Burton and Denver Ghost drew.

Boston Cyclone, a new-comer in the ring, was knocked out in the third round by Battling Steve.

The next bout proved to be a failure and was stopped by the referee. Kid Gill was matched with Black Mask.

"Kid Cicero," better known as the "Boy Wonder," came out victorious in his fight with Jean Melody, which was about the best bout of the evening, by scoring a technical K. O. in the fourth round. Wonder hit the canvas once during the encounter, while Melody performed the same act twice. Both boys are well-liked by the fans.

SON GOODRICH KNOCKS OUT MISKE IN FIRST ROUND

Son Goodrich, the whirlwind from Texas, knocked out Billy Miske, after a minute and a half of fighting of their scheduled four round bout at Madison Square Garden, Wednesday, March 21.

Fans had expected good fights, because of the great drawing card announced, but were disappointed when substitutes were used, and dull fighting resulted. They are willing to pay the price for good bouts, and nothing short of them.

Results follow:

Boy Wonder vs. Wop Flynn—Draw.

Pat Corbett vs. Johnny McGraw—Corbett won.

Billy Murphey vs. Young Sam Langford—Langford won.

Shadow Burton vs. Joe Maury—Shadow got decision.

Kid Gill vs. Jack Moore—Gill won.

Son Goodrich vs. Billy Miske—K. O. 1st Round.

With the return of Sunny Jim and Sailor Smith who were introduced to the crowd, and the announcement made that Sunny Jim would meet the winner of the Goodrich vs. Miske affair, great satisfaction was shown by the applause. The fans expect some real performers next Wednesday night.

Leroy Johnson, by placing third in the mile, won his letter. He had eight points to his credit and his second in the quarter and third in the mile brought his total to twelve.

Carl Woods, also of Manual was another Colored boy to show up well in the meet. He finished second in the 120 yd. high hurdle race.

ERROL JONES OF CALIFORNIA IS WINNER IN TOURNEY AT S. B. U. C.

Errol Jones, classy fighter from the University of California, won every round of his bout with Edmiston of the Branch, Monday night, 19. Jones is the fighter who was entered by California in the Stanford tourney, which was called off when the Cardinals drew the color line. The men fought at 136 pounds. "Jeff" Brown was on hand again in an exhibition bout, with Feeny, in which he displayed much of his talent of the manly art. California and the Cubs tied with two bouts each.

In the bout with Mattis, of U. S. C., last Friday night, Jones lost the judges' decision. The fans disapproved of the decision given to the U. S. C. boxing instructor, because the margin was so small. The morning and evening press stated that Jones had the first two rounds, while Mattis won the third and the fourth, which was an extra affair. It could not have been worse than a draw. Anyway, we say that Jones will give them all a run for their money anytime, any where he "gets going."

marvel, took first place in the 100 yd. dash in the fast time of 10.1. Clarence Brothers, Colored sprinter of Manual followed him to the tape for third. The 220 yd. dash was won by Woodyard also in the good time of 22.4; Brothers grabbing second. Archie was given the baton in the final lap of the delay fifteen yards in the rear, but made up eleven of these before the finish.

Leroy Johnson placed second in the 4440 yd. dash, time for the event was 54:3. Johnson has been doing well this season, and will help furnish plenty of competition in the city meet.

Jimmy Salisbury, find of the season at Jefferson in the hurdles won the 220 yd. low hurdles in 28:4. With good coaching, and hard training, Salisbury should prove a sensation next year.

COLORED ATHLETE SECOND IN 440 YARD DASH

Johnson, U. S. C. sprinter and quartermiler, finished second to Martz, his team-mate in the 440 yd dash last Saturday in the dual meet between U. S. C. and California. The quarter was run under 50 seconds.

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By: JOHN A. GRAY

Are we destined to become a voiceless race? Shall we eventually lose our most valuable gift, viz.,—that of song?

Everyone knows that since the earliest days of slavery, our greatest means of emotional expression has been through the medium of song. In fact, our songs have been the only form of art that we have created since our advent upon these shores. We sang as we worked, as we played, and as we prayed. In truth, most of the spirituals are prayers ETAOIN been sung instead of spoken. We dared sing when our hearts were too heavy for speech and when we were forbidden to talk. As late as ten years ago it was a comparatively easy matter to find a group of young people who could harmonise on any given theme and whose fresh young voices would blend into a harmonius concord of sweet sounds. Try it today. You will find that most of the singing groups of today are composed of older persons and that the young people are not interested in singing..

There are reasons of course. Nothing happens without reason. There can be no effect without a cause. What is the cause then of this condition?

We may place the responsibility largely upon Mother Nature. Nature has a severe punishment for those who abuse her laws or neglect her gifts. There can be no compromise and all must pay. The sooner the human race realizes that by thought, word, or deed, they can assist or retard nature, the better it will be for mankind. Nature's gifts must be used and used continually, if one would retain them. Have you the gift of eloquence? You must speak then and continue to do so, or you will lose it. Are you blessed with a strong body? You must exercise your muscles then, and do it regularly if you would keep strong. Whether your gifts are many or few you must use them, or you will lose them.

The gift of song, which so far has been one of the greatest gifts of the race, has been neglected and abused and Mother Nature has taken away the richness of our voices. If we continue to abuse and neglect we shall lose this gift entirely. We used to sing at our work. We seldom do now. Years ago we got together and harmonized. Now we turn on the phonograph. We used to strive for a luscious, mellow quality in our tones. Now we shout the words of the blues or other popular song and give no heed to the musical side. We abuse our bodies and throats by exposing them to the raw night air without sufficient covering. The boys of America are ruining their voices selling papers and yelling at the ball games. Compare the quality of the average American boy's voice with that of the foreigner who has but lately come to our land. Not the difference. Nature rebels against this abuse and takes the freshness from our voices.

It is difficult now to secure a choir for our churches. Twenty-five years from today it will be almost impossible to get one. Most of our choirs are minus men now. They will soon be minus women who can sing. There is one remedy only.

It is impossible for us, in the larger cities esipecially, to sing with the plai nvoices that 'God gave us,' for the simple reason that we haven't the plain voices that he gave us any more. What is left must be cultivated and preserved. We must know how to use the voice and not abuse it. In days past we sang folk-music and simple music that laid well within the range of the natural voice. Today we try to sing music that has been written for a trained voice. Can the untrained voice use material that is intended for the trained voice? Can the unskilled mechanic use the tools intended for the trained man? Can the uneducated man express himself in the language that the educated man uses?

It is really painful to hear our young singers attempt a solo that has been intended for well-trained mature voices.

We must sing more simple music. We must study and study. We must listen to our tones and cultivate the quality of them. We must encourage the development of the voice. Most of all, we must not be in too great a hurry to show how badly we can sing a masterpiece of song literature.

Failure to do these things will result in our becoming a voiceless race.

LOCAL BOYS TO GO NORTH

"Skinny" Whitaker and "Jeff" Brown, who have made their letters on the boxing team will journey to Davis Farm and then to Berekely, tomorrow, where they will engage in two bouts. These representatives of Southern Branch will be away for eight days.

Making Money

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome savings of their daily wage. But I submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have reached a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

Business requires your sole attention—Stocks mean sleepless nights and days of worry—Property works by itself for you without your care.
Select it—Set it to work—it takes care of itself and will take care of you.

A good example of this sort of investment is found in a few of my special listings as follows:

Seven room house, East 40th St., $4200.00; $1000.00 cash.
Five room house, corner Hooper Ave., $3950.00 $1000.00 cash.
Three rooms East 51st St., $1750.00; $500.00 cash.
Five room bungalow, Naomi St., $4200.00; $700.00 cash.

SAPOLOGY

The following news was reported to the old gray mare, our star reporter, by the truthful Lyer Bird.

A certain little cupit who has great interest in the Y. M. C. A. received the following note.

Lay low before baggy pants gets you. You have violated the following rule of simplified dress: Cosmetics, ear rings, pleasing, bulging shirts and skirts, birthday sock and ventelated hair nets.

The Ginks say that Little Chocolate, our track Captain, doesn't eat lunch any more. May be Betty can shed some light on the subject.

The daily dozens, otherwise known as our public speaking class. Each student was supposed to overflow on some process of doing something. Say she, and I shall give the process of streightening hair. On interviewing Miss (Cue) we learned that she was from the East. After a lengthy tete tete we asked just what section of the East did she hail from. After a moment of deliberation she modestly replied, East Texas. This reminds me of a little poem by Woodyard Skypling.

East is East and West is West
And never the twain shall meet,
Sut South is East, when your out West
Said the East Texas maid petite.

Here is some more scandal on Spark Plug, our sprinter. Coach is trying to trace his ancestry. Seems as though he passed in French and flunked in English. Maybe he's Senegelese.

The following free verse was translated from the original Latin by Miss Green Paige.

If these Sorority babes
Go out for track
They'd break all records
Judging from the way they chase out sprinters
From Hamlet to Mamlet.
—Stiltissimus Puer.

I had a girl, her name was Louise
As sweet and loving as the Ocean breeze
She canned me, not because I was to fresh.
But because I tore her hair net mesh.

The Kettle boils over again.
Ah! Ha! She cried, you understand!!
Let alone my foot ball man.
You can burn my cigarettes, you can drink my tea
But leave, oh leove, my footballer be.

P. S. The following sight was seen

Beware little Adam and Eve. This orchard is full of Green Apples.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH—

Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge, Pastor

Sunday March 18 was a spiritual day in Trinity. As men and women beheld the glory of God of His wonderful works in creation for the day was one of sunshine in our visible world. Likewise did men women behold the glory and wonderful works of God in the spiritual or unseen world. As the pastor preached to them, Text James 1:27 verse. Pure and undefiled religion before God. The effect of his message was one addition to the church.

CENTRAL AVENUE

I've been reading in the Eagle
Of the folks, and what they do;
I've read, also, of what they've said
Of Central Avenue.
I set my feet upon that street
A year, or two, ago;
And, say, "you tell 'em folkses,"
It surely was some show!
The humming of the presses
In the office of the Eagle
Grinding out the latest news,
Or punching some old Kleagle,
Then, you listen—click, click—
The sound, it aint no prank,
'Tis the counting of "mazumas"
In some Central Av'nue Bank.
The women, too, they looked so good
A buying, left and right;
In those busy, bustling, hustling stores
They're always treated "white."
Why, I might take my pen in hand,
Make you open wide your eyes,
You'd jump, and scream, and yell like hell
Expressing your surprise
At the big things they are doing,
The variety of them, too,
On that busy street, in the "Angel Burg."
Named Central Avenue.

At the morning service Rev. Greggs preached a very practical and inspiring sermon. His text was "If any man provides not for his own and especially for those of his own house, he has denied the faith and is worse than an infidel." Mr. George Beavers, Jr., of the American Mutual Benefit Association spoke in behalf of the Association. Prof. Johnson was the soloist.

A program was rendered under the auspices of the Association Sunday evening. The program was as follows: Miss Barton, piano solo; Miss E. Beavers, vocal solo, Mr. Houston, Superintendent of the Association and Attorney Gresby, speakers, and a chorus number by the Church Choir.

WEST SIDE MISSION A. M. E. CHURCH—
West 336th Street.
Major G. W. Prioleau, Pastor.

The Sunday School was honored with the presence and official visit of the District Superintendent, Mrs. Bowman of San Diego. She was a source of inspiration to teachers and pupils of the school.

The pastor preached both services, a very nice congregation greeting him with a large attendance of visitors at both services.

Sunday 29th inst. will be observed by pastor. The Mission will be informally opened on this date. Rev. House of Furlong Tract, Rev. B. R. Guy of Ward Chapel and Rev. Price of Watts with their congregations will be present to assist in the opening. Excellent music from members of 8th and Towne Choir and Watts' excellent choir will be rendered. The pastor has set his stakes for $200 and he thinks that the amount will be raised easily. Every body come and help. Trinity Missionary Baptist Church and pastor will be present.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Eighth Street and Towne Avenue.
Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister

In historic Eighth and Towne Avenue Church the pastor, Rev. Ward will deliver both sermons at the morning and evening services on Palm Sunday. Both choirs will sing at 11:00 a. m. and the senior choir will furnish special music at 7:30 p. m. Prof. Bartlett will direct the music and feature with the Vox Humanana and Chimes.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Johnson delivered a stirring gospel sermon Sunday morning to the delight of a large audience; and the pastor preached a good gospel sermon at night. The singing was good; and the day was spent. Many prominent visitors were in attendance at both services.

Instead of Easter Sunday, the holy communion will be celebrated at the Eighth and Towne Avenue Church on Thursday night of holy week. All members of the church are asked to come and keep the feast on the anniversary of the institution of our Lord's supper.

On Easter Sunday at the early five o'clock morning service Pastor Ward will deliver the sermon on "The Risen Christ"—This sermon will conclude at 11 a. m. when the rites of holy baptism will be administered to several children. Both choirs under direction of Organist Elmer C. Bartlett will sing at both services.

The Sunday School under the direction of Supt. Stratton will furnish an excellent Easter program at 7:30 p. m.

Preparations are nearly complete for the concert-do-Luxe at the Philharmonic Auditorium on the evening of April 30th.

WESLEY CHAPEL
Rev. A. P. Shaw.

Doubters and dubious persons found no comfort at Wesley Sunday morning while Rev. Shaw most cleverly ridiculed the ideas of Dr. William Pickens. From the text "Not Ashamed" the pastor fearlessly took to task the doubting Thomases and with inspiring fervor defended the book of ages—the Bible.

Throughout the service there appeared that trend of feeling which assures one of the rightness of the cause—the existence of a supreme being. The music by the choir bespoke and the organ chimed this conclusion. In the congregation was a Times staff correspondent who wrote in glowing terms the conduct of pastor and church. There were no exaggerations in the article.

The evening services were mainly worshipped with song. Many favorites were on the program headed by the most capable organist, Mrs. Markham, who rendered in masterly style "Alleluia" and "Told at Twflight."

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday and a big membership drive is in full bloom.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Corner Pico and Paloma Streets.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor.

Res. 1217 Paloma Street.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop L. W. Kyles, Zion's foremost bishop and who has charge of the work on the Pacific Coast filled the pulpit last Sunday morning and evening at the First Church. Coming as he did on the eve of our Anniversary it proved a fitting climax to our week of jubilee. Bishop Kyles preached in the morning on "The Good Samaritan."

We are all accustomed to the masterful sermons preached by Bishop Kyles. When the appeal was made to sinners three new members were enrolled.

Zion's choir under direction of Professor Bynum sang as sweetly as ever.

The Bishop preached at the Zion Church in Monrovia at 3:00 p. m.

The evening text at the First Church was found in Rev. 2:12 and 13 verses. "I know thy works," etc.

The Varick Christian Endeavor Society and Bible Class held very interesting sessions. Mrs. Pearl Anderson, leader, proved most efficient. An excellent program was rendered. Miss Ina Marshall, vocal solo, Mrs. Irene Wylie and Blanche Fields duet; and Mr. A. Fisher, reading. Mr. Chas. White was the accompanist for the singers.

The pastor Rev. Shaw is rejoicing over the club's raising well over twelve hundred dollars during the Anniversary week.

Great services next Sunday all day. Visit this church. Make it your home. A Sabbath well spent means a week of content.

Mid-week prayer and praise service each Wednesday Evening.

Robinson, Pres. of the Women's Work, auxiliary to the W. B. A. Mrs. C. D. Roberson organized a class for the study of the Trend of the Races. The sisters were responsive to the instruction of the beloved President, Mrs. C. D. Robinson. Mt. Olive society is determined to make good in her study The Trend of the Races. Our next district meeting will be held at the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, May 9-10-11.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH—
Holding Services in the Y. M. C. A.—9th and Hemlock Sts.

There was increased interest in our Sunday School, and the lesson was helpfully discussed. At our 11 o'clock service, Dr. Prowd spoke from Leviticus 1:9—"An offering made by fire." The subjection was that of Consecration and the Lesson and hymns all conforming to keep the one point in view the members and visitors could not but follow the trend and receive benefit. It was a blessed time of waiting on the Lord.

At 7 p. m. the B. Y. P. U. discussed a selected subject, and brought out many passages of Scripture which encouraged explanation.

At our evening service we were favored with the assistance of our esteemed brother Matthews whose consecrated Cornet was heard and enjoyed by all. Brother Matthews will be with us in our Services hereafter. Our Building Fund was not neglected for many sacrificed unto the Lord. We invite all to our services—holding out the hand of welcome.

DOCTOR EDDIE DRIVER CONDUCTS VIGOROUS SPIRITUAL DRIVE IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Dr. Driver left Los Angeles on March 3rd, arriving in Fresno the same day. He left Fresno on Sunday morning, March 4th, for Sanger, where he was greeted by a crowded house of white people. The Doctor preached for them an eloquent sermon in the morning, returning to Fresno to conduct an afternoon service, and again in Sanger that same night. In all, this indefatigable divine spent three nights in Sanger, where with the hearty and enthusiastic co-operation of the white pastor, and the splendidly receptive spirit shown by the people there, a harvest of souls was garnered, of which he may well be proud. The Sanger Saints have a most beautiful church building, and the white people there were loud in their praise of Doctor Driver's work among them.

The last part of the week of March 5th, Dr. Driver spent in Oakland. It may be safely said that he made an indelible impression in that city, for certainly the most touching, most compelling and most eloquent exhortations of his entire career were delivered there. Every night the crowds stampeded for seats. On Sunday afternoon he preached one of his scientific sermons to a large white congregation, and swayed his great audience as one of authority.

Dr. Driver has returned to Los Angeles and the consensus of opinion in every place where he has preached God's word, is that he has no equal as a soul-garnerer in the Vineyard of the Master.

YOUR NOSE

TS SIMPLE CARE AND THE AVOIDANCE OF COLDS.

DR. E. B. LEWIS, B.Sc., M. D.
1618½ East 9th Street

It has been said that "health is man's birthright, that it is as natural to be well as to be born," and that from ignorance and transgression of physiologic and hygienic laws arise most disease and tendency to disease. Public hygiene may be enforced, but personal and home to hygiene must be taught. A person who disregards the essentials of unalterable health becomes obnoxious to one both to himself and to those around him.

How detestable it is to be near a person who gobbles food, and swallows, gluts, gloats on each and every bite! How distressing it is to the public hearing to have the ears shocked by the vicious clearing of throats, coughing and blowing of noses. Needless to say, everybody is especially interested in the subject of the nose at this time of the year, when the weather changes from extreme cold to extreme heat, and when the mucous membrane is subject to inflammation and consequent clogging of the passages. The best known symptom of nasal catarrh is the nose cold, but there are other conditions of importance to the health of the individual. The nostrils must be kept open so that passage of air in the nose and throat passages are to be in a healthy state.

Many children suffer with a stopped-up nose because of the enlargement of the third tonsil, which is placed just behind the posterior openings of the nose, and when enlarged enough may entirely obstruct breathing through it. Practically all mouth-breathing children have this form of obstruction. Should this form of nasal blocking be allowed to persist it has a very destructive effect on the development of the inner nose, which from lack of use is retarded in its growth.

An ugly protrusion of the front teeth and a characteristic stupid expression are the result of narrowed upper jaw, the condition in adult life of early nasal obstructions. The dividing wall is bent to one side or thickened in such a way as to close up the nasal passages often causing stoppage of the nose. Many adults suffer from the closure of one nostril. The other nostril tries heroically to do the work of both, with consequent reduction of the air to the lungs, throat passage and the pharynx, the obstruction overchilling the blood and inviting catarrhal disease.

While a healthy nose needs no care by means of douches and the like, it is well sometimes to irrigate the nose and throat with alkaline antiseptic solution diluted three times in water.

To a slight degree such treatment shrinks the congested membrane over a deformed or bent bone, and thus deludes you into the fancy that this make-shift method will do. As a matter of fact, when the cause is destroyed the effect is removed. In other words, a thorough excavation and permanent passageway for air will reinvigorate your air-thirsty blood. All this explains why some people who live in the open remain colorless, pale, sickly, anaemic and run down. Nine-tenths of the air they breathe fails to reach the choked-up, partially-starved blood and tissues.

"Colds" and "catarrh," those blankets of unrevealed sources of sundry and various distortions of the nasal cavity, many times can be traced back to the bumps and falls that accompanied the first walking lessons. Exposure to cold during high winds or chilly and damp weather, wet clothing, insufficient covering at night, sudden exposure to weather of the portions of the body ordinarily protected by clothing, and sitting in extreme draughts are first among the causes of nasal affections. A nose that is "doctored," coddled, petted, "doped up" and spoiled like a French poodle generally "catches cold" most easily.

On the other hand, if a nose is accustomed to cold atmospheres, cold water and sudden changes of warmth and cold escapes the clutches of those unhappy abominations, "colds." One of the most disgusting habits is nose-picking—pardon the harshness of the term, dear reader. However, most of the nose-bleeding in children is due to the finger nail injuries of the mucous membrane of the dividing wall of the nose house. Removal of these crosts is likely to be followed by nose-bleed. A few drops of vaseline brushed into the nostrils of the little ones will do much to prevent crusting.

In order to have a healthy and normal nose it is necessary that all bad hygienic conditions inside your anatomy and out be corrected. The shelf-like shelves inside the horizon or sky-like roofs of the nostrils called the turbinates must be anointed with glycerine of menthol. A morning and evening douche of the nostrils with Dobell's alkaline solution any druggist will mix it for you, and water will clear out dirt, germs, scurf, crusts and colds.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions and address only upon medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He can not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. While the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed.

Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618½ East 9th St. Phones 820-59 and 822-117.

Colored Students OUSTED From Southern California Yearly Dance

News comes to us that at the Annual Class Day Dance of the University of Southern California—an occasion held by all universities and colleges as one of the greatest of the season, when faculty and students and their invited guests in gala attire come together in one grand celebration—a number of students of color appeared, appropriately arrayed in their class colors, to make merry with their fellow-students. They were summarily notified that their presence was obnoxious, and were asked to take their hats and coats and leave the building as soon as possible.

It is said that these Colored students consulted the Dean as to the legality of this "notice," and the Dean declared that he did not concur in any such procedure. However, the atmosphere about the Colored students became so icy that they deemed it expedient to take their departure as unostentatiously as possible.

It appears to us that this is a matter to be taken up by our Assemblyman, right now, while the Legislature is in session, for we believe that this institution—the University of Southern California—receives an papropriation from the State, said appropriation being a portion of taxes paid, not by white people alone, but by all the people of the State of California.

on this occasion at Odd Fellows hall we conducted the ceremonies inducting this lodge which was organized in 1884 into the California Jurisdiction. The ceremonies attending the same were indeed imposing in grandeur and mark a new era of progress for Odd Fellows in the Northwest. The Household of Ruth was invited by the Grand Master as his especial guests for the occasions. A most touching address was delivered by the Grand Master, and addresses of welcome and response were made by Attorney Eugene W. Miner, J. W. Stanley also Mrs. Virgil Keene of the Household of Ruth and others. After the exercises of transferring and inducting New Northwest Lodge as a part and parcel of District Grand Lodge No. 32 California Jurisdiction the body adjourned for a most sumptuous banquet and all departed declaring it to be the greatest fraternal event which had ever taken place in this section.

Other Side Lights of Portland

As we forestated attorney Minor is the coming legal light of the Coast. He has here a wonderful opportunity and it seems to us he is taking advantage of the same to the utmost. J. W. Stanley our host and his very splendid wife made everything so pleasant that we shall ever hold them in grateful remembrance. Mr. Stanley is one of the substantial citizens of Portland and is active in both church and fraternal circles, his wife likewise is a business woman actively engaged in the realty business.

Fred Thomas, the caterer, is well-known in Los Angeles where he committed larceny in the first degree when he purloined one of our fairest daughters and made her Mrs. Thomas of Portland. We met Fred; he is a wide-awake and hustling business man and furnishes the wares for all of Portland's big gatherings. He has a ten thousand stock of dishes and silverware, two cars. In company with Mr. Stanley we visited him and his wife and he captured us and made us day behind our schedule. He dined us to the limit and would have wined us only for the Volstead Act. Mrs. Thomas comes in for no small degree of credit for the fame of the Thomas family.

We met Rev. J. W. Anderson, formerly of Sacramento and he is just completing one of the most pretentious churches owned by the Baptist denomination on the Coast. He certainly deserves great credit for his wonderful work in this bailiwick.

We also had the pleasure of meeting Rev. A. R. Knox of the A. M. E. Church and his amiable wife. It was with regret that we could not accept the invitation for us to address his congregation on Sunday, but we had to be on our way.

Rev. E. J. McGruder formerly of Hanford and a very splendid gentleman is nicely situated here and reports to us that he is getting along splendidly and can see a magnificent future. We made a special trip to see our good friend and brother.

Among others whom we visited were Edward J. Watson, Mr. Beaton, Eugene W. Minor, Sergent Franklin, and had to disappoint quite a few on account of our limited time.

should use that term in reference to colored people, and thank you for calling my attention to the matter, and will undoubtedly be cautious not to use the term again. Notwithstanding this fact, I had to go to the dictionary to discover that I had misused the word, as I was entirely ignorant of the fact that the term carried with it any coloring of disrespect. I doubt whether the majority of white people know that such is the case.

Thanking you again for your letter, and trusting you may believe me a sincere friend to you and your people, I am,

Very truly yours,
C. H. BRADEN.

FRANK WHITE REINSTATED

"He's a man, for a' that!"

Regardless of color or condition, Officer Frank White ranks as high as any of them come. Having served on the police force for more than a half score years, during which time he has demonstrated his sterling worth as an officer and a citizen, Officer White stands preeminent in his class as a representative of the New Negro.

As a police officer, he knows no color, kind or social standing. "Enforce the Law," is his slogan, and in the Eastern sections of the city, where Officer White has for the most part been stationed, he has tried conscientiously to better conditions for all classes.

Some time ago, through political intrigue, Officer White was removed as Sergeant of the Purity Squad. But those who had the best interests of the community at heart at once saw that conditions on the East Side, morally and otherwise, grew rapidly worse after the removal of Frank White. Hence the wise ones have seen fit to put him back on the job, for which he is so well qualified by reason of his bearing, his gentility of manner, and his irreproachable integrity—and now a prospect of general betterment in the vicinity of Central avenue looms brightly on the horizon.

The better class of the citizenry of Central avenue and the East Side have pledged Officer White their support in cleaning out boot-legging joints and houses of assignation, and those of our camouflaged law-violators who have strutted up and down our thoroughfares boasting of police "protection," will henceforth have to "watch their step," for Officer White and the Purity Squad have determined to make the atmosphere in which the up-coming generation depends for its development, purer, cleaner and sweeter—"for a' that!"

GRIFFITH JONES WILL BE HEARD

On Sunday evening, April 1, 1923, at the Douglas Temple, Griffith Jones, well-known attorney, will deliver a lecture entitled "Are We Face to Face with a Revolution?"

Attorney Griffith Jones is conceded to be one of the most eloquent orators upon the American platform and has turned many thousands away unable to secure seats from the largest theaters and halls in the country.

This is not the first time that Mr. Jones has addressed he members of the Douglas Temple. His logic is always so sound that he has attracted immense audiences in the past. The public should not fail to hear him this coming Sunday evening.

It will be remembered that the law firm of Griffith Jones & John J. Craig recently represented Mrs. Lela Hutson in her suit against The Owl Drug Company, when The Owl Drug Company was ordered to pay $500.00 for discriminating against Mrs. Hutson on account of her color. This is only one of the many prominent cases involving our people that this firm has secured successful results upon. For these reasons, if for no other, the members of our race should turn out in full force to hear Mr. Jones.

ON THE WING

We arrived at Portland on Tuesday at 9:15 a. m. Mr. Eugene W. Minor, the brilliant young disciple of Blackstone of that city and an emissary of New Northwest Lodge met us and hustled us in a cab and we pulled up at the palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stanley which was to be our place of abode during our stay in Portland.

Mr. Stanley after we had rested a moment brought forth his enclosed car and proceeded to show us Portland and to at the same time pay our respects to various officials of the local Odd Fellow Lodge and allow us to pay our courtesy to the local newspapers. At the Advocate office we found the managing editor at her post of duty and were warmly welcomed; we were offered the freedom of the office and received appreciative compliments upon the continued progress of the Soaring Eagle. Mrs. Cannady and her husband who is the editor in chief of the Advocate are broad gauged in their views and unselfish in their devotion to the press and we always appreciate meeting them, we were only sorry that our time would not permit seeing more of them and especially regretted missing the stalwart journalist E. D. Cannady. We also paid our respects to the Portland Times, while the editor and associate were neither one in, we left our card and regretted our failure to meet them personally.

ATHLETES SHOW THEIR PROWESS

HOLD OWN IN TRACK AND FIELD MEETS DURING PAST WEEK

Work of Colored Boys Is Feature in Several Meets.
By Track N. Thusiast.

Interest ran high in track and field events scheduled for high schools and colleges last week. Much competition and good physical condition of athletes, were responsible for the fast time made.

Out L. A. high way, Charles Diggs, sprint and hurdle flesh, continued his good work and increased his lead for the largest number of points garnered so far this season at the pioneer institution. On Friday in the dual meet with Manual Arts, Diggs put in a good day's' work by winning first place in the 120 yd high hurdles, beating Ballantyne and Requa in one of the most exciting and gruelling races of the day in 16:4; the 220 yd. hurdles race was also his.

His time was 27 flat; Diggs copped first place in the 100 yd dash in 10:3. He was also a member of the relay team which won from Manual in the fast time of 3 min. 9 sec.

Ralph Johnson of Hollywood, competed in the discus throw and the shot put in the dual meet between the foothillers and Polytechnic. This was his second time out for frack this season. He managed to place third in the shot put which was won by Coyne of Holly with a heave of 47 ft. 5 in.

Franklin high went down to defeat before the track and field team of Lincoln last Friday 91 2-3 to 21 1-3, on Lincoln"s oval. George Duncan, Lincoln"s star sprinter, was nosed out of first place by Lee the Franklin flash in the 100 yds. in the fast time of 10 flat. The timers caught the third man at 10 1-5. Lee also won the 220 yd. beating Duncan in the slow time of 24 flat. Leslie Hurd, the railsplitters' best bet in the 440 yd. affair ran the prettiest race of the day in the fast time of 53:3. Hurd has been improving in each race and is expected to show up well in the city meet. William Narcisse, youthful writer of High School Notes of the Dispatch, displayed wonderful form nad jumped with the best performers in the high jump, although he did not place. Another year will find him a consistent man in this event.

Archie Woodyard, of Jefferson won both spirnts, beating Rothrock of Long Beach in 10:3 for the 100 yd dash, in the dual meet, staged on Jefferson's field last Friday. He won the 220 yd. dash in the slow time of 24 3-5. Walter Towns placed third in the 120 yd high hurdle race. Salisbury failed to place in the 220 yd low hurdles.

Ted Shaw, brother of Ed Shaw of U. S. C. competing in the 100 yd and 220 yd dashed for Monrovia in the annual Central league meet held at Occidental last Saturday, won the finals of the hundred in 10 1-5 seconds, which equals the Central record. Showing the same speed, he won the other sprint finals in 23 3-5 seconds. Thus he made ten of the twenty-three points scored by Monrovia which placed the school third. Ted and Ed. Shaw will make a hot combination anywhere.

Ivan Johnson, U. S. C's quartermiler, was third in the 440 yd dash in the meet with Stanford, held on Saturday at Bovard field. He was nosed out of second place by Van Judah of Stanford. Marks, the U. S. C. marvel won the event in 49 4-5 seconds.

William Stovall, sprinter, and all-round athlete of Southern Branch journeyed down to San Diego to help his team win over the State College track and field men. Stovall won the high jump with a leap of 5ft. 7in.; the broad jump by over 21 ft.; and the low hurdles in the very fast time of 26 1-5 seconds. Stovall was there, we'll say. Next year will find him a worthy contender in these events, for he is the Branch's mainstay.

NATIONAL AIRLESS TIRE CO.
Los Angeles, Calif.
March 5, 1923.

Mr. D. A. Hodge,
706½ E. 18th Street,
City
Dear Sir:

Your letter of February 24th is at hand and should have been answered sooner, but owing to an overwhelming amount of work I have been unable to get to it until now.

If there is any man living who respects a man for what he is regardless of color, I believe I may truthfully, and II hope modestly say, I am that man. I mean a bad character is bad I do not care how white his face may be, and a godd character is good, I do not care how dark his face may be. In my estimation and thoughts I draw no distinction whatever. And that is true not only of your race and nationality, but it is true in my estimation of every other race or nationality. We have a great deal of business with the Japanese and I have found them thorough gentlemen in every sense of the word.

So the remark I made was made without the slightest thought or even the remotest intimation of discredit or disrespect to you or your race. I am frank to say, however, since you have called my attention to the matter, that I do not believe white people

CALIFORNIA CITIZENS CIVIC LEAGUE LAUNCHES MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Ten years ago we believed what we today know. Starting with the universal affirmative, that all our ills are not political, neither social nor industrial, we have reached the conclusion, down in the conviction that there are as many angles to our race problems as there are schemes, known to and practised by civilized humanity. Thinking how we could best conduct a campaign for a new hold upon the existing situation, we launched the organization known as The California Citizens League.

There was a most urgent need for this businesslike organization. Its objects and purposes were clearly defined. Its appeal was direct to the hearts of Negro men and women who were interested in the welfare of their race. Many strong personalities, stalwart characters, people of influence and discretion cast their lot with ours. They have reaped a harvest of surprise, garnered many sheaves of satisfaction. The League gave to thousands a new vision. It pointed out new horizons. It set aright many of the insinuating preachments against Negro manhood rights and citizenship. Much was done to abate that intolerant sentiment which hems the Negro in on every side.

Out of the fires of many burnings, out of those sacred fusings of souls, out of the human relationships of the past, this organization greets the citizens of Los Angeles and populace of the State of California for whose betterment this League came forth. And we are held together today without any great physical coercion, due to the fact that our organization has invoked the power of human sympathy, this, because, our aims and objects more nearly conform to the peculiar needs of our people than any other, or similar league.

We have been the fearless advocates of any and all legislation that referred to our race, directly or indirectly, wholly or in part, when that legislation had for its object the betterment of our goup. Strong in condemnation of those propositions, measures, enactments and other subterfuges when conceived in political intrigue or nurtured in the secrecy of any all-abiding confiscatory make-shift.

Our programs have been based upon the assumption that no people can hope to progress without the establishment of just and humane principles of government. In order that our citizens might know and understand the relation in spirit between himself and the law, what constitutes citizenship, the effect and operation of that citizenship with its attendant rights and duties, The California Citizens Civic League has carried on literary campaigns for the enlightenment of its devoted adherents.

We have selected as our motto, "A Better Citizenry and a Broader Patriotism," done especially because we are prompted to service on behalf of others by that altruism which lays freely at the disposal of fellow-citizens all that we are or may ever hope to be. Again, we believe that Patriotism is the highest expression of intelligent self-interest, and, in order to help others, one must be able to help himself.

The League is proud of its achievements. Numerous battles have been fought. Our victories have been many and varied. By peaceful, parliamentary methods, we won the respect and confidence of our people, without which not one single victory could redound to our credit. They were our battles, our victories, you deserve the credit. It is rightfully, honorably yours. That assistance enabled us to correct, harmonize and adjust many cases touching the cardinal points in our citizenship and in our race relationship with the powers that be. In nearly ever instance we won—won because our intensity of purpose, our fair and square dealing appealed to the conscience of organized justice, and because our pleas were made in the name and for the sake of justice, reason and common sense became natural, voluntary arbiters.

Further, The California Citizens Civic League is strictly American. In idea and ideal it knows no foreign impulse. Fundamentally, it recognizes no clique, no intention other than that of affiliating with men, considering measures that tend toward uplift and true principles of American Citizenship.

The Roster of the League is thrown open for the reception of new members. No fees or taxations. We hope to add 5000 new names to our register within the next thirty days. The diligent processes of legislation make this membership extension an absolute necessity. For instance, it is comparatively easy for Negroes to elect a member of their group to the Assembly Halls of Sacramento, but it becomes a difficult task to elect a Negro to the City Council in Los Angeles, the former system involves teamwork which cannot supercede the district to which it is lawfully confined and restricted, in the latter case, a name proposed for membership in the City Council must be voted upon in each and every precinct within the city limits.

We invite your inspection of our Roster, our History, our business methods and our programs for the future. We are making history. You cannot afford to be left out. The League needs you. You need the League. This reciprocal courtesy makes for a strong, sympathetic understanding among the thinkers and doers of our race. Send your name and address to the Secretary. Write, phone or call, H. Douglas Greer, President, 834 Gladys avenue, Phone: 19266; or R. G. Lamar, 1351 Central avenue, Phone Broadway 2566.

DR. BROWNING LAID TO REST

American Woodmen Officiate At Funeral

The funeral of Dr. Wm. Browning, noted and popular dentist of Los Angeles, was held Mouday at 2 P. M. from the Independent Church. An hour before the time for the funeral the friends of the noted dentist began to pour into the church.

Dr. N. P. Greggs, pastor of the Independent Church, delivered one of the most beautiful and touching funeral sermons ever listened to. One after hearing such a sermon could not but pause to contemplate the uncertainty of human life. Dr. Greggs also highly commended the American Woodmen fraternity for the prompt manner in which they had settled their obligations to the deceased's neighbors and beneficiaries.

Rev. Father Cleghorn of the St. Philips Church also spoke beautifully of his friendship for the deceased and paid a very high tribute to the medical profession, admonishing them that oftimes they must serve both as physician and minister. The Medical profession attended as a body and acted as pall bearers.

Dr Browning was a member of the American Woodmen and this fraternal society performed the funeral obsequies at the church. Standing at the head of the casket, flanked on each side by a large number of beautiful designs, the State Supervisor of the Woodmen, Mr. B. H. Graham, spoke briefly of Dr. Browning as a neighbor of the Woodmen and told how the organization had rendered assistance during his illness, and explaining that on Saturday before the funeral he had settled in full every claim and obligation which the Woodmen owed to the beneficiaries of the deceased. Dr. S. D. Cotterell read the resolutions in behalf of the Woodmen.

The funeral was in charge of Conner and Johnson, undertakers, and interment took place at the beautiful Rosedale Cemetery.

COLORED MAN WINS CIVIL RIGHTS SUIT

E. J. Moore, City Letter Carrier, Wins Suit Against Chicago Quick Lunch Cafe. Atty E. C. Jennings Scores.

E. J. Moore, a letter carrier of this city and reader of "Current Topics" of the Los Angeles Forum, won his suit against the Chicago Quick Lunch cafe last Tuesday in department 20, over which Judge Carlos Hardy presided.

Several months ago Mr. Moore and a friend stopped at this cafe to get a lunch but were refused service, the manager stating positively that they did not serve colored people there. Mr. Moore immediately entered suit against the cafe, but because of the heavy docket the case was not reached until last week.

When attorney for defendants realized that their case was hopelessly lost he at once advised his clients to make a settlement satisfactory to plaintiff. Atty. E. C. Jennings represented Mr. E. J. Moore.

AHOSKIE, N. C.—March 22.—"We are a God-forsaken people," said Judge O. H. Allen in his charge to the Hertford County Grand Jury at Winton.

Judge Allen, who was serving as emergency judge at the one week's term of court, deplored the tendency of the modern age to want something different. Continuing, he said:

"Although the state has set up many agencies for the improvement of society, juvenile courts and other courts have been instituted, institutions for the feeble-minded, for the unfortunate woman, and schools for correction for the young generation, yet there is more crime and we are getting farther away from the principles of God all the time.

If we cannot have something new we call an old thing by a new name. It is a period of unrest and nervousness, and back of it there is no good sign or motive."—L. A. Daily Journal, Mar. 23, 1923.

It must be so, because their best minds say it is.

HON. C. M. WHITE

SUPREME COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN WOODMEN DIES

DENVER, Colo., March 22.—Succumbing t othe effects of an operation for cancer of the stomach, Honorable C. M. White, Supreme Commander of the American Woodmen died last night at St. Joseph Hospital this city at 7:20. Mr. White had been for some time suffering from the ill effects of his malady but not until his recent return to Denver after an extended itinerary in the East did he decide to submit to an operation.

With Mr. White's' death the race has lost an ardent worker for the economic freedom of Negroes, the American Woodmen is deprived of a leadership which has brought it from an organization with meagre assets of seven thousand dollars to one with assets of one million dollars or more, and not only has Denver, but the nation, lost a leading citizen.

Mr. White came to Denver in 1910 to assume active control of the affairs of the American Woodmen and shortly thereafter established his residence here. The major part of his time since then has been spent traveling over the twenty-five states in which Woodmen local organizations exist, devoting his time and energy to the extension of woodcraft. During these trips he had established an enviable reputation as a public speaker, possibly appearing before as many as two thousand audiences. During this period he has also gained a well earned reputation as an organizer, having developed a field force of nearly one thousand men and women and not only do these men and women, but a host of friends made in his frequent trips mourn his loss.

Mr. White is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie White, and two children, John, who has been attending Lincoln University, and Frances who has been attending Fisk University.

The funeral will be held from Shorter A. M. E. Church, Sunday, March 25th, at 1:30 p. m., and will be conducted with Woodmen rites and ceremonies. Prominent Woodmen from all parts of the country are on route to Denver to attend the funeral and pay their last respects to this noble character, their Chief.

POLITICAL DIGEST

BIG MASS MEETING DEMANDS RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS. SENATOR BORAH AND I. W. W. ORATOR VOICE DEMAND FOR GENERAL AMNESTY.

While President Harding was speeding to Florida for a month's vacation, the official publicity announcing that he was leaving "a virtually clean desk," a group of working people in New York City were completing preparations for what proved to be the most impressive demonstration yet made to remind the President that his desk—and his record—will not be "clean" until he issues the order that will set free the last of the 53 workingmen still being held in federal prisons ostensibly for "opposing the war," but in reality because of their past activities in championing the cause of labor.

Over 3,000 people crowded the Lexington Theatre on Sunday, March 11, and cheered repeatedly the insistent demand that the much-boasted claim of the United States to be "the land of the free" be transformed from a sickening hyprocrisy to at least a temporary reality by the release of these men, imprisoned solely for having been true to their ideals and having done what they could to make the world a fit place to live in.

The meeting was roused to a high pitch of emotion by the first speaker, Sam Scarlett, an I. W. W. sentenced to 20 years but recently released subject to deportation to Scotland, who held his audience spell-bound for over an hour while he pictured the long struggle of the workers of the west and northwest to improve conditions in the logging and construction camps, mines and harvest fields, the systematic persecution by the powerful financial interests controlling the machinery of government and socalled justice in those sections, the brutal treatment of I. W. W. prisoners in the jails awaiting trials, the mockery of justice in the court proceedings, the inhuman sentences inflicted by capitalistically-minded judges, the unflinching stand of the men in the face of fiendish cruelty behind the prison walls and their refusal to sue for mercy or break the solidarity of the group by asking for individual pardon.

"Those 53 fellow workers of ours are not being held in jail for what they did in the past," Scarlett said, "but for fear of what they would do if released. The authorities know that prison has not broken their spirit or changed their opinions one whit. The financial interests that own the big industries of the west know that every one of those men will, as soon as he comes out of prison, go right back to the spot where he was arrested and take up his work as a labor organizer where he left it off when taken to jail in 1917. That is why the Washington officials turn a deaf ear to all appeals to their supposed—and purely imaginary—sense of justice or feelings of humanity, and that is also why it is plainly and squarely up to the working class to wake up and take such action as will force open the prison doors for these men who are being victimized solely because they dared to stand in the front ranks in labor's battle.

It is because these men were capable speakers, writers and organizers for the workers that they were put in prison nearly six years ago and it is for the same reason that the workers must set them free so that they can go on with their work in the interest of labor."

Senator Borah, the prosecutor of the former I. W. W. leader, Bill Haywood, in the famous Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone case, startled his hearers by bringing out the same point, namely, that these men are in prison because of their activities in the I. W. W. He protested against the injustice of holding men in prison for something not mentioned in the indictment and not recognized in law as a crime.

"What," he asked, "is the controlling reason for keeping these men in prison? It is not, in my opinion, because of the offenses for which they were convicted, but for another offense unknown to criminal code, namely, because they are members of the I. W. W. They are not in prison by reason of any acts of violence to person or property. They are political prisoners. It is not right to put in prison and keep them there solely because they are members of an unpopular organization. It is manifestly unjust it is an act of tryanny to punish men for an offense of which they have not been convicted."

In support of his contention, Senator Borah quoted from a statement made to President Harding by Major Lanier, an army officer and lawyer detailed by the War Department to go over the court records in the I. W. W. Chicago case and analyze the evidence.

"These men," Major Lanier reported, "were convicted contrary to law and evidence and solely because they were leaders in an organization against which public sentiment was incensed. I do not think that, if I had been in the jury, I would have convicted a single one of them."

Declaring that "liberty means the right to express oneself" and that, "If a man thinks a war is unjust or improvident, it is his absolute right to say so." Borah quoted anti-war utterances of Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln and pointed out that these two great Americans would be in Leavenworth Penitentiary today, serving sentences of 10 and 20 years if they had uttered such remarks during the period of the late war.

At the close of Borah's speech a resolution declaring in favor of the release of the political prisoners, was presented by Rev. Richard W. Hogue, of the Church League for Industrial Democracy, and unanimously adopted. This statement called attention to the fact that these men were convicted during a period of war hysteria when fair trial was impossible, that they were given brutal sentences unheard-of in any other country in the world for political sentences, that the spies and profiteers were released long ago, as well as the political prisoners in all other countries engaged in the war. It also pointed out that influential business men like Charles W. Morse, the financier, and F. H. Nobbe, of the Tile Trust, had little difficulty in securing presidential pardons, while 53 workingmen without wealth or influence are being held for their full terms of 10 to 20 years.

A delegation of prominent New Yorkers will take this statement to the President upon his return from his Florida trip. They will be accompanied by a representative of the World War Veterans, whose national president, Jack Bradon, made the trip from Minneapolis to speak at the mass meeting and voice the demand of the ex-service men of that organization for "the immediate and unconditional release of all the political prisoners."

OSBORNE FOR CONGRESS HAS HAD FINE RECORD

Henry Z. Osborne is receiving increasing support in his fight for Congress to succeed his father, the late Congressman Osborne. The strong friendship that had been created by the late Congressman with the entire colored voting population of the Tenth District, has in a marked degree been extended to the son. The latter, like his father, is a vigorous defender of the anti-lynching bill and his platform declares him to be opposed to all mob violence.

Mr. Osborne has opened headquarters in the Byrne Building and will conduct a tively campaign. He is strongly backed by all patriotic organizations, by business, professional and laboring men and women. He is a civil engineer of high standing and to make the fight for Congress, he gave up the job of Chief Engineer of the Board of Public Utilities, one of the best engineering positions in Los Angeles.

Mr. Osborne is strictly a man of the people, and they all look alike to him. His long service with the city of Los Angeles proved him to be absolutely devoted to public interest and against private interest where it conflicted with that of the public. He has at all times shown his personal friendship for the colored people of the city and can be counted on to stand firmly for their interests at all times, just as his father did. Mr. Osborne designed and had constructed for the city under his supervision, more than $25,000,000 worth of public work and never a question of his fine ability and absolute integrity.

He is in the fight and is regarded as a winner.

PEOPLE'S MOTOR BUS CAMPAIGN
COM. 210-11-12 Gosse Bldg.

An important speaker, in behalf of the city-wide demand for better transportation facilities in Los Angeles, was heard at the colored Y. M. C. A. Wednesday afternoon, when Ida May Adams, one of the foremost women attorneys of the West, spoke to prominent colored citizens.

The speaker laid stress on the deplorable situation which exists in our great city, and pointed out the needs of more comfort and safety to passengers. She said that strap-hanging was a thing of the past and that motor busses would be the means of furnishing the people with needed relief from the crowded condition which is seen everywhere on the street cars.

It should be kept in mind, the speaker declared, that Los Angeles has been built up with capital which has come into the city from various party of the Country. Therefore, she said, the Two Million Dollars, which the people's motor bus Company contemplates spending in Los Angeles should be welcomed by all.

"I want to impress on you," she declared, "that the principal part of the money derived from the investment and in the operation of motor busses goes to make us all more prosperous, for it is expended to pay good wages to men and women who work, and this money finds its way to our grocers and other stores.

"There has been considerable talk that busses would add to the congestion fo the downtown district. This is not true. The busses would not go through the crowded streets in the center of the city. Possibly, later on, when the city has done away with the intolerable condition on its main streets, then the busses perhaps would be seen in what is now the congested districts.

"I want to impress on you, too, that there was no talk of improvements in the street car service, no talk of subways, no talk of building extensions, no talk of bus feeder lines until the People's Motorbus Company made known that it was ready to serve the people of Los Angeles with comfortable busses, and provide a seat for every passenger.

"I want you to know, too, that the man who is at the head of the People's Motorbus Company is one of the best friends in Los Angeles that the colored people have ever had. I refer to Mr. Marco H. Hellman, President of the People's Motorbus Company. Mr. Hellman is President of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, Vice President of the Merchants National Bank, a man famous in finance, an active worker in every movement looking toward civic betterment, a man always found in the forefront, in the people's battle for improved service.

"It was Mr. Hellman's intention to come down here today to address you on this subject, but, unfortunately, the shadow of death crossed the path of one of his dearest friends and while I am talking to you, now, Mr. Hellman is paying his last sad respects to this dear friend.

"And let me say to you, also, that the counsel for the People's Motorbus Company is William G. McAdoo. You will all remember that Mr. McAdoo was Secretary of the United States Treasury and that he built the famous subway tunnels under the Hudson River in New York City and let me tell you, that when Mr. McAdoo built those tunnels and gave New York City necessary relief in its traffic congestion there was the same cry raised in that city as you hear in Los Angeles today. The ferry companies, which transported thousands of persons across the Hudson River daily, said that the subway under the river would ruin them, that they had faithfully carried the people to and fro for years and that now their business was to be destroyed. But today not only are those same ferries taxed to their utmost to take care of the people who still use them, but the subways too are crowded and there is talk now of building tunnels beneath those tunnels. This is true also of Los Angeles to a great extent. This is a vast and growing city. As your dear friend, Mr. Hellman said recently, in an interview with a Los Angeles newspaper, it will be but a short while when every present means of transportation will be overcrowded and subways and possibly an elevated railroad will have to be built to care for the people who travel.

"If you want to see this great question settled to the best advantage, if you want prosperity in Los Angeles, then vote May 1st in favor of Motor busses."

Addresses were made by other persons present, and the general concensus of opinion was that motor busses should be favorably voted upon.

Among some of the prominent people present were Rev. E. R. Driver, Noah D. Thompson, Captain Harry Dean, Rev. R. W. Lambert, Mrs. Eva Carter Buckner, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, Mr. C. T. Ross, Mrs. Sallie Rirchardson, Rev. J. W. Johnson, Rev. H. D. Proud, Professor Greer, Professor T. A. Green, William Bowers, Mrs. G. A. Goings, G. W. Snell, C. T. Jones, J. A. Chattels, Esther Goings, Mrs. Clara Hulbert, Prof. Chas. L. Eason, Principal East 52nd Street School, Titus Alexander, A. D. Lacey, J. W. Coleman, Mrs. Smith-Greer, G. G. W. Caldwell, M. H. Broyles, E. T. Ella Cassells, Wood Wilson, C. A. Alston, Margaret D. Scott, Rev. Underwood, J. J. Bradham, A. J. Roberts and others.

Rev. A. P. Shaw.

The subject, "Wo is Your King," was the inspiration ofr a most instructive sermon by the pastor Sunday morning. With his adherents at fever heat the divine climaxed the service with a most acceptable invitation to the young people of the church to grasp his hand. The steady stream of young men nad women poured by to the delight of every heart. The music was par excellent. Prof. Howard, leader of the choir, very pleasingly favored the Congregation with a solo "Jerusalem."

Mrs. Talbert, with her luscious crystalline and appealing voice, delighted the worshippers with a hymn filled with reverence and devotion. From the pipe organ, Mrs. Markham at both services elicited tones rich in volume and full of beauty. About ten persons felt the influence of word and song and joined the church Sunday.

The ever faithful and dutiful choir will render the cantata, "Victory! O'er Death and the Grave," Sunday morning at five o'clock. Those present will be guest at breakfast. From the early quiet hours till after eve everyone is invited to spend here the day of resurrection.

Where to Attend Church

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH
Holding its Services in the Y. M. C. A.
Ninth and Hemlock Sts.

We had excellent services all day on last Sunday. Several new scholars were introduced to the Sunday School and made happy by a kindly welcome. It was Review Day and the Lessons of the Quarter were taken up and briefly discussed. At the 11 o'clock service Dr. Prowd spoke from the text: Matt. 21:9. "Hosanna to the Son of David, blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." He also used as a contrast, Mark 14:13. "And they cried out again, crucify Him." All enjoyed the word of the Lord and expressed delight. The B. Y. P. U. held its session and profitably discussed the lesson. At night our brother the Rev. Mr. Lambert preached for us with much acceptance. The Pastor and members Choir will render good music; Singing The Room will be decorated and the are preparing for a great Easter day. Birds will be on hand, and the best of all the Lord will be with us. At 4 P. M. the Pastor will preach, and our children will follow with their fine program. There will be a special Subject for our B. Y. P. U. at 7 o'clock, followed by the regular preaching service. All are welcomed. Come praying for a blessing.

H. D. PROWD, Pastor.

PHILLIPS CHAPEL C. M. E. CHURCH
1406 Newton Street
Rev. Underwood, Pastor

Sunday, March 25th was Men's Day and there was a marked demonstration of Man's Ability throughout the entire day and evening. Rev. Underwood the pastor preached a very inspiring sermon in the morning which text was "The Multitude that went before and that followed cried "Hosanna to the Son of David. Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the Highest." Men filled the choir stand and fully proved their fitness as songsters throughout both services. Our own Mr. Jas. Jones, our eminent Basso rendered a very appropriate solo for the occasion. Two babies were baptized.

In the evening a most inspiring and unique program was rendered by the men. Prof. Biggers being the main speaker of the evening. A most edutional and convincing paper on "The Black Man's Contribution to Civilization." was read by Mr. Emery V. Crane, a young man of marked ability. Then came wit and humor by Mr. Murray, a paper on "Women are 3500 years Behind. The most interesting feature was the reading of the collection from both women's and Men's Day. As Women's Day was the preceding Sunday and the financial rivalry was at its height. These figures were passed in by the Women and Men to Rev. Underwood who read them for the first time; and lo, the women raised $416.20 and the men $406.00, making the women victorious over the men for another year which was no more than expected for the women of Phillip's Chapel never fail or give up to defeat.

FIRST AFRICAN M. E. CHURCH—
Eighth Street and Towne Avenue.
Rev. A. Milton Ward,

Pastor Ward will occupy his pulpit in historic Eighth and Towne Avenue Church Easter Sunday, preaching on "A Risen Christ" at the early morning five o'clock service, and again at 11 a. m. The singing by the two choirs promises to eclipse all previous occasions. Prof. Bartlett will render special numbers on the pipe organ, using the Vox Humana and chimes (which sounds heavenly to say the least early in the morning.

The Sunday School has prepared to furnish an excellent Easter program at 7:30 o'clock p. m. The processional will be lead by Rev. Ward and Supt. Stratton. The Senior Choir will close the program with a master anthem.

Those were stirring old Methodist times at Eighth and Towne Avenue Church last Sunday. The minister in charge preached morning and evening; and the singing was par excellent. There were six men and two women added to the church at 11 a. m. and a man and woman joined at the evening service, making a total of ten additions for the day. There was great rejoicing on the part of the church folk. Two of the accessions were converts. The junior choir sang "The Palms."

Many distinguished visitors worshipped with us.

BIRCH ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
F. C. Cothran, Minister

Services of this church were up to the standard last Lord's Day. We were recipients of copious showere of blessings. Our souls feasted on heavenly manna, while under the drippings of gospel grace. Elder Cothran, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening and filled our hearts with good news of the old Jerusalem gospel. At 11 o'clock a. m., he called our attention to the crucifixion scenes of our Lord, using for his text these words. "And they that pased by railed on him, wagging their heads and saying, Oh, thou that destroyest the temple and buildest it again in three days, save thyself and come down from the cross." Mark 15:29,30. Your presence for the services of next Lord's day is cordially solicited. Elder Cothran closes his ministry with this church Lord's day April 1st, 1923.

Exercises of the Bible School at night 8:00 o'clock. All Welcome.

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
1252 East 25th Street,
Rev. R. Gay, Pastor.

Services last Sunday were complimentary. The Sunday School well attended, offering was above average, and indications for better work in the future were promising.

At the morning services the pastor spoke to a commendable congregation and a number of visitors expressed their appreciation of the services. The pastor spoke from the text, Hosannah to the Son of David, Hosannah in the highest. The Endeavor was very interesting. At night the pastor spoke from the text, Do all things without murmuring and disputing. A number of visitors attended this service and promised to return. The Pastor's Aid Club has had the Interior beautified which makes the church more attractive. We are planning for a lovely Easter Service day and night. And a Spiritual Revival Commencing April 33rd. All Christians are asked to help us in this Special Effort.

WEST SIDE MISSION A. M. E. CHURCH—
West 336th Street.
Major G. W. Pridlieu, Pastor.

Last Sunday was a great day at the Mission. All services were record breakers and noted for distinguished visitors. The Sunday School Lesson review was a departure from the usual custom. Each pupil who took special part in the review showed careful study for the quarter. The pastor preached at the morning service to a splendid congregation preparatory to the afternoon service slated to be the informal opening and conservation of the Mission. At this service Rev. A. M. Ward, D. D. pastor of First A. M. E. Church preached an excellent sermon suited to the occasion. The hearty responses of amens from the large congregation were evidences of the mighty truths that came through the inspired preaching.

The Grant Chapel pastor and choir furnished the music, assisted by Mrs. Bacon, our special soloist. The Presiding Elder made some pertinent remarks, also Revs. House, Price, Guy and Curby. The pastor preached at night to a very nice congregation. The offering for the day was splendid, it will enable the pastor and trustees to pay off three notes to their creditors. Next Sunday the Easter program by the Sunday School will be rendered at 3:00 p. m. by the children. Do not miss this.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Duarte, Calif.

Mrs. Davis and Mr. Cartwright are very much improved from their injuries that were received in an automobile accident a short while ago. Mrs. Davis had three ribs broken.

Sister Shell, of Los Angeles, conducted services at the A. M. E. Church on Sunday, the 18th. There were two additions to the church. The pastor is hoping that he can have Sister Shell conduct a series of meetings for him.

Sunday, the pastor and members of the church celebrated Palm Sunday; the text was taken from Matthew 21-9. The little church was beautifully decorated with palms. The Stewardesses prepared small palm crosses which they gave to each one attending the services. We had a fine congregation and six probationers were admitted into full membership in the church. There was great rejoicing when Brothers Sheera, of Monrovia, joined the church.

At three p. m. Rev. Reed, pastor at the Zion A. M. E. Church in Monrovia, accompanied by a beautifully robed choir, furnished the services. The Rev. Reed preached a very strong and eloquent sermon on the "Spirit that should actuate every Christian to make individual sacrifices to give so that the Lord may have a decent house for His people to worship in. We all left the services greatly benefited and more determined to build a church than ever before.

We are making great preparations for the Easter services. Beginning at six a. m. Sunday School will be held; Preaching at eleven a. m.; Communion of the Easter Cantata will be rendered at five p. m. by the young people of the church, assisted by William Prince and Mr. Joe Bronson, Miss Jennie Lockett is Directress.

William Prince, Pastor.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Cor. Pico and Paloma Streets.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor. Res. 1217 Paloma Street.

On last Sunday morning a splendid soul stirring sermon was preached by our beloved Bishop Kyles from Matt. 21-9: "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest." The Bishop seemed more than inspired and his glorious message set every heart on fire. Many Methodist shouts and hallelujahs went up as did on that first memorial Palm Sunday.

In the evening the Bishop preached from Psalm 36: 7 verse—"How excellent is thy loving-kindness O God, therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wing."

The Psalms of David are a great favorite of the Bishop and when he preaches from one of the Psalms we feel the same inclination of David to always praise God for his goodness and mercy.

We are grateful indeed to have Bishop Kyles with us through the circumstance under which it is possible in the illness of one of his younger sons who is undergoing treatment here.

The V. C. F. Society was led by Mr. A. Fisher. Miss Maude Davis rendered a vocal solo which was quite pleasing.

The South west Rocky Mountain District will hold its mid-year Convention in this church April 5th. All are invited to attend.

Glorious Easter Services all day at this church. The evening program will be rendered by the Sunday School and Zion's most excellent choir. Professor Bryden's choir will also render [illegible]

A church with a cordial welcome to visitors, strangers and friends.

President Obregon Meets Negro Delegation.

In July, 1922, President Obregon met a delegation of 22 colored citizens of the United States headed by Attorney Hugh Macbeth of Los Angeles and Mr. J. B. NEWARK CHURCH WELCOMES KLAN

40 Klansmen Visit Grace Church—Cowled Cyclops Given Pulpit Privileges.

(Crusader Serivce)

NEWARK, March 21.—Forty robed and hooded members of the Ku Klux Klan strode down the main aisle of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church in Newark during services last night, and filed into seats reserved for them while the choir and congregation solmnly chanted "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The Church was crowded, as Rev. Parris E. Greenly, pastor, had announced at the morning services that the Klansmen would visit the church for the purpose of revealing the true aims of the organization.

When the organist finished the hymn, two Klansmen left their seats and mounted the pulpit, where one was introduced by the Rev. Greenly as the "speaker of the evening, Mr. Exalted Cyclops."

The Klansman summarized the history of the Klan since its inception, claiming the organization is standing for 100 per cent Americanism and the protection of American civilization from the Negroes, Jews, and radicals.

The speech of the Klansman was greeted with a storm of applause which echoed throughout the church for minutes after he and his bodyguard had resumed their seats.

In commenting on the speech of the Klansman, Rev. Greenly said that "if the Klan stands for the principles expounded on this platform tonight by the Exalted Cyclops, then it is 100 per cent American and an ally of the Protestant Church."

After the services, the forty Klansmen filed out of the church and into a vestry room, where they divested themselves of their regalia and emerged to mingle with the throng.

U. S. C. NOTES

ALL STUDENTS' PARTY ENJOYED

On last Thursday evening the students of the university were the guests of Messrs. William Stoard and William Prince at a unique party at Parish Hall. The hall was very attractively decorated with the school colors. The occasion served a two-fold purpose, first, as a reunion of the old students and second, as an informal introduction of the new students. Everyone enjoyed the affair to the uttermost. Dancing was the feature of the evening.

Father W. T. Pleghorn, Rector of the Episcopal Church of this city, is attending the College of Liberal Arts. He states that while he is not specializing in any one subject, he is taking those subjects that tend to keep one's mind fresh and abreast with the times.

KNIGHTS ENTERTAIN SWEET SIXTEEN

Last Friday night at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Viola Narcisse McLemore, was the setting of a party given by the Knights of Night in honor of the Sweet Sixteen. The affair was very well attended, the house being very nigh filled to its fullest capacity. The scene was elaborately embellished and topped off with beautiful colored lights. There were three painted pictures on exhibit; one a knight on horse-back galloping at full speed; one, a knight on foot; and the last, a knight on horseback, the horse in a rearing pose. The guests on departing declared that the Knights were all right. After all, there ain't but the dozen.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
By William Narcisse

LAWD!

Tommy Myles Lincoln, crack sprinter, is a candidate for student body president at Roosevelt High School. Good luck Tommy, old boy.

Last Thursday the Lincoln lightweight football team gave the Jefferson team the small end of a 33—7 score. Otis Whizzer, dashing halfback of the winning team, made several spectacular end runs, one of which resulted in his team's third score. Addison Carter of the same team, played a short while at tackle. For the losers, Charlie Dodd performed in the backfield.

Lincoln and Jefferson, two bitter rivals, had it out last Friday on the Railsplitter gridiron. Lincoln emerging the victor by a count of 12—10. Although the Democrats fought hard they could not stop the onslaught of the mighty Tigers. William Bisco of guard, and Jack Prayer at tackle, kept Jefferson's line somewhat intact. Prayer, very large and fast, proved that he is by no means slow, by outstripping his team mates on a punt, and bringing down his man. "Spark Plug" Williams was put in at half back and later at quarterback.

SHORT CUTS

(Lincoln Service)

There are more foreign-born whites in seventeen southern states than there are colored people in all of the southern states combined.

Interested parties, both white and colored, are studying plans for the solution of housing problems which are confronting the colored people of Baltimore, Md.

Pittsburgh, Pa., is destined to be the center of fraternal activities of colored people in 1924, with the Elks, Odd Fellows, and Shriners holding their respective conventions in the "Iron City."

COMMISSIONS PROCEED VIGOROUSLY WITH WORK ON PROGRAM

The various commissions which are at work arranging the program for the conference are proceeding vigorously with the work so that by the date of the conference the whole program will be set for the greatest meeting ever held by the Colored people of America.

RACE ORGANIZATIONS GIVING COOPERATION

Chairman Miller informed the members of the Executive Committee of the All-Race Conference at its recent meeting that one of the most important matters taken up during the summer was the appeal to a number of individuals for a contribution of $5.00 each to help defray the expenses of the Conference. The individuals appealed to were invited to become members of the enlarged Committee on the All-Race Conference with the privileges thereof. The Chairman also stated that a number of organizations had informed him as to their willingness to be represented in the Conference, some of whom had already elected delegates.

OUR PLEA

There's a plea going out from my people,
From the people of my race,
We're asking all nations to listen,
To listen with good grace.

We're sending a plea out in the world,
We want you to hear our call,
We're sending it to all people,
All nations large and small.

We do not ask for charity,
Pity, money or even grace,
We only want the opportunity
To step into our place.

We're standing at the bottom
Of a ladder steep and tall,
We're climbing the rounds step by step,
As the soldiers scale a wall.

But when we've almost reached the top,
Where other nations are found,
The white man gives us a hunch,
And we fall back to the ground.

Now, is it fair to knock us back
When we are working with will and might?
Just give us a chance to reach the top
And we'll show you how to fight.

We are not using our strength
Other nations to overthrow,
We only ask you for our place,
And then you'll see us grow.

You think the Negro backward,
Superstitious, foolish and slow,
We have no opportunities,
We have no room to grow.

Take the flower of our race,
A youth, a tender sprout,
And place him beside your youths,
And you'll see how he turns out.

Oh! Why do you keep our people down?
Why do you hold us back?
Is it because we're Negroes,
Because our skin is black.

You do not hate the singing birds,
You do not hate the trees,
You do not scorn the red man,
They're changed the same as we.

Our race produces literature
In music we take a part,
Our race produces poetry,
Our race produces art.

We're sent to school and college,
With other nations we meet,
And when it comes to studies,
With them we compete.

But when we leave the school-room,
Our competition's ended,
For we're smothered in the outer world,
We're not treated as other men.

Do you think that we're disgusted?
Do you think we've given up?
Oh! No we'll fight just twice as hard
Until we win the cup.

We're sending the plea out to you
We're asking for no grace,
We're asking for what's due us,
We only want our place.

But if you fail to answer,
If you do not heed our plea,
There's One above who'll hear us
No matter where we be.

We're sending our petition out,
To you it may seem odd,
But if you do not answer,
There's One who will, our God.

Saturday night, September 22, 1923.

TENNIS CHATTER

HAVE YOU BEEN INFORMED OF ALPHA ARMISTICE DAY TOURNEY NOV. 11TH AND 12TH
(By William Mells Watson)
1555 Court St. Drexel 3742

Have you been informed of the City Open Championship Tournament for men's doubles held by the Alpha gang Sunday and Monday, November 11th and 12th? Following are the tournament committeemen: William Marshall Dana, Chm.; Clarence Ahart Brooks; Ballinger Pressley Kemp; Charles Andrew Black and William Mells Watson. The entrance fee to the first open tourney ever held on Pacific Coast under the auspices of the Western Federation of Tennis Clubs is 75c. The entries close at 9 p. m. Saturday, November 10th. The draw takes place at 9:05 p. m. Handsome prizes will be awarded to the city champs and the two runners-up also. The Fed's recent establishment of five annual open championship dates means that anybody in the world big enough to wave a catgut paddle is allowed to slash their way to the top shelf without even being a member of a tennis club, so "attn baby."

The Riverside Tennis Club

A baker's dozen of the sweetest young ladies and most hospitable men greeted the Tennis Organizers Club and were drafted into a club at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nowlin, 673 East 11th Street last Sabbath. Officers and members are: Lloyd Nowlin, president; Ulysses Little, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Nowlin, corresponding secretary; John Lee, treasurer; Gertrude Cole; Elmore Jordan; Jennie Cole; Elwood Gordon; Dawson Gordon; Daniel Gilpepper; Neil Clisby and Howard Clisby. The municipal playground at Riverside includes the beautiful Victoria Courts where the new aggregation does its stuff and on invitation the organizers plan to make the recruits a call again sometime before the new year.

Two Dates Open

Have you been informed—that there are still two annual open tourney dates?—Thanksgiving Day and September 9th (Admission Day) that the Fed so far has not been asked for by any of the local clubs?

West Side To Incorporate

Attorney C. H. Alston member and legal adviser of the West Side Tennis Club as soon as the club is incorporated and secures its charter will have the gang ready to buy that splendid corner lot the members are raving about, and as there is a house on the thing already, that long talked of "club house problem" has finally been solved, and watch the old admission fee elevate. Better get in now, boy, it only assesses you five smackers now, but these heartless investors are likely to raise the ante to twenty bones within a month or two. The building commission is: Papa Osborn Johnson, chairman; Charles H. Alston; Lloyd Wilbour Davis; Albert Joseph Prosper and William Mells Watson.

"Cliff" Back Home

Doc Franklin Gordan the popular amputater's famous athletic kid brother "Clifford" a member of Alpha who filled his dome full of medical science at Berkeley and increased his bump of intelligence in the East slipped quietly back in town the other day and announced that he isn't quite broke yet. "But boy you must be sagging."

Race Girl Wins Over 125

Of course we are proud of Miss V. T. Dolphie a native of Texas, Fisk graduate, member of the New York Y. W. C. A. and only Colored entry of 125 in the amateur city championships and she was crowned queen of ladies singles. "And she's a widow too."

NEWS FROM PHOENIX

Prof. McKinney, Great Magician Plays Long Engagements in Phoenix

The great McKinney is now playing many leading theatres in Arizona.

Saturday night, Oct. 20, Prof. McKinney will entertain more than 800 Indian students at the government Indian school.

This is a special engagement; I must say after I have witnessed this act in seeing it played in the Olympia Theatre, that it is an act that can play any where in any theatre.

I am only too glad to leave my own business aside to go on the road to represent a good act of this kind as advance agent.

As an old show man, I am acquainted with all newspaper editors and will constantly keep them informed of this great act.

Wishing you all success.

Very respectfully,
J. H. HECKER,
Representative and Advance Agent of Great Oriental Mystery Shows Touring the West and old Mexico.

FIGHTING JOE

(Whit)

Madison Square Garden

Kayo Bobby Dyson, of Hollywood fame, put the quietus on Jack Ross, of Frisco within two rounds. Ross was game, but Dyson was too hot for him. The bout was snappy, but we all missed big Sam Baker, protege and hope of Doug Fairbanks and Cherokee Tom Jones.

Clever, shifty Jack Griffins' left jabbing wasn't sufficient to outclass Joe Ward's right-crosses to the jaw. The decision went to Ward.

Young Burton, aggressive, a soaker, made point for point with young Sam Langford to a good draw in the bets performance of the evening. These boys are both main event stuff.

Fighting Paulson tock a decision from Jimmy Brown.

Young Stanley K. O'd. Lefty Dickliffe in the 2nd.

Young Brown, aggressive, earned the decision from Baby Pete.

King Benjamin, seventh son of the seventh son of the House of David, K. O'd. Roscoe Arbuckle II in the 2nd round.

Everybody bring coats next time.

My Friend Recommend You to Me.

Nine persons out of every ten who come into my office write or call me by phone for appointment, greet me with the six following words: My Friend Recommended You to Me, and I appreciate those words beyond expression, they mean more to me than all the gold in the world; for those words show the confidence that reputable citizens have in me and in my business methods. They more than repay me for the effort and hard work that I put forth to save my clients money and worry. I have striven to make a friend out of everyone whom I have had any business dealings with, and those words assure me that I have succeeded. There is not enough money in the whole world to tempt me, or cause me to betray the confidence reposed in me by my clients and I believe that everyone of my clients has sent his or her friend to me. To those seeking homes, or other property, may I serve you? A few of my special prices and terms:

SYMPHONIC ODE

Los Angeles Music & Sing Association will make their first appearance in concert in Los Angeles in what is known as a Symphonic Ode, Friday Eve, Nov. 9, 1923 at the Independent Church, corner 48th and Paloma Sts., Rev. N. P. Gregge, Pastor.

The Association is going to make this concert one of the best ever rendered in our city. The program will consist of many features that will be a delight to its hearers.

Despite the fact that the organization is young, yet its progress has been very remarkable. Its progress is attributed to the splendid work of Prof. R. A. Austin, who is Supt. and Director, and to the sincerity and earnestness of its members.

We are asking the public to fill the specious auditorium at the Independent on Nov. 9th and enjoy an evening of real music.

Admission 25, 35 and 50c.

ANNOUNCEMENT

JOHN A. GRAY TO HAVE ASSISTANT

So great has been the demand for piano lessons, that John A. Gray, well-known intructor, has been compelled to add an assistant to enable him to care for the overflow of eager students.

A capable teacher has been secured in the person of Mr. Claiborne D. Cooksey. Mr. Cooksey is not a stranger in Los Angeles, as he has been identified with the musical life of this city for a number of years and has a growing class of pupils himself. Mr. Gray is fortunate in securing the assistance of a techer whose qualifications and ability are of such high order that parents and pupils may place in him the utmost confidence. Since the beginning of the semester, many sorority and fraternity pins have exchanged wearers. The question "Why" and "What does this mean?"

The Student and His Education

"If is not the motive of the Negro College students to use their educational advantages as a medium to nourish arrogance and egotism, but rather to support those ideals of our country and race which insure better economic, political and social conditions.

We admire our elders who have struggled, and labored, and even fought to establish and maintain the present status of our people and the inner urge of service is pulsating our ambitions to enhance our racial possibilities with better things.

Advanced civilization demands trained men and women, and with sheer grit and continuity of effort, we will guard the fort and prepare the ground for our successors, as our elders have done for us. The Negro Student body fully appreciates the support of the public; and in turn, we pledge our last ounce of effort to anything which will promote a higher and finer living for our people."

EDUCATION WEEK

Washington, ——— —President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling for observance of the week beginning November 18, as National Education Week. "Every American citizen", the President said, is entitled to a liberal education. Without this the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self-government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand." The colored citizens are in hearty accord with the views of the President, and Education Week will be generally observed by them.

NOTICE !

My dear Brethren:

For our pastors and leaders not to "put-out" and "collect-in" the envelopes sent them, and send the money to Dr. Townsend, by Thursday, November 1st will greatly endanger pushing the work on the "Morris Memorial Building" —our Publishing House.

I have just passed the place and 26 men are pushing the work as fast as they can. The whole Building Committee, with Secretary Townsend, are making the effort of a life-time to have the $50,000.00 on November 1st and they are counting on you. Join us in this splendid effort and report. WE MUST NOT FAIL.

Yours in his service,

NEW HOME OF INDEPENDENT CHURCH OF CHRIST

The formal opening of the re-modeled and renovated Independent Church of Christ, at 18th and Paloma streets, on Sunday, Oct. 21st, was an epoch-making event in local church history.

their musical and literary talent finds fitting outlet.

On the whole, the Independent Church of Christ is the nearest to an institutional church that we have, and we opine that within the next few years it will offer to the world the "New Church" in a "New Day."

Among the far-reaching improvements made may be cited the enlargement of the auditorium, thereby increasing its capacity to 1200; a Sunday School Department with fourteen large, airy class rooms; lecture hall to accommodate 400 people; young peoples' library and club room.

The total cost of improvement, including the $12,000 Pipe Organ to be installed next month, will be $32,000. The present indebtedness is about $20,000.

The entire building covers about 12,000 square feet, and the present valuation of the property is $90,000.

The rally held on last Sunday was noteworthy in its success. The following organizations contributed:

East Side Willing Workers	$2356.40
Independent Club	727.20
Young Peoples Lyceum	157.08
Do What You Can Club	100.00
Ushers Board	340.03
Prayer Circle	161.00
Choir Auxiliary	618.06
Boyle Hts. Willing Workers	62.92
Christian Endeavor	100.00
West Side Willing Workers	5.00
Carpet Club	122.12
Deaconess Board	55.00
Auxiliary Deaconess	46.69
TOTAL	$4851.50

This is only a partial report as all the reports are not in yet.

Animated by this spirit of Christian loyalty and practical co-operation, no goal of achievement is too great to reach!

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION

The West Side Independent Club was organized, May 5, 1923. Although we have been struggling for only six months we were able to turn over to Organ Rally the meager sum of $727.65. For which we are grateful.

We are truly thankful to our friends for their support.

REV. DR. N. P. GREGGS

Perhaps no institution in the history of church building has made more phenomenal progress during a comparatively brief period of time, than the Independent Church of Christ under the fearless but genuinely Christian leadership of Rev. N. P. Greggs, founder and pastor.

The Independent Church started with the acquisition of one of the most valuable property sites in the city of Los Angeles. A handsome church edifice was erected at the outset. However, neither satisfied nor contented, with this auspicious beginning, pastor and members have striven untiringly for the past few years to make their church not only a spiritual saving-station, but an outstanding and ever-enduring monument in their community, where the older people may hear the true Gospel preached in inspiring and stimulating fashion, and the young people may enjoy, in a wholesome, Christian atmosphere, the privileges of a social center, where

STORY ABOUT NEGRO WINS $500 PRIZE

Washington. ——— Inspired, no doubt, by the example of some obscure but Christian Negro, an elderly white lady of this city has been awarded the first prize in the clean fiction contest recently conducted by the official organ of the Knights of Columbus.

The story, entitled "The Wisdom of Corilanius", won over 3,125 other manuscripts submitted from every State in the Union and from the British Isles, Canada, and other countries. Fifty-five per cent of the contestants for the $500 Prize were women.

The prize-winner's story dealt with a half-witted Negro, who effected a reconciliation between a young couple which had had a misunderstanding.

From the figures contained in the first annual report of the Prudential Bank, of Washington, D. C., that institution is moving forward rapidly and successfully, with a steady stream of incoming deposits and other resources.

While a $3,625,000 peanut case was in litigation in the Federal Court at Norfolk, Va., a Negro band, playing "Yes, We have No Bananas", on the street, just below the court room, so completely drowned the voices of attorneys and witnesses that the presiding judge notified the bandsmen to select another location for the dispensation of their melodies.

Major Joseph Cauffield, of Johnstown, Pa., who recently "also ran" in the race for Mayorship for the coming term, is apparently determined to make hay while the sun shines. He recently fined an offender $50 for operating an automobile so carelessly as to cause a collision, while he ordered a colored automobile driver to leave town within 24 hours after he had negligently backed an automobile into the curb.

According to estimates published in the Washington Daily news, there are 5,000 people in the Nation's Capital, who are at present engaged in the unlawful sale of whiskey and other high-powered stimulants, which have become secretely popular since the advent of the prohibition amendment. No attempt was apparently to separate the components of this group into racial or sexual divisions, which, it is readily admitted, are immaterial to a prospective customer.

MONROVIA

The Monrovia-Duarte Literary-Art Club met at the home of Mrs. M. Hicks-Lyons of Duarte, Mrs. M. Oliver, Mrs. A. Green and Mrs. Susie Reed of Monrovia attended the meeting and report an excellent meeting. Mrs. Cassel and Reed were elected delegates to the reciprocity meeting to be held in Los Angeles, soon.

From all appearance the coming bond election will draw out a large vote on the 23rd inst $80000 of the bonds are for the recreation park and swimming pool. Of course the colored citizens of this city are deeply interested in this particular item of the bond issue. Through the Afro-American League of this city of which Mr. W. D. Hollins is president and Mr. Walter Locket is secretary, the ball has started to rolling to the end that if the bonds carry the Negroes' rights will be fully protected.

Mr. Daniel Graham was taken to the Monrovia Hospital on last Monday for aneperation. Mr. Graham has been down sick for some time. He is one of the oldest citizens of this city.

Mrs. C. H. Davis who has been ill for some time is now up and seems to be herself again.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson has removed to Santa Ana, which place they will make their future home. Mrs. Jackson will be missed on account of her splendid activities in church circles here.

The Second Baptist Church is making great strides in its effort to improve its property.

Mrs. Her Couton of Los Angeles returned to this city for the last two Sundays to attend the service of her church, the A. M. E. Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Carter of Toronto, Canada, are visitors in your city for the winter. They are old friends of Mr. Zach Simmons of Sixth Ave. They are domiciled at 530 E. Maple avenue.

The A. M. E. Zion Church starts its new conference year with a brilliant outlook. Large audiences are in attendance at each service. Additions are being made by converts and otherwise each Sunday. Rev. Reed, the pastor, has moved into the beautiful parsonage recently built.

BAY DISTRICT

SANTA MONICA, CAL.

First Baptist Church of Venice entertained the Union meeting Sunday afternoon, Oct. 21st. Rev. Bussey, Pastor of A. M. E. Church of Santa Monica filled the pulpit. His subject being "Confidence and Salvation." The Choir rendered wonderful music. Collection $7.00.

Calvary Baptist Church had its regular services, Rev. James occupying the pulpit both morning and evening. Subject Emptiness of Natural resources. The Church has just closed a successful rally raising $400.00. The B. Y. P. U. under the leadership of Mr. R. C. Culton is doing a great work. Mr. and Mrs. John Moore visited the services there Sunday.

Phillip Chapel C. M. E. is taking on new life under the pastorage of Rev. D. C. Carter. The Epworth League is organized with Mr. O. S. Fletcher as President with an able staff of officers. The church is having "Three Big Nights of Fun," Oct. 29, 30, 31 under the auspices of the Janitors Club and Choir. They are giving a prize of Five Dollars each night. 1st night, the tackiest person; 2nd night, the best pantomine and 3rd night, Hallowe'en night, to the best masked. They extend to the public a cordial invitation.

The A. M. E. Church is wide awake under their new minister Rev. Bussey the loyal members tendered him and wife a banquet Thursday night of last week; Mr. Carroll being Master of Ceremonies called upon several to speak. Everybody bade him welcome. Miss Whitley sang in that beautiful contralto voice of hers, "A Dream." It was beautifully rendered.

DEATH OF WM. H. ELLIS (Lincoln Service)

Mexico, Mex., ———.—The death in this city, on September 24, of William H. Ellis, formerly of Texas; but more recently of New York, ended the career of a most romantic figuer, whose huge financial operations in the United States and Mexico, and whose intellectul activities, chiefly in Abyssinia, where under the Roosevelt administration he sought to establish a "Nation of Negroes" equal to European powers, made of him one of the most outstanding characters belonging to our racial group. Although Mr. Ellis found it necessery for his purposes to associate largely but not wholly with men of financial affairs, he did not sacrifice the personal friendship of many prominent men of his race, with someof whom he frequently consulted on matters of racial and national importance.

"NEGRO DOMINATION"

Mexico, Mex., ——— —.—The death tion of the South as a whole, forms 30.9 per cent of the population of the United States. Of the 33,044,445 inhabitants of the 17 southern states, including the District of Columbia, a trifle more than one fourth, or about 26.9 per cent, are colored. In other words, in each group of 1000 persons living in the southern states 731 are white and only 269 are colored, a condition that makes a joke out of the vicious cry of "Negro Domination" by ignorant politicians.

Prior to the present migration, Mississippi and South Carolina were the only states in which the colored population constituted 50 per cent or more population of Georgia was 41.7 per cent of the total; of Louisiana, 39.9 Florida, 34.0 per cent. In no other southern state, including the District of Columbia, does the colored population form as mush as 30 per cent of the state populations.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY HAS VERY HEAVY ENROLLMENT

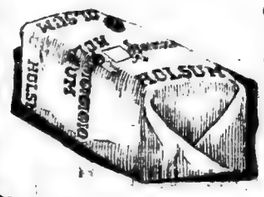
Washington, ——— Indications point to an early enrollment of approximately 1,200 students at Howard University for the first semester of the present year. This number, when added to the three upper-year classes, will undoubtedly bring the total student-body of Howard to the highest figure ever reached in the history of the institution.

HELP FROM CATHOLICS

(Lincoln Service)

According to the Baltimore Herald the Knights of Columbus have endorsed and promised financial aid to the erection and maintenance of a memorial to His Eminence James Cardinal Gibbons, to be known as the Cardinal Gibbons Institute. This institution, which will be located on a 200-acre tract of land near Baltimore, it to be devoted to the higher education of Negroes, and its purpose is to assist in the movement for the advancement of the colored catholics of the country.

A NEGRO PIONEER



Chicago, Ill., ——— —Opposite the $5,000,000 Wrigley Building, and between the river and the location of the $8,000,000 plant of the Chicago Tribune, a soap factory occupies one of the most valuable, and easily the most historic site in Chicago. On this spot in 1779 was erected the log cabin in what is destined to be the greatest city on the American continent. The cabin was erected and occupied by Jean Baptiste Point de Sable, a San Domingo Negro.

$1,000.00 IN CASH AWARDS

A special fund of $1,000.00 in cash awards has been set aside to be distributed in the form of salaries among active non-prize winners on a twenty per cent basis. Any candidate who remains active through the campaign, making a regular report, but fails to win one of the big prizes offered, will participate in this commission feature. Think of it. One-fifth of every subscription you collect goes into your pocket if you fail to win one of the Capital Prizes. This arrangement assures a compensation to all candidates and it means there will be no losers; "EVERYBODY WINS." Could anything be fairer or more liberal than this?

YOU MUST GET STARTED NOW!

Remember that The Eagle's $4000.00 Grand Prize Distribution is a very short one. It is not a long, dragged out affair. It is short, quick and snappy. In just a few weeks, the judges will announce the winner of this fine Reo Phaeton Automobile and all the other big prizes. Will your name be among the big prize winners?

Send or bring your Nomination Blank to The Eagle Campaign Hdqt., 822 Central Ave., at once. Be riding around in your own Reo Phaeton Dec. 8th—an automobile that was given to you without a cent of cost as a reward for getting votes in this generous prize distribution. In the event of ties, prizes identical incharacter with those offered will be given to each of those so tying.

Here is How to Weld an Endless Vote Chain

December 8th somebody's face will be wreathed in smiles—and somebody will be $1,795.00 richer—someone will get this fine automobile that will mean many a year's pleasure.

And EVERYBODY who takes active part will be handsomely paid for every bit of their spare time that they devote to the Campaign.

Go to one of your friends and ask him or her for a sub—probably subscription. Because The Eagle is such a big popular newspaper he will be only too glad to give it to you. Then you might ask him—"Perhaps you have a friend or two who would be only too glad to take The Eagle if offered the convenient opportunity to do so." If he or she says yes, and no doubt they will, everything will be fine.

Repeat this operation several times and before long you will have an almost endless chain of friendship working in your behalf and the result will be a large number of votes.

You will be surprised at the ease with which you can accumulate votes once you get started.

GET STARTED AT ONCE

WHY YOU SHOULD ENTER TODAY

You remember the story about the well known early bird and the equally well-known worm. That story is apropos of The California Eagle's gigantic $4000.00 automobile and prize campaign which is just beginning.

In any game of life it is the person who gets the early start that has the best chance of winning in the end and this campaign is no exception.

You have the opportunity now—today—to get an early start and soon be in a position to claim the beautiful automobile.

Grasp this opportunity to get an early start!

The start's the thing!

GET STARTED

SOMEONE WILL EARN $256 A WEEK DURING THE NEXT FEW WEEKS

In the next seven weeks, some "live wire" who is reading this announcement will make over $256.00 a week for spare time effort. Did you ever think that you could sell your spare time for so much money? This $1,795.00 prize and all the other big cash rewards are awaiting to be claimed by their winners. But you can't sit back with your hands folded and reap your share of these rich rewards.

Tear out the Nomination Blank on page 1. Send or bring it to The Eagle's Campaign Hdqts. at once. Then begin gathering in the votes. It takes votes to win and votes are easy to get when once you get started in this liberal distribution of big prizes. Clip out the 100 vote Coupons—get your friends to save them for you. Then start your friends to hand you their subscription to The The Eagle. The first subscription starts you off with 120,000 votes. How's that for a flying start?

Begin RIGHT NOW while the campaign is just starting. Get your name in the list from which the winners of this brand new 1924 Model Automobile and all the other prizes will be selected. But be sure that your name is in TODAY—then you will be in line to participate in this Grand Prize Distribution.

HOW THE VOTES COUNT

	FIRST PERIOD To November 17th		SECOND PERIOD Nov. 19th to Dec. 1st		THIRD PERIOD Dec. 3rd to Dec. 8th
1 year	$ 2.00	15,000 Votes	$ 2.00	12,000 Votes	$ 2.00	10,000 Votes
2 years	4.00	35,000 Votes	4.00	30,000 Votes	4.00	25,000 Votes
3 years	6.00	75,000 Votes	6.00	65,000 votes	6.00	60,000 Votes
4 years	8.00	140,000 Votes	8.00	125,000 Votes	8.00	115,000 Votes
5 years	10.00	300,000 Votes	10.00	280,000 Votes	10.00	260,000 Votes
10 years	20.00	820,000 Votes	20.00	610,000 Votes	20.00	600,000 votes

The above schedule of votes, which is on a declining scale basis, positively will not be changed during the campaign. A special ballot, good for 100,000 votes, will be issued on every $25.00 turned in. This arrangement will be in effect throughout the entire campaign and is considered a part of the regular schedule. REMEMBER THIS and lay your plans accordingly.

Notice how rapidly the vote schedule decreases. Right now, during the "First Period" you can get the greatest number of votes for every subscription you secure. usually the vote schedule is increased, but in The Eagle's campaign, the number of votes given for each subscription is very materially REDUCED as you will see above. This prevents anyone coming in at the last moment and running away with the big prize automobile and it is arranged in this way to insure absolute fairness. It rewards those who get busy at the start. During the "First Period" you can pile up the winning votes that will land the $1,795.00 Reo Phaeton Automobile—but you'll have to get busy at the start.

MALONE MAKES HIT WITH COMMERCIAL COUNCIL.

Prof. A. E. Malone, head of the Poro College, delivered an inspiring as well as instructive address before the Commercial Council last Friday evening. His subject: "Along Business Lines" was timely and in place and indeed a rare source of information and inspiration to the members of this forward going organization.

Mr. Malone is by practicle demonstration perhaps accomplishing more than any single unit amongst our entire group in this country along the lines of conducting big business. Poro College is his monument and the products therefrom represent the fruition of a real vision for the things along business lines worth while.

The Commercial Club is to be congratulated upon its foresight in procuring Prof. Malone to address them during his sojourn here.

A $4,000.00 CO-OPERATIVE PLAN.

The California Eagle in announcing its "Everybody Wins" circulation building campaign, which is called to the attention of the candidates thus far nominated, is departing from it usual custom in such enterprises and its taking in as partners—that is, the benefits to be derived are to be shared with them, and the plan calls for the distribution of Four Thousand Dollars.

This is a proposition exclusively for our friends and readers. The beautiful brand new REO PHAETON Automobile, the last word in motor car perfection, has been bought from the Reo Motor Car Co., of California. The object of this subscription campaign is to increase the circulation of the California Eagle. In so doing The California Eagle will benefit and that being the case, those who make this increase in our circulation possible will also prosper.

In making up this list of $4,000.00 in rewards and prizes we have far exceeded the efforts of any weekly newspaper in Los Angeles. And with the co-operation of each candidate that has been nominated, and those of you who wish to enter our liberal gift giving plan, the publishers of The California Eagle pledge that the distribution of these prizes will be honestly and openly conducted, leaving no room for criticism.

Our race will be accursed as long as we must depend on the other races to open employment for our sons and daughters. There is enough wealth in Los Angeles among the Negroes to take care of the present labor problem. Millions of dollars of Negro's money lay idle in the big banks and the white man is using it to build big cities and industries where he can employ his children while we just go along and are content with the mop and the bucket. Some of us have the nerve to get angry because the white man won't give our sons and daughters a place in these institutions. You might as well quit resoluting and stump-speeching and do something worthwhile. You are not going to get any consideration until you organize big industries where the bulk of the race folk can find employment. 45,000 Negroes in any city can make its own way and there will be no race problem then. If these 45,000 Negroes would pool just one dollar a month toward an enterprise we could build dozens of factories and not miss the money invested. Let some one with the vision make the attempt and let all of us fall in line. "There is no success without great effort."

We must stop looking for something to lean on—let us stand on our feet like men. We can't afford to be always begging and complaining about our condition. We must show some self-respect and learn to do things for ourselves.

The world is going crazy with jazz, the modern histerical music has given mankind the rickets. It cannot soothe or refresh by its figgety strains. Nobody is satisfied, but everybody is restless and discontent—Jazzy music makes them so.

What a changed world it would be if there were more Simeons and Annas waiting for the coming of the Messiah of Truth with open hearts and minds.

A neat appearance, which is always necessry doesn't mean that you have to lead the fashions.

In seeking praise some of us become dishonest in the means to obtain it.

The South is making it unbearable for the aspiring, energetic and thinking Negro.

Self-love is the spring of motion which acts on the soul.

COMMENTS

By: W. J. WHEATON

We recently received a letter from a friend signed "Constant Reader." We say friend, because we love "honest to goodness" criticism. He says:

"Dear Sir: I read your column in the California Eagle each week and look forward to them with pleasure. Lately you have not been as virile in your writing as formerly. What is the matter? Give us a little more of your old time 'pep.'"

It is gratifying to know that we are read and assure "Constant Reader" that it is almost impossible to keep our feet on the "Gas." So if we fall below the standard set for us, occasionally, please bear in mind that we will at all times do the best we can.

The "Bootlegger" is receiving attention from both the Federal and State authorities. President Coolidge seeks the co-operation of the Governors and has asked their aid in stamping out the illicit manufacture and sale of the contraband stuff. But Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania places the blame for laxity of enforcement on the Federal Government, and says that "It is too much to expect that the States should be required to pick up the bird-shot scattered all over the floor by the failure of the Federal Government to check the flood of illegal liquor at its source."

One glance at the names on a list of accused "Boot Leggers" and one should be convinced of the means of relief. Take the Leviathan, that's the biggest ship, and send them home as soon as caught. Of course it might work a hardship on some who claim American citizenship, but then they would be so few that the Federal prisons would hold them for a period of years. Prohibition as it is now enforced is one of the biggest farces that ever masqueraded under the guise of law. We except the 14th. and 15th. Amendments as their enforcement was never tried.

Over in Cayenne, French Guiana, the executioner for that penal Colony quarreled with and killed a convict. He was doomed to die; His request was that he be allowed to erect his own to hire you and go back to Alabama!" Its astonishing how the egotism of the poorer class of people from those sections gets the best of them. It is hard for them to realize there are other parts of the country. Even those who are making their homes with us here, always talk of the supremacy of southern products, and yet, they remain with us. Can't drive them away.

guillotine as he was afraid that some in-expert would bungle the job. He considered the gruesome job which he formerly held, as an art and himself as a master artist. Well! after all it is as "Man thinketh." It would be a splendid thing if some of our political leaders could be induced to superintend the erection of their political guilotine.s

We notice that some of the most notorious names in our "Night world" are linking the names of men prominent in local and national life, as patrons of questionable enterprises. Upon inquiry it is learned that numbers of the names exploited have been used without the consent of the persons named. "Votes is Votes" but then the standing of a people in any community should not be placed in jeopardy by the assumption of a detrimental leadership. There is not sufficient stress placed on civic duties by the race, and then we decry the activities of the miah who built with a trowel spoilsmen. Wasn't it Nehe- in the one hand and a sword in the other? Industry and eternal vigilance as to our civic duties is one of the prices we pay for racial advancement.

The American Legion has closed a memorable session in San Francisco. Thousands of "World's war" veterans from the states and Canada were in attendance. The flag with the stripes and lone star, that of the Republic of Liberia, was among the public decorations. The parade was colorful and filled with the martial spirit. At the session many resolutions were passed, but the one that stirred the delegates was that denouncing the K. K. K. The South fought the mention of the name after it had failed to table the entire resolution. Several of the other states further north were divided on the adoption of the measure, notably, Indiana.

After a heated debate on the floor of convention the adoption of the resolution was made after it had been decided to not mention names. Even with the name omitted it was obvious that the measure ws a direct blow at the Klan. Southern delegates were noticeable by their actions when riding on our public utilities. Often they would without lookking, sit beside some colored person and when the color of their neighbor was apparent would jump up with alacrity. There are numbers of dark complexioned people in San Francisco, so, often.

One militant "Southern lady" was so incensed that she told the man who received the fares on the street car that "If he didn't make that "Darkey" move up in the other end of the car she would report him. She being from Alabama: "Well—Madam" replied the Conductor," The only way that you can avoid riding in the same car with colored folk up here

After all: You can not legislate prdiudice away. It is drilled into a certain class of people in the south. It is, for political reasons, a part of their education. Prediudice must be met with education, and without doubt some of the people who visited with us went away with different opinions than people in public places was of The decorum of the colored those they brought. the best. It was noticable to the stranger, and it was remarked that such conduct in public was a beneficial educator. California has her problem and we must continue to educate as fast as they arrive.

money is in store for those who do not win the Reo or one of the big cash awards. On every yearly subscription or renewal, the candidate in whose favor it is cast receives 40 cents. On every two-year subscription, the cash commission is 80 cents. So the campaign simply means that those able to compete will be a prize winner. "Everybody Wins."

To be sure, the wholesome spirit of fairness with which The Eagle will distribute this vast array of gifts and the absolute guarantee of a cash prize to every active participant has brought forth many expressions of approval.

Should Enter Now

Persons contemplating entering The Eagle's gigantic gift election should send or bring their nominations immediately. Those who are interested in seeing their friends become candidates should see that they are nominated without further delay. All nominations received now will be given credit for 5,000 votes.

These prizes aggregate $4,000.00 expenditure on the part of The Eagle. The chance of a lifetime is open to you now. There is nothing difficult for you to do. A nomination blank will be found on page 1 for you to use in entering the election. If you have read over the prize list (see announcement on page 9) you can readily see what a big and wonderful chanec it is for you. Every single prize in the list means happiness to the winner.

The First Grand Prize

Surely a greater opportunity never knocked at your door. The first grand prize in The Eagle's $4000.00 campaign is a $1,795.00 Reo Phaeton automobile—the best friend and companion a family ever had. It laughs at distance, gives pleasure and health and makes the wonders of the country and city equally accessible. This beautiful car will mean many a year's pleasure. It will put glowing color into mother's cheeks, take the kinks out of father's taut nerves and make the children's eyes dance with delight. It is a car that will take you where you want to go quickly and comfortably—through the beauties of the city or the open country.

This fine Reo Six will take you where the breezes come riding in from fragrantly scented fields, to the summer gardens where myriad lights twinkle and all is joy and pleasure out to the cool beauty of the parks and boulevards.

That is the kind of a prize The Eagle is going to give some entrprising man or woman who is nominated in its big campaign.

HEADQUARTERS BUSY

All during the past week, again, the campaign manager at The Eagle office has been busy answering questions from men and women who call to find out if they had read the liberal offer correctly and to know the details of this gigantic gift-giving proposition. Several candidates brought with them quite a few of the 100 vote coupons. Telephone calls were frequent—so much so that the pretty young lady who answers the office phone barely had time to go out to lunch for her daily allotment of Coany one sex either. For one of the interest is not being confined to coa Colas.

teresting features is the fact that quite a few men have also inquired about the campaign. In fact, it appears from the indications that there will be about as many men as women and girls interested in the Grand Prize Distribution.

A REAL FORTUNE

The one big feature of the election which instantly attracts the attention and amazes so many callers is the fact that a participant CANNOT LOSE. Every active candidate is guaranteed either a cash prize or one of the larger awards. And, when it is realized that the cash guarantee on every subscription is TWENTY per cent, it is easy to see how much money is in store for those who do not win theReo or one of the big cash awards. On every yearly renewal or subscription, the candidate in whose favor it is receives forty cents. On every two-year subscription, the cash commission is 80 cents. So the campaign simply means that those able to compete will be a prize winner. "Everybody wins".

To be sure, the wholesome spirit of fairness with which The Eagle will distribute this vast array of gifts and the absolute guarantee of a cash prize to every active participant has brought forth many expressions of approval.

This is the kind of prize The Eagle is going to give some enterprising man or womain who is nominated in its big campaign.

CAMPAIGN JUST STARTING

The campaign, which is just starting, is open to any reputable reader of this paper. All that is necessary to enter the campaign is to clip out the nomination blank appearing on page 1. Fill in your name and address and send or bring it to The California Eagle, Campaign Headquarters, 822 Central Avenue. Upon receipt of this nomination blank a complete outfit will be given you, together with detailed information.

Thus equipped, you have but to see your friends and neighbors, relatives and acquaintances and have them save their free voting coupons and get them to pay up a subscription to The Eagle. Votes are allowed on new and old subscriptions alike. And the votes pile up mighty quickly when your friends know that you are in the campaign in earnest.

FRIENDS OF CANDIDATES ACTIVE

So far, more votes have been brought or sent to The Eagle by friends of the candidates than most of those nominated have secured themselves. This shows the interest friends of the candidates have in helping their favorites win one of The Eagle's big prizes.

YOU GET MORE VOTES NOW

Right now, while the big vote schedule is in force, is the time to get busy. Every new or renewal subscription to The Eagle counts you more votes than it will at any other time. Soon—in a few days—the vote schedule will be DECREASED. The reason the vote schedule is REDUCED after the first part of the campaign is to assure everyone a fair and square deal and this prevents anyone coming in at the last minute and running away with the big prize automobile.

Right now every yearly subscription counts you 15,000 votes. With the first subscription you turn in, you get 100,000 EXTRA FREE votes, which will make the first subscription worth 120,000 votes, including your nomination votes.

The effort you put forth these "BIG VOTE" days can easily bring you success. The laggard, unwilling to devote any of their time or thought to the campaign, will reap no reward. This is a campaign strictly for "live wires". So don't lag—don't be timed. Go right to it and keep at it during your spare time. Did you ever before have the opportunity to cash your spare time for $1,795.00 in just a few weeks?

Remember the vote schedule is soon to be REDUCED. Get into the campaign now while you have an absolutely equal chance. Right now, while the campaign is just beginning get started—NOW is the time to enter and make yourself one of the winners of The Eagle's many and valuable prizes. You who are reading this are one of those who can enter—one of those who can be one of the proud—Grand Prize winners.

Office open until eight o'clock. Campaign headquarters, 822 Central Avenue, will be open each evening and you are invited to call for any information you desire. If unable to call personally, telephone 829-244. DO IT NOW.

P. Elder Visits the South

MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE DEATH

By John Emery Prowd

AUTOMOBILE TURNS OVER WITH PARTY OF SIX ON WAY TO ELSINORE

Leaving Los Angeles Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, a party of six, including Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Lawrence, Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Pearl, Los Angeles; Mrs. Walter Offord, Oakland, Calif., and Mr. J. E. Prowd, headed for Elsinore, where Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence along with Mrs. Offord intended spending a few days while on a visit here.

The party left in a Seven-Passenger Cadillac, taking the route through Pomona nad Riverside. At Puente they made a short stop to have the brakes on the car loosened, as they were a little tight and were hot.

The Accident

After having the brakes all set they journeyed safely on until reaching a section known as Wineville, about four miles before reaching Riverside. At this point the car slipped from the paved highway and struck the sand on the right. Mr. Pearl, who was driving, immediately tried to swing the car back on the highway, and as soon as the back right wheel stepped up on the pavement—which wsa wet—the car skidded. The car shot straight to the open field on the left of the highway, careening all the while to the right. It was now beyond the control of the driver and in a few seconds it had turned over a couple of times; when it stopped turning it was laying on its left side.

THE Injured

Mr. Prowd was the first out from the mass of wreckage. Mr. Lawrence was the next to be seen. Mrs. Pearl, after the car ceased to roll, had landed on her feet, and was standing up in the car holding her head. Mrs. Offord and Mrs. Lawrence had to be dragged out from where they were wedged in between the smashed-in top and the back seat. Mr. Pearl, who seemed to have been the most seriously hurt was hurried by Mr. Prowd in an offered car, to the Riverside Hospital. Mr. Prowd returned for the rest of the party, all were taken to the hospital. Upon examination it was learned that Mrs. Lawrence had suffered a dislocated shoulder and a broken bone; Mrs. Offord had a fractured right shoulder; Mr. Lawrence was crushed in the right shoulder, but not seriously; Mr. Pearl had his chest and stomach severely hurt as he was pinned in by the steering wheel when the car turned over and suffered much pain as a result; Mrs. Pearl and Mr. Prowd were apparently unhurt.

To the Rescue

Mr. A. L. Johnson and Mr. E. W. Walker, were both very kind in offering their services and the use of their cars—coming all the way from Los Angeles at nine and ten o'clock respectively. Mr. Johnson brought back Mr. and Mrs. Pearl in his Haynes Sedan, and Mr. Walker brought the rest in his Marmon.

The car, which was later towed into the Mission Garage, had the front right wheel broken to splinters, the windshield and deflectors completely broken and the top demolished. It will remain there until it is decided what's to be done with it later.

Mr. Pearl is at his home recovering gradually. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are also recovering slowly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl, whose guests they are.

JOHN J. JOSEPHS, ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHER, LATEST ADDITION TO BUSINESS CIRCLES

Los Angeles' business element must branch out, not merely along the already-overcrowded lines of cafes and pool halls, but in every field of useful and lucrative endeavor, and prove to the world that it can successfully conduct any manner of commrecial enterprise already sponsored by its business ancestors.

Hence, the establishment here by Mr. John J. Josephs of a high class photographic studio, to be operated on a large scale, is a notable step forward in our business progress.

It is something over ten years since Mr. Josephs first took up his residence in our midst. Recently he has been East, during which time he completed a course at the New York Institute of Photography. He is now returned and has opened a studio at 14th and Central avenue, equipped with every facility for high class photography, and will specialize in artistic portraits.

MY TRIP TO THE EDUCATIONAL BOARD THAT MET AT COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA

En route I stopped over at Kansas City, Missouri. I was met at the train by Rev. F. Jesse Peck, D. D., President of the Western University at Quindaro, Kan. From there we went to call on Bishop W. T. Vernon, who had just returned from the hospital. From there we went to the University and from there to the residence of Dr. Peck. We then went to the home of Dr. Wittenburg, the pastor of Allen Chapel Church, Kansas City, Mo. There we met Bishop H. B. Parks and Dr. Isaacs P. E. of that district. At 5:30 o'clock I took the train for Columbia, S. C. I was joined at Memphis, Tenn., by Dr. A. S. Jackson, Secretary of Education and Dr. Howard and others, arriving at Atlanta, Georgia at 9:30 p. m. We were met by The Rt. Rev. Bishop W. A. Fountain, who took us to his home, and in that beautiful residence we were wonderfully entertained while I was in Atlanta. I visited Mrs. Fountain's mother and father. Mrs. Fountain's mother is an invalid and her daughters have installed a radio, where she sits Sunday mornings and enjoys the sermon and songs of praise. She has a wonderful personality. I was never so hospitably entertained in my life, as I was in the home of Bishop Fountain. The home is so disciplined it is a real pleasure to visit there.

I also visited Morris Brown College. There I met Miss Ruth Prince, the daughter and Mr. and Mrs. William Prince of Pasadena, who is making good as teacher and is loved by all. She is coming to spend her vacation in California.

The next morning we left for Columbia arriving there at 8:30 p. m. We were met at the station by Rev. T. H. Wiseman, D. D. of Bethel A. M. E. Church, who had made ample preparation for all the delegates that came.

The Educational Board met at 9:00 Tuesday morning in the chapel of Allen University.

The faculty and the student body numbering 850 filed in for review. Dr. R. W. Nance, A. M., D. D., President of Allen University introduced the Right Rev. W. D. Chappelle, D. D., who introduced Bishop I. N. Ross president of the Educational Board, who delivered a short address full of enthusiasm and food for thought. He then introduced Prof. A. S. Jackson, the orator of the race. His address was a masterpiece, highly appreciated by all present. We then adjourned to meet at 2::00 p. m. It was said by all present that it was the most successful meeting from every viewpoint that the Educational Board had ever had. Every phase of our school was discussed and recommendations were made for the needed improvements.

In the evening the school gave a reception for the board. Dr. Wiseman invited me to preach for him that evening, as they were closing a rally. Bethel was packed to the doors.

The rally was a decided success, the services seemingly enjoyed by all present.

Wednesday the reception to the Bishops of the A. M. E. Church was given. Welcome addresses were made by His Honor W. A. Coleman, Mayor of Columbia and His Honor T. J. McLeod, Governor of South Carolina. And also by one of the District Judges. Their slogan was all men up, and no men down, and that every man in the State regardless of creed or color will have equal protection under the law. They realized that it was a big job, but by the assistance of the leading colored men of that state, they would be able to put it over. I was very much surprised to hear these heads of the state express themselves so openly and freely.

The responses made fully measured up to the occasion. Thursday morning the Bishop's Council opened with sermon preached by Bishop Joshua H. Jones, D. D., which was a masterpiece. Communion was served to possibly 1500 people. The bishops then went into council, and at 2:00 o'clock the Connectional Council met in the Auditorium of the Church.

The Council consisted of the general officers, presiding Elders, and ministers from every district. The 18th Episcopal District had no representative. I joined the council, was added to the financial board of the council and enrolled 15 ministers of the 18th Episcopal District and paid their admission fee. The Presidents of the various schools had their meetings. Questions of vital importance were discussed by the various presidents of our schools.

Friday afternoon the information came from the council chamber that a change of Bishops had been made. Bishop B. F. Lee, the Senior Bishop of the bench had been assigned to the 118th Episcopal District and Bishop W. A. Fountain to the 9th Episcopal District.

At 3:00 p. m. news came that big Bethel A. M. E. Church, Atlanta, Ga., was on fire. It threw a gloom over the great gathering. At 5:00 p. m. I left for Atlanta, Ga., arriving at 8:330 a. m. next morning. We went from the train to the place where old Bethel once stood, only to see the smouldering smoke ascending from a wrecked building and hundreds of mothers and fathers walking around the wreckage weeping where once stood big Bethel.

Sunday morning in company with Bishop Fountain we attended the Second A. M. E. Church where I preached to a large and appreciative audience. At 8:00 we attended the Third Church where I preached to another large congregation.

Monday morning I left for Cincinnati, and from there on to Chicago. There I was met by Dr. C. M. Tamer and Dr. McCracker, P. E. of the Chicago District where I was taken to Greater Bethel A. M. E. Church, 42nd and Grand Boulevard, pastored by Dr. Tamer where I spent four hours. It is truly a great building, it is said to be the largest church owned by Negroes in the world, the cost of which was $91,000. From there I went to Omaha, where I saw that great foundation for a $100,000 church of which Dr. W. C. Williams is the pastor. I then left for Los Angeles. On my arrival I found my district in fine condition, every man at his post and doing a great work. It is not only an honor to preside over a group of ministers such as these, but a pleasure beyond expression. "Be of good courage you are keeping pace with other districts of this great church."

ALONG" WITH MAMIE SMITH COMING TO THE PHILHARMONIC AUDITORIUM

"Struttin" Along" the first attraction of its kind to be presented on the Pacific Coast, is coming here on April 9th, for one week, when Mamie Smith and her Jazz Hounds, popular phonograph record stars, and an organization of more than seventy-five Negro players make their appearance at the Philharmonic Auditorium theatre. This production includes a Creole beauty chorus of thirty girls. The show will be on the revue and musical comedy order, similar to "Shuffle Along" and "Strut Miss Lizzie," a pair of New York box office greatest magnets, both of which are entering into their third year of success on Broadway. Mamie Smith and her orchestra have made more than two hundred phonograph records, all of which have been big sellers, owing to their novel syncopated music.

With Miss Smith will be John Rucker, Sid Perrin, Richard Courtney, William Pierson, Frisco Nick, Zoe Ramees, Caralone Snowden, Susie Hurst, William Mitchell, Lawrence Ford, Earl West, Norman Stewart, Eddie Anderson, Billy Moore, Cornie Anderson and Mlle. Augusta Petit. Brilliant costumes and scenic effects, combined with novel musical numbers, make the show one of great attractiveness.

"Struttin' Along" comes to this city following an engagement of several weeks in San Francisco, where it proved to be one of the biggest successes ever staged in a California city.

Jack Joy, a popular musician of the Eastern and Western coasts, is in charge of the musical presentation of "Struttin' Along," and is also the author of the title song rendered in the show.

"NEW SOLUTION OF THE NEGRO PROBLEM" TO BE THE SUBJECT OF CHANDLER OWEN'S LECTURE ON MAY 7TH.

Famous Editor and Orator To Fill Many Engagements in the West.

The desire of the local public, as expressed in numerous letters and telephone messages to the Eagle office, is to hear THE NEW SOLUTION OF THE NEGRO PROBLEM propounded by Chandler Owen, when he delivers what will probably be his only lecture in Los Angeles, at Labor Temple, Monday night, May 7th, under the auspices of the Eastside Mother's Club. The subject is a most practical and timely one, and the views of this brilliant and fearless champion of Race rights on this vital topic will be heard with the keenest interest.

Oakland, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Butte and Helena, Mon., among other far western centers, have arranged for Mr. Owen to speak, so that his Western tour will be a very busy as well as extensive one.

Grand Opening Of Undertaking Establishment.

CONNER-JOHNSON & CO., UNDERTAKERS, HAVE BRILLIANT AFFAIR

By: Edgar L. Dorsey

On Saturday and Sunday, March 31, and April 1st, Conner-Johnson Company threw open to the public their undertaking establishment at 1400 17th street, Los Angeles.

Quite often, in judging the merits of a Colored business concern, one speaks of it as being the fines the race has. In this particular instance, it can be truthfully stated without fear of contradiction from anyone, that Conner-Johnson Company has given to the public the finest undertaking establishment, irrespective of color, that this city can boast.

This, most creditable enterprise marks the realization of the hopes, dreams and ambitions of the senior member of the firm, Mr. Charles E. Conner, who, through many years of hardship, sacrifice and business ups and downs has, with the able and invaluable co-operation of Mr. S. P. Johnson and Mr. J. W. Griffin, worked untiringly toward this materialization of his ideal—to give to his race the finest that money could create in the way of mortuary service.

The architecture of the handsome building, which is two stories in height, is Spanish-Colonial in type, and presents an aspect both imposing and pleasing.

On the first floor is the exquisitely decorated reception hall; also the two offices. A room half the length of the building on the right hand side gives ready access to three individual staterooms, where bodies lie in state for private view. The left portion of this half is the chapel, which seats 150 people, which can be increased by opening the glass doors of the reception room, to include that additional space.

Each room is exquisitely decorated in an individual color scheme. The woodwork throughout is walnut. Mahogany furniture equips the offices, while exquisite wicker furniture, and overstuffed pieces comprise the rest of the furnishings.

In the display room upstairs caskets are shown, ranging in style and price from the most modest, to the most elaborate and costly. The remainder of the second story comprises the living quarters of Messrs. Conner and Johnson and their families.

In the rear is the morgue, also the garage which houses the rolling stock of the company.

No pains were spared to make the reception a success, and Conner-Johnson Company deserve much credit for the manner in which the guests were accomodated. Assisting in the receiving were Mrs. Charles Conner, wife of the senior partner, and Mrs. Tod Butler of Oakland. Mrs. Conner's houseguest. She came from Oakland to attend this affair as the representative of the undertaking firm of Hudson and Butler, of that city.

It is gratifying to note that the building was erected by colored workmen, under the supervision of Mr. W. H. Bryant, and much of the handsome furniture was made by skilled Race cabinet makers.

Conservatively speaking, this business represents an investment of something over forty thousand dollars.

The Eagle wishes the firm of Conner-Johnson Company well-deserved success.

GRIFFITH JONES, EMINENT ATTORNEY SPEAKS AT DOUGLAS TEMPLE

On Easter Sunday during the evening service Griffith Jones, well-known attorney delivered an address at the Douglas Temple. The hall was packed to capacity, chairs having to be brought in for the purpose of accommodating many who were unable to secure seats.

The speaker, referring to the Easter occasion stated that it was not so important to recognize the fact that Christ had risen as it was to realize the truth that Christ should reign. ""There are many" said the speaker "singing songs of praise upon this day to whom the Easter season merely means new bonnets and greater display."

Mr. Jones declared that it was incorrect to say that we are living in a Christian era and it was not true to say that Christianity had failed. "Christianity," said Mr. Jones, "has not failed, simply for the reason that it has never been tried and when the teachings of Christ are really put into effect, there will be no further need of courts, jails or penitentiaries."

"True Christianity," said the speaker "does not question a man's color but regards the character of a person as of the utmost importance." Mr. Jones states that selfishness was the great curse of the day and that until officials realized that the true spirit of Christianity was service to their fellowbeings, there would be distress and discontent in our national life.

Attorney John J. Craig was also upon the platform. Mr. Craig who is a candidate for the Board of Educatio stated that he did not desire to infringe upon the evening's service by making a political speech but he briefly referred to the now famous Hutson case in which he, acting as attorney, recovered a judgment against the Owl Drug Company for discriminating against one of our colored people.

Mr. A. L. Bartlett, candidate for Congress, made some very appropriate remarks. He stated that he was in favor of the Dyer anti-lynching bill and pledged his word to our people that he would do his utmost if elected to see that no more such outrages took place as that in Inglewood a few months ago. Mr. Bartlett"s remarks were received with much applause.

Miss Florence Griffith Jones, a child of twelve years and daughter of the speaker of the evening, was called upon to make a few remarks and said that she was pleased to be present because she know "that the colored people were Daddy's frioends.

Dr. Shields closed the service by emphasizing the necessity of the colored people supporting those who in the past had proven themselves to be the friends of our race.

U. S. NEGROES REFPSE TO DIG COAL FOR IMPERIALIST FRANCE

By Harry Godfrey

George S. Daugherty is a former deputy police commissioner of New York City. Now he, with his brother, Harry V. Daugherty, runs a detective agency which maintains a private uniformed police and which advertises to do "industrial plant observations."

Several weeks ago Harry V. went to Europe. When he came back he brought with him a money-making scheme, the biggest strike breaking project ever essayed by a member of the gentry which has coined millions in that gentle trade; nothing less, in fact, than a plan, all worked out and agreed upon with a Paris ""labor agency," to send thousands of American Negroes as strike breakers to dig coal under the protection of French bayonets in the Ruhr.

For this, Daugherty, or the Daugherty agency, was to receive 50 cents a day for each Negro provided. It was a gorgeous plan. The only trouble was that it struck several snags immediately after the jubilant announcement was made by the gentlemen who would have profited.

According to Daugherty, it was found that not more than a handful of Negro miners could be found who were willing to dig German coal for France, even at wages equivalent to $7.00 a day and with board and lodging thrown in.

Word was received here from Washington just about the time Daugherty gave out that statement, to the effect that the government would take a "thumb down" attitude if the project were brought before it.

So now it seems as if Daugherty detective agency will have to worry along on what it can make from its private police, its "shadowing," its "industrial plant observations," and from its supplying of "large bodies of men for industrial organizations" of which Daugherty told the French labor agent.

REV. MITCHELL'S REPLY

It is stated by William Z. Hoper, L. Booth and G. W. Hollins that I was discharged by the Wall Street Christian Church. I wish to say that I am still Pastor of the Wall Street Christian Church. There are a few stray sheep such as the individuals who sent out the falacious announcement in the paper, whom I could not pastor upon the hills of progressiveness nor by the stilled waters of enlightenment. All the faithful sheep of our flock united hand and heart in the purchase of the spacious corner, 3rd and Hooper avenue upon which we have already erected a summer place of worship, comfortably seating 500. Also we have incorporated under the historic name of the Wall Street Christian Church.

M. F. MITCHELL, Pastor.

ELKS EASTER BALL SUPERB FUNCTION

The Grand Easter Ball, given at the Armory, Exposition Park, on Wednesday night, April 4th, by the Elks Golden West Lodge, No. 86 was one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind in Los Angeles' social annals.

Some sixteen hundred people attended this distinctive dance, and the great assemblage of beautifully gowned women and men in formal evening attire presented a brilliant spectacle.

The members of the Alpha Delta Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha national college Fraternity, are preparing to launch their annual Educational Campaign, beginning Sunday, April 23rd and terminating on Sunday, May 6, 1923.

Patrons of education, and the many friends of the young men will remember the successful campaign conducted by them last year and will, no doubt wish them greater success for this year.

Announcements of mass meetings, will be made in a late issue. The campaign promises to be one of the most beneficial movements undertaken by members of the race, not only in this community, but, as the campaign is national in its scope, the game can be said of other communities as well.

Mr. Hezikiah Gafford of Los Angeles made a flying trip to visit his uncle, Mr. George W. Lobo of Los Angeles. Edward Jones and little sister Mary Ellen Reed of Boynton, Okla. have joined her husband who preceded her in this city.

Where to Attend Church

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
1252 East 25th Street.
Rev. B. R. Guy, Pastor.

Easter services at this church last Sunday were splendid. A very large attendance at the Sunday Shcool and the children rendered a very interesting programme, which was highly appreciated by parents and others present.

The morning services were well attended and a goodly number of visitors from San Diego, and other places were present. The Pastor spoke from the text. "He is not here, He is risen."

Te Endeavor Services were very impressive and instructive.

At the evening services, the choir rendered a splendid program which was highly appreciated and complimented by the vast audience present. The Church has been beautified inside recently, and you are cordially invited to come and help us in a Spiritual Revival from April 3rd to 15th or longer.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
34th Street and Central Avenue.
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Pastor.

Easter Sunday was appropriately observed in two splendid services. Rev. J. W. Johnson was the speaker at the morning hour and brought an excellent message on Practical Christianity. In the evening the Sunday school presented a fine program of recitations, declamations, songs and instrumental numbers. The outstanding musical number was the violin solo by master Warren Boswell. All the little folks played their parts well. There were three accessions to the membership of the Church during the day.

The pastor left the city Monday morning for a brief rest on Catalina Island. He will return for the services Sunday April 8th. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

THE FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister

Easter Day in historic old Eighth and Towne Avenue A. M. E. Church was a gala afffair religiously thruout the day on last Sunday. Beginning with the early sunrise meeting when hundreds of worshippers assembled, the Sunday School at 9:30, and preaching again at 11::00 a. m. with the great throng that crowded the church, with a wonderful Easter consecration service by the Allen G. E. League at 6:15 p. m. and closing with a blaze of glory in the Sunday School Easter exercises at 7:30 p. m. The Sunday School processional lead by Rev. Ward and Superintendent Orma Stratton was a splendid feature of the latter. The children, under direction of Mrs. Lydia Smith Ward did credit to themselves. Prof. Bartlett directed the music. Miss Catherine Bowers was the organist and the youthful players in the orchestra and the singing of the youthful soloists and of the birds made the resurrection songs ring joyously. The offering for the day was $275.00

Pastor Ward preached from the text "He Is Not Here" at 5:00 and 11:00 a. m. respectively. The Choir under the direction of Organist Elmer C. Bartlett at 5::00 a. m. and the two choirs at 11:00 a. m. excelled all past records. The soloists at the morning services were Mrs. Pearl Rose, Miss Ruth Woodruff, Mrs. Emma Smith and Mr. George Copeland. There were sixteen accessions to the membership of the church. Seven children and one adult received the rites of holy baptism. The services were great; and Easter day was well spent.

The church was appropriately and beautifully decorated by the Welfare Club, assisted by other auxiliaries. Easter eggs were distributed to the children at the Sunday School.

Pastor Ward will occupy his pulpit at Eighth and Towne Avenue Church next Sunday.

The Mock Conference by Stewardess Board No. 2 and the Sewing Circle will be given at Eighth and Towne Avenue Church Monday evening, April 9, 8:15 o'clock. The public is invited.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
Meeting in Odd Fellows Hall at East 8th and Wall Streets.

We had a splendid service both morning and evening. Our Bible School was well represented. Brother G. W. Hollins is the superintendent. He is on the job. Our church is now without a minister. The Christian Missionary Society of Southern California will furnish us a minister each Lord's Day until such time, that we will be able to secure the services of a regular minister, which will be in the near future.

Elders G. W. Hollins, L. Booth, Wm. Z. Hopper.

BIRCH ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—

Quite an appreciative audience witnessed the closing words of Elder F. C. Cothran, at this church Easter day. He said "This is one of the momentous days in the historical events of the calendar of the world. It is nationally celebrated as the resurrection day of our Lord. And how befitting because it occurs at the Spring time of material, vegetable life. For indeed it is a time when all nature shouts, in vociferous affirmation, resurrection, life. The forests, grass and flowers cast aside their shrouds, and leap forth from the graves of water, filling the world with the delightful and refreshing fragrance of resurrection life and beauty." He called attention to the words of the master logician of the New Testament, which are recorded in I Cor. 15:20 "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept." In the argument supporting the resurrection of Christ, he said, Paul used what is known as the argument of the absurdity of the contrary supposition. These absurdities of the contrary supposition are five: 1st, Christ is still dead. 2nd, the gospel is a delusion. 3rd, The apostles are liars. 4th, the saints are lost. 5th, the Christian life is wretched misery. 1 Cor. 15:13-19. How Exultingly triumphant is his ringing conclusion. But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. Easter program under the auspices of the Bible School. I. J. Williams, Superintendent was presented by Sister S. Leed, and Sister F. C. Cothran at 8:00 p. m. The attendance upon this occasion was praise worthy and the children played their parts to the complete delight of all.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH—
West 36 Street and Normandie Ave.

Easter Sunday Trinity worshipped in the fullness of faith in a risen Christ at 9:30 a. m. every child that attended Sunday School had the Easter spirit. At 11:00 a. m. the old veterans of the cross was waiting to hear again that sweet message that perpetuates their hope for eternal life. He is risen. The pastor preaching from St. John 20 Chapter, 15 verse. Text supposing him to be the gardener, conveying the thought the keeper of our souls at 7:30 p .m. Under the supervision of Mrs. Spikes Farnell Garrison and Miss Ragland the Sunday School Easter exercises were the feature of the evening rendering a beautiful program Sunday, April 8. LINCOLN ALUMNI HONOR LIONS INSTILL FIGHTING SPIRIT FOR GRIDIRON 1923

Lincoln University, Pa., March 21. —With the opening of Spring the Old Guard of the Orange and Blue motored out to honor nineteen heroes of the past football season. The students and faculty turned out en masse to witness the colorful occasion.

Dr. Lewis of Philadelphia, in behalf of the Alumni Association, and the Graduate Manager, Dr. W. G. Alexander of Orange, N. J., presented nineteen blue sweaters bearing the orange "L" to the victors of the Howard-Lincoln Classic. Manager Sterrett, Ex-Captain Coston and Whirlwind Johnson, Captain of the grid whelps for 1923, made stirring speeches.

As a result of the occasion the spirit of the Quakers for the coming season is quickened. With but two of the 1922 Varsity, "Sty" Woods and Jacques, going out the squad of the coming Autum will suffer but little thru loss of numbers. One of the new features of the 1923 schedule is that the game with the Hampton "Seasiders" will be staged in Baltimore.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDING ITS SERVICES IN THE Y. M. C. A. 9th & HEMLOCK

Our Easter Services were marked with Divine approval throughout the day. Many glad hearts welcomed the splendid lot of Children out to Sunday School and the Lesson was certainly enjoyed by all. Superintendent Mrs. C. R. Evans was in good form to expatiate on the story of the Risen Christ, while Mrs. Gallerson, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Johnson, and others were delighted at the success of their effort in preparing the little ones for the occasion. At the 2:00 o'clock service Dr. Prowd preached from the Text-Col 33. 1, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above."

Truly it was a blessed time of waiting on The Master. All were refreshed. At 4:00 p. m. the Children had their exercises, and each did praise-worthily. The Room was full of visitors who expressed themselves amply repaid for coming out to the service. At night Mrs. S. Bass kindly took the place of President J. E. Prowd who was accidently absent, assisted by Prof. Greer, Mrs. Bass conducted a very helpful B. Y. P. U. Easter program, and that to the satisfaction of all present. The closing service was conducted by the pastor who spoke on the reclaim of Peter. This Sunday will be a special one with us it being Communion Sunday, we therefore expect all the members out, and we cordially invite our friends. Come praying for a blessing.

H. D. PROWD, Pastor.

MT. ZION BAPTIST CHURCH—
Third Street and Traction Avenue.
Rev. Archie J. Williams, A. B., M. S. Acting Pastor.

We had a great time at Mt. Zion Sunday all day.

The Sunday School was well attended and the Easter program rendered by members of the School was excellent.

The pastor spoke at the morning service from the subject: "Walking With Jesus," at the evening service: "God's highest gift to man is the power of an endless life."

The choir rendered sweet music at the morning service, singing special Easter Music. A beautiful number, "Let Him In" was sung by a quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Arnold, Mrs. Estell Taylor and Rev. Archie Williams. The pastor was the soloist at the evening services, singing: Rodney's "Calvary."

The pastor speaks at both services next Sunday morning subject: "Failing to recognize the day of Our visitation." Evening: "Seeking God's Kingdom."

The quartett will sing at the morning service:: "The World knew not Jesus."

METROPOLITAN BAPT. CHURCH—
37th and Paloma Streets.
Rev. M. C. Carter, Pastor.

The two weeks revival meeting which was carried on by our Missionary, Rev. R. H. Wade at our church, came to a close Easter Sunday. Five young converts were added to the fold and several Baptists renewed their church membership. Indeed it was a glorious meeting. Easter Sunday morning the Pastor filled the pulpit and preached a soul stirring sermon on the "Resurrection." Matt. 28-6. The beautiful anthems and impressive spirituals rendered by the choir under the direction of Mme. Outley added much to the services. Sunday evening Rev. Wade preached the baptismal sermon to the converts. Little Mary and Marion Jackson were baptised. Other converts will be baptised Sunday morning April 8th, 1923.

The Pastor will fill the pulpit Sunday, April 8th.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH ZION.—
Corner of Pico and Paloma.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor—Res.1217 Paloma Street.

"But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." 1 Cor. 15:20 verse was the text used by the pastor in bringing to our hearts a glorious Easter message. An appreciative audience joined in this wonderful Easter celebration. The holy communion was partaken of by a very large number. Tehisnging by the choir was excellent.

An Easter program by the Sunday School at 7:00 p. m. and another by the choir at 8:00 p.m. were enjoyable features.

One cannot afford to miss the type of sermons Rev. Shaw brings to us week after week. His work in Los Angeles and community is truly uplifting. He will occupy his pulpit at both services on next Sunday, April 8th.

This church aside from being a home church is a great community church with a profitable program. We invite you to visit it and make it your home.

Read and subscribe for the Brotherhood Monthly" published by one of the Church auxiliaries and edited by the pastor Rev. Shaw. It will be worth while.

SCOTT CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—
Pasadena, Calif.

For four consecutive years, Easter has been celebrated at Scott Chapel M. E. Church, Rev. B. J. Jordan, Pastor. This Easter, "The Holy Pageant," by Mrs. Myrtle Mills was supposed to be the most inspiring ever witnessed.

The beautiful message of the resurrection was portrayed in pantomime, music, lighting effects, costumes of the period in all characters.

The angels, the settings of the shepherds. Herod, Judas, Pilate, Marys, Elizabeth, the wise men and the resurrection.

All of those who were present could not help but believe in reality of the living Savior.

To Mrs. Mills must be given the honor of this wonderful creation. Each year her creative ability has known no bounds. She has been ably assisted by Mr. Samuel Danley Jr. who is considered an electrical wizard in his manipulation of electricity to produce the lighting effect.

Scott Chapel is proud of Mrs. Mills, and well might Pasadena and not only Scott Chapel and Pasadena. But she would do honor to any community. She is indeed a genius.

WESLEY CHAPEL—
Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor.

Fresh with the breeze of early morn the robed choir hailed the resurrection with song amazing in its intonation and serious with the nobility of sacred music.

The rendition of "Victory! O'er Death and the Grave" scored a triumph for the choir and its director, Prof. W. V. Howard. The Choir, most ably assisted by its organist, Mrs. Markham, sang into the heart, their tones effloated out with rare meaning and utter simplicity. Their voices were as vibrant as an organ, as direct and eloquent as the scriptures. They transplanted the large number of hearers into the quiet spirit of the church service, telling how profound a part music should be made to bear in the message and influence of religion.

"The Empty Sepulchre of Easter," was the subject that inspired the pastor to preach a most eloquent and impassionate sermon. There was a proper setting for a splendid sermon, a crowded congregation, sweet appealing music by Messrs Gladden, Rollins and the Choir.

At the evening services the children held sway and with youthful glee sent forth their speech and song to the delight and ecstacy of parents and admirers.

Much credit is due to the pastor and church for the services of Sunday. They were all that could be asked by the most critical observer. Throughout the day the dining room of the church was popularized especially in the morning when the choir after a feast of song treated the congregation to a most appetsing breakfast.

BETHEL CHURCH OF CHRIST—
Hooper and Adams Street.
Elder Wm. A. Washington, Pastor

The pastor occupied the pulpit both morning and evening.

The subject of the morning sermon was found in St. Luke 24:5. "Why seek ye the living among the dead."

He espoused the promise of the Messiah through the prophets, beginning in Genesis and ending up to John the Baptist.

Without a word of Revelation I should still be convinced that Jesus Christ arose from the dead.

All of us need to be resurrected from our dead selves, to come from out of the comb of passion and pride. The world has always needed a resurrection morn and never more so than today. He is risen.

The subject for the evening sermon Job. 9:32-33. The importance of accepting Christ as our Daysman.

This was a very touching message backed up with power and our souls feasted on the word. The appeal touched many young men who are in need of this Daysman. Two additions were added to the church.

Wednesday afternoon 2::30 Sisters Missionary Meeting.

A. M. E. CHURCH—
Duarte, Calif.
William Prince, Pastor.

Our Easter Services were the best that have been held in the history of the church. Sunday school services were held at 6:00 a. m. after which the Superintendent distributed Easter eggs to the children. At eleven o'clock the Easter sermon was preached, the text being taken from Mark 16 chapter and 7 verse. A good number of members were present to take communion.

At five o'clock, the young people rendered the beautiful Easter cantata, "The Easter(Witness" which was directed by Miss Jennie Lockett. They were assisted by William Prince Jr., of Pasadena and Mrs. Servan of Monrovia. Mr. Joseph Bronson delivered a very able address on, "The Significance of Easter." The whole affair was a great success and much praise is due Miss Jennie Lockett, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Bronson, Mrs. McClay, Mrs. Beckham and others. Mrs. J. C. Redd, our choir directress, was highly complimented for the splendid arraingement of the music for the morning service.

ROSITA

By: WENDELL P. GLADDEN, Jr.

PART III.

Life at the La Casa Nueva began anew. Rosita sang and danced, but there was a marked change in her attitude, her personality. And when she smiled it was not for the idlers who sat gazing at her with wistful eyes. She thought only of King Harmon.

The girl had decided to dedicate her life to another calling. She too had been influenced by King's, clean living, and manliness. Her better nature asserted itself. Rosita could live no longer in Mexicali. She must go.

Several days later when King was preparing for his departure with Jene to the States he received a note from Rosita asking him to pay her a last visit. He informed Jene of his intention to visit the girl and promised to call for him at a certain hour.

King made his way to the girl's' house. He was about to knock at the door when he ehard her sobbing within. What! Rosita crying? Was it because he was going away? The young man was seized with a mad desire to go boldly into the room, if necessary to her rescue. Yet, he did not wish to be an intruder. Receiving no reply, he entered, for the door was not locked.

Rosita was seated near the window. It was an evening in late summer. She neither saw nor heard King as he approached.

"Oh, God, make me worthy to undertake greater tasks, a larger work. Dear, Lord, thou knowest my heart. I have been true and upright. But the man I love has found me in that cursed La Casa Nueva! What will he think? Will he believe me? Forgive me, Lord. Make me worthy of him." She had been weeping, pouring out the yearnings of her heart, laying bare her soul before the Great Comforter. She gazed out of the window at the decayed adobe houses, bits of shrubbery, and the glowing west which were symbols of the dying day.

King touched her caressingly, smoothing her fluffy black hair very gently. "'Rosita," he said, "Cheer up. We are all sinners. God will forgive. You have—," Here he spoke haltingly, his strong body shaking slightly. "You have inspired me, you have saved my life, and won my heart."

Aroused now from her pensive mood, she rose and faced the man she loved, hardly able to conceal her joy. King lookd at her admiringly. Her silken hair was dressed neatly, her brows black and long, her lashes lovely, behind which gleamed pools filled with burning love; there was a flush in her soft brown cheeks not unlike that of deep-red roses.

"'King, I am going home too. Mother is in San Diego. That is where I live. I must tell her of my desire to be of some useful service. She shall be assured that she will be taken care of. And you must come too."

"'Yes, I promise."

"King, Sherry has been released. He says that he wants me. And when I told him I did not love him, he struck me." She burst into tears.

"Never fear, Rosita, you shall be safe always." King said only this as he looked into her eyes, and kissed her trembling roseate lips.

PART .V.

Then the unexpected thing happened. A great thump on the door was heard. Presently, without warning, the door was flung open and there stood a huge form. It was "Doc" Sherry.

Harmon started, the girl still in his arms. He frowned, muttered something; then steadied himself. Rosita was put aside.

Sherry came forward, closing the door. His was an ugly, murderous look. He stared into the eyes of King who met his gaze unflinchingly.

"'Stop!" demanded Harmon.

"What!" Sherry shouted. "I come and find you here. You made me lose two thousand dollars. Scoundrel, rascal, suffer! Not satisfied, eh? You want to take Rosita away now. Never! for I am going to kill you!

He dre wforth his automatic and levelled it at King. Springing and bounding with cat-like agility, Harmon was upon his adversary. The bullet shattered glass and mirror and a tussle ensued. Rosita fainted, falling backward against a chair to the floor. Furniture and furnishings were overturned and broken. The men awore. But their muffled voices could be heard only by themselves, so intent were they on fighting to the bitter end. Clothing was soon reduced to rags. They were bleeding, bruised cruelly, but fighting still. Over and over again they rolled, grappling like savages.

"Brute! you shall not have her," cried King.

"I will!" Sherry was determined. King, being the lighter of the two was thrown about more easily but never failed to come back strong with bulldog determination. They fought on, Sherry saw the gun and reached for it, but was unsuccessful.

Rosita regained consciousness finally, and, beholding the terrible scene before her, closed her eyes. She looked again. The girl aroused herself. Again the men rolled over to where she lay. Sherry opposite her. She saw the shining weapon. Sherry reached for it, but Rosita brushed it aside, although she was in a weakened condition.

Kid Jose, defeated champion, and friend of Sherry, obeying orders given early in the day came to the gambler's rescue.

"Caramba! "he cried, talking. "I git you now. You git me in fight. I git you now."

King, however, in a last effort, freed himself and met the Mexican squarely with a blow just over the heart. Jose collapsed.

But Sherry grabbed the automatic and fired at King, missing him, but wounding Jene who had come, hearing the reports and noise, and was about to enter the room. He fell across the threshold, revolver in hand.

King acted quickly. He seized the gun and succeeded in holding Sherry at bay and later turning him over to authorities.

"Too bad, Jene," King said as he knelt over this manager's body. "You will be all right soon. The doctor says the wound is not serious."

Jene smiled hopefully. "Boy, you are a wonder," praised Jene. "When we go back home you can beat the champion of the world."

"No," quietly, from King. "I am through with the game. There is a greater call, a greater urge, a larger service awaiting me, Jene. I must quit.

"Yes, you are right, King. And wha, about Rosita?"

"'Oh, that has been settled. She is going home to San Diego and her mother."

PART V.

Jene nodded to Rosita, who smiled, as she sat at the piano, playing an old song. She sang too, and King became very sad. He thought of his mother. How he in the old days had knelt beside her while she told him of Uncle Remus and of the Arabian Nights, carressing him all the while. Then there were the later days when life had been unkind ot him. How he longed to hear her sweet voice again, to fell her magic, consoling touch.

"Rosita,"' announced Jene," I have relatives in Boston. They would be glad to have you. Would you like to study music at the Conservatory?—I believe it is the New England. I will help you if you like."

The girl jumped from the piano to the elder man's side. She looked at him with grateful eyes. He smiled.

King was in deep thought. He responded, however, when Rosita called him.

"'It is agreed that I study in the New England Conservatory of Music. Mother will receive proper care. I will also receive aid."

Harmon was pleased immensely. And long after the shadows had ushered in the night they sat, these inseparable three, discussing their unique plans.

In a cozy rose-arbor overlooking the calm Pacific near Santa Monica, Cal. ifornia two lovers made their vow. Spring had come again! All the world seemed happy. What a glorious chapter in the story of their young lives! None disturbed them there save a merry busy bee making his daily round to the perfumed flowers, while the soft zephyrs murmered only a message of love. And none, heard, save God, the greater call to service

By John A. Gray

Of what value is Art to the world? This question was asked at recent gathering, but a change in the conversation prevented a discussion upon it. The thought that came to us was —What part does the Negro play in the world of Art?

The American Negro has only the songs of his people that he can justly claim as his contribution to the world from a primitive standpoint. It is strange that our ancestors and even the present day African had and still has numerous forms of artistic endeavors, while we seem to have lost our talent for all but song. In this line we have a rich heritage.

Did it ever occur to you that most primitive people have some form of artistic expresion that is essentially racial?. The Indian has bead-work, pottery, basket-weaving, rug-weaving, etc., into which native designs are woven or painted. These designs are expressive of the Indian life. The African has pottery, basket-weaving, wood-carving, etc., that contain designs that are distinctively African. The reader will understand that we are referring to Art in the sense of its being expressive of a racial group and not to the efforts of an individual.

In later years we find individuals who have distinguished themselves in sculpture, painting, literatare, etc., but whose work, however, is not expressive of the race. In fact the race at large knows nothing of their work. Aside from Dunbar, whose rich contribution as a poet, give that realistic finish to our crude dialect and enables others to catch a glimpse of the inner soul of the Negro, there is no other figure in the world of literature who is known to the race at large and who has produced something entirely racial. Of course Dunbar has written other things that do not refer to the race at all.

We have yet to produce a painter who has caught the true spirit of the race, and who can reproduce on canvas a faithful portrayal of the soul of the Negro, through using his figure and scenes from his life as a medium of expression.

History shows that our first great ambassadors for the cause of the race, were the groups of singers who traveled over the country and finally went to Europe, who gave the world the first glimpse of the soul of the Negro. It was through song that we have gotten our greatest material consideration from the other people. Even today our jazz players have aroused the whole world with the primitive richness of our music.

Since music has been our greatest asset we should feel it our duty to cultivate and develop its possibilities. The world is waiting for new developments in music and foreign musicians say that our songs and their rhythms are the most vital elements that have been given to music in the last century. They are very enthusiastic about them and are using them in their compositions.

We are striving for recognition, equal rights and opportunity. We must fight continually the biter propaganda that is being directed against us every day. By utilizing the possibilities of our music we can sing and play our way into the hearts of the other man.

Art in its broadest sense is cultural and denotes refinement. Through the forms of Art mentioned above we have a chance to offset the false impressions that our enemies try to create.

By developing our own Art we will be compelled to appreciate the other fellow's Art and that means artistic growth. The value of Art to the world is that refinement, culture and spiritual development that results from a comprehensive contact with it. Art and literature does to the world what the fire does to the gold from the mine. We can not afford to let its possibilities pass us unnoticed.

BIG Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN PLANNED

A financial campaign has been planned by the Committee of Management of the Twelfth Street Center Y. W. C. A. to take care of the debt on the building due for 1923, and needed repairs. Five thousand dollars is the goal to be reached during Campaign week, April 23-30. Miss Manila Owens has been selected Chairman of the Campaign Committee and has already made many plans, to be announced later, to bring about the realization of the goal set.

In 1921, the women of the community in the first drive for our Y. W. C. A. succeeded in raising eight thousand dollars, of which fifteen hundred was used in furnishings, and sixty five hundred was placed as first payment on the buildings which were to cost eighteen thousand dollars. In 1922, three thousand dollars additional was paid, reducing the debt to eight thousand five hundred dollars. The women are extremely anxious to get the total debt cleared away as soon as possible in order to secure a much neded swiming pool and gymnasium for the young women of our city.

Campaign spirit is growing steadily and on April 23rd watch out for the BOOM!

THE MEMORS OF AN EX-SHIEK By One of the Old Masters.

Free once more from his devoted attendants, and his favorite, the ex-shiek seeks solitude nad peace of mind in his blue room, overlooking his beautiful rose-arbor and the sweet-scented bowers of his colorful court. He was aware that increased activity was registered among the back-biters, chewers, nibblers, and fellowshieks. And all of the Associated Shieks report favorably concern the tasks assigned nad the many duties imposed upon them.

The ex-shiek speaks: My tents in the Southland are golden colored. They are located in a snug valley where the sun sheds his parching rays down mercilessly. My journeyings are not long. The scene of my present maneuvers si close at hand. I grow tired of lounging, smoking, and chatting with my comely maidens. So I must make ready for the morrow when I shall retreat to the aged mountains and hills with the favorite of my harem. We shall not be content with hunting, and fishing; we will wander where the valleys miniature, are uninhabited, and streamlets sparkling, continuously flow. Ah, the flowers, wild, beautiful flowers! She will gather them and, nestling close and safely in the arms of her shiek, we will glory in them. I shall not tolerate other shieks trespassing upon my lanes or surrounding country; for I can relieve them of all they possess, and make war, if necessary. My steed, silken and black, is fleet, and will obey me and stay with me, in my emergency, and carry me swiftly back to my estate with my lovely queen clinging courageously.

Came a voice melodious, soft, like that of a whimpering scared child, from the minaret. The ex-shiek was returning alone from one of his romantic rides in the twilight purple and refreshing. When he heard the cry of one of his haremites, he started! What an infidel in his harem? A spy, what? He dashed into the court, leaving his steed with an attendant, and entered his magnificent edifice. Maidens, orientale, came tripping to him, smiling, laughing, cunningly enticing, but they held no charms for him now. He put them aside. Slipping into another den, he climed quickley to the rescue of his favorite, seizing his huge knift, he rendered the intruder helpless. The ex-shiek ordered his male attendants to rid his premises of the rival and victim. Meantime, the girl has come to his strong arms. The ex-shiek is perturbed, but carries his little burden of love down where the crescent moon peeps into his costly cozy chamber.

SUNSETS

(By: WENDELL P. GLADDEN, Jr.)

One day I stood upon a hillside far away,
Near aged trees and paths and winding stream and ledge,
To watch the mighty waters at the end of day
And see the silent sun slip o'er the ocean's edge.

Great streaks of yellow blending into red and gold,
Reflected back ten thousand jewels on the sea.
I was amazed for never did mine eyes behold
Such exquisite tints of sea and sky and harmony.

And as I climbed, I saw the shaking form of one
With hoary head, going slowly down the hill.
He too, with blinking eyes had seen the sinking sun—
The melting tints of sea and sky gave a thrill.

Just as the sun at dawn starts upward in its flight,
So I with youthful heart and limb, strode upward too.
And then I thought while gazing at the marvelous sight,
How near life's Noon I was, as solemn evening grew.

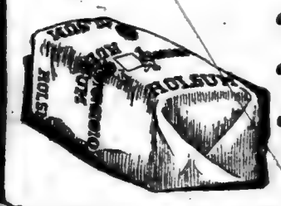
But he, the aged one, had stopped to rest and was himself a prayer,
For he had lived and loved—known peace and strife.
I do not know what joy he felt as he stood there—
I only know that he was near the Sunset of Life.

Making Money

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome savings of their daily wage. But I submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have reached a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

Business requires your sole attention—Stocks mean sleepless nights and days of worry—Property works by itself for you without your care.
Select it—Set it to work—it takes care of itself and will take care of you.

A good example of this sort of investment is found in a few of my special listings as follows:



Seven room house, East 40th St., $4200.00; $1000.00 cash.
Five room house, corner Hooper Ave., $3950.00 $1000.00 cash.
Three rooms East 51st St., $1750.00; $500.00 cash.
Five room bungalow, Naomi St., $4200.00; $700.00 cash.

EASTSIDE REALTY MAKES FORWARD STEP.

The Eastside Realty Company, in opening the Central Avenue Tract, directly on the and Central avenues, without any question took a stride forward that should be highly appreciated by this community.

The Eastside is establishing a new precedent for home-building for our group, and the opening of this new Shorbe Avenue Tract, directy on the thoroughfare that leads to the great Los Angeles harbor and the Southern beaches, is not only the best business opportunity for investment and for home-getting, but one of the most desirable health-locations that has ever been offered to the people of color of this section, and the management of Eastside Realty Company is to be highly commended for its success in securing such a desirable, as well as healthful location for the housing of the Colored people, since this is an asset to better citizenship that has been consciously, or unconsciously, as the case may be, overlooked by us.

"HE WHO LAUGHS LAST, LAUGHS BEST."

We have always advocated —All Men Up, and No Man Down. With this as our slogan, we have no desire at this to laugh at any difficulty that may come to any of our contemporaries. Hence, we are sorry to note the fact that our widely advertised New Age Dispatch had to put in its appearance last week half-dressed. We hope that our friendly and highly commendable contemporary, which a few months ago was prophesied by our very dear old friend, the Topeka Plain Dealer, to become the greatest newspaper of the West, will be able to again get itself properly gowned before its next appearance.

We are always glad when an opportunity presents itself for better education along journalistic lines for our people, for after thirteen years, we realize that as yet they have no idea of the difficulties nicumbent upon the owner and operator of a Colored newspaper.

Truly it requires brains to run a newspaper, but those brains, if you please, must be trained to the extent that they can properly direct financial affairs. Note, if you please, we are using "brains" and "mind" synonymously. Nevertheless, the idea we would convey is this: that sentiment goes a long way in the establishment, as well as the popularity of a newspaper, but the final analysis shows that ultimate success can only be built upon a substantial financial basis.

Those who would operate newspapers must learn that in order to succeed in this particular line, it is not necessary for them to tear down something that is already established in order to get material with which to build their own newspaper structure.

In one essential particularly we differ from the white man who made the civilization we cherish today as the greatest the world has ever known. Social differences should not play any part in business world, for what we are socially has absolutely nothing to do with our achievement in the realm of business. Hence petty prejudices, personal likes and dislikes, should not come in for consideration in the manipulation of a newspaper for, its aim should be the heralding of the news in the quickest possible manner for all the people at all times. Rhetorical flights, literary accuracies, grammatical correctness are not studied through the medium of the newspaper, for the newspaper, again, is destined to convey the news in the quickest way to all parts of its territory.

THE BYSTANDER

L. K. Beeks

This business of discriminating is becoming as widespread nad as cosmopolitan as influenza. Everywhere the Southerner roams prejudice is sure to go. A report from Oakland discloses the interesting news that our Assemblyman, Mr. Roberts, who promised not to turn the legislature upside down, and who has kept his promise felt the pangs of race hatred from the poisonous tongue of a hotel keeper. Of course his conduct was gentlemanly because we saw no enlarged or flashy headlined report of the situation in anybody's paper.

Sometime ago Harvard belittled itself, later, Stanford joined the ranks and now U. S. C., a fostering mother right under our nose, through the whims of a few flappers becomes involved. We do not pose as a champion of prizefighting, syncopation or of those things and acts which we could better do without but we do register our support against any person or institution who will accept our money and patronage and then refuse our presence and participation. Harvard in her endowment drive refused not one penny that her Colored adherents felt disposed to give, yet, no room for Mr. Bruce in the freshman dormitory. U. S. C. will gladly accept and has anything in the form of buillion sent endowment effort. It will take dollars sent by Colored people and mingle them indiscriminately with like money sent by any other race and do it unhesitatingly yet when a few members of the race choose to accept invitations extended to students, and further see to it that their company is provided for some scavengers of college life take the advantage of the situation and display a spirit that savors of Mer Rouge and has no place in this country of freedom loving people.

We are not a member of the pushing ourselves on brigade but any individual accepting invitations extended ought to be accorded due courtesy under all circumstances this is common sense and fair play.

Birth of a Nation.

It is strange that this picture continues to come here to be stopped. If there is an ordinance against such appearances why is it necessary for us to be continuously worried with this ill concocted effort. There are those among us however, who are not so astutely dignified or conquered by the cringing fear of the Southland that we cannot find both time and energy to protest whenever this insidious picture arrays itself. Whether it can or cannot be stopped permanently we are pretty apt to get action on the subject near election time.

Parades

It makes one feel proud to see those brave warriors, the plumed knights, Elks and others marching down the avenue alert and quick to the martial strains of our own music. Men, old and young, intelligent and free; women, bright-eyed, symmetrical and fair show no signs of fear and few traces of slavery. They demonstrate the progress of a few years and represent effort to understand and to fraternize. They would measure favorably with any people and be a match for any organization, Klu Klux or otherwise. We are glad to see them and as we stand on the sidelines feel like shouting "March on, brave warriors."

ON THE WING

Leaving Portland at 1:00 p. m. on Thursday we arrived in Seattle at 7:40 p. m. of the same evening, when we repaired to our hotel, the Golden West, which is a new venture since our last visit to this far famed city. With quite 150 rooms all thoroughly modern and richly furnished, with hot and cold water as well as steam heat makes it an ideal hostelry and a pleasure to stop there.

The management is especially courteous and you are made to feel at home. The moment you enter the portals of the Golden West. Mr. Russell Smith Proprietor with his associate L. Williams with E. J. Porter as manager indeed are entitled to the righest credit for ginving a practical demonstration of the capabilities of members of our group to conduct a first class hotel. The writer is under many obligations to Mr. Smith for the special courtesies extended us during our brief stay in Seattle.

After getting settled we called up one former agent and correspondent. F. R. Brooks who is also the manager of the famous Whangdoodle Quartette, he immediately looked us up, and we were on our way for a busy evening after a futile attempt to visit the Odd Fellows Lodge. We proceeded to the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, when the local band put on a very creditable concert.

Seattle has some very clever and creditable talent and such was demonstrated to the utmost on this occasion.

Dr. W. D. Carter is the pastor of this very progressive church and was as usual on hand to help move things along.

On the next day Friday, through the courtesy of Mr. Russell Smith of the Golden West Hotel in his Cadillac we made quite a survey of the great Metropolis of the Northwest. We visited the famous Douglass Apartment House and met the energetic and coming physician and surgeon, Dr. Calhoun. We visited the very splendid G. W. C. A. home and we pronounce it as very creditable indeed. We endeavered to get in touch with editors Deborn and Wilson of the Searchlight and Enterprize respectively but owing to the fact that was publication day we had to forego the meeting. We met our old time acquaintance any friend James Boyd at his palatial home and passed a few words. Last but not least we visited the home of the Elks Lodge of which E. P. Chainey is the Exalted Ruler and truly after viewing this home and going through every department we are constrained to say that it is the most beautiful, best arranged and best kept of any institution of its kind conducted by our people in the entire Western Country. We were so much impressed with this enterprise that we will in a future issue give a complete write up of this very progressive organization and its Seattle home.

Therefore after an eventful 14 hours in Seattle at 7:05 Friday evening we departed for Spokane, Washington and after meeting a few of its citizens and for the first time looking over this inland Empire we journeyed on our way and landed in our former home, Helena, Mont., Sunday at 12: 1115 p. m. and then things began to happen of which reception we shall relate in our next "On the Wing."

The more we travel and the more we see, the more firmly convinced are we that the salvation of any people is the proposition of production and for this goal all should enlist to become class A members in the army of production.

OBITUARY

Nancy Coler Wilson

Nancy Coler Wilson was born in Madison Ga., November 8, 1865 and died at her late residence in Los Angeles, Calif., Wednesday, March 28, 1923, aged 57 years, 4 months, 20 days. Mrs. Wilson was reared and educated in Madison; being one of 14 children born to her parents. She taught school four years. Her people moved to Atlanta, Ga., Here she met and was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Albert W. Wilson, September 2, 1886; and they lived happily together for 36 years, 6 months, 26 days. To this union 7 children (2 girls and 5 boys) were born. Four of these died in infancy and 1 girl and 22 boys survive.

In June 1888 Mrs. Wilson was happily converted and united with St. Paul A. M. E. Church, Atlanta, where she sang in the choir for more than 14 years and taught Sunday School for as many years. For several years she was president of Stewardess Board No. 2. She arrived in Los Angeles June 13, 1903 moving from Atlanta, Ga. to California. She with her husband united with 8th and Towne Avenue First A. M. E. Church second Sunday in June, 1904. She joined this church choir on the 1st Sunday in July 1903; and thus 34 years of her nearly 35 years in the Christian army was spent in singing praises to God. She was a devout Christian but has not been strong physically for 7 years. Her last illness dates back to Sept. 1921. For several weeks she realized that the end was near. She rejoiced that the Lord was with her. For three successive nights during her last days between midnight and 2 a. m. she sang and shouted praises to God. Daily she had season for prayer and singing with her devoted daughter, who never grew weary in caring for her mother while her father was at his post of duty. She requested her husband to ask Prof. Bartlett to play and sing "Peace, Peace Wonderful Peace." "I will not forsake Thee." She asked that the children stay together, and that they live Christian lives, uniting with the church. She said to her husband, "I've given up all but you; and now I must give you up too that God's will be done." She bore her illness with patience. She was a loving and faithful wife and mother. The end came peacefully as she lay in the arms of her daughter and baby boy. Other favorite hymns were "Prayer Is the Key." "Leaning On His Everlasting Arm," "Rescue the Perishing."

She is survived by her devoted and loving husband, three children, Willie, Clarabelle and Albert W. Wilson, Jr.; two sisters, two brothers, other relatives and a host of friends who mourn their loss.

SANTA BARBARA NEWS

Through the month of March there was no Santa Barbara news published due to the illness in your humble reporter's home. Many enteresting features were in evidence during the month among which was a program rendered at St. Paul A. M. E. Church as follows::

Mr. J. H. Wilson, Master of Ceremonies.
Our Race and Education—Miss E. Dawkins.
Violin Solo—Miss Elizabeth Adams.
Our Race and Fraternity—Mr. B. C. Goodwin.
A Solo—Mrs. E. McGowen.
Our Race in Music—Mrs. Harte.
Quartette—Messrs. Stewart, Payne, Reed and Henderson,—"Steady War no More" (encore)—"Steal Away Home."
Our Race in Business and Finance—Mr. William Boykins.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. R. L. Reed.
Our Race in Religion—Rev. C. Harris.
Our Race in Insurance—Mr. B. G. Goodwin.

The program was excellent and every number rendered was composed by the Negro. The guiding genius of this successful presentation and the participants proved that the Negro in Santa Barbara is classed second to none in his ability.

Last Lord's Day was indeed a great day for Second Baptist. (Rev. H. B. Thomas pastor), the worship was highly inspirational. Our minister spoke upon "The argument of the empty tomb." Mark 15:6 furnished this wonderful text. There was a large attendance to each service throughout the Easter Day. With two to join.

Owing to the fact that Sunday was the first Sunday the Lord's Supper took the place of the Easter program at Second Baptist Church and the Easter program will be rendered the Second Sunday.

The Presiding Elder Wilson was here for the third quarterly conference on last Monday night, the 2nd inst. at which time the mortgage of St. Paul A. M. E. Church (Rev. C. Harris, Pastor) was burned.

All who attended the Easter program at St. Paul A. M. E. Church Sunday night reports it one of the most enteresting they have witnessed in the history of the Church from the cradle Rool to the adult was a success due to the work of Mrs. Harte.

Mrs. T. Tyus has been seriously ill but is much better. Mrs. J. T. Stewart has been suffering with a rising in her ear but is better.

The Literary club meets next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. Sims, Thomas Apartment. The Club has a genius as a critic in the person of Mr. C. C. Price. Visitors welcome.

BERT FARMER FOR MAYOR

Mr. Farmer is a native of California. He was born in San Luis Obispo County. He has been a resident of Los Angeles, since 1893. He has served two years in the State Legislature, four years as City Councilman, two years President of the Council. In 1910 he was director of the National Census Southern California.

His Platform

He stands for economy, co-operation between departments, adequate fire and police protection and improvements and betterments of the harbor district. He favors a new City charter adapted to the needs of this community. He is a member of many of the prominent Clubs and fraternal organizations.

Mr. Farmer says: "The vital governmental need of Los Angeles is that its several departments work on a harmonious business-like basis. The present condition wherein the city council and Mayor's office are working at odds is deplorable. Those who suffer most by this condition are the citizens of Los Angeles. Our citizens are entitled to have a Mayor and a Council which will work in harmony. That I exxpect to bring about, I base this statement upon the fact that practically all of the candidates for the Council and other offices are my friends. The present incumbent admits he is a mere figurehead and that in harmony exists because he does not have the necessary power under the present charter. His campaign creed is that a new charter will give him that power. The facts are that a new charter, if adopted, will not become operative until 1925. The governmental affairs of this city must be administered in the interim under the present charter. I propose, if elected Mayor, to inaugurate at once a program of harmony throughout all departments of this city government and thereby put City affairs on an efficient and economical basis. It is quite evident that the city government of Los Angeles is not keeping pace with the City's commercial growth and civic development. The progressive spirit of our citizenry, which has made Los Angeles the Metropolis of the West, should be the spirit which permeates every departmental activity of the city's government.

If elected Mayor I shall put into effect a program whereby this spirit will be reflected in the constructive accomplishments of this City administration.

HYGIENE OF VOICE ESSENTIAL AFFAIR

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc., M. D.
1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

The hygiene of the voice is a more essential affair than is commonly thought. Who will deny that an agreeable style of speech is most effective sort of introduction to others, while an unpleasant voice grates harshly on the ear and very often repels the listener? A nasal twang and a guttural voice are handicaps to be overcome.

People who rasp out their words with sounds like pine wood leaving a saw; who slur their speech and chop off words acquire a faulty combination of the complex muscular movements involved in the powers of speech. The voice is by no means the simple thing it seems to be. There are first a group of sensations which receive impulses to speak. These must pass through sensory nerves to a part of the switchboard called the brain, to be guided and grouped properly into the muscles and nerves of the vocal cards, tongue, lips, palate and windpipe.

The voice is thus a combined and co-ordinated outfit of sensations, muscles, instincts and habits. If your voice is harsh, coarse, rasping and unrefined, you may blame the voice you heard in infancy. Speech is largely acquired by imitation of the sounds heard in childhood's happy hours.

To train a child to speak with a refined and delicate voice, the parents, nurse or guardian must be very careful of their own speech. They should see to it that the child hears only fully and carefully pronounced words, nicely polished sentences, with no "ain'ts," "don't," "has saw," "he seens," and "can't be dids," which all the school teaching in the world cannot undo.

Mechanical Defects Rare.

There are a few mechanical accidents, such as large tonsils, adenoids and trouble inside the noise which make voices raucous. There are too many persons with slovenly, stumbling, harsh, unpleasant voices. They do not believe it. Indeed, they are insulted when so informed, yet a European throat specialist has advocated a law that individuals with such speech should be forbidden to marry and have families, or, if already married, should be deprived of their children until a year or two of vocal training has been carried out.

Vocal Training Valuable.

An excellent method of acquiring a melodious, sweet and refined voice is to take singing lessons, not en masse as has been unsuccessfully tried, but personally from a singing teacher. Through no use is to be made for solo and chorus work, such discipline of the voice will help to produce a melodious voice.

People who try to sing may have a poor singing voice and are secretly laughed at, yet they may give great pleasure when they speak. Poor singing is an abomination, but such persons often have melody in their plain speech to compensate for their lack of it in song.

Children particularly should be taught vocal gymnastics. A good music teacher is needed to train a child's voice by teaching it how to breathe properly, how to expand the lungs, how to control the larynx, tongue, palate, lips and also how to improve the general health.

Unless a child's voice is taken in hand early, its vocal efforts will be of the common garden variety with its twang, chopstick words and staccato rhetoric. Far be it from me to advocate a stilted, artificial, broad-A type of foppishness, but pity the man or woman who, unconscious of his or her defect, talks like a poll-parrot or a Dick-Dead-Eye. Sympathy however, without well directed and graduated exercises for the voice is like sop to Cerberus.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed.

Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 East 9th Street. Phones 920389 and 822417.

Womens' Thoughts For Women.

In the matter of friendship I have observed that disappointment arises chiefly, not from liking our friends too well, but rather from an overestimate of their liking for and opinion of us: and that if we guard ourselves with sufficient scrupulousness of care from error in that direction, and can be content and even happy to give more affection than we receive, we may manage to go through life with consistency and constancy, unembittered by that misanthropy which springs from revulsions of feeling.

What is Doing Among the Churches.

The Easter Exercises at the three churches were observed very appropriately. There were special sermons at the morning hour and programs at night. The subject of the morning sermon at Allen Chapel was "What Easter means." It was plainly pointed out that it has a different meaning to rpeople of different judgment and temperament.

The Committee on program at the A. M. E. Church were Mesdames J. E. McCorkle, C. H. Daugherty, E. Chism and Miss Melba Allen. The decoration was presented by Mr. Willcox. Special among the numbers rendered were: Marguerette Chism, ten years of age, led in reciting the Lord's Prayer. Violin Solo by Aneta Johnson. Vocal, solo Robt. Buchanan. A Club Play, "He is Risen" led by Jas. Middlebrooks.

The program at the Second Baptist Church was in charge of Miss Bertha Wyley. Miss Wyley is quite a young Miss, and considering her age and experience the success of the effort bespeaks a future leader for the forces of the Kingdom.

Their program was rendered in two divisions, Primary and Senior, Mrs. Bevely having charge of the Primary, Mrs. Floyd the Senior. Park Avenue is noted for the crowd that attends all such affairs. FRESNO NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Davis.

The Second Baptist Church of Fresno has been wonderfully blessed in the past thirty days when the Rev. J. P. Hubbard, pastor of the Beth Eden Church of Oakland held revival services with the Rev. T. M. Davis, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Fresno. The Rev. Hubbard carried on very successful metings where the holy spirit was ever present, manifesting it in soul stirring sermons, singing, prayers, testimonies and confessions. After a week of these meetings Rev. Hubbard returned home.

The city had been so stirred up and revived by these efforts put forth that a telegram was sent to the Beth Eden Church on Sunday, March 18, requesting their pastor for another week. The Oakland church kindly consented. The good pastor toured back in company with his little daughter, Mary Elizabeth who was the guest of little Justitia Davis.

As a result of these meetings there were twenty five persons to join the church and twelve candidates for baptism. The remainder were restored to the church. Rev. Hubbard is dearly loved by the Fresnoites and is welcome to return at any time.

Easter was a very full day for the Second Baptist Church with the sunrise prayer-meeting at 4:00 a. m. Sunday School Services at 9:40 a. m.

The Rev. E. W. Moore, representative of the Home Mission Society of the Pacific Coast preached the Easter sermon, the subject being "Behold my Hands," which was very impressive, profound, and far reaching to a large congregation. Rev. Moore has been a life-long friend of Rev. and Mrs. Davis and was a pleasure to have him present on the Seventh Anniversary of this church's pastor. Besides these services was the large Baptismal scene, the Sunday School Easter Exercises where the Easter eggs were given out to the Sunday School scholars and a short sermonette was preached by the Rev. Moore after which was a short testimony service followed by the Lord's Supper.

The citizens of Fresno are cordially invited to attend a political meeting at the Fink Smith playgrounds Thursady evening after the program is rendered the candidates for office will speak.

The citizens of Fresno are cordially invited to attend a meeting held by the Rev. E. W. Moore Monday night and the Second Baptist Church. The topic will interest all for it is for the good of your city.

The choir of the Second Baptist Church will render their Easter program in connection with a lecture given by Rev. Moore Wednesday night. All are cordially invited.

Two other deaths the Stranger notes with sorrow—Rev. H. H. Williamson (the Jay Hawker) at Riverside, California, and Rev. N. C. Buren of St. Joseph, Mo., we pause and drop a tear.

The membership of Shiloh Baptist Church gave an informal reception for their retiring pastor, Rev. John E. Allen, Monday night. Many impromptu talks were given by the different departments of the Church as well as by the local pastors of the other churches. Rev. Allen goes to Denver to take the pastorate of Central Baptist Church after three years of hard work here.

Mrs. T. B. Butler is again convalescent after several weeks illness; also Mrs. K. C. Brown.

The Easter Service in all our churches was good and the one we saw at St. Andrews was especially good. The Sunday School under direction of Mrs. Louie Robinson Grere assisted by Miss Anita Page was great. The decorations were beautiful and in an abundance. The other service was good and very impressive. There were four baptisms, five read into full membership and eight fellowshipped, the music was good and everybody enjoyed the service.

The Allen C. E. League are looking forward to a big meet Sunday when the state president Payne Middleton makes his official visit here. He is well known here having been in the previous legislature.

Wow! Whoopee! Play ball. Say that old grand stand, bleacher and those field seats groaned under the weight of about 12,000 people who witnessed the opening game of the Pacific Coast League Tuesday at Morcing Field. The band played the crowd was merry and Gov. Friend W. Richardson threw out the first ball to Mayor Elkins who tossed it over the plate to W. H. McCarthey, president of the Pacific Coast League and the old ball game was on. It was real, it was earnest and Bill Hughes beat "Suds" Sutherlin on the slab and Sacramento, "the heart of California" won 33 to 1 in the opening game. Portland has a real ball team and looks like they will be in the running when the season gets under way good.

"Struttin Along" with Mamie Smith and her jazzy hounds open a three days engagement here Thursday at the Clunie and the old town is wild with delight in anticipation of the joy they are going to have when that curtain is rung up.

One more big joy this week when that old gong sounds down at the L street arena sending young Dudley of Oakland to the center of the ring in the main event with Gene Cline of Stockton. Dudley is considered one of the best welter-weights on the coast. This American Legion Benefit card is one of the best seen here in many years.

AT THE LEGISLATURE

The Assembly Judiciary Committee passed to the floor of the house with a favorable recommendation a bill by Assemblyman Emme of Los Angeles County, making it a misdemeanor for landlords to refuse to rent houses or apartments to families on account of children.

Another bill by Assemblyman Emme recommended for passage is one providing that the cases of women in police court may be held behind closed doors in instances where the defendant might be placed in an embarrassing position. Let's keep our eye on that one.

Action on the reapportionment bill will be delayed on account of the illness of its author, Assemblyman Edwin Baker of Los Angeles.

A bill changing the status of the Whittier State School was passed by the Assembly today after a long debate. The bill transfers the school from the department of institutions to the department of public instruction.

Westsiders Plan Big Show—Off for Wifie"s Sake; Also Invade Frisco, July 1st.

By William Mells Watson.

1555 Court Street Wilshire 3742

Those Westside babies grew very sweet on their wives and affinities at their last meeting, which makes it hard on bachelor members and alimony dodgers who are equipped with three or four sweeties, "although personally we can qualify." On Tuesday night, June 26th, just three days before hopping off for Frisco the boys plan to give our girlies one of the sweetest evenings of joy ever witnessed "out side of wedlock."

Never mind where, or how much it will cost, just stick to hubby till June 26.

Two Reps To Frisco.

Limbering up is the word with Westside these days as the pair who smokes the pill most accurately in next month's elimination contests are the birds who will be shipped to Frisco "free for nothing" to bring back three or four of the handsome 1923 Pacific Coast championships.

Notice—Don't' forget the Federation's postponed meeting takes place Wednesday April 11th.

ONCE A PIONEER, ALWAYS A PIONEER

Seventeen years ago, Hugh S. A. Cummings, a refugee from the San Francisco earthquake, came to Los Angeles and put out his shingle, thereby gaining the distinction of being the first Colored druggist to establish a business West of Denver, Colorado. Our esteemed contemporary, Mr. Lucian McMahan, was at that time engaged in the drug business in Denver.

Now again, with the spirit of hte pioneer, Mr. Cumings comes to Watts. The Colored population of Watts, like the "Gentleman from Missouri," has solved the landlord problem. It is the exception of find a tenant in our group here.

Mr. Cumings has demonstrated his confidence in the future of Watts by purchasing the corner at 405 South Compton Avenue, where he has already built a store.

At this location he serves his customers with unvarying courtesy and cheerfulness. He solicits our patronage, and is in every way worthy of the same.

ON THE WING

We arrived in Helena, Montana at 9:45 p. m. and were met at the depot by our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson whom we had wired as to the time of our arrival and with a Limousine in waiting were whisked to their cosy home where we were domiciled during our 48 hours stay in the Montana Capital. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson indeed made our stay a pleasant one and the sincerity of this greeting will ever remain a pleasant memory. They are among the leading citizenry of this fair city. Mr. Johnson si an employee of the city, while Mrs. Johnson is prominent in the Woman's Club circles of the Northwest and a staunch church worker. They were soon reinforced with that genial good fellow and all around high class citizen, Mr. J. E. W. Clarke, pioneer resident of Helena, literary genius, writer, newspaper correspondent and one of the staunch boosters for real accomplishments for the race. Mr. Clarke will be remembered by Eagle readers as a former correspondent from Pasadena during his sojourn there two years ago and his contributions from time to time to this journal. Only a few weeks ago, Mr. Clarke had the misfortune to lose his wife who had for 32 years been his help mate and was loved by all who knew her for her high character and services to this community and not alone to Mr. Clarke did sorrow come at her passing but to the entire great Northwest. However Mr. Clarke joined in with unstinted zeal and enthusiasm to make our stay one long to be remembered.

Was A Home Coming.

The writer had lived in Helena many years. We had labored here, we had joined in with everything that stood for progress, and we were touched indeed at the appreciation which was made manifest by a practicle demonstration of real and sincere friendship. For as soon as the word was flashed around the little town the telephone began to ring and the people would call and pay their respects.

It was Sunday and of course we worshipped at the same old St. James Church, the people were out in large numbers, they had come to hear the annual sermon of the Knights of Pythias. We were presented and were forced to interrupt the service by a short talk in which we greeted our former townsmen.

Big Reception Monday Evening.

The people headed by Mr. Clarke and Rev. Allen the talented and versatile pastor of St. James A. M. E. Church hastily arranged a public reception for Monday evening at which a most splendid program was rendered, consisting of song, music and speech.

Dr. Allen delivered a most inspiring address of welcome. Miss Ella Anderson, the nightengale of the great Northwest sang a solo and was compelled to respond to an encore. Mrs. Clara Howard Langley played a piano solo. Mrs. George M. Lee spoke on behalf of the Woman's Federated Clubs and Mrs. Judge Hard on behalf of the Pleasant Home Club and presented the guest of honor with the Club's Program and a beautiful picture of the Federated Club.

Mr. J. E. W. Clarke recited his own composition on Central Avenue and Mr. Callendar then introduced the guest of honor Mr. J. H. Rase, who for quite one hour held the undivided attention of the people of his former home in an address which seemed to inspire us well as to enthuse his hearers.

The evening was a great tribute to the editor and indeed demonstrated the high esteem in which he is held by the people of the capital city of Montana.

Visits Old Acquaintances

The next day it was our pleasure to visit quite a few of the business men and officials of the city, all of whom greeted us warmly. We paid a visit to the post office of the capital presided over by Mr. Henry Baker, who is the only postmaster of our group in the West, with a salary attached. After chatting over old times with the postmaster we paid our respects to the Governor of Montana, His Hon. Jos. M. Dixon, who greeted us quite warmly and although it had been more than a decade since he met us, he readily recognized us and called our name and did not have to be informed by our escort J. E. W. Clarke, as to the same.

Governor Dixon is hale hearty and well met. A native of North Carolina but a Republican from his boyhood and one of his first acts after his election to the office of Governor was to appoint Mr. Baker as Postmaster for the capitol building. He talked with us of things generally and asked us about the Hon. Hugh E. Macbeth of Los Angeles and paid to him a high tribute. As one of the greatest men whom he had ever met.

It will be remembered that Gov. Dixon was the National Chairman of the great Roosevelt Campaign in 1912 and in that capacity met and became intimately acquainted with the prowess of Mr. Macbeth.

Time passed swiftly and our departure from Helena was at hand and we again bid our good friend adieu and accompanied by our hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson we proceeded to the depot and our friends had gathered there to wish us bon voyage. We boarded the Northern Pacific for Billings, and there took the C. B. and Q. for Denver at which place we arrived on Thursday morning at 10:30.

We want to thank all our Helena friends for their great expression of appreciation and especially do we wish to express our gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, J. E. W. Clarke, Dr. Allen et al for courtesies extended.

WIVES STAY IN ISLANDS AS CAVALRYMEN COME HOME.

By Junius B. Wood.

Special Wireless to The Bulletin and the Chicago Daily News.

Copyright, 1923, by The Bulletin.

MANILA, April 6.—The departure homeward today aboard the army transport Thomas of fourteen enlisted men of the Ninth Cavalry discloses an almost unparalleled exhibition of governmental heartlessness toward families of married soldiers. Of the fourteen enlisted men leaving on the Thomas, six will abandon Filipino wives, two others who will be discharged from the army are paying $125 out of their savings for governmental transport and railroad charges for each member of their families, while the remaining six will preserve their families intact through funds advanced to them by the Red Cross and for the repayment of which they have pledged their army pay for many months to come.

SIX TO BE DESERTED.

The six wives who will be deserted added to those previously abandoned by American soldiers ordered home, will make more than a hundred homes that have been wrecked as a result of the government's penurious policy in the treatment of the families of enlisted men.

Seventeen former members of the Ninth Cavalry, all the fathers of families, now are in the Philippines, forced to remain here because they were unable to raise transport passage fares for the wives and children.

After more than thirty five years of honorable service as a unit of American fighting forces, the famous Ninth Cavalry, a Colored regiment, also has been practically wiped out by the brief army order issued last summer, which is a move in the present army administration's policy of "Filipinoizing" the American army in the Islands.

HEARTLESS POLICY.

That the War Department has not realized the suffering which its unexpected orders have entailed on the Ninth Cavalry, which has been stationed in the Philippines for many years, is shown by an investigation made by Brigadier-General Johnson Hagood, commanding Camp Stotsenburg. Out of 800 enlisted men in the regiment, a total of 277 had either legal or common law wives in the Philippines, while more than 100 are the fathers of children.

In contrast with the American policy of free transportation for the French and German wives and children of enlisted men, the government offered these Colored veterans the alternative of either deserting their wives and offspring here or transporting to their new posts at their own expense. The cavalryman's pay is $20 a month.

CHILDREN SUFFER.

About a hundred of those who were married abandoned their wives. Of the others, a majority mortgaged their future army pay to take their helpmeets and families along, Brigadier-General Hagood refusing to permit the abandonment of the children, whether legitimate or born from common-law marriages. Filipinos intensely dislike the Negro "mestisos," usually enslaving them when they are abandoned. In order to prevent such bondage the Red Cross agreed to advance the children railroad fare from San Francisco to Fort Riley and Fort Huachuca and the transport fare of $40 a head from Manila to San Francisco, which the government insisted upon collecting.

One Ninth Cavalry sergeant, who is still here, has been married to a Filipino woman for twenty-two years, and the couple have seven children, the oldest of which is 16 years.

Another cavalryman, who reenlisted while on leave in the United States for the purpose of rejoining his wife in the Philippines, was ordered to Fort Riley for duty a few days after his return.

NEAR RETIREMENT.

This man has been in the service for twenty-nine years and needs only one more year of service to retire on a pension. Many Ninth Cavalry members who had children born of common-law marriages had legal marriage ceremonies performed in order to comply with the immigration laws when they took their families home with them.

Although the government might be unable to afford the expense of transporting the families of its transferred soldiers to the United States, local officers assert that the War Department's home-wrecking policy could have been easily avoided by permitting married men to remain in the islands until their enlistment terms expired.—From the San Francisco Bulletin, April 6.

ASKS COMPLETE BAN ON DIVORCE

Constitutional Amendment to Abolish Decrees Urged by Justice Morschauser.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, April 12.—"The only way to cure the evils of divorce is to completely abolish divorce."

This is the personal opinion of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser, set forth in the April issue of the official magazine of the Knights of Columbus and in an interview made public today. Justice Morschauser presided over the Stillman divorce suit and others of similar prominence.

Justice Morschauser would have a constitutional amendment abolishing divorce. This, however, he thinks is "a long way ahead."

"I would have every divorce case tried in the open," he said. Publicity has a wholesome effect. It causes much talk, and the result is the formation of public opinion. This publicity has much to do with the disgust which is widely felt toward divorce today. Divorce is not the disgrace it should be, but the divorced man and the divorced woman are marked."

According to Justice Morchauser the divorced man is barred from political advancement and advancement in any walk of life. "What man with a divorce scandal attached to him succeeds in public life today?" he asks.

When asked whether the abolition of divorce would not promote immorality Justice Morchauser said:

"That is all rot. That is all nonsense. It would have no such effect. Its tendency in every way would be to protect the home."

Speaking of chicanary among lawyers in divorce cases the justice said:

"I have not seen much of that. As far as I know there has not been a single collusive case in my court. The collusive divorce practically does not exist. There is, no doubt, a certain amount of perjury in these proceedings. Men and women who would not lie about anything else will sometimes perjure themselves recklessly in divorce cases."

MAN ELECTROCUTED ATOP PARSENGER COACH

(Crusader Service)

NEW ROCHELLE, April 12.—When the Boston express from New York reached the New Rochelle station early today, the body of an electrocuted Negro was found on top of the first coach. The engineer and fireman of the train had noticed the flare of a short circuit as the train passed under the South street bridge at Mount Vernon. The dead man was Spencer Clark, until recently employed at the Blue Ribbon garage in Bridgeport, who left there several days ago to join the Barnum & Bailey Circus. He is believed to have been stealing a ride back to Bridgeport.

ETHICS OF JESUS INSUFFICIENT SAYS CULTURE SPEAKER

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, April 12.—In his closing address before the Sunday evening forum at the Ethical Culture House yesterday Alfred W. Meeting Martin discussed what he called "The Insufficiency of the Ethics of Jesus."

"As a moral teacher," he said, Jesus confined himself to the ethics of personal life, for the excellent reason that in Judea in his day personal ethics was the paramount issue. Social and international ethics, therefore, were none of his concern, and the fact explains why the world is still drifting on such issues as the spiritual significance of marriage and the ethics of divorce.

"It is safe to say that if the scope of Jesus' teaching had included these problems, our civilization would be further ahead than it is. For moral and spiritual clairvoyants Jesus had a distinct and exalted genius second to none."

ARREST FLORIDA SLAVE DRIVER

SOUTHERN BARBARIANS FORCED TO YIELD TO PUBLIC SENTIMENT AGAINST CRIME

SHERIFF IS CALLED PLAIN SLAVE CATCHER

Seeks Arrest of Able-Bodied Men to Turn Them Over to Contractors for 90 Days Paid $20 for Each Victim he Corrals

(Crusader Service)

Langdon, N. D., April 11.—Public indignation brought about the formal demand by the formal demand by the State of North Dakota that the State of Florida avenge the death of Martin Tabert, the farm boy who died in a convict camp at Clara, Fla., soon after he had been whipped with a seven and one-half pound strap for complaining that the shoes furnished him were too small.

Wielder of Whip Arrested

T. W. Higginbotham, the Warden who whipped Tabert, has been arrested. Gov. Cary Hardee of Florida has announced his intention of bringing before the Legislature at the session which opens next week the question of doing away with the whole system of "peonage" that claimed Tabert as its victim.

State's Attorney Gudmunder Grimson of Cavalier County was sent to Florida to investigate and check up on the various letters. Mr. Grimson returned to Langdon with a mass of letters, affidavits, etc., all of which went to show that the worst claims made in the letters written were but the best that could be said about the matter.

Sheriff a Slave Catcher

He found, he says, that Sheriff Jones of Tallahassee was little better than a slave catcher, who had arranged with the Putman Lumber Company for payment of $20 side money for all able men he could pick up and get delivered to their camp in the swamps to work for ninety days.

He found that returning money sent to men to liberate them was a regular system.

He found men willing and ready to swear to cruelties inflicted upon Martin Tabert.

He could not find any person who positively knew of the location of the grave of Tabert or one who positively knew that he was given a burial more decent than that of a dog.

He found that the Putnam Lumber Company was an $800,000 corporation who profited largely by the labor of unfortunate men, picked up and forced into their custody through trivial violations of the laws of the State of Florida.

Convinced of Tarture

The resolution, after reciting the facts of Tabert's imprisonment, the sending of the money and it return, his death and the investigation, declares that the Legislature is "convinced that said Tabert died as the direct and proximate result of physical abuse and torture inflicted upon him by the said Putnam Lumber Company and its employees, and more particularly by one T. W. Higginbotham and it si further believed,

"That such abuse occurred after the money intended for the payment of said fine had come into the hands of said Sheriff and should have been devoted to the purpose of releasing said Tabert, and that said Sheriff by connivance and conspiracy with the lumber company purposely refrained from either forwarding said money to Tabert or communicating to the senders thereof the facts as to his then custody or whereabouts, and that he purposely so indorsed said letter and caused it to be returned to the senders, to lead them to believe that he had been released from custody and prevent them from obtaining his release; and it is further believed,

"That a corrupt understanding and agreement existed between said Sheriff and said lumber company to the effect that the Sheriff should endeavor to obtain the arrest and conviction of men for pretended or petty offenses, to the end that when convicted they might be leased to said lumber company, and that for each convict so obtained from the custody of said Sheriff he should receive a cash compensation, and that said Tabert was a victim of such conspiracy.

"Be it further resolved, by the Senate of the State of North Dakota, the House of Representatives concurring, that the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Florida is hereby memorialized and requested by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of North Dakota, to cause a full investigation to be made of the circumstances surrounding the conviction, leasing and death of said Martin Tabert and to cause such action to be taken as will most surely and expeditiously lead to the punishment of all parties concerned therein."

BRITISH NON-PLUSSED BY WHITE NEGRO"

A peculiarity in One Soudaness Family to Give Birth to White Skinned Children.

London, April 9.—The principal medical officer of the Egyptian Government Hospital, at Port Said, writing to The Lancet, reports the admission to the hospital of an albino Negro, aged 25, with a perfectly white akin of curious shade and texture, brown eyes and flaxen hair. His father and mother were typical black Sudanese. They had a daughter and another son, both now dead, who were also white.

MARCUS IN TOILS OF LAW

(Crusader Service)

New York, April 11.—Marcus Garvey was in the toils of the law again last week, when the self-styled "Provisional President of Africa" was arrested by Federal agents on the charge of attempting to evade his income tax in these United States. Marcus was soon after released on bail, but the wags, noticing his frequent, nay, almost daily incursion into court, are spreading the tale that Garvey is trying to pick up a course in law without paying a tuition fee. Of course, the price is high, but then 'tis the sucker membership that pays!

GEORGETOWN EXCITED OVER DIAMOND FIND

(Crusader Service)

GEORGETOWN, B. G., April 10.—While Georgetown was excited over the rumored find of large diamond fields, diamond seekers in the interior were just recovering from their results of the celebration of the occasion. It was on February 15th that Caleb Heading, a well known diamond seeker of Plaisance picked up a stone weighing 45 1-8 carets in his 'tom' while searching for diamonds in his claim at Eping. He made no secret of his discovery and it therefore did not take long for the news to spread over the district. Soon after a certain area of the diamond fields was transformed into a merry makers' field. Guns were fired throughout the district in celebration of the occasion and men drank freely and danced. It was a big time in diamond land, for the men did themselves well, little knowing that a sensation was in store

B. G. LABOR UNION WILL REORGANIZE

(Crusader Service)

GEORGETOWN, B. G. April 12.—A conference was held yesterday morning by some workers in Georgetown of whom Mr. Hubert Crichtlow, secretary-treasurer of the Labor Nation, was one. Matters in connection with the future of the union were discussed and it was decided to allow the property to go to execution, the money collected between Thursday and yesterday to be deposited in the name of the Union. The property is owned by Messrs. Critchlow, W. Hosannah, and Dr. T. T. Nicholls.

It is understood that is was decided that one of those who took part at the conference should purchase the property for the composite body known as the B. G. Labor Union. Efforts will thereafter be made to reorganize the Union, bringing in all the sections including the clerks.

"Mo or Buses" Failures In Other Big Cities.

"After a seventeen months' trial, during which motor busses operated on lines parallel to the street car system, the citizens of Des Moines, Iowa, by a vote of two to one, eliminated the busses from their transportation scheme. The busses proved to be dangerous as well as unsatisfactory, and their only practical use is for 'feeder' lines and for limited emergency purposes."

This was the reply received by the Los Angeles Traffic Betterment Association, in answer to a query to Mayor C. M. Garver of Iowa City in regard to busses and street cars, and the results of dual service. At one time Des Moines transportation facilities were decidedly unsatisfactory, and the busses were installed in the hope of bettering them.

Alex. Fitzhugh, secretary of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, also reported to the local organization and declared that car service was slowed up fully ten per cent by the busses stopping alongside street cars in the crowded areas of the city. Neither service was able to give its greatest efficiency while in competition, he declared, and both organizations lost money for their stockholders.

Replies to a questionnaire sent out by the Traffic Betterment Association have been received from the Des Moines, Spokane, Wash., Kansas City, Mo., New York City, Baltimore, Newark, N. J., and several other cities in which the dual service had been tried. Reports were also received from the officials of the Investment Bankers Association of America.

In nearly every instance, according to William C. Warmington of the Traffic Betterment Association, the busses have proved entirely unsatisfactory in the capacity of "feeders" for street car lines and in certain interurban cases. The reports generally, he asserts, prove that the busses do not belong in the congested areas of large cities, and that wherever they have been tried and the question left to a vote of the people, they have been eliminated.

Spokane, Des Moines, Saginaw, Mich., Bridgeport, Conn., and Baltimore are among the cities cited which have eliminated busses from competition on crowded street car lines. In Baltimore the Public Service Commission of Maryland has ordered that the street car lines provide better service wherever a check showed this to be necessary, but in every instance the busses have been kept off the streets. The interurban busses are allowed to enter the outskirts of the city, and there connect with street car lines.

Kansas City, according to the report of John A. Prescott, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, has carefully studied the transportation problem, and has refused permits to bus lines where street cars already exist, and will grant franchises on other thoroughfares only after the majority of residents have given their consent. Thus far this has been refused in every case where it was sought.

"We are receiving scores of replies from officials in cities that have tried out the bus in competition with street railways," said Chairman Warmington. These officials emphatically declare that the busses only add to the congestion and difficulty of moving the people on street cars, and the busses have been voted out whenever the question was left to the people generally."

Eastside Independent Club Launches Campaign.

BERT L. FARMER.

THE EASTSIDE INDEPENDENT LEAGUE LAUNCHES THE "FARMER-FOR-MAYOR" CAMPAIGN.

In taking up the candidacy of Bert L. Farmer, the Eastside Independent League has not done so without good and sufficient reason.

In all previous campaigns in which we have based our argument on the high ground of fairness and general advancement of the whole people. In promoting all candidates whom we have heretofore presented to our own group, we have done so believing in the sinderity and integrity of the man, together with his ability to fill the office

We are standing for the Hon. Bert L. Farmer for Mayor of Los Angeles. Bert L. Farmer, a big, capable man with many years of experience in public affairs will go into the Mayor's office with his hands untied. Under the recent city charter which must remain operative during the entire term of the next Mayor, no matter who he is, Mayor Farmer sees his way clear and open to advance the city of Los Angeles along proposed civic lines and at the same time conduct his high office in a sense of fairness and consideration toward all classes of our citizens. Unlike the present Mayor, Mr. Farmer sees much that he can do for the uplift of Los Angeles while the proposed new charter is framing. And in keeping with the big, generous spirit of the man, he pledges himself to all uplift movements which make for the betterment of the whole people.

We are not setting ourselves aside as a separate and distinct part of the people of Los Angeles for which special laws must be made and favors granted. We simply ask that the chief executive of this great city enforce the laws under which the city is operated in such a way as to preserve the peace and safety of all.

To that end and fairly believing in the man we have selected to support, we ask all progressive citizens to help elect Bert L. Farmer for Mayor of Los Angeles.

WEST SIDE MISSION A.M.E. CHURCH—
Major G. W. Prioleau, Pastor.

Although there are many children of the Mission who are sick on account of the measles and other complaints, the Sunday School was largely attended with three new pupils who were brought to the S. S. by their father. The Lord is blessing the Mission by raising up friends for it.

Sunday night, April 15, will be the opening of our week of prayer, looking forward to a revival of the church. If the Lord permits, Bro. Middleton of the M. E. church, Atlanta, Ga., will preach for us.

Last Spnday the pastor preached to excellent congregations, who seemed to have appreciated his efforts. Come out to the Mission, get helped and then in return, help.

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
B. R. Guy, Pastor.

Commendable services at this church Sunday, April 8th. The Sunday School was well attended and interest was good; offering splendid. The 11 o'clock services were well attended and those present, both visitors and members, seemed deeply interested and seriously impressed with the services. Rev. R. F. Jones delivered the sermon and the Holy Spir it was plainly manifested. The Endeavor services created some earnest discussino, which was interesting to all present. The night services were well attended. The pastor spoke from the text, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen. The Revival services of last week were attended with much interest, and are still in progress this week. The sermons delivered last week by the different ministers were of a deep spiritual character and the audiences were seriously impressed. The Helping Hand Club has put a new curtain around the altar which adds very much to the appearance of the same.

Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister.

Rev. Ward will occupy his pulpit at Eighth and Towne Avenue Church Sunday at the morning and evening services. Both choirs will sing under direction of Organist Elmer C. Bartlett at 11 a. m., and the Senior Choir sings again at 7:45 p. m.

Interesting and inspiring services were held in Eigth and Towne Avenue Spiritual church last Sunday. Pastor Ward preached morning and evening, and the spiritual tide ran high. There were eight accessions to the membership of our church. The singing by the two choirs was good. Many prominent visitors were in attendance.

J. W. Price, Pastor.
202 Thaxter St., Watts, Cal.

It is indeed gratifying to the members and friends to note the steady growth of our church. We are laboring hard and God is blessing our efforts.

Easter Sunday was truly a great day for us here, beginning at 4:30 a. m., until the close of the evening service. The Spirit was manifested to all who worshipped with us.

The pastor delivered the early sermon at 5 a. m. and again at 11 a. m.

The Young People's services at 3 p. m. drew a great crowd and was one of the best we ever had.

The day was closed with a special service by the choir, and when did they render better service than this??

The past Sabbath was also a high day in Zion. The Rev. Dr. Clark, P. E. of the Zion A. M. E. Church, brought us a splendid message at the morning hour which was well received by all.

Our pastor filled the pulpit at the evening hour, at which time we had five accessions, four of which were converts, making six converts in a week for which the membership is giving God the glory.

INDEPENDENT CHURCH OF CHRIST—
Corner of 18th and Paloma Street.
Rev. N. P. Greggs, Pastor.

Sunday was a day of great worship at Independent. The sermon Sunday morning by the pastor was greatly inspirational. The Text was Prob. 16: 32. "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty, he that ruleth the spirit than he that taketh the city." Much good was derived from Rev. Gregg's interpretation of these words.

The morning soloist was Miss Addie Hutchinson. Mrs. Blanche Woods was the invitational soloist. During call for new members a spirit entered the members of hte audience manifesting itself to be one of great joy.

At the evening service Rev. Dr. Jackson delivered the sermon. The subject was the Wise and Unwise man.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
Rev. M. Frederick Mitchell, Pastor.

We had our Easter services last Sunday under our own Vine and Fig Tree. Recently we purchased the spacious corner, 33rd and Hooper Avenue, for our choicest site. The size of the lot is 100 x 120. Excellent income property of two houses. Last Sunday we held our Easter services under the large tent we purchased. Size of the tent is 40 x 70 and the church tent was the admiration of the community, because of the beautiful way in which it was decorated and the soft pedal of saw dust and too the three impressive services. An enthusiastic Sunday School was held with Mrs. Estelle Thornton acting as Superintendent. After the Sunday School devotion and sermon of thanksgivings. In the afternoon Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Mitchell rendered a most excellent program with the little folks. Mrs. Viola Harris Brandon, our efficient directress of the choir graced the day with a most inspiring Easter Cantata. "The Risen King." The pastor brought us a number one sermon in the evening. Good attendance all day. Regular services nexxt Sunday all day.

METROPOLITAN BAPTIST CHURCH—
37 and Paloma Streets.
Rev. M. C. Carter, Pastor.

Quite a large number were in attendance at our church Sunday past. The pastor filled the pulpit at both services and preached two very forcible sermons. The choir, with its usual easy manner under the direction of Mme. Outley rendered several beautiful anthems which were much appreciated by the audience.

Mr. Sloanes was the soloist at the morning services. Master Allister Ward was baptised. The pastor will fill the pulpit Sunday April 16th.

Quite a lively session was held at the B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening. The lesson, "The Right Use of the Sabbath Day", was well taught by our teacher, Rev. I. N. Whitten, who also taught Christian Doctrine. Subject, Subject, Justification. The subject next Sunday will be Justification, continued.

Rev. Johnson, field agent of the Interdenominational Alliance visited with us Sunday past.

Old and new members greeted Master Junior Cotton who semed to enjoy immensely his first Sunday at Church.

Mme. Mozella Te Outley, efficient Directress of Metropolitan Choir has organized a musical class which meets every Friday at 6:30 p. m.

Don't fail to see the Twenty little Tots in the Tom Thumb Wedding given at the Metropolitan Baptist Church evening of April 20, 1923. WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
Worshipping in the Odd Fellows Hall, at E. 8 and Wall Streets.

Last Lord's Day services were good all day. A Bible School well attended.

Brother Hudson, secretary and Superintendent of the Christian Missionary Society of Southern California sent us a Minister in the person of Rev. Keller. He preached an excellent sermon. His text was Jude 1:3. Subject "The Common Salvation. The members seemed to take on new life and are greatly encouraged to go on to victory. The audience was good. Larger than we have had for quite a while. Brother Keller will also preach for us this coming Lord's Day. We invite all who would be pleased to worship with us. Our primary object is to serve and worship God with true balanced faith, in spirit and truth. A faith produced by hearing God's Word. Romans. 10:17. Remember the location East 8th and Wall Streets.

ST. PAUL PASTOR HONORED
By Rev. S. H. Jennings.

Last week beginning April 3-9 inclusive the good people of this church turned aside from labor and no pains were spared to make this 6th anniversary of Pastor Holt's a gala affair. Splendid programs were rendered each evening under auspices of the various auxilliaries. Sunday at 3:00 p. m. marked the day and hour of Dr. R. N. Holt's 6 years pastorate of this church, which has grown from a mere Sunday School congregation of 27 to an audience of 400 or more. An extraordinary program was rendered. Mrs. C. D. Robinson served as chairman of program committee, who was well paid for her efforts as representatives from all the various churches and business walks of life responded on the program. Dr. William R. Carter acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Pastor and Mrs. Holt were seated near the center of the rostrum and the anniversary gift came to them in an entirely new way for lo as the attention of the leader of the children of Israel, Moses, was called to look at a burning bush, Pastor Holt our leader was made to look upon a great money tree. When presentation was called for from the Deacon Bd., a tree bearing leavesof green back bills was brought forward by Mrs. C. D. Robinson and L. M. Daniels presented by Deacon Cole and each euxiliary added leaves to this tree which was indeed an entirely new idea but was much appreciated by the Pastor and wife.

Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. another splendid program was rendered at which time Dr. T. L. Griffith served as Master of Ceremonies, after which all were ushered to the dining hall where a special feast awaited. Every one left well pleased and with many words of congratulations for Pastor Holt and the good people of St. Paul Churhc.

ANTI-SEMITIC STUDENTS START BUDAPEST RIOTS
(Crusader Service)

BUDAPEST, April 10.—Budapest has been the scene for several days of a series of anti-Jewish disturbances which the authorities are having difficulty in suppressing.

The disorders started on March 15 when adherents of the Awakening Magyar celebrating the anniversary of the Revolution of 1848, invaded the offices of the new paper, AZest which has been friendly to the Jews. Seven students were wounded in the fighting, in which the police found it necessary to use their swords.

H. D. Prowd, Pastor

Our Sunday School was in full attendance. The Lesson on The Obedience of Abraham was helpfully discussed. At the 11 o'clock service the past spoke on The Incredulity and acknowledgment of Thomas. It was an inspiring service and all were blessed. The B. Y. P. U. was again conducted with interest. Our President is given the fullest assistance and much is expected of this part of our work. At night the Lord's Supper was observed and truly it was a season of refreshing. The quiet, the solemnity, and the overflow of the Holy Spirit made a remarkable impression on all, and the strangers within our gates as well as ourselves were greatly blessed. On this coming Sunday a distinguished Minister and personal friend of the Pas or will preach at 11 a. m. At night the Pastor will occupy the pulpit. Arrangements are being made for our Recognition service on Wednesday Night at The Y. M. C. A. at 8 P. M. the 18th, many of our churches are invited and we are looking forward to a blessed meeting.

WESLEY CHAPEL

Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor

The hallelujahs of the Choir rang out Sunday morning like a chiming bell as a large congregation sat at worship. Most inspiring of all, the gallery was be-decked with young people eager to hear the songs and services. A most effective sermon greeted them, for the pastor, happily inspired by the well-occupied church rose to fluent heights in the "After Thoughts of Easter." Persons continue to flock to the church. About forty-five joined during the Easter drive. Communion services were held both morning and evening and a large number of persons eagerly availed themselves of the opportunity. As usual the music was rare and sweet assisting two inspiring sermons. Next Sunday evening the young people's league will enjoy a social hour in the dining hall at which time the election of officers will take place.

GOLDEN RULE LODGE ENTERTAINS ODD FELLOWS AND PERSPECTIVES. E. L. DORSEY AND OTHERS MAKE NOTABLE ADDRESSES.

On last Thursday night the 29th, despite the many prominent affairs that were going on in the city Odd Fellows Hall at 8th and Wall was crowded to the doors with members and friends of the order who had been invited to spend the evening as guest of Golden Rule Lodge 5959. Golden Rule is in the midst of a huge membership drive and used this means to stimulate Odd Fellowism and bring in to its own and other subordinate Lodges worthy new timber.

As a result of this effort at least 20 new members will be added to the Lodge. An excellent program was rendered and several notable speakers delivered eloquent addresses in a manner and fashion that thrilled their audience and brought forth rounds of applause.

Brother Hall, N. G., of Los Angeles, spoke on Friendship and scored a big success in the clean cut manner in which he handled his subject.

Brother A. D. Lacy of Sterling Light Lodge spoke on Love and drove home to his hearers its value and meaning both to society and the order.

Brother Fisher, P. S. of Golden Rule Lodge and head of one of Los Angeles leading colored enterprises, The Peoples Grocery Store spoke at length on the subject, "Truth", in a convincing manner and every one thoroughly enjoyed his expressions.

Musical numbers were rendered at intervals in between each speaker and all responded to encore. Griffin Brothers rendered two musical numbers. Brother Spencer of Golden Rule and Brother Lewis (Golden Rule Bert Williams) brought down the house.

Brother E. L. Dorsey of Golden Rule and one of the owners of The Independent Rubber Co., held the large audience spell bound for 20 minutes.

His subject was "Eighty Years of Odd Fellowism. In part he said:

Mr. Master of Ceremonies, Fellow Brethren, and perspectives:

Were I a master of flowery English, could I speak in glowing accents, or had the Gods endowed me with silver-tongued oratory, perhaps what I am about to say would find some hold upon your vivid memory.

Taking the canvass of friendship, using the brush of love and dipping it into the colors of truth, I would paint you an art master piece of this grand old order portraying its onward march from the issuing of its dispensation in 1843, when that immortal Peter Ogden believing that all men were created equal and free and that no fraternal organization or body of men could justly withhold such recognition, started the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows on its triumphant march down through the corridors of time. Putting to route in its procession of triumphal progress every assassin of Negro character, every individual who dared to stem the onward rush of right, honor, and manhood, in an attempt to replace and put into practice malice hatred and greed. Befoging the minds of future generations.

Eighty years have passed since the immortal Peter Ogden took the stand of right and who dares dispute the fact that Odd Fellowism has grown and spread it wings of progress and fraternal patriotism, extolled the principles of honor and loyalty towards its fellow man, and protected the character and virtue of womanhood?

Eighty years have passed since the mortal Peter Ogden sent out that memorable call for men to join the cause of right, not white men, not black men, but men, real men, and fellow brothers and perspectives the records of fraternal history tells us how well all men, lovers of liberty and fraternal freedom responded to that call, and fought, fought for that liberty, that freedom for which millions have died, which all men love and which in itself is life to each and all of us. Fathers have died fighting for the cause and their sons have carried on the battle year in, year out until tod-day this grand old order stands at the top of fraternal efforts, and each soldier at attention.

Eighty years have passed and the cry still is heard for men. Not just men but men of character, principle, honor, and loyalty. Men seeking the association of the best that they too may join the rank and file of this great nad growing order and enter its training camps that when the time comes they may be prepared to take their respective places of usefulness and do their part in assisting to solve the great and growing problems of the day.

Who dares dispute the fact that the grand old order of Odd Fellows has not during these past eighty years been a potential factor in forcing civilization to recognize manhood and womanhood matters not what the color?

Today our order ranks second to none.

Today thanks to the immortal Peter Ogden victory is ours and 12 million human beings, through whose viens flows the blood of civilization, are enjoying fraternal freedom. But we cannot afford to have gained this freedom to sit idly by. No nation, no race, no institution has ever maintained its standard unless prepared. And so the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows can best maintain its prestige, its popularity, its honor, its fraternal freedom by ever being prepared to defend its name against any and all who might seek to destroy it.

Therefore I beseech each and every Odd Fellow to live an exemplary life and use your ever effort toward building up a larger, better and stronger organization, by inviting into the folds of Odd Fellowism worthy young men.

To the perspectives in this gathering here this evening I wish to say we need you, and the association you come in contact with here fits you for the better and nobler things in life.

I challange any of you to visit the average large store or down town business not only here in Los Angeles but any where in the country today and you will find that the salesman, the banker, the clerk, the porter, the book keeper, the street sweper are all common brothers together in some fraternal order, then why not we?

Is it not a fact that we lack leadership as a race? Is it not a fact that dissension within our own ranks makes us in a measure slaves to economic condition? Let us get together.

Odd Fellowism has a better platform than some would have you believe. Yesterday the slogan was to take care of the sick and bury the dead, and while we stand by these principles I want to tell you that our mission is a greater one, one that has a broader scope, and greater usefulness. Our mission is service to our fellowman.

If amongst our people there is to be found an unworthy member, as in other organizations, here and there, as is occasionally the case, I assure that person was such before entering the folds for no individual coming into our order with a clean record can dare say that his association with this order has not made him a better man. No order has done more for the rank and file of humanity than the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows. Unlike Klu Kluxism that has been disrupting conditions in this country today, teaching race hatred and practicing persecutions, seeking to tear down the walls of civilization, committing murder nad crime. I say unlike this damnable organization Odd Fellowism stands for all that is honorable and upright. In brief Odd Fellowism stands for all Klu Kluxism would tear down and destroy.

Fellow perspectives do you wish to help Americanize America and make it safe for humanity to live in?

Join the Odd Fellows.

Do you seek the association of an order that is accomplishing something?

Join the Odd Fellows.

Do you desire to become a better citizen?

Join the Odd Fellows.

Do you wish to become a better husband and a better father?

Join the Odd Fellows.

Do you seek the be a better Christian? Join the Odd Fellows.

In conclusion I want to state Golden Rule 5959 in particular and the rank and file of the order in general extends you this evening and invitation to join.

The order needs real men and I assure you if you join the order, matters not whether it be Golden Rule, Sterling Light, Los Angeles or Pasadena, Monrovia or some other lodge and live up to its teachings it will assist you to become a better citizen, a better husband, a better father, a truer Christian. Odd Fellowship will make you, fellow perspectives, an asset to the community in which you live and that society in which you move.

Others who participated on the program were Brohter Charles Johnson of Golden Rule and Brother Franklin, who represented Monrovia Lodge.

Monrovia had the largest turn-out of any lodge out side the city.

At the conclusion of the program, all were invited to the banquet hall where a sumptuous repast was served in faultless style and all departed voting Golden Rule Lodge as being a class by itself.

Golden Rule Lodge is indebted to Brother McGarvey who acted as Master of Ceremonies and was Chairman of the Committee of arrangements. Mr. McGarvey is a business man of high standing in the community being engaged in the poultry business, and the superb manner in which every thing panned off stamped him a jewel to the order.

News Item: Easter came with a wonderful assortment of designs and colors. The spirit of Easter was everywhere manifest. Scouts reported that all maidens looked their best, although rains were threatening constantly. The Four Shieks, an auxiliary, issued during th season, summons to all brothers in the bond, and they respond to their call and enjoyed the entertainment furnished them in their nook.

THE GREATEST EVENT IN THE HISTORY OF LOS ANGELES

That is what the public in general is telling all those who were unable to attend the seasons greatest function which was staged at the beautiful dance palace The Hiawatha Dancing Academy last Wednesday night. 1247 paid admissions were received thru the doors of the dance Palace the largest gathering of the race in the history of Los Angeles.

The banquet and dinner dance was staged in honor of Mamie Smith the famous Oke Record Star and the entire company of "Struttin' Along" the all colored revue playing the Philharmonic Auditorium the entire week.

M. T. Laws and "Ragtime" Billy Tucker prominent amusement promoters of the city were acclaimed by all as the "Kings" of amusement of the Golden West. Private tables were set for Mrs. Mamie Smith, Mrs. Tucker and Messers Laws. A banquet table set for sixty was in full view of the audience on the mamouth stage. Tables were all set around the hall making the place resemble some big town cabaret. Dancing began promptly at 9 and was indulged in by the merry makers until mid-night.

At 12 sharp the entertaining began, delayed on account of the huge mass of people who were at that time trying to gain admittance. Miss Smith and her party arrived at 12 and were escorted to the office of Billy Tucker where she remained until 2:00 a. m. unable to surge through the crowds to the main hall. Billy Tucker seeing that there was not a possible chance to get Miss Smith in the hall passed the public eager to greet Miss Smith through on door and out of the next, every one was compelled to get in line, and at one would have thought that they were waiting in line to greet and shake hands with the President of the United States, surely he could not have received a greater ovation. Miss Smith caused more excitment in Los Angeles in 20 minutes than Siki caused in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day. If old King Tut himself were to rise up out of his tomb and pay Los Angeles a visit he could not cause any more excitement than this dainty little Miss of syncopation

At intervals different members of the profession and members of "Struttin' Along" gave cause for merriment by offering songs of every description and more than pleased the audience.

After the entertainment the entire company and Miss Smith with her guest and many other notables of the theatrical profession retired to the office of M. Laws and Billy Tucker to pay homage to the young writer of the "Coast Dope" which appears in the Chicago Defender weekly and which has made him known from coast to coast. It was "Ragtime's" Birthday and he had a party. A party that could never again be equalled in the United States, with the following as his guests: Mamie Smith and her Jazz Hounds, "Frisco Nick," the entire company of "Struttin Along," Harry Fiddler, bigtime vaudeville artist formally of Fiddler and Shelton, Buddy Brown, Thurston Briggs, Mantan Moreland, Carolyn Williams and husband, Bertha Butcher, The Famous Jackson Trio, Deloach and Corbin, vaudeville artists touring the coast, Ocey Wilson, husband of Mamie Smith, Officer Sheffield, McCauley and Chas. Bryant, Rufus Bishop, Christene Williams, Viola Warner, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Laws, Mrs. C. Bernard Tucker, Mrs. Hattie Tucker (mother of Billy), Mrs. N. J. Murray (grandmother of Billy) and others too numerous to mention.

The owners of the Hiawatha Dancing Academy wish to extend thanks to all who made this the biggest night of their amusement career in the city and to bid you all to come again Monday night when they will endeavor to offer you something different and worthwhile.

Respectfully,
M. T. Laws and Billy Tucker,
Proprietors of the
HIAWATHA DANCING ACADEMY,

NEGRO PRESS, ALERT TO NEED OF TIMES, ENDORSES UNITY MOVE

(Crusader Service)

PITTSBURG, April 12.—The following editorial from the Pittsburg American is one of many of the important subjects of the United Front Conference appearing in the Negro Press which this service will broadcast from time to time: —

Pittsburgh Hears Dean Miller

In naming the groups to be represented in the Race Conference, Dean Miller seemed to be in agreement with an editorial expression in the Pittsburg American for March 9. In his address at Memorial Hall last Sunday, the dean named the church and fraternal organizations, the welfare and social service bodies and those movements such as the N. A. A. C. P. and the African Blood Brotherhood.

As the Pittsburgh American has said in the editorial referred to above, this is as it should be. To have representatives from all of these great organizations would mean that those there really represented something and somebody. There would be no detached individuals but all would be men and women with a real following.

Of course the conference will be in danger of invasion by self-constituted leaders who have no following and lead nobody. This group will be composed largely of politicians and lawyers. Most of our lawyers seem to feel that they are leaders simply because they are lawyers. They still live in the long ago of the three learned professions of law, theology and medicine. It seems hard for them to accept the fact that there are other professions now or that there is such a thing in the world as the modern business man.

The politician will feel that he should have a voice in Race Conference, too. They are like the lawyers. Most of our lawyers are politicians. No matter how detached from any concrete following this politician will want to be in and have more to say than a man with an organization and a million followers behind him. He will work for his own glory and honor and claim that it is the voice of the people.

Men such as this having no organized following behind them can only give voice to their personal platforms. They have built up nothing, they lead nothing, they speak for nobody except possibly a few friends and admirers in their local communities or associates in a certain group.

We have shown briefly our efforts toward physical, educational, and social development, and will dwell only for a while on one of the most interesting of our activities.

Walter Rathneau, assassinated German philosopher said: "The only full and final aim of all endeavors on earth is the development of the human soul." The preceding paragraphs were a recital of the various activities which lead up to the main which make for the development of the soul of the boy.

At the Older Boys' Conference already referred to above more than six hundred boys caught the meaning and significance of the teachings and life of Christ. New resolutions and decisions for better and more useful Christian lives resulted from the many conferences and discussions and contact with great leaders.

Bible classes are maintained for the younger boys. The attempt is made to make them see the good world-love of Jesus and his interest in little children as well as men and women. They are encouraged to attend regularly and punctually their respective Sunday schools. All of the meetings of the Hi Y are opened with religious song service, scripture reading and prayer. And they are invited to attend the Men's Sunday Afternoon Meeting when lectures are given, and religious talks. Many of our younger and older boys are active in churches as ushers, members of choirs, Sunday School teachers, and workers in the various church clubs. In the plans for the future we hope to acquaint them thoroughly with existing social problems with the hope that they will so guage their lives for active social work and service.

Employment is given to members and friends of the association and worthy applicants free of charge. During the sixteen years of existence the Y has served more than sixteen hundred boys and men in this capacity. Very few if any complaints have been registered where we have sent and recommended men for jobs.

We also aid them in securing rooms among the best residents, because of the lack of sufficient dormitories to meet with the demand. In short, the boy or man is given help in almost every sense of the word.

Too much credit can not be given to Executive Secretary T. A. Greene for his untiring services and his true Christian character. His years of work with our youth and manhood can never be estimated.

Ninth Street Branch YMCA solicits the co-operation of all groups and citizens who want to aid in the advancement of our youth. The challenge to service is before us all as individuals, groups, and as a community will we work apart forgetting our future men and citizens or will accept and work to this end, and make our lives count, and do all in our power to leave the world a little better than we found it? Get that "Live-Wire Feeling" and help us carry on!

BOYS WHITE HOPE

There is no more vital problem in the community today than that of the ... His relationship with mother and father and his contact with young people are of deepest concern to all ... the North Street Branch Y. M. C. A. ... accepts the challenge and is attempting to offer a four-fold program of development for boys namely: physical, educational, social and spiritual. ... following is a brief sketch of the ... work recently accomplished and plans ... future.

... that the annual membership ... of the most active ... Candidates have all worked ... and have lodged themselves for ... when duly called upon.

... September the high school boys of the city were called together ... the election of new officers of the ... Y. This organization is ... its purpose is "To create, ... and extend throughout the ... and community high standards ... Christian character. The ... membership privilege is sixty six, ... being one of the largest ... in the city. Reports are sent ... to the State Council. Following ... report ...

North Street Hi Y Club Membership ... members. Organized ... and played three outside games ... in Los Angeles ... Held Find Yourself campaign, glee club sang in two churches, purchased light boards for gym, aided in organizing Inter-Sunday School League.

The Hi-Y club as has been stated above organized a football team and played two games with Pasadena two weeks before and on Thanksgiving Day the boys of Boyle Heights Y and the second on the Pasadena High School gridiron. Later a light-weight and a heavy-weight basketball team furnished entertainment and excitment for the boys. Glendale and Pasadena were defeated in hard-fought games. Younger boys in the grammar schools played several basketball games and showed much class. Following these activities were volley ball, boxing and wrestling.

A number of young boys were taken on a hike by the Boys secretary to Eagle Rock, Glendale, and Burbank. These lovers of the out of doors are anxious to go again—every week if possible.

Among the many features outlined for the remainder of the year may be mentioned, swimming meets, handball tournaments, monthly stunt nights the first beginning on next Tuesday, April 17, the annual track and field meet at the Y. M. C. A. Athletic field Boyle Heights Y on May 30, regular gym classes, volley ball tournaments, additional hikes—a fifteen day camp late in August and an indoor baseball tournament for Sunday schools.

Many speakers have been secured during the year for the boys in connection with the educational program. A noble woman in the preson of Dr. Maria C. Mills, a graduate of the University of Paris, made a wonderful impression upon the Hi Y club, and was also inspired by so many eager attentive faces. This club receives one night each month for literary and educational work. Recently a "Find Yourself Campaign" was conducted among the high school boys. This work is along the lines of Vocational Guidance. The best of magazines, Colored newspapers, pamphlets, are provided with the hope that they might serve to enlighten them further. One of the outstanding educational features of the Hi Y club's year was the annual Older Boy's Conference held in San Diego last December. Seven members were chosen to represent the club and Y. M. C. A., who reported on their return home that the three days of the conference were wonderfully inspiring. Later this year health and sanitation lectures and pictures will be procured for the benefit of our youth. Another item worth mentioning was the program furnished the Forum by several Hi Y boys, which was of an educational nature.

At the beginning of the fall season the Hi Y was the guest of the Girl Reserves at the Twelfth Street Center Y. M. C. A. A banquet, musical program, games and entertainment were of a very high order. Frequent "feeds" are held at the Y in order that the boys may be brought closer together and socialize. These little dinners aid in off-setting the regular program. The young people have at their disposal a piano which is in constant use. They gather around it to sing and chat and have a jolly good time. Two quartets are being organized, and an excellent glee club is maintained for more entertainment not only in the lobby but for social and religious affairs outside. Last Summer a ranger's club was formed among the boys who went to camp. Three of our younger boys were guests at the Central Y a few weeks ago, and a most enjoyable evening was registered, and plans for the coming hiking and camping season were discussed and outlined. Just before school a banquet will be held under the auspices of the High Y Club for all men who made the team at the various high schools, junior-high schools, and colleges. Plans are already on foot to make this celebration the greatest ever.

STOVALL TAKES SAN DIEGO CONTEST

On March 24th, before an array of imposing personages, Wilalyn Stovall, S. B. U. C. won two events and set a new record in a third.

Working under an almost overmastering difficulty—, prejudice of the most ingenious sort, Wilalyn took first place in the high jump, the open broad jump, and in the third event, the event in which he set a new record, the now hurdles.

Comments and congratulations were numerous. A well-known track mentor and successful athlete affirmed Stovall's possibility of winning the world's championship in the keenly competitive open high jump; and although Stovall's modesty forbids him from supplementing to this prediction, we are confident that he is acutely conscious of it.

Aside from taking an active part in public welfare work, Wilalyn is prominently connected with the Alumni Association of Southern California and is also the chaplain for the Lambda chapter of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

ATHLETIC RECEPTION BIG SUCCESS

The guests of honor were Whitaker, Stovall and Brown of S. B. U. C., Diggs of L. A. H. S., Duncan, Sanders and Narceise of Lincoln and Buncheo of Jefferson.

SONGS OF THE OPPRESSED

By Wendell P. Gladden, Jr.

There's a yearning in the breasts of all
Who have tasted grim oppression's gall,
Who have fought against the odds of wrong,
For expression, both in word and song.
Cheering kords and animating themes
Soul-songs filled with memories and dreams,
Cheer the hearts of those whose souls would know
Love and peace and hope—dawn's bright glow.
Every ear is turned when black folk sing
Melodies of by-gone days and spring;
Sorrow-songs, and stirring songs of praise
Unchecked come fro mvoices which amaze.
Rich and mellow strains the listener hears:
Tones that touch the heart and bring the tears;
Perfect harmonies so rich and strong,
Waken memories and linger long.
There are thoughts that words can not express—
Born of grief and unforgetfulness.
That are songs unsung that throb and fill
Anguished hearts with deeper sorrow still.
Ah, the balm that song may be to men
Who can meet defeat and try again!
Men who smiled beneath their load of care—
Singing when their pain is hard to bear.

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Grey.

One of the most unique organizations that has ever visited the western shores is the Chinese Opra company that has recently finished a two weeks engagement in Seattle. It is composed of some thirty performers, both men nad women. The repertoire is said to be almost limitless.

As the average time of performance for a Chinese opera is about five hours and as much of the scenery is left to the imagination, it must be somewhat of an ordeal for the man of the occident to sit through a performance of the same.

The company is planning an extensive tour of the East after a lengthy run in San Francisco.

Another unique organization that is visiting us in the East is Royal Egyptian Orchestra, comprising fifteen native singers and musicians from Cairo. It will tour throughout the East and present programs of compositions that date from the time of King Tut down to the present time. The forthcoming tour will be subsidized by a local group of Egyptian music patrons and represents a serious effort to introduce to the public the true and original conception of Egyptian music. The director is arranging with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia and other colleges to give special student concerts. We have mentioned before in these columns the value of music as an aid to a race in its efforts to demand recognition and here we have a concrete example of the same.

Justin Elie, the Haytian pianist and composer gave a recital in New York recently. He was assisted by Suzanne Gallien, a French soprano. The program for the most part was composed of his own compositions.

The Metropolitan Opera company has revived "L'Africaine" that colorful opera of Meyerbeer. The characters in this opera are nearly all very dark with woolly hair. Truly, the trend of music in the past few weeks has been toward the darker races.

THE MEMOIRS OF AN EX-SHEIK

By One of the Old Masters.

Blue Room Scene and Solitude.

Alone in his blue room, overlooking his beautiful rose-arbor and the sweet-scented bowers of his colorful court, the ex-sheik stands, his arms folded and his head bowed. He is aware of new and revived interest and maneuvering among all back-bitters, chewers, nibblers, and fellow-sheiks. And all of the Associated Sheiks report favorably concerning tasks assigned. He is undecided about his program for the next week. He paces the soft carpeted floor slowly—and meditates.

The Ex-Sheik Speaks:

Violent showers keep me within my golden-colored tent. I now give more attention to my chambers and spacious rooms. There is little peace now. I become bored at times with the sight of the multitude of feminine beauty and gracefulness. How I long for May flowers, and warm balmy June days. Far above my minarets April showers forever threaten with their downpour incessant.

Smoking, reading, and everlasting chatting no longer make their appeal. Often I steal away with the favorite of my harem when eventide brings the shadows and love comes stealthily, blindly, passionately; and I feel the gentle touch of her hand, gazing into her wondrous eyes, black as night, and behold the fresh warm color that creeps into her cheeks of henna, for her love belongs to me.

Down where the crescent moon light steals into his costly cozy chamber calling, the ex-Sheik bore his little burden of love. He was perturbed. "Why have you been disloyal, my favorite?" he asked bending low over her. The maiden lay in a pile of soft inviting pillows. She was weeping, even as a babe. No sheik, the infidel intruder forced himself on me, and I cried for you, dear sheik from the minaret. I fought him, but he was too powerful." The ex-sheik gathered his loved one to him, and, obeying his command, the favorite's favorite dancers ala Orientale, harem dancers, slaves, all came forth the thumping ryhthm of Oriental, harem dancers proclaimed him the sheik. He sat on his gorgeous sheiky throne, wearing his magnificent turban of purple, without changing the indifferent expression on his handsome young face. The host of followers bowed. He nodded and with outstretched hand, palm down, bade them arise and begin festivities finale.

News Item.

The City of the Angeles is fortunate in having within her gates one of the Association of Sheiks and his flock of henna, brown, and pink beauteous femininity. Back-biters, chewers, nibblers, fellow-sheiks, attend! behold the favorite. 'Ain't but the one!'

SON GOODRICH BEATS K. O. SUMMERS IN MAIN EVENT AT THE GARDEN

Son Goodrich won all the way in his bout with K. O. Summers the Madison Square Garden last Wednesday. Summers stood some terrific punishment. Battling Demon was a set-up for Vic Alexander, the match was stopped; Ted Frenchie got the decision over Eddie Morton, gaining a knock-down for the count of nine; Young Hinds fought a good draw with O'Brien.

ARCHIE WOODYARD EQUALS CITY RECORD FOR HUNDRED

Archie Woodyard equalled the city mark of 10.1 for the hundred dash and ran the fastest heat in the two-twenty yards in the preliminaries for the city track and field meet held Wednesday at Patterson Field. He made this fast time in the third heat; and in third heat for the furlong.

Bill Hurlic of Pasadena and his team-mate Whizer won their heats in the hundred yard dashes in the good time of 10.2 Hurlic beat Leee Franklin who won from Archie in the Jefferson meet, while Whizer bested Rudolph of Hollywood, a consistent winner in dual meets. But in the two-twenty both of the crown city flashes were forced to take second places.

Charles Diggs, sprinter and hurdler of L. A. placed second in the high hurdles, beaten by Turner of Hollywood in the fair time of 16.3. Had Diggs not sustained an injury some weeks ago while practicing on Housh Field his legs would have given him no trouble and the result may have been different.

George Duncan had a hard man to beat in Pollack in his heat of the two-twenty yard dash. The latter beating him by several yards. It was enough, however, to qualify him for the city meet.

De Lavallade of Polytechnic also qualified for the Saturday affair in the high jump event. This athlete has been going good throughout the season, and is expected to show up well in the finals.

Hollywood's relay team set a new city meet record when it nosed out L. A.'s hopes in the fast time of 3 m. 7 2-5 seconds. Field Thompson of L. A. equalled the city mark for the quarter mile. Pasadena won first in the second heat of the relays with the assistance of Hurlic and Whizer. Lincoln nabbed second with George Duncan among the steppers and Brothers aided Manual Arts to take third place.

A great crowd is expected to witness the city meet which will be held at Occidental and it will not be surprising if new marks are set. Close races are anticipated in the hundred yard dash finals when Lee, Pollack, Whizar, Hurlic, and our own Archie Woodyard tangle for honors. The two-twenty yards should be fast and exciting with the same speedsters furnishing thrills. We shall see what we shall see. Nuf Sed!

BILLY DONALDSON IS CHOSEN UMPIRE IN NEGRO NATIONAL BASEBALL LEAGUE

By Rube Foster

W. W. "Billy" Donaldson, local umpire and announcer at Madison Square Garden, has been chosen as umpire in the Negro National League, according to a telegram received by Mr. Noah D. Thompson, of the Evening Express, from Andrew Rube Foster, president of the league. The announcement was dated April 4.

Donaldson has been very active in admirers and friends in the world of local baseball circles, and has many sports. He was well-recommended to Foster by men of experience and close followers of the game. He has also served the White Sox in the capacity of umpire on many occasions and has been announcer at Madison Square Garden boxing arena.

Readers of the California Eagle will be fortunate in learning of the activities of the league from an actual observer and official. Tabulated results of games played and news of players will be published in these columns.

A big reception is planned for Billy when his many friends will be present to give him a happy send-off and extend wishes for his success. He will leave for Chicago on next Saturday, April 22, where he stated he will work his first games.

YMCA

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Stunt night will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday April 17 at 8:00 p. m. Boxing and wrestling matches, gym stunts, and a minstrel show, are included in the program.

The address delivered by Rev. O. L. Chatters last Sunday was inspiring. There was a large and appreciative audience to listen and extend to Mr. Chatters their wishes for the best of health and success in the future. Mr. Chatters leaves soon for his home.

Plans are ready for the indoor baseball tournament which will be held soon in connection with the program of the Inter-Sunday School Athletic League.

A short talk was given by the Boys' Work Secretary concerning our work with boys at Wesley Chapel's morning services on last Sunday. Mr. Chas. Sanders assisted with a beautiful vocal solo. Other churches will hear from representatives of the Y and more people may learn of the efforts to help the boys of the city.

Making Money

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome savings of their daily wage. But I submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have reached a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

Business requires your sole attention—Stocks mean sleepless nights and days of worry—Property works by itself for you without your care.
Select it—Set it to work—it takes care of itself and will take care of you.

A good example of this sort of investment is found in a few of my special listings as follows:

Seven room house, East 40th St., $4200.00; $1000.00 cash.
Five room house, corner Hooper Ave., $3950.00 $1000.00 cash.
Three rooms East 51st St., $1750.00; $500.00 cash.
Five room bungalow, Naomi St., $4200.00; $700.00 cash.

THE BOILING POINT IN THINGS POLITICAL.

The Eagle in this coming Primary, as in al others, will give to every candidate an opportunity to state their case, and admirably do we take sides. There are two instances where the Primary vote is final, viz: The Motor Bus Ordinance and the members of Congress from the 10th District. In our next issue we shall speak very plainly in these columns on the two propositions mentioned.

SHALL WE REPEAL JITNEY BUS ORDINANCES?

Some weeks ago, we called attention to the fact that all of our citzens give the most serious consideration to the proposed ordinance which proposes to repeal the jitney bus propositon, which was a pernicious evil to Los Angeles some years back. The citizens of this city can well remember the conditions which obtained at that time, and it is now asking a great deal after the sacrifices made in that great contest to expect the people to vote to repeal the very law they fought for. If we repeal the law, what is there to prevent the pernicious jitney bus to make its grand re-entry upon our fair streets? We note the stand that some of our foremost citzens are taking, and we trust that they have measured the distance and if they appreciate what conditions existed prevous to the enactment of the measure known as the anti-jitney bus ordinance.

Some of our high financers perhaps are wise to the benefits, but speaking for the plain common every day man or woman, we ask that before you decide to vote for the repeal of this jitney bus ordinance that you scratch your head and think a little and then decide.

LEGAL BAN ON KLAN MASKS

After a short, sharp fight the assembly today passed by a vote of 47 to 15 A. B. No. 1224, by Assemblyman John B. Badaracco, San Francisco, making it a felony for any person to appear in public with his face or person covered by mask or regalia for the purpose of concealing identity. Seventeen members were absent. The measure is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, and the fight was clearly defined by Badaracco's declaration that the members were being called upon to vote for the klan or for the American citizens of the state.

The bill met opposition from members who declared that they are not interested in the klan, but were basing their opposition on the ground that the legislature should not have any part in making laws touching religious questions in any way.

NOT AGAINST ORGANIZATIONS

"I am not against the Ku Klux Klan or any other organization," said Badaracco, "but I am opposed to the acts of violence that have been committed in this state in which the principals wore masks. A vote against this bill will be a vote for the Ku Klux Klan, and one for which it will be for the good of American citizens of the state."

Assemblyman Ernest Dozier, Shas Los Angeles County, led the opposition to the bill.

Held Persecution.

Badham said:

"It is clear the measure is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, and while I know nothing of that organization, I do not believe the Legislature should tamper with any religious legislation. This is a form of persecution, and will only serve to strengthen the organization at which it is aimed. I don't believe in antagonizing any organization, and we can never gain anything by it."

CASE AT ROSEVILLE.

Assemblyman Mrs. Corn Woodbridge of Placer County told of Klan activities in Roseville, and stated that she had been obliged to halt by an officer of the law on a public street in Roseville while the Klan passed along the street on parade.

"I am an American citizen, had my face uncovered and I strenuously object to any such a practice as that," declared Mrs. Woodbridge.

Assemblyman Earnest Dozier, Shasta County, opposed the bill in its present form, declaring the mere offense o fwearing a mask or regalia should not constitute a felony. He voted for the measure, however.

"If a crowd of people in night gowns want to parade down the street they are a lot of fools, but they haven't committed any felony. If they want to give some preacher $50 they are still fools, but that is no felony. I believe, however, that any crime committed by persons in disguise, even though only a misdemeanor, should constitute a felony."

Dozier asked that the bill be amended in the senate.

How They Voted .

Those voting for the bill were:

Anderson, Badaracco, C. C. Baker, Ball, Bernard, Connolly, Crittendon, Croter, Davis, Dawson, Emme, Erb, Graves, Hawes, Johnson, Johnston, Jones, Lyons, Miller, A. G. Mitchell, T. A. Mitchell, Morrison, Mueller, Noyes, Pedrotti, Reindollar, Roberts, Rock, Rosenshine, Saylor, Schmidt, Snyder, Spalding, Stevenot, Stow, Weller, West, Woodbridge, Morriam—47.

Against the bill: Badham, Broughton, Christian, Cleveland, Dean, Norris, Foster, Fox, Kline, McMillan, Moore, Pomeroy, Pendergast, Williams, Wright—15.

Absent: Edwin, Baker, Clarke, Coombs, Fellom, Fulwider, Heisinger, Hornblower, Lyman, Mathews, McDowell, McPherson, Morris, Scott, Smith, Spence, W h iteacre, Caster.

EDITOR ABBOT, OF CHICAGO DEFENDER, RECEIVES SIGNAL HONOR

The following is from the BillBoard, the world's greatest Theatrical Digest.

The Amsterdam News of New York has placed the name of Robt. S. Abbott, publisher of the Chicago Defender, in nomination for the Springarn Medal that is bestowed annually upon the Negro credited with having made the greatest contribution to racial advancement. In seconding the nomination we believe that Mr. Abbot, as the owner and publisher of the biggest journal of the race, should be so honored for the sake of journalism and its contributions and for his personal achievement in building up the great publishing house that produces his weekly that covers the world.

Burlyeigh and Gilpin have been chosen from the musical and theatrical professions, and they have merited the distinction, yet even their worth would not have been recognized without the aid of the press. The same is true of all our accomplishments. The Negro press has contributed long and faithfully to every advance the race has made; has helped when no other assistance was available, and has received less pay in either honors or perquisites of more material character than has any other instrument of civilization.

Now that, in spite of handicaps, Negro writers, publishers and their journals have commanded respectful attention from the world, it would be indeed fitting that someone of the craft should receive this tardy recognition of its worth; and equally fitting that the biggest among us should wear it. Many among us may differ with Mr. Abbot's editorial policy at times, but we must all concede his sincerity and the extent of his influence; and we must admit that both he and his paper are big.

AN OPEN LETTER.

1759 West 35th Street.
Los Angeles, Calif.
April 2, 1923.

To the Editor of The Eagle.

The article appearing in your issue of the 31st March under the caption—"Colored Students Ousted from Southern California Yearly Dance," while partially reflecting the truth of a certain unfortunate occurance at the University of Southern California nearly two weeks ago, entertains inaccuracies which it is expedient to correct because of the false impression which they are liable to convey to the public mind; and I crave the courtesy of your valuable columns for so doing.

In the first place, the dance in question was not "the Annual Class Day Dance of the University of Southern California." It was a minor entertainment by which the senior students of the College of Pharmacy reciprocated a previous courtesy of the junior students of that division of the University. In the next place, the Dean was not consulted by the colored students, as the article indicated. As a matter of fact a very unintelligent and impudent white student, evidently ignorant of the traditions of the school, was the author of the note which sought to dismiss the presence of our students from the function; and his very stupid and impertinent action is now the subject of an investigation by the President of the University, Dr. R. B. von Klein-Smid.

Colored students who retired from the parlors of the entertainment were not forced to do so because "the atmosphere ..... became so icy," but because they had previously arranged to leave at a certain time. One couple, it should be noted, remained until the very last when it was found desirable—on account of the homeward distance before them— to withdraw, a fact which demonstrated their fearless and courageous attitude.

While greatly appreciating your suggestion with reference to the intervention of our worthy Assemblyman, I would suggest, in reply, that, as the University of Southern California exists on private, and only private, endowments, Mr. Roberts would be placed in a rather unenviable position if he were to assert official action in this matter which the combined effforts of the colored students are now successfully prosecuting before the Executive of the University.

Relying on your appreciation of my desire to correctly inform the public of the facts in the case,

I am,
Most cordially and sincerely yours,
James W. McGregor.

THE BYSTANDER

L. K. BEEKS

Again we get echoes of discrimination. They tell us that democratic old Polytechnic High School has suggested to the Colored members of the graduatnig class that they segregate themselves. If this is true, it is certainly sad and pathetic that this beautiful institution of learning, clothed in spotless white, surrounded with refreshing foliage and flowers in bloom, should hover and shelter such warped and feeble-minded people, as would waste the time in making such an antique suggestion. If teachers and pupils alike would spend about one-tenth of their idle time used in discriminating others absorbing the ideas and assimilating the ideals for which the institution was established, it would seem to everyone a more beneficial and satisfactory utilization of the public's money. There is no dissimulation of the revenue. A dollar is a dollar, when it is spent for the common use. In fact the very idea of industrial education, a polytechnic school, is the idea of a Negro in spite of this fact his race must be subjected to humiliating experiences because of the utter weakness and mental debility of a few unfortunate instructors. This is not a situation for sympathy, it is rather an opportunity for the various civic organizations to combine efforts and fight these cowardly acts.

A Campaign

At Wesley Chapel, Sunday morning, a young fellow, Mr. Wendell Gladden, walked right up front and spoke out. It was a commendable effort and for a praise-worthy cause. Young Mr. Saunders ably assisted Mr. Gladden's plea with a solo, "My Task," which had an appeal. It was all for the Y. M. C. A. and its campaign, and if those present Sunday morning heard the two representatives of the "Y," no other appeal ought to be made or force exerted to insure subscription and contributions. If the "Y" does no more than inspire these two young men it has earned a liberal donation.

Register

Every member of our race in this city should stop long enough to register. If there is any people who ought to take the time even if it took one hour to do so, it is our group. We grumbled because it was denied as in the South. Now that we have this inalienable right—a weapon against discrimination and Ku Klux we ought to lay aside indolence, inactivity and passiveness and rush to register and storm the ballot box in an effort to make California a Utopia for Negro progress.

POLITICAL POT PIE

The pie maker has been on a vacation, but is now back on the job, and will furnish quite an assortment of pies for our readers to devour.

Titus Alexander who received the unanimous vote of the recent mass meeting of the Colored voters as their choice and presented by the Forum for the consideration of all of the voters is making a winning campaign and no doubt will qualify at the primaries for a place on the councilmanic ticket.

The Motor Bus contest appears to be a live one and quite an array of workers are going forth, both for and against the proposition. In our next issue we shall write extensively on this issue.

Wood Wilson, veteran politician, all around mixer and prince of good fellows, is in charge of the Bert Farmer for Mayor East Side Headquarters, ably assisted by Col. C. H. Alston, and Mrs. Ella Cassels. The same personnel also has charge of the Motor Bus fight for the Bus people.

The race for a Congressman to fill out the unexpired term of the late Capt. H. Z. Osborne is getting up to a fever heat with Al Bartlett, Capt. Fredericks, Osborne Bell and McDonald and Mrs. Galpin as the starters. This race it is said is very apt to be a close one and if the women voters turn out in large numbers will make Mrs. Galpin a real contender.

One thing that can be said of McDonald, he is no hypocrite and comes right out and states where he stands and his only reason for running, he says, is to modify the Volstead Act.

The candidates for Mayor are the present incumbent, George C. Cryer, Bert L. Farmer, E. H. Hancock, J. Knapp and E. E. Moore. It is generally conceded that owing to the number of contenders that there will be no choice at the primaries and that the two highest will make a sizzling fight at the general election.

W. H. Sanders (Pop) is leading the forces which are against the repeal of the jitney buss ordinance and has a strong line up against the buss proposition.

R. G. Lamar, the doughty political gladiator, is in charge of the East Side forces for Mayor Cryer. Mr. Lamar is a hard and energetic worker and in his hands the Cryer forces have a live wire who can deliver the goods.

The line up for the City Council is not as yet definitely shaped up but one thing sure R. S. Sparks (Cupid) will be among those at the top of the list. Sparks is a man who is really and truly for the people.

Interest in the Congressional election to be held on May 1st is increasing as election day approaches, and the six candidates in the race are making things pop.

The prohibition question appears to be the paramount issue with candidates Osborne, Galpin, Bartlett, Bell, and Fredericks declaring for strict enforcement of the Volstead Act, and candidate Frank A. McDonald espousing the cause of modification. Mr. McDonald claims that the Volstead Act is directly responsible for the birth and activities of the bootlegger and sites the fact that this enemy of civilization was practically unknown in America until the advent of prohibition; he also claims that the narcotic evil began to flourish soon after the enactment of the Volstead law and has increased to alarming proportions. He also claims and quotes statistics to prove it—that the prohibition laws have done much to destroy respect for all laws and that since prohibition America hsa suffered from an unprecented crime wave, and points to the fact that in America new jails are being builded, new penitentiaries erected to house the increased number of criminals, and that the insane hospitals are full to overflowing, to say nothing of the thousands who have died or become helplessly paralyzed or blind from drinking poison bootleg and from using dope as a substitute for the wine and beer they formally consumed.

ANTI-KLAN CANDIDATE WINS IN LOUISIANA

(Crusader Service)

NEW ORLEANS, April 12.—On the face of virtually complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary in twelve parishes comprising the Fifth Supreme Court District, to choose a candidate to fill a vacancy on the Supreme Court District, Judge H. F. Brunot of Baton Rouge, anti Ku Klux Klan candidate, received a majority of 575 votes over his two opponents, Judges Columbus Reid and Robert S. Elias, both of Amite, supported by the Klan.

PICKENS' RELIGIOUS DISBELIEF EMBARASSES DUBOIS

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, April 10.—That Prof. Pickens, because of his recently expressed views on hell, resurrection and other basic beliefs of Christians has become a source of embarrassment to the N. A. A. C. P. is proved by the incident in Los Angeles when Dr. Du Bois was asked at a lecture if he endorsed Pickens' religious views. Coming hard upon the heels of his recent controversy with Marcus Garvey regarding his negotiations with the N. A. A. C. P. for a highly paid official position, his present close connection with the Friends of Negro Freedom and his becoming a prominent writer for the ultra-radical Messenger which until a few months ago referred to him as a clown and which in the current issue abuses Dr. DuBois and the Crisis, the Los Angeles incident suggests the good Dean is in for disciplinary measure in order that the N. A. A. C. P. may not be longer compromised in the public mind.

Make Your Voice Soft and Melodious.

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc. M. D.
1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

Efficiency of speech or sweetness of voice, whether for ordinary conversation or for vocal efforts of a truly musical sort, depends upon a great many principles of health, hygiene and temperament. Perhaps one of the fundamental reasons why few people talk with ease and elegance is the woeful disregard of available knowledge for voice discipline. These things are not only worth knowing, but they are even more worth a trial and a practice.

A poor voice is not only an abomination, but it is a handicap. A physician once has created the proportion of voices that were clear, precise and in a fair way vigorous and healthful, and found to his disappointment that less than one person in fifty had a silver-sweet, soft, musical voice.

Strained, harsh, piping, high-pitched, grating or noisy voices diminish the opportunities and earning powers of their possessors. Doors are closed to them and opened to those who have easy, soft-toned and well-handled voices.

Mark you, a healthful, well-disciplined voice does not mean the affectation of the accent known as the "broad A", the artificial, foppish, Beau Brummel kind. Such a voice enchants the ear of superficial, frothy, "society" people, and may sometimes advance the fortunes of their usually snobbish owners, but that is not the type of the voice which is cared for, according to the laws of health, hygiene and wisdom.

Red Blood and Voice

Before any precise methods of special discipline and treatment can be directed with profit towards the particular vocal machinery, the whole of your anatomy must be put in good form. The blood must be red, and of a proper consistency. It must not flow too rapidly nor be too thin. The little muscles of the arteries as well as the greater muscles of the throat, arms, legs, thorax and abdomen should be in the pink of condition.

These things are the first requisites of a good voice, and they cannot be had by the sort of life that ninety nine men in a hundred lead, whos it, stand or even walk in dingy, dimly illuminated offices, stores and factories.

To maintain the correct degree of redness of the blood, healthy glow of the senses and a well-balanced nutrition, as well as tone to the muscles, at least one hour of vigorous muscular activity in the sunlight, open air is demanded. Indoor pully exercises, boxing, fencing, dumb-bells, clubs and similar gymnasium work are inferior to rowing, swimming, tennis, running, baseball and other outdoor sports. The voice itself is largely a muscular affair. Therefore systematic athletics, ney, even chewing food vigorously, sends nourishment scurrying in all directions to reach your "talking machinery" as well as the rest of your anatomy.

Emotional persons, those who "fly off the handle" or call themselves "temperamental" often require more rest than exercise to aid in the restoration of "honey words" and an even tone to their voice. These victims of excessive glandular action should avoid coffee, tea, soups, broths, nuts, cheese and meat. Their fabric demands at least eight hours sleep in each twenty-four. The foods mentioned tend to maintain their muscles and the vocal cords at a high-strung, hoarse or creaky tension.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed.

Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

BETHEL CHURCH OF CHRIST—(HOLINESS)—

Elder Wm. A. Washington, Pastor.

Sunday morning the pastor preached from Gal. 2-21. Subject, For if righteousness come by the law then Christ is dead in vain." This was a very instructive sermon and came in a very needy time. During these perilous times the devil has sought to entangle the people of God with the law, thus destroying some weak souls. The pastor was careful to explain that there was only one schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. We saw in the message the necessity of accepting the word in its simplicity, in order that we might not frustrate the word of God.

Dr. Clark, presiding elder of the A. M. E. Zion church, occupied the pulpit for the evening service. The subject of his discourse was found in Luke 20-36, "For they are equal unto angels." He beautifully pictured the power, beauty, swiftness and strength of angels. But the thought that cheered every child of God was that we shall be their equals. It was very evident that his discourse was enjoyed by all, and Dr. Clark always has a cordial welcome at Bethel.

Mid-Week Services—

During the week the pastor will occupy the pulpit at Christ Tabernacle, 37th and Naomi.

Wednesday 2:30—Sisters Missionary meeting. Come out and help us push righteousness to the gates.

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH—Pasadena

The Field Missionary, Rev. Wade, preached a soul stirring sermon Sunday morning. The church was packed to hear this eloquent speaker, bringing good news from far and near.

We are glad to know that Rev. Tillman is doing nicely now and expects to fill his pulpit Sunday morning, April 22nd.

SANTA BARBARA

The usual Sunday service was held at Second Baptist all day Sunday although the pastor, Rev. H. B. Thomas was called to Los Angeles. At 11:00 o'clock song and praise service was well attended with the church officials in charge and the spirit was felt as each Christian told his or her experience. In stead of the regular divine service in the evening the Sunday School rendered their delayed Easter program to a large and appreciative audience, which was a success with credit due Mrs. H .B. Thomas, the organist.

The Sunday School shows a steady growth and a lively prayer meeting is held each week and the B. Y. P. U. is growing. All visitors are welcome to each service.

St. Paul A. M. E. Church has begun a revival meeting this Tuesday night to last three weeks. The harvest is ripe and the laborers are few.

The Little Stewarts are in with the whooping cough.

Mrs. Tyus and Mrs. Dugger are up again.

Mr. William Boydin has purchased a new Buick coach.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas are remodeling their home on Gray ave.

Rev. H. B. Thomas was out of the city over Sunday to preach an ordination sermon in Los Angeles. He returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Prince also visited Los Angeles over Sunday returning Monday morning.

Mrs. Chrystelle Van Horn-Wells who has been a resident at 135 East Montecito Street for the past nine months spent a pleasant Easter in Los Angeles visiting friends.

Mr. Olive Baptist Church will be known in the future as Second Baptist Church having assumed that name officially.

The Turkey dinner given by the Zubunites Tribe on last Tuesday night was a success. Mrs. Luther Quinn, Captain.

Mrs. Julia Scott of Los Angeles, joined her husband in this city last Saturday with the possibility of making it their future home.

Mrs. Hattie Burton of Camarillo, who has been spending a five weeks vacation expects to return to that city Saturday after a very pleasant stay in our city.

Mrs. J. J. Reeves is reported much better since going to the hospital. Her many friends hope a speedy recovery for her.

Santa Barbarans can now boast of a first class garage nad oil station owned and conducted by Mr. P. J. Moten, a man of our race. It is centrally located and a credit to the race. We wish him a lucrative business.

Mrs. G. Lawson entertained the Second Baptist Sunday School children with an Easter egg hunt on last Tuesday afternoon in the church basement. A large number of beautifully dyed eggs were hid and the children succeeded in finding them after which they were served with ice-cream and cake furnishing fun for all present. Each child went home with a goodly share of eggs.

The Zubenite Tribe will give a paper hat and lunch box social on the 19th of this month. The lady wearing the prettiest paper hat will receive o prize. Judges will be present. Join the race for the prize.

Mr. George Jones, who has been seriously ill at the cottage hospital is improving slowly.

N. C. MUTUAL TAKES OVER BUSINESS OF AFRO-AMERICAN CO

Second Oldest Insurance Co., in North Carolina Absorbed by Oldest.

(Special Correspondence)

Durham, N. C.—The North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co., has at various times reinsured the business of twelve different colored companies operating in North and South Carolina.

It now announces that it has taken over the business of the Afro-American Life Insurance Company of Charlotte, N. C. The Afro-American is the second oldest life insurance company in North Carolina, the North Carolina Mutual being the oldest. The Charlotte company was organized and fostered for nearly twenty years by homes and business enterprises Thaddeus Tate of that city.

The years of depression through which the country has just passed were severe on the management and strength of every business concern. The Afro American is to be congratulated on having passed through this period with success. But at the close of 1922 Mr. Tate and his associates, with their usual sober and far-sighted judgment, saw that the day of big business was at hand and that if they wanted to give the largest return and the greatest security to their policy-holders, the Afro-American should ally itself with some larger company.

They turned to the North Carolina Mutual, the largest Negro life insurance company in the world. In such a splendid condition were the affairs of these two companies that a reinsurance plan was immediately effected and approved by the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of North Carolina. The policy holders of the Afro-American will, therefore, in the future pay all premiums to the North Carolina Mutual and look to that company for the settlement of claims.

The North Carolina Mutual has $38,299,996 worth of insurance in force. It has paid in death and sick claims to policy-holders during the last twenty four years approximately $4,000,000. It maintains a reserve fund, for the protection of policy-holders, that equals $1,481,700.76. It has lent more than $1,000,000 to finance Negro

His past record, his future progressive and expansive program, his even handed justice, his unassuming temper, justify our approval.

We therefore call upon all Members and friends of the CALIFORNIA CITIZENS CIVIC LEAGUE and lovers of fair play, to join us in putting him over the top.

Motorbus Question

By William G. McAdoo, Former Secretary of the Treasury and Counsel for The People's Motorbus Company of Los Angeles.

The most critical problem in Los Angeles today is its need for improved and adequate transportation service. So great has been the growth of this wonderful community and so amazing and continuous its development along all lines, that its transportation facilities have become overburdened and inadequate. This, of course, is perfectly obvious to everyone familiar with the situation.

It is also clearly evident that Los Angeles should have a modern motorbus system, similar to those being successfully operated in New York, Chicago and Detroit, ot supplement its existing street service. The people of this city, in fact, are entitled to have at their constant disposal every available transportation facility and that means both motorbus and street car systems. Anything short of adequate service, whether by car lines or busses, will not do; and certainly it will avail very little to establish busses as "feeder" lines to existing street car service. Such an arrangement will do two undesirable things congest already overcrowded cars and thus add to the discomfort of the people and by perpetuating a traction monoply eliminate competition in this important field of public service.

The establishment of a bus system such as is proposed by the People's Motorbus Company of Los Angeles will mean large and immediate benefits to the citizens of Los Angeles. It will give them a modern, adequate and dependable bus service covering every section of the community where such service is needed. It will be a tremendous aid to developing districts which are not now served by car lines, and thus will further promote the city's progress.

By the presence of such bus service, managed by men thoroughly familiar with the local situation and constantly alert to serve the public interest, the element of competition which is so much desired by the traveling public, will be assured. In the absence of such competition, the people are always subject to impositions that in time become intolerable.

The bus service such as the Peoples Motorbus Company seeks to establish here will also relieve the present traffic congestion. Experience in other large cities where busses are being operated, shows conclusively that a large number of privately owned automobiles are removed from the crowded districts by the presence of a dependable bus service. Automobile owners soon learn that they can use busses much more advantageously and economically than by the constant use of their motor cars, and this quickly removes the nuisance of parking automobiles in the overcrowded downtown districts. Moreover it is not at present proposed to operate busses in the congested downtown area between Olive Street on the west and Los Angeles Street on the east until the city takes steps to deal with the situation in that area.

Moreover, the bus creates its own traffic. Their clientile is one that the street cars cannot and do not serve. A large part of the bus traffic is the kind that the street cars never had, or have driven to the use of the private automobile. Thousands of automobiles are today operated by persons who would gladly use busses if we had a system that would adequately and continuously serve the community.

In New York, Chicago, and Detroit, where bus systems have been thoroughly tried out and found satisfactory in every particular, the people themselves have been responsible for the augmented bus service. These cities could not and would not be without this bus service to supplement their street car lines. Chicago, notwithstanding the fact that the municipality is financially interested in the profits of the traction system, has authorized a 1,000 per cent increase in its bus service—from 60 to 600 busses.

Busses in that city have been in continuous operation since 1917. Detroit which now owns and operates its street railway service, has given every encouragement to its privately-owned service, although this system operates for miles on the same streets with the railway lines.

Busses never fail the traveling public at critical times because of blockades, power-house troubles, and obstructions on tracks. Nor do they cause blockades. Express service can be run on the same streets with local service. The bus is a public benefit because it is safe, comfortable and healthful and its service is at once rapid and dependable, and of course, more desirable than street cars because air-open travel in a city like Los Angeles is recreational.

The proposal of the People's Motorbus Company to provide Los Angeles with a modern, comprehensive and responsible system of bus transportation has been put up to the people of Los Angeles because they, after all, are the ones to decide whether or not they want such service. No makeshift, half-hearted, "feeder" service will satisfy them. Of this we are certain. Nor are they likely to tolerate a traction monoply that will be unresponsive to the community's progress and indifferent to the people's needs. We fully believe the people of Los Angeles have reached that point in this vitally important transportation problem where they intend to settle it in a manner that will give this great municipality the kind of service by both bus and rail lines it manifestly deserves.

NO DISCRIMINATION IN CHICAGO BUS SERVICE

City of Chicago.
Council Chamber
March 28, 1923.

Mr. Wood Wilson,
580 Central Avenue,
Los Angeles, Cal.
Dear Sir:

Your letter of recent date in relation to the proposed system of Motor-Bus transportation to be established in Los Angeles was received.

Replying to your inquiry as to whether or not the rumor circulated in Los Angeles in opposition to your proposed system of motor bus transportation to the effect that the Chicago motor busses refused to pick up colored people, beg to state that it is wholly untrue.

There is absolutely no discrimination in our motor bus transportation. They are public conveyances and accomodate all persons without regard to race or color.

Very sincerely yours,
Louis B. Anderson,
Alderman 2nd Ward.
Adv.

Stories circulated for sometime that motor busses in Chicago do not stop for colored passengers were disproved this week when Wood Wilson received a reply to a letter he wrote to Chicago.

His letter and the answer are printed herewith:

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28, 1923.
Eastside Headquarters,
580 Central Ave.
Hon. Louis B. Anderson,
City Hall,
Chicago, Ill.
Dear Sir:

It is proposed to establish in Los Angeles a system of motorbus transportation such as is now being operated in Chicago, the said proposition to go to the ballot in May.

Opposing interests are circulating dangerous propaganda setting forth the fact that the Chicago motorbusses refuse to pick up colored people.

We are writing you, personally, to know first-hand and from authority, if that statement is true. Does the Chicago motorbus refuse to carry colored passengers or in any way discriminate against them?

We are vitally interested in your answer because the literature we are handling especially points out the splendid service rendered by the motorbusses in Detroit and Chicago.

We have set out to conduct this campaign in the Eastside, a section of our city corresponding to your Second and Third Wards, therefore you can see how your early reply will help.

Cordially yours for all advancement,
Wood Wilson, Campaign M'g'r.
Ella L. Cassells, Secretary.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
Rev. Frederick M. Mitchell, Pastor.

Enthusiastic and helpful services at our spacious summer church, 33rd and Hooper Avenue. Pastor Mitchell electrified his auditors with two gospel messages. The burden of his discourse Sunday morning was that of pointing out the many turns in our work that the hand of God could be appreciated guiding our destiny, especially in our effort of purchasing the spacious lots on the corner 33rd and Hooper Avenue, and the erection of a summer church, having little human resources to draw from, all of which express nothing short of Providence.

Next Sunday we will have our regular services. Sunday School 10 a. m.; Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:45. Our choir, under the efficient leadership of Madam Viola Harris Gordon, will furnish inspiring devotionals at each service.

The choir is making preparations to render one of its most interesting programs Mother's Day. Watch for the program. All are welcome to our services.

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH—of Pomona.

Sunday School progressing. At 11 o'clock Rev. Burton preached a very good sermon. The text Sunday morning was, "What think ye of Christ and whose Son is He?" The text was dealt with diligently.

Social Program—

Sunday, April 8th, Mrs Austin celebrated her ——? birthday by having a lovely birthday dinner party. Rev. Burton, the Misses Inese and Bessie Madison, Miss Olga Harris, Anna Taylor and Marion McIntyre, from Pasadena.

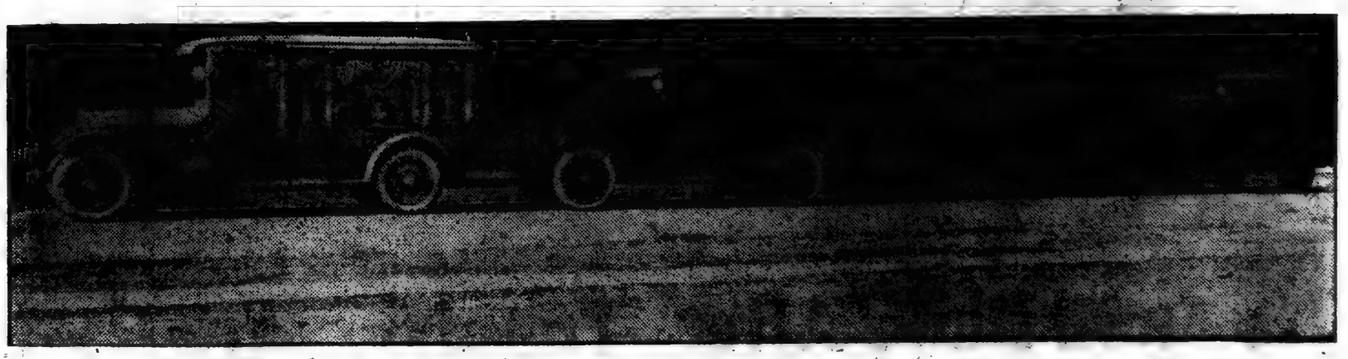
FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Pasadena

The services Sunday were wonderful. We are glad to know that Rev. Cooper is able to fill his pulpit. He preached a wonderful sermon and nine members were taken in the church. A great day in Zion was witnessed. Miss Mary Perry led the League for the last time. She left Monday for Santa Barbara where she will work with the League there.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor.

Acts 26, chapter 8th verse, "Why should it be a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead." The above text was preached from on last Sunday morning by the pastor. Some say this sermon excelled all others that he has preached. It was a continuation of the glorious Easter message. Every sermon Rev. Shaw preaches seems to be the best, so it is mighty hard to judge the best ones. If you are thirsting for heart-felt religion come over to Zion. You will be greatly benefited.

Sunday evening Rev. Cudahy preached from Rev. 17th chapter. We are always glad to listen to this great prophet and preacher.



The C. E. services were interesting. Mr. James C. Banks, Jr., appeared on the program; also Mr. Washington, Mrs. Irene Wylie and L. Roberts.

All this week a revival will be going on in Zion, possibly it will extend into the following week.

A day well spent brings a week of content.

MOTOR BUS DOOMED

CHANDLER OWEN ON HIS WAY TO CITY

THE MOTOR BUS SHALL NOT PASS

(THE MOTOR BUS)

With the Primaries only ten days away and the proponents of the MOTOR BUS Propositions known as No. 5 and 6 on the ballot, having shot their bolt; the people of all classes and walks of life are beginning to assert themselves and it reveals a Strong Sentiment Against both of the Motor Bus Propositions.

Strong Reasons For This Situation

They cannot by any stretch of the imagination see why they should be called upon to give away their streets for twenty-one years to the intiquated busses which will cause more congestion and confusion on our downtown streets can be thought of. This mode of transportation will serve only the few and not the masses and will further congest the streets instead of relieving congeston.

Imagine 125 cumberson busses, double deck busses going up and down the streets in the busy hours and realize the inconvenience they will bring.

The advent of a 10-cent fare would be but the opening wedge to an increased street car fare, for if a motor bus company with two mllion dollars invested could demand a 10-cent fare, why couldn't the street car company with one hundred and ten millions invested ask for a raise and get it?

There is absolutely no occasion for the streets of this city to become further congested by the presence of this antiquated means of transportation. They tell us that this mode of transportation is very popular and an unqualified success; as a matter of fact this statement is eroneous as well as misleading. he Motor Buss n New York City functions pretty much as the sight-seeing cars n Los Angeles function, they operate on streets where there are no street cars, as sight-seeing cars on the boulevards, up the Hudson River and other historic points and places of interest. They figure in no way as a relief to congested traffic.

Let us grant that our present street car situation fails to handle the ever-gaining traffic as it should. Is it not equally true that the Street Railway Company has bound itself to bring to us a greater relief than the Motor Bus can possibly do, by extendng its lnes and laying down new ones also of furnishing bus transportation with transfers to all parts of the city? In other words the Street Car Company has submitted and bound itself to a program of improvement which calls for an immediate expenditure for improvement of six million dollars; mind you this is for improving what they already have and the installaton of the motor bus itself calls for only a two million dollar outlay.

Remember The Jtney

.....We all remember the deplorable traffic conditions when we had the Jitney bus, likewise how the people ..fought ..and sacrificed to enact into legslation the Anti-Jitney Bus Law, and now at one fell swoop the New York capitalists are asking that we repeal that law. ..Will you do t? ..We hardly think so. ....

Stand By The Home Folk

Then after all is said and done, we must realize that the great Los Angeles and Pacific Electric Railways mean to the progress of the wonderful city; with their 10550 employees of all classes, all races, of our citizenship, with an annual pay roll of $16,000,000.00 and ..is tells the story of real progress and devotion of an appreciating public to the extent that a solid phalanx of the great masses of average men and women are lining up to defeat Amendments 5 and 6, which will appear on the ballot at the Primary Election, May 1st.

A Parallel Statement of Facts

Issued by the Los Angeles Railway and Pacific Electric Railway Company.

Performances and Pledges of the Two Street Railway Companies Compared with People's Motorbus Company's (McAdoo Bus Proposal)

THE RAILWAYS	THE PEOPLE'S MOTORBUS COMPANY
1. Investment—Money now invested in electric railways in and tributary to Los Angeles, $110,000,000.00.	1. Investment—A corporation seeking a 21-year franchise on which to capitalize. Probable investment, if franchise granted, $3,000,000.00.
2. People Employed—By the two railways, 10,550, with thousands of additional employees through related industries.	2. People Employed—Possibly 500.
3. Annual Wages Paid—$16,000,000.00 or 22 times the payroll of the proposed motorbus company.	3. Annual Wages Paid—Approximately $750,000.00.
4. Taxes—$1,623,000.00 annually.	4. Taxes—License fee, and 3% on gross receipts. Very small compared with street railway taxes.
5. Street Paving—On streets on which lines are operated, one-third of the paving is paid for by the railways and is kept in repair by them. The cost for repairs last year was $156,393.00.	5. Street Paving—No paving costs and no repairs. It is proposed that the general taxpayers shall maintain and when worn out, rebuild the paving used by the motorbuses, excepting the sections (about one-third) which the street car companies are to provide and maintain for use free by these rival motorbuses.

REPORTER VISITS VIRGIN GOLD MINES IN TUOLUMNE COUNTY

VERDUN MINES JUST 25 MILES FROM THE YOSEMITE PARK AND 90 MILES FROM FRISCO.

By: JOHN EMERY PROWD

One of the pleasantest trips it has ever been my good fortune to make—pleasure or business—was on last Thursday afternoon when I set out with a party, numbering five, to visit the Verdun Mines, located in Tuolumne County, with an elevation of about 12000 feet, and just 25 miles from the Yosemite Park.

The party consisted of Mr. A. G. Mahan, General Manager of the Verdun Mining Co.; Mr. J. B. Simms, Sales Manager for the same company; Mr. A. H. Dearing; Mr. W. M. Cole and myself.

We left Los Angeles at 3:30 o'clock, taking the road through San Fernando, over the Ridge and along the highway to the mining camp.

We had much trouble along the road, the first taking place about 63 miles from home in the Ridge when the generator of the car became unhooked from the shaft and burnt the

6. Fares—The railways charge 5c and 6c within one zone, 8c and 10c through fare between zones, with liberal transfer priveleges.

Experience in other cities with street car service is badly deteriorated or, as in Des Moines, ceases thru lack of living revenue, to be remedied, of competition continues, only by increases in street car fares.

7. Free and Reduced Rate Transportation—Policemen, firemen and postmen carried free, saving them $104,220.00 annually.

School children carried at half rate, an annual saving to the parents of $203,580.00.

8. Territory Developed—Years of time and millions of dollars put into carline extensions ahead of traffic development—new territory made available and outlying homebuilders served.

9. Relief of Traffic Congestion—Part of elevated railway already built to the East at cost of $850,000.00, to speed up traffice North, South and East.

Right of way for $3,500,000.00 Hollywood-Glendale-San Fernando Valley tunnel purchased, and now ready to begin work.

Greatest traffic relief yet offered.

10. New Equipment—Fifty new cars, costing $950,000, recently put in service on Pacific Electric's Hollywood Line for handling traffic in advance of building tunnel.

Fifty new cars, costing $725,000, recently put in service on Los Angeles Railway.

Orders have been placed for 50 more new cars for Pacific Electric and 105 more ne wcars for Los Angeles Railway. Total cost of new equipment purchased and ordered reaches $4,357,000.00.

6. Fares—A 10c minimum fare.

No service to majority of districts means an additional street car fare.

7. Free and Reduced Rate Transportation—Policemen and firemen not carried free, excepting two to a bus.

Postmen charged regular rates.

School children charged full rate—10c.

8. Territory Developed—Not a foot of undeveloped territory served. Wants only the cream of traffic already developed by the railways.

9. Relief of Traffic Congestion—Bus Company would not build anything over which to operate, or relieve any congestion.

Nothing offered for present or future relief—but propose to put 125 cumbersome tow-story buses on the streets to further congest traffic.

10. New Equipment—The total of the investment promised by the People's Motorbus Company is $2,000,000.000.

CAPTAIN FREDERICKS FOR CONGRESS

Standing for the real progress of the great and mighty Tenth Congressional District of the sovereign state of California and recognizing real worth, merit and super-qualifications, all the people join in with the mighty hosts which are moving onward in triumphant battle array for the election of that stalwart Republican and high class business man, Captain John D. Fredericks, to succeed the late and esteemed Captain H. Z. Osborne.

Captain Fredericks stands pre-eminent as a man who can and will serve the people. His environment in business but reinforces his legal attainments and fits him to go forth magnificently equipped to render a service from this district, as it has never been its lot before.

Momentous propositions will come up before this great body which will affect, in all probability, the future growth of this great city and Captain Fredericks' ability, his intimate knowledge of the vast resources, and in complete touch with the program of progress outlined by those who stand for a greater Los Angeles, makes him a commanding figure and the ideal man to bring these things to pass.

Captain Fredericks' close-up stands with the boosters for Los Angeles and his ever-aggressive attitude to procure for this section all of the things which would make it prosper and grow also makes it certain that he will ever be on guard at the Nation's Capitol at all times for the real progress and prosperity of this district. He stands for all the people all of the time and if Los Angeles moves up, all who live in Los Angeles will be on the moving.

For this reason as well as many others, the people are giving a hearty support to the candidacy of Captain Fredericks. His republicanism is unquestioned, it is not of the milk and water variety, but has been tried and true. A few more Republicans of the Captain Fredericks type, will strengthen our Republican Congress to the point where it will really accomplish great things for the principles which the Republican party stands for, and will not be at any time subservient to the whims of a Democratic minority; and with a strong pull all together, let's put Captain Fredericks over the top for Congress, on May 1st.

CHANDLER OWEN COMING TO CITY

Chandler Owen, the brilliant editor of the Messenger, who, on his visit here a year ago, set all Los Angeles agog over the tremendously interesting and illuminatry addresses which he delivered, is on his way, and we are in for another rare treat, for he comes reinfosced by the momentous happenings during the past year and will give to the people his latest and newest address; subject—"A new Solution to the Negro Problem."

He will arrive here on the 28th, and after resting up for one week, will speak at the Labor Temple, large auditorium, on the above subject. He comes under the auspices of the East Side Mothers' Club, and there is no question but that the auditorium will be filled to its fullest capacity to hear him. Reports from the East at all cities where he has spoken en route here are to the effect that great crowds have turned out to hear him and are beseiging him for return engagements.

MAKING OF MANKIND

Mankind can only be made by all men, the world by all its powers together. Often enough they war among themselves, but even as they try to destroy each other, nature holds them together and brings them forth again. From the first animal impulse towards construction, up to the highest exercise of intellectual art. From the laughter and shouts of childhood up to the glorious utterance of the orator and the singer; from the first scuffles of boyhood up to the huge armaments by which nations are lost and won; from the faintliness and the most transitory affection up to the most burning passion and the deepest bond; from the merest sensation of the tangible present up to the most mysterious presentiments and hopes for the furtherest spiritual future; all this and far more lies in man, and must be brought out and unfolded, not only in one man but in many. Every capacity is important, and all must be developed. One individual can only work for the beautiful, another only for the useful; but both are needed to make a man.

MOTOR BUS-JITNEY BUS SYNONOMOUS

That the Motor Bus and Jitney Bus are synonomous there is no question, and if you want the Jitney bus back again, all you have to do is to vote for the motor bus. As this campaign proceeds the people are getting their eyes open to the issue and they will not for one moment be dazzeled by the protestation of interest in their welfare by the capitalists of New York and their agents who are essaying to put this thing over. In other words they realize what our own great car systems have done to make Los Angeles great and will praise the bridge which has carried them thus far, and without a quiver of the eye, will vote No—on proposition 5 and 6.

EDUCATIONAL FIELD

Until the negro learns to do something for himself in the field of education he will never be able to consider himself a real man. If he is not going to become an educational factor among his own people, then education is not the leverage to lift him, in the sense that it has lifted other people. A man is educated when he can do without a teacher and when he can—and will develop and grow without the stimulus of instruction. So it must be with a race.

ALEXANDER FOR THE COUNCIL

This paper without any reservation whatever stands fairly and squarely for the election of Titus Alexander. We appreciate the effort of the people to get together and for that reason reinforced by the competency of the candidate we are rendering unto him our most hearty support.

HELPING OURSELVES

We complain because white newspapers publish our crimes and tell of the evils we do, but do not say anything of our achievements in those lines that tend to stamp us as a people of the world. We must learn to tell the story of ourselves. It is our duty to develop a press.

LOOK THE PART

There is great power in appearance. You are usually judged by the way you look and you usually look the way you feel. But you can feel the way you like and you can live in any mental attitude you like. Therefore discard all attitudes of inferiority. Never appear as if you were inferior. He who habitually thinks of himself as common, becomes common. To look your best is not expensive. And to look your best you must think your best.

RACIAL PRIDE

There must be a sense of racial pride aroused in us before we may hope to overcome. How this may be accomplished is a problem now puzzling our brain. Back the men who are doing things for the race is the word. A Negro newspaper is better than a mess of scandal. Let us appreciate the least thing accomplished by a Black man and treasure it in our hearts as the gift of God to our race and an exhibition of the tangible assets which make us feel proud that we are Negroes.

DRIFTING WHERE

The world has fallen into a moral slump. There has been a universal recrudescence of sin, particular in America, and that physical force, rather than the moral law has been given supremacy. Ideals have undergone amazing changes and conceptions of primary principles have been distorted; truth has been perverted, christian virtues have lost their divine luster and the sense of sin has been dulled. There is a growing vulgarity and recklessness in dress and behavior and an increasing disregard for the sanctity of the home. The world is groaning under industrial coercion, oppression, antagonism, race riots, ignorance and illiteracy. The world wants to be rid of poverty, ignorance, lust, greed, violence, ill-will, social injustice, and the working burden of hatred and war. What help is there for this broken world? Naturally we look to the church, but we find it full of imposing ceremonies, thundering moralities, rigid decencies, the clatter of rules, platitudes, venerable traditions, infinite cog wheels of organizations—everything except the spirit of the Gallilean peasant who came to plant in the garden of the world the seed of the love of the Almighty.

The family altar is Heavens threshold.

Immortality grows out of servitude and previous conditions.

Earth possesses no finer attainment than womanhood.

A faithful, intelligent, virtuous motherhood will elevate any race.

Man is what he thinks.

Race prejudice represents the lowest in mankind. Real culture, real character (black or white) knows no prejudice.

Nothing is easier than fault-finding, no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to everlastingly find fault with some one.

The greatest pain of hell is the uncertainty of the judgment.

Christ had no where to rest on earth save in the sepulchre. His enemies only ceased to persecute Him there.

THE BYSTANDER

L.K. BANKS

Sunday morning the Pioneers in good number held their annual services at Wesley Chapel. It was an appropriate and impressive occasion. We are proud of the fact that we have such a group as the pioneers. They cleared the forest, felled trees and acted as a vanguard for our present existence. Another fact however,, is significant and affords us cheer. We are more elated because growing with time and tide, there is a young set, fresh from school, full of fire and vim, not dwarfed by slavery, who are more disposed to venture, unite, speculate and take a chance. It is expected of them not to testify in years to come as the dwellers of old that we had a chance to buy a piece of property years ago which is today worth thousands of dollars. Rather the hope is entertained that in less than twenty-five years Central Avenue will be changed from a business center of barber shops and restaurants only, into a wider diversion of substantial ventures. The pioneers, handicapped and restrained, wrought well. The New Negro must build a suitable memorial on the foundation they laid.

Progress.

A source of encouragement follows from the fact that the Great Bethel Church of Chicago has injected some business phases in the working of the church. Our people naturally go to, and believe in Church and pastor as they do no other establishment whether it be a success or a failure. One local pastor has advanced the idea, and it would be a most interesting experiment, if some successful minister, and his faithful board of trustees would organize and promote for their group, or our group, a business enterprise. We do not intend to make the church a commercial institution, yet, advantage would like to be taken of the fact that our people have explicit confidence in church association and will contribute money in its coffers when they will refuse to purchase adequate food and clothing. We are commercially sinking and consequently grabbing at every straw for relief.

Subject: CRYER-FOR-MAYOR
Text: HE MUST BE RE-ELECTED

WHAT WAS DONE IN THE PAST

We would call to the attention of our members and friends a few of the casts of justice shown our group by Hon. Geo. E. Cryer, Mayor of Los Angeles. It is our opinion that he has entertained a very friendly feeling towards our people. He has, of his own free will and accord, secured a promotion for Miss Homer Stapler who is, perhaps, the only representative of our race employed in a clerical capacity in the City Government. This promotion carries with it an increase in salary.

Several other appointments have been made in the Police Department. Each received the endorsement of Mayor Cryer. He also championed the cause of thos Colored Officers who were dismissed from the service on charges which, in his just estimation, were not sufficient, but which in the absence of that discretion, would have produced an unfavorable result. These men are working now. They have proven worthy of the consideration shown them. Under Mayor Cryer's administration five Colored Officers have been promoted from Detective Sergeants to Lieutenants, a signal honor to our group and an economic stimulus to their families. More Colored men have been appointed to the Police Force during his term of office than have been under the combined periods of any two Mayors. On the basis of population and representation, he has given employment to our men in the Park Department of the City, each instance denoting a salary commensurate with the time and labor pursued.

WHAT WILL BE DONE IN THE FUTURE

Perhaps the most marked achievement for us in the near future will be the establishment of a Fire House, to be occupied solely by our group. This progress is not the outgrowth of an effort to segregate or ostracize Colored citizens, but rather it hastens and prepares the development of that day when our people will take on the responsibilities which their citizenship demands. It is simply a victory made possible through combined efforts. We say "victory" advisedly, for a new Fire House would give us 16 more Colored firemen, four of which would be technically licensed engineers, drawing salaries pro rated by the Commission. Two other officers of superior rank would follow as a result. The approximate pay of these men would be, for the individual, $170.00 per month, or $2040.00 per annum. This number multiplied by 16 would approximate the sum paid our men by the City Government. Their salaries approach something like $24,480.00 annually; with 16 more men added the sum would reach $57,120.00 every twelve months.

The difference between winning and losing this fight means a matter of thousands of dollars for our people. A vote for CRYER is a step towards the realization of a race Fire House. St. Paul, Minnesota, has one. It was procured in the manner which we now suggest to you—that to give your support to the candidate who sees the need, propriety and benefit of those rapid changes and developments.

H. Douglas Greer, President,
Robert G. Lamar, Secretary.

A PARTIAL STATEMENT OF FACTS

11. Bus Service—Railway companies offer to establish bus feeder lines to rail lines so that all sections of the city will be adequately served, issuing transfers between street car lines and bus lines.

11. Bus Service—People's Motorbus Company offers bus lines—125 machines on streets already served by car lines, with few exceptions.

12. Paralleling Bus Service—The Los Angeles Railway, if the City so desires, will install bus lines paralleling its rail lines on streets selected by the City, on permits issued by the Board of Public Utilities, to determine if such a service is desirable and will not add unreasonably to the present traffic congestion. These permits may be cancelled by the city, and the service discontinued, at any time.

12. Paralleling Bus Service—The People's Motorbus Company propose to parallel the street car lines, on a 21-year franchise which cannot be cancelled regardless of the changed transportation conditions and traffic congestion will undoubtedly grow worse.

13. Buses Prohibited in Congested District—In 1917 the City of Los Angeles, by vote of the people, prohibited the operation of jitneys on its streets on account of added congestion and unwarranted paralleling of street railways.

13. Buses Prohibited In Congested District—The McAdoo scheme would be a greater contribution to congestion than the jitneys because traffic on the streets has quadrupled since then, the McAdoo buses are four times the size of the former jitneys and the streets are the same size as in 1917.

14. Extension of Lines Into Hollywood and Universal Transfers—The City of Los Angeles, the State Railroad Commission, and the two electric railways are now making a survey to determine how the two street railways in the city of Los Angeles can be operated as one system.

14. Extension of Lines into Hollywood and Universal Transfers—If street car lines are paralleled on the same streets by the People's Motorbus Company (McAdoo buses), it will not only stand in the way of unification, but make extensions out of the question.

Extensions of lines and universal transfers are both economic questions and can only be determined in an orderly way as is now being done.

hThe street railways of Los Angeles are ready and prepared to care for the transportation needs of Los Angeles. They have invested or have authorized investments for this purpose, expenditures made or underway, of $9,200,000.00 within the last year alone, for subways, equipment and extensions. Applications have been before the Board of Public Utilities since January 10th, 1922, in effort to get city authority to provide needed motor bus service auxiliary to car lines.

In view of the fact that the two street railways have aided very much in the up-building of Los Angeles, we respectfully urge our patrons and the people of this City to do all in their power to enable us to continue to serve the City and to better the service in the future. Tho that end we ask that you—

Vote NO on proposition No. 5, requesting the sale of twenty-one year franchise, paralleling the heavy traveled street care lines in this City.

Vote NO on proposition No. 6, to amend the jitney bus ordinance.

wires in the generator.

We journeyed on from here the rest of the way without a generator. Our other troubles were now confined to the tires, which halted us on five different occasions, necessitating the purchasing of a new tire in Oakdale, 55 miles from our destination.

The Roads

The road to the camp is paved highway all the way with the exception of a small stretch, about 7 miles in length, known as Tioga Pass. This Pass is very dangerous, winding around the side of the mountain with always a drop to the left bank of from 100 to 600 feet. It is a one-man way, and only admits of two cars passing each other at certain sections prepared for this purpose.

At Camp

We arrived in camp at about 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, being on the road exactly 24 hours, due to the many stoppages we were forced to make; ordinarily it is a pleasant 18 hour drive.

We found more at the camp than we expected, for on glancing around there were bunks, or cabins, everywhere; the first that we wended our way to, of course, was the cook house. Here, in an hour's time, through the industriousness of Mr. Dearing and Mr. Cole, we were sumptuously fed, and felt like ourselves once more.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, it was decided to spend the evening as pleasantly as possible before retiring, and on the morrow to explore or prospect the hill—the object of our trip.

Owing to lack of time to secure the cuts of the many pictures we secured of the mines and vicinity, we will give a detailed report of the mine, whose vein is 5 feet across, takes in three claims (20 acres each), and whose ore, at 90 feet under ground is assayed at $42.00 per ton, in our next issue.

EXPLANATORY TO OUR CONTRIBUTORS

Owing to the pressure of urgent political matters at this time, we were, to our regret this week compelled to omit certain items of importance, including an account of the Recognition Services of the Bethel Baptist Church. These news items will appear in our next issue.

POLITICAL POT PIE

Much activity prevails at the various headquarters as the primary date approaches.

Down on the East Side, James Alexander is in charge of the Cryer-for-Mayor Wall street headquarters, while R. G. Lamar serves in a likewise capacity at the Central Ave., and both of them are on their toes doing yoeman service for the Mayor.

Down at 560 Central Ave., Wood Wilson, assisted by Col. C. H. Alston and Mrs. Ella Cassel, are making hay for Bert Farmer, who seeks to succeed the present Mayor, these same persons are also directing the campaign in favor of the Motor Busses. All of these persons are doing the best possible service for both Mr. Farmer and the Motor Bus Proposition.

Fred Frank, the genial, good-natured, all-around, and well informed statesman, is receiving a strong support in his race for the Council. Fred has helped so many of the other fellows to land that it is both deserving and becoming that all hands should get behind him.

WOOD WILSON SAYS

Motor Busses Unqualified Success in Other Cities

A statement on the success of motor bus operation in the large cities of the country, where motor busses have operated, was issued this week by the People's Motor Bus Campaign Committee in furtherance of its project to expend approximately two million dollars to give the people of Los Angeles additional transportation facilities.

The statement of the Committee points out that in New York City motor busses have been in operation for a considerable number of years, operate on various streets, have had no appreciable effect toward wearing out the pavements and have in no degree added to the traffic congestion. In this connection the Committee quoted telegrams received this week by Marco H. Hellman, president of the People's Motor Bus Company. One telegram reads:

"Transportation by motor busses has proved a great success in New York City. Three hundred are operated under city supervision. Bus operation started September, 1919."

The telegram is signed by Grover A. Whalen, Commissioner of the Department of Plant and Structures.

A telegram similar in tone was received from Detroit, Mich., one of the most progressive cities in the country. It reads:

"Motor bus company in this city started service in June, 1920, which met with the approval of the riding public generally to such an extent that the service has been greatly extended and has been very satisfactory to citizens and local officials. The busses operate without a franchise merely under a license fee."

(Signed)

JOHN C. LODGE, Acting Mayor.

Chas. H. Wood, a strong constructive man of affairs, is a winning candidate for the Council, and will receive a hearty support from all classes.

In the light of the action of one of the would-be aspirants for the Council, the action of Sidney P. Dones stands out in bold relief as a man who politically would not stand in the way of success for the race. When Fred Roberts seemed to have the best chance five years ago, Attorney Mr. Dones had his petition signed and already filed, he gracefully stood aside and gave his hearty support to Roberts, who was elected. Also, in this present instance, due credit must be given J. W. Thompson and other aspirants, who gracefully stood aside and giving their support to Titus Alexander.

W. H. Sanders (Pop) pulled off the biggest purely political meeting of the season at Central Hall Thursday evening. It was an auto motor bus meeting. All the candidates were there and Pop gave all of them a chance to meet the people.

Henry Z. Osborne and his friends are making a straight-forward campaign, the seat held so long and ably by his distinguished father and are extremely confident when other candidates finish ham stringing each other that Mr. Osborne will be triumphantly elected.

PHILIP JACOBSON, CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCILMAN, OPENS CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS

Mr. Philip Jacobson, a prominent young business man of this city, takes this occasion to announce his candidacy for the city council. His campaign headquarters are now established at 1029 Broadway Place.

Mr. Jacobson is a graduate of the University of California, and during the many years of his residence in Los Angeles, during which he has taken an active part in civic affairs, he has acquired a knowledge of the people nad their government needs, which preeminently fits him for a seat in the City Council. Among the public-spirited organizations with which Mr. Jacobson is affiliated are the Associated Secretaries, Los Angeles Transportation Club, and the Franchise Motor Carrier's Association, of which last body he is secretary.

Mr. Jacobson's candidacy has been enthusiastically endorsed by a number of representative Los Angeles business men, who are fully acquainted with his ability, high ideals in business and in politics, and his irreproachable integrity, and who believe that he would be of real service to the public as a Councilman.

His many friends and supporters are confident that Mr. Jacobson will be among the leaders fo the eighteen candidates who are named for Council at the Primary election on May 1, and Mr. Jacobson takes this occasion to solicit our suffrage at that time.

THERE WILL BE A HOT TIME AT THE FORUM SUNDAY

Last Sunday was field day at the Forum, and it being the political season, things were sizzling all along the line.

Henry Z. Osborne, Jr., was present, and addressed the gathering, also one of the labor candidates for he Council, both of them made good speeches, but it remained for the Motor Bus Proposition to furnish the fire works for the afternoon. It came about where the versatile and wide-awake Daily Express man, Noals D. Thompson, asked Mr. Osborne a question, a very pertinent one, which answer might have shown for or against the Motor Bus Proposition. Before Mr. Osborne could answer, the edtior of this paper got in an objection and after much discussion pro and con, the question was not allowed and no answer came forth.

On tomorrow the chairman of the program committee, among other things, will conduct a joint debate on the Motor Bus Propositions and there will be a "Hot Time in the Old Town." —Don't miss it.

Archie Woodyard Makes New Record

PREP ATHLETES COMPETE IN CITY TRACK AND FIELD MEET ON PATTERSON FIELD

Track N. Thusiast.

One of the most successful city track and field meets was held on Patterson Field last Saturday. It was a great day. The meet was featured with very fast time and keen competition. Six records were broken, two were tied and the national scholastic eight-man one-mile relay record was broken by Hollywood high school with the lively time of 3 min. 6 3-5 seconds. Manual Arts formerly held the record of 3 min. 7 seconds.

Many Colored athletes competed and starred for their schools. Chief among them was Archie Woodyard, Jefferson High flyer, who smashed the city mark for the 220 year dash, by winning it in 22.1. The judges gave him second in the 100 yard dash but there are many who believe that he beat the Pasadena flash, Pollack. According to Maxwell Stiles, writing for the Examiner: "Woodyard of Jefferson set a new record in the 220 on a straightaway of 22 1-5, and in the 100 yard dash he ran almost a dead heat with Pollack. Photographs of the finish show Woodyard actually won the race, although the judges gave it to Pollack. The boys were within half an inch of each other and Pollack had a lane nearer the judges than Woodyard had drawn."

Whizar of Pasadena placed third in the blue ribbon event and helped his team to finish second in the relay. He has been a consistent point winner throughout the season.

Hurlic, also of Pasadena aided his Alma Mater by grabbing fifth in the century, second in the broad jump and running the fastest lap in the relay.

Charles Diggs was handicapped with an injured leg and consequently did not place in the high hurdles, although he qualified for the event on Wednesday. Diggs ran the first lap in the relay for L. A. and his performance was good considering his condition.

George Duncan of Lincoln finished fifth in the 220 yard dash, ran a fine race in the first lap of the relay. Another year may find him a very hard man to beat.

De Lavallade of Polytechnic looked good in the high jump, but was forced out of the running the height of 6 feet 1-4 inch was attained by Turner of Hollywood, establishing a new city record.

Dawson of Jefferson and Poynter of Pasadena performed well in the broad jump, although they did not place.

Leroy Johnson of Manual Arts placed seventh in the half-mile race. Hanson a team-mate won the event and tied the city record of 2 minutes 1 4-5 seconds. We'll say Johnson was in fast company. This is Johnson's last year of track at the Toiler institution.

Clarence Brothers of Manual ran the first lap for the toiler team. He has been consistent this year. He is handicapped with the loss of one orm, but has done 10.2 many times, and he aided Manual in placing third in the relay.

Hurd of Lincoln did not qualify for the quarter-mile last Wednesday, but was there for Lincoln in the eight-man affair.

Bisco competed for Jefferson in the discus throw, though he did not place he showed his class and will with another season be heard from.

The Good Samaritan.
W. P. G.

A bloody mouth, lips slightly torn, a pair of dark-brown eyes gazing far off in the distance; then a bruised dark face, and long slender body—these belonged to the man who lay panting on the pavement.

His hat lay a few feet away, shabby and dirty. And still he lay there numb, half conscious. But, lo! he cannot rise! He needs help! He gradually sinks to the pavement, and in doing so strikes his head against an iron fence. Again he is still and crumbled and disfigured.

Two women follow, laughing and making fun. A great joke, eh? Other men and women standing across the street watch, but offer no assistance. White and black alike pass, but only look back at him.

Ah! here comes a man with heart big enough, soul stirred, and helps him to his feet and carries him home for teratment.

The stricken man often had these paralytic spells.

IVAN JOHNSON WINS QUARTER IN ARIZONA TRACK MEET

Ivan Johnson, the U. S. C. quarter-miler, stepped the 440 yeards in 52 seconds for first place in the U. S. C. Arizone meet Saturday, beating the four-man one-mile relay helping his team to win in the good time of 3 minutes 32 3-5 seconds.

TED SHAW PLACES IN 220 YD. DASH IN SAN FERNANDO MEET

In the San Fernando Invitional track and field meet held in the valley town last Saturday, Ted Shaw of Monrovia, won third place in the finals of 220 yards. He placed second in the first heat of the half-lap event, and second in the first heat of the century. Ted equalled the Central League mark of 10.1 some days ago.

BLACKIE RICE BEATS JACK MOORE IN MAIN EVENT AT COVINA

Blackie Rice, local 165 pounder, won the decision over Jack Moore, sparring partner for Jack Dempsey, in the main event at Covina last Friday night. Blackie had three knock-downs to his credit.

He is managed by H. W. King of this city who is also the manager of three other good boys namely: Baby Gans, Young Burton and Lightning Davis. All of these battlers have been going great in recent fights.

Memoirs of an Ex-Sheik

(By One of the Old Masters.)

Blue Room Scene.

Gaze upon the ex-sheik's blue room. It is beautiful with tints of azure, and a flood of sunlight illumining the prussian blue above. Below is an artistically-designed rose-arbor and miniature gardens veined with bowers colorful and sweet-scented, while beyond is the court of crimson and tents of gold. The ex-sheik slowly paces the soft carpeted floor of gray and green. He meditates. His arms are folded and he walks hesitatingly again. All of the Associated Sheiks and scouts have reported and have just been given private interviews. So the ex-sheik has sought solitude here to plan future movements and tactics. Backbiters, chewers, nibblers, and followers have been slightly negligent in their maneuvers and are subject to increased activity and urgent duties for the coming week.

The Ex-Sheik Speaks:

April showers still come and go and threaten again, but soon this month of rain and changeable weather will fade into eternity. There is much within to do. Festivals, entertainment, reading, smoking, and strolling about the verandas of my vast estate, or seeking shelter and comfort from high winds, enjoying companionship with my favorite. Attendants make daily inspection of our wardrobe. Our horses are well-cared for. There is unity and peace on my premises. Green are the trees against the blue background of sky; tender and frail are the fresh upshoots in woodland and glen, but Mother Nature soon will be bountiful with her treasures. Then will the ex-sheik roam again accompanied by his favorite, his love, for her love belongs to him; and love is life with the prophet.

Now that there were no more infidels to disturb his haremites, and it was dismal without, the ex-sheik desired even more entertainment and amusement. He detailed his counsellors to send for outside talent. These men in turn sent scouts across the windswept plains in search of new dancers. But a few hours pass befroe the attentive and obedient followers have secured unique performers. Each performer is announced. Ah! the dance! The dancers had been trained to dance from childhood. They came tripping, swaying, swinging rhythmically, falling as if prostrate, before the ruler of the land. Orientale music continued far into the night.

News Item.

Dispatches reached the private office of the ex-sheik to the effect that more than a hundred Sheiks corralled in his harem. Unfortunately this advance agent met with the law. Hard luck. A slight re-union of the Association of Sheiks was registered not many days past. Music ala Orientale and ala sheik and general footwork prevailed.

GREAT SALT LAKE

By: Wendell P. Gladden, Jr.

Unique is the setting and beautiful. Just beyond Ogden, Utah, to the west, a chain of rugged, cloud-covered, sun-swept, and sometimes hardly discernable peaks encircle an immense body of water. It is the great Salt Lake. On crossing this lake, a journey of about thirty miles, lookng far out on either side, one notes gaps between the mountains where the little sea rolls on. But the peaks loom up to join the circular chain again.

Now the eyes begin to trace slowly the innumerable, converging paths of salt, to follow carefully their ragged borders back to the train, where, just below, they break on the cold and colorful rock, only to retreat in beds of foam.

Westward, there is a small peninsular, a break in the flowing lake. To the north, a huge bowl of brimming red water shimmers in the morning sunlight.

Again, the lake calls, fascinates! How much lke the sea it is; but there is never a ship, no, never the picturesque sail to break the lake's clear clean edge. Ah! so much like the sea, with fluteering sea gulls gliding and dippng and swaying in their play; only the mountains and low flat foot hills continually pierce the background of azure.

Here and there can be seen immovable dried lakes of salt not unlike the tin of sand. No sea gulls are here, only bits of shrubbery on their surfaces, and sometimes little meandering golden streams. There is a loneliness and sadness prevailing as one looks upon the rain-trailed hills and mountains in the distance, and the desolate expanse at hand.

Farther, the water s salt and yellow on the one side of the narrow roadway, fresh and almost crystal on the other, with the same upturned cup of blue hanging over.

O lake, green and glistening and rippling now, but restless still, how many warriors and chiefs of lost nations have gazed in wonderment upon your surface, rhythmic and tumbling! What is the hushed song you sing? Why do you wail when you have strength, and power far superior to man? You are so vast, yet, you complain. What is your sorrow, O, lake? Is it that Death stalks naked and silent on your depths immeasurable? I can not help you, little sea. I also bring my grief here in quiet communion with you, but can not groan, for you are so vast and wonderful, your voice utters a thousand tones of distress, while I remain so weak and small. O lake, I surrender my boon of woe to you and am amazed again at your beauty, and immensity supreme.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

PREPARING FOR SPRING OPENING

Many plans for repairs and improvement at the Y are already well under way, and a very busy spring season is looked forward to. The swimming tank will receive a fresh coat of paint, the handball court will be improved with a cement flooring. Another feature will be an open boxing erena with facilities for outside wrestling, under competent instructors. Gym classes will begin early next month and all business and professional as well as men engaged in other occupations are urged to enroll. There will be plenty to keep them busy with swimming, handball, boxing, wrestling, and gymnastics, and new steel lockers for their use.

Stunt Night is Successful.

A good crowd was entertained in the gymnasium last Tuesday when the first of our monthly Stunt Night and Minstrel Show programs was the feature. Boxing, wrestling, gym stunts, and music furnished the attraction for the evening. Some new and bigger things are promised for next month.

Clothing for Russian Students.

The Y. M. C. A. drive for clothing for Russian students ended Friday, April 20. This association wishes to thank the many friends who assisted in providing clothing for the hundred thousand needy.

Annual YMCA Track Meet Scheduled For May 20.

Entries will be received soon for the Annual Track and Field Meet conducted by the Ninth Street Branch Y. Many new events will be added this year and a large entry is expected. We are arranging to have the Y boys from Oakland to compete on this day. They have a strong team, and with the material of the Southland, competition should be very keen. Further details regarding the meet will be published in length.

"STRUTTIN ALONG" HAS SUCCESSFUL WEEK IN LOS ANGELES

"Struttin' Along," the musical comedy sensation of the season, in connection with Mamie Smith, celebrated record star, and her jazz hounds, opened at the Philharmonic Auditorium last Monday night, under direction of Ackerman and Harris, and proved to be one of the fastest shows ever to perform on the coast.

Moving picture stars and other local artists were among the first to attend, all proclaiming the performance great. More than thirty-one hundred people crowded into the auditorium during the week and were highly entertained.

The first act began with a snappy scene "Down on the Old Plantation," in which Frisco Nick, William Pierson, and Richard Courtney were featured in some very good comedy. They were assisted by a chorus of about twenty-five girls.

John Rucker and Sid Perrin were a scream in 'An Afro-Chinese Fracas.' These funny comedians won the audience with their humor and dancing, and received much applause.

In Strut three, Susie Hurst and Jessica Derneck offered a clever little dancing and singing act in "A Bit of Carolina Sunshine."

At the opening of the next scene the sweet harmony and unusual touch of syncopation of Mamie Smith's famous Jazz Hounds pleased. The New York Favorite came forth in beautiful and gorgeous costume, and rendered several jazz numbers, and was also well-received. This scene served as the peak of the climax of the first act.

The Sheik's Harem scene was elaborat, and realistic with Bee Blake as the sheik's favorite, Frisco Nick, the sheik, the favorite's dancers, sheik's counsellors, slaves and harem dancers. It was colorful with just enough comedy and wit and excellent dancing by Zoe Ramee and Carolyne Snowden to make it light and appealing. There was some clever dancing by the sheik, and singing.

Sid Perrin, as the Chinese, together with John Rucker, Richard Courtney, Eddie Anderson, Katherine Reese, and William Pierson, in "The Railroad Accident" proved to be a sensation. Perrin's dancing was commendable.

Three more scenes concluded the program. Zoe Ramee exibited wonderful artistic talent in Strut three in connection with the Coloradora Sextet, trailing on her toes with the cake after the cake-walk.

Richard Courtney and Carolyne Snowden were in a snappy act singing Aggravatin Papa, a popular jazz number.

Carolyne Snowden's performance in the Sudanese Danse was wonderfully attractive, displaying agility and artistic taste, rhythmn and movement extraordinary, to say the least. Zoe Ramee descended and mounted the stairway on her toes, evoking more applause and admiration.

Mlle. Augusta Petit rendered an operatic number—The Lark. She displayed a wide range and almost perfect control and placement. Models and Muff girls were in the final strut. The Mamie Smith Contest and "Struttin' Along" ended the most delightful evening.

The show is on the road again and it is hoped that their return visit will be soon.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DR. PROWD.

THIRD BAPTIST CHURCH
Cor of Clay and Hyde Streets.
San Francisco, Cal.
April 13, 1923.

Dr. H. D. Prowd,
749 Ceres Ave.,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Dear Friend:

We know that you have probably heard of the death of our dearly beloved Pastor Rev. J. A. Dennis of Feb. 20th., and this comes to inform you that the church will hold a grand Memorial on Sunday afternoon April 22, in his honor, at which time a subscription will be raised for the purpose of erecting a monument o'er his grave and to install a Memorial window in the church.

It is within our knowledge that you were a close friend of Rev. Dennis, so it is needless for us to recite his many excellent qualities that so endeared him to all who knew him. We only address you at this time that you may have an opportunity to subscribe to the fund that will be raised. Although your subscription may not reach us by the date of the Memorial Service it will be acceptable at anytime, and you are advised to make your remittance to Mrs. I. B. Reed, same payable to Memorial Committee of Third Baptist Church. Mrs. Reed is our Church Clerk and resides at 339 Kirkham Street, San Francisco.

Thanking you in advance for your co-operation and for whatever amount you may give,

We are Yours in Christ,
Rev. J. L. ALLEN, Pastor.
T. COX, Chairman Board of Deacons.
B. L. TYRELL, Chairman Trustee Board.
J. M. THOMPSON, Chairman of Committee.
Orval Anderson, Secretary of Committee.
Mrs. I. B. REED, Church Clerk.

THIRD BAPTIST CHURCH—
Cor of Clay and Hyde Streets.
San Francisco, Calif.
April 13th, 1923.

Dr. H. D. Prowd,
749 Ceres Avenue,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Dear Dr. Prowd:

I take this liberty to address you concerning enclosed matter, as we desire that you do your utmost to swell the subscription in Los Angeles, and would like for you and Rev. T. L. Griffith whom I have written, to join forces and arouse as much interest in the affair as possible. I also beg to state that any amount derived in the fund over what is required to erect the monument will be given to the widow, Mrs. Dennis. There is quite a bit of talk about not installing the Memorial window but simply erect the monument and turn the balance over to Mrs. Dennis as a contribution from the public. I failed to state so in the appeal enclosed herewith as it is somewhat delicate, although it is known that Mrs. Dennis was left without anything, owing to Rev. Dennis' overwhelming charity, as you may yourself know. I trust you will find it advisable to take charge of the Los Angeles end of the subscription jointly with Rev. T. L. Griffith, and that you will be able to raise a handsome amount.

Thanking you for your interest, and success in your work, I am,

Yours in Christ,
Orval Anderson,
Secretary of Memorial Committee.

MARYSVILLE, CALIF.

The Mt. Olivet Baptist Church will lose its pastor, Rev. E. C. Dyer, who received and has expected a call to become pastor of the Independent Baptist Church of Portland, Oregon. He plans to leave May 1. Mr. Dyer came here a year ago and took charge of the work. He came highly recommended and we must say he has not come short of the recommendations and we say he is a man of great worth wherever he may be. The church has been the center of activities since he has been here.

The members do not hesitate to say the church and the community sustains a great loss by his leaving.

Mr. Dyer's resignation came as an unexpected shock. The members voted unanimously not to accept it. Although Rev. Dyer insists on going, we want him and the world to know that he is going against the will and wishes of the members and friends of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church.

Much improvements have been made in the building including a concrete floor in the basement which is just being completed.

FREDERICKS FOR CONGRESS

It remained only for the Republican National Congressional Committee's endorsement to make the party backing of Capt. John D. Fredericks complete. The arrival from Washington of the telegram from the chairman of this committee urging Tenth District voters to get behind the captain served as an added boon to his candidacy. This candidate for congress already had the endorsement of the Executive Committee of the Republican County Central Committee and of the Republican Congressional Committee for the Tenth California District.

In spite of opposition claims to the contrary, these endorsements clearly stamp Fredericks as the regular Republican nominee and as such he is entitled to the full support of the party. The fact that so many of the Republican leaders of the district are working for him indicates that his election is virtually assured.

Fredericks is undeniably the strong man in the race, but there is such compelling necessity t oreturn an administration man to Congress that the party leaders deemed ti imperative that the voters concentrate on the man—Fredericks—in order not to let their party strength be too widely split between the four Republicans in the field.

An analysis of the record of Capt. Fredericks makes it easy to understand the preference. He is the "big" man, mentally as well as physically, in the field He is rated as one of the commanding figures in the city, one of the most able leaders in a community noted for its remarkable civic builders His work during the past ten years has been such as to identify him with the most important projects of Southern California. In his capacity as a civic leader he has carried to fight for improvements to Washington no less than seven times during the last three years, each time with unerring degrees of success.

There are two problems of major importance with which the next representative from the Tenth district will have to deal. These are the Boulder Canyon dam and the Los Angeles Harbor projects. The former means the building by the federal government of a project designed to protect the wonderful Imperial Valley from the menace of floods from the Colorado; to provide irrigation facilities sufficient to reclaim more than 2,000,000 acres of land tributary to Los Angeles, and to develope a huge hydoelectric power plant which would take care of the power needs of this section of the Southwest for years to come.

The port of Los Angeles problem is just as great as the dam project. Los Angeles is rapidly arriving at the point where it is the dominant port of the Pacific Coast. its tonnage is growing faster than any port in the world. It will take millions to develop the facilities which must be provided to care for future growth.

As an executive of the Chamber of Commerce Capt. Fredericks has been working on these problems for years. Therefore he is intimately acquainted with them. He not only knows by actual experience what Los Angeles needs, but he is big enough to go back to Washington and get results.

In the matter of progressive legislation, Capt. Fredericks stands as one of the constructive forces of the state. He has fought against the exploitation of child labor and he has fought for proper protection for women in industry

Capt. John D. Fredericks

ELITE TAXI SERVICE

LATEST SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MERGER.

The Elite Taxi Service is living up to the promises made two weeks ago when the company was formed by the consolidation of four separate and independent taxi enterprises—namely R. W. Johnson, Robert T. Tanksley, S. O. Spellman and C. H. Curry.

These four well-known taxi men united in a pledge to give the people of Los Angeles and vicinity a larger prompter and more efficient service, and they are living up to that pledge.

The patrons of the Elite Taxi Company will now have at their call a Hudson Limousine, a Hudson Supersix (touring), a Hudson Sedan and an R. V. Knight, thus making available a 24-hour service.

The Elite office is at 1146 Central Ave. Phone Main 1476 or Broadway 1411 from 1:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. where they may be reached any time day or night.

They are always on the job and ever at your service.

MCADOO AND BUSSES

Editor Eagle:

Please publish the enclosed clipping which, during the war, I took from "Chicago Defender" Nov. 30, 1918—when the railroads were under W. G. McAdoo, son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson, king of oligarchy.

This clipping is only one of the many indications of his attitude towards us so that if his company be granted the motor bus franchise sought by proposition No. 6, on ballot for Tuesday's election, I fear that the city will suffer the embarrassing conditions of a few years ago, when busses refused to carry our people, humiliating us along the streets.

Our people shoud not be fooled by the fact that "The Peope's Motor Bus Company" and Proposition No. 6 on the ballot, are supported by a few colored people operating under the name "Colored Citizens' Motorbus Committee", who, I understand are would-be politicians(?) paid by the day to electioneer for the company.

I regret that my name appears on this "Colored Citizens" letterhead now being broadcasted from some obscure corner on Central Avenue; and I imagine that most of the people whose names appear on the letterheads, were inveigled as I was: that is, a few weeks ago a lady telephoned me, inquiring whether I favored jitney busses, and on my telling her that I favored them, if properly conducted, she requested the use of my name as one favoring busses. I consented, without any reason to suppose that my reputation for the advocacy for the advancement of all men, should be besmirched by my being published as favoring this McAdoo movement which would give this former Wilson politician more power and opportunity to spread his war-time race prejudice. To let this handful of paid politicians fool us, is a reflection upon real race leadership—a disgrace upon Negro intelligence—and I seize upon this opportunity to rescue my name from this disgrace of being even suggested as being such a tool to crafty politics.

During the war Wilson and his cabinet seemed determined to crush the Negro at home and abroad; and this same McAdoo was Wilson's right guard and main supporter. During my service in first the navy, and later in the army, I felt the pain of their hatred and evil, unfair discrimination. The two sharp edges of their bloody sword of race oppression.

This same McAdoo is before us again. I will not trust him! You can't change the leopard's spots." McAdoo of war-time, will likely again be the same as of old; for true to form, "You can't teach and old dog new tricks."

McAdoo and all others must be taught that when they unite to crush the Negro in one section of the country, the same offenders cannot go elsewhere and get within the graces of the black man. "Be sure your sins will find you out."

In voting for McAdoo Motor Bus Co. we should remember these phrases in the letter mentioned in the enclosed clipping: "The conditions under which Negroes are employed—is not to be extended beyond the practice heretofore existing, and you are cautioned against employing Negroes for this (railroad) class of service not heretofore open to them nor to take the places of white men."

Vote no on propositions 5 and 6.

Respectfully,

AFUE McDOWELL.

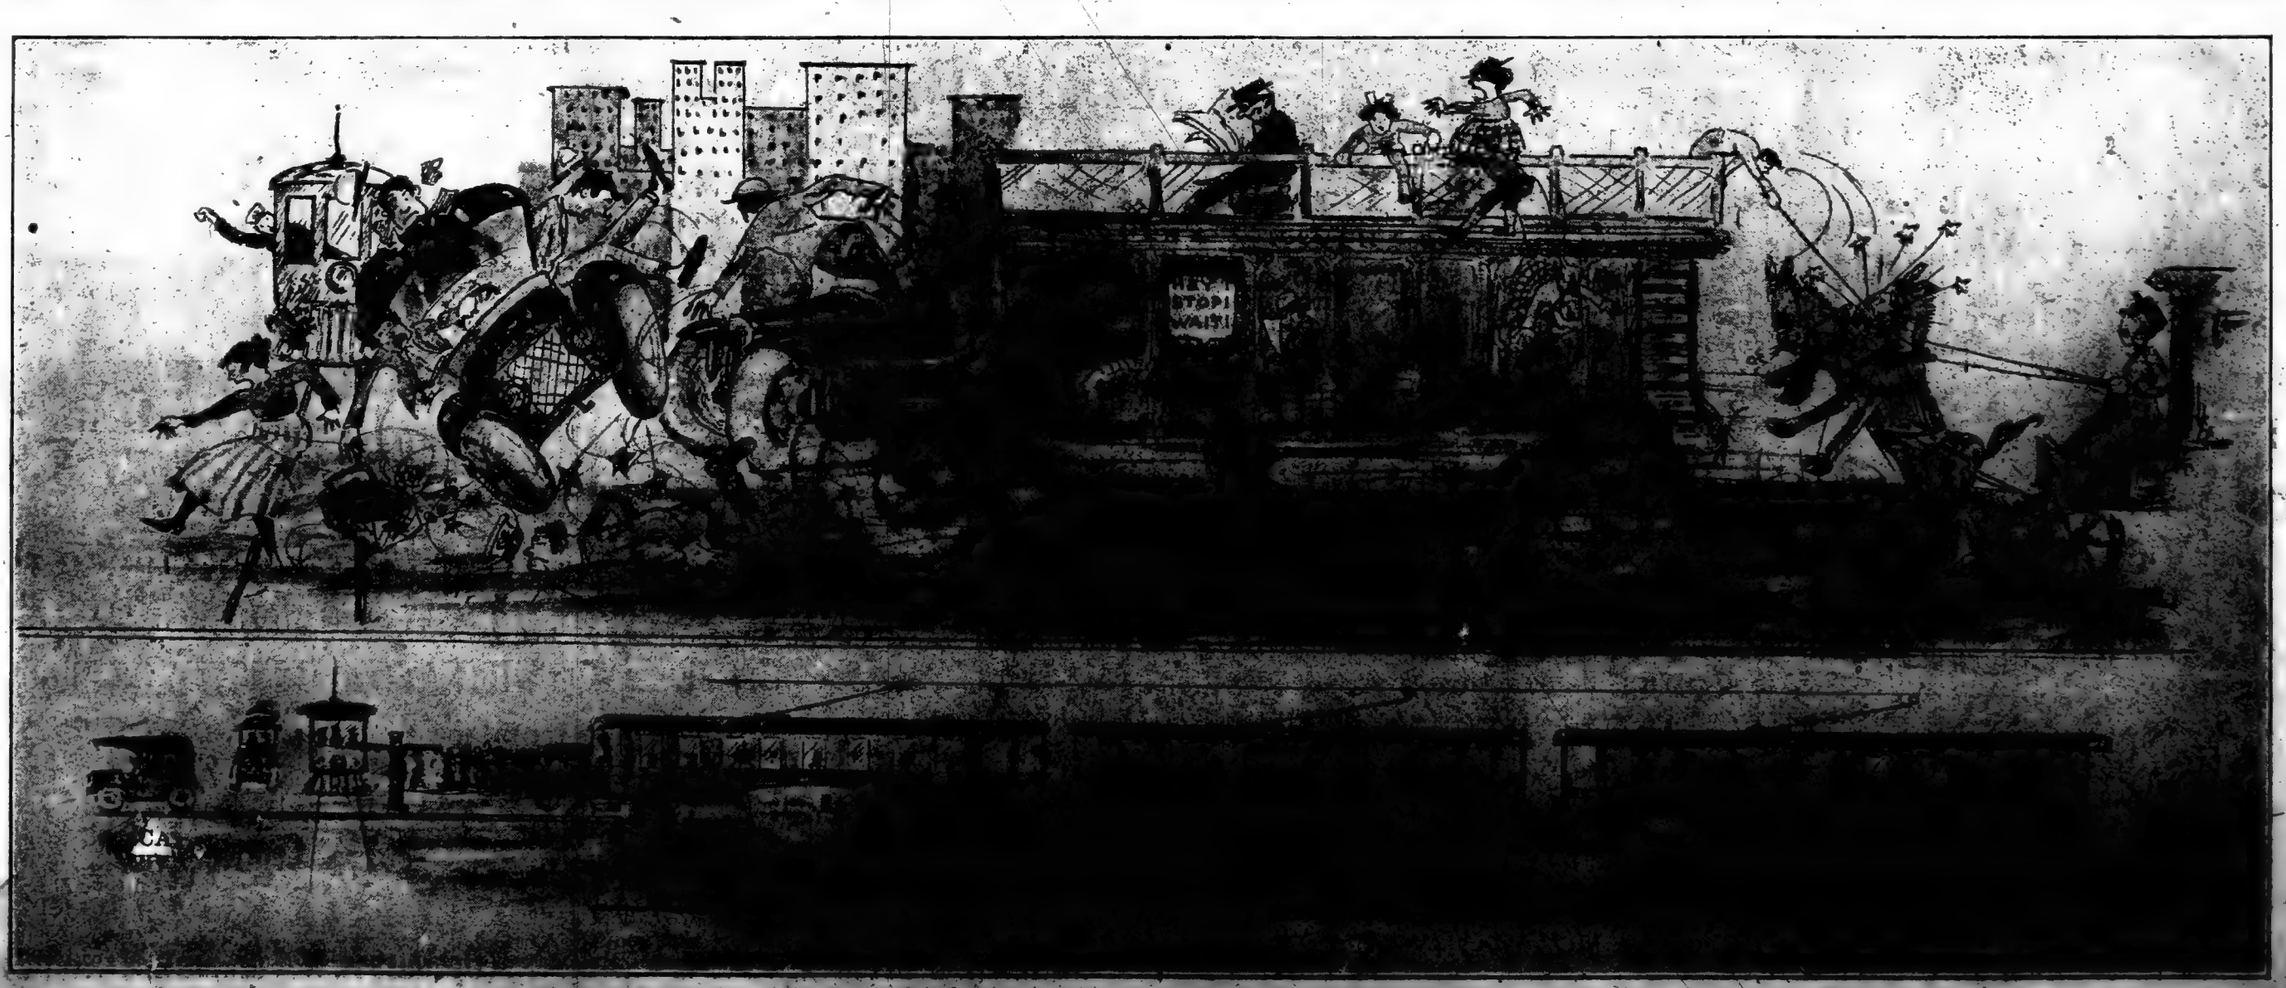
TO NORTHWESTERN RAILROADS:

EMPLOYMENT OF NEGROES

The conditions under which negroes are employed as firemen, hostlers, switchmen, brakemen, et cetera, are not to be extended beyond the practice heretofore existing, and you are cautioned against employing negroes for this class of service not heretofore open to them nor to take the places of white men.



Yours truly,

R. H. AISHTON, Regional Director.

Mr. Aishton speaks for Mr. McAdoo. The same McAdoo who told our people that none had done more for the nation in and out of war than they. As Aishton is working under orders of Secretary McAdoo, so apparently is Secretary McAdoo working in this instance under orders of the Federation of Labor.

This latest discrimination issued as an industrial order coming from one of the most important departments of the government, and affecting a portion of the most loyal citizenry, comes with improper grace at this time, when democracy is being loudly proclaimed as the panacea for all social and industrial evils.

PHYSICIANS PLEASED WITH PROGRESSIVENESS OF WATTS

Dr. Allensworth, a recent visitor to Watts, thus expresses himself regarding that enterprising town:

"I am surprised to note the beautiful homes that our people are building in Watts. In fact, I can truthfully say that I believe Watts to be the fastest-growing little city in California. Among the business places I visited was the Duckett and Spurlock realty offices. It is indeed gratifying to observe the enterprising spirit manifested by those two young women. Since forming partnership about three months ago, they have purchased a lot and erected a substantial building, one section of which is occupied by their offices, the other being leased to Professor Biggers. Mesdames Spurlock and Duckett are college graduates and former school teachers. The knowledge and training thus acquired is standing them in good stead in business life, and the efficiency and courtesy that characterizes their dealings with the public are winning for them well-deserved patronage and support."

REPRINT OF RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE CALIFORNIA DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION APRIL 5th.

"Whereas, the State Constitution of California provides for Legislative reapportionment based on population as shown by the Federal census, and

"Whereas, there is now before the State Legislature a measure providing for such reapportionment based on the Decennial census of 1920.

"Now therefore be it resolved by the California Development Association that it urge upon the Legislature the importance of compliance with this mandate of the Constitution without further delay.

"Be it further resolved that the California Development Association take this occasion to record the belief that there is danger to the future welfare of the State in a Legislature Apportionment plan that might place a predonderance of Legislative power in the hands of representatives from the great centers of population thus depriving the other sections of the State of an effective voice in representative government.

"Therefore be it further resolved that immediately following the reapportionment now made mandatory by the Constitution we strongly urge the presentation to the people of a constitutional amendment which shall establish a procedure by which the citizenship and the community interests of all sections of the State may be adequately represented."

TAKE NOTICE

The Executive Committee of the National Baptist Convention has organized a Board of Promotion and requisioned Rev. L. G. Jordan from the Foreign Mission Board to direct their $100,000.000 Drive. The plan is to use $50,000.00 to free the convention of debt and to aid the Boards in their work at home and on foreign fields. The other $50,000.00 is to secure the completion of the $300,000.00 building for their Sunday School Publishing Board.

There are at least four churches in our Baptist Zion that will give $1,000. to the drive.

The Board of Promotion is housed by the B. Y. P. U. Board, 409 Gay Street, Nashville, Tennessee. It ends with the drive, December 1923. All of its work will be done through existing organizations; hence no new machinery. The Boards of the National Baptist Convention are its hands, going into all parts of the home field and in regions beyond, with the message of love and salvation. Their hands are tied with debt; untie them and see how much faster they will "Go ye." The drive is on for the purpose of clearing every debt the convention owes, encouraging and helping our missionaries at home and abroad.

A large number of delegates from the National Baptist Convention are planning to sail for Europe, June 30, to attend the World's Baptist Alliance at Stockholm.

To the Baptist Brethren:

I am sending this letter as written by Dr. Charles O. Boothe for the Memphis Conference, in order that our brethren might see how one of the old line mark brethren is thinking in respect to our work. This is a suggestive letter. Read it carefully. May it inspire us to be ambitious yet cautious, active yet temperate and labor without getting tired.

Chattanooga, Tenn.
March 29, 1923.

To Dr. L. K. Williams in the Special Meeting in Memphis, Tenn., April 3, and to the dear brethren who may be in conference with him,

Dearly beloved leader and yokefellows in the gospel harvest field:

I regret that I cannot be with you in body, though in longing and prayer on your behalf, I am with you. I am sick with "Flu" and must therefore say my say in the briefest way possible. I submit for your consideration the following namely:

1. Read John 13:16 and John 14:15 and believe it and act by it as though Jesus stood in your meeting and uttered to you the language of verses named. They are as true in his absence as in his presence. Indeed, he is not absent. "Lo, I am with you to the end of the age."

2. The incorporation of the mother body, the Convention, makes this body, that is, the Convention responsible for all its different agencies. That is to say, where these assume liabilities they do so for the mother body and the mother body can be held legally responsible, except some provision or special act of the mother body shall hold boards within carefully defined limits. "A hint for the wise is sufficient."

3. Your Publication Board and your Home and your Foreign Mission Boards should have safety at this hour, the beginning hour of our denomination (since we let the first bird out of the cage); for these Boards are your "underpinning," your pillars.

Lay your mightiest hand to your printing plant. It is supremely missionary in its purpose and operations as well as a basic force on all sides.

4. The Conventional session in Los Angeles should have a program which ajars gates upon new visions of duty, of opportunity, of organization and push. Indefinite, uncertain men and movements should be replaced and have their talents or pounds of trust given to others who can put things to the exchange.

May God bless you with great freedom of soul to push into a forward look.

Your humble brother in Him who loved us unto death.

(Signed Charles O. Boothe.

TO THE PUBLIC

Adopting cheap, political tactics certain people have been busy circulating the report that Wood Wilson had sold out to the Cryer forces.

I take this method of informing the public that I, Wood Wilson, hold my vote and influence sacred. I never take up a man or measure without careful consideration and when I have once taken a stand I stay.

At the beginning of the campaign I took up the candidacy of Bert L. Farmer because I considered Mr. Farmer the logical candidate. I am still of that opinion. I am standing first, last and all the time for the man of my choice, Bert L. Farmer.

(Signed) WOOD WILSON.

Where to Attend Church

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
34th Street and Central Avenue. .. ...
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Pastor.

Two good services were held at this church the past Sunday. The Pastor filled the pulpit at both hours, using as his morning theme "Strong in the Lord." At the evening hour the subject was: "Christ's Part; Our Part." A large number of visitors were noted in the audience. Plans were launched in a campaign for A greated "Lincoln Memorial." The membership of the church was divided up into ten Circles for service, under as many leaders or Captains. The Annual Rally was set for July 29. The slogan is every member a worshipper and worker.

This Sunday April 29th The Pastor will preach at the morning hour. In the evening the Monthly musical program will be rendered. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times. On the sick list for this time.

On the sick list for this week is Mrs. Genoah Quinn. We are glad to report that she is much improved.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
33rd and Hooper Ave.
Rev. M. Frederick Mitcell, Pastor.

We had unusual interesting and inspiring services last Sunday. The pastor brought two rare treats—discourses upon the subject "Man's Extremity is God's opportunity." At night, "Church Inspection." Quite a few visiting friends joined us in each service. Our choir is enthusiastic in the preparation for a unique Mother's Day program. Also children's program. "The Crowning of Queen of May." A large number of girls are in the quest to win queenship. Each of these programs is under the management of Madame Viola Harris Brandon. Special services at our church next Sunday. An invitation is extended to all of our friends to join us in our services at 33rd and Hooper Avenue.

BETHEL CHURCH OF CHRIST—HOLINESS—
Hooper and Adams Street.
William A. Washington, Pastor.

Sunday was a big day at Bethel being special rally ady for the removing of the building that we might have ample room for those that want to worship God in the beauty of holiness. A special appeal was made to the membership and friends to help in this worthy cause.

The pastor occupied the pulpit in the morning scripture lesson St. Luke 11:1-13. Text was found in Matt. 11-28-30. Subject "Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." This invitation was extended by the pastor to everyone regardless of condition; the poor in body and spirit, the rich and friendless, widows and orphans, all were invited to accept of this invitation and rest for the soul is offered and peace for the mind. The conditions are that you bring your self and offer it. Don't stop to clean up just as you are. At the close of this invitation some came to be prayed for and 3 united with the church.

In the afternoon at 3:00 o'cloik Rev. Gantt preached the rally sermon, a most inspiring service was held.

The evening sermon preached by the pastor was found in 1 Cor. 2:2.

Everybody wlecome.

Mt. ZION BAPTIST CHURCH—
Third St. and Traction Ave.
Rev. Archie J. Williams, Acting Pastor.

Last Sunday marked another big day at Mt. Zion. All the services were well attended. The pastor spoke at both the morning and evening services.

The Second Baptist Choir of Long Beach furnished the music.

Next Sunday the pastor will speak at both services.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—

Our attendance was fair. Rev: Hay who was sent by Rev. Hudson, Supt. of Christian Missionary Society, preached an excellent sermon at the conclusion of which one came forward and made the good confession. We will announce the time and place of baptism later. A beautiful spirit pervaded all of our services last Lord's Day. Our sole aim is to worship and serve God with a well balanced faith. Rev. Hay will speak for us again next Lord's day. We invite all who wish to worship with us. We welcome all.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDS ITS SERVICES IN THE Y. M. C. A. NINTH AND HEMLOCK

Our Recognition Service Wednesday Evening the 18th, was attended with a surprise on the Devil, and a victory for the Lord's cause. The Room was fairly filled with the Delegates form EIGHT CHURCHES which took part in the deliberations. Of the 17 Ministers present, Eight came with two or more Officers of their Churches. The Rev. Mr. Wade presided with his usual wisdom and good common sense. After examination of our manner of Organization and Articles of Faith, The Council voted unanimously, that The Bethel Church was a free, regular and independent Baptist Church. We had splendid services all day last Sunday. At 11:00 o'clock our brother Rev. Mr. Skinner preached a most excellent sermon for us, and at Night the Pastor occupied the Pulpit. WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
1252 East 25th Street.
Rev. R. B. Guy, Pastor

The services at this church last Sunday were very commendable. The Sunday School well attended and the interest splendid. The pastor spoke to a large congregation of visitors and members at the morning service from the text. "Therefore we ought to take the more earnest heed to the things we have heard, lest we let them slip." One person joined at the morning service. At 3:30 p. m. The Helping Hand Club rendered an interesting program in commemoration of their Second anniversary, which was highly appreciated by the vast audience present.

The Endeavor was omitted last Sunday for the first time this year.

At night Rev. William Prince of Pasadena preached from the text, "It is good for us to be here, let us make here three tabernacles." The sermon was spiritual and impressive and the mixed assembly gave strict attention to it. One person united with the Church at this service. Come again.

Rev. PRINCE.

WESLEY CHAPEL
Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor

What we should do in this moral, economic and domestic crisis was fervently told by the pastor in his sermon Sunday morning. It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of his hearers that it was one of the most timely chosen, and effectively delivered sermons yet preached by the pastor. With him was the most excellent music by the choir and organist. Facing him was a congregation such as would furnish inspiration for any sermon, and the pastor took apt advantage of it all. The evening services were conducted by Dr. J. L. Corley. The usual song service by the choir and music by Mrs. Markham accompanied the occasion.

The young people's meeting conducted by Mr. H. W. Markham started with a boom and seemed indicative of much success.

Next Sunday the brotherhood will conduct the morning services at which time the pastor will offer another of his scholarly sermons.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Cor. Pico and Paloma Streets.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor.—
Residence 1217 Paloma Avenue.

Rev. W. E. Shaw, pastor will occupy the pulpit at Zion both morning and evening Sunday April 29th. These sermons preached by Rev. Shaw from one Sunday to another are inspirational and full of the kind of gospel we need.

Last Sunday morning the pastor preached a fine sermon that stirred every heart. The Text was found in St. Luke 10:29 verse: "But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, and who are my neighbors?"

Sunday evening Rev. Cothran preached another forceful gospel sermon. The text was found 1 John 3 chapter 2 verse. Rev. Cothran brought to our minds the great assurances of God's wonderous promise.

The choir rendered excellent music all day also the Bible class and Varick Christian Endeavor Societies held interesting meetings.

Sunday afternoon April 29 the Y. W. H. and F. M. Society will hold a public meeting. An extraordinary program will be rendered. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all our services.

Announcement!

THE ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE

Wish to announce that they will, in the very near future, have for popular subscription a limited number of units at a par value of fifty dollars each.

THE ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE is headed by men who have for many years been prominently identified with oil production, both in Southern California and elsewhere. The Syndicate has succeeded in securing a lease in the heart of what is known as the western extension of the Signal Hill Oil Field. From wells now drilling and wells already on production, it is believed that some of the largest flowing wells so far in the Signal Hill Oil Field will be discovered in this district.

You all know Mr. Sidney Preston Dones, of the S. P. Dones Company, Incorporated. Mr. Dones, before lending his name or becoming in any way connected with this venture, made a thorough study and investigation as to the management of the ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE, the reliability of the men associated with same, and their ability to make the ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE a huge success. Mr. Dones also investigated the ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE lease, and assured himself that same was as near a certainty to produce oil as it was humanly possible to foresee.

Mr. Dones will act as the ATLAS OIL SYNDICATE Representative at their branch office, 1720 Central Avenue, and we feel sure will be only too pleased to go into further detail and give you additional information pertaining to the Syndicate.

BEGIN YOUR COURSE NOW

If you'll begin your course today,
Instead of making a long delay,
Begin it willingly, begin it now,
You'll son be the "Man of the hour."

Begin it now and go to the end
It is very easy to comprehend;
Do not say, "There's nothing to do,"
Employment never waits for you.

Never dd a faint-hearted person succeed,
'Tis only the brave that do the deed.
Hearts grow sad for blessings past,
Opportunities do not always last.

There's always a way where there's a will,
And always a positon for you to fill;
Success comes in when fear goes out,
Knowledge dwells where there is no doubt.

The ignorant always has an excuse,
And says, "I'd learn but it ain't no use."
The world wants and works to maintain,
A cunning hand and a cultured brain.

Progressiveness is not "To wait."
"Some future day" may be too late;
Resolve that you'll allow none to do,
Such things that'll make them more than you.

Learn to shorthand and to write,
Learn to play upon the type;
Then from the farm-house to the Senate,
If you are competent, you'll be "In it."

FRENCH HOLD ALGERIANS IN

lished, foreign languages, with exception of French are excluded from the curriculum. Everywhere the native population is deprived of the soil, which is handed over to the colonists, among whom the loot is divided by way of concessions, according to the influential connections they may have. It is appalling to read the record of the French Chamber of Representatives on this subpect, of Nov. 24, 1911. Without being contradicted the representative Lagrossiliere said: "All this injustice is capped by the worst wrong of all, the driving out of the natives to the border of the desert as a consequence of their property being condemned.

Reminders Are in Vain.

In vain have prominent scientists in Tunis reminded the French Government time and again that in his answer to Russia it proclaimed as object of the war. To attain a perpetual guarantee of the independence of all nations of the small as well as the big, and from now on to implant respect for the right of national self-determination. As will be remembered, Clemenceau as President of the Council made this remark in the public: France has incorporated in her demands the independence of the oppressed people." He added, "Their fate will be arranged according to the laws of humanity and justice, laws that are superior to the ones now in existence. During the war the population of Algeria had to put up 300,000 combatants. For a long time the French government was reluctant to give the exact number of casualties. Whether it has been done in the past two years I do not know. But in Tunis they figured it out for themselves. Tunis puts its quota at 100,000 soldiers among them 70,000 combatants. Of these 70,000 30,000, that is almost half—were killed which as a rule is an un-heard of proportion. You may draw your own conclusions as to the Algerian losses.

Always Took the Shock.

As every one knows the non-French troops had always to meet the first murderous onslaught. That was perfectly natural. As a matter of course they were less dear to French headquarters than their own country-men. And free of charge. So were the high. The German headquarters acted in the same way. During the war there were killed at least as many lads from Northern Schleswig as were killed in whole Danish army in 1864. And the French were not fighting shy by any means. They themselves gave their losses up to November 1918 as 1,385,000 dead and missing, 694,000 maimed and 446,000 then still in captivity. Still what the French lost is out of proportion to what the Arabs lost. When the African troops embarked, Mr. L'Admiral, member of the Municipal Council and Chairman of the Bar Association made a speech at the Government building of Algeria which speech may be called tragicomical: You go forth now! Side by side with your French comrades, side by side with our dear allies, in an army, where no distinction is made as to race or origin, you will pay France the debt of gratitude you owe her. Soldiers when you have done your duty, rest assured that all special legislation, all measures caused by suspicion, all that might appear as humiliation or depreciation of your dignity as human beings will be abrogated and removed." The promise was kept as faithfully as the promise to carry through Wilson's Fourteen Points. It goes without saying that the Arabian Magazine, El Maghreb, which was edited by Mohamed Baah-Hamba in Geneva being removed there from censorship, bitterly ridiculed the daring phrase of gratitude the Arabs of Algeria and Tunis were owing to France.

Third Storm in 10 Days to Sweep Louisiana Area Takes Heavy Toll in Dead and Wounded.

(Crusader Service)

THIBODEAUX, La., April 25.—Three Negroes were killed and a score of whites and Negroes injured when a tornado swept across Bayou Lafourche early today. Many houses in the path of the tornado which was estimated to be twenty yards wide, were wrecked. A courtier on horseback rode wildly into Thibodeaux soon after daylight and told of the destruction. Sheriff Stark went to the scene and reported conditions at Lafourche as extremely grave. Physicians and hundreds of others left here for the village carrying supplies and medicine. It was reported that Lockport, La., twenty-two miles from this place, suffered from the tornado. This was the third to strike Louisiana within the last ten days, taking a toll of lives and property.

CULLMAN, Ala. April 25.—Three persons were injured, several residences and barns blown down and scores of animals were killed in a violent windstorm which swept the Sincoe section, fifteen miles northeast of Cullman last night. Who Will You Vote For FOR CONGRESS?

WHY?

H. Z. OSBORNE OF COURSE!

Reasons the Best In the Wide-Wide World

A Few of Them Follow:

First and above all his devotion to the interests of the plain, common, every-day, average man and woman is unquestioned. His long and signal service in their behalf is a part of the History of the 10th Congressional District. All peoples without regard to race, color or creed have had his willing service in their behalf.

While he is the son of his illustrious father and a chip off the old block, he has made his niche in the progressive affairs of this great city and endeared himself to the people thereof. Being no high powered attorney he will have no particular big interests to serve, but with hands free and a willing heart, his whole great 10th Congressional District.

Observance of The Golden Rule as a guide in problems of race, is one of the planks in the platform of H. Z. Osborne, Jr. He stands squarely where his father stood and promises a strong support for The Dyer Anti-Lynching bill.

Mr. Osborne is pledged to the same broad policies and untiring, sympathetic effort for the individual, district, state and nation that won for the late Congressman Osborne the approving vote of 99 per cent of the voters, regardless of party.

He has been a resident of Los Angeles for 40 years, half of which have been given unselfishly to the city's service as engineer in the Board of Public Utilities. He has personally superintended the designing of over $35,000,000 worth of public improvements.

Like his father, he will work in Congress for ample Federal aid to meet destined demands of the harbor, and for fair and prompt legislation for soldiers, sailors and their dependents.

Speaking before an enthusiastic meeting of the South Main Street Improvement Association recently, he pointed out that co-operation of the government in civic affairs was one of the prime essentials to the progress of Los Angeles as a city.

"The future development of Los Angeles is tied up with the development of the harbor and the Colorado River project," he declared. "Both are essentially engineering problems.

"All development at the harbor such as the construction of jetties, breakwaters, wharves and terminal facilities, are engineering problems. They must be designed and their cost estimated by skilled engineers.

"It is on the reports that the public bases its decision to spend money for such public improvements as these, that will benefit the city.

"In the Colorado River project, we find another distinct engineering problem. The development of that project, which is designed to help reclaim thousands of acres of arid land in the Imperial Valley and to furnish power to Southern California, will depend largely upon its sensible presentation to Congress by an engineer.

"With added power resources and harbor facilities, more industries will locate here, which in turn will give employment to thousands more people.

"It is the duty of every man who works, to vote for a man for Congress, who can present engineering data in a clear, concise manner. People for years have been sending attorneys to Congress, but making laws is not all that body does. It must appropriate money as well, for all projects calling for federal aid.

"Who knows better whether the public is getting value received for its money, than an engineer who is in full possession of data relative to construction costs?"

Mr. Osborne is president of the Los Angeles chapter, American Association of Engineers, and executive head of the Los Angeles Traffic commission. He is also a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the chamber of commerce and the Union League.

He is an honorary member of the United Veterans, and belongs to numerous Masonic, Fraternal and civic organizations.

He will Not Only Serve You Well—But will Serve You BEST

OVER 3000 PEONS FLOGGED IN YEAR IN FLORIDA

Civilized World Stands Aghast at Daily Revelations of Southern Barbarism. Many Whippings Unreported. 42 Bloodhounds In Packs Kept at Various Camps to Run Down Any Who Try to Escape.

(Crusader Service.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 25—The estimate that 1,000 prisoners, black men and white, were whipped with the lash in Florida last year is extremely conservative. It was indeed, conservative. Investigators since making that statement, have completed tabulation of the daily reports made in writing to the State Commissioner of Agriculture, in whose department is included the supervision of prisoners, by the three prison supervisors, whose duty it is to inspect county road camps, as well as State Road camps. —EVERY ONE WHIPPED—This tabulation shows: The number of whippings administered to both State and county road camp prisoners leased to private companies in Florida during January, Feruaydna rrcbMaofsA January, February and March of this year was 617. One of the prison supervisors making these reports made a marginal notation to the effect that where the "whipping boss" admitted having whipped four prisoners, the prisoners themselves asserted he had whipped twelve. Taking only the minimum figure, 617 for the least three months, the number of whippings administered during the last twelve months to prisoners in Florida is conservatively estimated at 3,000. On an average of 250 men are whipped each month. These records show that in all the various camps during the last three months there were 2,002 prisoners, of whom thirty-five were women, all Negroes. Of the 1,967 male prisoners, 1,472 were Negroes and 495 were white. The 2,468 whippings reported were divided among 1,967 men. Almost every prisoner, it seems reasonable to assume from these figures, was whipped at least once. Incidentally, at twenty of these twenty-six camps forty-two blood hounds were kept to pursue prisoners who attempted to escape. The records show that punishment with the whip was more frequent at the State road camps than at the county road camps. Among 1,024 male prisoners at the State camps, 326 whippings were distributed in three months, an average of one flogging for every third man. Among the 769 male prisoners in the county camp 197 whippings were distributed, an average of one to every four. In behalf of the West Florida Naval Stores Company, the whipping boss, A. Johnson, administered thirty-two floggings in three months among prisoners. Of this camp the Prison Supervisor, T. B. Jones writes plaintively: "I think the punishment in this camp was too great and I spoke to the captain about it. Still there was not any complaint. He said they were getting along right and have plenty to eat." Gov. R. A. Nestos of North Dakota yesterday appointed Judge W. K. Keenshaw and State Attorney G. Grimson of North Dakota to be Assistant Attorneys General to represent the State at the legislative investigation being made by the State of Florida into the death of Martin Tabert and to present evidence before the legislative committee. The appointment was received here today.

TAFT IS ON TRUST PAYROLL

Hearst Papers Exposure Create Sensation in National Capital.

(Crusader Service)

Washington, April 25.—"A profound impression" is the best description of the effect here of the astounding disclosure in the Hearst Sunday newspapers that Chief Justice Taft is the recipient of an income of $10,000 a year from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Chief Justice Taft himself sent out word from his home in Wyoming Avenue that there was nothing he desired to state. However, it is considered unlikely his friends will fail to counteract the general sentiment that the Carnegie annuity is an impropriety for the head of the highest and most impartial and unbiased court of law in the world.

Fess Fears For Court

Upon the heels of this disclosure, Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, a staunch adherent to the Harding Administration, makes public a letter in which he expresses apprehension as to the fate of hte United States Supreme Court in view of the rising popular feeling against its five to four decisions. For obvious reasons, public men are hesitant about discussing Mr. Taft's Carnegie Income, which is derived from $200,000 five per cent Steel Trust bonds. However, a public man of high position and influence, ably presented the general viewpoint when he said today: "Let Nation Pay." It was bad enough when Mr. Carnegie had his corporation pensioning ex-presidents who retired into private life. The United States ought to pay its highest executive enough money so that he is beyond the need of a pension. If he has to have one, the people of the United States are capable of raising the money to give him one. Perhaps it is best for Congress to provide a pension for every retiring President, who can refuse it if he desires. It is an impertinence for the Carnegie Corporation or any other corporation to have him on its payroll, and it lowers the dignity of the ex-President and of the United States as well. "The situation passes the bounds of impertinence when an ex-President re-enters public life and continues to be paid by such a corporation. If still in receipt of a large income from the Carnegie Corporation, he is in a position not very different from the position he would occupy if he were given a Carnegie income while in office. I wonder if Chief Justice Taft, after being appointed to his present high office, would have allowed the Carnegie Corporation to begin paying him $10,000 per year.

WHITES AND HINDUS CLASH IN EAST AFRICA

Independent English Settlers Resent Indian's Demand for Equality of Treatment.

(Crusader Service)

NAIROBI, East Africa, April 23.—Kenya colony, formerly the British East Africa protectorate, a territory of 245,000 square miles, bounded on the west Ugnada, may at any moment become a storm center in the "Brutal" Empire. The 9,600 white settlers are holding many meetings at which menacing language is freely used. The trouble has been brewing for years. In addition to the whites, Kenya is populated by some 36,000 Indians and 2,500,000 Negroes. Many Indians were there before the Union Jack-smybol of the imperialistic plunderers,—and the Indians there now have been agitating unceasingly for adequate representation in the councils of the colony, the executive and the legislative. Particularly since India was admitted to the Imperial Conference, have the Indian settlers of Kenya demanded full rights with the whites including the franchise. Their claims are opposed by the white settlers who have been angered by what they condemn as the vacillating policy of Downing Street in refusing to back the colonising while plunderers to the hilt of the imperialistic sword.

The white settlers believe that the White Settlers Object.

Government of India has supported the Kenya Indians in their demands to be treated as British subjects regardless of color, which in practice means:

1. The right to buy land without segregation.
2. The common franchise with certain qualifications, and
3. No racial discrimination in Immigration. They also allege that the situation in India has influenced the Colonial Office to offer Indian settlers a compromise only slightly less than their demand. The white settlers have refused to entertain the Colonial Office schemes, and to this the Indians rejoined that they would bargain no further. Thereupon it was decided to send a white deputation from Kenya to London, accompanied by Sir Robert Corydon, the governor. An Indian deputation from Kenya and another from India are also going to Downing Street. India is watching events closely and will be affected deeply which ever way the matter is disposed of.

FRENCH HOLD ALGERIANS IN SLAVERY

Natives Are Being Forced Into the Desert Away From Their Cultivated Lands. French Promises Made Only To Be Broken. Great Things Were To Be Done for Africans After World War In Which They Were Used As Shock Troops.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.— Georg Brandes, famous Danish critic writing in the New York World of April evil results of the French imperialism in North Africa. Says Mr. Brandes: "At a congress held in 1907 in Paris by the "League for the Rights of Man" (La Ligue pour les Droits de l'Homme) Moutet said of the conditions in Algeria, "We are keeping the country in a state of slavery and subjugation. There is no equity before the law." And Aulard the famous historian of the French Revolution, exclaimed without arousing contradiction—"We are less liberal than the Turks. You may rest assured of that! That gives us an example of liberal attitude!" "When the political weathercock, Gustave Herve, wanted to attack the state of affairs and wrote that France, complaining so bitterly of the oppression of Alsace-Lorraine, should be ashamed of oppressing North Africa even worse; he added by way of an excuse that Alsace, in 1871 had had a strong feeling of independence, while the Arabs of North Africa were an undeveloped mass without feeling of nationality. "To this the Franco-Arabian press very aptly replied: "Algeria and Tunis always were one country, they have a population of 7,000,000 of uniform race, uniform language and uniform religion. Both countries under Ottoman rule had full autonomy. In 1830 France began the conquest of Algeria. For forty years we fought under Abdel Kader until we were overcome by the odds of the enemy. And then the enemy started a rule of injustice, violence, humiliation and constant terrorism.

Compelled to Pay Tribute Still.

"After almost a century, Algeria is still being treated as a subjugated province, is still compelled to pay the contribution of war to the victor, it has no legally secure status, no privilege, no liberty, but plenty of obligations among others compulsory army service. "In 1881, under a pretext hardly to be taken seriously, French troops invaded Tunis, were ordered by the despicable, but then extensively rude Minister Barthelmy to stop half a mile from Bardo and through a messenger submitted to the Bey an ultimatum compared with which the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia is humane. They submitted to the Bey a treaty of subjugation. In case he would not sign in two hours Tunis was to be placed under heavy gun fire. He signed. The people took up arms. The country was conquered. On the boulevard of the city of Tunis is to be seen a group carved in stone that appeals to sentiment: A French boy lovingly teaching an Arab lad how to read. We may call this an amiable joke. It has never happened in reality. The Arabian language has been replaced everywhere, in the Central Administration, in the police, in the medical service. With an exception of a few interpreters all officials in Tunis are Frenchmen.

Arabian Children Barred.

"Every European child there received free school training, but no Arabian child does. Of 150,000 pupils only 3,500 are therefore taught free of charge. Of the whole population of the country only 2 percent are receiving free elementary schooling in French. At the time of independence elementary schooling was in Arabian er courses in the Sadiki College. Since the protectorate was estab-

VERDUN MINE MAKING RAPID DEVELOPMENT.

ALL MACHINERY NECESSARY FOR MODERN MINING TO BE SHIPPED FROM SAN FRANCISCO WITHIN THIRTY DAYS.

GOLD MINES IN TUOLUMNE COUNTY OFFER RARE OPPORTUNITY AND ADVANTAGES TO INVESTING PUBLIC.

By: JOHN EMERY PROWD

The early history of many of the most famous and prosperous gold mines throughout the world, have been tinged with romance, and in this regard, the Verdun Mine in Tuolumne County, has had its share.

It has had its old miners who have been content with using the pick and shovel, along with the wash pan, to dig enough gold to exist upon, and using every means—foul and fair—to protect their claim from those who would dispossess them of their treasure. It has its lone grave, which stands as a monument to the early struggles of those who knew its value.

There have been abundant reasons for all the old stories that surround the Verdun Mine—and all other valuable mines, for that matter—located as it is at the head of Moccasin Creek on the Tuolumne River; for that mountain, in exact line with mines on the famous mother lode, has nothing short of the ear-marks of a real gold mine. The Eagle Shawmutt, a gold mine just half a mile from the Verdun, and on the same line with the Verdun, has been operating for the last thirty-five years, without a shutdown, has 125 stamp mills, and one of the largest smelters in that section.

Tilden Gulch

Tilden Gulch, which was known as the richest section, because of its placer gold, during the California gold rush in the early 49's, is also a part of the property owned by the Verdun Mining and Leasing Company. It abound in timber, so necessary for mining, and will furnish an adequate supply for the present prospect. One can glean an idea of its immensity by the fact that a clearly outlined ditch, covering an area of 26 miles, was dug around its sides. This ditch is there, but by whom it was dug, and when it was dug is a matter of speculation—as nobody as yet knows.

Strike Tunnel

Strike Tunnel, deriving its name from the man, who, with ingeniousness of hand, wielded the pick and used the shoval solely to dig into the side of the mountain for 300 feet, is a marvel in itself; not only because of the hard task accomplished, but because of the heavy veins of gold cut through, disclosing the riches which the mountain contains.

As one enters this tunnel, he observes that nothing but the pick and shovel as impliments, have been used to date, the marks are everywhere very distinct. You next discover that you are looking at walls, whose formation very much resembles a mixture of decayed timber with rock; then you strike a section of rock, at least two feet in thickness; then comes a formation, indescribable, but identically the same as that discovered in the Argonaut Mine, at Jackson, California, not so long ago, and below which, at a depth of 600 feet, produced ore that furnished many millions of dollars, and put the Argonaut on the map as a rich and proven mine. Beyond this is found a vein, fully five feet across, containing rich, free-milling ore, and which has been assayed by Baverstock and Payne of os Angeles at $26.85 in gold per ton. It is the opinion of Mr. A. G. Mahan, General Manager of the Company, a man who has had over thirty years' experience in gold mining in Nevada, Utah, California and many other mining sections of the country, that at a depth of 200 feet, a few other veins, which stand out clearly, along with this large vein, all run together. These veins, he says, in my opinion, are sloping downward at an angle of 45 degress, and there is no doubt that at this distance below the surface, they must meet. The ledges in this tunnel are so clearly defined, that it would not take a competent judge of gold formations to decide that the hill is a rich one and abounds in gold far beyond the speculations of any one's imaginations. You can dig dirt anywhere on this mountain—as was done by many members of the party—and upon washing the same may be sure to find some gold.

Transportation

The matter of transportation is solved by the Hetch-Hetchy Railroad which runs within 200 feet of the northerly end of the property, and within a quarter of a mile of the proposed mill site.

Water

There is abundance of water as we have already mentionel the Tuolumne River and Moccasin Creek, both of which flow by the foot of the mountain belonging to the Company.

Power

The high-tension line of the Pacific Gas and Electric Power Company runs within a quarter of a mile of the property. All arrangements have been made by the Company for the running of wires to the Verdun Mine, and it will only necessitate the erection of six poles to have light and power in the mining camp.

Company Intends to Branch Out

Mr. J. R. Simms, the Sales Manager of the Verdun Mining and Leasing Co., has stated his intention and firm desire of meeting all those interested—and those not interested—in mining, with the object of furnishing additional information concerning the wonderful opportunities this mine can furnish to the ever-investing public.

Mr. Simms is a splendid young man of our group, who has made his way to the pinnacle by grit and push, and represents a Company composed of men who have been old settlers in this section of the country, and whose honesty, integrity and intent of purpose is above questioning. To know these men—every one of them—is indeed a pleasure.

Mr. Simms may be gotten in touch with at 315 Western Mutual Life Building, Third and Hill streets, Los Angeles, Cal.; Telephone Pico 1803.

On next week we shall tell of the Shaft just sunk by this company upon its properly, and of the proposed program of this company for further financing the development of what will unquestionably be a most valuable mine within a few years.

ORE DUMP AT THE VERDUN MINES.
This ore at a depth of just 90 feet is assayed at $18.00 per ton. Left to Right: Mr. A. G. Mahan, Gen. Mgr. Verdun Mining and Leasing Co., and Mr. J. B. Simms, Sales Manager of the same Company.

AT THE ENTRANCE TO THE "STRIKE TUNNEL" AT THE VERDUN MINES
On the Left: Mr. A. G. Mahan, General Manager of the Verdun Mining and Leasing Company; "Billy," an old character at the Mine; Mr. A. H. Dearing; and Mr. W. M. Cole; On The Right: Mr. John E. Prowd, Eagle Reporter.

Its Formation

This Verdun Mine has been pronounced geologically perfect by many expert mining engineers, among whom is Mr. A. E. Sedgwick, at present instructor in the University of Southern California, and who says:

"The history of the Mother Lode and the geological conditions of the property indicate a deep vein. Two or three mines just northwest of the Verdun Mine have good ore at a depth of 2,000 feet.

"This property is a good prospect, with excellent indications for its development into a valuable mine."

Present Development

But best of all, as proof of the wisdom of those who believed that the gold was there in abundance, is the development work already done by the Verdun Mining and Leasing Company, which has shown remarkable progress. At present there is a shaft 90 feet deep on the property, and the only machinery around is a hoist, so one can judge the work this company has accomplished within a year. All modern machinery has been arranged for—drills, compressors, stamp mills, smelter, hoist, etc.—and is being loaded in freight cars at San Francisco, to be shipped within thirty days to the mine.

OFFICER CHAS. S. BROADY IS PROMOTED

BROADY RECEIVES PROMOTION

The many friends of Chas. S. Broady will be glad to learn that he has been promoted from patrolman to Acting Lieutenant Detective and assigned to work with Lieutenants Jesse Kimbrough and R. F. Green. This makes indeed a strong team, and will prove a terror to evil doers. Oliver Broady has merited his promotion by the very excellent service rendered by him. Some of the stellar work on the force has been accomplisehd through his efforts, and of course it went unheralded by the big daily press from the fact that Broady is off color and it is not the part of these big dailies to play up the accomplishments of other than the Caucassian officers. But he has always delivered the goods, and Chief of Detectives George K. Horne knows no [illegible] Broady [illegible] Chief of Detectives [illegible] courage to make this appointment. All people who believe in fair play and justice will most highly appreciate the same and Chief of Detectives Horne for his act.

OSBORNE HITS OUTSIDE HELP

Protesting against "distant and party interference" in an election where all candidates run as independents, Henry Z. Osborne yesterday telegraphed W. C. Wood, chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee at Washington, demurring against the recent action of the committee in recommending the election of one of his opponents. The Osborne message said:

"I am a candidate to fifill the unexpired term of my father, the late Congressman Henry Z. Osborne. You are quoted in newspapers her eas directing voters of Tenth District to vote for one of my opponents. Your wire is misleading, for, though I am a life-long Republican, all candidates in this special election must appear as Independent. Your wire would imply that but one candidate is Republican.

"I am pledged to him and to the voters that if elected I will give to the Tenth District my very best efforts in carrying on the same policies and observing the same ideals as he worked for and stood for. I am a trained civil engineer, twenty-five years in public service connected with the big engineering problems of Los Angeles. For the past three years I have been chief engineer of th Board of Public Utilitis.

"Always I have been a loyal Republican. I would like to know what has prompted your attempted interference in this matter as indicated. Will you please wire me if you disapprove the character of service that the voters have received for the past six years from their Representative in this district? Please wire me your answer.

CARD OF THANKS

[illegible] husband and family of Mrs. [illegible] wish through the columns of the Eagle to express our many friends our thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses shown her during her illness and our recent bereavement.

MR. A. P. TOWNS
MRS. LINNIE BROWN AND Family.

TO THE THINKING MAN, AND WOMAN, THEY ARE DESPERATE

Our group that is advocating the jitney busses and in favor of Nos. 5 and 6, seems to have exhausted their means of argument. As I am reliably informed from different sources the Hon. Wood (Rep) Wilson states confidently that he is in the employ of the street railway, and that they want the jitneys. I want to warn any group to beware of anyone who will make false statements in a matter of this kind. Mr. Wilson is the paid hireling of Mr. McAdoo, and his democratic friends.

Beware! Beware! Vote No. on Jitney Busses, Nos. 5 and 6.

Signed,

W. H. SANDERS,

While here he will be a guest at the home of Attorney and Mrs C. E. Jennings on East 15th Street.

To the wide range of his circle of acquaintances, and to all of the many students whom he has instructed in the art of piano-playing it will be a welcome message that the professor among other interpretations will delight his radio auditors with a masterly exemplification of his own composition, "The Path of Destiny." This is in four parts: "Introduction, meditation, storm and grand climax."

Lucile E. Banton, pupil of William T. Wilkins, will act as accompanist for Mr. Pitts.

CONGRESSMAN L. C. DYER COMING

CONGRESSMAN L. C. DYER, CHAMPION OF THE DYER ANTI-LYNCHING GILL WILL SPEAK AT THE 14th ST. SCHOOL AUDITORIUM SUNDAY, MAY 6, AT 3 P. M UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE LOS ANGELES BRANCH NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE. SUBJECT " THE SHAME OF AMERICA" PUBLIC INVITED.

Representative Leonidas C. Dyer, of Missouri, who introduced the federal anti-lynching bill bearing his name in Congress, will address a mass meeting here under the auspices of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on the afternoon of May 6, in the 14th Street School auditorium at 3:00 p. m.

Mr. Dyer is on a country-wide tour through the middle and far west, lecturing under the Advancement Association's auspices, on the "Shame of America," against which a fight is to be staged in the next Congress.

Representative Dyer's measure was passed in the House of Representatives by a vote of 230 to 119 and was favorably reported by the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate. It had to be abandoned when a group of Southern Democratic Senators served notice that their filibuster would be continued against the Anti-Lynching Bill, holding up the business of the entire country, until a pledge was given by the Republicans that the issue would not be forced in that session.

In connection wiht the meeting the following statement from Mr. Dyer was given out at the local office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People:

"I am going before the country on the issue oflynching, a national shame which for thirty-five years the states have failed to end and the federal government has failed to attack.

"The Anti-Lynching Bill which I introduced in Congress and which was passed by a vote of almost 2 to 1 in the House of Rrpresentatives, was stopped in the Senate by the filibuster of Senators from those states in which most lynchings occur.

"The federal anti-lynching bill is not sectional It applies to every part of the country. t assumes that an atrocity in America is a national disgrace whether it occurs in Georgia, or Texas, or Oregon or Illinois.

"I shall reintroduce this measure, in the next Congress. It will be reintroduced, I beliey, in the Senate. Meanwhile I shall acquaint as many American citizens as possible with the horrors of lynching in America, and with the provisions of the bill designed to end those horrors.

"We shall then see if a small minority of men from any group of states can block an expression of the will of the people of this nation."

COMMENTS

By W. J. Wheston

Advertising the South—

The Southern States have entered into an era of intensive advertising. Thousands of dollars have been, and are continually being spent, to set forth the natural resources, and the rich returns to be had by investors of capital.

For many years the only advertising received from that section of the Nation was, that of the murder by some lawless mob of a defenseless Negro.

Such advertising kept capital from entering the boundaries of these States that respected not the rights of property or life.

Naturally the resources of the States remained undeveloped.

Cotton became the staple because it could be raised and marketed under fraudulent conditions. That is fraudulent where the source of labor was concerned.

If the South had not advertised its barbarism to the world it would, now, be one of the most prosperous sections of the United States, and have no need of printers ink to tell of its marvelous resources.

National Advice—

First Clemenceau, now, Lord Robert Cecil. Clemenceau plead for France, and sought to convince the populace of the United States that it was errant in not pledging to support France in her, right or wrong, policy toward Germany.

Lord Cecil, who is the Secretary for the League of Nations, tells us that we must be the physician to heal the ills of Europe.

Have you noticed that Americans who visited Europe to advise them how to manage their national affairs are very few? While the army of Europeans who occupy our rostrum are legion.

Healthy people don't need the advice of a physician: only the sick.

Negro Labor—

Doctor Emmett Scott, Secretary Treasurer of Howard University at Washington, D. C. has written a letter to Judge Gary, the President of the big steel corporation, and stated that there were a matter of eight million Negro laborers in the South who would cover any industrial shortage in the United States.

Judge Gary has but recently returned from a survey of European conditions, and advocates the repeal of the Immigration Bill now in force in order that this country may be flooded with cheap labor.

PATRONIZE THOSE WHO PATRONIZE US!

Logically, we should patronize those merchants who show their respect for the buying power of our group, and their confidence in Colored publicity mediums by advertising in them.

Such are Scott's Department Store, 237-39 South Broadway, and the Western Department Store, 227 South Broadway.

However, it is not merely a matter of reciprocal business courtesy to take our custom to these firms. It is to our advantage to do so, inasmuch as the merchandise offered by the stores is of excellent quality and sold at prices which make their purchase a bargain unequalled by any stores in the city.

Patronize the Eagle advertisers for guaranteed merchandise and courteous, efficient service!

PHILIP JACOBSON, CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCILMAN, OPENS CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS

Mr. Philip Jacobson, a prominent young business man of this city, takes this occasion to announce his candidacy for the city council. His campaign headquarters are now established at 10029 Broadway Place.

Mr. Jacobson is a graduate of the University of California, and during the many years of his residence in Los Angeles, during which he has taken an active part in civic affairs, he hsa acquired a knowledge of the people and their government needs, which preemiently fits him for a seat in the City Council. Among the public-spirited organizations with which Mr. Jacobson is affiliated are the Associated Secretaries, Los Angeles Transportation Club, and the Franchise Motor Carrier's Association, of which last body he is secretary.

Mr. Jacobson's candidacy has been enthusiastically endorsed by a number of representative Los Angeles business men, who are fully acquainted with his ability, high ideals in business and in politics, and his irreproachable integrity, and who believe that he would be of real service to the public as a Councilman.

His many friends and supporters are confident that Mr. Jacobson will be among the leaders o fthe eighteen candidates who are named for Council at the Promary election on May 1, and Mr. Jacobson takes this occasion to solicit our suffrage at that time.

REPRINT OF RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, MARCH 28.

"RESOLVED, that the Chamber of Commerce believes that the Legislature should carry out the constitutional mandate for reapportionment of legislative representation.

"The Chamber of Commerce believes in the carrying out of this constitution provision because this is the present law of the State, and we believe the Legislature has no option but to act within a reasonable time after the census of 1923.

"We believe, however, that conditions in the State have radically changed since 1879, since which time the majority of the population of the State is now in two great centers which, under the present plan of reapportionment would have a majority in both houses of the Legislature.

"We believe that such reapportionment will deprive the interior of the State of an effective voice in the Legislature, to which in a representative form of government it is justly entitled, and without which all sections of the State, including the centers of population would suffer.

"Therefore, believing that the reapportionment o fthe State should be impartially followed by a revision of the constitution in the interest of a broad public policy, it is therefore, further

"Resolved, that we recommend that steps be taken immediately to amend the constitution of the State to the end that by some appropriate method there will be preserved to the interior of the State, which so largely contributes to the support of these centers of population, such a basis of representation as will give it an effective voice in Legislation."

HUDDLE FOR COUNCILMAN

J. D. (Jack) Huddle, candidate for City Council, has lived in Los Angeles twenty-five years, and for eighteen years was connected with the city and county governments as an accountant and property valuation expert.

For ten years before coming to Los Angeles, he was traveling auditor for the Santa Fe railroad system. In 1912 Mr. Huddle was one of the managers of President Taft's campaign in Southern California. For the past two years Mr. Huddle has represented a number of civic organizations in connection with municipal matters, and he is thoroughly conversant with all branches of the city government. If elected to the City Council the voters will find that in Mr. Huddle they will have a representative who will work effectively for an economical, non-wasteful city government, but one in which every dollar expended will bring to the city a dollar's worth of value in needed public improvements. Mr. Huddle is married, has three children—all of whom were born in Los Angeles—and lives at 4425 Orchard Avenue.

CHAUFFERS ENDORSE MOTOR BUS

After a careful and exhaustive investigation, the special committee of the California Chauffeurs' Club appointed for the purpose, has recommended that all members vote "Yes" on Propositions Nos. 5 and 6 on the ballot to be placed before the electorate on May 1st, and the club has officially indrsed the recommendations of its committee in favor of the granting franchises to motor-busses. The officers of the club are: President, Ray Henderson; Secretary, Rob K. Hughes; Assistant Secretary, A. C. Randolph.

In conducting its investigation the representatives of the chauffeus took particular cognizance of two allegations of opponents of the prposal to [illegible] so as t give a 21-year franchise, the plan to saddle the city with a fleet of huge double-deck, seven-ton motor busses is apparently defeated, according to latest indications.

The two measures will be voted on at the May 1st election. Measure No. 5 contains the application of the McAdoo-Hellman bus promoters for an irrevocable right to use the streets of Los Angeles for 21 years. Measure No. asks the repeal of the jitney bus ordinance voted by the people of the city years ago, when passenger-carrying tomobiles in the downtown areas ed such a menace and such a hanp to the movement of traffic that citizens decisively decided to rect the busses and keep them out of center of the city.

Thos who have studied the traffic transportation problems of Los Anles declare that the operation of a et of 3-passenger trucks, as outlined the official plans of the Peoples Mor Bus Company (the McAdoo-Hellman proposition) will be a decided handicap to Los Angeles, and will only serve to make matters worse than they are today. So far as offering relief for the transportation burden the busses, working at capacity, will be able to carry less than one passenger out of every twenty who travels in Los Angeles daily.

Experiences of other cities are cited as definite proof of the failure of the busses as a public utility. Des Moines, Kansas City, Spokane, Baltimore, Saginaw, Toledo, Bridgeport, Conn., and many other communities tried them in competition with street railways, and the result was demoralized transportation, loss of business to the merchants, raise in fares for all classes of transportation, increased assesment for the taxpayer to pay for the streets torn up by the busses, greater confusion in traffic, greater congestion in the business areas, more difficulty for those driving privately owned automobiles, and greater peril to life and limb for children and other pedestrians.

In addition to the organizations already mentioned as being opposed to the granting of a bus franchise and the repeal of the jitney bus restriction ordinance, the mohters and child-welfare workers of Los Angeles have also gone on record against them. Mothers declare that the busses will charge ten cents or more fare for school children, while at present they are hauled at a cost of 2½ cents, and with the additional advantage of transfers to and from car lines. Anohter argument against them is that the huge, hard-to-stop busses will increase the peril which children already face in crossing the streets.

Los Angeles policemen, firemen and mail carriers are also opposing the posed by the Hellman-McAdoo concern would develop to a very large extent their own clientele. They would render a special service, in that every passenger would be guaranteed a seat and would not be forced to be bufeted about in scandalously over-crowded cars. And, finally, it was shown that any application for an increase in fares would be passed upon the State Railroad Commission, which would undoubtedly take into consideration the fact that, with a five-cent fare, the L. A. Street Railway Company was able to report to the Commission a surplus of more than $1,500,000 over all charges and expenses for the year 1922

In the course of their investigation, the committee further learned that if the People's Motor Bus Company, and other similar transportation organizations, were allowed to operate, it would open up considerable new elds of employment, at good wages, for colored men and wmen.

In the opinion of the committee, and endorsed by the membership of the California Chauffeurs' Club, Los Angeles needs every means of public transportation that can be supplied. It believes that there is room for street cars, motor busses and subways alike. It believes that the best interests of the city as a whole demand that a liberal policy be exerted towards new capital in the transportation field, just as is shown in other elds. It falls to find merit in the objection that motor busses would further crowd the strets of the city, and points out that under the franchise asked for it is not proposed to operate them in the center of the business district, where the greatst congestion exists. Its investigation pointed rather to a lessening of congestion, since it is expected that a very large number of people would prefer to come to business in comfortable busses, in which they are assured seats, than to drive their own automobiles.

The action of the California Chauffeurs' Club, which has a very high standing among colored organizations, will exert a strong influence in behalf of a favorable vote on Propositions 5 and 6, it is believed.

PHIL JACOBSON A WINNER

The interest and activity manifested by the many friends of hPilip Jacobson, candidate for City Council, indicate his selection as one of the eighteen at the primaries next Tuesday. Mr. Jacobson is a very popular young man, owing to his active interest in all civic and political affairs, and is well qualified for a seat in the Council. Mr. Jacobson has a wide experience in business affairs, and is closely identified with all civic movements looking towards the development of our fast growing city. Those who vote for Mr. Jacobson on next Tuesday will vote for municipal expansin and development commensurate with the city's growth. Vote for Jacobson.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, AUTOMOBILE CLUB AND NUMEROUS OTHER ORGANIZAATIONS ARE AGAINST ORDINANCES 5 AND 6.

With the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Automobile Club of Southern California, the Traffic eBtterment Association, the Los Angeles Development League and scores of other progressive and civic betterment organizations urging the peopel of Los Angeles to vote against both the repeal of the present jitney bus ordinance and the free gift of our streets for a 21-

TITUS ALEXANDER

Peoples' Candidate For City Council

All indications point to the election of TITUS ALEXANDER to a place on the ticket at the coming Primaries on May 1st. He not only has the 95 per cent back of his own group but is receiving a strong and hearty support from all other groups of our citizenship. He is truly the Peoples' Candidate.

BERT L. FARMER FOR MAYOR

As the primary election dav draws nearer interest in the FARMER-FOR-MAYOR campaign increases, and his thousands of supporters are combining their strength to qualify him on the primary ballot, confident that the general election will declare him the next Mayor of Los Angeles.

Every audience before which Mr. Farmer has spoken is satisfied with his clear, forceful statements as to what he considers a Mayor's duty, and his platform of action, progression and fairness to all classes of citizens alike meets the general approval.

Mr. Farmer has been introduced to our religious and civic organizations. They have listened to him. They have judged him to be a man, cool, level-headed, capable, and in harmony with all that goes to make up good citizenship which, in turn, means a bigger and better city. There is no question about the unanimous support he will receive from our electors.

Our strength added to that of the other thousands who are supporting Mr. Farmer will assure his election.

Our slogan: "FARMER-FOR-MAYOR and a bigger and better Los Angeles, made safe for all its citizens."
THE EAST SIDE INDEPENDENT LEAGUE.

possible for the conductor of a mtr bus to refuse transprtation to a Negr citizen than it would be for the conductor of a street car. If such discrimination were attempted an action at law would lie against the offending company, and its franchise would be endangered.

Evidence was also obtained showing that in New York, Chicago, Detroit and other large cities where motor busses are successfully operated, Negroes were accordd the same treatment as other citizens, and it was declared by officials of the People's Motor Bus Company that this would be their unalterable policy.

In this connection, it was pointed out that William G. McAdoo, counsel for the company, had always been a staunch friend of the Negro. When he was Director of Railroads, during the Great War, Mr. McAdoo caused to be promulgated the following order for the benefit of the colored employes of railways:

ARTICLE VI
Colored Firemen, Trainmen and Switchmen

Effective June 1, 1918; colored men employed as firemen, trainmen and switchmen shall be paid at the same rates of wages as are paid white men in the same capacities.

The second-allegation of opponents of motor busses, to which the committee paid especial attention, was that a bus fare of ten cents would force an increase in street car fares. Investigation showed that the question of the fare charged by the motor busses would have no more effect on street railroad fares than the traffic charged by taxicabs. The motor busses proposed, it was found, would not come in direct competition with street car lines, but is that only two policemen or two firemen can ride free on any one bus operated by them, regardless of the emergency call which they are answering. Mail carriers must pay full care. At present the street car lines carry policemen, firemen and postmen free, with no restriction as to numbers.

The election on May 1st is expected to result in a repudiation of the Hellman-McAdoo attempt to grab a 21-year free gift to the streets of Los Angeles, and a maintaining of the present restrictions that keep jitneys off the streets where they would add to congestion, confusion, and increase hazards to pedestrians.

READ THIS, AN DTHEN VOTE RIGHT

Hancock is the Right Man for Mayor of Los Angeles

To Taxpayers and Clean-Living Residents:

I am pursuing a new plan of campaigning for the office of Mayor of your city.

To the gamblers, bootleggers and evil doers of all classes, I warn you that if elected you must go from the limits of this city. I don't want your votes; in fact, I strongly recommend that you fight for your existence, for your existence depends on whether I am elected Mayor, and if elected rst assured you will cease to exist.

To the higher-ups who are rolling in wealth gotten from dirty graft, I throw down the gauntlet. Defeat me or move to other fields. Remember I am on oath and intend to fulfifill my every obligation to the clean-living people of this city.

To the Police Department, I wish to promise to the real men of this department my entire co-operation to raise the standard of the department wher it should h. You represent the law and should be spoken of in the highest terms, instead of being ridiculed. With your assistance we will eliminate the rubbish and you will again throw out your chest and feel proud of the shield on your uniform.

To the Fire Department, I make the same promise.

I honestly believe that my platform will meet with success. I am sincere and honest in my promises. The time has arrived when the representative people of the city demand a concrete platform. They are tird of veild suggestions of what will be done by candidates if elected. I have stated my platform in no uncertain terms. I appeal to all of the people to support me. I premise to be the Mayor of all the people, to do my duty without fear or favor.

Give me your support and let's continue to advertise Los Angeles throughout the entire United States. Let's continue to occupy the front page on all of the important newspapers in the country, but let's change the class of advertising. We will no longer be known as the melting pot where criminals gather; we will no longer be advertised as occupying one of the top rungs of the ladder of crime. Our increasing population can be doubled by making Los Angeles a clean, safe place in which to live.

My qualifications are herewith submitted for your approval:

Iam a native of the State of Illinois; educated at the University of Illinois; for two terms was Civil Clerk to the Secretary of State of Idaho; four years the active head of the Public Employment Bureaus of the State of California in this city, and for two years in charge of the unemployment campaigns in this city that kept the soup houses out of Los Angeles; a newspaper man by profession who has always been in close touch with City, State and Government affairs.

Before God and man, I most solemnly swear to fulfill the above mentioned promises to the best of my ability.
E. H. HANCOCK.

VOTE YES ON SANTA FE HARBOR LINE FRANCHISE
(Proposition No. 7)

By the printed argument, mailed to the voters with the sample ballot, against the adoption of the ordinance granting to the Santa Fe a franchise to construct a line of railroad to the harbor across four (4) streets and, for a short distance along one street in the Harbor District, the opponents of the franchise would, by unfair tactics, have it appear that the proposed line will cross a large number of important thoroughfares along Slausson Avenue. The argument is entirely misleading.

The only streets in the City of Los Angeles to be crossed by the line covered by the franchise are situated in the Harbor District, 18 or 20 miles from Slausson Avenue.

The Santa Fe owns and operates and, for a great many years, has owned and operated on its own right of way a line of railroad along and contiguous to, but entirely outside of, Slausson Avenue, which line already crosses the streets shown on the map incorporated in the above mentioned printed argument. The franchise gives to the Railway Company no new or additional rights or privileges insofar as such crossings are concerned. There will not be an additional crossing created along Slausson Avenue, or elsewhere in the City of Los Angeles, except those in the Harbor District.

Considering the concessions made by the Santa Fe, all of which are incorporated in the franchise, railroad crossing conditions along Slausson Avenue will, after the extension of its line to to the harbor, b ematerially improved over present conditions; whatever danger or delay at such crossings may now exist will be diminished rahter than enhanced.

And in this connection, it will be of interes tto the voters to learn that the Santa Fe is to expend over $600,000.00 in separating the grades at crossings between El Segundo and the Harbor, the points between which the new line is to be constructed, a distance of only about 12 miles. This record is unequalled by any other railroad in the State of California.

Further, the Santa Fe has agreed, and the ordinance so requires, that it will separate the grade of its proposed line and the grade of any main thoroughfares hereafter extended across such lin in the City of Los Angeles.

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION NO. 7
The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company.

MOTOR BUSSES

Have Been Tried FOUND WANTING

Proponents of the plan to give the Bus Line a 21-year free grant to use our streets assert that the busses are NEEDED to help in the movement of transportation in Los Angeles.

THE ENTIRE PROPOSED FLEET OF 125 BUSSES WITH CAPACITY LOADS WILL RELIEVE THE PRESENT TRANSPORTATION BURDEN BY LESS THAN 5 PER CENT.

EXPERIENCES OF OTHER CITIES

Des Moines tried the busses for 17 months—and voted them out by a majority of two to one.
Spokane tried the busses—and eliminated them by a decisive vote of the people.
Baltimore forces the busses to discontinue operations before they reach the congested area of the city.
Kansas City allows busses only on streets where property owners have given consent. Thus far this consent has been refused.
Toledo permitted busses to gain a hold on the city streets. The result was demoralized transportation and at present higher fares on the car lines.
Newark, N. J., merchants have appealed to have the busses curtailed to a marked degree, following transportation difficulties and serious interruption to business.
Saginaw, Bridgeport, Conn., and many other communities have tried the busses as a public utility and found them wanting. They were fortunate in being able to eliminate and curtail the busses when their ultimate failure became manifest.

21-YEAR FRANCHISE

But Los Angeles, if it permits the busses to operate at all, must continue this permit for the life of the franchise asked for. Ths franchise will be IRREVOCABLE, and if Los Angeles has the same experience with the busses as those other cities which eliminated and curtailed them after they had been tried and found wanting, THE BURDEN MUST BE CARRIED FOR21 YEARS WITHOUT POSSIBILITY OF RELIEF, save by buying back the franchise at huge cost to the taxpayers.

It was the initial effort of both teacher and taught, but it was a real swell affair, well attended and the performance was splendid. Miss Allen exhibited her prospects of a coming exponent of racial advancement. After the recital Mrs. Gordon served a splendid repast.

Mr. T. B. Norman is the guest of the Local Order of the Knights of Pythias this week.

The business outlook of the group is the most prophetic of any place in the state, comparing the number of our group. The Lockheart Store on East Tenth Street, though small is a real credit. All the other businessse are making a prosperous showing.

EL CENTRO NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Carter are attending the District Conference of the C. M. E. Church, San Diego.

A chorus of twenty young people rendered music during the program of the A. M. E. S. S. and Christian Endeavor Conference, Imperial, last Sunday. A number of El Centro people were participants on the program. Miss Ruby Berkeley was elected Secretary.

Mrs. Addie Johnson, 106 State St., served six o'clock dinner at her residence last Friday evening. She numbered among her patrons many citizens of the Westside.

Mrs. Johnson is Chairman of the social committee of the W. H. and F. M. Society of the Second Baptist Church and thru her efforts the society reported $40.00 to the building fund.

The enrollment for the Eastside School at the beginning of the Fourth Quarter was 270 pupils. All phases of the school work are being constantly improved. The fitting up of the new sewing room makes it possible for a larger number of girls to enter this department.

There are now 24 members of the orchestra and the work of the young people is generally commented upon throughout the valley. The school has a fast baseball aggregation this year. It is making bid for the Velley Championship. The team vanquished the McCabe Union team last Friday 9 to 1. Features of the game were the sensational work of Eastside's battery, Jackson and Estrada, and the fielding of McCabe's Center fielder. Next Friday, Eastside will play the Brawley Eastside team. Both of the contestants have vanquished the Westside teams in their respective cities and the game ought to be fast.

Miss Eula Thomas and Mr. Robert Merrill were quietly married last Saturday. The young people sprang a surprise on relatives and friends. Both parties are well known throughout the valley. Miss Thomas is the daughter of John Thomas, a prosperous rancher living near Seeley. Mr. Merrill is an energetic young business man who has taken decided advantage of the many opportunities offered here to succeed. The couple are at home to their many friends and acquaintances at 311 West Holt St.

Mrs. Lily M. DeVaughn entertained at dinner last Friday evening Mrs. Mattie Nelson, Miss Ruth Travers, Miss Lucile Catley, Mr. John Culbérson.

Miss Thompson of Arizona is visiting her relatives here, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thompson.

Miss Ruth Sturgeon, County Nurse, appeared on the program of the Women's Community Home Club last Monday evening.

She gave demonstrations in Invalid Care and First Aid Bandaging.

POLITICAL POT PIE

"The race is not to the swift nor to the strong, but to he who holds out until the end."

The East Side Osborne for Congress Club reports a strong support for H. Z. Osborne for Congress, and that after a thorough awakening to the fact that Mr. Osborne stands for and will adhere to the policy of his illustrious father, and will represent truly the masses; that a strong sentiment is evidenced in his behalf for a united support, and his election is confidently predicted.

Well, after all is said and done, the Soaring Eagle has absolutely given to each and every aspirant a fair and square deal and an opportunity to state their case, and those who appreciated the chance to state their cause through this medius we are sure will receive the greatest consideration. We are not talking about the politicians either, but we speak for the people.

Alexander for the Council is a strong runner up, and will doubtless romp in as a winner on next Tuesday.

THE EASTSIDE INDEPENDENT LEAGUE STANDS "FOUR-SQUARE" FOR BERT L. FARMER

The more we know of Bert L. Farmer and the more we hear his public statements of what he considers the duty of the chief executive of a city, the more we are convinced that Bert L. Farmer is the only candidate in the Mayoralty race big enough to sit as Mayor of the great City of Los Angeles.

Bert Farmer openly declares that if elected he will be the Mayor of ALL the people. He pledges himself to subserve the interests of this rapidly growing city, favoring no section, no class, no individuals, but enforcing the law as defined in the constitution.

Bert Farmer, a big, clean, capable man will give Los Angeles an administration in keeping with the city's development. He can operate under the present City Charter which must remain operative for at least the next two years. We, therefore, call upon every progressive citizen and qualified voter to use his influence and vote to elect Bert L. Farmer for Mayor.

Scott as to the number of Negro laborers available, but we do vouch that a sufficient number of capable workers can be obtained who will offset, in efficiency, any number of foreigners, and Judge Gary will have the satisfaction of knowing that increase, natural to the American standard of living, will be spent in the United States, and not hoarded to send to Europe. Elimination of strikes should be sufficient inducement to pay to Americans a wage compatible with the service rendered. Hire loyal American Negro labor.

The Mote and the Beam—

Soviet Russia executed a Catholic Priest, very recently, and the Christian world stood aghast. Although he was charged with treason in conspiring against the Soviet government, protests against the execution flooded Lenine and Trotsky. Among the protestants was the United States. With her usual arrogance and "Holier than thou" attitude she accuses the Russian government of barbarism.

Senator Borah has well said that "Before we charge others with cruelty and inhumanity, let us practice some Christian precepts and principles ourselves."

Peonage in Florida—

It has come to the knowledge of the public that peonage does exist in the South, although it had been strenuously denied. Of course the denials registered, because the victims were black people. But now it is different. A white lad from North Dakota was beating his way on a train down in Florida. There is a fine of $25.00 and not having the money necessary for the fine he was farmed out to a Lumber Company to work in the swamps. He was sick. The "Whipping Boss" said he was shirking and beat him brutally. He died: Now the entire nation is aroused. Boycotts against the Winter Resorts are threatened, and even the Legislature declares war against the "System."

It is not known whether or no the lad received a Christian burial. It is claimed by signed affidavits, that his body may have been thrown in the much of the swamp. Cruelty: Brutality is pictured in every account written to the family of that lad who went out to see the world, and met with such a calamitous end.

But what of the hundreds of black men whose bones whiten below the black mud of the Everglades? That law was primarily made for them. They did not count in the scales of HUMANITY.

The lynching of Leo Frank stirred public opinion, and it became aware that lawlessness knew no bounds. It may be that the death of Martin Tabert will put an end to the pernicious system of peonage which has caused the deaths of innumerable black people.

Why Is It—

Why is it that nine out of ten men whom one hears abusing—not criticising—the government, don't speak the language? Of the many agitators we have heard addressing meetings, or harangueing in the public parks, all of them, The leaders, spoke with a foreign accent.

We listened in vain for the twang of New England; the drawl of the South or the slang of the West, instead we heard the patois or brogue that betrayed the foreign origin.

It is doubtful if nine out of ten could name consecutively seven names of presidents who served the country.

There is a county in California whose political "Boss" manages the voters from the country which produces world renowned musicians, including the man who announces the arrival of Spring with the organ and the monkey. Several of thoes voters went up for their final naturalization. When asked who was the first President of the United States, all of them but one gave the name of the "Boss." That one gave the name, Wilson. Yet Judge Gary would let down the bars and have unrestricted immigration.

The Status of the Negro—

One used to believe that the Negro was persecuted because of his color, and, then again because of his previous condition but after a more casual study from another angle we are inclined to believe that with the influx of the foreign element, who have had the virus injected prior to their arrival on these shores, that the Negro is looked upon as an undesirable foreigner—a racial stranger.

The majority of our foreign born citizens are not aware that the Negro is part of the woof and warp of this Nation. They know nothing of the part which he has played in the development of the Nation. What part that he has played in the history of the nation's military achievements. All that he knows, is, that there are proscriptions against his rights of citizenship; that he is termed a pariah in the social scale, and beneath the most ignorant alien who ever came over in the steerage. Yes, we have got another angle to fight. We have to educate fellows who come from over the seas that we assisted greatly in making this country; this Nation, a desirable place to come to, and that we need his assistance to "Make It Safe For Democracy."

DROUGHT GRIPS THE WEST INDIES

Three Year's Aridity Causes Much Suffering and Great Loss in Islands.

(Crusader Service)

KINGSTON, Ja., April 25.—(By Mail.) One of the severest droughts within the memory has struck the West Indies causing untold loss and much personal suffering. In all the Islands the story is the same. Porto Rico alone shows little effect from it, though the southside of the island is burned and devastated. Elsewhere on the island the green valleys and mountains afford a striking contrast with its neighbors. In Jamacia, the drought is in its third year. Cattle are dying off. Children are suffering from lack of water and milk. Pasture land is parched. Fruit and vegetable crops have been destroyed or damaged where irrigation is not practised. There is an abundance of water in the mountains, but the valleys and plains receive little benefit from it. The occasional showers are confined to the hills. On the lower slopes people are desperate. On the islands of Haiti, the two colored republics report a similar condition. Some of the natives carry water for miles, usually in gourds carried on their heads. In Cuba the southern half of the island suffers similarly. In the North they have some rain. So acute is the situation in the Virgin Islands that American engineers are being rushed to St. Thomas to see what can be done to relieve the plight of the inhabitants who are literally begging for water.

STUDENTS FORM NEW ORGANIZATION IN CONFERENCE AT HOWARD

Seek Better Conditions in Schools. More Racial Consciousness is Aim. Permanent Body Formed. Will Carry Its Doctrines To Every School and City in the Country.

The first conference of the American Federation of Negro Students convened at Howard University April 6 and 7, both dates inclusive.

This organization grew out of a meeting held last summer in Atlantic City, N. J. It was composed of students attending Oberlin, Yale, Howard, Cornell, Lincoln, Tuskegee, Downington, Montclair Normal School, Atlantic City High School and others.

This meeting authorized an Executive Committee to place before the thinking Negro students of America, five vital questions:

The promotion of co-operation, the stimulation of race pride, the encouragement of education, the increasing of race culture, and an intelligent consideration of the race problems.

The Executive Committee, composed of seven students of Lincoln University, with the slogan: "A More Progressive People," called upon the students of high schools, colleges and universities, and their equivalents to unite in a conference composed of delegates from the various institutions.

The business of the first conference was the drafting of a constructive program for the ensuing year.

The First Conference.

The first meeting of the Conference was called to order Friday morning, April 6, at 9:30 o'clock, in the Moorland room of the Carnegie Library, Howard University. Temporary officers consisting of one student each from Howard University, Lincoln, and Swift Memorial College, Tennessee, were elected to conduct the Conference. Committees were appointed to record the findings of the Conference, and to suggest remedies for the defects which were found by the Conference to exist among the Negro race.

During the course of the first session, Dr. E. L. Parks, Dean of Men at Howard University; and Dr. A. Leroy Locke of hte Department of Philosophy; Miss Lucy D. Slowe, Dean of Women, and Mr. William B. West, Executive Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the students and expressed hopes and beliefs for the great future of the student movement.

Open Session.

The meeting adjourned, at 12:00 o'clock to engage in a special Chapel service with the students of Howard University. Dr. J. Stanley Durkee, President of the University, welcomed the students to Howard. Mr. D. Ward Nichols, President of the Student Council, then assumed charge of the CChapel service, presenting the founder of the organization in an explanation of the purpose of the student conference.

An important resolution, to which the student organization stands pledged, is the advocacy of the teaching of Negro history in colored high schools, colleges and Universities thrnout the country.

The meeting was extended thru Monday evening for the purpose of adopting a Constitution for the organization.

Three national drives were decided upon, to be conducted at stated intervals, during the ensuing year: one in October, one in December, and one in March, 1924. The purpose of the drives will before: the increasing of [illegible]siness Co-operation;" the stimulation of "Race Pride;" and the encouragement of "Education," respectively. Each drives will be conducted by [illegible]nts thruout the country in churches, Sunday-schools, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations, and thru the press of the country. From the press the organization was favored and endorsed by Mr. William O. Walker, Editor of "The Washington Tribune," who spoke on Saturday morning.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. I. J. K. Wells, Lincoln, President; Mr. E. C. Frazier, Howard, Vice President; Mr. C. Glenn Carrington, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Secretary; Mr. George W. Goodman, Lincoln, Corresponding Secretary; Mr. Thomas L. Dabney, Union, Treasurer; Mr. W. A. James, Swift Memorial College, Chaplain; Mr. A. Leon Richardson, Howard, chairman, Committee on Publicity.

Next year the organization will meet in the heart of the Southland. It convenes in Nashville, Tennessee, the first Thursday in April, 1924.

TENNIS CHATTER

Fed Selects Trophies for Annual Tournament.

By William Mells Watson.

The gang of athletes that ambles to Frisco to battle for the 1923 coast championships will find it well worth while when they see the wonderful prizes that have been selected for the victors.

President Carlisle himself climbed out of a sick bed this week and was wheeled down to the manufacturer's trophy foundry to assist the trophy committee in buying up enough huge silver cups and gold medals to overload a Ford.

Joe Brown Officiates

In the absence of president Carlisle and Vice President Mrs. Hazel Temple at the Fed's last meeting, second Vice President Mrs. Josephine Maria Regina Carmelita Brown, stunningly gowned and looking precisely like beautiful "Queen Tut" her self waved the gavel for the evening in a most befitting and dignified manner, marking the first time in the Fed's eight years history that its meeting was steered by a "sweet woman," and incidentally it also was the best behaved gathering that ever conducted the Fed's business. Carry on, "Joe."

MUCH BIZ TRANSACTED

A genuine sack chucked fulla business was turned out by little "Joe's" dainty hands, too.

Mesdames Ruby Meyers and Gladys Porter were accepted as the new representatives of the Alpha Parthenial Club and Mrs. Porter has since been appointed by president Carlisle to fill the vacancy in the executive committee. Bill Tatum was elected corresponding secretary—watch his step.

The five territorial districts boundaries were made as follows: No. 1 So. California, Bakersfield and South. Hazel Temple. (First Vice president.) 2. California North of Bakersfield—Mrs. Josephine Brown. 3. Oregon, Washington and Hawaiian Islands—Mrs. Mable Lee. 4 Idaho, Utah and Nevada—Miss Victoria Y. Shorey. 5 Arizona—Mrs. Irma Tatum.

Question—What has become of the questionnaire department lately?

Answer—Space in this journal during these political times is so scarce that the writer is forced to answer queries by letter.

Watch for the Fed's Hop off Dance.

STUDENTS' COMPOSITION CHOSEN AMONG TEN BEST AT JEFFERSON

Essays submitted in the contest conducted by Hamburger's for high schools by three of our students at Jefferson high school were chosen among the ten best at that institution. They were submitted by Benjamin Colly, Miss Charlie Webb, and Miss Katrina Bryant. The theme was on Education in Business. All compositions, having been turned in, the results of the contest should be known soon. A gold loving cup will be given to the winner of each district, and another large cup will be given to the winner of all districts for his school.

IVAN JOHNSON MAY GO EAST WITH TROJAN TEAM IF TRIP IS MADE

According to announcements given the press, U. S. C. may not send her ingttrack and field team to Pullman, Washington, as originally planned, but a strong team probably would go to the National Meet to be held in Chicago on June 15 and 16. Among the Track and Field Teams to Pullman, possible men to go were Otto Anderson, Norman Anderson, Yale Martz, and our own quarter-miler and relay man, Ivan Johnson. A relay team composed of Hughes, Torkelson, Johnson and Martz would be very fast and hard to beat.

SAILOR SMITH GETS DECISION AT VERNON

Sailor Smith, local fighter, and one of the best on the coast won the verdict over Alex Maurice, who substituted for Johnnie Cline at Vernon on last Tuesday night.

Three hundred and twenty-two university athletes and twelve hundred prep school athletes are entered in the Drake Relays scheduled for April 27 and 28.

BLACKIE GETS DRAW IN TWO BOUTS

Blackie Rice, local 165 pounder, got a draw with Young George at San Bernardino last Thursday April 19.

In the fight at Anaheim Monday night, Blackie fought toe to toe with Madlock who outweighed him by twenty pounds. It was declared the best battle in the state. Blackie got a draw in this fight also. He sustained a broken finger.

THE WORK WORTH WHILE

I love the constant rap of the typewriter's tap,
The endess stream of strangers that come to my door;
I love the ceaseless whirl of the busy life's swirl
The books that crowd my desk and lay upon the floor.
I love the steady work where no man cares to shirk,
But diligently toils with a song and a smile;
I love the thrifty sound of the old daily round,
And the spell of the work that is really worth while.
There are those who wil dream, and those who always seem
To grieve over life's hardships, its traps and its snares;
But they will learn some day, as the years roll away,
That success favors the man who labors and dares
Don't grieve it too late; just keep toiling and wait
And you'll be labeled and punched on the best man's file!
Your life will be well spent if you'll always keep bent
On the spell of the work that is really worth while.

BASEBALL STARS WITH SQUAD AGAIN

Bruce Jackson will be seen again this year when the prep school baseball season starts. He is one of Jefferson's star mound-men. Bruce is an all-round athlete. He plays football, basket-ball, is a good high jumper, and throws a wicked ball. Any one who has seen him in action will agree that he has in him the making of a great athlete should he enter college.

Riddle, star football player of U. S. C. may be found with the baseball squad again this season. He plays a whirl wind game at short; is fast, and considered one of the strongest men on the team.

THESE ARE THEY WHO SERVE

(By Wendell P. Gadden, Jr.)

The rumbling of the gray roadster ceased, as Dr. Maurice drove up beside the long veranda and stopped where a wide, white and smooth walk ran diagonally up the slight incline to join the driveway What a handsome estate! A modern Southern California bungalow, green-colored and vine-covered, surrounded by a landscape of miniature gardens supplied with flowers of many hues and fragrant.

Only a slight glance at the doctor would have disclosed a haggard face, steady, but sad eyes, and a body completely fatigued. What wonders he had worked with his hands—those hands long used to work—and coupled with broad training, and a thorough knowledge of his profession, and a great kind heart, ever faithful to duty, he had become successful. He was not only well-known, but well- loved by the community. Just beneath his soft felt hat of black, touches of gray in his black hair revealed the fact that he was approaching middle-age, though his dark face was not yet wrinkled.

Dr Maurice was about to alight, but slipped into his comfortable seat again when the gardener approaching, evoked interesting conversation.

"Hello, Joe," the physician said good-naturedly. "What is new?"

The gardener leaned against the hoe which he had just finished using. "Oh, Doctor, I have gleaned the papers and read about everything from marathon dancers to flying flivvers, and have concluded that there is "nothing new under the sun."

They both laughed heartily. Dr. Maurice made a general survey of his estate. "My!" he said. "The gardens are wonderful. It is a pleasure to get home at last and enjoy the sight of so many beautiful flowers. You know, Joe, I envy you."

"Envy me?" Why you are doing great things. You remember Christ once said that he 'came into the world not to be administered unto, but to minister and give his life a ransom for many." You can never be repaid for all you have done."

The other listened attentively, seemingly grave. "You make people happy by your cheerful personality, and your artistic taste. You are out in the open air with flowers around you, and the birds, and the cup of blue above, while I mingle with all classes of people driving in the heart of the city sometimes when traffic is congested. There are so many cases that claim my attention, sickness and poverty, and misery. And yet, there is a joy in serving the unfortunate."

"And what is greater than to save a life, to mend a life, to help re-make a man? Again, the Master said: "He who would be great among you let him be servant of all;" or something or that sort. Joe had removed his big sun hat, and stood with one foot resting on the running board.

The two men ceased their talk. Dr. Maurice started the motor of his car and drove slowly to the garage. Joe continued his work in the gardens and among the hedges.

There were three quick rings within the house. It was a telephone call for Dr. Maurice. He had a bite to eat, seized his satchel and was on his way to answer the call to duty.

Evening had come. The long ride was refreshing to the doctor. But he had worked hard and needed a rest. Nevertheless, he was the kind of public servant who forsakes even home sometimes in the interest of others. The doctor rode on, steering to the house of misfortune.

Meantime, Joe, the gardner, was completing his work with earnestness. How like Markham's the "Man With The Hoe" was this lover of Mother Nature's bounty and treasures unlimited.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Thomas Myles is coach of the Lincoln freshmen track team. Each year the first year men have a city meet of their own, and each high school is represented. Lincoln has won this meet for three consecutive years, and according to statements made by Coach Tommy Myles, will again bring home the bacon. Among those out are, Leo Lawrence and Adolphus Jones. The former in the sprints and the latter in the distance events, will be some combination.

Last Friday Lincoln track team defeated Pasadena by a count of 61 to 52, on the latter's field. In the 100 yard dash, three lads of color crossed the finish line in one-two-three order. They were, Whitar and Hurlic of Pasadena, and Duncan of Lincoln, time 10:2. And in the 220, Duncan was second, Whitar and Hurlic did not run in the furlong, but placed first and third respectively in the broad jump, distance 20 ft. 5 in.

Pitcher Shaw of Monrovia Hi shut out the Pasadena High School ball nine, 1 to 0 last Friday. Shaw struck out twenty-one opposing batsmen and allowed but five scattered hits. Ted Shaw is the brother of the renound Ed Shaw, crack all around athlete.

In the preliminary heats for the Southern California track meet last Wednesday Hurlic of Pasadena was second in the 100 yd. dash, thus qualifying for the finals to be run Saturday at Santa Ana. Woodyard of Jefferson also made his way to the finals by snatching first in the 1000 and 220 his time being 10:1 and 22:3 respectively.

Pasadena High School broke the Southern California half mile relay record, established by Lincoln in 1921, and equalled by Los Angeles in 1922. The time being 1 minute and 32 seconds; 2-5 of a second was slipped off the old record. Hurlic and Whiszar were responsible for this feat, to a great extent, as they ran very fast laps in this event. Duncan by running a fast lap enabled Lincoln's relay team to get second place

Two Friends Pay Y. M. C. A. Visit.

Mrs. Carrie Eddy Sheffler, of Cold Water Canyon, whose father was the late Col. Eddy, inventor and owner of Angel Flight and engineer who supervised the surveying for Owens River, was one of our visitors last week. She interested greatly in our work. Mrs. Sheffler is a member of the Women's International University Club; Shelley and many other liberal organizations.

Dr. Marie C. Mills, another of our devoted friends, accompanied Mrs. Sheffler. Some time ago Dr. Mills contemplated a trip to Europe, but she informed us, that she has postponed the journey until the summer. At present she is devoting her time to writing; and is contemplating publishing a volume of verse on Beverly Hills. She will speak for us Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

$5,000 CAMPAIGN FOR THE YWCA.

WHOSE—This property will belong to the colored people of Los Angeles FOREVER, if THEY purchase it. Can we afford, after paying already $9,500, to let it slip from our hands?

How—it can be done. By each one doing HIS honest bit—each citizen needs to help in this community proposition.

WHY YOU SHOULD HELP—This is the only way to prove that you are really interested in the welfare of our girls and women. MONEY will talk in this Campaign. What tale will it tell on YOU?

ACTIVITIES—1. Campaign Party -1327 W. 10th street—7:30 p. m. for ALL workers and Captains.

NOTICE: Do not pay any money without an official receipt or by check made payable to the 12th Street Center Y. W. C. A.

This campaign, in fact, will be truly educational. A special effort will be made to acquaint the masses with the principles and object of the Association. Every day thousands of people through the persistent and effective are enjoying civil and political rights which have been yielded to them only work of the N. A. A. C. P. and yet many of these people, apparently, have never thought of the N. A. A. C. P. in such a connection. It is the only organization in the world that exists "the spirit of persecution" which confronts the Colored people of this land, to safeguard their full political and legal rights, and secure for them equality of opportunity with all other citizens.

And we think the Association is making headway with its praiseworthy program. We know that hundreds of victims of peonage in the South realise that their ultimate salvation is through this organization, and the helpless men accused in the Arkansas riot cases, whose lives have been saved thus far by the N. A. A. C. P., will tell you that this is the greatest organization they have ever known. The N. A. A. C. P. has also rendered valuable service right here in California. One can never tell how soon it will be called upon to meet conditions that may be quite as serious here as they are in other sections of the country. If the organization shall continue to work with increasing efficiency, it must, of course, have the support of all the people, particularly of those who are the direct beneficiaries of its labors.

The Los Angeles membership quota this year is only 3900, but we ought to be able to find at least 10,000 people in this great city who will contribute at least $1.00 a year for N. A. A. C. P. membership. It is all for the people, and it is a small investment indeed for such an important purpose.

There is a movement being carried on throughout the Nation known as the "Go To High School—Go To College" campaign. It is unnecessary to dwell at length on the importance of such a measure; the need of ducation in our ranks is vident when one measures the conditions that constantly confront our people. Only thru such a medium will we be able to cope impressively with the unGodly situations to which we are often forced to submit ourselves.

NO JITNEY MOTOR BUS.

As we go to press the silk stocking brigrade has about shot their bolt and the people will speak up on next Tuesday in no uncertain tones against the proposed Amendment No. 5 which repeals the Jitney Bus Ordinance and also against No. 6 which would give away our streets to the Motor Bus Corporation for a period of 21 years. From all angles they have studied the situation and will join with those who truly stand for real progress and bury this pernicious ordinance under an avalanche of votes. Do not forget if No. 5 passes the Jitney Bus law is repealed and there is nothing to keep the jitneys of all sort from operating upon our streets again.

VOTE FOR SANTA FE HARBOR FRANCHISE.

Los Angeles stands way up on the list of the great cities of the nation, something like the sixth or seventh. This comes about from the fact that she has never been backward in providing a way for the enlargement of its territory and resources. And there is no good reason why the great Santa Fe line should be denied an entrance to the harbor, but on the contrary it should be permitted there just the same as the Southern Pacific, Salt Lake and Pacific Electric. In making this improvement it will not set back anybody but will cause business to come in many places which are at present dormant along the line of business effort.

The Slauson Ave. bugaboo is but chaff, the road already has a franchise on Slauson way, it now only wants to go into the harbor and must spend more than a million and a half dollars to build the line to the harbor. By all means vote to let them spend it., It makes business good.

A JITNEY OCCASION.

If the repeal of ordinance No. 5 is necessary to the granting of a franchise to the Motor Bus Corporation, by what sort of reasoning are we to assume that the bars are not down and the dinky Jitney cannot come forth in all of its hideousness to harass a long suffering public. To our mind the election in so far as ordinances Nos. 5 and 6 are concerned is a Jitney occasion, this being so, we have but one recourse, and that is to Vote NO on both 5 and 6.

ELECT ALEXANDER.

A practical demonstration of real efforts to get together should be manifest on next Tuesday, after which all candidates who qualify will be subject to the closest scrutiny up to the general election in June. There is no time now to lag on some fancied grievance, but with one pull all together, let's put Alexander over for a place on the Councilmanic ticket.

CHIEF OAKS.

This paper takes no stock in any public statement to the effect that Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks is a member of the Ku Klux Klan, his public acts contradict the assertion. In many ways he has deserved the praises of the people for the democratic manner in which he has conducted the police department. We have never hesitated to give him due credit, however, we feel that the Chief if he were correctly quoted in the Times of last Tuesday went out of his way to cast aspersions by inuendos upon a race and individuals as well. The colored people do not stand for crooked officers any more than the white people stand for this specie of officer, and there is in proportion far more crookedness with the white officers than there is among the Negroes and just why the Chief would single out colored people and colored officers we cannot understand.

Life is a dream and death the awakening.

To error is human—to forgive divine.

The family altar is heaven's threshold.

The heart is that part of the personality of a man which feels after God.

Music often starts off the savage.

To dally with your purpose, to half will, to hang forever in the balance, is to lose your grip on life.

THE HOME LOSING ITS GRIP UPON YOUNG LIFE.

The home is losing its grip upon the young life of today. Fathers and mothers are failing in their duty. They are not doing their job—a tragic price will be paid for this failure if parents are not aroused to a renewed sense of their responsibility. The home is the strategic center in any campaign to win America for God and His righteousness. It is next to the church. It must be convinced of its responsibility. It must re-assert its authority over the years which lack judgment. It must regain its position of power and privileges as the teacher of faith and the builder of character. Fathers and mothers, this is your duty, your task for America and God.

WELCOME CHANDLER OWEN.

We wish to welcome in our midst this coming week the brilliant and forceful co-editor of the Messenger of New York, and appreciate with the rest of our citizens his second visit in our midst. On his previous visit he brought hope and inspiration to all who heard him and we have a right to expect on this occasion that he will bring to us even more bountiful than before ideas to which we may all aspire, all to the glory and continued progress of a struggling race.

APPRECIATION.

Don't for one moment forget such friends who aspire to places on the School Board as Miss Jessie York, tried and true, standing for what is right at all times, a true servant of the people is this devoted woman. It is the duty of every colored voter to not only vote, but work for her election.

For Coucilman there has never been a truer friend for all the people in that body than R. S. Sparks. This being so the people should not hesitate to express themselves at the polls on Tuesday.

THE BYSTANDER

Those who listened in Monday evening over the Herald Radio were privileged to hear Prof. W. T. Wilkins, Mr. Claude Pitts and Miss Lucile Banton. In spite of Continuous information concerning discrimination and prejudice, it is a source of delight to see and learn of true appreciation and recognition of art. These young people are representatives we are proud of, and we are most agreeably pleased when we consider that they have demonstrated to our fellow citizens that we can "strut along" in classics as ably as we can "strut" in musical revue.

AGE

They tell us that the active, venerable Mr. John Rucker of the satisfying team of Perrin and Rucker, in "Struttin' Along" is in his seventies. That is remarkable for a man of such vivacity. Some few days ago Chauncey M. Depew celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday. Here we have two points of view, one, the man of money and means, the other an humble citizen fighting his way as hundreds applaud. Both must be congratulated.

I do not know Mr. Rucker's creed but it is safe to say that he would corroborate these immortal words of Chauncey Depew, "No glands or new-fangled nostrums of any kind are responsible for my excellent physical and mental condition. Neither has it been aided by Conan Doyle's spirits. My problems have been solved by the teachings and memory of my mother. All great crises in my life have been solved more easily by prayer." Young old, rich and poor, ought to pause and pay particular attention to the words of this nonogenerian, especially his reference to mother and prayer.

GO TO SCHOOL

This is the slogan of a group of young men banded in a frantity They will hurl this challenge throughout the country, our city included. As they walk up and down Central Ave., if that is in the itinerary, they might offer an alternate "Go to School, or Go to Work."

PERPETUAL YOUTH A REAL POSSIBILITY

"AND NO MONKEY-GLAND STUFF EITHER."

By: DR. E. B. LEWIS, B. Sc., M. D.
1618½ East 9th Street

While the flight of time is interwoven in man's existence, senility and old age are not at all necessary accompaniments. Birth, growth, childhood and youth are inseparable from life, because life buds from life. Age, however, in the sense of lost youth, fossilism and decay is a deprivation, a taking away, a subtraction from that which is life.

If a human being, an animal, a plant, a microbe or any other living thing is not provided with its own waste products—if it is given its required air, light, moisture, minerals and food—if it is not stimulated by artificial means or depressed with the over-gratification of its appetites, it is evident from observations and experiments upon simple living things that life, like a river, can flow on forever.

It is now well known that microbes, amoebae, paramecia, certain worms and the units of man's flesh when simplified and separated from the complex syndicate called "the human body," can, if gently and steadily bathed and washed free from the home-made poisons and waste, renew and perpetuate their youth.

To be sure, food, moisture and appropriate interchanges between the living thing and the environment are demanded. Otherwise there will be no fuel, heat or stocking to keep the tissues supplied with the mortar and cement of life.

WHAT "GROWTH" IS

The extraordinary regenerative power of certain types of animals, as well as the human fabric, proves that in health, youth is almost constantly renewed. The skin is shed in unseen scales day by day. The hair drops out and is replaced by the new. The nails alone of your tissues can be seen renewing themselves month after mouth.

When your finger and toe nails grow slowly or rapidly you have an index and a standard of what takes place in your muscles, skin and bones. When a bone is fractured new bone grows in two or three weeks to replace the lost and separated parts.

Whenever clean, uninfected sores do not heal, when nails do not renew themselves, when broken bones do not knit, when the skin fails to remain smooth and moderately moist, there you have signs of deterioration, ill health, loss of life's balance, decay, fossilization and testimony that the regenerative powers native to sound tissues have waned. That is old age. Surely, it is selfdeceptive madness to blame such loss of youth renewals upon the flight of years.

True enough, the impulse and inertia inherited by the tissues of a sea-going tortoise may carry it through most vicissitudes over a longer stretch—hundreds or perhaps thousands— ofyears. Equally true is it that the appetite and exigencies, competition and wider experience of the human brain have driven both inheritance and [illegible] hundred stable years.

Let all this be as it may, the facts still prove that man's allotment of three score and ten can be extended as well as held useful. The essentials are not necessarily those of a tortoise, a parrot or an elephant, but they are such as many persons cannot abide.

Among the ways to find perpetual youth, health and happiness is often to shun things that are most accessible and available to your appetites. In other words, too liberal a gratification of your emotions and your inclinations, your puritanisms and your preferences, your dislikes and your pleasures lead to old age, senility and decay.

To indulge in rich foods and late hours, to sleep until near noon and tell not with the flesh, to imbibe sedatives and to swallow tonics, to suffer east and comfort when it would be an effort to be out doing, these and the accidents of infectious diseases—also happily prevented vaccines, serums, antitoxins, sanitation and hygiene—are the gnats which sting the youth right out of life.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, leters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquires to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 E. 9th Street. Phones 820389 and 822417.

AN OPEN LETTER ADDRESSED TO THE VOTERS O FLOS ANGELES

Issued By
THE CALIFORNIA CITIZENS CIVIC LEAGUE
1331 Central Ave. Phone Bdwy. 2566

Subject: CRYER-FOR-MAYOR
Text: HE MUST BE RE-ELECTED

WHAT WAS DONE IN THE PAST

We would call to the attention of our members and friends a few of the casts of justice shown our group by Hon. Geo. E. Cryer, Mayor of Los Angeles. It is our opinion that he has entertained a very friendly feeling towards our people. He has, of his own free will and accord, secured a promotion for Miss Homer Stapler who is, perhaps, the only representative of our race employed in a clerical capacity in the City Government. This promotion carries with it an increase in salary.

Several other appointments have been made in the Police Department. Each received the endorsement of Mayor Cryer. He also championed the cause of thos Colored Officers who were dismissed from the service on charges which, in his just estimation, were not sufficient, but which in the absence of that discretion, would have produced an unfavorable result. These men are working now. They have proven worthy of the consideration shown them. Under Mayor Cryer's administration five Colored Officers have been promoted from Detective Sergeants to Lieutenants, a signal honor to our group and an economic stimulus to their families. More Colored men have been appointed to the Police Force during his term of office than have been under the combined periods of any two Mayors. On the basis of population and representation, he has given employment to our men in the Park Department of the City, each instance denoting a salary commensurate with the time and labor pursued.

WHAT WILL BE DONE IN THE FUTURE

Perhaps the most marked achievement for us in the near future will be the establishment of a Fire House, to be occupied solely by our group. This progress is not the outgrowth of an effort to segregate or ostracize Colored citizens, but rather it hastens and prepares the development of that day when our people will take on the responsibilities which their citizenship demands. It is simply a victory made possible through combined efforts. We say "victory" advisedly, for a new Fire House would give us 16 more Colored firemen, four of which would be technically licensed engineers, drawing salaries pro rated by the Commission. Two other officers of superior rank would follow as a result. The approximate pay of these men would be, for the individual, $170.00 per month, or $2040.00 per annum. This number multiplied by 16 would approximate the sum paid our men by the City Government. Their salaries approach something like $24,480.00 annually; with 16 more men added the sum would reach $57,120.00 every twelve months.

The difference between winning and losing this fight means a matter of thousands of dollars for our people. A vote for CRYER is a step towards the realization of a race Fire House. St. Paul, Minnesota, has one. It was procured in the manner which we now suggest to you—that to give your support to the candidate who sees the need, propriety and benefit of those rapid changes and developments.

THE CALIFORNIA CITIZENS CIVIC LEAGUE,
H. Douglas Greer, President,
Robert G. Lamar, Secretary.

STRAINING AT A GNAT AND SWALLOWING A CAMEL.

By Atty. E. C. Jennings.

Mr. Hughes, avenging the hanging of a clergyman in Russia, forbids Madam Kalipin, wife of a Russion statesman, to enter the United States, a government whose constitution recognizes no particular creed or form of religion.

Why should this government become so greatly excited about the legal hanging of a clergyman in Russia, and apparently so indifferent to the ruthless and brutal murders perpetrated by mobs throughout the United States? Is it because the victims of mob violence in the United States are not generally reputed to be clergymen? Are the victims of mob violence of less importance [illegible] government because they do not happen to be clergymen, owing allegiance to a foreign government? We would suggest to Mr. Hughes that charity begins at home, and before attempting to regulate the affairs of Russia he should read Matthew 7 Chapter and 3 verse.

SHADES OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

In the Los Angeles Express of April 13, 1923, we read that: "Dr. George Harding, of Marion, Ohio, father of President Warren G. Harding, spoke twice to the Confederate Veterans at New Orleans, Louisana." He declared he considered Robert E. Lee, the greatest of American generals, and Jefferson Davis one of the South's greatest statesmen.

He said he felt very kindly toward the South inasmuch as his grandmother was a cousin of the mother of Jefferson Davis.

After thanking the veterans for the manner in which he had been received, he added: "I want to thank the Southern people, too, for the kindness with which they have treated my son. The South never had a better friend than Warren G. Harding."

It seems to be a part of the policy of our republican Presidents, and their spokesmen, to make annual visits to the South for the purpose of claiming kinship with some leader of the Southern confederacy, and advising old line republicans to accept leadership under a democrat not only converted to republicanism [illegible] we are pleased to know that "The South never had a better friend than Warren G. Harding," if the declaration means that he is the friend of all the people of the South. The northern republicans and the southern democrats may differ on questions of policy, such as tariff, child labor law and questions of minor importance, but the violation of the 14th and 15th amendments of the Constitution of the United States seems to meet with the approval of both parties. America needs a President that knows something about Abraham Lincoln, and the principles for which he stood, and then it will not be necessary for our President to declare his friendship and good will toward the people of any particular section of this country.

THE POLA NEGRI PLAY

Chandler Owen Gets Great Reception on Arrival in City

GRAND OPENING OF DUNBAR HOSPITAL

GRAND OPENING OF THE DUNBAR HOSPITAL DRAWS GREAT THRONGS ON LAST SUNDAY

Auspicious indeed was the opening day of the Dunbar Hospital on East 15th Street, midway between Hooper and Central Avenue. Early after the noon hour the crowd began to gather and up until 6:00 p. m. it is estimated that fully 3000 persons paid their respects, to this the latest addition of ace enterprise.

Gratifying to the Public

From many angles are the people gratified at the opening of this long delayed institution. They appreciate the same for its completeness and that it is thoroughly modern in every way and everything including the building itself is bran new. They appreciate it for at last the race has a first class hospital of which it can boast. They further appreciate that a trio of our professional men have by practical demonstration convinced even the skeptic that they can bring things to pass.

Personnel of Dunbar Hospital

Doctors F. J. Whittaker, R. S. Whittaker and C. S. Diggs are responsible for the ultimate establishment of this institution and through many vicissitudes have stuck together and with their means have given to the race a hospital, which all may point to with pride. These gentlemen say that the doors of Dunbar Hospital will always swing ajar for any reputable physician and surgeon and thus they have brought about a condition which, has heretofore been denied race physicians at least. To these forward looking and progressive physicians the race owes a debt of gratitude which they cannot pay.

All of the physicians and surgeons stand in the front ranks of their profession and will demonstrate to the utmost the capacity of the race to conduct a first class hospital.

Location Ideal

Midway on E. 15th between Central and Hooper is indeed an ideal location for an institution of this kind, free from noise and other influences which militate against a sick patient.

The hospital building itself while not massive in size measures up in all requirements of a modern hospital. It has accommodation for fully 40 patients.

As you enter the hospital proper upon each side of the large veranda there are two sun or convalescing rooms and you enter a large and commodious hallway. To the left is located the hospital office, in the rear of which is located the minor operating room. The 3rd room on the left is a private patients room for one or two persons. This room is most beautifully furnished by the generosity of Friendship Baptist Church of Pasadena. Likewise is room No. 5 furnished through the philanthropic spirit of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon of Pasadena. Room No. 6 is also a private patients room for one or two persons Room No. 7 is the sterilizing room, two mammoth nickle plated boilers, dry racks etc., give an idea of its completeness. Room 8 is the maternity room uniquely furnished with tiny cribs and highly ornamental scales. The next is the Dietetic room where properly cooked foods are prepared by chefs trained in the art of culinary. The storage room is in the extreme rear of the left side. Room 9 on the right hand is the delivery room equipped with all modern conveniences. No. 10 is the large airy well lighted Major Operating room, equipped with every modern appliance for an up to date hospital. The operating table (latest model) in this room was presented to the Dunbar hospital by Dr. Frank Pearl.

Room No. 11 is the Nursery room where juvenile patients are domiciled, children from 5 years to 12 are inmates of this department. This room was furnished by Mrs. Booker T. Washington Jr., and will accomodate 4 patients| Room 13 is a regular ward with accommodation for 5 patients.

The floral offerings for the hospital were profuse and beautiful and furnished by the N. I. B. C. Club, while the sun room was furnished by the Metropolitan Baptist Church of Pasadena.

The opening was a wonderful demonstration to a wonderful undertaking and in days to come there is no question but what the promoters of the same will discern that their efforts have not been in vain.

It's An Ill Wind That Blows Nobody Good

J. HARVEY McCARTHY

During the campaign just closed in the course of our daily routine we had the good fortune to meet one of the strong characters of this Community in the person of Mr. J. Harvey McCarthy, who is one of the strong financial geniuses who in his realm of realty brokerage has played his part in making Los Angeles great and grand. He was a strong force in the recent motor bus campaign and with Mr. McAdoo and Hellman collaborated for the success of the bus proposition. Before this time we had never met Mr. McCarthy, but after meeting him and learning of his worth through his faithful employee Mr. Randolph, we are glad to know of his loyal friendship for the man farthest down and many indeed are the deeds which mark Mr. McCarthy, the friend of man. He is much interested in the station of the Colored people and has demonstrated the same for all worthy propositions for their advancement.

MONDAY NIGHT—"NEW SOLUTION OF NEGRO PROBLEM"

CHANDLER OWEN ARRIVES

Chandler Owen is seen in center of picture with cane arriving at U. P. Depot on last Sunday. The Eagle Photographer snapped him with a bevy of members of the East Side Mothers Club who jointly with the Friends of Freedom formed reception for the brilliant editor.

A great throng was on hand to meet the Union Pacific Flyer at 2:40 P. M. last Sunday to receive Hon. Chandler Owen, the brilliant editor of the Messenger of New York and renowned Orator. Mr. Owen received a warm welcome, and no prince or potentate received greater honors than were his at the hand of the people. After greeting the throng which was present to meet him and being snapped by the Eagle Photographer, he was taken for a drive over the city, winding up with a big dinner at the residence of Attorney and Mrs. C. E. Jennings on East 15th St., where he will reside while in the city.

Big Meeting Monday Night

From the universal inquiries and the advance sale of tickets as reported by the East Side Mothers Club under whose auspices he is appearing, the large Auditorium of Labor Temple will be packed on next Monday night to hear him speak on the subject: "A New Solution for the Negro Problem." Therefore the people are urged to get their tickets early and be on time for the Program will start promptly on time.

Mr. Owen is in fine fettle, brim full of new information and we all appreciate the fact that from his lips will fall a wonderful message indeed.

CONGRESSMAN DYER HERE SUNDAY.

UNIFORMED RANK K. OF P. TO FORM GUARD OF HONOR

PHILIPS CHAPEL C. M. E. CHURCH CHOIR TO SING

In connection with the reception of Congressman Dyer, of Missouri, on next Sunday afternoon, a mammoth escort will be formed at 8th and Central avenue at 3:30 p. m. to escort the famous champion of human justice from that point to the 14th Street School Auditorium, where he si to deliver an address.

The Uniformed Rank of the Knights of Pythias, under command of the gallant Captain Leo, will form the Los Angeles Concert Band. Captain Leo's contingent will march to the auditorium in military formation and Congressman Dyer will approach the building through columns of the knights in full uniform. Citizens with automobiles are invited to join the procession at 8th and Central Avenue, and all interested are urged to assemble and join in the demonstration for the author of the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill.

The meeting will begin promptly at 3:15, and in view of the fact that thousands will want to hear Mr. Dyer's Anti-Lynching address, the public is urged to come early to secure seats. The Auditorium is located on East Twelfth street, near Hooper avenue.

The famous choir of Philips Chapel C. M. E. Church, directed by Prof. Mitchell, will furnish music on this occasion.

ELKS LODGE OF SEATTLE TO THE FOREFRONT

In our recent trip up the Pacific Coast on business for our forward moving fraternity the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows and while holding high the banner of Ogden we are not so narrow nor unmindful and give credit where credit is due to note the marvelous progress of the Elks in this bailiwick and at Seattle it seemed as though the climax was at hand when the Exalted Ruler of the Seattle Lodge showed us over one of the most elaborate as well as most beautiful fraternal homes which it has ever been our lot to see. We can truthfully say that it is the most beautifully located, elaborately furnished and well-conducted home of its kind in this country.

The following extract from Cayton's Year Book is a fair description:

"Situated upon the brow of one of Seattle's many commanding hills gives to it a sweeping view of Seattle's great chain of lakes to the east, Seattle herself with its busy bustling waterfront lined with scores of ocean-going crafts and finally of three mountain ranges from all sides studded with gorgeous snow covered mountain peaks, the beauties of which are surpassed throughout the wide world. If viewing the wonders and beauties of nature count for anything in man, then no wonder that members of this Elks lodge feel bigger and better men after having spent a season at this palatial clubhouse. The interior of the building is no less inviting than the exterior, and from parlor to pantry and from kitchen to the lodge room on the second floor, capable of accommodating 300 or more members at once, a perfect place presents itself."

Under the regime of Exalted Ruler E. R. Chainey, the order is moving on to greater heights by leaps and bounds and he has truly brought to pass a new day for fraternal progress in this section of our country.

NEGROES IN AMERICA ARE HUNDRED YEARS AHEAD

South African Educator Pleased With Race's Progress Here. Sets Standard for World. Africa Offers Fine Field of Service for Trained American Negroes.

ATLTNTA, Ga., (Special)—That the Negro in America is in every way a hundred years ahead of the natives of South Africa, is the statement of Dr. James Henderson, a noted educator from that country, who is spending a few months in America in the study of race relations and Negro education. This is due, he said, to the fact that the American Negro came much earlier into contact with Christian civilization and has had far greater opportunities for education and self development. He was particularly impressed with the economic progress which the race has made in this country, which he said was far beyond anything he had expected.

Dr. Henderson has given his life to the education of the natives of British South Africa, having been for many years principal of Lovedale Institute, the great African Tuskegee, a missionary institution with a faculty of 60 and a student body of 900. While in Atlanta he visited a number of Negro colleges and was greatly pleased with them, commenting most favorably on their fine equipment, competent and devoted teachers and intelligent students. A number of well-trained American Negroes, he said, are rendering fine service in Africa as teachers and social workers. Wherever they have been tried they have made good, was his emphatic testimony. He believes that the number of such workers will greatly increase and that in this way the educated American Negro is destined to make a great contribution to Africa's development.

The good will work of the Interracial Commission, of which he had heard in Africa where its methods are beginning to be adopted, interested Dr. Henderson greatly. The problem of race relations, he said, is much more difficult there than here, and much further from solution. It was his opinion that the progress of the American Negro is setting a new standard for the world in the development of backward peoples.

From Atlanta Dr. Henderson went to Tuskegee Institute.

EDITOR MAYFIELD OBJECTS TO POLA NEGRI'S "DIRTY PLAY"

Coarse, contemptible and insulting.

Vulgar, bestial and degrading.

That is the only description I can give of Pola Negri's dirty play.

The first picture of the Polish vamp in America is an open insult to the nation.

It is a brazen propaganda for social equality. It is a stench in the nostrils of the Southland and an affront to the Caucasian race.

Europe's alleged star should be sent back to Poland to twinkle among a people where the white instinct is not so pronounced as it is in America, and with her should go the depraved second-hand clothing merchants who foisted the production on the American people.

The picture was barred from Houston by the local censor board and permitted entry, over their protest, by the mayor of Houston.

Thank God for the censor board, and—well, you can guess my sentiments for the mayor.

The story of "Bella Donna," Pola Negri's dirty play, deals with the mad infatuation of a white woman for a dark skinned North African, yclept an Egyptian.

Those who saw the play witnessed the horrible and revolting spectacle of a white woman, clinging in the arms of a colored man. The white face of woman melting into the passionate countenance of the black man, and those Jews made the Egyptian good and black, as if to vent some ancient grudge.

The picture is an insult to all America and a direct thrust at the Southland.

I told you some time ago that the depraved and degraded bunch of Kikes who control the movie industry of this country had deliberately and with malice aforethought planned to break down the moral life of Protestant America with the subtle and convincing propaganda of the screen. I told you how, inch by inch, they dragged the heroes and heroines of the youth of this land into the utter depths of sin, depravity and human nakedness. I told you of the foul and immoral lessons they daily schooled into the children of this land and I predicted then that the day was coming when they would seek to carry that degradation to further depths by introducing the negro on the screen to act in conjunction with white people and attempt to foist that on a white Protestant race for whom they seem to have nothing but contempt. I told you it was coming, and here is its approach. Already negroes are being given roles in screen plays, more and more they are intruding into the plays, and the latest step is the Negri in "Bella Donna."

So help me God, that bulletin was flashed on

VERDUN GOLD MINE AT ITS START IS RICHEST DISCOVERY IN TUOLUMNE COUNTY.

VERDUN MINING AND LEASING COMPANY STARTS OPERATIONS AT THEIR MINE.

VERDON GOLD MINE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

Company Starts Operation in Tuolumne County.

By John E. Prowd.

The Verdun Mining and Leasing Company has one of the richest hills that has ever been discovered in the mining section of Tuolumne County, where there are no fewer than 10 producing mines, each within a mile of one another.

As proof of the belief in the value of the mine, at great cost secured the services of Mr. A. E. Sedgwick, a Mining and Civil Engineer of Los Angeles, Calif., and at present instructor in the University of Southern California, to go over the property for the purpose of making a report, not only for the stockholders, but also for the benefit of the public, who always desire a statement or opinion of an authority on such matters. His report in part folows:

"Geological Relations"

"The Mother Lode is a belt of strong, intermittent, closely spaced veins, about 110 miles long and one

TOP OF VERDUN SHAFT

This shaft is 4 Feet by 7 Feet and is down 90 Feet in ore valued at $18.00 Gold Per Ton mile wide, extending from Mariposa County through Tuolumne and Calaveras Counties and into Amador County.

"The Mother Lode lies along the westerly slope of the foothills of the Sierra Nevadas. The axis of the belt is approximately parallel to the northwesterly and southwesterly trend of the more important structural features of this portion of the range.

"Bed Rock Series."

"During the Carboniferous Age the extreme eastern portion of the State of California and the western portion of the State of Nevada appears to have been a land area of unknown elevation. This area included the portion of the State now occupied by the High Sierras. The shore line was somewhere between the Mother Lode District and the present crest line of the High Sierras, so that the erosion products from the land areas were laid down in the sea over the Mother Lode District as carboniferous sediments, which were later consolidated to form the oldest sediments in the district, known as the "Caaveras formation."

"At the close of the Jurassic Period the Serra Nevada was uplifted into a great mountain range, with intrusions of a large amount of granitoid rock into and through the overlying sediments.

"The great mass of carboniferous sediments, or Calaveras Formation, consists of mica schist, sandstone,, quartzite, clay slate, with occasional lenses of limestone.

"During the later Jurassic Period the sediments from the Jurassic uplife were laid down over the tilted and folded carboniferous, or Calaveras, sediments and extended a considerable distance farther west, due to the recession of the shore line during the Jurassic uplift.

"One of the main formations resulting from the sediments is known as the "Mariposa Formation, consisting of clay slates, often sandy, and

"JUNE'S SHACK.

This used to be the Cabin of Old Man June, the man who originally owned the present Verdun Claim. He died a couple years ago and the Claim fell into the hands of the Verdun Mining and Leasing Company. The shack remain intact upon the company's property as a silent monument of the early days of the Verdun Mine.

consisting of pebbles from rocks of the "Calaveras Formations."

"Soon after the Mariposa Formation had been deposited, the regon underwent another uplift, resulting in the formation of the Coast Range and re-elevation of the Sierra Nevada. One result of this uplift was to turn the Mariposa Formation into a nearly vertical position and to fold it in with the older carboniferous sediments.

"In consequence of this pressure these formations have a slaty structure which appears in most cases to coincide with bedding of the formations.

"This epoch was one of intensive eruptive activity and the Calaveras and Mariposa formations were intruded with granitoid and other intrusive rocks.

"The strata of succeeding epochs lie nearly horizontal, or at low angles, and are the result of intense erosion of the High Sierras and the Mother Lode District; and it is probable the district, as we now know it, is from 1000 to 3000 feet lower than it was at the time the uplift was completed.

"The pressure accompanying these uplifts and intense folding metamorphosed the sediments into shales and slates and altered the igneous intrusions to gneiss and schist.

"These same forces caused many rifts, or faults, in the earth's crust approximately perpendicular to the direction of the forces or parallel to the Sierra Nevada Range.

"One belt or system of faults follows very closely a narrow belt of the Mariposa Formation and, in places lies between this formation and other formations. This system of faults is known as the "Mother Lode."

"The strike of the system is predominately north-northwest and south southeast, parallel to the range, and dips about 80 degrees to the east, often to great depths.

"Thermal solutions rising through the formations and along the vicinity further altered them, often changing the basic intrusions into serpentine, the tuffs into amphibolite schists and forming in the Mariposa Formation a potash mica, stained green with chromium, and known as "Mariposite."

"The limestone in the region is usually dolomitic, often containing sufficient iron to stain them brown or black when they are known as "Ankerite." Where there has been considerable movement along the fault planes in the limestone, crushing it and giving free movement to the therma solutions, huge veins of gouge have been formed.

"The thermal solutions were siliceous and formed quartz viens which, due to their greater resistence to erosion, stand out as prominent features of the topography of this belt.

"These quartz outcrops, together with the Serpentine, Gouge, Mariposite nad Amphibolite schists are characteristic of the Mother Lode belt, and its path throughout the district is marked by various combinat ions of these formations.

"The vein of the Verdun mine is in this belt, lying along the footwall of a dia-basic intrusion in the Calaveras formation, close to the Serpentine, with Ankerite and Mariposite outcropping along its strike."

The Company's Shaft.

A few months back the Verdun Mining Co. sunk a shaft—4 feet by 7 feet—which is down about 90 feet, and is located at the intersection of the cross fault and the intrusion of diabase on the footwall side of the Diabasic intrusion.

Mr. J. B. Simmons, Sales Manager for The Verdun Mining and Leasing Co., may be found at 315 Western Mutual Life Building., 3rd and Hill Sts., telephone Pico 1803, and will be pleased to give any information concerning the mine.

It is the purpose of the Company to sell capital stock shares at 10 cents each in blocks of 1000. The Company further proposes to sell only sufficient shares to warrant the purchasing of the necessary machinery for the operation of the mine; and as soon as this amount is realized the sale of stock shall be declared closed. In this way there will only be a limited number ogf shares sold, so don't put off for to-morrow what can be done today, for "bye and bye leads to the town of Nowhere."

In our next issue we shall continue the report of Mr. Sedgwick's findings in this wonderful gold belt.

Rev. H. D. Prowd, Pastor

Though many of our members and children are on the sick list, we had splendid services on Sunday. The Lesson in our Sunday School was very instructive, and Dr. Evans our Superintendent, drove it home in a fine address on the life of Ruth. Our 11:00 o'clock service was attended with evidence of The Master's approval and blessing. The B. Y. P. U. session was ably conducted by the President, Mr. J. E. Prowd, and all present took part in the discussion that followed. The sermon at night was on Service. Dr. Prowd made it quite plain that our religious life must be fruit-bearing. The witness fo the Christian is within, but the evidence of that life must be an outward manifestation in works of charity and holy living. We invite all to come and worship with us. Come praying for a blessing.

H. D. PROWD, Pastor.

The Sunday School was well attended and the morning services were very impressive. The Pastor spoke from the text, "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath annointed me to preach glad tidings to the meek." The audience was good and a visitor from Arkansas City, Kansas was among the many visitors present.

The Endeavor was very interesting and much enthusiasm expressed by those present.

At night the pastor spoke to another mixed audience of creditable size from the text, Look unto me, and be ye saved all the ends of the earth, for I am God, and there are none else.

We are looking for a great co-operation of the different churches in our Grand Rally, May 27th. All come and worship with us.

The splendid crowds which greet this eminent pulpiteer each Sunday continues and gains numerically, as time goes by. The choir gets better with age, and with the fire and vim of youth injected by the spirited leadership of Prof. Howard sings each Sunday into the heart. At the morning services Mr. Brannon of the A. We had healthful services at our church last Sunday. The pastor filled the pulpit morning nad evening. Subject text Sunday morning was "He made us kings and priests." In the evening, "Christian Soldier's Weapons of Defense." An excellent young woman took membership. A young woman of rare attainments. The Sunday School and Y. P. S. C. E. took their places in the day's activities. Our choir under the able leadership of Madame Viola Harris Brandon, deserves much credit in the enthusiasm and inspiration of our services. Last week the Choir gave a creditable entertainment at the Highland Park Christian Church(white.) We had a full house. The auditors were loud in their praise of the entertainment. A healthy donation was given us for our Church. Tuesday evening a unique children's entertainment, "The Crowning of the Queen of May." Mother's Day the Choir has a rare treat for the church and its friends. At four o'clock a "Mother's Day" program will grace the day. All are welcome.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
14th and Birch Street.

The services on last Lord's Day were well attended. We had some visiting friends, and our beloved brother I. J. Williams, who filled the pulpit both in the morning and at night brought to us as usua l 2 very important sermons.

In the morning he brought to us the 4 chapter of St. Luke and the 18th verse. "The spirit of the Lord is upon me because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captive, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised."

And at the 8:00 o'clock hour he brought to us a subject, "I am the resurrection and the life." St. John the 11 Chapter and a part of 25 verse. All who heard these messages were spiritually blessed.

Here is a strong welcome extended to all. Our services for next Lord's day as usual. Bibe School at 9:45 a. m. and at the 11:00 a. m. the ex-Pastor Brother F. C. Cothran will preach. WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
Odd Fellows Hall E. 8th and Wall St.

Last Lord's Day April 29, we had excellent services all day. Rev. Hay spoke for us in the morning. One more came forward and made the good confession making two altogether. They were baptised last Lord's day at 2:00 p. m. at the First Christian Church, 11th and Hope streets.

Rev. F. C. Cothran preached in the evening. He brought us a beautiful message. His subject was the love of God. Text 1 John 3:1. Good audience was present. The seemed to be well pleased. A spirit of Christian friendliness pervaded the Assembly and after the benediction we had a good old hand shake one with another and all seemed to be greatly encouraged and edified.

BEGIN YOUR COURSE NOW

If you'll begin your course today,
Instead of making a long delay,
Begin it willingly, begin it now,
You'll son be the "Man of the hour."

Begin it now and go to the end
It is very easy to comprehend;
Do not say, "There's nothing to do,"
Employment never waits for you.

Never dd a faint-hearted person succeed,
'Tis only the brave that do the deed.
Hearts grow sad for blessings past,
Opportunities do not always last,

There's always a way where there's a will,
And always a positon for you to fill;
Success comes in when fear goes out,
Knowledge dwells where there is no doubt.

The ignorant always has an excuse,
And says, "I'd learn but it ain't no use."
The world wants and works to maintain,
A cunning hand and a cultured brain.

Progressiveness is not "To wait."
"Some future day" may be too late;
Resolve that you'll allow none to do,
Such things that'll make them more than you.

Learn to shorthand and to write,
Learn to play upon the type;
Then from the farm-house to the Senate,
If you are competent, you'll be "in it."

CONCERT DE LUXE

It was an exceptional and varied program that greeted the hearers who perchance took advantage of the opportunity to listen to the concert at Philharmonic Auditorium Monday evening. The First A. M. E. Choirs and friends, under the direction of Prof. Elmer C. Bartlett, offered their third Annual Concert De Luxe.

There was music for everybody as the program proceeded from high opera and classics to what one artist called "Honest to Goodness Jazz." The singing of the Senior Choir was commendable but that of the Junior choir was amazing. With voices tender and sweet, rich and fresh with youth and glee the young choir put exquisite expression and character in their shading and music. One is led to wonder, however, in spite of this most successful effort on their part to render classical music, whether or not they are left with the wrong impression by offering well received jazz as encore numbers. The choruses were good. Serious, with the nobility of sacred an dclassical music, there was richness and definiteness of their chord work, and unity like a single voice. The good sized audience evinced its appreciation by sending were after wave of applause to the singers. Besides the singers must be mentioned the work of some others. Miss Naida McCollough, always delightful, played the Lisst Rhapsody with a flow, the beauty, and, with it, all, the virtuosity of a solo pianist.

The cadets of Capt. Bratton drilled and turned with such precision and grace that applause swept with them at each turn.

Mr. Webb King, a local favorite was a good characterization of Othello. Other features were the Juba Dance by Miss Thompson, arranged by our own Nathaniel Dett and a solo from Le Cid, by Mrs. Emma Smith, whose sweet voice floated to every nook and corner of the vast auditorium.

It was an annual occasion and from the arrangement so as to accommodate everyone it is hoped that such an occasion will become more popular and successful with time.

Balder Fair Sun God Now Resumes His Sway And Mother Nature Greets Him With Smiles

By: WENDELL GLADDEN

Dawn is wakening in the east! It comes forth in all its stately glory and fills the sky with crimson. Gradually like a huge ball of fire, the sun peeps above the horizon and winks at the tinted sky. The herald of the morn proclaims another day.

'Tis Spring!

Flowers everywhere are struggling into shape. Red roses, pink roses, and white ones, too, let their velvet-like lips be kissed by the morning dew. Fields of sleeping poppy awake and open in a flood of beauty. The busy bee sips the nectar from the buttercup. Coquettishly, and with all ts richness, the violet smiles at the sweet daffodil.

Blossoms, beautiful blossoms, are sprinkled here and there among the apple, orange, and peach trees. Above the colorful scenes, sparrows and mocking-birds flutter again, singing as they go.

Spring has come and all the world welcomes it. Bleak December and January are forgotten. The blue of the sea and sky softens the hardest heart. Echoes of laughing childhood relieve the restless soul of its sorrow. The soft murmuring of gentle zephyrs is heard and felt everywhere.

Go out into the lonely hills where mother nature has left her trade-mark. What a wonderful sight! Hills clothed in green; sweeping and swaying fields of golden grain; laborer, idler, dreamer, all working and smiling and singing, while Mother Nature lavishes her blessings upon them all.

Where is he who is not glad to be alive when the Sprng-time comes?

Welcome the Spring!

Bessie Coleman to Appear In Movies.

BESSIE COLEMAN FAMOUS AVIATRIX WILL BE SEEN IN PERSON AND IN MOVIES IN Y. M. C. A. BENEFIT.

Miss Bessie Coleman, our own and only aviatrix, of 4806 Indiana ave, Chicago, Now Convalescing at the home of Mrs. S. E. Jones, 129 W. 57th street, where she has been since her return from St. Catherine's hospital, Santa Monica, where she was taken following her fall at the Municipal field there, on Feb. 4, 1923.

By Wendell P. Gladden, Jr.

Recuperating from injuries sustained in her fall at the Santa Monica Municipal field on February 4, Miss Bessie Coleman, world famous aviatrix, embodiment of grit, determined, symbol of fearlessness, an ardent lover of her race, is now resting at the home of Mrs. S. E. Jones, of this city. Here she has been since she left St. Catherine's hospital in Santa Monica, California, and has made arrangements to show moving pictures of her flights in Europe and America for the benefit of the Ninth Street Branch Y. M. C. A. from May 7 to 12.

The famous flyer will have screened three motion pictures which display her skill and nerve. One of them, a Pathe News Picture, has already been shown in one of the popular show houses of the city. It was taken in Berlin, Germany while she was maneuvering there. She was the only American allowed to fly over Potsdam Platz. This reel shows her before her flight, and also when she was soaring high above the former Kaiser's palace.

On October 14, 1922, she made several exhibition flights during the Tri-State Fair, held in Memphis, Tennessee. There were more than 20,000 Colored people who witnessed her flights on that day. At this fair are representatives from Mississippi, Arkansas, and Tennessee. The head man of the Fair presented her with a beautiful silver loving cup, and the keys.

Her third picture shows her swimming at Santa Monica, also when she was engaged in making a picture for the movies. It shows her starting, and flying, also the 300 feet nose-dive, and the crash.

Miss Coleman finished the picture this week and had among her friends, Mr. Chandler Owen, who will be seen in the last reel. Mr. Owen lectures here on May 7, the same night of the first showing of Miss Coleman's films. He will be present on Tuesday night when he will speak.

One day next week Dick Grace, a stunt flyer, who has been working with Ruth Roland Serial Company, will give exhibitions over a section of the east side, and drop handbills for the purpose of further advertising the pictures at the Y. M. C. A. He has promised to make a personal appearance.

Several weeks ago the aviatrix left the government aviation field at San Diego in a Curtis airplane, landing at Long Beach in two hours. From there she made her way to Santa Monica. Here she was engaged to make pictures. It was feared that her machine was tampered with. She fell during this exhibition, sustaining two broken bones in the left leg and a deep cut on the chin.

While she was convalescing at St. Catherine's hospital she had many visitors, and letters came from admirers and sympathizers. Among them was Miss Pickering of the Amusement Pier of Ocean Park. She made beads from seeds of flowers of the desert, and presented them to the dauntless aviatrix.

Miss Coleman is a member of the International Federation of Aeronauts.

Consequently, she has a license to fly in any country in the world. She made her first trial flight in Canada. She received her instruction abroad from experienced pilots in Amsterdiam, Holland, Berlin, Paris and many other aerial centers. She piloted a Fokker airplane in Amsterdam, and a Benz, of 220 horsepower, which is said to be about the largest airship ever to be piloted by any woman.

Upon her return to the States she was presented with a cup by the Shuffle Along Company, the musical comedy sensation of the East. She has made exhibition flights in many large cities, such as New York, Chicago, Gary, and in Long Island, and Memphis long before she came to the coast.

Miss Coleman earnestly desires to help the members of her race. Especially does she want them to learn to fly. She intends to open an aviation school where all may come and learn to pilot ships of the air. In commenting on her ability to fly and her skill, the French Excelsior of March 7, 1922, had this to say of the young flyer: "Bessie Coleman is the most modern black." It stated further that in attempting to teach other members of her race to fly she would "cause the Negro to change Uncle Tom's cabin into a hangar." Our race is the only race without pilots; and since transportation is so vital in the affairs of a people locally and nationally, none should overlook the value of this means of moving from one place to another and in transporting men and things.

Swimming and billiards are her hobbies, while aviation is her profession. She has the highest respect from aviators of every nationality, has received encouragement from them.

Many important engagements are included in each day's program for the young aviatrix. Among them may be mentioned the recent Tea and Entertainment given her by the Three Arts Club, a large white organization of this city. Miss Coleman was the guest of Madame Goetz on this occasion, and was pleased to listen to a violin number which was composed by a Colored artist in France. Former President Taft's sister is the president of the Club. And then on the 12th of this month, she will be the guest at a luncheon to be given at the Blue Bird Cafe--Hayward Hotel. Another of her social engagements will be at the Philharmonic Auditorium when she will be the guest of the Victory Post of the American Legion.

Miss Coleman is educated, speaks French fluently, and an entertaining conversationalist. Her talk is ever of the race and for the race, which she loves and hopes to do her bit toward its advancement. Los Angeles and the race should not only admire her, but love her and appreciate her efforts along the lines of aviation.

At every showing of her pictures Miss Coleman will be present to speak, and show her interest in the cause of the Y. M. C. A., as she feels a deep interest in young men and boys. The writer, therefore, solicits the hearty support of the public in this affair and a never-dying concern for our own and only world famous aviatrix, Bessie Coleman.

CUB CAPER

With the coming of Spring and the awakening of the homones in the system, the Southern Branch compus takes on the aspect of Noah's Ark. No longer does the solitary male amble northsouth while the co-ed trips eastwest. In the library, on the grass, down the walks, some of our most prominent citizens, who once walked alone, are now making themselves at home by taking the line of least resistence.

The passing of the mid-term exams, with their disillusionments, disappointments and revivifying of hopes, joins with the passing of the Branch's first inter-collegiate boxing season. Jefferson Brown, featherweight champion has left a standard for all future featherweights to follow.

Among the first to announce the call to spring football practice, we find the name of Bill Stovall.

Everyone is happy out here in Hollywood. Far from the strife and dust of the marts of trade we bask in the tranquil calcium glare of the motion picture industry.

There's a goof out here so dumbfounded that he thinks Watts is the home of the Edison Company.

The Northern Bear who got so heavy down here (not from malnutrition) leaves a wicked influence concerning which part of the Univerasity knows.

Which goes to show that he does'nt only box.

We, the undersigned students of U. S. C. demand that such songs as "Aggravatin Papa" be suppressed along with women's athletics. They're getting too doggone self-sufficient.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By William Narcisse.

The Southern California Interscholastic track meet was annexed by Hollywood High School, last Saturday at Santa Aana. The Movie City lads won with 25 1-2 points, also being closely pressed by Huntington eBach, last years' champions, who finished with 22 1-2 markers. It was in this meet, that the race lads played a great part. First honors should go to Archie Woodyard, of Jefferson High School, who was barely nosed out in the century by Smith of San Fernando for first place, and who captured the 220 yd. dash in the record eqqualling time of 22 1-5 seconds. This record was established by Paddock, when he attended Pasadena High School, in 1917. Smith was counted on by many to win the 220, but Woodyard stepped out and trimmed him in good fashion.

Hurlic of Pasadena, placed fifth in the 100 yd. dash, and ran a very fast lap in the relay, giving his team a lead. Whizzar, his team mate also ran a lap in the relay that was far from slow. Pasadena maintained the lead to the finish of the event, equalling their time of 1 min. 32 sec. made last week in the heats.

Duncan ran the first lap in the relay for Lincoln finishing about fifth. Hurd who ran the second lap took the baton and dashed after the fast disappearing runners and overhauled all save one, by this pretty piece of speed work Lincoln finished second.

Brothers of Manual by his fast lap, was responsible for his team placing third. All othletes taking third or better, are qualified to compete in the State meet which will be held at Occidental College, May 12. This meet will take in all of the high schools in the state, while the Southern California only took in those south of the Techachapi Mts.

Hollywood is favroed to repeat its tactics in this meet, if they succeed in doing so, they will have repeated Lincoln's stunt in 1921, when they won the city, Southern California and State meets. While all this excitement among track fans was going on out here, Oakland got third in the city meet, held htere last Saturday. Mitchell Walker, race man of Oakland High, won both the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, he negotiated the former in 10 sec. and the latter in 22 3-5 ec.

SON GOODRICH AND VIC ALEXANDER DRAW IN MAIN EVENT AT GARDEN

Ted Frenchie Gets Decision Over Mack House

Despite the handicap of weight, Sunny Goodrich, popular middleweight fought his way to a draw with Victor Anlexander in the Main event at Madison Square Wednesday night. The first two rounds looked like Sunny's, and the third seemed to be his by a shade, but the judges disagreed, and the referee called the fray a darw. Both boys fought hard, getting in telling blows, though Son was the faster, making Vic miss often. This fellow Goodrich has a terrific wallop, and it takes a mighty good man to stand up under those heavy body blows. The popular opinion was that the middleweight fighter deserved the decision.

Mack House vs Ted Frenchie—This affair was another main event, with two of the best local battlers mixing it. The first two rounds were about even. In the next Ted made Mack miss some staggering blows; and Mack's with his quick work in the clinches and when Frenchie waded in, showed effect. But Mack seemed to weaken a little in the last frame, thereby giving Frenchie the decision, which was indeed very slight. They appeared to be in the best condition.

Speedy, clever Young Sam Langford got in an early lead over Lightning Davis, in the lightweight encounter. Davis was just a little slow getting started, but after the second round his in-fighting coupled with his speed, evened matters. The fourth was fast and furious, with Davis fighting hard, but Sam managed to keep out of any serious danger. Davis earned his way to a draw.

Ernie Owens got the verdict over Eddie Morton. Owens carries a terrible right, which he knows how to use. It told too, in the first round when he scored a knockdown over Eddie. But Morton was up again, only to meet some more heavy punching to the head and face. Eddie worked hard and fast too, and proved to be a very game man, he also got in many good blows over his opponent. Morton improves with each fight. He had a hard boy in Owens to beat, who won over Sailor Smith.

Diamond Dick had a set-up in meeting the Boy.

Sailor Pressly had the shade over One-Round Norman in the early rounds, but did not seem to have the necessary punch to put his man out. Norman worked well, and stayed the four with the sailor. Both men weakened in the last.

Sailor Larry meets Ernie Owens in the main event next week, it was announced.

GRAND TRIP-TO-THE-HOLY-LAND CONTEST

GORGEOUS UNEQUALED IN THE HISTORY OF NEGRO BUSINESS SU...

A Veritable Give-away to the Winners

Most every one who has read the Bible and learned of the magnificence and enchanting lore of Palestine has had a strong wish to go there. Great has been the desire to see the land where Christ lived. No Bible student has felt his education complete without walking among the splendors of Jerusalem, viewing the spots where Christ was born, was crucified, was buried and ascended into Heaven. Great has been their yearning to visit the Holy Land. No church official has felt he could not better serve his people if he could tread that Holy Ground. But such a trip is expensive, exceedingly so, and ordinarily quite beyond the immediate reach of many. This fact alone has caused despair to overcome desires. Many hopes of ever seeing this biblically historical land have been abandoned.

BUT LISTEN!

Your dream, your wish, and your long, long yearning—a trip to Palestine—is within YOUR easy reach, sight of much you've read about, the revelation of all the Holy Land, the Bible in all its parts, is yours if you would have it.

WOULD YOU GO THERE?

Would you make this trip free of all cost, as our guest and for but very little effort from you. Think of it, to Palestine, the Holy Land, ten thousand miles free of charge, would you go?

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Gray.

One of the many great advantages that the city schools offer here to the youths of the race is the orchestra. From the elementary schools up to the end o fthe high schools there are many opportunities for the boy and girl of the race to take part in them and to receive a wonderful training in orchestral routine. The value of this training cannot be appreciated by these youngsters until they have grown up. If we ever expect to have an orchestra here we must look to the school-trained players for the personnel. The association of many young minds with new and advanced ideas will produce results that are obtainable in noother way.

Yet our boys and gilrs do not take full advantage of these wonderful opportunities in the way they should. In fact they take little interest in any of their advantages. When they wake up it is too late. It will behoove our parents to encourage their boys and girls to study and grasp everything that comes their way. It will be too late when these opportunities are withdrawn.

If we are recognized at all by other races it is certainly through music. Music and the Negro are synonomous and through music we are able to command the attention of any group within any race. Do we realize our power? Are we developing our talent and gifts?

Let every man and woman, every boy and girl ask himself this question: What am I doing to encourage and aid the talent that I find among my people and if I fail to do my share now what loss will be evident ten years from today?

Our boys and girls should be taught to love and appreciate the spiritual and frown upon the manner in which they are being rendered. This music is very serious and dignified and is often sung in a manner that provokes laughter. This is not only bad taste but is very detrimental to the future success of the music of our race.

And the principal thought that must occupy the minds of our boys and girls is this: The development and perpetuation of Negro music is almost entirely dependent upon the Negro musician. Each student of music must contribute his little mite in the building up of one of the most virile and valuable forms of art, viz., The music of the Negro. The schools here are offering opportunity and instruction that cannot be understood. Boys and girls, you must grasp these opportunities.

Let me do my work today—

Who bring on bitter strife;
Work of worth with plow or pen,
That gives new hope and life.

Let me do my work today—

OWEN GETS GREA ON HIS ARRIVAL

CHANDLER OWEN HONORED

On Wednesday morning, May 2nd the Board of Directors of the Eastside Mothers Club gave an 11:00 o'clock breakfast complimentary to Mr. Chandler Owen, the brilliant and nationally known editor of the "Messenger," at the Eastside Mothers' Home, on East 22nd Street.

The table was exquisitely decorated with Cecile Brunner roses, and covers were laid for about sixteen. A most tempting collation was served.

Mrs. Eva Carter Buckner, on behalf of 55th street. $23 per month, water a splendid bouquet of flowers. In this gracefully phrased speech of acceptance, Mr. Owen expressed his appreciation for the courtesies extended him, and paid eloquent tribute to the Eastside Mothers Club, its personnel, and the splendid work it is doing in this community.

Attorney W. O. Tyler, Mr. S. P. Johnson, of Conner-Johnson Company, Mr. T. A. Cole, and Editor J. B. Bass, of the California Eagle, made brief remarks which were well received.

Mrs. Edwards outlined, in a most concise and effective manner, the purpose and aims of the Club, of which she is President. Supplementary remarks were heard from Mesdames T. A. Cole and Morgan Robinson.

Mrs. Minnie Davis was Chairman of the Committee on arrangements, and to the skilful management of that committee was due the unqualified success of one of the most delightful social affairs of the season.

Mr. Owen is in the West on an extended lecture tour and will be in Los Angeles some days. He is to speak at Labor Temple Auditorium, Monday evening, May 7th, under the auspices of the Eastside Mothers Club.

ENTERPRISING BROADWAY MERCHANTS BID FOR OUR TRADE.

For twenty-five years the Western Department Store (long known as the Western Shoe Store) has been pre-eminent among the shoe merchants of Los Angeles, in offering to the public high-class foot-wear at rock bottom prices.

And such was the growth and popularity of the "Western" in this line of commercial endeavor that two years ago other lines of merchandise were added, in response to clamorous public demand, and the Western became a general dry goods store.

A stranger arriving in Los Angeles now, after two years' absence, and visiting the old Western, would be amazed at the changes that time and progressive enterprise have wrought. In greatly enlarged quarters, a small army of clerks serve a responsive and satisfied public with high class goods at bargain prices. The Western has eight men in the Eastern market buying for the Los Angeles Public, and when the Hill Street tunnel is completed, this store looks forward with certainty to further expansion.

The Western bids for the Colored trade. It advertises in this paper. Read and see for yourself, Mr. and Mrs. Buyer, that it pays to "patronize those who patronize us."

NOTICE!

L. C. PRIGGETT HURT IN FALL

POPULAR VAUDEVILLE ARTIST

L. C. Priggett, known as "Diamond Slim" and the "Caesar of the South," was severely injured when he fell some six feet to a cement floor, while doing a vaudeville turn at the Side Circus on South Main street, on April 26th. He was filling an engagement with the "Hawaiian Girls" at this popular playhouse, when the accident occurred.

Mr. Priggett was hurried to the receiving hospital immediately after the accident, where it was found he had sustained internal injuries, in addition to a badly sprained arm.

Later he was removed to the Sheridan Hotel, 8th and Central avenue, where he is stopping. He is now being attended by Dr. Leonard Stovall. The physician states that it will be several weeks before Mr. Priggett will be able to resume his theatrical activities.

Mr. Pirggett, meanwhile, will be pleased to see friends and acquaintances at the Sheridan Hotel.

POLITICAL POT PIE

We have articles from several Political Clubs for this issue, however all of them reached us too late for publication.

Lost Strayed or Stolen—Mr. Wood Wilson, king of the motor bus brigade and his assistants Mrs. E. Cassells and Col. C. H. Alston. The last report we had from them they were making a trip up Salt Creek.

Of course it is gratifying to the Soaring Eagle to note the universal confidence in our stand on the Jitney and Motor Bus proposition as demonstrated by the people when they went to the Polls on last Tuesday.

About all that was accomplished by some of the candidates for Council from among our group, was to create enough division to prevent anybody from being nominated at all. And probably that was their objective in the first place.

Wallace G. Oaks made a splendid as well as a winning race for the City Council, and must be reckoned with in the finals.

H. Z. Osborne, Jr. has no regrets, feels that he performed his highest duty and thanks his friends who stood by him so loyally.

Mayor George Cryer proved a sensation in the primary, and he not only received the highest indorsement of the people, but appears on the horizon as a political force for any position in the gift of the people.

The primary has taken all of the PEP out of the general election and it is surmised that the June election will be a tame affair.

W. H. Sanders (Pop) is due to bring out his little red wagon and lead the victory parade.

Say what you will the Citizens Civic League made good handling the Cryer Campaign.

MME. BRANDON SCORES AGAIN

The Spirited Harmonious Quartette of Mme. Viola Harris Brandon entertained one of Los Angeles prominent Civic Clubs, April 26, with a high class program that was enthusiastically received.

Don't Mess with this Date! Oh boy! That Sport Clothes Dance is going to be hot. Don't miss it! Monday Nite, May 14th, Arion Hall.

GROUP MUST HELP ITSELF.

If the Negroes of Los Angeles ever expect to secure just recognition, they must certainly get out of the old rut of waiting for somebody to give them something. In other words, they must stand up, and use their fullest resources to procure something for themselves. The recent primary vote demonstrated the fact that less than twenty percent of the voting population of our group availed themselves of their franchise to vote. Had they done so, there would have been no question of the nomination of Titus Alexander by an overwhelming vote. We could name various precincts where, to our own personal knowledge, hundreds of voters reside; and yet at Tuesday's election, in these very same precincts, they absolutely went to sleep on their rights, and lost the opportunity to nominate Mr. Alexander.

Therefore, it is apparent that we have nobody to blame except ourselves. To get anywhere along the line of political effort, we must certainly learn the lesson of helping ourselves.

NORTH VS. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The failure of the present legislature to enact laws apportioning the state into assembly and senatorial districts, as provided for in the constitution of the United States, is indeed a sad commentary upon the law-makers of this State. In other words, it sems as though the northern section of California has entered into a conspiracy to rob the southern section or Los Angeles, of its just dues. Los Angeles cannot help it, because she has that magnetism which is drawing to this section thousands upon thousands of citizens from all parts of the United States, to make their homes within these portals; and the constitution of the United provides that representation shall be granted according to the population, and if a legislature fails to obey the constitution, what is to be expected of the ordinary man or woman?

Disrespect for the constitution and the laws of the land is what brings about confusion and crime. Therefore the present legislature may temporarily succeed in thwarting the constitution, but in doing so, they will bring down upon their heads the condemnation and just criticism of all people who stand for justice, for law, and for order.

It may eventually rejuvenate the movement for a separation of the state, and then Northern California can look over the fence at the Tehachapi Mountains, and watch Los Angeles and Southern California grow.

HARVARD'S TWEEDLEDEE-TWEEDLEDUM!

Most of the Negro editors have been jubilant over Harvard's latest announcement on the Negro question. Almost without exception they express themselves as quite satisfied. We cannot bring ourselves to this position. In fact, a careful reading of the opinion issued by the Board of Overseers will reveal little of any difference between the policies of the Board and President Lowell. It is just a twist of words—a pretty good piece of verbal fiddlesticks.

For instnace, after stating that "Harvard would not surrender its traditional ideals," it goes on to state:

"Immediately after the overseers had approved the policy of non-discrimination, they adopted another motion to the effect that freshmen shall be required to live in the freshmen dormitories, and stipulating expressly that men of the white and colored races shall not be compelled to live and eat together, but that no man shall be excluded by reason of his color."

What does Harvard's Board mean by saying "freshmen shall be required to live in the freshman dormitories, but men of the white and colored races shall not be compelled to live together?" They have never been compelled to live together in the same rooms. Neither are white students compelled to accept roommates against their will. All that was ever required was that the men should live in the freshmen dormitories, in rooms with walls between them.

And pray! what is meant by saying "colored and white students in the university shall not be required to eat together—but that no man shall be excluded by reason of his color?" Here we are on slippery ground. It is a mystery how attendance in the dormitories and dining room can be compulsory, yet the students are not compelled to live and eat together, and no man be excluded by reason of his color."

Now either the white and colored students must be compelled to eat together or the Negro students must be discriminated against. No two things can both be "is" and "ain't" at the same time. If the white and colored students do not eat together, where will the colored men eat? Does Harvard anticipate a separate dining room or an "ordinary" for the colored men? Or does Harvard intend to have a separate dining room for the white Southerners who do not care to eat in the dining room with Negroes?

Then, too, how will Harvard determine what white students are opposed to eating with the colored ones? Will she send around a questionaire? And doesn't she know that such action will arouse nd stimulate race prejudice where none now exists? Or will make the fires burst through where now they are only smoldering?

As we are able to see thru it, the Board of Overseers has simply made an adroit play upon words. It is Harvard's tweedle-dee and tweedle-dum on the Negro question. It is a slight-of-hand on words. In very truth, it is a "Trojan Horse."

Before getting too jubilant, our Negro journalists should probe into this newly stated policy of Harvard. It may prove to be the same old horse just dressed up in new livery. Let us await Harvard's practical application of this "dis crimination non-discrimination' policy—this exclusion -non-exclusion rule.

Our candid opinion is that the Board of Overseers holds the same position President Lowell expressed. The chief difference is that Lowell was brutally frank while the board is running, true to form, with Anglo-Saxon hypocrisy. Yes, that's the difference!

THE BYSTANDER

Charlie West of Washington and Jefferson College, Hubbard of Michigan and Woodyard of Jefferson High School make us feel justly proud of the young manhood of our race.

Charlie West by his prowess and skill won the coveted pentathlon at the celebration Penn Relays last week. This brings to him and to the race the honor of the greatest all-round athlete in the land. Three cheers for Charlie! Some will remember him as a member of the celebrated Washington and Jefferson football team that played the "wonder eleven" California, to a tie game in Pasadena. Hubbard of Michigan on the same occasion won his event in mastery style.

Mr. Woodyard a local member of our tribe simply ran all over the field last Saturday and equalled the record of the "fastest human," Charlie Paddock, in the 220 yd. dash. An Eastern, Middle-West and Western boy in each case demonstrates the fact that with fair competition and no favors our men will break even or outstrip the best.

Tuskegee Hospital.

Our good friend, brother Moton, seems to be between the devil and the deep blue sea down in old Alabama. The much heralded Memorial Hospital, that was supposed to bring to the city beauty nad splendor, has afforded much room and opportunity for ris-appointment and grief. The possibilities are that here we will have a hospital for colored only, to be received from every nook and corner of our globe. The biggest split however is over the administration of affairs. Bobert Russa in his modest manner plead for colored. The Governor of Alabama and other Dixie supporters say "It must not be." They have got the old boy at last. And in our sublimest moment we who wonder at the policy of the way of least resistence are justified in asking "What does a man gain when he compromises with the South and loses his man hood and soul." If the adherents of pacificism wish to uphold the law of peace and quietude, and dropping your bucket where you are they had best stand by the Russa brigade.

Historic Eighth and Towne Avenue Church will be the scene of an intellectual repast next Friday evening. The select of our various High Schools will entertain us with declamations selected from famous speakers. Everyone loves good speaking, and it is safe to conjecture that with the formidable array of talent listed from the High Schools Clay and Webster will rue the day they ever spoke. Here is an opportunity to see and hear what high school training is doing for our young people. It is a noteworthy occasion and every citizen of color ought to be on hand to witness this battle of intellects.

BRAIN NOT SOLE SEAT OF MIND

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc. M. D.
1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

When I present newly discovered facts about the brain, do not misunderstand me and continue to think, as many persons do, that the brain is the same as the mind. The mind pervades the whole human being. The brain is only a small part of it—a structure used by man to co-ordinate and to switch reality seen, felt or perceived on the outside from the senses to the muscles and elsewhere.

The fissures of the brain are held by some physiologists to be the result of limited cranial capacity. Just as Queen Dido succeeded in enclosing an immense area in a small sheet by cutting it into strips, so the surface of a sooth orange is necessarily smaller than a rough, corrugated "hill and valley" one of the same diameter.

The increased need of space in the animal skull without a corresponding increase of the bony dome is met by unfoldings and repuplications, hollows and hillocks in the fibres and cells of the gray matter. It is an egotistic guess unsupported by the facts to maintain that intelligence, knowledge and genius make for a greater number of convolutions in the brain.

Professor G. Jefferson in his latest researches has shown and has been confirmed by all who have repeated his experiences, that the furrows of the brain are nothing more than architectural changes that make for more space. Dr. Zeliony, of Paris, kept dogs alive without brains from 11 to 16 months. Men have lived for hours and days after battles of the last war with practically no brains.

And while Professor Zeliony kept his dogs without brains alive for nearly two yars, he was able to prove by experiments that they could learn, hear, distinguish different sounds and tastes and recognize the difference between different colors and lights. These and many other experiments in the last nine or ten years show how little the brain really affects the capability of man and of animals.

When you recollect that the brain is analogous to a three-way electric switch or a telephone central station, it might be expected that the animals born with brains to hold fast the various complicated parts of the anatomy might not live one day, much less months, after their brains were removed. Furthermore, it would seem logical to suppose that even if they did continue to live that they might be unable even to see, much less remember, perceive, decide between pleasant and unpleasant things, recognize friends and foes and perform tricks and voluntary movements.

Finally, if those persons who still believe that the mind and the soul reside in the brain care to be overwhelmed with the new experiments, observations and facts to the contrary, I beg to refer them to the mighty array of research workers, physiologists and experimental psychologists, to wit, Professor John B. Watson, of John Hopkins University; Dr. Shepherd Ivory Franz, of the Government Hospital for the Insame; Dr. P. Korundgy of France; Dr. G. Mengazzini, Dr. A. Pick, of Prague, Bohemia, and a host of others in all countries. They are painstaking, hard-working investigators of science.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addersed velope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 E. 9th Street. DELAYED NEWS

ALPHA PHI ALPHA T OTHE FRON ALPHA PHI ALPHA TO THE FRONT

Local Chapter Will Conduct "Educational Campaign," Movement is National in Its Scope.

There is a movement being carried on throughout the nation known as the "Go To High School—Go To College" Compaign It is being conducted by the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the first and strongest of Negro College Fraternities, having chapters in forty-four of the largest Universities and Colleges in America. The drive is an annual event with Alpha men and is an attempt to arouse the general interest of the colored youth of the country to "Get an Education—Stay in School."

It is unnecessary to dwell at length on the importance of such a measure; the need is evident when one measures the conditions that constantly confront our people. Only thru such a medium will we be able to cope impressively with the ungodly situations to which we are to often forced to submit ourselves.

The local chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha, known as the Alpha Delta Chapter, and having its seat at the University of Southern California, will take its place in promoting the spirit of the general organization, by holding its Educational Campaign from Sunday, April 29th to Sunday, May 13th. Following is a schedule of the meetings:

Sunday, April 29th, our national Educational Sunday, will be called by two big meetings. In the morning the chapter will conduct its first meeting at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, on 35th Place and Denker St. Dr. John H. Montgomery, the registar of the University of Southern California will be the principal speaker.

In the evening an unusual program will be presented at the A. M. E. Church, 8th and Towne Avenue. At this meeting the Chapter will present Dr. R. B. Von Kleinsmid, the President of the University of Southern California, who will deliver a forceful message that should be of interest to all. A splendid musical program will accompany the address.

Friday, May 4th, will find the Fraternity holding a meeting for girls at the Y. W. C. A.

On Sunday, May 6th a most unique meeting will take place at the Forum, on 8th and Wall streets, in the form of a Symposium. A number of noted educators will discuss the main subject: "Educational advantages" followed by a musical program and an open discussion.

An Educational Fete will be given for all high scholo and college students, on Sunday afternoon, May 13th, at four o'clock in the Parish Hall of the St. Philips Episcopal Church. Dr. H. J. Stomer, executive secretary to the President of U. S. C., and a most able orator, has been secured to address the students.

In the evening of this day, the campaign will be brought to a close at a meeting at the A. M. E. Church of Pasadena.

In conjunction with the campaign, an Essay Contest will be held, open to students of high school grade.

The subject will be "What Education has done for the Negro." There is a limit of 500 words and all essays must be in by Wadnesday, May 9th. A prize of five dollars will be awarded the winner and the winning essay read by the contributor, at the Educational Fete, May 13th.

The committee in charge of the Educational Campaign, is made up of the following men: Malcolm H. Patton, Jr. Chairman, Dr. T. A. Greene; Arthur Prince; Samuel B. Danley, Jr., and J. Ivan Johnson III. James McGregor President of Alpha Delta Chapter and National Vice-President of Alpha Phi Alpha, is one of the national directors of the Drive. These men appeal to every right-thinking person to lend support to the carrying on of a much needed work, prompted and guided by a spirit of loyal service, the spirit for which Alpha Phi Alpha stands.

WINS MUSICAL RECOGNITION

Adolphus Webb, Los Angeles student at Pacific Uuion College and member of the College Glee Club which at present is touring the northern part of the State, won exceptional recognition as tenor soloist in a recent program that the Glee Club gave before the critical musical audience of the Tuesday Club of Sacramento.

Th music critic for the Sacramento Union gave the out standing commendation to Mr. Webb. In his "write up" he made this statement: "Adolphus Webb has a tenor voice of quality. 'Duna,' by McGill, was one of the best numbers he sang."

When such a statement as the above comes from the pen of the uncompromising music judge for the Sacramento Union, one cannot fail to note that Mr. Webb has received signal distinction, and that he is a singer far above the average.

Mr. Webb was formerly a student of the well-known Carl Bronson of Los Angeles. At present he is specializing in music at Pacific Union College. This is his junior year in the Music Department.

NOTED SPEAKER AT EAST 36TH STREET CHURCH

Pastor Green of Washington, D. C., will lecture at the East 36th Street Church next Sunday evening. Pastor Green is at present making his semi-annual coast-to-coast tour of the states in the interest of the Lord's wrok. He will, after speaking in Los Angeles Sunday night, leave immediately for San Diego where he is to conduct a revival.

At 7:45 a spiritual song service will be conducted before the evening's discourse. The song service will be interspersed with solos.

POLO NEGRI

love affair of a white woman with a black man.

Ye Gods!

Is it conceivable that such a play could be presented in the Old South?

Worse than that, open insult follows rapidly on the heels of displayed immorality.

This bulletin is flashed on the screen. Read, white sons of the South—read it and reflect. Read it, again and again, and see to what revolting depths the depraved Jews have dragged the moving picturs:

"WHITE SKINNED LADIES WILL FLIRT WITH BROWN SKINNED MEN WHEN THEIR HUSBANDS ARE AWAY."—Pola

the screen in the leading theatre in the city of Houston. So help me God, that foul and blasphemous lie was sent over America by the depraved and conscienceless Jews of Hollywood.

Where are the thunderbolts of Jove?

Where is the manhood of the Old South?

The South has never been safe from the negro rape fiend. We have hung them by their necks, we have burned them at the stake, and still no woman is safe beyond the range of her husband's rifle.

Conditions have ever been deplorable in the South, watch as we would, along this line, and now comes the Jewish propaganda that, "White skinned ladies will flirt with brown skinned men when their husbands are away."

That brutal lie and that dirty play will lead more negroes to the funeral pyre than all of the other influences that ever combined to lure the black man to death for ravishing.

That dirty lie will play upon the lips of ten thousand negroes now dreaming of social equality; that dirty play will stir up more turmoil and strife than all the influences of rabid negro papers ever published in the history of America.

At this time when the colored man is chafing under the lash of incendiary writers, goading him to impossible dreams of social equality, Pola Negri's dirty play will lure him to extremes that lead but to the tomb.

And that is but the beginning of the Jewish assault upon social equality. They hate the Ku Klux Klan; they have no interest in nor love for the Gentile race, and the batteries of their tremendous power are turned on social equality. They think, in their money-crazed lunacy, that they can get away with it. They will send out kindred pictures to Pola Negri's bestial act. They will have white men wildly infatuated with saddle-colored women; they will do anything under God Almighty's sun to degrade the Protestant people.

Pola Negri's play was barred from Houston and Mayor Holcombe overrode his censor board and permitted it to be shown here.

It is the story of a white woman who falls in love with an Egyptian coon, and is despoiled by him in his tent, and then goes madly in love with him, meets him nightly, and to make the picture more hellish, if that were possible, the white woman is spurned and kicked by the coon, while she swoons pleading at his feet.

Pictures of that kind are going to cause more bloodshed in the South than flowed during the Civil war.

The manhood of the South will not stand for such stuff.

It is a specie of propaganda that must and will be stopped RIGHT NOW.

There is a line beyond which the propaganda of the depraved Kike can never pass, with all of his power and wealth.

Those pictures shall not be shown in the South.—Col. Mayfield in "Colonel Mayfield's Weekly," Houston, Texas, Sat., April 14, 1923.

"THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YE FREE!"

The supreme ignorance of the white mob of the South, is positively pathetic, as is discerned from the article entitled "Pola Negri's Dirty Play," from the "Mayfield Weekly," edited and published by a Colonel Mayfield, at Houston, Texas, when it, in most un-American fashion, attacks Pola Negri, the beautiful Polish star, who dared to portray in moving pictures an American-behind-the-scene act that has gone on, unhampered, for nearly three hundred years.

"Ye Gods!" says Ye Editor Mayfield, "Is it conceivable In answer to this query, we say That this editor and his In answer to this query, we sy: That this editor and his ilk in the dear old South, should have been perturbed over this black and white illicit love-making in the dark days of slavery, when they so lowered their white manhood as to become fathers of illegitimate families, by their dark-skinned slaves, who, it is said by those who experienced and suffered, obeyed the master's wishes in these matters, to the tune of the lash and became the progenitors of a mixture of half-white and half-black chattels for the slave market.

And now, Mr. White Ku Klux, we would advise that you make a very quiet investigation and find out who were the real aggressors in the case of this "WHITE-SKINNED LADIES WILL FLIRT WITH BROWN-SKINNED MEN WHEN THEIR HUSBANDS ARE AWAY"—Pola Negri in "Bella Donna." And we believe that your dark eyes, imbedded in your white skin, will celebrate a grand opening on this subject that is causing you such great anxiety—and "the truth shall make ye free!"—C. A. B.

L. A. Negroes Nominated Klansman

POLITICAL MISLEADERS SHOULD BE POLITICALLY ASSASSINATED

HERE is a fac-simile of the Application made by RALPH L. CRISWELL to join the KU KLUX KLAN. It was discovered by the District Attorney in his raid on Klan headquarters last year, and published in the Los Angeles Times, June 6th, 1922. Mr. Criswell at first denied making the application, but afterwards admitted that he had done so.

In the recent Primary Election MR. CRISWELL RECEIVED MORE COLORED VOTES for Councilmanic honors than any other white candidate; (Can you believe it?) while men like WHEELER, SPARKS and MUSHET, who fought the KLAN and made it unlawful for them to appear disguised in public places, received little consideration from the Colored voters.

This is why they say the Negro is politically "BLIND IN ONE EYE and CAN'T SEE OUT OF THE OTHER."

OLD HOME TOWN HONONS EDITOR OF EAGLE

On the occasion of our recent visit to Helena, Mont., from which place we came to California in 1911; the following clipping from the Enterprise of Seattle, Wash., gives the following account:

The citizens of Helena turned out en mass Monday night to greet their former citizen, J. B. Bass, editor of the California Eagle.

For several years Mr. Bass owned and managed the Plain Dealer of this city. This is his first visit here since going to California nearly twelve years ago. J. A. Callender presided at the meeting, which was held in St. James A. M. E. Church, and opened with an instrumental solo by Mrs. M. A. Lowery, followed by an address on journalism by Rev. George S. Allen. Mr. Edward Miller, bass soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. George M. Lee and Mrs. J. D. Hart, presidents of the Pleasant Hour and the M. B. T. Art Clubs, respectively, welcomed the distinguished visitor in behalf of the women of the city, Mrs. Hart presenting him a picture and journal of the State Federation. Following a solo rendered by Miss Elenora Anderson, accompanied by Mrs. Lowery, J. E. W. Clarke read a poem entitled, "Central Avenue," the Negro business street of Los Angeles. The chairman of the meeting then, in his usual inimitable manner, presented Mr. Bass, who held the gathering in rapt attention for one hour while he painted a glowing picture of the inviting possibilities of California. He told of the steady stream of Colored people daily arriving from the South and Oklahoma, of the religious, business, political, professional and civic life of the Negro in his state. He enlarged upon the agricultural possibilities and inducements awaiting producers to extract from the rich soil the product of nature to feed the millions in other industries. Light refreshments were servd by the ladies in the lecture room. Mr. Bass left Wednesday for Colorado and Kansas.

14TH SCHOTOL AUDITORIUM IS PACKED TO OVERFLOW

Congressman Dyer, author of the famous Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill, which measure passed the House of Representatives but failed in the Senate and which bill the colored people, along with all fair minded persons of the white race rae insisting must be passed as a simple matter of justice and redemption of the Nation from the shame and disgrace of mob law.

The distinguished Congressman was met at the Ambassador Hotel by officers of the N. A. A. C. P. At the corner of 8th and Central avenue, they halted and were snapped by the Eagle photographer, and were joined by an escort of honor, the uniformed rank of K. P.'s, commanded by Captain Leo and headed by the Los Angeles Progressive Band.

Arriving at the school house, escorted by president J. C. Banks, E. Burton Ceruti and a guard of honor, through open ranks the party entered the large auditorium which was packed and jammed to the utmost. Thousands were turned away. President Banks called the big meeting to order after an anthem by St. Phillips C. M. E. Church choir. Invocation was offered by Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of the Hamilton M. E. Church. The audience then stood and sang "America." The president then turned the meeting over to Atty. W. O. Tyler to lift the collection which amounted to $237.00.

Prof. J. C. Banks then, in a brief but masterful, manner, introduced the distinguished statesman and humanitarian, who came forward and straightway waded into the address which pleased evreybody who heard it. The speaker did not mince words but struck a responsive chord when he told his hearers where the fault lay in the failure of the United States Senate to pass the Dyer Bill.

Republican Party to Blame. Senator Johnson nad Shortridge Responsible

He did not hesitate when he put the blame for the failure of the passage of the Dyer Bill upon the Republican party and included therein the senators from California, Johnson and Shortridge. Later on in his address for fear there might be a misunderstanding or misinterpretation of what he said, he reiterated his former statement and said, "You can tell the senators that I came here and said that they, Senators Johnson and Shortridge, were responsible for the defeat of the Dyer Bill."

The Congressman admonished the preachers of the race to get right with GOD and get together for the uplift of the race. This sally brought forth tremendous paplause.

Told President Harding

He related that before he left Washington he called on our president and in the course fo conversation, the President told him that he was planning a trip through the country in behalf of International Justice. He said that he told the President that he wished him well, and he was also planning a trip but that his trip was to be in behalf of Justice for America. This brought forth thunderous applause.

Hits African Grafters

The Congressman related an incident of colored promoters calling on him to interest him in fathering a bill for the colored people of America it was a waste of time, that when the English would want to go back to England, the rish to Ireland, the Germans to Germany, the Italians to Italy, etc., then maybe the colored people of America would be justified in starting a movement—Back to Africa.

He made a powerful appeal for members for the N. A. A. C. P. and as a result thereof the organization, we are certain, must have gained several hundred new members.

It was a wonderful meeting and everybody who attended was pleased to the utmost. The Congressman left Monday for the North where he will speak in variuos places under the auspices of the local branches of the N. A. A. C. P.

COMMENTS

By W. J. Wheaton.

The Mark of the Beast—

We received a letter from a friend who lives in the State of Montana. He is a cattle raiser, and told us that a band of wolves payed havoc among the young of his herd this season.

He has succeeded by the use of poison and strenuous hunting to kill off the most of the band, but not before they had caused him great loss financially.

Those wolves were hungry; their destructiveness was not wanton; they killed and satisfied their hunger. They did not kill for sport, neither did they kill for hate. The color of the steer or calf was nothing to them; they killed for hunger.

A pack of human wolves, not urged by the pangs of hunger, but by hate of color, and disregard of the law, descended on a black man, "who it is alleged" attempted to assault a young girl, who belongs to the race termed white, and without due process of law took his life.

The El Paso Times, published in El Paso, Texas, has large head lines, stating that the Co-Eds of Columbia. The University of Missouri were among the number of women who cheered on the Lynchers.

So much for the higher education in Missouri.

The ranchman in Montana exterminated the band of wolves that killed for hunger. Will the Guardians of the Law, who represent the State of Missouri prosecute the human wolves who killed for lust of blood, and hate?

—The Marathon Dancing Craze—

Some young men and women have been acquiring records for dancing. That is to determine which could drag their weary legs around a hall the greatest number of hours without stopping. When it is over, what does it amount to? Have they contributed one thing to human development, or added one mite to the happiness of the world?

Dancing as a recreation contributes to the enjoyment, but it is the apex of silliness to see a young woman half asleep, her feet dragging, and being groomed in public like a race horse, taxing her strength and stamina, for what?

They say that the Japanese breed a species of mice with brain that is abnormally developed on one side. They term them dancing mice; they whirl around and around until they fall from exhaustion.

We have not heard of any Negro Marathon Dancers. It must show that, at least, the brain of the Negro is normally balanced.

It must be so, for they are going ahead building Hospitals, and other things that count in the world's development. The Negro brain shows things that count in the world's development. The Negro brain shows equipoise, and it counts, wonderfully, in the summing up of world events.

—Why Did He Do It—

Word came to us of an act of heroism, which being enacted far from the plaudits of the multitude, without the blare of bands or waving banners to herald it, standsout as one of the most sacrificing acts a human could make.

There was nothing to prompt the deed. No fraternal ties; not even the bonds of a personal friendship. Yet one man deliberately sacrifices his arm to save the life of his working companion.

The two men were digging a well. The one below would fill the heavy metal bucket with earth, and it would be drawn up by a crank by the man at the top. In drawing up the bucket something became wrong with the winding gear and the cable began to slip with the heavy laden bucket. If that bucket slipped there was no possible way for the man below to escape death, and there was no time to search for a bar or something to check the speed of the descending bucket. So in went his hand, the cable and cogs commence to move slowly, but they ate his hand then on up to the elbow, and to the shoulder, before it could be stopped on its bloody journey. Thus they found him. His mangled arm flattened out and suffering pain, excrutiating.

There are impulses which impel men to deeds of self sacrifice.

What are thy?

Slatherskite.

A motion picture actress has screened a picture termed "Bella Donna." The heroine makes love to swarthy Egyptian who treats her as all Orientals treat women subject to them. But the heroine seems to like it for she delights in the embrace of her Lord and is jealous if he is not attentive. But, and here comes the comic part, a fiery Southern gentleman? takes umbrage at the picture, and vents his spleen on the producers as well as the actress.

He terms them "Kikes" and says that they are subtly demoralizing the "Southern" youth by portraying a white woman in the arms of a man with a dark skin. Now! Don't that seem ridiculous? Just the other day —Down South—a prominent politician was found entwined in the arms of a comely woman with a dark skin, and don't the gentlemen from Texas remember, that not so long ago, some of the brainest of the Southern women, when they were decrying the single standerd of morality as practiced by Southern gentlemen? said, "That what was the sauce for the Goose, was sauce for the Gander," or words to that effect. We would not like to trace the footsteps of the Texas gentleman? if there was a screen put up on some prominent corner, and he was warned that his derilictions with women of color, committed under the cover of darkness, would be thrown on that screen for the public to gaze at. We think that Texas would lose a prominent? citizen, and Honduras or some other hiding place gain a SLATHERSKITE.

The Jews will go on producing motion pictures, and the frothing of the Texas fellow will eventually evaporate. SELAH.

CHANDLER OWEN THRILLS LOS ANGELES AUDIENCE

NEGROES BEGIN TO THINK

The long-heralded Lecture by Hon. Chandler Owen, on "The New Solution of the Race Problem," at Labor Temple Auditorium on Monday night, May 7th, was the greatest intellectual treat our public has enjoyed for many a season.

Chandler Owen is nationally known as the joint editor with Philip Randolph, of the "Messenger," noted radical politico-economic Race magazine published in New York.

Mr. Owen is unquestionably the Race's best-informed living authority on economic and sociological matters and his address on last Monday night sounded a distinctly new note, which it will probably take the Negro people at least another score of years to even interpret.

In the course of his talk, Mr. Owen cited a number of instances when by his personal influence and activity he succeeded in having certain powerful Unions in New York open their membership to Race workers; through his efforts some thousands of Colored girl needle workers in New York are now receiving Union wages of $35 to $70.00 per week. And in stirring phrases Mr. Owen told his anxious audience that it is far better that these thousands of women-wage earners should thus have the doors of industrial and economic opportunity thrown open to them; than that one or two "big" Negroes should hold high-salaried jobs with high-sounding names.

He called upon the fact that the industrial and political aspects of the Race problem should engage the attention of our people at this time, rather than the question of social equality. He proved, with brilliant, incontrovertible logic, that the race problem is fundamentally a matter of economics, rather than Color, and its solution must be worked out along economic lines. In other words, as Mr. Owen declared, it is a question of the "nickel under the foot."

The Negro should cease bewailing his sad lot in this country, Mr. Owen said; conditions here, difficult as they are, are far better than in those other countries which are frequently referred to as havens of race refuge. The Negro must realise that he is forced to fight for whatever he gets, wherever he may be. There is no "problemless world" for him. And his fight can be more successfully waged in this country where his weapons, political power, and labor-power can be most effectively wielded.

VERDUN MINING COMPANY IS STILL FORGING AHEAD

SALES MANAGER J. B. SIMMS REPORTS OVER FIFTY THOUSAND SHARES---CAPITAL STOCK---SOLD

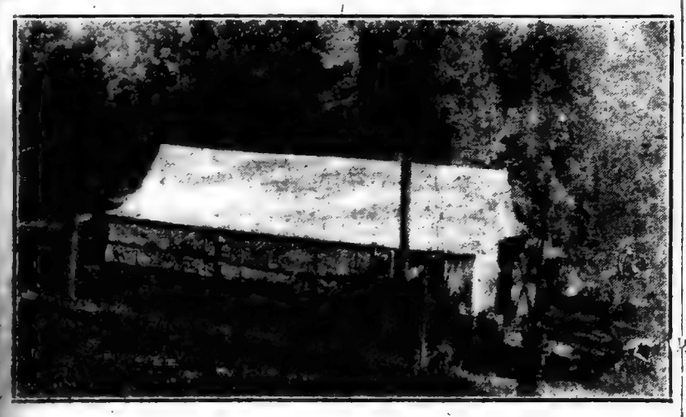
By: JOHN EMERY PROWD

The Verdun Mining and Leasing Company has one of the richest hills that has ever been discovered in the mining section of Tuolumne County, where there are no fewer than 10 producing mines, each within a mile of one another.

As proof of the belief in the value of the mine, at great cost secured the services of Mr. A. E. Sedgwick, a Mining and Civil Engineer of Los Angeles, Calif., and at present instructor in the University of Southern California, to go over the property for the purpose of making a report, not only for the stockholders, but also for the benefit of the public, who always desire a statement or opinion of an authority on such matters. His report in part folows:

ORE DEPOSIT

"The ore deposit is found along the footwall of an intrusion of Diabase in the Calaveras Formation. This intrusion is 30 feet thick. It bears nearly east and west and dips 60 deg. north.



THE PRESENT HOIST AT THE VERDUN MINE
Which lowers and raises the skip-bucket which brings up the Pay Ore from the Shaft Just 90 Feet Below the Surface

"Considerable surface work shows along the footwall of the intrusion from which it is reported that pocket miners have taken large amounts of free gold. The gulch below this intrusion shows evidence of having been worked for placer deposits. The gulleys across the gulch leading into it show no evidence of placer workings indicating that the values recovered from the placer workings must have come from the side of the hill upon which these claims rest and, probably, from erosion of the Verdun vein.

"Sulphide croppings along the strike of the vein indicate that the erosion of this hill has been more rapid than the oxidation, so that there is no oxidized zone of any extent and that ore encountered will be classified as a Sulphide Ore.

"Throughout the Mother Lode in the sulphide zone the precious metals have been deposited by ascending thermal solutions. These solutions contain a great deal of silica with lesser amounts of carbon dioxide, alkaline carbonates and hydrogen sulphides. The gold in this solution was probably dissolved in the alkaline sulphides.

THE COOK SHACK AT THE VERDUN MINE
Where the men who work hard partake of their meals regularly

Under favorable conditions hot mineral-bearing solutions rising under pressure through the rifts or fissures attacked the wall rock on either side of the fissures which the solutions moved, dissolving the wall rock, wholly or in part, and depositing their mineral content in the place of the mineral matter removed. This is known as Replacement or Metasomatism. In some cases the substitution is complete; in others it is only partial. Ascending thermal solutions carrying the precious metals in solution entered the rock along channels of least resistance, such as rifts, faults or cleavage planes, penetrated the walls along the cleavage planes or fracture lines and then attacked the solid portion of the wall rock. The change is progressive, being the greatest upon the face of the walls and usually dying out a short distance back of the wall face.

"There are many other methods by which mineral-bearing solutions deposit their contents, but the one described is pertinent to the formation under consideration.

"The igneous intrusion of Diabase traversing the Verdun and Brown Bird claims is deep seated and probably connects with the underlying igneous batholith, an indication of great depth to the vein. The thermal solutions ascended along the walls of this intrusion, depositing precious minerals along their course and altering the wall rock of the lesser resisting Calaveras formation for some distance out from the intrusion.

"The amount or degree of replacement decreases with the distance away from the intrusion, being greater at the contact and usually inconsequential a few feet away from it. The process of replacement is one involving chemical reactions of the alkaline gold-bearing solutions. During these reactions, the character of the solvent is changed, with the result that the gold is deposited as the reaction occurs.

"This explains the presence of gold next to the footwall of the intrusion of Diabase and the decrease in value away from the intrusion.

"The width of the zone of replacement varies from a few inches to a few feet. Where it is a few feet wide, it would be called an "ore chute", provided precious metals were deposited in the replacement zone. Where it is but a few inches wide, it would be called a "lead" and would be followed to the point where it opened up again into another ore chute.

"Differential movements along the walls of the intrusion and the Calaveras formation fractured the walls along the contact, giving freer access to the thermal solutions with consequent enlargement of the zone of replacement. This also has a decided bearing on the location and size of the ore chute.

"This explanation shows why the ore chute was found and should be pursued along the contact of the Diabasic intrusion and the Calaveras formation. The theory is also borne out by the facts established by the development work on the property."

DEVELOPMENTS

"Plate I shows the approximate location of the Verdun shaft, also the location and strike of the intrusion of Diabase.

To the northeast of the intrusion of Diabase, the Calaveras formation has been broken by a series of faults, forming passageways for siliceous solutions which have partially replaced the softer minerals of the Calaveras formation, forming siliceous shales and quartzites. The quartzites are far more resistant to erosion than the softer unaffected surrounding shales and, therefore, stand out plainly as a prominent feature of the butts and naturally forming the crest.

A cross fault with a strike of south 6 deg. east cuts the siliceous formations just described, passing very close to the top of the shaft, cutting the intrusion of Diabase, and continues to the serpentine some distance below. The shaft has been located at the intersection of this cross fault and the intrusion of diabase on the footwall of the Diabase intrusion.

Geologically, the shaft is properly located. Fortunately, the ground slopes away from the shaft with just enough incline to form mill site, leaving plenty of room for a tailing dump at the bottom of the mill.

Plate II shows that the shaft was started on the footwall contact of the Diabase intrusion but that the dip of the shaft is greater than the dip of the Diabase so that the shaft gets farther and farther away from the intrusion with depth. This is unfortunate for two reasons. First, the dip of the shaft varies between 75 deg. and 80 deg. to the northeast. With this high dip it cannot be used as a vertical shaft and is too steep to be successfully operated as an inclined shaft using a skip running on a track. Skips running on a track with such high inclination are very liable to leave the track when being hoisted or lowered. The shaft either should have been a vertical shaft or sunk with a dip of not more than 65 deg. Second, as the shaft was sunk, it departed farther and farther from the diabasic intrusion so that it soon left the zone of replacement, or ore chute.

A sample of the sump made up of rock from the first 35 feet of the shaft averaged $18.00 in gold. Four samples taken from the bottom of the shaft assayed less than $1.00 each.

The reason for this variation in value is probably due to the fact that the bottom of the shaft is about 20 feet from the diabasic intrusion and out of the ore chute, while the top of the shaft, being at the contact of the intrusion, was in the ore chute. A cross cut from the 100-foot level to the diabasic intrusion will prove or disprove this theory.

"The shaft is 4 feet by 7 feet, the 7-foot dimension being parallel to the dike. It is well timbered and equipped with a small gasoline hoist and bucket sufficient to sink 250 to 300 feet.

"A tunnel 140 feet long has been driven into the butte starting in the serpentine, passing through the gouge and some limestone and into the Calaveras formation. The tunnel strikes N. 21 deg. W. and would have to be driven several feet farther before it would cut the ore body.

Considerable water seeps into the tunnel and is piped to the camp for domestic purposes.

"The sequence of formations in this tunnel is typical of the Mother Lode main system.

" Many surface cuts have exposed the diabasic intrusion throughout the length of the claim proving its continuity.

ORE VALUES

"The ore body has been opened at but one place, at the top of the shaft, so that it was not possible to get samples from different portions of the vein. Along the strike of the vein upon the surface the outcrops were weathered and did not represent conditions that would be found in depth and, therefore, were not sampled.

"The ore dips away from the shaft so that the lower portion of the shaft was out of the ore chute. The shaft was heavily timbered and lagged and filled behind the lagging so that the walls of the shaft could not be uncovered, except at considerable expense, therefore it was impracticable to try to sample the shaft throughout its depth, and unnecessary so long as it was clear that the lower portion of the shaft was not in the ore chute.

"A portion of the dump representing about the first 35 feet of the shaft was trenched from top to bottom and sampled. This sample was brought to Los Angeles and taken to John Herman, a commercial assayer. After being quartered down assays were made by Mr. Herman and by us. We made two assays, one gave $17.60 and the other $18.00. Mr. Herman reports $18.60. Therefore, it is safe to assume that the average value of the first 35 feet of shaft over a width of 4 feet is $18.00.

"This is a remarkable showing, far above the average values found over such a width on the Mother Lode, and it must not be expected that such values will persist. It can be considered an indication of good values along the contact of the diabasic intrusion and the Calaveras formation.

"The reports from pocket hunters that much free gold has been washed from the surface on the strike of the vein and the indications of extensive placer work in the gulch below the vein, add strength to the probabilities of an ore chute along the contact."

Mr. J. B. Simms, Sales Manager for The Verdun Mining and Leasing Co., may be found at 315 Western Mutual Life Building., 3rd and Hill Sts., telephone Pico 1803, and will be pleased to give any information concerning the mine.

It is the purpose of the Company to sell capital stock shares at 10 cents each in blocks of 1000. The Company further proposes to sell only sufficient shares to warrant the purchasing of the necessary machinery for the operation of the mine; and as soon as this amount is realized the sale of stock shall be declared closed. In this way there will only be a limited number of shares sold, so don't put off for to-morrow what can be done today, for "bye and bye leads to the town of Nowhere".

Rev. J. W. Price, Pastor.
Res. 202 Thaxter St.

Last Sunday was Men's Day, beginning at 11 a. m. the men to participate in the day's services were in their places.

The pastor spoke for the men at the morning hour on the subject, The accomplishments of a man. The choir was composed entirely f men—At 3 p. m. Rev. A. P. Ramsey of Friendship Baptist Church delivered the sermon, subject, Man Wanted; it was a splendid message and well received. Mr. Freddie Skinner a very affable young man and a splendid musician of our city presided at the piano.

At the evening hour Mr. R. E. Price furnished music for the men, and Rev. J. A. Green delivered the sermon; subject, What is Man?

There were three accessions during the day and as a whole all are declaring we had a glorious time. The men are very well pleased with the day's results which far excelled all other men's days before this.

The ladies are making preparation for a splendid Mother's Day service —The 3rd Sunday will be observed as Woman's Day at which time they are going to try to excell the men in a full rounded out day's service. The Rev. Mrs. Lucile Shell will conduct the services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. At night the ladies will have a sacred program.

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
1252 East 25th Street.
B. R. Guy, Pastor.

The Lord is to be praised for the glorious service at this church last Sunday. The Sunday School well attended nad a number of visiting pupils were with us. The offering was splendid. The Morning Service was well attended. It was General Class Sunday and about 30 persons testified to the goodness of God and expressed determinations for heaven. The spiritual power of the Lord was wonderfully manifested upon those present. The large number of visitors expressed their appreciation of the meeting. The Endeavor was very interesting, impressive and the attendance increased. At night the Pastor spoke to a mixed audience of visitors and members from the text, "The hath sent me to proclaim Liberty to the Captives, to open the prison to them that are bound. This Church is in an effort to raise $1,000 by May 27th. Everybody please hear and heed the Macedonian Cry. Come over into Ward Chapel, 1252 East 25th May 27th at 3:00 p. m. and help us. Spiritual and otherwise.

WILEY CHAPEL—
Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor.

"Come unto me." was the Sunday morning text. It had been suggested to the pastor. From this subject the Rev. Shaw preached another one of those sermons which have made him the drawing card of Wesley, and has inspired this people to do the many complimentary things done under his pastorage. It being Communion Sunday, and Anniversary Day, as well the spirit of worship ran high and 382 communicants answered the invitation. Good music both vocal and instrumental characterized the day, and greatly aided in the success of the services. Next Sunday is Mother's Day and seats will be at a premium. No one can afford to miss the special church services and Young People's services at 6:20 p. m.

Strangers and friends are especially invited.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—

Res. 1217 Paloma Avenue.

Mothers Day will be celebrated in fine style on Sunday, May 13th. Rev. Shaw will preach a Mother Day sermon at 11:00 o'clock. The choir will render a program Sunday evening.

On last Sunday morning the pastor preached from St. John 6th chapter 55 verse. It was an exceptionally profitable sermon and a very fine attendance was out both morning and night. The evening text was Matthew 7 chapter 1 verse.

The choir under Professor Bynum's direction sang very sweetly. They feel quite pround of their new books.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH
Holding Its Services in the Y. M. C. A. 9th and Hemlock Sts.
Rev. H. D. Prowd, Pastor

We had good services all day last Sunday. The Lesson in the Sunday School was heartily enjoyed by all. New scholars and visitors were cordially received. At the 11 o'clock service Dr. Prowd preached from Habakkuk 3:18. "Yet I will rejoice." It was plainly shown that though the Christian be stript of all blessings, and bereft of relatives and friends, yet one stronghold remains unshaken into which he can run and find comfort. God never deserts His children. The B. Y. P. U. was ably conducted by our President Mr. John E. Prowd assisted by others. At night the subject was that of the downfall of Saul, the first King of Israel. The text was 1 Samuel 15:23—"Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, He hath also rejected thee from being King." It was a serious presentation of the truth, and all listened with marked attention. Dr. Prowd will discourse this Sunday morning on the subject—Hard places made for ourselves, removed by a kind Father. At night The Lord's Supper will be observed. Come with us, but come praying, and believing.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
14th and Birch Street.

The services on last Lord's day was much improved. The Rev. Frank C. Cothram, who was to preach at the 11:00 o'clock hour was unable to be with us as he reported. But would preach for us at 11:00 a. m. on the third Sunday in May. So Rev. Bro. I. J. Williams, who is doing the preaching at this time brought to our attention two very helpful messages. At 11:00 o'clock he spoke from the subject, I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first and also to the Greek, proving to us that a Christian is not ashamed to wear Christ's name.

And at night he took for his text the Second chapter of the Book Phil, and the 9th verse. "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: These Two sermons stirred the whole congregation. The services for next Lord's day are as follows:

Bible School at 9:45 and preaching at 11:00 a. m. Young People's Meeting at 7:00 and preaching again at 8:00 p. m. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. These prayer meetings are led by Brother P. W. Zollar.

This Church extends a welcome to all. Come and we will do thee Good.

THE INDEPENDENT CHURCH OF CHRIST
Cor. 18th and Paloma Sts.
Rev. N. P. Gregge, Pastor

The splendid message delivered by the pastor last Sunday morning aroused great religious enthusiasm in the large congregation which had gathered to worship. "Our offering to God" was the general theme of the sermon. The spirit in which our offering is made is the important thing, is a lasting thought to all who heard.

Miss Banton was the morning soloist and Mr. J. H. Shackelford, Supt. of the S. S. was the first speaker of the Sunday School Membership Campaign which has been launched for some time. He spoke Sunday morning.

The Second Quarterly Convocation which convened Wednesday, May 2, 1923, was one of the best which has ever met. $1,139.65 was the amount reported in the combined treasuries of the various church auxiliaries. In the general church treasury there was reported $7,715.64. Many excellent reports were submitted.

The pipe organ which is to be installed as soon as the reconstruction of the church is completed will be the greatest in any colored church west of the Rockies.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
34th Street and Central Ave.

The Pastor, Rev. E. E. Lightner has arranged two unique services for Sunday, May 13, which is "Mothers' Day." The pastor will bring the message at the morning hour. There will be appropriate music furnished by the choir. Every person should on that day honor the dearest friend that ever lived, viz. your own mother. In the evening an excellent program will be rendered in honor of "Mother." The program will consist of prose, recitations and musical numbers. You should not fail to hear this program. Every body is looking forward to the Twi-light Candle lighting service on Thursday night May 24th. This will be given by Circle No. 7, of which Mrs. N. E. Perry is leader. Reserve the date.

At the Annual Conference which was held this week in the First Congregational Church of Glendale, our church was represented by Mrs. E. D. Harris, Miss Ella Hardie and the Pastor. They report a splendid session. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

"MESSENGER" HAS FOUGHT LONG FOR NEGRO WORKERS

Socialist Magazine Active In Fight for Freedom of Speech, Amnesty and Russian Recognition.

(Taken from New York Call)

Six years ago the Messenger and its editors astonished America with their radical message of economic emancipation for the Negro through organized labor and Socialism. Prior to its advent no hint of the labor side of the Negro problem was made by Negro leaders. Why? Because of the economic control which the industrial and financial capitalists maintained over them as a result of contributions which they made to Negro schools, churches and publications.

As a result of the Messenger's merciless and withering criticism of white and Negro reactionaries, of the advocacy of the cause of a new social order, of its uncompromising policy on the race and labor issues, the circulation shot up to 26,000 within a period of six months.

During the World War the Messenger stood out boldly and laid bare Woodrow Wilson's stark hyprocrisy that the United States was fighting to "make the world safe for democracy," on account of which it was summarily denied second-class mailing privilege, a heavy financial handicap and burden which the radical and liberal labor unions helped to bear.

No Negro leaders suffered or sacrified with so consuming and unselfish a spirit of devotion to the great principles of working-class solidarity and race justice than did A. Philip Randolph and Chandler Owen, the editors.

In Cleveland they were arrested while speaking for the Socialist party and held without bail for several days. Instead of eing dismayed they fought on with increasing vigor and determination to awaken the sleeping masses of black workers to a conscious realization of their class interest.

The Messenger has waged an unrelenting war in the interest of the unconditional release of political and class war prisoners.

No publication has been more persistent and scathing in denoucing as a menace to democracy and the American labor movement the rising tide of anti-Semitism in America.

Perhaps one of the most valiant and outspoken organs in America in the interest of the right of the Russian people to determine their own form of government, to the right of recognition by America, in the interest of relief to famine-stricken Russia, has been the Messenger and its editors.

Through the files of the Messenger may be found an unceasing nad unremitting cry against the utter inhumanity of Great Britian and Ireland.

It is a matter of record that the editors were the first to sound a note of warning against the Klan, expressing it through an international mass meeting in 1919. Jews, Catholics, Negroes and labor were represented in that meeting. The Messenger fought the black Klan, too, as it was represented by Marcus Garvey, just as the class-conscious Italian workers are fighting the Fascisti in America. The fight so stirred the Klan that it sent A. Philip Randolph a "human hand," an incident that shocked the nation. The Post Office and the United States Department of Justice said that it was the first case in history that a part of a human body had been sent through the mails.

The first Socialist branch among Negroes was organized by A. Philip Randolph and Chandler Owen. This work the Negro Communists have done their utmost to destroy. Just as the Rand School, The New York Call, the Workers' Defense Committee, the Civil Liberties Union, the Jewish Daily Forward, the Workman's Circle, the Socialist and labor leaders have been misrepresented and lied upon, so have the editors of the Messenger been libelled.

EVER LOYAL

By Eva Carter Buckner.

When the sturdy Pilgrim fathers
Sought this land across the sea,
They were tired of oppression
And determined to be free.
Of their struggle and their conquest
History records well,
They declared their independence
Liberty, rang out a bell.
Long, Oh! long! the sable fathers
Prayed their God to set them free,
And He heard their prayer so humble
Songs they sang so plaintively
And He touched the heart of people
Those on whom He could depend
Those who ever stood for justice
And their country would defend.
Bless the great immortal Lincoln!
Whom He willed through martial strain,
Should be savior of our country
And should break old slavery's chain.
Think, Oh think of Brown the martyr,
He whose soul goes marching on.
Lovejoy, Garrison and Sumner
Others too, at freedom's dawn.
Ah, and we would pay a tribiute
To the Union soldiers too
Dauntless heroes who were fighting
For a cause so just andtrue;
For a cause so just and true
Yes and to the bold Black Regiment
Who so proudly donned the blue
Though untrained yet ever ready
Glad that they could dare and do.
All the heroes of the country
Are not dead nor do they sleep
But as sentinels on duty
They an earnest vigil keej;
Justice always finds defenders
Altruism finds a place in the heart of those who're ever
Mindful of the human race.
We've the greatest Constitution
And 'twill stand for it is real,
He was witness to its framing,
And on it He set His seal.
We are passing through the crisis
Foes are firm, and friends are true
There are things that need adjusting
In some way He'll do it, too.
We're part of this great nation
Long have been an dlong will be
One dependent on the other
He has willed it so, to be.
And e'en with this partial freedom
Trifle more than fifty years
The achieving and progressing
Have dispelled all doubts and fears
People mine be ver loyal;
Oh do not discouraged be
If the God above is for us,
Who against us then can be?
Let us then be ever loyal
While our head's above the sod,
Loyal to our friends, our country,
Loyal to our flag, our God.

A REASONABLE AND WORTH WHILE TASK

Assumed by Negro Baptists.

The suggestion made to the Conference of Ministers and Laymen held in Memphis, Tennessee, April 3, by Dr. Williams, President of our National Baptist Convention, to raise $100,000 this year for work of the National Baptist Convention fairly electrified that great gathering. It was received in soberness and by thoughtful Baptists whose eager faces told that the importance of the occasion had reached their souls. They seemed ashamed of so much denominational big talk and so little accomplishment. The men and women who met there on that day were far visioned Baptists, who determined under God to overcome the little done and the vast undone by helping raise the $100,000.

As individual churches, we have excelled everywhere. For example, the Abyssinian Church in New York City the first of April raised SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS, and the 16th Street Church of Birmingham, Alabama, during the same month, raised Thirteen Thousand Dollars. But for real team work, as set out in our Lord's Prayer, and now called for in all successful undertakings, we have utterly failed. The men nad women who gathered on that day, realized that not to erect a monument to Dr. Morris and build the Publishing House this year, would make all Baptists look very small, if not a laughing stock in the yes of all thoughtful people.

The president suggested the following which was adopted as the plans by which money is to be raised: That the $100,00 to be raised be apportioned among the several states as follows: States in Class A (asked t oraise $5,000 each): Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Louisana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas.

States in Class B (asked to raise $3,000.): California, District of Columbia, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia.

LAWRENCE GREEN SALESMAN FOR MUTUAL PAINT COMPANY

Mr. T. A. Green, popular head of the "Y", is recently in receipt of a letter from his son Lawrence, now in Sacramento, acting as secretary to Assemblyman F. M. Roberts. In the letter, young Lawrence says: "I shall return to Los Angeles about May 15th, fully prepared to take up my duties as salesman for the Roberts Mutual Paint Company. I am looking forward to this opportunity with every confidence that I will make good, and justify the confidence of both my employers and my patrons and customers."

The Roberts Mutual Paint Company is a co-operative enterprise, located at 2215 E. 9th Street.

It has been disclosed by Mr. Green, Sr., that a number of people desirous of purchasing paint at this time, are holding their orders until Mr. Lawrence gets in the field, in order that he may receive due credit for the same. To these prospective customers, the Company wishes to announce that they will be glad to take and fill such orders from now on; that all buyers are at liberty to mention Mr. Lawrence Green's name when placing their orders, nad the Company will see to it that he receives full credit for the same upon his arrival.

Incidentally, a number of painters, contractors, and individual house owners who have given the Mutual's goods a trial, are unanimous in their endorsement of the excellent quality and reasonable cost of these high class paints.

Let us co-operate in patronizing this broad-policied enterprise which bids for our custom and at the same time aid "our own" Lawrence!

"SHUFFLE ALONG"

Emma Jackson and her can dancing steppers in the big song number "I'm Just Wild About Harry" to be seen in the big colored musical show "SHUFFLE ALONG" which will be at the Mason Opera House starting Monday, May 28th, its first appearance in Los Angeles.

"Shuffle Along" which comes to the Mason Opera House for its first appearance starting Monday, May 28th will offer an opportunity to the play goers to see and hear this colored entertainment of which so much has been written about.

"Shuffle Along" created a real sensation in New York playing over one hundred weeks at one theatre, and it will come to Los Angeles with the full knowledge of theatre-goers that it should prove one of the most unique entertainments since the days of Williams and Walker.

There is a story to the piece that has to do with two colored keepers of a grocery store in a small Southern town, and who are rival candidates for Mayor. This sounds like the old favorite "Running For Office" which in the old days, never failed to stir up laughs a plenty.

The company is a large one including some sixty odd people, and are on a World tour. The cast is headed by John Vaughner and Edgar Connors two well and favorably known comedians, while the prima donna roles are in the hands of Emma Jackson, assisted by the colored "Valentino" Theo. McDonald a baritone of more than ordinary ability. The organization also carries its own orchestra of ten men, while the scenic environment is large and at times spectacular in effect.

The chorus is from the original production, and is said to be the most inviting group of high yellow steppers ever seen in musical comedy, their work individually and collectively being of that strenuous and furious nature that made the New Yorker awake from his stupor.

TO MY MOTHER

When all the world was dark, and anxious care,
Had all but given way to grim despair,
When deathly sickness racked my frame with pain,
You came dear heart to give me life again.
When friends of fairer days had passed me by
Nor dropped a tear, nor even heaved a sigh,
In spite of long neglect, your love prevailed,
Its radiance shone, tho lesser lights had failed.
Again you worked and hoped, again you prayed
And loved and suffered for the boy who strayed
So far from home to meet with evil days.
Forgave his faults; forgot his erring ways.
Oh Mother Love! of passion most supreme,
No fault, nor folly, can upset thy theme,
Enduring steadfast to life's journey's end,
Tho all else fail inspiring one true friend.

ENTERPRISING BROADWAY MERCHANTS BID FOR OUR TRADE.

For twenty-five years the Western Department Store (long known as the Western Shoe Store) has been preeminent among the shoe merchants of Los Angeles, in offering to the public high-class foot-wear at rock bottom prices.

And such was the growth and popularity of the "Western" in this line of commercial endeavor that two years ago other lines of merchandise were added, in response to clamorous public demand, and the Western became a general dry goods store.

A stranger arriving in Los Angeles now, after two years' absence, and visiting the old Western, would be amazed at the changes that time and progressive enterprise have wrought. In greatly enlarged quarters, a small army of clerks serve a responsive and satisfied public with high class goods at bargain prices. The Western has eight men in the Eastern market buying for the Los Angeles Public, and when the Hill Street tunnel is completed, this store looks forward with certainty to further expansion.

The Western bids for the Colored trade. It advertises in this paper. Read and see for yourself, Mr. and Mrs. Buyer, that it pays to "patronize those who patronize us."

ARCHIE WOODYARD

Jefferson Sprint Marvel

One of the best local athletes ever to don a pair of spikes is little Archie Woodyard, sprinting ace of Jefferson High School. He has been a consistent point winner throughout the season, winning the hundred yards dash and the two hundred twenty yards. He has run the century in 10 1-5 seconds several times and the furlong in 22 1-5 three times. In the try-outs for the City meet he equalled the existing record of 10 1-5 held jointly by Paddock and Redmond. The following Saturday when the finals for the city were held Archie beat the Pasadena flash, Eddie Pollack in the century, but the judges gave the race to Pollack. Pictures taken by photographers, and especially the one which was loaned to the Jeffersonian, the Jefferson High School weekly newspaper by the Examiner, showed Woodyard winning and looking back at his white rival. Nevertheless, in the two twenty Woodyard led the field to the tape winning easily in the fast time of 22 1-5 seconds, and establishing a new City record for the event.

In the Southern California meet held last month at Santa Ana, Archie, although ill, ran a beautiful race in the hundred, but was beaten by a few inches by Hershall Smith, of San Fernando, national sprint champ. The time was 10 1-5. He came back strong in the furlong. The little speed demon raced to the tape beating Smith by six inches and equalled the Southern California record of 22 1-5 seconds held by Chas. Paddock since 1917. Woodyard was Jefferson's hope for team honors also that day. His total of points were eight, thus enabling Jefferson to place in the first half-dozen.

He is entered in the State meet at Oxy today, and if old man Dope has his way, Archie should make things hot in the century for the speedsters, and should win. Anyway, we believe he will win the other sprint event, as he has made the fastest time in the State so far this year in the two hundred twenty yards. He has an enviable treasure of medals and has been complimented by a host of friends. Archie is expected to be one of the prp athletes to compose Rubien's All-American Scholastic track team, should he compete in the National meet in Chicago this month.

SWIMMING POOL TO OPEN

The swimming pool will open about the 15th. This ought t be good news for all who are fond of the popular tank exercise and those seeking relief from old man Sol. Moving Pictures of Aviatrix Are Excelent

Moving pictures of Miss Bessie Coleman, only race woman flyer, were shown at the "Y" all this week, and proved to be not only educational and entertaining, but inspirational. A Pathe News Reel of her flights in Germany showed the flyer hovering over the former Kaiser's palace in Berlin. The second picture showed her performing before twenty thousand of her people at the Tri-State Fair in Memphis, Tennessee last October. Mis Coleman was engaged in making a picture for the movies at Santa Monica, when suddenly her plane made a three hundred foot nose-dive and crashed to the ground. This is the third and last of the films and at the end Hon. Chandler Owen, Mrs. Jones, and several friends are seen with the noted aviatrix

An Educational Meeting at the A. M. E. Church at Pasadena will conclude the worthy campaign for education among the Colored youth of the country.

ALPHA DELTA SCORES

The Alpha Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha scored a tremendous success on the occasion of its Educational Sunday, April 29th, an annual event connected with the "Go to High School Go to College Campaign."

Dr. Montgomery, the registrar of the University of Southern California, was the speaker at the meeting conducted by the Chapter at the Western Presbyterian Church on the above date. The force of his words struck home and no doubt inspired many to a greater determination. Musical numbers presented by members of the church added much to the success of the occasion.

In the evening of the same day the Chapter conducted an Educational Program at the First A. M. E. church. Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California delivered the address of the evening. His brilliant oratory, coupled with his winning personality, carried the audience and he was greeted with rounds of applause.

An unusual program was rendered by members of the Chapter, assisted by Miss Naida McCullough and Mr. Armice Fouche. A cornet solo by Mr. William Prince, selections by the Crown City Quartet consisting of Messrs. William Prince, Arthur Prince, William Stroud and Armie Fouche, a piano solo by Miss McCullough and a tenor solo by Mr. Stroud, made up the program which was received with enthusiasm by the large audience.

Professor Bartlett and his choir added to the enjoyment of the occasion by selections.

Rev. A. Milton Ward, the pastor spoke words of encouragement to the young men of the Fraternity.

In his introduction of the speakers, McGregor, president of Alpha Delta Chapter added to his laurels by the eloquent manner in which he presented the distinguished guest.

Malcolm H. Patton, First Vice President of Alpha Delta and Chairman of the Educational Campaign Committee, presided over the meeting in his usual pleasing manner.

MAY QUEEN

(By Wendell P. Gladden, Jr.)

My lady brown
Now wears a crown
Of pink and red red roses;
Black curls flow down
On gauzy gown,
While she in smiles reposes.

Green shades and blue,
And every hue
Abound in scented bowers;
Where maids entrance
Who skip and dance
Before her throne of flowers.

Each maiden trips
With tinted strips
The May-Pole fast enfolding;
And so the scene
The dusky queen
Sits quietly beholding.

And still they play
Until the day
In joy serenely closes;
My lady brown
Has worn a crown
Of pink, and red, red roses.

CUB CAPERS

By Leon Whitaker.

The library seems to have lost its attraction for many of its most frequent habitues. We saw Miss Paige, Miss Cold, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Stovall standing outside (not incide) when they could have been studying. We didn't say that they were together.

Rus William is trying to survey the entire campus all by himself with two assistants. This Rus is a smart feller.

Lorenz Graham, the handsome corporal, has found a nice way to make money for the haberdashers. He allows some crook to steal all the clothes, then he goes and buys more.

Speaking of clothes, this fellow Johnson continues to make the boys weep and the girls bat their eyes with his latest afternoon dress. Uncle Sam is surely nice to his malemen.

Miss Hilda Johnson is going to surprise them all yet. She surely is consistent; never misses her Spanish class.

Speaking of near-students and coefficients, George Green can't find any place to seek book reference but the Branch library. Maybe there are no insurance statistics downtown. Aw-w-

We don't know who she is, but we heard that she vigorously denied being "Colored." We wish that she would come and see us. There are many things to instill race pride and a conscientious desire for service into our very fairest nad most beautiful.

Personally, we see no honor in being "Spanish" on the campus when one has to be "Colored" socially. However, some folks have strange notions. Time solves most riddles, even at that.

Everybody here is working hard and willing under the terrific heat. The end is at hand.

Erskine Ragland, the big brute, does all his studying between 12 p. m. and 5 a. m. He surely is ambitious.

Sumner Thompson, the hero of Company B, has many activities. They aren't all academic either. We're watching you, Bo.

Rodin must have cast his mind into the future and looked upon Miss Matthews when he sculped "The Thinker." You ought to see her between 9 and 10 at desk 2 in the libe.

There's a goof out here so backward that he thought the Boy Wonder was a Juvenile Meditation.

THE VALUE OF AN EDUCATION IN BUSINESS

By Benjamin C. Colly.

Since education and business have been given various meanings, it is best for us to choose a definition which will suit our consideration. The word education is derived from the Latin verb educere, meaning to lead out or from. From this definition many others have sprung, such as the following:

Education is the imparting of knowledge. Again, education means the bringing out of man's powers—the unfoldment of those powers with which God has so perfectly endowed man. Milton goes further in defining education. He says in his "Tractate," "I call therefore a complete and generous Education that which fits a man to perform justly and magnanimously all the offices both private and public of Peace and War."

But the meaning which we are to use is that education is to be regarded as training for the varied work of life—industrial, social, and political—in which knowledge is not an end but an incident, in which the student is learning to do things.

Business has various meanings. It is defined as: employment, trade, something to be done or transacted. But the meaning we are to adopt here is that business is "the pursuit or occupation that requires energy, time and thought."

Since education is learning to do things and business is the energy, time, and thought required by those things, there are certain advantages when education and business go hand in hand.

The first value of education in business is intellectual. In business man has problems which must be solved by thought. The training the business man has received in school enables him to think and think logically. Every one can think but not all do think. And those who do htink do not think. And those who do thing do not result of training. In school the pupil acquires a good memory and learns how to visualize. He learns the relative importance of things, which teaches him to systmatise and arrange them in logical order. The ability to do one's own thinking in business is of paramount importance.

In studying for business in school one is trained in business psychology, which plays an important role in the business of today. Business of today is not simple like that of the past; it is complex and has many branches. Psychology aids the merchant in forcasting demands and supply of goods and commodities, in advertising his commodities in such a way as to bring in the best results; and in buying and selling of them with profit and without loss of time and energy.

Psychology is very essential to the business manager. If he knows this science he can select "the right man for the place." He can give his men the correct training for difficult tasks.

The second value of education in business is productive. Bankruptcy is bad business and shows a lack of business ability in some cases. Panics are the results of bad business. If a man understands the laws of economics there is little chance to go bankrupt except through means unusual. Since the consequence of bankruptcy is panics which prove disastrous to the nation as well as to the individual, and since economics is a remedy for such conditions, education is very essential in eliminating many bad features of business.

A business man without any knowledge of economics is like a ship without a rudder. He can not but cannot control his course nad determine his destiny. In studying economics the business man learns how to foretell, to an appreciable degree, future financial events and control the business cycle, which consists of the periods of depression nad expansion of business. In economics the student studies production, consumption, exchange, transportation, and distribution of wealth. He studies the evolution of money, banking, and financing. He is taught the laws of economics and how to solve economic problems. Summing it all up, he studies man and his means of obtaining a living.

Education produces efficiency in business. If a man know his business, which he does if he has been trained, he can get just as much and sometimes more out of his business than he puts into it. The ratio between the energy expended and work accomplished is the efficiency. The man who accomplishes work equal to energy, time and thought that expands is a hundred per cent efficient.

Efficiency increases the production of goods and services, it utilizes time advantageously, and it conserves energy rather than wastes it. It was only in the late war that we learned the value of efficiency. Germany showed the world what efficiency can do, although their efficiency had destructive tendencies. During the war Germany made use of everything with very little if any waste. America, which is opulent in resources, lost much through inefficiency. A great quantity of materials that was lost could have been saved if America had known the value of efficiency. Only that which is saved is gained.

The third value of education in business is social. The business man in dealing with other people must consider that there are certain facts and principles which demand his attention.

All people are human. None of them is a perfect saint; none of them is a mere animal—at least for business. Business wants them, all of them everyday in the year. It is no favor on the part of the business man to the people that he is in business. It is exceedingly favorable to him that he has the people to do business with. He cannot get along without them, but they can get along without him, for they can get another man in his place. All this means that a man's business power must respect the people. How is respectability acquired except through education? Education teaches man the value of the other man's welfare.

All the people want the "Square Deal." The man who deals squarely with his fellowman is the one who is most likely to succeed in life. When people know that a man will transact business justly, they will trust him, have confidence in him, and back him in any reasonable undertaking. In school one learns how to be democratic and valuable square dealing.

The social standing of a man in his community has an effect on his business. A man of a meager education is not always ranked very high socially. Society demands culture and refinement. Is a man born with these attributes? Does he have to be put through a process of training to acquire and retain them? It has always been that men and women with culture and refinement are those who have been educated.

Socially, education, culture and refinement are synonymous.

The educated man has many friends because he knows how to make them. He received his training from his association among fellow students in school. He can interest those with whom he comes in contact. He creates an atmosphere about himself that is instructive and agreeable.

In conclusion I wish to state that education is business. All the advantages of education are components of business. If business was carried on without the aid of education, we would still be in the primitive state as far as business is concerned. Education makes business grow with civilization. Business as we know it now cannot be carried on without education. Sor[illegible] our modern business men who ha[illegible]ot acquired an education in some [illegible]chool or college think that education is not necessary in business and that work and persistence are the only requirements. They forget to consider that their superintendents, managers of different departments, traveling salesmen, heads of their foreign factories, and their executive agents rae men who have acquired a liberal high or commercial education. They overlook the fact that the success of the business is due to the sum total of these men's productive and constructive thinking and not theirs.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By William Narcisse

Benjamin Colly, student at Jefferson High School, recently demonstrated his ability as an essay writer, by winning the cup offered by Hamburger, for the best essay on "Education in Business." Too much credit can not be given to "Bennie" for his achievement. Walker of Oakland High School, again proved to the public that he is a sprinter of no mean ability by placing fourth in the 100 yd. dash and third in the 220 yd dash, in the Pacific Association of the A. A. U. annual track meet at the University of California, last Saturday. This is a very creditable showing, as he ran against the best men California, Stanford, and the Olympic Club could produce.

Bruce Jackson centerfield on Jeff's baseball team, played a great game against Manual, Thursday of last week. The Democrats took the contest 5-4, due to the excellent work displayed by Jackson, who fielded a thousand percent. He is the best Colored all-around athlete now attending high school. He is a two-year basket-ball man, two-year baseball man and played one year of lighiweight football and was very adept in each.

Last night at the First A. M. E. Church, was held the fourth annual Declamation Contest, in which nine schools were striving valiantly to annex the honors, and nine representaties each trying to win the coveted gold medal. The schools represented are: Lincoln, Los Angeles, Manual Arts, Polytechnic, Hollywood, Pasadena, Monrovia, Compton and Jefferson.

Tomorrow at the Sojourner Truth Home will be held the annual tea for the winter and summer graduates of this year, and the alumni.

Today at the new stadium, at Exposition Park the annual state track and field meet will be held. This meet will bring together the best athletes, representing the various high schools in California. It will also mark the opening of the stadium, which was recently completed. All athletes winning a first place will be allowed to compete in the National meet, at Chicago, May 26. Archie Woodyard, Jefferson speed phenomenon, has a splendid chance to make the trip. He should place at least second in the 100 and win the 220 with ease.

At the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Maxwell, 1272 East Thirty-fourth Street, on Saturday evening last, The Poppy Girls, set a precedent, established a record and scored a home run. MRS. J. W. BUSH PASSES AWAY

The Pullman Porters of Los Angeles District, The Ladies Auxiliary to The Pullman Porters Benefit Association, and a host of friends bowed their heads in grief and sorrw at the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Bush, devoted wife of Porter J. W. Bush and past President of the Ladies Auxiliary to Pullman Porters Benefit Association. Mrs. Bush was sick for a long time and never once weakened in her struggle for health and recovery, until within a few days toward the last, when calm as the Hymn of Jesus Saviour Pilot Me, was being sung by her bedside. While we mourn and sympathize with Brother Bush the loss of his dear, we also rejoice in the knowledge that she is resting peacefully, safe in the arms of Jesus.

OBITUARY OF MRS. J. W. BUSH

Mrs. Nettie Bush, wife of Mr. J. W. Bush was born in Bamberg, South Carolina, August 1883 and came to live in New York City for a short time, after which she journeyed to Los Angeles, California, where she married Mr. J. W. Bish. She was very active in Church and Social Work, having organized the auxiliary to the Pullman Porters Benefit Association, which proved to be qquite a success under her able guidance as President. She expressed her desire as a most devoted Christian of being perfectly contented in leaving all worldly things behind. So that she might walk in the light on the Kings Highway. A few days before she was called away by the Master, she summoned all her family to her beside and particularly gave her sisterly advice to her Brother that he migbht not stray from the path of Righteousness. She said that she had not the slightest worry on her mind as to her husband, in fact she even told him that they would soon join hands together and walk in peace down the Kings Highway to Glory. She departed this life, April 18, at 4:25 p. m., as the Hymn of "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" was sung, and leaves to mourn their loss a devoted husband, one sister, a brother nad a host of friends.

SORROW JUST SORROW

By Charles L. Upman.

When you have lost a friend that's proven true
It leaves you lonesome, downcast, and real blue.
You wonder around as in a dream, and happiness seek to borrow
But all that greets you in its place is Sorrow, just Sorrow.
You try to think the time has come, When your troubles in this world are done,
But consolation, there's none, but Sorrow just to cheer,
People try then to cheer, some peirce your heart as of a spear.
You try to smile your troubles away, you sleep but on the morrow,
The same old worry is at your side, Sorrow just Sorrow.
Time must pass and time must heal, The wound that none but you can heal.
The wound that none but you can feel Let not old Satin, be your guide
But from his wicked pastimes hide. Look up to your God above, stop, take time to pray and love
For the world is full fo Sorrow just Sorrow.

Signs of Progress

A few weeks ago a representative of this paper walked into a place of business operated by a young man of our group. This class of business although given little significance and notice by us generally, yet commands a place as essential and indispensible as our haber-dasher, our clothier and shoe man.

To have our clothing properly cleaned, pressed and repaired is a vital matter in our being rightly dressed and feeling and looking so.

That the plase above mentioned is no more nor less than a cleaning and pressing shop is now easily guessed.

The mass of work being done at this place attests the fact that many have already taken note of the "quality" workmanship turned out there.

At the same address is found the Cambridge Hand Laundry from which the cleaning and pressing shop gets its name.

Mr. Johnson who operates and manages the Cleaning and Pressing Shop informed me that he had been there, renting floor space from the laundry owners ,since Feb.—just three months.

While again in this locality last week Mr. Johnson was found establishing himself in new and more commodious quarters at 2019 Central Avenue next door to the Cambridge Laundry.

In explaining Mr. Johnson says that he finds his business grown so rapidly and to such proportions that it demanded expansion and larger quarters.

He has spent several years as a wage earner in one of the largest and best cleaning establishments where his careful and efficient workmanship gave him steady employment.

This same care and "quality" workmanship you will find him giving at the Cambridge Cleaning and Pressing Shop.

You will find both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson congenial, affable and ready to serve you with a smile.

"Ready service and 'quality' workmanship," they say is their motto.

Their remarkable growth tends to recommend them.

Ladies and men's tailoring will be an added feature to their work.

Their announcements and advertising may be found in subsequent editions of the paper.

JESSE PATTERSON ANSWERS LAS TCALL

"Pat" was the name by which he was affectionately known by all who knew Jesse Patterson in his lifetime. He was handy, obliging and considerate to a fault. If he had an enemy it was himself, carlessness of his own welfare undermined his health and at the age of 35 years he succumed to the great white plague. Pat was an ex-soldier of the World War, the government provided a casket draped with the American flag. His friends brought to the Roberts Undertaking Parlors floral offerings and placed them at his bier. They also came and paid their last respects. Rev. A. M. Ward beautifully protrayed the life of the deceased, while Mrs. Ward played the organ and led the singing.

And "Pat" though humble as he was, was put away and received homage at the hands of Christian people in a Christian land.

A bright spot was the attitude of his late employer C. E. Pearl, who was loyal unto death and saw that nothing was lacking as to the care and last attentions paid the deceased. was properly put away.

Mr. Pearl and all his employees, along with the editor of this paper were present with other friends who paid this young man their last respects.

$100,000 NEGRO SANITARIUM TO BE ESTABLISHED IN MEXICO

Mexican Governor Seeks Co-Operation of Race In Establishing Health Resort for Its Mexican and Negro Citizens.

Mexicali, Baja Mexico, May 9.—(Pacific Coast News Bureau) Special to Eagle. Seeking an opportunity to bring about a better understanding between the Mexican people and the colored Americans thru the establishment of a lasting memorial to the increasing friendship between the two races, one of the most important meetings that has ever been held between the two races was recently held in the beautiful San Francisco Cafe in Tia Juana, Mexico. Among those present were Lic. J. Inocente Lugo, Governor of Lower California; Louis G. Beltram, Mayor of Ensenada; R. D. Manriguis, Mayor of Tia Juana; W. P. Jorres, Mayor of Mexicali; Jose J. Montes, Chief of Palice of Tia Juana; Rob't P. Fite of Los Angeles, formerly efficiency expert of the Ford Motor Co., of New York; and Hugh E. Macbeth, General Counsel of the International Community Welfare League of Los Angeles.

To Establish $100,000 Sanitarium

As a result of this conference plans were drawn and definitely concluded to erect a $100,000 health sanitarium at the sulphur springs in the Santa Clara Valley, Lower California. The sanitarium is to be built in units costing $10,000 per unit; the first unit having been subscribed by Mayor Louis G. Beltram of Ensenada in behalf of the Mexican residents of the Ensenada district, and who will be asked to purchase "bricks" at 50 cents each as a donation to assist in building this sanitarium which will be shared without discrimination by all citizens of Mexico, regardless of Race or color. Other units will be secured by the Mexican citizens at the solicitation of Mayor Beltram who has been appointed by Gev. Lugo as Superintendent of the campaign throughout Lower California.

Under the supervision of Rob't P. Fite, formerly efficiency expert of the Ford Co., of New York and later general distributor of the Chevrolet thruout Southern California, with a reputation as the only representative that has ever sold $1,000,000 worth of Chevrolets retail in 90 days, the citizens of Southern California and other communities will be asked to subscribe for the remaining units.

An Eleemosnary Institution.

Ten acres upon which is located the noted sulphur springs has been donated by the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co., a Negro syndicate of Los Angeles, and deeded to the Sanitarium Corporation, which as an eleemosnary organization is composed of colored, white and Mexican personages, philanthropically inclined, who are interested in promoting a better feeling between the three races throughout Mexico where the Negro and other colored races are welcomed without prejudice.

An Ideal Location.

The sulphur springs noted by the Mexicans for years for their medicinal qualities lie in the beautiful Santa Clara Valley, about 40 miles by auto from the thriving Mexican seaport city Ensenada; and 60 miles from the Southern California city of San Diego.

Situated amid the mountains and only a few miles from the sea, the climate is equal to that which has made the state of California famous.

THE LEAGUE STILL LEADS

Our recent victory in the Primary election is portentous. Again the California Citizens Civic League goes on record for an overwhelming success. Our entire ticket carried with few exceptions. This result is due to our members nad friends. They no longer take things for "granted." The new day has produced a new Negro. This man is thinking. Once upon a time he allowed others to think for him. We rejoice that that condition no longer obtains. The Negro in "Politics" today is fast becoming a statist in the van. In public conflicts he is being trained and bred.

He has been taught that "Politics is a science of government." Our people are learning that it is more than that—it is the science of handling men; that shrewd reckoning and balancing of one group against the other; by recognition of his political functions and an accurate understanding of policies he is able to forecast a logical outcome from propositional boundaries. The thinker insists that Politics is "the art and science" that have to do with the management of men in the mass; that this management is founded upon a proficient practice of elemination and concentration. The practical politician does not seek to inoculate the "innumerable caravan" of voters with new ideas, on the contrary, he searches out the basic ideas that are already [illegible] and turns the results for the [illegible]is group.

to thank every one of our [illegible]heir invaluable assistance [illegible] to re-elect Mayor Cryer, the interest of our other [illegible] highly appreciated.

PEOPLE OF COLOR OF WEST AND GREAT EAST TO UNITE

For the first time in the history of the world, a group of Western men of African lineage, met Wednesday evening and organized a temporary society whose aim and purpose, God willing, is to bridge the chasm between the oppressed racial groups of this Western world and the Mohamedan world of the East.

The founding of a society whose emblem is to be The Crescent of The House of Islam and whose philosophy is to be that of the consistent Musulman, is a fact of universal significance and in accord with divine plan, the founders declare.

The meeting for permanent organization and the election of officers will be held next Wednesday evening at a place and hour to be announced later.

Mr. H. H. Gordon, an authority on things Aethiopic and Egyptian and a distinguished racial leader is the chairman, of the present organization, Abdullah Galli, Arabic traveller and veteran of three African Wars, a native of Somaliland, East Africa, and Pedro Byres, poet, African explorer and chronologist are the founders and the three outstanding men, whose cosmic minds have seen the vision and possessed the zeal to succeed in forming this virile nucleus of Mohamedanism, a movement predestined to contact and unite the Black Men of the Western World with hte Afibic and Turkish Worlds of the Great East, whose Moslem ranks will sound the call for justice and present solidarity of purpose to the Nominal Christian Whites.

THE DRUMS

(By Maria Mills)

Hear those Native Drums a-rolling
Through the jungle air, the news,
That from Western World are coming
Brother Legions sworn to loose
Each foul grasp of Christian Power
From bled Afric's tortured soil.
Legions teaching King and Subject
Their true worth; and thieves to foil.

Hear the drums! the Native wireless!
As the Message bounds away,
Redemption singing in each drum-beat
Flaming Faith to urge and sway.
Solidarity of purpose that will forever still
The leprous conscience that for centuries
Has held its brutal sway
And in the name of Jesus Christ
Dragged Men and Lands away!

Hear the Drums! Ah e'en the Wild Life
Senses in the vibrant air
New ways, and a new existence
For the tree-nest and the lair
When, the rot of Christian Power
Will have vanished with its Clay
And the Crescent of True Humans
Light the Earth for a New Day!
When The Sword that Jesus promised
Will turn Sons of Men to God
To forever sweep the hypocrite
From Afric's pregnant Sod.
Hear the Drums!

MODERN NEGRO'S CONTRIBUTION TO MUSICAL ART

(Mabel Travis Wood)

Everyone knows that Negroes have given to America much of her most typical and beautiful folk music thru the spirituals and plantation songs that have grown out of the life of the race. But what musical art owes to the modern Negro composer is not so generally recognized. There is today a wealth of music both sacred and secular which has come from the pens of Negro composers. Some of ti is based upon the spirituals, and some of it is not racial in character. Such Negro composers as Harry T. Burleigh, S. Coleridge-Taylor, Will Marion Cook, R. Nathaniel Dett, Carl R. Diton, J. Rosamond Johnson, and Clarence Cameron White have during the past fifteen years written songs of rare melody and originality, songs that will live.

Of late there has been a steady increase in the appreciation of musical compositions by Negroes both among white and colored groups, Church choirs have given over services to sacred compositions by Negro composers. Many women's clubs have devoted time at their sessions to the performance of religious compositions by Negro composers, especially the simpler choral works. Colored groups operating locally under Community Service have presented special programs of Negro music, combining the spirituals with songs by modern Negro composers. In New Haven, Connecticut, a festival of Negro music presented by a Negro community chorus and in Augusta, Georgia, a musical program made up largely of compositions by Negroes brought fresh musical knowledge and appreciation.

The Bureau of Community Music of Community Service, 315 Fourth Avenue, New York City, is endeavoring to foster this growing interest and to acquaint more music groups, both white and colored, with the possibilities offered by compositions by modern Negro composers. A bulletin, "Music Composed by Negroes" has been prepared by this Bureau and is sent out at the nominal charge of ten cents. It lists the compositions of seven of the foremost Negro composers, telling for what combinations of voices and instruments they are arranged and where they may be secured. Examples of well-balanced programs of Negro music which already have been presented are given. To help groups desiring to take up the study of performance of Negro spirituals the bulletin mentions the best existing collections of this type of music.

Community Service has made in this bulletin the first complete and satisfactory compendium of music by Negro composers. It will prove enlightening not only to Americans in general who may be unacquainted with the treasures that are contained in the storehouse of Negro music, but to colored groups which may not be familiar with all of the music that their race has produced.

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Gray.

The great Paderewski, that giant among pianists, has finished his concert tour for this season. He gave in all seventy recitals, and earned over a half million dollars. He is sixty-two years of age and is in great form physically. He lives for the most prat in his private car and practices many hours a day in order to keep himself in trim. For exercise he paces up and down the corridor of his car. On this last tour he took his own cook, and American Negro, who has been with him for twenty-nine years. What a wonderful opportunity this man has had to know Paderewski as he is and how interesting his experiences would be to the world if they could be written.

Under the supervision of Community Service, choruses are being formed in various parts of the United States for Negro singers. Geo. L. Johnson, one of the most prominent Negro singers and conductors in the United States, is in charge of the movement and has already established choruses in Parsons and Coffeyville, Kan., and Huntington, W. Va. Organizations are being planned in Dayton, Zanesville and Hamilton, Ohio; New Haven, Conn., and Knoxville, Tenn. Others of the forty colored centers throughout the country under the Community Service are also considering starting choruses.

Miss Edna Thomas, who specializes in Negro and Creole songs, was asked what made her first think of presenting them. She said:

"Because I happened to hear some badly done. When I heard those quaint, fascinating old Creole and Negro songs which awake in me such poignant memories of forgotten corners of my own childhood—when I heard those delicate melodies trying to hide like frightened children from the huge orchestra which tried to distort them—to bury them under an instrumentation like piles of garments and furbelows never intended for them—I felt so badly that I sat down that very night and wrote to my mother that I was coming home to collect all the old songs that I could find and do them the way they should be done.

"Their appeal is universal," says Miss Thomas, "all audiences love the beautiful melodies which the Negro songs have and they respond to that curious rhythm which they cannot define. Then the absolute sincerity that the Negro gives to the words of his songs and the quaint humor which all these songs carry—which comes to the listener but must never be suggested by the interpreter or else this lovely music takes on a hint of the ridiculous. That is one reason why I wear the hoop skirt. In order to keep the dignity. We who love and understand these things wish to do everything in our power to keep people from taking them lightly."

Miss Thomas is from New Orleans and expects to concertize in California next year. We are hoping that she will include Los Angeles in her list of cities. We regret that none of our own singers have awakened to the beauty of their heritage and since the death of Madame Azalia Hackley, we have been watching for signs of a new apostle.

FREEDOM

(Tune America)

Freedom! oh blissful sound
May all the world around,
Join in this song;
Sing praise to Him who gave
Abe Lincoln true and brave
The Negro race to save,
His praise prolong.

In darkness once we lay,
No hand to guide or stay,
No friend, no home!
But in that dreadful hour
Of slavery's mightiest power;
A man just for the hour,
"Thou" hadst him come.

We would has name revere,
With every heart sincere,
We'll sing his praise;
Sing o fhis birthday too,
Wave the red, white and blue,
For him who brought us thro,
Land his great name.

And now our God to Thee,
Author of liberty
Thy name we sing,
Move barriers from our land,
Lead us by Thy hand,
Until we reach "Home Land"
Great God, Our King.

By Mrs. Rev. C. C. Goins, for the Lincoln Birthday Celebration, Feb. 12, 1914, Richmond, Indiana.

Y. W. C. A.—If.

If you can dress to make yourself attractive
Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row be strong and active,
But of the gentler graces lose not sight;
If you can dance without a craze for dancing,
Play without giving play too strong a hold
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing,
Care for the weak, the friendless and the old
If you can master French and Greek and Latin,
And not acquire as well a priggish mein,
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin,
Without despising calico and jean
If you can ply a saw and use a hammer,
Can do a man's work when the need occurs;
Can sing, when asked, without excuse or stammer,
Can rise above unfriendly snubs and slur,
If you can make bread as well as fudges,
Can sew with skill, and have an eye for dust
If you can be a friend and hold no grudge
A girl whom all will love because they must,
If sometime you should meet and love another
And make a home with faith nad love

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Tomorrow is the big day with the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows. It is the day upon which all members as well as Lodges, Households, etc., come forth in all their resplendent glory and in some public place of worship give thanks to the Grand Master of the Universe for the manifold blessings which they enjoy. With this precept as a guiding star, this great order has prospered as few Orders have, as evidenced by the progress which it has made, not only in numbers, but in tangible results attained along the line of erecting buildings, establishing Endowment benefits and etc. In appreciation the founders of the order put in practise the Thanksgiving Day which has become the biggest event by this great Order and at this same hour all over the world Thanksgiving service will be held on this and every second Sunday in May forever and forever.

The Negro is the test of American Democracy.

The situation might be worse—cheer up.

You can't right a wrong even by slaughtering, it remains a wrong still.

Those whom we see to be Christians without the knowledge of the prophecies and evidences, nevertheless judge of their religion as well as those who have their knowledge. They judge of it by the heart, as others judge of it by the intellect.

As a rule the unrefined, illiterate, the stupid and uneducated are they who contribute to the crimes of this country. The intellectual and moral constitute the environments which lead a race up from the common walks of life.

It is peculiar how the Southerners reason upon the peonage question and their belief that the Negro is not human. Not only do we find the low element that the Negro is inferior, but from the pulpit, in the school room and the judiciary comes the echoes of souls long dead with prejudice and race hate, attempting to cast its ghostly shadows upon a new problem affecting the social welfare of the human race.

OLD FASHIONED MOTHER.

By: E. W. Kyle

A wise son maketh a glad father, but a foolish man despiseth his mother, says the proverbs. The very name of mother sounds like what we know and hear of the old times, and her name has a good old-fashioned meaning. She lived so long ago that it is strange to have any record of her, and we were not surprised, either, for she was of the kind whose name and fame endure. There were some mothers in that olden time whom we do not at all admire, and so we do not address to this one simply because she lived a long time ago, nor do we wish to heap any reproach upon the mothers of today just because they lived in a later age. We are fond of speaking of "Old-time Religion," "Old-fashioned Mothers," and the "Old-Time Homes," because they stand for things which endure, because they are built upon a rock foundation, because from them have come people and characters which have stood the test of time and have proven worthy of confidence.

You can look into those eyes, listen to that dear voice, and notice the feeling of even a touch that is bestowed upon you by that gentle hand. Make much of it while you have that most precious of all gifts, a loving mother. Read the unfathomable love of those eyes, the kind anxiety of that tone and look, however slight your pain. In after life you may have friends, fond, dear, kind friends—but never will you have again the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you which none but a mother bestows.

Years have passed since we laid her away beside our father in the cold church yard, yet her voice still whispers from the grave, and her eyes watch over us as we visit spots long since hallowed by her memory. Happy, successful "Old-Fashioned Mother!" Such faith, such sacrifice, such wisdom, such fidelity do not produce a race of sentimental weaklings, of grown-up babies, of untrustworthy men and women when great tasks are to be undertaken and great responsibilities are to be borne! She is not perfect, she makes mistakes in judgment and discipline, she is far from what she ought to be, from what she wants to be and continually strives to be, but because she is so genuine, because she makes no claim for herself, because she loves so and sacrifices so, and prays and works and trusts, we have nothing for her but admiration, sympathy and love and confidence.

Amid the roar of mirth we hear only her voice; in the glitter of dissipation we feel her gentle hand upon our brow; in the midst of business when failure stares us in the face 'tis that soft voice dispelling the gloom and giving us courage to go forward. We wear in her honor the badge of a white flower, and pay tribute to the best of God's creatures, AN "OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER"—Let her last days be bright and happy. Pay more attention to her that your days may be long upon the land the Lord God giveth thee.

We hear the much oft talk of giving the people a religious training to conduct them on through a close avenue, where they can look straight before them to discry distant spiritual objects, while shut out from all the scenes right and left, by fences that tell them there is nothing that concerns them there. There may be rich and beautiful fields of knowledge, but they are not to be trampled by vulgar feet.

All pleasure must be bought at the price of pain. The difference between false pleasure and true is just this: for the true, the price is paid before you enjoy it; for the false, after you enjoy it. How much we regret to see so generally abandoned to the weeds of vanity that fertile and vigorous space of life, in which might be planted the oaks and fruit trees of enlightened principle and virtuous habit, which, growing up, would yield to old age an enjoyment, a glory, and a shade.

NEGRO MIGRATION.

Negro migration is disturbing the South. The shortage of labor is disturbing both northern and southern employers. The South would stop Negroes from leaving. The northern employers would flood the country with immigrants.

It is not to the point merely to call the immigration (so longed for by Judge Gary) "cheap labor." For while the average immigrant does have a lower standard than the American worker, black or white, at the same time, when the supply of labor becomes so excessive, all wages begin to come down. No one knows this better than Mr. Gary of the United States Steel Trust. And no more dangerous force could be operating for the repeal of the law limiting immigration than Judge Gary. He has great economic, political and social influence, and he is an untiring worker.

Now is the time for Negroes to migrate from the South. They should become intrenched in every industry—so thoroughly intrenched that they cannot be so easily removed in future years.

Negro migration helps the Negroes who migrate because they get better jobs where wages are higher, hours shorters, work more desirable, conditions more humane, civil rights more secure, plus political power. Their leaving also helps the Negroes behind because it holds out a constant threat to the Southern white employers. These white bourbons say: "We've got to treat the Negroes here better or they will all leave. Besides if we treat them bettr, the others who have gone may return."

And this is quite true. Of course the Negroes are coming North for better economic opportunities. They are in search of higher wages. It is true Negroes would like to escape lynching, jim-crow cars, discrimination of all kinds, and general abuse and injustice. But they are not coming away for that Reason: For the last twenty-five years more Negroes have migrated from the North to the South than from the South to the North, until the war work attracted Southern Negroes to high wage fields.

The reason is fundamentally economic. People don't live, as a rule, especially where they desire, but where they must—that is, where they can get work. This is as true of white as of Colored people. The Pilgrim Fathers came to America—not to worship God according to their consciences, but in order to chase gold. The white people of Europe will leave the culture and refinement and comforts of Paris, London or Berlin and go into the Klondike—unInviting and uncomfortable though it be generally—in order to amass wealth. Negroes who enjoy the best mixed, non-segregated schools of Boston, New York and Chicago, who have the right to vote, to go into the best theatres, hotels and places of public accommodation will pack up and go to Florida, the back door of Georgia, every winter—not because they like the place, but because they can secure work at good wages, or good returns in tips and wages.

It is well that this migration should be thoroughly understood. It is well that we should catch the economic significance of this movement of Negroes from Dixie. It makes little difference what any leaders, white or colored, northern or southern, may say—these Negroes are going to get to the high wage fields. And should the South at some future time develop to the industrial stage of demanding large numbers of workers who would be paid higher wages than the northern industries are paying, then Negroes and white people will migrate from the North to the South of these United States. A study of the situation, too, would probably reveal that the Southern whites are migrating, also. They are trying to get part of these 'nickels' which revived industry is offering.

GIVE YOUR HANDS FASTIDIOUS CARE

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc. M. D.
1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

Your hands act as first aids many times a day, for there are very few things that can be accomplished without the assistance of these helpful members. They should not only be servants, but an attraction and an additional feature of your charm. Next to the face, the hands are the most useful means of expression, even indicating at times the state of repose, agitation and excitement of the mind.

Since the hands are so conspicuous and all important, they cannot be passed by with a careless washing and then pronounced "clean." Scrupulous attention always should be given to the hands. If neglected, they become excellent carriers of disease germs. The hands must not only be kept clean, but every effort should be made to preserve the skin and keep it in a soft condition.

If the hands are chapped or rough, cold cream massaged thoroughly into them at night is most beneficial. After the application of cream, dust the hands with a good talcum powder. This prevents the cream getting in contact with the bed linen and nightrobe. Bathing the hands in glycerine and rose water also is most helpful.

Those who have lean, awkward hands can easily overcome this appearance of general clumsiness. Bathe the hands often in hot water and then rub them in cornmeal and cottonseed oil, and keep them dry. The results of this treatment are surprising. Exercise of the fingers and muscles of the hands also greatly assist in beautifying them.

Blemishes, such as warts, very often may be removed by a lotion made of one dram of salicylic acid and flexible collodion, one ounce. Paint a little of this on the wart with a brush twice daily for two or three days. Then the wart should be soaked in water and scrubbed with pumice stone. This treatment may be continued until the warts disappear. If they are very small they may sometimes be removed just by keeping them dry and applying boric acid.

The nails are the finishing touches of hte hands. They protect the ends of the fingers, and give htem a better grasp on objects. If they are brittle and break easily, there is some disorder in the general health which needs attention. Soaking the nails in hot water very often softens them. Then there is the other extreme of very soft nails which have a tendency to turn over. Very often applications of cocoa butter and castor oil is all that is necessary to toughen them.

Finger nails should be slightly curved from side to side, light pink in color, and the lunula or small white space at the base should be visible, and the entire nail smooth. They are then in a healthful perfect condition. Well manicured nails are the "beauty spots" of the hands.

Dirt very often gets under the nail. Not only is this disgusting to see, but it also is a means of conveying germs times causing serious trouble. Every person ought to wash his hands and remove any deposits from under the nails before eating. Use soap and water and a nail brush to clean the nails. Never use the end of scissors or the blade of a penknife for this purpose.

Cut the nails in a curve or file them away. An orangeweed stick is used to push back the outer skin which comes down over the root of the nail. If not often gently pushed back, this becomes torn and ragged, making openings in the skin which are excellent lodging places for infectious matter.

Blood-poisoning has occured from infected and neglected hangnails. Unsightly stains on the hands may be removed by a solution of acetic acid and rosewater, one part of the former to sixteen parts of the latter. It is always wise occasionally to visit a medical manicurist and to have the nails put in perfect condition. Then the individual can generally care for his nails and keep them in good condition for a long time.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

THE BYSTANDER

How it hurt Sunday to have a member of the other race, in the person of Congressman Dyer pay us a visit and try to arouse our spirits of lethargy and indolence. Here was a bill introduced and sponsored by members of the opposite race, and particularly for our benefit, yet many of us had to wait until this Congressman left his post of duty, and traveled a few thousands of miles to bestir us, before we could be aroused to a sense of duty. We spoke of the shame of America, but here we have disgrace upon the Negro. The fact that some of us have been fortunate enough to escape the toils of mob law, and the cry of "lynch," precludes us from taking a retrospective view and giving a few serious moments of thought to the less fortunate. No one seemed better informed as to the strength and weakness of the race than Mr. Dyer. He had found that our biggest asset lay in church organization, and accordingly, stressed this point with unminced words. Our weak spot, as was pointed out, is utter disinterest through lack of proper organization and sensible investment. We like the crowd, noise, the road of least resistance and new self-satisfaction.

Nothing new was told, nothing startling. The only surprise was the fact that Mr. Dyer was so ably informed of our status in life. We were glad that he came. We welcomed his message. The hope now is that these words coming from the source of many colored people's encyclopedia of belief, may cause less talk and more action. The N. A. A. C. P. to say the least got some more subscriptions.

Atty. L. K. Beeks
Office 822 Central Avenue.
The Same Thing.

The Attorney General of this great state, in summing up his argument before the United States Supreme Court in Washington recently, stated in substance that if the Negro of the South had possessed the energy and alertness of the Japanese on the coast, the South would have been taken by Negroes. This is the supposed bugaboo of the South, and it makes the Klan noisy and loud.

Backward whites on the coast and in the Southland, straggle around and wait for malicious and crooked legislation to hurl them into fortune and possession. The papers say that 2000 were initiated into Klandom a few days ago. Let's counteract all of this scarecrow propaganda by blaring in our headlines, "Three or four thousands have joined the N. A. A. C. P."

Some Statistics.

If the colored people had availed themselves of the opportunity and casted about 30,000 or 30,000 votes at the primaries, instead of about 10,000 scattered ones, all things would have been added unto them by now. It would have been a signal of awakening and the town would have been aglow. Propositions, offers and jobs would have been as plentiful as the sands on the sea. But nay, it was not so. Therefore we sleep on undismayed and undisturbed.

The brotherhood of Wesley Chapel met in the social hall of the Church Tuesday evening and spent a most enjoyable hour in speechmaking. After the spell of discussion came a most acceptable repast to the enjoyment of all present.

WANTED! A SHINGLE

Gus Russell of the Santa Fe Lumber Company of San Francisco wants a shingle. Not a lawyer's shingle, not one of those distressing shingles that the learned medicos call "herpes zoster," and not any old shingle. He wants the oldest sawn shingle in California. When he gets it he will place it in General de Young's Park Museum.

With the assistance of Frank L. Mulgrew, Peter B. Kyne and others, Gus saved the shingle at the last election when the State Housing Act which would have made the shingle an outlaw, was chopped into kindling wood by the intelligent voters. So Gus proposes to honor the shingle.

The shingle, says Gus stands for something significant in California. The first roofs built by the Argonauts were of shakes, thin split boards made by driving a wedge through a log. Many examples of shake roofs may still be found in the mountains of California. Shakes were always made on the premises. Sawn shingles did not appear until a more permanent civilization came, so sawn shingles mark the beginning of community life in California. Sawn shingles were tanglible evidence that the rough, shifting social base of pioneer times had become stabilized. Hence Gus Russell's interest in the oldest shingle to be found in California.

Here is a clue. The latest volume issued by the California Historical society contains "The Chronicles of George C. Yount." Yount was a pioneer of 1826. Under date of 1833—mind you, we are speaking of California—I find this entry:

"From Benicia Yount proceeded to Petaluma, and the Missions of San Rafael and Sonoma. The padre of the two missions, recognizing his all-around frontier ingenuity, hired him to make some needed repairs on the buildings. Mrs. Watson says that Yount was the first person to make shingles in Alta, California."

And we are referred to a manuscript in the Bancroft library which contains the following:

"I made arrangements with Geo. Yount to manufacture shingles to shingle Vallejo's house in Sonoma.

"The shingles had to be made in the most primitive manner as we had no machinery. The tree was felled, barked, cross cut off in blocks of 18 inches long, then split and shaved. With all those difficulties Yount and myself used to make about 1000 shingles a day each, and I have seen men make as many as 1500. Those shingles we made were the first that had been seen in the country."

Gus Russell is offering a prize for the oldest shingle. Somebody in or about Sonoma ought to make an effort to win it.

DELAYED NEWS

States in Class C (asked to raise $500,): Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, South Carolina, North Carolina, Utah, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

States	Class	Amount
11	A	$55,000.00
14	B	42,000.00
13	C	6,500.00
	Total Amount	$103,500.00

We all know how our A. M. E. brethren raise their Dollar Money, the big strides they make by acting together. To aid our brethren to make the task easy, we are urging that each pastor appoint a National Baptist Convention Committee of three in his church, who will canvass every member for ONE DOLLAR for the National Baptist Convention work and that the 5th Sunday in July, the 29th, be set apart as our ALL TOGETHER DAY. On that day no pastor is to fill his own pulpit, but exchange with a brother minister in or out of his state and one-third of the amount pledged by your church, be raised; the second third to be raised and reported at the National Baptist Convention in Los Angeles, September 5th, and the last third be raised on the 1st Sunday in December.

By these plans, your church, the Baptists of your state and our national workers can all do their part to the glory of God, to the help of His cause in the earth and the expanding of the Christian character of manhood and womanhood in all our churches.

Having served my brethren in a public way for twenty-seven years and knowing my brethren as I do and thinking of the great death toll during the past seven months of our ministerial comrades, I believe a deep consciousness has come over us who remain to come nearer God in our efforts to fulfill our task of the world's work. This appeal is made to "Owe No Man" by freeing our National Baptist Convention of debt, that it may enlarge its influence for good; unite the hands of our Boards that they may do better work in the fields we have assigned them and build our Publishing House that it may enlighten the masses by flooding the country with religious literature. In the hope of united prayer and effort till the task is done, I am,

Yours in His service,
L. G. JORDAN.

MINING MAN A VISITOR

Mr. E. B. Patterson, representing the Comobabi Consolidated Mine Company, was a visitor at the Eagle offices this week. He is in Los Angeles for a brief vacation.

Mr. Patterson, in company with Mr. W. T. Allen, Treasurer of the Company, left six months ago for Tucson, Arizona, to assist Mr. G. W. Miller, President of the firm, to put into shape an independent property to sell.

The mining man's report is that developments are progressing beyond the most optimistic expectations. During the period spent by Mr. Patterson in Arizona, a vein of ore has been opened up, 20 feet wide, averaging $116.00 to the ton. They have several other claims, upon which they are working, and which it is proposed to develop to a greater extent before placing the same upon the market.

At the time Mr. Patterson left Arizona last week, the workmen were just entering a large quarts porphyry vein, that showed every indication of carrying rich gold values. This vein is twenty-five feet in width, and it can be traced for miles across the country on the surface. The Company had planned to show this property up within ninety days, but on account of delays in operations, it will take some 60 days longer. Mr. Patterson will be in Los Angeles about ten days, before returning to the basis of operations.

Dr. Abner arrived on Saturday, May 12, and is the house guest of Dr. Mahlon C. Cooley, of East 12th Street. He will shortly return to his home in Oakland.

Choirs Compete in Brilliant Contest

The Popularity Choir Director's contest given at Phillips Chapel C. M. E. Church last Tuesday evening by Mrs. H. E. Norwood was a huge success. Three choirs were represented. The Christian Church Choir, with Mrs. Brandon as director could not be present, but they sent in a donation which was greatly appreciated. St. Paul Choir with Prof. Pitts as director, rendered two beautiful numbers which were graciously received. Metropolitan Choir with Mme. Outley as director rendered two beautiful numbers which also demanded great applause. The first prize, a director's gold pin was won by Metropolitan Choir. The second prize a $5.00 gold piece was won by St. Paul Choir.

Both Choirs sang beautifully. Aside from the Choir contest an enjoyable program was rendered. Eevry one went away highly pleased with the entertainment. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Norwood for this wonderful effort which was both entertaining and very successful financially. Mrs. Norwood and her sister Mrs. Obelia Teele, will leave Sunday morning at 9 p. m. for a visit to their mother in Dallas, Texas, on their return they make several stops giving concerts in Chicago and several other Eastern cities.

Migration of Negro Labor

The migration of Negro labor from the Southern States continues, and it is causing untold losses to the firms and plantations of those sections. While the lure of higher wages is one of the reasons for this exodus; it is not the primary one. That is, if we are to judge it by the stories told by the men and women who have, virtually, left most of their earthly possessions behind them in the flight from terrorism.

We have been told that since the exposure of the cruelties of peonage the lower and criminal classes of the white population have entered on an organized system of terrorism, unbearable.

It has been stated—and the statement seems to be borne out by the confession of the Florida Ex-Jailer, who testified to the bestiality of the county officials—that there is no means of redress because the officers of most of the counties are of the lower strata of society. It being almost an impossibility to elect decent white men to such positions as sheriff and other county offices.

Many of the men and women who have fled the South, naturally, prefer that section. To many it holds memories that are dear to all, but as one man remarked. "I hated to leave! My parents and my wife are buried there, but when I looked at my growing daughters and realized under what handicaps they would grow into a decent womanhood, I decided to seek other fields." It is up to the decent white people of the South to take up once again duties which they laid aside, and were usurped by Tillman, Blease, Williams, Harrison, Vardaman, and that ilk who with cacophonous voices have risen to political power through exploitation of the Negro. Give the South decent officers for law enforcement, and the labor movement will cease.

Pride: The Right Kind

We listened, recently to a member of the United States Congress who addressed an audience composed mostly of Colored people.

He spoke under to auspices of a nationally famed organization, and in behalf of an equally nationally famed measure.

It was a lucid address, replete with the recital of brutalities which should cause self respecting America to blush with shame.

The speaker showed a knowledge of the racial traits of his audience enough to cause one to wonder if they had obeyed the injunction, "Man know thyself." It was during that portion of his address which related to the apathy shown when the Association was in dire distress for means to carry on its war for humanity, that he mentioned that a white woman who was interested in the fight for justice, gave a check for ten thousand ($10,000) dollars. The audience applauded. We bowed our heads in shame: Twelve million Negroes is the estimate of the population of the United States. Ten thousand dollars is good to carry on a cause that would aim to put a stop to the brutalities against the Race by mobs. Is it possible that among that twelve million there was not ten thousand Negroes with enough race pride to pay one dollar each to "Carry On?" There is pride and there is Pride. No end can be gained without effort. One puts it that "The road to heaven is to do something with all your might, the road to hell is to do nothing persistently." If we would put an end to the evils which we now, through injustice, endure we must have enough PRIDE to do for ourselves.

Rifts in the Cloud.

The Florida Legislature has passed the bills prohibiting the whipping of Peon prisoners in the convict camps. The death of a white boy was necessary to awake the good people from their apathy. Awake them to the knowledge that their beautiful State was being pointed out as a specimen of ignorant brutality meriting the scorn of civilization. The Federal Court of the same State, (Florida) has indicted, the former sheriff of Leon county, J. R. Jones. The whipping boss in the convict camp of the Putnam Lumber Co, Walter Higgenbotham, and the Superintendent of the camp, Fisher. They were indicted on charges growing out of the legislative probe into the death of an aged Negro, Ned Thompson by name, who it is alleged, died as the result of brutal treatment while in the Putnam camp.

If the Federal court will adequately punish them if convicted we will begin to believe that at last, "The dawn is breaking."

Sponsored by Wm. Jennings Bryan, the Florida legislature has before it a resolution banning the teaching of Darwinism in the public institutions of the state.

The Apostle of sirteen to one has been "up in the air" ever since some one had the temerity to suggest that man was descendnt of the anthropoid ape or some of the monkey species. The great Commoner could not see it that way.

We wonder if he ever gave a thought to the dastardly crimes which have been unearthed by the recent exposures. We suggest not. Even pious hypocricy oftimes takes on a different complexion with its environs.

Why The Attitude?

One would think that when a people have fled from surroundings which had become unbearable; and were acquainted, first hand, with persecution and prescriptions; Yes, one would think that those people would be overly anxious to assist in any movement which could ameliorate the condition of those whom they left behind. But the hardest task that one can take, and be successful, is to seek to convince the person who has but recently arrived from one of the Southern states that it is a dire necessity that he or she join the ranks of forward thinking groups in the fight for better conditions for the Negro in those sections. It is a task to get them to contribute their money or to give their moral support. Having escaped from thralldom they have no heed for the ones who remain. This is not as it should be. Let us think it over, and join heartily in the movement for racial uplift.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Umpire Negro National League.
By William Narcsise

The Declamation Contest was won by Miss Ethelwyn Hunter of Pasadena High School. Before a full house at the A. M. E. Church last Friday night ten representatives of the various high schools declaimed for all they were worth, in an effort to win for his school the beautiful loving-cup and a gold medal for himself. The school winning this cup three consecutive years keeps it permanently. So far, no one school has won it more than once. Mr. Clarence Brothers of Manual Arts High School, was second, and was awarded a silver medal. Other speakers who deserved honorable mention, were: Miss Viola Bacom, of Lincoln High School and Miss Edna Johnson, of Jefferson High School.

Previous winners of this contest were: Mr. Wilalyn Stovall, Hollywood High School, 1920; Miss Mildred Washington, Los Angeles High School 1921; Miss Marjorie Bright, Polytechnic High School, 1922; and Miss Ethelwyn Hunter, Pasadena High School 1923.

Miss Benniemal Pryor, student at Lincoln High School, again received four ones in solids. Miss Pryor has been in the Alpha Society (a scholarship organization) for four terms.

Miss Mildred Boyd who just entered Lincoln this term has received three ones in solids, missings the Alpha Society by one I. Misses Pryor and Boyd are to be commended on their high scholarship standing.

In the Long Beach-Jefferson baseball game, last Friday, Jimmy Sims, Long Beach second baseman, played the game of his young life. He was the first man up for the Eastsiders, and he clouted the ball over the fence, he repeated this stunt a couple of times. In addition to his heavy hitting, he played faultless ball at the second sack.

Hollywood won the State Meet Saturday, in one of the greatest and hottest contested prep meets that was ever held in Los Angeles, with 17 1-2 points; closely followed by Sacramento with 15 markers. Archie Woodyard, Jeff's speed marvel, surprised a good many fans, by placing third in the 220 yd. dash, and his failure to place in the century. He was beaten in the 220 by Lee of Franklin, who won the event(and Smith of San Fernando. Woodyard was, without a doubt, off of his game, while Old Dame Fortune favored the winners greatly. Hurlic and Whizard of Pasadena, ran true to form in the relay, which Pasadena won by yards. They now have the opportunity, for which so many athletes yearn, and that is, a sure trip to Chicago for the National Inter-Scholastic track meet, May 25 and 26. These lads deserve a lot of credit for their excellent achievements.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA NOTES

The Alpha Delta Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity concluded its Educational Campaign on last Sunday, May 13, with two well attended meetings.

On the afternoon of the above date the Chapter entertained a large gathering of High School and College students with an Educational Fete at the Parish Hall of the Episcopal Church. Nearly every High School in Los Angeles was represented, as well as U. S. C. and S. B. U. C. Pep was plentiful and the various High School and College yells demonstrated an enthusiasm that was gratifying to the onlookers. This coupled with the brilliant address by Dr. Stoner, executive secretary of U. S. C. and the splendid program, contributed to make the affair quite the most unique and enjoyable event witnessed in the city for many moons.

Sumptuous— refreshments— were served in banquet style. The many young people seated around the beautifully decorated tables, presented a picture vivid with the spirit of youth, and glowing with the vitality of our youth of today from whence will come our leaders of tomorrow.

Beside the addresses of the afternoon the program consisted of the following numbers:

Remarks by the President of Alpha Delta Chapter, M. James McGregor; Cornet Solo, Mr. William Prince, accompanied by Mr. Henry Prince; Piano Solo, Miss Marion Carter; Selection by the Crown City Quartette; Messrs. William Prince, Arthur Prince, William Stoard and Aramis Fouche. Mr. Arthur Prince served as toast master. Mr. Malcolm H. Patton, Chairman of the Educational Campaign Committee, arranged the affair.

Pasadena Meeting

In the evening the Chapter journeyed to Pasadena and conducted its final meting at the A. M. E. Church of that city. A large an appreciative gathering was present to lend courage to the young men of Alpha Phi Alpha and listen with interest to the following program:

Remarks by the Presiding Officer, Mr. Malcolm H. Patton; A Cornet Solo, Mr. William Prince, accompanied by Mr. Henry Prince; Address: "The Advantages of a Higher Learning," Mr. Arthur Prince; Selections by the Quartette, Messrs. William Arthur Prince, William Stoard and Arannis Fouche. Address: "Booker T. Washington, the Great Educator," Mr. James McGregor; Baritone Solo, Mr. Malcolm H. Patton; and Remarks by Rev. Cooper, Pastor of the Church.

The Chapter members desire to thank the people fo Los Angeles and Pasadena for the kind support and cooperation given them in putting the Educational Campaign "Over the Top."

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—33rd and Hooper Ave.
M. Frederick Mitchell, Pastor.

Last Sunday's services at our church were a record breaker. Sunday morning and evening pastor Mitchell lifted his auditors upon a higher ground, with two wholesome and inspiring discourses. In the evening as a rule, we had quite a few visitors. The choir under the management of Viola Harris Brandon said they would give as an unique "Mother's Day Service. They did in the deepest dye of the word. The Boston Quartette sang "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Prof. Loronel Pollard, Baritone, sang "Little Mother of Mine." Mrs. Bertha Spruell "Mother Machree." Mr. G. C. Coleman "Mother's Prayer." These songs together with the whole-hearted testimonials made a deep and abiding impression upon the appreciated audience that joined us. The oldest mother present was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. She was Mrs. Jane Hall.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Y. M. C. A. NOTES
Ye Old Swimmin' Pool

Say! Friend, here's a tip:
Come, take a little dip
Where the waves heave and slip
In the nifty swimmin' pool at the "Y";
'Tis a well-established rule
That it's always pleasant and cool
After a hard day at school
And when Sol makes the world parched and dry.
—"Y"tery.

All of which is the introduction to what we have to write concerning our swimming tank, the modern heat-chaser, which has just been blessed with two honest-to-goodness coats of white and blue enamel. Upon our word, it is in very good shape, clean, shining, and inviting. The pool will have a background of white which will harmonize with the azure of the sky and the deep-blue of the miniature sea.

A large supply of new steel lockers have been received. This fact is welcome news to those who can make use of them. Beside, the dressing rooms will be repaired, for the comfort of all mermaids, as well as the mermen.

The following were among the best boy swimmers last season: George Nelson, Doll Nelson, Earl Hall, Earl Robinson, Stanley Curtis, and Hayward Jones. Their ages range from eleven to fifteen years. Mr. Robertson took some of them to Elsinore last July fourth, and declared them excellent swimmers. They swam from one to one mile and a half.

Chief among the high school swim stars last year were Willie Straks, Wallace Markham, Kenneth Levy, and Leroy Johnson. Of the older fellows, Paul Pettiford, of Indianapolis, our own Wilayyn Stovall, Charles and Erskine Ragland, stood out as good performers. We are glad to announce two new-comers in Louis Rosser, of Arizona nad George Greene, of Seattle.

Hayes Robertson, our instructor, plans some good swimming meets, and maybe a little water polo, and at the end of the season will award the lucky ones with certificates. He will be assisted by Jesse Kimbrough and Guy Bailey.

By the way—the tank will be open to girls and the day is Tuesday, from ten to five-thirty. Second year girls and ladies one dollar, beginners will be taxed two. Misses Ranger, Alice Jones, Erma Banks, were considered very good, in fact, stellar performers. Mrs. Lottie Bolds Anderson was reported rapidly improving. Rosetta Banton is one of the best of the younger girls. Mrs. Byers, recently of San Diego will be on hand this season in some splendid exhibitions.

Hand Ball Court to be Cemented

The hand ball court will be cemented and another coat of paint will be administered the wall, so that the fellows may have good work-outs, and at the same time improve the wind. This game of handball is an excellent contest for skill, accuracy, and endurance. We are planning several tournaments this summer. And this means that you had better don your gym or tennis shoes for the fray.

Bessie Coleman Pictures to Ean Diego

Moving pictures of the flights of Miss Bessie Coleman, our aviatrix, which were shown at the Y during last week proved educational and entertaining. A comedy preceded her pictures thereby making the performance even better. These pictures of the noted flyer in Germany and the United States will be shown in San Diego on the twenty-first, at one of the schools there.

Improve Gym For Classes

Work has started on the gym for classes for business men and other groups. These classes will begin in June. The purpose is to provide recreation and exercise for our busy men. It will mean renewed interest in their work, vigor, and good health for them to spend a little time in private and group work on the mats, working with the punching bags, the chest-weights, on the handball courts, playing volly-ball, or in the swimming tank. Come, over men. Let us reason together.

Athletic League to Begin Work.

A meeting was called of the Leaders of the Inter-Sunday Athletic League(, and definite plans were made concerning the activities of the League. Groups from all of the Sunday Schools will be entered in various contests during the coming months.

Interest is High in Annual Track Fest

Many blanks for our annual track Heights Y on May 30th, have been and field meet to be held at the Boyle mailed and given out to enthusiasts, and a great meet is expected when local and visiting stars compete for honors in the annual classic a la cinderpath. Have you an entry blank?

VALUE OF A LIBERAL EDUCATION IN BUSINESS.

(Second Article)

By Charlie Mae Webb)

Men and women in every walk of life recognize the importance of a well-rounded, liberal education. They know that when an individual has diligently pursued a carefully designed course of studies for a broad educational foundation, his mind has been trained, his perception is keen, and his judgment good. An individual is then capable of pursuing successfully any specialized training for useful endeavor.

There is felt in the business world today an increasing need for educated men and women. Training along one line is not sufficient in business to meet the demands of our complex society. Colleges and business schools and institutions realize this and are adopting programs of general knowledge in connection with the regular work in business theory and practice.

It is with the hope of inspiring boys and girls, men and women to acquire through the high school and university and the library, and through contact with the study of their fellowmen, a broad education as the adequate preparation for a business career that this article is written.

The prerequisites of a liberal education call for a knowledge of many subjects, which include science—natural, exact, and social; history—ancient, medieval and modern; modern languages; literature; and commerce.

Students the world over have pondered over difficult mathematical problems and have been made to think. Attention to the details involved in the study of chemistry, physics, and biology, as well as other kindred subjects, shows the importance of small things, the value of research work, and the training derived therefrom. Of the social sciences may be mentioned ethics, philosophy, psychology, and sociology. A careful study and application of the principles of these will prove invaluable in business activity. Executives include in their advance studies, the study of men, in order that they may the better understand them as individuals and groups, and use this knowledge in the expanding of their commercial institutions.

In the study of history we are able to ascertain the forces which, in other days, actuated men. The continual march of events demands the attention of every wide-awake man and woman in business, because they must be able to see clearly ahead and so adjust their programs and work not only for individual aims, but for "greatest good to the greatest number."

A knowledge of at least modern foreign languages is necessary in business. One should learn thoroughly and speak fluently not only his mother tongue, but the language of the people on whom he depends for trade and business relations. Froeign heads of businesses are constantly consulted and ofttimes the most intimate business relations result, which demand mutual understanding.

Every day we note the rapid advancement in industry and commerce. New methods are employed. Consequently, many things are accomplished in a very limited amount of time. Commercial, and international law should be studied if the prospective business man would be successful.

Aspirations, and suffering of the many peoples of the earth in all ages are made known in literature. The tremendous output of books each year attest the fact that the lessons derived from the lives of great men, are a source of inspiration throughout life.

Liberally-trained individuals are enabled to see the public through the eyes of sympatheitc observers, practical and far-visioned executives, and able captains of industry and commerce.

Having touched upon the theory and requirements of a liberal education we shall now turn to the practical applications of business.

Many good traits in the individual of a broad foundation are displayed when he pursues a new or specialized course, or begins the practice of business. Chief among these sterling qualities are accuracy, consideration, order, discrimination, appreciation, and vision.

The trained mind strives for accuracy in business. Facts, accurate details, things as they actually are, not as we should like to have them, are gathered and filed, and used. It is quality through accuracy, and not quantity with inaccuracy, that the well-trained injects into business transactions and operations.

Consideration for the opinions and training of others is another quality dominant in the broad man or woman. Business men realize that no one man has in hemself all of the attributes for successful and perfect organization. It is change, progress, that is always needed in business establishments; and managers, and employees as well, must furnish ideas and wrok in harmony.

Some one has said that order is the first law of heaven.

Through years of training and acquisition of general knowledge order has become habitual with those entering business. It is the manager, and worker who is systematical who orderly in his business activities who evokes the respect fo his associates, and makes a lasting impression on clients. A glance at a man's desk may reveal the kind of business man he is.

Another trait displayed in discrimination, the selection of what is good from the bad, the ability to recognize the honest from the dishonest man. This careful and correct selection often means smooth business operations, and permanent service to the worthy.

Broadly educated men and women in business are big enough to know that "no man liveth to himself." They come in contact with others in the office or shops, in other business establishments, and appreciate what they learn from the everyday experiences, and the advice given. They do not imitate directly, but assemble the wealth of information, and then make their own conclusions. Such gratitude and appreciation make noble lives in the world of business.

Imagination or more emphatically, vision, is an asset to any business man or woman. By means of this quality, he is able to see far beyond present conditions, sometimes disturbing and even discouraging and behold the lght of a brighter day.

There are many things of merit that one with a liberal education and business ability can give for the success of business enterprise. This in part, we have endeavored to show through the application of education to business. Efficiency in business is of paramount importance; and it is the efficient and liberally-trained whom we may depend on. It is the same today as when Victor Hugo said: "He who every morning plans the transaction of the day and follows out that plan carries a thread that will guide him through the labyrinth of the most busy life. The orderly arrangement of his time is like a ray of light which darts itself thru all his occupations. But where no plan is laid, where the disposal of time is surrounded merely to the chance of incidents, chaos will soon reign.

In attempting to interpret the meaning of service, we have only to refer to those who have been instrumental in building up the tremendous business institutions of which we are proud, and without which we would be hampered greatly in obtaining the necessaries of life. It is the willingness to be of service to fellow-men, and aid in the promotion of the public welfare. With the years of strict training the liberally-trained man or woman has a wonderful opportunity to become apostles of service. They are better equipped with knowledge of the world in general, and together with technical business traning the problems of the community nad the nation should interest them and inspire them to useful endeavor. Service ought to be the slogan of everyone, and not only everyone but the things they own and their belongings. Service ought to be the slogan of EVERY business house.

Business men and women with a broad, general education may so impress customers that they will return to their stores and offices, and reward them, upon solicitation, with continued orders. Again, the personal touch and interest so necessary in hte business world may be stated briefly, in the following summary, attention, courtesy, promptness, consideration and satisfaction.

The liberally and specially-trained in business show initiative. They are able to plan, and carry out such programs that will result in increased activity and expansion.

Attention to the new, as well to the old customer is one of the best ways to make business friends. For such action the buyer will feel welcome and save time in transactions.

Not frankness alone is sufficient, courtesy too, must not be forgotten. Courtesy in demonstrations, before and after sales and deals has a lasting influence, not only on the stranger, but on the regular customer as well.

Promptness in delivering the goods, in completing transactions is another asset for success in business. The salesman or business head should show in his disposition and attitude that he wants to serve, that he is efficient, and desirous to please.

Many people come into business places wht a feeling of depression and disgust. Perhaps there is some financial trouble but a smile, a cheering greeting, a human interest and consideration will evoke pleasure from the one who wishes to buy. It should be the policy of the business man to uphold service for the public ever.

A satisfied customer will mean much to the enterprise. Only through this kind of a person can permanent trade and business be realized. The feeling between the man or woman before and behind the counter, the desk, the manager and the caller, should be mutual. These things we maintain, can be best hoped for when the liberal-minded, and trained co-operates with his fellows in the world of business and affairs.

There is in the world an unceasing demand for men and women with higher education and training. Those who understand human nature and are thoroughly acquainted with the theory of business administration, and enterprise; who are capable of dealing fairly and successfully with people, thus becoming cogs in the wheels that keep the economic and business world moving.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION IN BUSINESS

The Third Article by Katrina Bryant.

To receive an education is to learn the best that has been thought and said in the world; the best that has been said and thought, is the gathered wisdom of all who have lived and learned before us, therefore, the advantages to be gained are many, and the educated who succeed in acting up to what he or she learns above all leading a profitable life.

In the first place if an educated man or woman so desires, he or she may teach, as teaching is one of the ways of earning an independent living. Women especially feel the need of an education, both in their old profession of teaching and in the many new professions now open to them.

In the second place an education has come to be thought a necessity for every boy and girl who can possibly get it. Most professional schools demand from two to four years of college training; practically all public high schools demand of their teachers a college degree; business men have come to prefer college graduates.

Thirdly, as civilization advances the attainment of an education is necessary for financial success in usbiness. Almost all schoolboys now believe that it is impossible to enter any one of the professions or even to make a respectable success in business without a bachelor's degree, or even a high school education.

LURE OF THE OPEN ROAD

By Wendall Gladden

Green and purple rolling farmlands stretched far and wide. Here were to be seen valleys and miniature canyons and gorges, and there fertile fields and vegetation glorying in the sun.

Beyond, hills and mounds aided the blue background, with occasional clusters of trees and shrubbery. Above, the sky was cloudless. At the end of Narragansett Bay, trailing the Atlantic coast, were many placid, shining streams.

Many of these little streams were as so many glassy pools, for there were no gentle ripples on the water. Scarcely a wind stirred, though there was a murmuring soft and low of friendly breezes and a calm and peace indescribable.

Kansas City, Mo., 8, 1923.

St. Louis Stars open here with the Monarchs and have a wel l balanced ball club. But the Monarchs have the jump on all the other clubs. They had a month of Spring training and their pitchers are in mid-season form, and the way they are going it will be very hard for any club in the League to win the series from them, the players on the team are hitting, well, and always in the pinches. With a club like the Monarch it will be trouble for clubs of the League this season.

Moore, Johnson, Hawkins, Duncan are the heavy of the Monarchs and playing air tight ball.

St. Louis Stars have in McAdoo, the League's greatest First Baseman. He has no equal when it comes to pitching the ball out of the dirt. In Hewitt they have a flashy fielder and a good lead off man. Seals the big boy is another. Ty Cobb in center, and also hits the ball hard. "Dad" Kennard, the Veteran Catcher is a great help to the younger pitchers and catching a wonderful game. Bob Fagen can be classed with the best of the League. Holt, the midget shortstop is real class and covers a world of ground and has a good arm. At Third Base Russell is a very nifty fielder, good hitter and base runner.

Catcher Ray has the usual pep as ever and catching good ball. Blackwell can be found in right and his fielding has cut off a many run for the Monarchs.

Now don't let the large scores say that the Stars have no ball club, but with good pitching of Drake, Rogan, Curry and them not delivering in pinches account of the one sided games. But St. Louis Stars are going to be a great contender before the season is over. They have 4 good pitchers in Southpaw Bell, Miller, and right handers, Stewart and Meyers. Before the season is many days older these men will be the talk of the League, they have a wonderful manager in S. L. N. Cobb and are piloted by acting manager. Veteran Sam Bennett.

They will leave Kansas City and play a five game series with the A. B. C. of Indianapolis and they are going to be some trouble makers. Home runs of Moore and hitting of Johnson Hawkin, McNeir are the feature esrles. Johnson, Moore and McAdoo, were the fielding stars of the series. All games were umpired by Billy Donaldson at the plate and Bert Johnson the bases. Their attendance was 3, 500 Saturday and 7,500 Sunday. So you can see they are drawing well and as soon as the weather gets warmer, the attendance will double the previous one.

THE AWAKENING

By Wendell Gladden.

Hear ye, all ye nations, ye peoples,
out of the years. I come to speak Proudly for millions once in bondage held, once so cowed and meek;
Dark-skinned peoples with dreams
empty, visionless, but now awake;
Eager to know, to face the issues, and greater tasks to undertake.
There is sorrow in my heart—and there is love and hope, and fire
Bidding me speak of unrest, seething desire!

CALIFORNIA EAGLE MUSIC NUMBER

Edited by JOHN A. GRAY

MUSIC WEEK GREETINGS

By John A. Gray

This coming week is music week and all energies will be directed toward the exposition of the beautiful and good in music. There will be over a thousand musical events in this city during the week. There will be recitals and concerts, community sings and plays, and many various forms of musical endeavors. The week starts Saturday with a big parade at night in the downtown section and in which the colored people have been asked to participate. Sunday will be music Sunday. In the afternoon, at the Bowl in Hollywood, there will be a tremendous Community Sing and the race has been asked to contribute a chorus of 500 voices on the program. There will be music everywhere and why? Because the American people are beginning to realize that music is one of the greatest factors in the development of character and good citizenship that they can draw upon. That the refining and enobling influence of music is spreading throughout the country and that the American man is beginning to realize that it is as manly to follow music and the allied arts as it is to engage in any sort of legitimate busines.

community through having the opportunities and advantages of contact with the world's best as teachers and performers. These advantages are not being grasped in the way they should by our people, but we hope that with the coming season the number of serious students will be increased and the audiences at concerts and recitals will give evidence of the presence of a large number of race people.

We earnestly urge that every person in the city will make an effort to hear some kind of music during the coming week and that he or she will pledge support of some racial form of musical endeavor during the year. For after all, the gift of music was given the Negro in greater quantities than any other gift and he should, must and will develop it.

Wesley Chapel Choir

By W. Vernon Howard

It is indeed a pleasure to be affiliated with an organization such as the Wesley Chapel Choir and to witness the many great things that can be accomplished by united efforts. The progress of this organization has been wonderful the past year and much good is expected of it in the future along the lines of elevating the minds of our people as well as other races to the real worth and appreciation of good church music.

The unusual feature of our choir is the beautiful spirit of brotherhood that exists as one family.

We have not been successful in charming those of our own race alone with our work, but the demand from other races and other denominations is so great that we are compelled to refuse calls for Sunday nights especially, that we may worship at home.

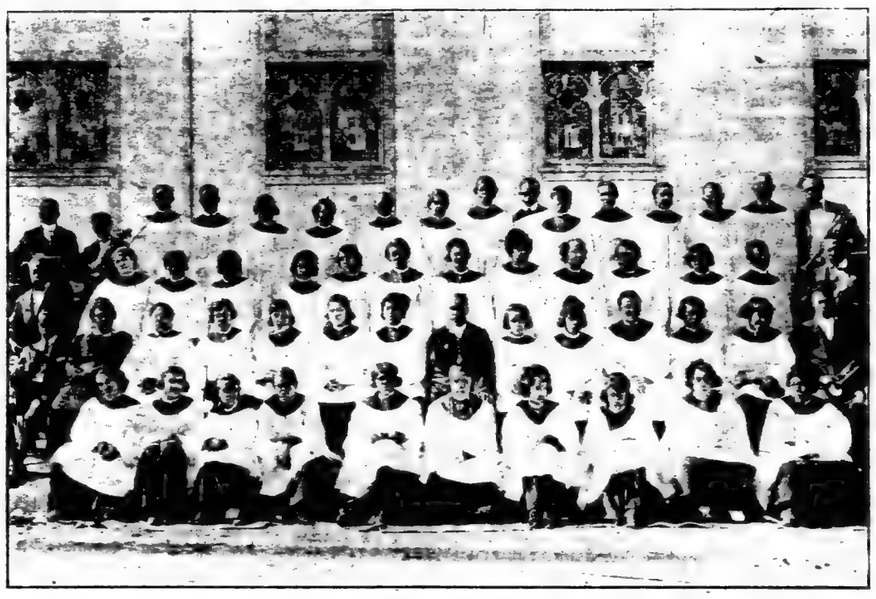
We do not confine our efforts to singing alone but we are self suporting and not only that but we find so many ways that we can assist the general church. In our "Out of Debt Rally" we gave over $2,500 and on our recent repair program we paid $600.00. And we intend to give $1000.00 in the again free Rally by Sept. this year.

We realize that with music the life of any institution is kept up. No Pastor can serve without it. No church can succeed without it. And we find among the large churches of the city, (and near by towns) the demand for a sacred program not of folk songs alone, (while there is nothing dearer or nothing could possess more rich harmony) yet the appeals come as great when the work of the Master is used as when the folk songs. Again I say this is a wonderful organization.

With our sweet toned organ and our very efficient organist Mrs. H. W. Markham to support us, not only with the very excellent selection that she thrills our souls with from time to time but with her sweet spirit of unselfish sacrifice. We have an organization that any director would be profoundly gratified for one that would add to the dignity of any church.

Let music charm me last on earth, and greet me first in Heaven.

BILBREW QUINTETTE



ACHIEVES DISTINCTION

No Colored aggregation on the coast has made any greater progress than the Bilbrew Quartette. This company is composed of a male Quartette including William Carr, First Tenor; Arthur Trent, Second Tenor; Ralph Bilbrew, Baritone and Rexford Harris, Bass. Mrs. A. C. Harris Bilbrew, Reader and Accompanist. This Aggregation specializes in Jubilee Concert work and has appeared before some of California's most critical audiences for the past two years.

The Quartette has been doing Vaudeville. They have filled engagements in most of the prominent theatres in Los Angeles and surburban tours and have just recently returned from a Northern tour under the management of Ackerman and Harris. It is a well balanced quartette which easily sings its way into the hearts of the people.

Mr. Ralph R. Bilbrew, Manager.

Mrs. A. C. H. Bilbrew, Directress.

PEOPLES INDEPENDENT CHURCH CHOIR PREEMINENT AMONG LOCAL MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS.

The Choir of the Peoples Independent Church of Christ had its beginning on Sunday, October 10, 1915. On that day the church held its first public services in the Odd Fellows Hall, Eighth and Wall Streets, and a call was issued for voluntary singers, to furnish music for the occasion. About seventeen persons came forward and from this beginning and out of this hand full of volunteers, many of whom had never had any experience in choir work, our present splendid choral organization has been developed, during the short period of seven years.

Our first pianist was Mrs. Gertrude Brown. Having no church home, the rehearsals were held in the homes of well disposed members without the services of a director. Finally, the aid of Miss Maude Rosemond was secured as pianist and director and the real and worthwhile work of the organization began, in earnest. She was succeeded by Mrs. C. J. Smith, at the piano and Rev. N. P. Greggs, took charge as director. He has served in that capacity many times since, in the absence of a regular director.

Our present pianist is Mrs. Fannie Wilson Benjamin, a product of the Wilkins Piano Academy and a student at U. S. C. She is assisted by Miss Lucile Banton, who is also a product of the Wilkins Piano Academy. Prof. Thomas Johnson, the peer of directors, is directing their musical work and study. The choir, although, one of the youngest in the city, has developed into a formidable contender for leadership. It has a membership of sixty-five.

The Pipe Organ to be installed within the next few months had awakened a new interest in each choir member. It is being made by the Austin Organ Co. It will have 3 manuals with electro pneumatic detached console, adjustable moving register, with the Austin universal air chest system; also the new patented De Luxe key-touch, and a complete set of Deagan Chimes. The display pipes will be finished in French leaf Gold Bronze.

Through the never tiring and faithful support of our church membership and under the leadership of our Director, accompanied by our Pianist, and the spiritual guidance of our beloved Pastor, Rev. N. P. Greggs, we are aspiring to great things, spiritually and musically, in the future.

The Sunday morning service was of the regular enthusiastic nature. The members are apparently receiving great blessings. It is indeed a spiritual pleasure to worship at Independent.

THE VIOLIN

History

The Violin is a fiift to the world from the darker race, and it was in India, that the art of inciting vibration of strings, by means of a bow, was first discovered, and our present day violin had its origin in Ceylon.

The first violin was invented by a Ceylon King, (name unknown) who reigned 5000 B. C. This original instrument is now held as a relic, in the National Museum, at Leipsig, Germany. Shortly before the Mohammedan invasion, a rude example of this original was brought to Arabia, and then on to Europe after the crusaders. Still later the primitive instrument was recovered and brought into Germany, where it is today.

Qualifications

With the essence of time and education, it has developed from a one-string instrument, into our present-dya violin, the Cremona, heading the list in valuation, Stradivarius, second; Amati, third and Guarnerious, fourth. This valuation nad rareness is decided by three qualifications: Quality of wood; seasoning of wood; skill in shape and contour. These three qualities combined in the most artistic and scientific manner, best suited for richness of tone production, is what gives to us a rare and valuable violin.

Technical Scope

Violin is considered the most perfect of musical instruments; first, because of its capabilities of rich tone and expression; second, because of its unlimited technical resources, resulting from the fact that, ALL the tones to any scale can be accurately produced, in perfect intonation, adding to this, every intermediate semi-tone, in a compass of four and one half octaves, and this compass may be indefinitely extended higher and higher, by touching the strings lightly; namely, what is known as Harmonics. These astounding accomplishments rest entirely with the skill of the player.

The greatest means of cultivating an ear for melody, both in player and hearer, is a violin. For this reason, violin was selected to head and to exclusively lead All orchestral music, by Monteverde, and it is an acknowledged fact that there is no greater cultivation for ear and melody than orchestral research and practice.

Spiritual Resources.

From the most earliest time, string instruments have been the favorites for soul touching music, and the violin offers the widest scope of all string instruments to truly express the player's soul and inspiration, because of its unlimited octave heights and tone qualities. All the vast richness, sense citation, all the definiteness, expression, all the magic of tone, key, all are yours with a violin, combined with endless sources of the human imagination.

In fact, combining all, violin is a noble instrument. A gift of God. An art of God, and therefore it is true expression of the soul.

Result

Through the medium of a violin, if the player's soul be one of character, tenderness, sentiment, truth and love, combined with the vital quality of intelligence and patience that is required to acquire and fully possess the technical knowledge of this intricate instrument, he or she will produce music, full of virtuous expression, that will set the souls of humans in unison and communion with the souls of the spirits of Heaven.

Cultivation of Voice

By Mayme Wiley Lowe

The acquisition of the art of singing ought to go hand in hand with the other branches of education, for it is a most important aid to culture, and singing has a peculiar power of prifying and elevating be mind.

All representations of Heavenly bliss refer largely to singing and music. Rochlitz, the founder of musical criticism, thought that music must be the proper language of Heaven as common to all. It was music that first mightily stirred the souls of men.

The most important point in the art of singing is correct breathing, the student must above all clearly distinguish between superficial and deep breathing, and avoid the former, excepting the occasional use of the natural light breath, which requires no especial study for its acquisition.

In relation to the human voice, nearly all the musical knowledge is obtained through the cultivation of the ear. It is so much an ear process that little heed is given. It is interesting to find that the cause of the phenomenon of voice is the little vowel, which is the essence of every word. This vowel, together with a puff of air, is the only means of bringing the delicate vocal bands together, and holding them approximated long enough to sustain either a spoken or singing tone.

GET YOUR HAT---IT'S TIME TO MOVE.

There is going to be a reckoning day in this man's town at no far distant date. And it will be truly a fact which Congressman Dyer shouted, when he said some of the ministers must get right with God. Take the ministry as a whole of Los Angeles, it's all right, but there are some who as it were, stand in high places and have an exalted opinion of themselves, who are about as small as it is possible for them to be. They not only fail to function in progressive movements but stoop to some of the lowest levels to stifle meritorious efforts which are often put forth at a sacrifice by forces which have made it possible for this same ministry to occupy the position which they MIS-REPRESENT in this bailiwick. We are wise to every sneaking move of this species and while we are not posing as a prophet, but we are going to venture the assertion that it is no far distant date when this gentry will be seen reaching for their hats.

The Negro Press of the country mourns the passing of that energetic, eloquent, fearless advocate and late owner and editor of the Kansas City Sun—Nelson Crews. His life was one of action and his voice rang out at all times for and on behalf of justice for his race. Peace be to his ashes.

John Mitchel, veteran journalist, leading financier and business man has the sympathy of the craft and people generally in the trials through which he is now passing. There are very few but who have the utmost confidence in his integrity and believe him to be the victim of purely untoward circumstanees and hope that the higher courts to which he has appealed will right the wrongs and give him an ultimate vindication.

THE HIT DOG HOWLS.

Te American Civil Liberties Union of New York has pointed out that two-thirds of the tarrings and featherings and about one-half of the lynchings for last year were those of the white race. This is a hopeful sign. What do we mean by such a statement? This: so long as only Negroes were lynched the whites were indifferent, but now that someone else's ox is gored, the whites are beginning to wake up.

For instance, labor has been very cold to pleas of the lynched Negro group. It has been difficult to get organized labor to take a public position. It even turned down a resolution denouncing the Ku Klux Klan at the American Federation of Labor Convention last year. But just so soon as McGregor, a white railroad worker in Harrison, Arkansas, was lynched, Mr. Gompers and the American Federation of Labor started out to raise three million dollars to suppress lynching.

The same is true of the Jews and Irish Catholics. So long as the Ku Klux Klan carried on depredations against the Negro only, just so long were both silent. But so soon as a few Catholics were flogged and some Jews lashed, both got busy to wipe out the Kluxers.

It is fortunate that no group in society may continue to suffer from any malady which will not eventually strike the other groups. Crime germs, like disease germs, know no race, creed, color, or state lines. The tubercular Negro today will leave a tubercular white man beside him tomorrow. The thief who robs the poor Negro will hold up the white man ere long.

The South disfranchised the Negro and it was also the last section to grant political rights to white women. It kept the Negro in ignorance by segregation and discrimination, but the white children of the South also suffered and paid. A double school system is too expensive, so the school fund was divided, the whites getting the lion's share, but both white and black getting too little! The result is that the Negroes in every northern state, where the schools are mixed, have less illiteracy than the whites in most of the Southern states.

To keep the Negro down the South has stayed in the ditch. Its short-sightedness has cost cost it a taste of civilization. It lags behind, were it tries to keep the Negro. It is suffering from its own folly by which it has been struck. Like a hit dog it howls, and it must continue to be hit and to howl until it removes the stone which is striking.

BE NATURAL

One of the little habits that's becoming very serious and threatens to ruin many of our young girls, is the use of too much paint and powder on their faces. It makes one look ridiculous and causes the public to misjudge many of them who are just trying to keep up with the style.

Every time we buy preparations concocted from lye, vitriol, and other caustic acids, for the purpose of bleaching and disfiguring our natural complexion, it is a tacit admission by us of what the white man has had in his head for years; that the Negro is inferior because he, himself, is ashamed of his color; and every time we purchase ox-marrow, glue and other sticky substances, for the purpose of making our hair straight, we doubly affirm the contention of our white brother is true. This blind, idiotic, futile use of face bleaching, acids and glueified abomination for purpose of plastering down our hair, is leading us daily from all semblance of racial pride; and racial pride is the very foundation of race's success. When you go out upon the street be very careful how you dress. Be modest and quit showing off on the streets and the street cars. Quit painting your face so red. You may hear what others say about you. Be natural, that is what counts in life.

The imprisonment of Editor John Mitchell, Jr., the veteran Editor of the Richmond Planet, is one of the most regrettable incidents that we have recently encountered. In the last Presidental election, it was Hon. Mitchell who ran up the Republican ticket for Governor of Virginia. From that time he has been marked by a few race haters and enemies among our own group that has caused this condition to come in the life of one of the best prepared men of the rcae—one who has met the torch and the mob and has stood out against the wrongs and inhuman treatment of the Black Man in America. We do trust he may be able to clear himself of all accusations and be restored to the confidence of the people he has learned to love.

News comes that the city of Denver has gone Democratic in the selection of Hon. Ben Stapleton as Mayor to succeed Mayor Baily. Under the present Mayor, the race received many good positions in the City Hall and County Court House, as Clerks and stenographers. We wonder if the new Mayor will keep us the same high standard and belief in the fitness of our people to serve in responsible positions instead of giving them a few janitor jobs.

Don't be afraid of the truth. The truth is going to survive. In the very nature of things, truth stands and error passes. It is often necessary to fight for the truth, but it is absurd to fear that no matter how hard the fight is going, truth cannot be defeated permanently. If we are with the truth, we are forever on the winning side.

God has written upon the flower that sweetens the air, upon the breeze that rocks the flower upon its stem, upon the raindrops that swell the mighty river, upon the dewdrops that refreshes the smallest sprig of moss that rears its head in the desert, upon the ocean that rocks every swimmer in its channel, upon every pencilled shell that sleeps in the caverns of the deep, as well as upon the mighty sun which warms and cheers the millions of creatures that live in his light—upon all has He written, "None of us liveth to himself."

THE POISON OF SELF PITY

Get angry with yourself, pat yourself on the back, commend yourself; but don't pity yourself. Pity is a glorious and creditable atribute—when it flows out toward another. Then it is like the mountain brook, sparkling, chattering, leaping, the laughter of the woods, the refreshments of birds and beasts, carrying health nad joy to all who drink of its cooling flood, or gaze upon its happy play. But pity, when it turns upon self, is like a stagnant pool covered with hateful scum, and, concealing ugly, slimy, hateful things in its foul ooze. The self pitying are abused. Nobody treats them right. People talk about them. Others are promoted over them. They get no proper thanks. The self-pitiers invite every variety of spiritual microbe to come in and breed. They are the clouds the, mud and the slush of mankind. They are rarely efficient.

The source which springs the prevailing unrest, violence and lawlessness throughout the country can be dated back half a century. The moulders of popular sentiment, especially the press, have been giving continuance and encouragement during this period to extraneous, questionable and illegal methods for the alleged purpose of preventing "Negro Domination" and to maintain "White Supremacy." No crime was too hedious, no offense too grave and no deed too dastardly if utilized for the accomplishment of the purpose referred to.

In several of the reconstructive states of the South, the disorganized and defeated remnants of the Confederate army were reorganized in the form of military clubs, fully armed and equipped, and as such, took charge of those governments vie et armis. Intelligent people knew then as they know now, that those methods were used, not to prevent the domination of one race over another, but to prevent the domination of the political party with which a majority of the Colored voters were identified. The method thus adopted and enforced, although under false pretenses, have become so popularized that they are now national instead of local, and are utilized for any and all purposes.

The criminal as a rule, draws no color line when he has a purpose to accomplish. Hence he reasons: "That if the Constitution can be nullified and the statutes disregarded and disobeyed for one purpose why not for another? The poor man feels it his right and privilege to force the rich man to divide some of his riches with him. So we have the incentive for the bolshevics, and the teachings, resulting from the tolerance of illegal methods, make the enforcement of law and respect for the orderly process of law local; and since public sentiment is stronger than law, there is no remedy for the wrongs thus committed until there is a change in popular sentiment.

When you get the worst of it in anything—when failure comes instead of victory for which you worked so hard and hoped so confidently—how do you take it? Sullenly, letting go of courage and good temper and all that went into the effort? Then you are making your failure much worse than it need be. Frequently the thing that looks very dark, indeed, when you are close to it, does not look so bad when once you get away from it a bit, out of its shadow. Cheer up, keep your courage, smile instead of scowling, and try again, harder, harder, harder, until you win.

IT IS BRAINS THAT COUNT

There is a great demand for brains—real, sure-enough brains—brains trained and equipped to enter into the game that leads to success. Men of ordinary training and talents are abundant. They fill every nook and corner of the universe. They are as common as pig tracks in the paht leading to the drinking hole. They are as abundant as the shriveled leaves of the forest. They are everywhere. The world is not looking for them, but it is wide awake and alert in search of the man with brains unfettered by error, cunning and vice.

There is a demand for men of brains on the farm, in the mines, in the workshops, factories and indeed in every line of business. The world is seeking brains to conduct its gigantic enterprises, to guard its borders and to enforce its mandates on land and seas. The farm is reaching out for men of brains to delve deep down into its soils to bring to light its hidden secrets that multiplied millions may rejoice in prosperity and live in comfort. It is to the soil we must look for all that sustains life. It is to commerce and traffic we must turn when sorrow overtakes them. Brains are the power which removes the obstacles and barriers over which mankind have been perplexed and disheartened. It levels the mountains of error, bridges and rivers of superstition and guides the universe in right paths.

LET'S LIVE ONE DAY AT A TIME

If we as a race overcome the impediments and besetments of life, let's begin today and live one day at a time. Start each day with a fresh record to be made. This must not be muddled with with the blurs of yesterday nor the possible blots of tomorrow. If the disagreeable ones go down to failure, you smile at the present full of life and sunshine. Don't let other people's troubles keep you from closing the day with thanksgiving.

The young girl with a clean mind does not dread the morrow. She takes all the fun out of the present until it becomes a habit; such a strong habit that even the worries as they come fail to dim their determination to go forward.

Try it for just one day, young man, young woman. Begin this morning to rub out your recollection of those nasty, mean, contemptible little prejudices you have against your neighbor and wish them the same pleasures you are enjoying—the pleasures that must count of we are to win this fight.

Some people are more careless than others. Those who are extremely so are, perhaps, not wholly to blame for in many instances they but show the lack of home training. Those who permit themselves to drift into the habit—for habit it is—are wholly responsible. They are responsible for not only the habit itself, but for the valuable time that is wasted.

It makes no difference what the profession or occupation of the man may be, or what engages the attention of the woman, there is no justification for waste of time. If the man is a physician he needs every moment he can command to keep abreast of the progress of his profession. If he is a business man, he can, if he will, coin spart moments into hard cash. If the woman presides over the household, she will find enough to engage her attention without wasting time in looking for misplaced articles or undertaking to undo what a little forethought and care might have prevented. In these days of keen competition minutes count, and minutes wasted are a serious loss.

ONE WHO IS SORRY FOR HIMSELF IS ALREADY HALF BEATEN

No man that hasn't enough healthy egotism to admire himself a bit, amounts to much. Bad as egotism is, it is infinately better than self-contempt. Stand erect and face the battles of life like men. Put the imprint of manliness in your own personal lives and resolve to be among those who win.

LET'S REASON TOGETHER

When in the beginning man's senses were in the embryonic stage the sense to reason stood out with dominant force as the line of demarkation between him and the brute. With this cumulative sense man has rapidly advanced through reasoning, down the ages of time, from the parent cell at the beginning; to the progressed form of mentality of today, gaining his present status only through ages of indomitable effort and struggles in his varied environments, in wresting from the storehouse of knowledge its locked and guarded secrets. This ability to reason in the face of stern necessity, when mankind was young, are the prime factors that mark the grades of developmen t of different racial groups of todya. The ratio of progression of each being in proportion to the needed efforts put forth in gaining from nature's bosom his needs and requirements of life. Where nature and climatic conditions had been prodigous and bountiful in supplying the wants of life to her children; "with necessity lacking" the lessons of life's stern school were not readily learned, as in other zones where conditions were more favorable and the teacher of life was constantly tutoring her children through grim necessity and experience in the gaining by reason of their wants and needs. Thus we witness different racial groups of men in the sliding scale of life, from the arrested development of man, from the zone where nature supplied all his wants, to the developed form of mentality of today.

In these racial groups stands the Negro, transplanted in the scheme of life, from his bountiful motherland to an alien land far away, where he has taken deep roots, and with his changed environments he has proved an apt pupil, by bridging the gap of years from arrested development, ignorance and superstition, t ointelligence and worth of today, and, while he has been through the crucible of ignorance, slavery and degradation, he is slowly but surely advancing up the ladder of life's progress by the factor of clear reasoning and with the help of that great power which so wonderfully has directed his steps, and from which he at times in his abject misery and despair did wonder if he had been forsaken.

It must be through this clear reasoning that he must come to realize that his present handicaps and unjust treatment should be the cause to weld him together more firmly as a racial group, and that further advancement must come from himself alone, that while the pathway of life before him is already by the new spirit of determined effort with the intent to fill the house wonderful with which he is endowed, with the spirit of uprightness, spiritual and brotherly love, and with the true knowledge of effort well done he will gain the meaning of self respect and self reliance in his steady progress to true manhood estate and the placing of Afric children further advanced in racial groups.

Why Deaf and Dumb Individuals and Never Seasick

In the physiologics of childhood's unhappy hours, you were expected to learn and to remember what happened

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc. M. D.
1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

to a poor pigeon. Do you recall the two pictures, one showing a pigeon before its ear was opened, and the other showing the semi-circular canals of its head cut out.?

These three semi-circular canals shaped like half-pretzels are placed at right angles to each other. One is horizontal, one points east and west, and the other points north and south. Each one is hollowed out and acts in human and animal heads much as the stabilizer of an aeroplane does. They keep men from falling, balance birds and enable fish to preserve their equilibrium.

These three half-circle canals are located behind the ear to prevent giddiness, vertigoes and loss of balance. They are actually meters to show which way—not the wind, but gravity pulls. Recent experiments on the ear make it plain that even the dizziness of high blood pressure, heart strain nad kidney disease are traceable indirectly to the vestibule of this organ which contains the semi-circular stabilizers.

This indicates that in sea-sickness, vertigo and other kinds of dizziness, the physiology and the anatomy of the ear labyrinth is more or less concerned.

What Investigation Proves.—

Man lives in a large fashion upon two score or more senses, such as muscle, touch, heat, cold, pain, vision, hearing, taste, hunger, smell, and particularly this sense of equilibrium and position in space. A perfect balance, such as a flagpole painter or a structural iron worker maintains, is brought about by harmony of action between several senses such as the muscle sense, sight and this static sense which is under consideration. Interference, therefore, with any of this triad will bring to pass sort of dizziness. The worst types, however, are associated with disease and deformity of, or accident to the semi-circular pretzels ih the ear labyrinth. Dizziness, seasickness or vertigo spells obstruction or disturbance of the usual relations and sensations which keep the human fluids balanced against the force of gravitation and of life. In 1860, Professor Meniere, of Paris, was the first definitely to associate one kind of falling disease or vertigo with the semi-circular canals. Since then it has been known that the static sense, the sensation of equilibrium, rests in that place. Whenever any malady, injury or birth condition irritates this vestibule of the ear, some kind of dizziness occuurs. On the other hand, no matter how severe a disorder may affect the human form divine, if it fails to interfere with the even tenor of these canals, no vertigo appears.

How Lymph Acts.

A few persons may inherit or acquire such unadaptable semi-circular canals that the constant sway and motion of an ocean steamship will disrupt the fixed fluid relationship in this labyrinth. Even the roll of a street car or railroad train may cause it. The upshot is sea-sickness and other "vertiginus" attacks. So important have these inner ear canals become in their association with dizziness that some of the leading medical colleges have created special departments where special tests are carried on to determine the state of health of this static sense.

The principle underlying these tests is to find the condition and the movement of the lymph in the hollow half-pretzels. When the lymph passes in a given direction, "nystagmus" or a vibratory twitch to the eyes occurs, vertigo is felt and the indfividual feels like falling.

The way the lymph is set in motion is much the same as children do, "spin around and see how dizzy you feel." The doctor gives the patient a few twists on a revolving stool. The normal effects are known and deviations from them give a diagnosis. When you are thus spun to the left, you first feel it and then you soon do not know you are turning, because the lymph and fluid in the east and west canal catches up.

When the spinning motion is stopped, the lymph continues to move, and you feel as if you are being whirled the wrong way, though you are stock still. Similar sensations of falling in a horizontal plane have to do with the horizontal canals. The sensation in a rising elevator or a rapid descent concerns the perpendicular canals. The impulse to throw yourself from a high place is supposed to be the pull of gravitation upon the lymph in the canals.

Sea-sickness involves first one semi-circular canal and then another. One reason that purgatives help to prevent sea sickness is that the excess of lymph and fluid in the canals is reduced to a minimum. Deaf and dumb people do not become seasick, animals otherwise easily made seasick, are unaffected when made deaf. Small children seldom become seasick, because the vestibule of the ear is very small. Sea-sickness certainly seems to be due to an ear condition.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 East 9th Street.

THE BYSTANDER

A matter that demands serious attention, and a matter which the government has taken due cognizance of, is the constant migration from the South to the Northern and Western cities of the Negro laborer. Everyone has the right and privilege to better his circumstances and condition, yet, this isalienable right does not shift or remove the responsibility of properly arranging for, and controlling this inevitable tide and flow of human beings. While our leaders, Profs. Pickens and Kelly Miller engage in a mud slinging campaign, the Southern farmer leaves the land of his birth and sallies forth unknelled and unknown. We must think and start something that will help our downtrodden brother, and at the same time prevent a repitition of the condition in the South. One thing can be summarily suggested and that is, Every Negro ought to go to the polls and avail himself of the one opportunity that is upright and equal, and vote Other organizations have their solutions. Some of us believe in them while others give them no credit. This is one thing that all citizens can and must do if they wish to maintain the little opportunity and chance we have here. Something must be done and done before 1935. We cannot stop migration and we should not try, but we can set standards and ideals and compel our new comers to meet them or be ostracized.

A Little Church

Scotts Chapel is a little city that sits on a hill and cannot be hid. Silent in vain boosting and noise making, it speaks loudly when we listen to it from the sounds of manhood and womanhood. Recently we have felt the throb and beat of this little institution. It claims the winner of our declamation contest held last Friday night, Miss Ethelyane Hunter. For her we join them in pride. She claims a former winner of an oratorical contest, Mr. Samuel Danly, Jr., and more, she gave us Misses Margie Danly, Gladys Harris. young persons we are fond of, and particularly admire. This little church goes on uncomplainingly and quiet, but some day we hope another elegy shall be written, and this to Scotts Chapel, an elegy in a country church yard.

Good Work

The Southern California Alumni Association stamped itself on record last Friday night and Sunday afternoon as an organization that truly seeks to encourage and promote the aesthetic and culturral. The Declamation Contest was a success and stands as the stellar event for the intellectual display of our youth. The Alumni Tea was a magnetic source of encouragement. It showed the youth that we do care, and we care so much that we are willing to give our good time for their enjoyment, only asking in return, lives which become graduates of our educational system. There is stlil another star for the crown. Three scholarships are offered by this organization to be awarded at the Annual Reception. The organization is far from perfect but it is certainly doing a splendid piece of business, invigorating with appreciation the tender buds and flowers of the race under cultivation.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—

34th Street and Central Avenue...

"Mothers' Day was beautifully observed at this church in two excellent services. The Pastor preached at the morning service using as his text: "Behold thy Mother." One man gave himself to Christ and united with the Church at this service. At the evening hour a fine program was rendered. Among those participating were: Misses Louise Alexander, Dorothy Armstrong, Miriam Garrott, Mesdames S. E. Hancock, E. D. Harris, F. R. Rogers, Prof. Wm H. Fearonce and Master Warren Boswell. Splendid audiences attended both services. Friendly rivalry is looming between the Circles for service in the Annual Rally which come July 29th. Circle No. 5 of which Mrs. Mary Byars is Leader, reports $45.00 already in its treasure. Others take notice. Do not forget the Twi-light Candle lighting service Thursday night, May 24th given by Circle No. 2 and 7, of which Mrs. A. C. Lightner and Mrs. N. E. Perry are leaders respectively. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

E. E. Lightner, Pastor.

Cast: B. A. Featherstone, judge; Mona Reed, clerk of court; T. Brandon, Pros. Atty. assisted by L. E. Williams; G. C. Coleman, defense attorney, assisted by D. C. Mitchell; Sheriff; Chas. Parker; Bailiff, Chester Hudspeth.

Last Sunday was Mother's Day. A program was rendered at the Sunday evening services in honor of that great day. The program was as follows: A chorus by the choir. A reading by Mrs. Edna Hill. A mixed quartette composed of Mrs. Flora Alexander, Miss Louise Beavers, Mr. Thomas Johnson and Mr. George Johnson, who sang "Sweet and Low." A violin solo by Willie Starks. A reading "How a Mother's Prayer was Answered," by Mrs. George Beavers, Jr. A contralto solo by Mrs. Naomi Farr. The address of the evening by Mrs. Bessie Prentice. A duet "Whispering Hill", by Mesdames F. Alexander and Olive Hill. The program was indeed an enjoyable one.

The first fruits of the Sunday School membership compaign are certainly ripening. Our new Sunday School Hall will hardly be large enough to seat our new members.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—

East 8th and Wall Streets.

Our services were excellent on the first Lord's Day this month. Rev. Cothran preached in the evening—both sermons were fine. One came forward and made the good confession. Rev. Cothran's subjects were: "The Gospel, the Power of God unto Salvation." Condition faith in Christ. Text Romans 1:16. Lord's day, May 13th. Being Mother's Day our sermon was taken from Moses' and Samuel's mothers. Our service was good thruout the day. We baptised one candidate at the First Christian. At one p. m. Our work is doing fine. We are working with a view of having a church home. A place to house our little flock. We are deeply in earnest and we are greatly encouraged. We welcome all who would be pleased to worship with us. Elders Hollins, Booth and Hopper.

ST. PAUL A. M. E. CHURCH—

Talk is cheap stuff but money buys the land. Redlands is a delightful little city with great possibilities for our people, who may avail themselves of the possibilities. Many of our people who are in the large cities doing little, or nothing should investigate these opportunities and be convinced for themselves. With a Central Depot by the Southern Pacific R. R. Co. puts Redlands in a very happy mood and on the main line. We have two splendid churches, Methodist and Baptist, both doing a splendid work for this community.

Thursday evening was a great social feature. At the new dining hall of the A. M. E. Church which has just been finished at a cost of more than three hundred dollars, and all paid for.

This church and congregation is taking on new spiritual life, which is so badly needed. The revival was a source of great help. Rev. Edwards and wife, with their delegates are getting ready for the District Conference and Sunday School Convention which will convene in Watts at Grants Chapel A. M. E. Church 23-24 inst.

Sunday was a great day in this local Church. The Mothers day program was fittingly observed, Mrs. Lola Beal and others are due much credit for rendering of the program. At the conclusion of the services seven persons connected with the church, two being converts.

WEST SIDE MISSION A. M. E. CHURCH

West 36th Street

Major G. W. Prioleau, Pastor

Last Sunday was a great day of service at the Mission. Seventy-two children present to honor their Mothers and show them how they appreciate the privilege of a good Sunday School. The contribution was way above the average and it is refreshing to learn that the Sunday School of the Mission will assume the balance of the debt on the pews.

The morning service was largely attended by earnest and enthusiastic worshippers. One addition to the membership. At 3:00 p. m. Presiding Elder Washington conducted a splendid sermon which made the hearts of the people rejoice. At the evening service local preacher William Washington preached acceptably to a nice congregation. The plastering will be finished this week. We will tell you how it was done in our next. Come to the Mission.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—

Eighth and Towne Avenue.

Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister

Pastor Ward will occupy his pulpit in historic Eighth and Towne Avenue First A. M. E. Church Sunday at 11:00 a. m. Sunday night there is to be a thirty minutes organ recital and the senior choir will lead the congregation in singing familiar old hymns. Sunday will be our annual rally day; and the pastor and trustees are asking for $4,000.00 to remodel the parsonage and pay on our bonded debt. Every loyal member will do his bit. Every club is asked to report at the 11: a. m. and at the 7:30 o'clock services. The thermometer will begin to rise on each side when the first two clubs report.

Interesting services were held on last Sunday. Rev. Ward occupied his pulpit at 11:00 a. m. paying a high tribute to "Mothers." Both choirs sang appropriate music and Mrs. Emma Smith thrilled the great audience with a beautiful solo 'Mother O'Mine.' There were four accessions to the membership of the church including one young woman convert.

A large gathering of mothers wtre entertained and served refreshments by the young people of the church prior to the evening services on Sunday evening. An excellent program took the place of the sermon on Sunday night. It was under the auspices of the A. C. E. League, A. A. Thomas, president. Miss Marguerite James presided. Lawyer W. O. Tyler was the principal speaker; and his address on "Mothers" was par excellent. Others who played well their part in the excellent program were Miss Mamie Cox, Miss Anita Boyden and Mr. Charles Banks. Rev. Ward conducted the devotional exercises and the choir sang by special request songs our mothers used to sing in praise of God. Services were largely attended and there were many prominent visitors.

Supt. Orma Stratton and the Sunday School stopped the trip to Palestine long enough last Sunday to pay a timely tribute to "Mothers," in a very fine program conducted by Miss Isadore Stewart.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—

Corner Pico and Paloma Streets.

Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor.

Residence 1217 Paloma Street.

No mother that the world has ever known could encourage and inspire our hearts on Mother's Day, more so than that beautiful character, Mary, the mother of Jesus. Rev. Shaw's message to the mother of our day vibrated with truth and sound doctrine as he preached the word of God from John 19th: 25 verse. God bless Mother's Day and may it long be remembered by generations yet to come. Rev. Shaw preached a glorious sermon to every mother. It softened the hardest heart and stirred up fondest memories.

Prof. Bynum and choir lived up to their high standard of singing and furnished good music all day. They also furnished the program for the evening service which was excellent.

On next Sunday, May 20th Rev. Shaw will preach at both services. Hear him. Don't fail to attend the greatest debate ever held in the city. A popular subject— "Is The World Growing Better?" Affirmative—Prof. J. W. Johnson and Attorney M. H. Broyles. Negative—Rev. Dr. R. M. Holt and Mr. Claude E. McKinney. This church May 20th under the auspices of the Brotherhood. Good musical program by the Brotherhood.

Watch for the date of Zion's Woman's Day.

You are cordially invited to make this your church home.

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m. Subject. "The Church A Divine Institution."
Preaching at 8:00 p. m. Subject, "Have Your Fare in Hand."

Mothers Day services were very injoyable with us during the entire day, the aged mothers enjoying the feast prepared and served them by the Ladies of the Missionary Society. Our Rally closed with a decided success. We asked for the modest sum, $450. We collected nearly $500, all of which we give God the praise. We are very grateful to all who assisted us in any way. Come, you are welcome to worship with us.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—

14th and Birch Street.

Last Sunday was a banner day. We had several new comers in the Bible School and also in the regular services both morning and night.

Brother Williams, the acting Minister, filled the pulpit both services.

At 11:00 o'clock, he spoke from this subject, and when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his Angel and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. Theme: "God's Way," Acts 12:11.

And at night he spoke from this subject, "And he commanded the chariot to stand still; and they went down both Philip and the Eunuch; and he baptized him. Theme: Baptism.

These sermons were indeed helpful and all who heard them were wonderfully benefitted.

Services for next Lord's day as usual. Bible School at 9:45 a. m.
Preaching at 11:00 a. m.
Young People's Society at 7:00 p. m. and preaching at 8:00 p. m. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. The public always invited.

Come you will find a friendly welcome. Bring your friends.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH—

Services in the Y. M. C. A.
Corner of Ninth and Hemlock Sts.
H. D. Prowd, Pastor.

We observed "Mothers Day" last Sunday and had a blessed time throughout. Our Sunday School was well attended despite the fact of illness among some of our families. The lesson was helpfully discussed, and all were benefitted. White and Red Carnations were very much in evidence. Mrs. Alice Johnson did most gracefully the decorating of each member and visitor. Mrs. Geneva Jones read a delightful paper on Mothers Day, and her daughter Miss E. Jones, was at her best in a very appropriate Solo. At the time for the sermon Dr. Prowd announced GENESIS 3:20 "She was the Mother of all Living." It surely was a surprise to listen to the other side of life and character of dear old Mother Eve. God certainly did open our eyes to see some new things concerning this first lady of our earth. The people went away with higher views of woman-hood. The B. Y. P. U. was ably conducted by Superintendent Dr. Evans, the President being away. At night we observed the Lord's Supper and again experienced a blessed season of refreshing from The Master. Our Church extends the hand of welcome, but requests that you come praying.

TWENTIETH CENTURY METHODS WIN

Enviable Record of Business Achievement by Eastside Realty Company.

Less than two years ago—in October, 1921—two young Los Angeles men, L. R. Ingram and Fitzhugh L. Banks, organized the Eastside Realty Company, and "hung out their shingle" at 1437 Central Avenue, corner of Clanton, in a six by ten real estate "cabin." Shortly afterward Messrs. Banks and Ingram were joined by O. L. Banks, as third member of the firm.

The Eastside Realty Company now consists of Mr. F. L. Banks, President, Mr. L. R. Ingram, Secretary, and Mr. O. L. Banks, Treasurer

A few weeks ago the company moved into new quarters at the same address—a spacious, high-ceilinged, oak-paneled office, handsomely furnished in golden oak, and equipped with all the very latest appliances in office equipment, that go to make for efficiency in business management. In short, the "new home" of the Eastside Realty Company is distinctly metropolitan in every way, and would do credit to Broadway or Spring St.

The "field equipment" of the company includes three late-model touring cars, for the accomodation of the public.

"Courtesy and tact in dealing with our people, together with strict honesty and accuracy as to details in handling the business of our clients, has won for us the confidence and patronage of the public," said Mr. Ingram, after acknowledging, with characteristic modesty, our tribute to his splendid enterprise. "This has not been easily or quickly done, for the general attitude of the Colored public toward the Colored business man is one of distrust, partly justified by unfortunate experiences in the past.

"But twentieth century methods win. I had an unusual opportunity to study the white man's methods of business efficiency first hand, as an employee of the American Railway Company at El Paso, Texas, and I am endeavoring, with the co-operation of my valued associates, to prove that a Negro business, conducted by twentieth century methods, can progress just as rapidly and achieve as signal success, in proportion to the limited capital of the Negro people, as any white business enterprise.

"We are now specializing in subdivisions, almost entirely. I believe I can say, without fear of contradiction, that we are the pioneers in Southern California in this line of real estate endeavor. The importance of this opportunity—an opportunity to pick and choose their home and business-sites from valuable and desirable tracts of land, without fear of discrimination—is hardly yet apparent to our people, but they are rapidly awakening to the value of this privilege which has hitherto been the privilege of the white man.

"I am free to say that we were distinctly successful in our first essay of this kind—the placing on the market of the Tract known as Central Avenue Gardens. Practically every lot sold within a phenomenally short time, to responsible persons who, I am glad to state, are establishing a record for promptness and good faith in taking care of the obligation they assumed.

"An evidence more convincing than any words I might say, is the fact that one of the greatest banking institutions in California, with resources of more than $250,000,000 has now given into our hands for sale to our people, a tract of land which they own, located in the midst of the most active industrial and residential development, in the City and County of Los Angeles. I refer to the Central Avenue Subdivision, thrown open to the public by us a few weeks ago.

"There has been much said, pro and con, regarding this tract, and I take this occasion to state to the public that we invite, or, going further—we solicit, the most thorough personal investigation into this proposition, both as to the intrinsic value of what we offer, and our methods of handling business pertaining to the same."

Eminently practical business man as he is, paradoxical as it may seem, Mr. Ingram is an idealist and a dreamer.

The proof of the first assertion is his statement that the pride he takes in the success of the Eastside Realty Company—which he modestly characterizes as "the first step"— is not mere personal vainglory, nor money-lust, but has a deeper-laid base in a desire to make the road smoother for those who will come after him.

Every step toward winning the confidence and good will of the Colored public, commanding the respect and esteem of the white public, will have a far-reaching psychological effect in making future commercial effort by those of our group more easy of accomplishment, and the youth of this generation will not be as a rule, restricted to menial or manual labor, but will find the business world open to each and every one, according to the measure of his ability.

Such is Mr. Ingram's ideal; his dream is of a great Negro financial institution in the future, which will place capital at the command of our group without recourse to the white man. This "dream" will undoubtedly materialize.

High ideals, backed by ability, executed with energy and efficiency, will materialise any "dream" that makes for the progress of the race or individual, the business or the community.

IN MEMORIUM

To My Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bassett, Who Recently Departed This Life.

When I was but a little child,
My mother, as a rule,
Would hasten out, on Sabbath Day
With us to Sunday School.
Some days she could not go,
Although she stood waving from the door.
"Go on, my dears, I'll watch until
I see the last go over the hill.
My father stood in the village street
Waiting for us there.
"Come on, children, or you'll be late!"
With us the service he did share.
Our mother was a precious one,
So loving, kind and true,
I'll try to walk the path she trod,
And live as she would have me do.
My mother worked, my father toiled.
The old Methodist church on yonder soil,
Built for us there, stamped on our mind,
How we should live, as we travel down the line.
They loved us then, we love them yet,
Their care for us I can't forget.
The hardships with us they did share,
Though the cross was heavy to bear.
Mother, Father, you have left us here,
I'm sure you both are happy, dears!
We try to smile through dreary days,
But are lonesome for you who have passed away!

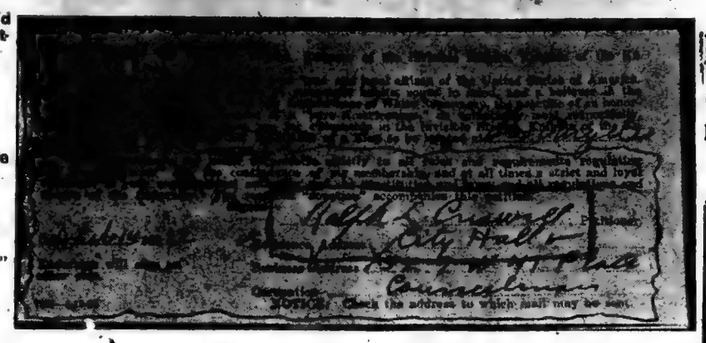
TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH—West 36th St. and Normandie Ave.

The Sunday School was well attended and many helpful points were brought out by the teachers. Mother's day was observed throughout the day, beginning in the Sunday school. At the Eleven o'clock services the pastor was at his best, his subject being, Mother's place in civilization. The text was taken from John 19:22. All who heard the sermon received a blessing. The Holy Spirit was in evidence. The B. Y. P. U. under the leadership of Mrs. Frances Spikes is progressing nicely. The attendance was evcellent. The evening services were given over to the choir who rendered a most splendid program. The public is cordially invited to all our services.



Contest A Success.

The Declamation Contest with banners waving and voices shrill and true, the Colored High School students assembled in intellectual array last Friday evening at the A. M. E. Church, 8th and Towne Avenue. It was the annual Declamation Contest between the cream of the high schools given under the auspices of the Southern California Alumni Association. No one present shall ever regret this wonderful opportunity of listening to young Colored America handle with a vim and a grasp, the comprehensive, varied and masterful subjects such as were chosen and delivered.

We may not all agree as to the manner and method of the prize awards, but we are unanimous in our opinion that this occasion takes precedence over most of the affairs which are conducted, involving our youth.

Then young men and women from Southern California, representatives from their several schools, matched their learning and ability with that of their compeers to the ecstacy and edification of all present. After some delay the decision of the judges favored Miss Ethelwyn Hunter of Pasadena for first place, and Mr. Clarence Brothers of Manual Arts, second honors. We do not wish to detract from the praise of the victors but we cannot refrain from commenting on the splendid work of Misses Johnson of Jefferson, Balkin of Lincoln and Thomas of the Los Angeles High School. As a matter of fact every participant deserves honerary mention and should not be disturbed because of the fact that another won. All cannot win and even though our favorites lose, they win in that the experience of poise and effort is a wonderful gain. Much credit for this effort is given to the program committee, Misses Vassie Williamson and Carrie Stovall; Messrs W. Matthews and L. K. Beeks. The judges of the occasion were Mrs. C. A. Spear Bass, editor of the Eagle, Atty Towpon Grasty and Prof Banks, President of the N. A. A. C. P. We eagerly look forward to the coming of this contest next year.

POLITICAL MISLEADERS SHOULD BE POLITICALLY ASSASSINATED

HERE is a fac-simile of the Application made by RALPH L. CRISWELL to join the KU KLUX KLAN. It was discovered by the District Attorney in his raid on Klan headquarters last year, and published in the Los Angeles Times, June 6th, 1922. Mr. Criswell at first denied making the application, but afterwards admitted that he had done so.

In the recent Primary Election MR. CRISWELL RECEIVED MORE COLORED VOTES for Councilmanic honors than any other white candidate; (Can you believe it?) while men like WHEELER, SPARKS and MUSHET, who fought the KLAN and made it unlawful for them to appear disguised in public places, received little consideration from the Colored voters.

This is why they say the Negro is politically "BLIND IN ONE EYE and CAN'T SEE OUT OF THE OTHER."

CENTRAL AVENUE SUBDIVISION offers you a home-site in one of the fastest growing sections of Greater Los Angeles, and in the midst of developments that are costing millions of dollars.

If you want to live among people who will build good homes, this is the place for you.

CENTRAL AVENUE SUBDIVISION has RESTRICTIONS, not race restrictions but restrictions that will preserve the value of the neighborhood and keep undesirables away.

Among the restrictions are the following: No building shall be constructed thereon that shall not cost and be fairly worth at least $1500; Each house shall set back at least fifteen feet from the front property line; No fence or hedge shall be constructed or grown that shall be over 3 feet high on the front property line.

We all remember when lots on Western Avenue could have been bought for the present price of a lot in Central Avenue Sub-Division, today they are selling as high as $30,000. When Central Avenue is opened, a 100-foot boulevard, to San Pedro, the value of lots on and near Central will increase fro m100 to 1000 %. Will this mean anything to you? Will you profit by the LESSONS of the past?

REV. I. B. BROWN OUSTED FROM CHURCH

The New Age Dispatch Publishes Following Statement.

"STATEMENT OF W. B. TATE"

tist Church, Twelfth and Hemlockello

"The church war at Tabernacle Baptist Church, Twelfth and Hemlock streets, is over, the courts having awarded the victory to Trustee W. B. Tate and others in the suit brought against them by their former pastor, L. B. Brown. He desired in his suit to take control of Tabernacle and her properties, including building funds.

"At the present time we are without a pastor, but there will be services as usual Sunday morning and evening, also Wednesday evening prayer service. Doors are open to all. You are welcome. Come and worship with us and give God the glory.

W. B. TATE."

—New Age Dispatch, May 19th

"STATEMENT OF REV. "L. B. BROWN GIVEN IN "PERSONAL INTERVIEW.

"Editor of the New Age Dispatch:

"I am grateful to the management of this splendid paper for its fairness in calling upon me before publishing reports of one who has been misrepresented as I have.

"The regularly appointed trustees of Tabernacle will state the truth of our matter to the public. Our deacon board will do the same. The membership and visitors know that lies being circulated are diabolical and pucilanimous.

"There is to be a court decision. There has not been a trial yet. The officers and I had to enjoin certain unfinancial and unchristian followers of Tabernacle to preserve the respect of the public.

"Money! Money! Money! is the root of this evil. The pastor has caused the church thieves to cease their activities. The trial will reveal to the public the real cause of the trouble.

"The new church project on Twenty-seventh and Paloma is what I am interested in. Those who would make the public disrespect me as a man do so because I tried to inspire them to make a show.

"I am still the pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church. The majority of its members are loyal to us and are keeping up my salary. Those who are against me have made three strenuous efforts to run me from my post of duty. When they called me on the first of January they were beaten. They called me over in March and were beaten worse than at first. Their last resort was to reorganize the church under a new set of by-laws, then wipe out all that had been done prior. They then elected themselves to office and proceeded to lock the church doors. We opened the doors to the people and will do so again. Let the public await the truth. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again."

"L. B. BROWN."

—New Age Dispatch, May 19.

Los Angeles, Calif.

TO THE PUBLIC:

In answer to the article published in last week's issue of the "New Age Dispatch" under statement of Rev. L. B. Brown; I wish to say in the first place the regular Trustees and Deacons of the Tabernacle Baptist Church to be legal are elected by vote of the members, and not appointed as given out in this article, is one of the causes of our trouble.

The information that there is to be a court decision, is false and misleading, as in the Superior Court, Department 16, with Judge York as presiding Judge, May 8th, 1923, a Demurrer was sustained in the case of L. B. Brown, Plaintiff against W. B. Tate, Defendant, et al; in the cause of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, and upon motion of Hass & Dunnigan, attorneys for the Defendant, the case was thrown out of Court.

We are pleased to learn through this article that the Rev. Brown has at last acknowledged that he and his self-appointed officers filed the suit in Court, but we deny the charge that we are unfinancial and unchristian-like, we bowed to every unlawful act and conduct of the Rev. Brown as Pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church until he proceeded in the attempt to dispose of our Church Property (that had been bought and paid for by us years before Rev. Brown came here) without authority from the Church.

He says Money, Money, Money, is the root of the evil, and the Pastor has caused the Church thieves to ceas their activities. If the Tabernacle Church had any thieves among their members, they were received since Decmber, 1920. He says the new Church project on Twenty-seventh and Paloma streets is what he is interested in, we are mostly interested in our Church property situated on Seventeenth and Naomi and on Hemlock between Ninth and Twelfth streets, which is all paid for and was about to be sold from under us as advertised articles in our possession will indicate.

He however told you that money was the root of this evil, he also tells the public that he is still the Pastor of the Tabernacle Church, yet he preached his last sremon in the Tabernacle Church on Sunday, May 6th, 1923. The doors of the Church however, are open every Sunday as well as during the week for services, and the pulpit is being filled by spiritual divines, but under a new regime.

Rev. Brown says our last resort was to reorganize the Church under a new set of By-Laws, this is untrue, a Baptist Church can only be organized once, and this has been done in the case of the Tabernacle Church some years ago, but as an incorporate body, they failed to adopt a set of By-Laws for their government, this is whatwe did on April 2nd, 1923, to legalize our acts as a corporation.

When this was done we elected a new set of Deacons and Trustees, and declared our pulpit vacant, in so doing leaves the Tabernacle Church without a Pastor, but with a strong set of Officers determined to protect the interest of the Tabernacle Church from wrong doers.

Done by order of the Church, May 16, 1923.

W. L. KIMBROUGH,
Chm. Board of Deacons
A. L. Crosby, Clerk.

IDA BELL GRIFFIN

WIDELY ACCLAIMED DRAMATIC READER, SOON TO BE HEARD IN LOS ANGELES

An artistic event of more than usual interest will be the dramatic recital by Miss Ada Bell Griffin, at Hamilton M. E. Church on Wednesday, May 6th. Miss Griffin is a young women of charming and magnetic personality, and an elocutionist of national reputation. She appeared on Tuesday, May 29, in Pasadena, and her splendid dramatic interpretation was enthusiastically acclaimed by a capacity audience of the most critical and discriminating theatre-goers.

Miss Griffin presents a unique attraction, in that she interprets all the characters in the famous melodrame, "Within the Law." It will be remembered that the stellar role in this well-known play was created by Jane Cowl, and subsequently made famous by Marjorie Rambeau, Mary Nash and others on the legitimate stage, and by Norma Talmadge, in motion pictures. In fact, this picture has just concluded a two weeks' run at the Kinema Theatre.

But whereas these actresses enacted but one part, that of "Mary Turner," our own Miss Griffin interprets all the roles in the play. There are twelve characters of very diverse types, and it is the highest tribute to the ability of any dramatic reader to perform this feat successfully.

Miss Griffin's performance has been received with the highest praise over the country, on her present tour, and all lovers of dramatic art will unquestionably turn out "en masse" on the night of June 5th to see and hear this brilliant artiste, of whom our race may well be proud.

SHOOTS IN DEFENSE

On Tuesday night, May 22nd, L. M. Johnson, Colored, proprietor of the Cambridge Cleaning Company on Central avenue, shot and killed Harry Harris, a young Jewish salesman, following an idle remark made in passing on the street, and at the inquest held Thursday morning, at the W. C. Draper Undertaking parlors, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, his preliminary hearing will be held next Monday.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE HOLDS GREAT SESSION

Rev. J. H. Wilson, P. E.

The District Conference; Conventions of the Sunday Schools Woman's Mite Missionary Societies and Allen Christian Endeavor Leagues were opened at 7:15 a. m. Wednesday, May 16, at Fresno, Calif., in a special tabernacle, Rev. C. C. Carter, pastor. Presiding Elder Wilson introduced Rev. C. N. Elliott of Park's Chapel, Oakland to preach the annual sermon, whose subject was the "Old Time Religion," and a great convention was under way.

Rev. J. W. Rodgers of Marysville was elected secretary, the committees were appointed and the district stewards made their reports and each charge came up with a round report one hundred per cent strong.

The disciplinary questions: "The Moral Condition of the People," by Rev. C. A. Harris of Santa Barbara; "The Condition of the Public Schols" by Rev. Nelson Pryor of Oakland, drew a heated discussion on the conference floor and floated out to groups of discussions.

Sergeant M. W. Saddler of Oakland and James P. Geary of Fresno were elected as delegates to the annual conference and James Simmons of Tulare and Poe Clinton of Red Bluff were elected as alternates. The finance committee received and disbursed $257.72 which speaks for itself and does not include the Sunday offering, which was $70.00 and there was $200 given at the ground breaking rally for a greater Bethel Church in Fresno.

There were eight rattling good sermons given by Revs. Elliott, Brown, Duncan, Hughes, Lacy, Harris, Wesley and Gantt which resulted in four conversions and several accessions.

Visitors present were Rev. James Washington, Presiding Elder f othe Los Angeles district; Rev. L. S. Gooisby of San Diego; Rev. C. W. Bryant of Los Angeles; T. M. Davis, Fresno (Baptist); Payne Middleton, State President, A. C. E. League; Rev. and Mrs. Cotton (Penticostal) of Oakland and Miss Ida Bell Griffin, dramatic reader, of Worcester, Mass.

The Sunday School Convention

Mrs. L. M. Dixon of Oakland was reelected as District Superintendent and Miss Mabel Scott of Sacramento as secretary. The features of the convention were the "Sand Table" demonstration by Mrs. L. Herndon of San Francisco and the "Dramatization work," by Mrs. Lillian Carter of Fresno. There was a "Hand work demonstration" by Oakland worthy of mention.

Sacramento carried away the first prize for hand work and Santa Barbara took the banner prize.

The Cradle Roll and Home Departments under Mrs. Pearl Winters are being developed.

The Woman's Mite Missionary Society

Was gracefully presided over by Mrs. Fred A. Hughes who was reelected as its District head.

This district is in direct touch with our work in South America where money, clothing, etc., are being sent to Dr. Halbrook on that field. This work is being done under the immediate supervision of Mrs. Nelson Pryor, who read several interesting letters from that field. Mrs. Hughes brought greetings directly from Bishop and

2,000 HEARD OWEN SUNDAY

Last Sunday afternoon, May 20th at 3 o'clock sharp, a huge throng crowded into the 14th Street School Auditorium to hear the editor of the Messenger speak on "The Only Road to Negro Freedom."

Emanuel Hall, great tenor-baritone, sang two selections. The house sang "John Brown's body lies 'amouldering in the grave but his soul goes marching on."

Owen stated that freedom meant ability of one to act in obedience to his desire. In other words, the ability to do what you want to do. What one wants to do, however, will depend upon his education. The Ku Klux Klan is seeking liberty, that is, to satisfy its desires. But the liberty to do wrong is as sacred to a man as the liberty to do right.

To decide where one wants to go, and then to remove the obstacles, is what must be done in finding the road to Negro Freedom. The editor discussed prohibition, the terms colored, Negro, Afro-American, manhood and wealth conceptions for the Negro.

The highest pitch of interest came in Owen's discussion of Christianity. He said he believed in the ideals of brotherly love and the golden rule, but the white man's practice of Christianity was in striking contrast with his professions. The lines of segregation are probably more tightly drawn in the church than anywhere else. White church, colored church—white God, Colred God. "Then too," said Owen, "there are too many Negro preachers." (This statement was greeted with thunderous applause by the whole audience.) "I don't mean that there are not splendid colored ministers, but we need to have a smaller number—less quantity and greater quality. There is one white minister to 801 white people, and one Negro minister to every 560 Negroes. Moreover, too many churches are being built. Most of these churches are frozen capital. The modern church structure should have the auditorium on the second floor or with an arcade, so that the first floor might have stores, offices and such, as a means of income. This would release the people's energies and monies for other useful work." This statement was also long and loudly applauded.)

Owen in closing warned against considering all white people as enemies to the Negro. The chief difference, he said, between California's and South Carolina's treatment of colored people is the different attitude of the white people. It would be easier for California to segregate Negroes and make them ride in Jim Crow Cars than it would be for South Carolina, if the overwhelming majority of white people favored such injustice. Herein lies the value of speaking before, educating and effecting the sentiment of white people.

The meeting was held under the auspices of Mrs. A. C. Richardson who presented Mr. Owen. The proceeds were for the benefit of the N. A. A. C. P.

WIDELY ACCLAIMED COLORED MUSICAL COMEDY CLASSIC TO SHOW FIRST TIME IN LOS ANGELES.

More than common interest is attracted to the announcement of Manager Walter Hearn of the Mason Opera House in the engagement at that Theatre, commencing Monday, May 28th, of New York's much heralded musical sensation "Shuffle Along."

This is the same attraction that took New York by storm, setting that staid old burg into a whirl of jazz and syncopation, and hanging up a world's record for a musical comedy, having played over two consecutive years at the 63rd Street Music Hall, something unheard of in the history of musical comedies. Its remarkable success has inspired many imitators, some even going so far as to create titles to try and confuse the public, but "Shuffle Along" remains as originally conceived, the greatest "colored classic" since the days of Williams and Walker. The book of "Shuffle Along" is by Miller and Lysles, while the lyrics and score are by Sissle and Blake, well known writers of harmony and syncopation.

The company numbers some sixty odd performers, prominent among them being the well-known colored contralto Emma Jackson, Nellie Brown, John Vaughner, Edgar Connors, Al Baldwin and Theo Mac Donald, the colored "Valentino."

One of the outstanding feautres of the organization is the chorus—the same chorus that set New Yorkers dippy—a bevy of Bronze Beauties who work with such speed and abandon as to leave one in a whirl of amazement.

The plot, conceived in real Southern atmosphere, unfolds an interesting story, mingled with solos, duets, double and triple quartettes and ensemble numbers.

The score of "Shuffle Along" possibly contains more real popular song hits than any two musical comedies ever produced, among them "I'm Wild About Harry," "Love Will Find A Way," "Shuffle Along," "Bandanna Days," Honeysuckle Time," "Oriental Blues," "Mary from Maryland," "Gypsy Blues," and many others.

A reception committee headed by Messrs. Mat. Laws and Ragtime Billy Tucker, amusement impresarios, will meet the Golden State Limited when it pulls into the Southern Pacific Station at 1:00 p. m. on Sunday, May 27. A band and an automobile parade will add class to the royal reception to be accorded this star organization.

INDOOR PICNIC ON DECORATION DAY

On Wednesday, May 30, day and night, two bands will hold forth at the Pamama Social Club, 1823 Central Avenue. Mothers and Fathers are requested to come out in the afternoon, bringing their children! See them dance and enjoy themselves.

Special Rooms for babies to rest between dances! Matron in charge! Extra vaudeville in connection! Special seats for Spectators.

BRILLIANT FLOATS AND MARCHING BANDS USHERS IN MUSIC WEEK

Promptly at 7:30 p. m. Saturday the trumpets sounded which announced the beginning of Music Week in the city at which time all musical organizations were given the command to "Fall in." To do this it required Labor and sacrifice as well as money. For "there truly is no success without labor." And we should not expect something for nothing. Let us pay the price. We expect so much from the other race, resent segregation and yet how careless and indifferent we are, when the opportunity is given us to associate, and to take our rightful places in the great movement of our city. This was the sad feature of last Saturday evening, if there was a sad feature), for only two organizations, of the many that our race boasts of in this city, responded to the call, to represent a race of thousands in the city, but nevertheless it was done with pride and dignity. The applause was as great and the appreciation no less, when Prof. Le Blanc's Band pealed forth in martial strains, than when the Hollywood American Legion Band or the Los Angeles Police Force Band. And when The Wesley M. E. Choir, rolled by headed by the L. A. Examiner Band, the skies were even shaken with the cheers andapp lause for they were second to no organization in their double busses covered with green fern and California Poppies and "Wesley M. E. Choir" said in flowers on either side of the float, with a massive harp made of poppies on the float. His splendid organization vested float. This great organization vested with piano and orchestra responded in song at the command of the director's baton until all other features nearby kept silent until they concluded. The Committee awarded special mention of this attraction, along with Hollywood, Los Angeles Choral Societies and others.

Let us as a race take our places with like bodies, civic or religious for we are a part of this great nation.

"Quit ye like men, be strong!"

WIDELY ACCLAIMED COLORED MUSICAL COMEDY CLASSIC TO SHOW FIRST TIME IN LOS ANGELES.

More than common interest is attracted to the announcement of Manager Walter Hearn of the Mason Opera House in the engagement at that Theatre, commencing Monday, May 28th, of New York's much heralded musical sensation "Shuffle Along."

This is the same attraction that took New York by storm, setting that staid old burg into a whirl of jazz and syncopation, and hanging up a world's record for a musical comedy, having played over two consecutive years at the 63rd Street Music Hall, something unheard of in the history of musical comedies. Its remarkable success has inspired many imitators, some even going so far as to create titles to try and confuse the public, but "Shuffle Along" remains as originally conceived, the greatest "colored classic" since the days of Williams and Walker. The book of "Shuffle Along" is by Miller and Lysles, while the lyrics and score are by Sissle and Blake, well known writers of harmony and syncopation.

The company numbers some sixty odd performers, prominent among them being the well-known colored contralto Emma Jackson, Nellie Brown, John Vaughner, Edgar Connors, Al Baldwin and Theo Mac Donald, the colored "Valentino."

One of the outstanding feautres of the organization is the chorus—the same chorus that set New Yorkers dippy—a bevy of Bronze Beauties who work with such speed and abandon as to leave one in a whirl of amazement.

The plot, conceived in real Southern atmosphere, unfolds an interesting story, mingled with solos, duets, double and triple quartettes and ensemble numbers.

The score of "Shuffle Along" possibly contains more real popular song hits than any two musical comedies ever produced, among them "I'm Wild About Harry," "Love Will Find A Way," "Shuffle Along," "Bandanna Days," Honeysuckle Time," "Oriental Blues," "Mary from Maryland," "Gypsy Blues," and many others.

A reception committee headed by Messrs. Mat. Laws and Ragtime Billy Tucker, amusement impresarios, will meet the Golden State Limited when it pulls into the Southern Pacific Station at 1:00 p. m. on Sunday, May 27. A band and an automobile parade will add class to the royal reception to be accorded this star organization.

INDOOR PICNIC ON DECORATION DAY

On Wednesday, May 30, day and night, two bands will hold forth at the Pamama Social Club, 1823 Central Avenue. Mothers and Fathers are requested to come out in the afternoon, bringing their children! See them dance and enjoy themselves.

Special Rooms for babies to rest between dances! Matron in charge! Extra vaudeville in connection! Special seats for Spectators.

UPSILON CHAPTER OF KAPPA ALPHA PSI NATIONAL FRATERNITY IS FORMED HERE

Kappa Alpha Psi begs to announce to the people of Los Angeles, of the United States and of the world at large the creation of Upsilon chapter in the University of California at Los Angeles.

This fraternity is among the best of the national fraternities of the United States. It was founded in 1911 at the University of Indiana, and has grown with rapidity, establishing chapters in the large universities and in leading cities throughout the country. Many of the leading men of the nation are among its personnel.

Realizing that in unity there is strength, power, and greater opportunity for action and service, the following young men have dedicated their lives to God, to the principles of Kappa Alpha Psi, to service in the community, and to co-operation with the community, following always the path that leads to achievement:

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

IN THE MUSIC WORLD
By John A. Gray.

Now that the school term is nearing a close, one's attention is attracted by the increased activity on the part of the students, who seem to be intensely interested in their studies. More so now than at any other time during the term. Those students who have been known as idlers all winter have become fine examples of energetic industry. One is prone to ask for the reason of this transformation. We would classify them as cheaters. All through the term from September to the present time they have been "getting by." Now that the final days are here they are frantic in their efforts to catch up and pass to the next grade. This habit of slipping along is peculiarly American. In the commercial world the manufacturers do not aim to make their goods durable and lasting. In the other walks of life there is the same attempt to patch up and half-do. Thoroughness is a nonentity in American life.

In the case of the school children this procedure is extremely illogical. By shirking their tasks they are not cheating the teacher but are robbing themselves and laying the foundation for habits that will cling to them thru life.

What is true of the school life is true also of the musical life. The music teacher is constantly confronted with the problem of half-done work. Even the parents seem to feel that new lesson assignments should be given every week and that the progress of the child should be measured by the number of pieces that it can murder. These same parents are willing to pay for lessons—yet make little or no provision for the child to practice. A daily practice hour is never set aside for them, and everything else around the home must be done first and the time that is left is given to music. If there is no time left then the youngster gets no practice. When the father comes home he wants to hear no noise so the piano is closed.

These parents are willing to pay out their money and yet cheat themselves in the returns. Still they expect thir child to play as well as any other child. Every missed lesson is a loss of instruction and development to a child and generally means no practice for the following lesson. Such parents are also cheaters.

If the child could be brought to realize that when it is a question of personal gain, such as learning something, that to "get by" means his loss, he would be anxious to make every moment count and to get all that he could. This habit acquired in youth would lead to other similar habits when he grew older. Thoroughness in one thing will lead to thoroughness in other things and there will be fewer persons of this class known as cheaters.

OMEGA MEN TAKE NEW HONORS

By Chauncey Townsend, Director

At the annual Military Field Day exercises of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the University of California, Southern Branch, Company A was aided in winning the honors of the day by Sumner Thompson and Wilalyn Stovall.

An individual honor was bestowed on Wilalyn Stovall in winning second place in the Uniform Race. This race is always a special event on this occasion, and was keenly contested by eight cadets.

Two men are entered from each organization in the Uniform Race. Each contestant starts in stocking feet, wearing gym shirt and breeches, runs fifteen yards and puts on and fully laces and ties one shoe, then runs forward fifteen yards farther and completely puts on other shoe, then fifteen yards and puts on hat, then fifteen yards and puts on belt and returns to starting point. All above articles are placed on ground in order and at the distance named before start.

The Shelter Tent Pitching squad in charge of Sgt. Sumner Thompson took first place in the Tent Pitching Contest. In this contest one full squad from each Rifle company, commanded by a sergeant are entries. The squads in line at halt in field equipment; time taken from pistol. Squads at command of sergeants take intervals to right, pitch tents and place rfles and equipment inside completed tent, and individuals take prescribed posts at attention. Contest judged on time, completeness, method of execution, and appearance of line.

It is only natural and proper that the Lambda Chapter of which these young men are members should express their appreciation for this achievement. Thompson and Stovall are not alone assets to the organization, but their accomplishment would win the approval, the enthusiasm and applause of college-bred men and women the world over.

MACK HOUSE WINS AT VERNON

Mack House, local middleweight, won the decision over Young George at the Vernon Arena Tuesday night. George was wild, but Mack completely outclassed him.

HARRY WILLS IS ON DEMPSEY'S TRAIL AGAIN

Harry Wills, the New Orleans panther, and the most logical opponent for Champion Jack Dempsey, is still clamoring for a match with the titleholder. According to information obtained from the New York State Athletic Commission by the press, two requests for a declaration of attitude on a proposed championship contest in New York next fall.

This fact makes Wills' chances for a heavyweight title contest look brighter. Several months ago Paddy Mullins, Harry's manager, signed articles for the bout, but nothing definite had up to this time been decided.

Wills has fought his way to the top of the heavyweight list. He has engaged in eighty-four bouts, according to the records. Winning thirty-eight by knockouts, twenty-eight by decisions, and losing four. He weighs about 215 pounds in fighting trim, is six feet three inches tall, has a long reach, is very powerful. Harry is 31 years old.

He lost four bouts to Sam McVey, Battling Jim Johnson and Sam Langford.

PACIFIC COAST UMPIRES MAKE GOOD IN EAST

The Boy's Work Secretary at the "Y" is the proud possessor of a large photo, taken in Kansas City, of B. E. Gholston, and W. W. (Billy) Donaldson, Pacific Coast umpires, who left recently for the middlewest and east to work in the Negro National Baseball League.

Many letters have been received from the popular officials, all of which attest their efficiency, sportsmanship and success in the big league.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By: William Narcisse

The Annual Y. M. C. A. Track and Field Meet will be held next Wednesday, May 30, at the "Y" field in Boyle Heights. In this meet there will be seen such high school stars as Woodyard, Diggs, Duncan and a numerous host of others. This meet has been won by the Hi-Y every year, but by graduation from high school, the local team has lost such stars as Henry Stapler, one of the fastes prep sprinters that ever donned a pair of spikes; James Norman, also a sprinter of no mean ability, and LaVerne Floyd, crack broad jump and relay man. The writer is a bit dubious as to the outcome of this year's meet.

Track, now a matter of history, the coaches of the various high schools, have turned their attention to spring football practice. There are a goodly number of race lads out for the favorite pastime. At Jeff will be seen William Bisco, right guard and letter man of last year's team, Carlie Williams, member of last year's lightweight squad, and Jack Pryor, the little big boy who is out for the first time, whose passing and dropkicking should earn for him a place on the squad.

Over at Hollywood High, George Johnson, the nucleus of last year's lightweights, is out for the varsity this year. His ability to buck the line will aid him greatly toward making the team.

Alvoid Shivers is out for the light weight team at Lincoln. His speed will be a great asset to him, as he moves over the ground quite rapidly.

Elmer Brown, a graduate of San Diego High School, and a member of the track team of 1921, is seen daily at Lincoln High, where he is getting in trim for the "Y" meet. Along with him will be four of his team mates, all running under the "San Diego Blues," they are: Jimmie Melton who will compete in the 100, 220, and relay; Jerome Hatcher will enter in the two sprints and the relay; ommy King 220 low hurdles, broad jump and relay; Bert Ritchie, 120 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, broad and high jump and the relay; and Elmer Brown in the mile. With such an array of point-grabbers, they are sure to burst into the point column.

Without a doubt the reader thinks that the boys in the high school of today, spend too much time with athletics. But this is not true, because any boy who wishes to participate in competitive sports, must pass in three-fourths of his four solids, and must be in good standing during that season. Besides keeping one's body healthy and strong, it also enables one to show a better attitude toward his studies.

LYCEUM ENTERS TEAM IN "Y" MEET

The Young People's Lyceum is going to enter its first track team in the "Y" meet on Decoration Day. The following stars are going to compete: Archie Woodyard, Wilalyn Stovall, Benj. Colly, Thomas Myles, Charles Diggs, George Duncan, Charles Sanders, Charles Matthews, Kenneth Wallare, Lango Dye and others. Yes, there are others who have not signified their intention yet. It seems as though the Lyceum will walk.

Under the co-leadership of Stovall and Colley the Lyceum team will come out on top. With an array such as the one above, all who have made themselves famous about Southern California, there is no doubt as to where the cup will be on the thirty-first.

CUB CAPERS

By Leon Whitaker

This is the last full week of school for the Southern Bear. Tho last it is by no means least. The heretofore frivolous young cub can be seen studiously perusing his or her text here and there about the campus. Sometimes the eds and co-eds are together, but thoughts other than scholastically serious are taboo. his is the week of examinations when the professor and professorette demand a return on some of the stuff they've been handing out.

Speaking of handing out, you should have seen Graham, hompson, Brown, Stovall, Cooper and Johnson listening to the kernal's handout on Monday, when most cubs were away on leave for the last holiday of the year leaving the handsome boys in khaki to strut their stuff on the freshly cut lawn. They'll all anxiously await that deposit with baited breath.

Among the future Cubs of next fall there are Ralph Bunch, Melvin Thistle, Wendell Gladden, Benj. Colly, Charles Matthews, Lango Dye, Raymond Brown and Earl Robinson. Besides these there are several of whom we don't know. Come on, folks, we'll be looking for you.

Besides being the main connecting link between the Southern Branch and U. S. C., also the bond of friendship, Miss Marion Carter wields a wicked racket.

It seems that in two more semesters L. A. will be another Washington, D. C. Let us see more achievement.

Elsy Cooper, the all-city piano champ, is some scholar too. If you don't believe it, see his Prof.

THE DISTRICT CONFERENCE

San Francisco District.

Mrs. W. T. Vernon of South Africa and gave a graphic description of the work there.

Allen Christian Endeavor League

Mrs. Lillian Carter was reelected district president and Alvin Nurse of Oakland secretary. Mrs. E. W. Robinson, Sacramento song and social leader.

The high lights in this session were the "Social Demonstration" put on by Mrs. E. W. Robinson from Sacramento and the "Model Sunday Meeting" put on by Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Collins of Bakersfield.

A memorial service for the late Mrs. Dora P. Parker was held, Payne Middleton giving the eulogy. She was head of the Junior Department of the Leaguers.

At the evening session there was a great "pep meeting" on which the annual meet had nothing. This was followed by an address by State president Payne Middleton, subject "Where art thou?"; when the altar call was made ten young leaguers hit the trail and started to making a life.

The conference and conventions theme was "A Good Soldier for Jesus Christ." 2 Tim. 2:3, and was carried throughout the session and was on the tongues of all.

This session took the air of an Annual Conference in numbers, enthusiasm and results. There were more than five hundred people at the Friday evening session and Rev. J. H. Wilson, veteran presiding elder should be given much credit for the excellent work being done in the San Francisco district.

SHOOTS IN DEFENSE

According to the testimony of witnesses for the prosecution, Morris Harris, brother of the slain man, he and Harry were walking West on 20th street with members of Morris' family. Passing Johnson and his wife, Morris jostled the Negro, with a remark about "hogging the whole sidewalk."

Johnson retorted and was chased by Morris to his home on Central avenue. Harry followed and defied Johnson to come from his house. A shot was Johnson's answer. It lodged in Harris' abdomen. He fell, mortally wounded, and expired a short time afterward at the receiving hospital.

Johnson first evaded his pursuers by hiding on the roof of his house, but afterward went to the Central Police station and gave himself up. His wife was arrested at the same time but was subsequently released.

R. L. Armstrong carried his son, David, to the Dunbar Hospital, Los Angeles, last Saturday evening. While driving a tractor last summer, David, met with a painful accident, the tractor overturning, pinning him under it and scalding him badly. It is hoped that with the care of the hospital force, he will more rapidly improve.

Octavia Payne gave a piano recital last Friday at Second Baptist Church. She was ably assisted by her brothers and sisters: Ethel, violin and soprano; Elizabeth, mandolin and reader; William, cornet; John, boy soprano. The program was enthusiastically received by the large audience of friends assembled.

Rev. G. W. Davis was installed pastor of Second Baptist Church Sunday, May 13. Rev. George E. Davis of Calipatria preached the installation sermon. Rev. Thomas Hughes gave the charge to the church and Rev. H. Campbell, Brawley, the charge to the pastor. Rev. Robert Herring of the A. M. E. Church delivered the welcome on behalf of the City Alliance.

POLITICAL MISLEADERS SHOULD BE POLITICALLY ASSASSINATED

HERE is a fac-simile of the Application made by RALPH L. CRISWELL to join the KU KLUX KLAN. It was discovered by the District Attorney in his raid on Klan headquarters last year, and published in the Los Angeles Times, June 6th, 1922. Mr. Criswell at first denied making the application, but afterwards admitted that he had done so.

In the recent Primary Election MR. CRISWELL RECEIVED MORE COLORED VOTES for Councilmanic honors than any other white candidate; (Can you believe it?) while men like WHEELER, SPARKS and MUSHET, who fought the KLAN and made it unlawful for them to appear disguised in public places, received little consideration from the Colored voters.

This is why they say the Negro is politically "BLIND IN ONE EYE and CAN'T SEE OUT OF THE OTHER."

WATTS NEWS

AWAKENING OF WATTS, CALIF.

No more lots "one dollar down, one dollar per week." Watts is now a thriving city. It has a Colored population of more than two thousand. Property has advanced in value 90 per cent in the past year. Better homes have been built, and old homes remodeled. Thousands of dollars have been spent in street improvements. Churches and Lodges that would be a credit to any city have their headquarters in Watts.

Visitors receive a warm welcome and a generous hospitality in Watts, which lingers long and pleasantly in their memory. Nothing is going beyond the every-day man's reach—but real estate. And anyone wanting a home in this thriving and prosperous city had better buy at once.

It must be said that one of the principal things making for the prosperity of Watts is Unity. The citizens of Watts act unanimously in all movements for the betterment and progress of their community.

Mr. J. E. Walton, well-known business man and Secretary of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor, a Mason and allaround good fellow, thinks enough of Watts and the community in general to invest six thousand dollars to erect a recreation garden and hall on Compton and Long Beach Boulevard. The people as a whole are back of Mr Walton in this venture in providing amusement for the community. He has given his word that the cleanest amusement will be provided in his place.

Associated with Mr. Walton in this gigantic project are the well-known Los Angeles amusement promoters, M. T. Laws and his co-partners, W. W. Alexander and Gus Perkins, Ragtime Billy Tucker.

On Friday, June 1, this wonderful playground, owned nad controlled by our people, will be thrown open to the public in an all night moonlight picnic and barbecue, in honor of one of the greatest musical comedies ever staged, Shuffle Along, coming from New York, now playing at the Mason Opera House. Three bands will take part in this historical event—Ory's Creole Band, the Black and an and Shuffle Along's own band.

In order to accommodate the public, two halls will be used, the first and second floor, extending into the garden. Everybody is invited to make this the grandest and most auspicious opening in local amusement history!

DUARTE, CALIFORNIA.—

Last Sunday was Duarte's greatest day, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone of the Fountain Chapel A. M. E. Church by the G. U. O. of O. F. The Grand Master of the California jurisdiction, the Hon. J. B. Bass, of Los Angeles, was present to superintendent the work. Pasadena and Monrovia lodges were well represented. The day opened with a large Sunday School and a very well studied lesson and a fine collection.

At 11:00 o'clock the Rev. Mrs. I. H. Ford of Pasadena preached a great sermon to a large congregation. Subject, "Where Is The Old Way." After the sermon many hands went up asking for prayer that they might get in the old way. The Sr. Choir surprised the congregation by marching in with their new robes. The director Mrs. Redd had prepared special music for the occasion which was enjoyed by the congregation. At the close of the morning service the friends were invited to the dinning room where the missionary sisters had prepared dinner for more than a hundred and fifty people. The ladies that served were: Mrs. Greene, Hanford, Steward, McCoy, Elkins, Castle, Beckham, Thompson, Shaw, Hutson and sisters Davis and L. McLain. The good women were highly praised for their splendid dinner and their services.

At 3:00 p. m. we had an open air service. Our friends drove out in their machines from Pasadena, Alhambra, Monrovia and Pomona in large numbers. At the close which consisted of song by the choir and prayer. The prayer was offered by Rev. Davis, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Monrovia. Song scripture read by Rev. Reed, pastor of Zion A. M. E. Church, Monrovia. Song. Welcome address by Brother J. C. Arnold, Secretary of the trustees Board. Song. Rev. G. L. Cooper of Pasadena, who also acted as Master of Ceremonies. Song. Short address by the Grand Master, Hon. J. B. Bass. Closed by introducing Hon. Penegraph, who laid the stone. Rev. Reed, Davis and Burton lifted the offering which amounted to $357.50. The total for the day was $515.40 for which we are very thankful. Included in this amount hte Sunday School raised 23 dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bronsen turned from their Ice cream table twenty dollars and 47 cents. The Sisters of Friendship, nine dollars. At the evening service the P. Elder, the Rev. James Washington preached a wonderful sermon and we obtain made [illegible] hearts glad. Communion was served which closed a day for Duarte.

Too much praise cannot be given Bro. Castle, Bro. A. C. Hall Sister J. C. Redd, Brother Lasie McLain and James Cooper for their hard work.

Where to Attend Church

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH—
West 36th and Normandie Ave.
Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge, Pastor.

Sunday morning terminated the Mother and Daughter Week program, which was a success from start to finish. Mrs. Dyson as chairman of the general program committee deserves great credit. Sister McCall rendered a beautiful program beginning in the Sunday School and ending in the morning service. At the morning services the pastor preached a special sermon to daughters, his subject was, "Daughter's duties to Mother and to Mother's God." The text was taken from Ruth 1:16. It was delivered in a forceful and eloquent manner and the point of daughter's duty to mother was so impressed that we are sure the whole community will be lifted to higher planes of Christion civilization. The address given by Miss Edna Johnson was instructive. Its deliverance was one of the best it has ever been our privilege to hear. The B. Y. P. U. is still making wonderful strides under the leadership of Mrs. Francis Spikes. Brother McCall filled the pulpit at the evening service. His sermon on the great commission was enjoyed by all. Trinity extends a hearty invitation to all visiting friends.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
33rd and Hooper Avenue.
M. Frederick Mitchell, Pastor.

All of our services last Sunday were impressive and helpful. At the 11:00 o'clock service Rev. G. C. Coleman filled the pulpit with a helpful discourse, subject being "The Test of Love." In the evening the Pastor filled his post using for a subject, "Jesus Knocking at Our Door." Both the Sunday School and the Y. P. S. C. E. had inspiring sessions. The Excelsior Literary Society which meets Monday evening of each week, presents The Brandon California Jubilee Quartette the 14th of June. Mrs. Bertha Spurill has the date of June 6th for her unique "Tom Thumb Wedding." The choir chorus has several very important engagements to sing and at Pasadena Friday evening of this week. Our church is full of activities. Regular services next Sunday. Come and go with us and we will do you good.

BETHEL CHURCH OF CHRIST—
Hooper and Adams Streets
William A. Washington, Pastor

The pastor preached two powerful sermons last Lord's Day. Sunday morning sermon was found in Judge 5:7 and Matthew 12. Subject, "A Mother in Israel." At the close of this discourse everyone came away with a clear conception of their duty to mother.

The evening discourse was found in St. John 16:7. The promise of the Gift of the Holy Ghost. The need of it in our lives and the need of the church as a body being spirit filled.

There was one addition to the church.

On the fourth Sunday, May 27, the services will be held in the new building 15th and Los Angeles Street. At 3:00 o'clock Rev. Rozier will preach the sermon. All who love the Lord are urged to be present. The membership is planning to make this a great day. Come where the old time Gospel is preached.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
34th Street and Central Avenue.
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Pastor.

Two splendid services have been arranged for the worshippers at this Church Snuady, May 27th. The Pastor will occupy the pulpit at the morning hour. In the evening our monthly musical program will be rendered. Some new talent has been secured for this occasion and an excellent program is promised. You are invited to worship with us at both these services.

The past Sunday was a good day with us. "Safe Deposits" was the subject of the Pastor's morning message as he spoke the appreciative audience assembled, ext: "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven where moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal." (Matt. 6:20).

In the evening Dr George C. Chalmers Richmond spoke on "American Leadership." Atty. E. Burton Ceruti ably introduced the speaker. A cordial welcome awaits you at all times.

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
East 8th and Wall Street.

Our services last Lord's Day were good. 8th in spirit and attendance. One f ur elders spke at the mrning service, subject "What it means to be a Christian. Scripture reading—Acts 20:17 to 28. In the evening Rev. F. C. Cothran preached. Subpect, "The end of the Jewish dispensation and the beginning of the Christian dispensation. An excellent doctrinal sermon. It was edifying and the audience seemed to appreciate it very much. Rev. Cothran will preach for us again next Lord's day at 11:00 a. m., We wish to make welcome all who wish to worship with us.

Elders: HOLLINS, BOOTH AND HOPPER.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Corner Pico and Paloma
Rev. W. S. Shaw, Pastor.
Residence 1217 Paloma Ave.

Sunday, May 27th will be known in our church as "Woman's Day." Every body knows what this feans. The gentler sex will have full sway. The Rev. Mrs. Palmer will preach at 11:00 a. m. There will be afternoon services as well as evening by the women. Do not fail to hear Rev. Mrs. Palmer. There are few pastors who equal her in preaching God's word and a precious few who excel her in her own way and manner this noted divine will bring to us a burning message pointing the only true way to God and righteousness. Excellent program! Women! Women! Women! Your opportunity Sunday, May 27th is to show what you can do. Let the men sit up and take notice.

Rev. W. E. Shaw preached last Sunday morning from St. John 14:21. This was another of the excellent type of sermons Rev. Shaw continues to bring to us. He is giving us the unadulterated Truth whether we take heed to it or not.

Rev. Burton a visiting minsiter preached at the evening hour. His theme was "The Open Door."

The Bible Class nad C. E. Societies invite you to attend their services.

Keep in mind that the greatest and most popular topic fo the day is to be debated in this church uesday evening May 29th. The subject, "Is The World Growing Better," will be handled by the following well known gentlemen: Affirmative—Prof. J. W. Johnson and Attorney Broyles.
Negative—Rev. R. N. Holt and Mr. Claude E. Kinney.

musical program will be held in connection and furnished by the Brotherhood. Make this your church home..

WESLEY CHAPEL—
Rev. A. P. Shaw, Pastor.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Robinson was designated to portray the message Sunday morning and it suffices to say that he did it in a most excellent, and scholarly manner. In the evening Rev. Shaw returned to the pulpit and delivered a Pentecostal sermon, in his usual able and efficient style. Much effort is being exerted to increase the evening congregations and one of the most plausible plans put forward is the rendition on the magnificent organ by Mrs. Markham of select and beautiful numbers each Sunday evening.

The choir came in for a lion's share of favorable comment and congratulations for its marvelous display of untiring effort and racial pride on Saturday evening in the Music Parade. Wesley can justly feel proud of it. The Young People's League which meets each Sunday evening from 6:20 to 7:20 is growing in rapid strides due to the interesting discussions and sincere study for one hour. The Literary Department opens with a boom the first Tuesday evening in June. Every effort is being made to so organize the church and people that everyone will feel that it is not the pastor's or a few individual's church but a church for all. Watch for the All Mens Concert on the 15th of June under the auspices of the Brotherhood.

SECOND A. M. E. CHURCH—
1736 East 53rd Street.
Rev. Robert House, Pastor.

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m. Subject, "Divine Help.
Preaching 8:00 p. m. Subject, "Too late."

We had splendid sermons and attendance on last Lord's Day. We are looking forward to greater heights in the service of our Lord and Master.

Come! You are welcome to worship with us.

HAMILTON M. E. CHURCH—
East 18th Street and Naomi Avenue.
Rev. S. M. Beane, Pastor.

Sunday services were of that unusual order which is characteristic of them at this fast growing church. The pastor preached very helpful and instructive sermons at the morning and evening hour. The Sunday School sessions are continuing to grow in interest and enthusiasm under leadership of Prof. C. L. Eason and his efficient corps of teachers. The first Quarterly Conference of the year was held on Wednesday night. The reports showed the church to be in splendid condition. A social hour was spent at the close of the session. Next Sunday is Woman's Day. A special musical and Literary program will be rendered at the evening hour. At the eleven o'clock hour Mrs. Lena Leonard Fisher, of the faculty of U. S. C. will be the speaker of the morning, with a message of importance to woman. You are cordially invited to be present. You will always find a cordial welcome to this church. Come and see.

WARD CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH—
1252 East 25th Street.
Rev. B. R. Guy, Pastor.

Last Sunday was a record breaker at this church. The Sunday School was well attended, offering good, scholars cheerful.

At the morning service the pastor spoke from the text, "Take ye the unprofitable servant, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. The congregation present was deeply interested. The Endeavor was better attended than it has been for some time the young people taking an active part in it.

At night, Brother Williams spoke from the text, "Thou therefore my son, be strong in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ." Next Sunday will be our big rally day. Come over and help us.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Eighth Street and Towne Avenue.
Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister.

Pastor Ward will occupy his pulpit in historic Eighth and Towne Avenue Church Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock and again at 7:45 p. m. Prof. Elmer C. Bartlett and the choirs will furnish special music at both services marking the close of music week.

The Annual rally, termed a "Thirty Day Whirl Wind Drive netted more than $2800.00 (Twenty Eight Hundred Dollars) last Sunday. Pastor Ward delivered the sermon with good effect at 11:00 a. m., when four men and women were added to the membership of the church. The choirs inspired the splendid audience with good gospel singing. In the evening Prof. Douglass of the Pre-Cathedral gave an organ recital using the Hammond and Chimes which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large and representative gathering of lovers of music. Mrs. Lula Slaughter registered the thermometer for the clubs on the even side and Lawyer Willis O. Tyler from the clubs on the odd side. The day closed with Mrs. Slaughter in the lead but both sides ran nearly together. It was pronounced a wonderful rally because more people had a part in it. The minister desires all captains to report in full if possible Sunday, as he wants to leave on Monday for a little vacation in the far East. Being a member of the Board at Western University he will be present at the commencement.

The Sunday School drive is advancing nicely. Captain Johnson with his blue ship is about 200 miles in the lead. Captain Gertrude Henry and the red ship keeps in sight. Admiral Orma Stratton rallys the forces of both ships and will be on the first that lands.

THE INDEPENDENT CHURCH OF CHRIST—

Corner of 18th and Paloma Streets.
Rev. N. P. Gregg, Pastor.

The regular morning and evening services were held last Sunday. Inspiration was to be gained from both meetings. Rev. Gregg's sermon on prayer Sunday evening was especially beneficial.

The Young People's Lyceum had a very enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday evening. A Y. P. L. track team was organized to compete in the Y. M. C. A. track meet on May 30.

The boys are slightly leading the girls in the big Sunday School membership drive.

The Deaconess board gave a surprise party for its president Mrs. E. Alexander, who is going away, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Shackleford.

Rev. Greggs is scheduled to deliver a sermon at the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Pasadena next Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

NATIONAL BAPTIST CONVENTION

There are several misunderstandings concerning the coming of the Convention in September next, yet we are asking the public not to be discouraged or mis-led, as there is all surety of its coming, though several traitors are using their utmost endeavors to discourage the official heads concerning the efforts being made by the different local committees. Yop have your reason in doing so yet your sins will surely find you out. I know of your secret actions. "But never wake a lion when he is asleep!"

W. A. T. PARKINSON.

BAPTIST MINISTERS' UNION

The Los Angeles Baptist Ministers' Union will meet at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Chuyrch, 261 N. Bannie Brae Street at 2:00 p. m., Monday, May 28, being the fourth Monday. All Pastors, Laymen and Church Officers are cordially invited. Lunch served by the Missionary Sisters of the Church. No charge! Remember the hour—2 p. m.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 23.—Perry W. Howard, special assistant to the Attorney General, is now the highest salaried Government official of color in the United States. This distinction comes as the result of a promotion in the tangible form of an increase of $1,000 in his yearly salary. He now receives $6,000 a year.

Result of Legal Efforts

This promotion is a recognition of the very valuable legal services Mr. Howard has rendered the Government. He received his appointment two years ago and was assigned a large number of suits brought by various railroad companies against the United States. Many millions of dollars in claims against the Government were involved. The railroad companies had the best lawyers they could retain. But Mr. Howard went to his work enthusiastically and, as a result of the success with which he defended these claims against the Government, the Attorney General shortly after his return to the Department of Justice last week approved this promotion for him.

Engaged in Important Work.

A conception of the importance of the work in which Mr. Howard is engaged at the Department of Justice may be had from the fact that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, 81 railroad cases handled by him, in which the amount claimed was $4,999,415.71, were disposed of. The claimants, however, secured judgments for only $513,850.19, for a large part of which there was no defense; the only question involved being the ascertainment of the correct amount due. He now has 102 cases pending, in which the amounts claimed aggregate $3,901, 204.46.

He has also represented the Government in two coal cases involving the question of the liability of the United States for losses incurred by producers in selling their coal at prices fixed by the Fuel Administration under the wartime powers given the President. In both of these cases he filed demurrers to the petitions, which were sustained in the Court of Claims. The coal companies immediately appealed to the Supreme Court and if these test cases should be decided adversely to the Government, the United States will probably be called upon to satisfy judgments amounting to millions.

A Fine Example

Born and reared in Mississippi, his is a splendid example to the Negro youth of this country of the height which may be attained in the legal profession by application and determination.

country; and,

Whereas, the said crime of lynching violates, abrogates and nullifies every patriotic principle and sentiment contained in the above Article 2, Section 6,

Be it resolved that the United Spanish War Veterans, in Convention assembled, hereby denounce and condemn the atrocious practices above mentioned and that such denunciation and condemnation be spread upon the records of the Convention, and copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, and to both of our Senators, now in the U. S. Senate, that the sense and spirit of our grand and patriotic body may be known to those in authority, and that our organization may do its share at home as well as abroad in combating the foes of sacred institutions.

Adoption of this resolution, on May 14, 1923 by the Convention, was unanimous and without debate.

A LAND OF MILK AND HONEY.

Conan Doyle, great English Spiritualist, is in America again. He lectured this week at the Trinity Auditorium. He seems to have plenty of spirit but he desires more materialism. He is willing to exchange spirit for money.

America is a great place for grazing. All Europeans understand how easy Americans are. A few years ago Friedman of Germany came here to sell his turtle serum on tuberculosis. He left after a few weeks some hundred thousands of dollars to the good. Sir Olixer Lodge found this country a good place to lodge and leave with a larger purse. Einstein, the author of the much discussed theories of relativity, found America "relatively" the best place to present his theory.

Only recently Emil Coue, the French chemist, came to these shores and got a handsome fortune for telling us to say: "Every day in every way I am getting better and better." He really did get better purses every day in every way.

What is true of white people is more largely true of Negroes. Almost every fakir who comes along takes in the Negro population. We have been recently deluged with African princes, born for the most part in Georgia, Florida, Oklahoma and North Carolina. Sometimes we meet Indians who are simply mulatto Negroes from New Orleans or some such point who have just received a message from the far East which the authors are deputed to transmit to the oppressed Negro on percentage. The American Negro like the American white man pays them all. He is too generous to think. For fear some worthy person may be missed, he supports all the fakirs and quacks who come along.

Truly this is a land of milk and honey for charlatans of all types. American diplomats are well known in Europe for having fat pocket books and empty heads. If this is true of select diplomats, what more can we expect of the common American herd? Our slogan should be: "America the mecca of schemers! welcome to our shores!"

The girl who would succeed, must keep her eyes, ears and heart ope nfor whatever means a larger, more cultivated and comprehensive view of the world and humanity. She must endeavor to retain her own individuality, keep her own convictions of right and wrong and improve her own personality, without allowing herself t obecome a copy of someone else. And yet she must realize that every day she is meeting men and women who have enjoyed greater privileges, perhaps, than she has ever known, and put herself into a receptive state of mind to learn from them whatsoever can be of benefit to her in any possible way.

The conviction that better laws, alike for the individual and for the nation must be backed u pand made vital by the power of a self denying love.

IT IS THE MAN WHO DOES THAT COUNTS.

It is not the man who stands upon the corner—nor the one who points out the strong man's stumbles, that is moulder of men. The credit belongs to the men who are in the game to win, whose faces are marred by dust, and sweat, and blood; who strive valiantly. Men who err and come short and short again and again, because there is no effort without error and short comings, but who actually strive to do the deeds, who know the great enthusiasm, the great devotions, who spend themselves in a worthy cause, who at best know in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if they fail, at least fail while daring, so that their places shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

A WHITE MAN'S COUNTRY.

However politicians may prate and wave the bloody shirt, a government of the people and for the people means: "No North, No South." To the task of governmental responsibility they have been pledged, and coalation of ideas and a concentration of purpose to the greatest good of all the people, will only suffice to obliterate sectional lines, and give us a government well fitted for the performance of the duties devolving upon it. It cannot be accomplished by persistant efforts of men like Attorney General Dougherty in catering to Southern whims in his line up for presidental timber, nor his ignorant utterance before the Supreme Court when he over-stepped the law and declared that "This is a white man's country." Just what the Attorney General means by this gross insult to 15 millions of black men will be purged from his tainted soul and his mind will again rest upon memories of those Black Sons of Democracy, now sleeping upon the torn bosom of France, that truth and justice may not perish from the face of the earth.

The great big-hearted Americans must learn, (and the sooner the better) that a disregard of the Constitution and the rights conferred upon her citizens will redound to her discredit and precipitate disgrace. This must be learned in both the North and the South. The infringements upon the rights and an infraction of the privileges of the citizens of any country by the country itself, argues the inability of that country to measure up to the demands, and, is an open disregard for the provision of her Constitution. There is a law in physics that says: "The action and re-action are equal and in opposite directions." In every case re-action will develop itself, or demonstrate itself in science, in law, in government and society. So it is incumbent upon humanity to observe the laws, which in re-action, will produce the best results.

This government is pledged to the task of giving protection to every citizen; to see that he enjoys life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And in all candor we declare that this is not the case. Until America frees herself from the grip of race prejudice, race segregation and race hate, she will not take her place in the counsels of the democracy. Her dreams will not come true unless she grant this democracy to every man in America, without regard to race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

EDITORIAL REFLECTIONS

By: E. W. Kyle

A fool's grin is indicative of his mind.

Every hot day gone is a cold one coming.

Successful results often mean a world of efforts.

Some women reign and others just storm about.

Success has never killed a man, though worry to attain it has murdered its thousands.

Most failures are some one's lack of confidence formed into a reality.

Carelessness and indifference and neglect are not timbers for the builders of character.

Whatever the reason for impoliteness on the part of one may be, he can really never amount to much. Politeness counts always.

NEGRO REPUBLICANS

For many, many years the Negroes of the country have been voting for Republicans only. The reason has been because it was under Republican rule that he was given his freedom and made an American citizen. The Negro is very grateful and fully wants to pay the bill. But it seems to us that in the fifty years we should be by now paid up. That is if the Republican party has not given us something more of value. I don't believe that they have. At least I can say that the administration has done nothing and the race as a whole has just about given up hope. In fact, ask any of the old ones and they will tel you they do not know what is the matter with the Republicans—they don't seem to care for our vote. I will say here, yes, they do want your vote but feel that they have it anyway, because Abraham Lincoln and the Republican party bought it and paid for it when they freed the slaves. That was a great deed, but the children of those old leaders seem to forget the children of the old slaves, thus the Republicans of today are not the Republicans of yesterday. And we should feel free to vote any issue that was for the best for the state and country or any man that stood for those issues, whether he is Republican or Democrat. We must get behind the issues and not behind the Republican party only, right or wrong. The Negro Republican vote is like a suit of clothes that we have had a long time but it is too good to throw away, so we keep it to use in times of emergency, so we place it away on the shelf and give it such care as to keep it in readiness at any time. It has no other value, so is the position of Negro Republican vote, only in close election does it have value. Now if we should give some other party a good strong vote for a progressive issue, we will have them add value to it and I am sure the Republicans will certainly notice that they have lost something of value in the last of the Negro Republican vote. We must have value to be considered, and we must not let the Republican party be the judge of that value.

MUST DO AWAY WITH RACE PREJUDICE

It is not the Asian who needs educating, it is the European and American. We are not worrying half so much about the heathen in his blindness as we are the Christian in his blindness. We shall never meet the problems growing out of our relation with the far east unless we, once for all, put away race prejudice. The European snob in Asia is distinctly the enemy of the civilized west. And this coadjutor in this country is a fitting criminal—joke—fellow.

The opinion of the civilized world must have some effect on the most calloused American official conscience, and it is our governing class, our men and women of light and learning, that needs to be aroused on this question. It is hard to tell which is the worse enemy of the Black man, the brute who incites lynching by the basest of crimes, or the social equality fellow who slanders his country and boasts of the only real red blooded man in the world. The Black man is up against many obstacles in which the meanest white American can have no adequate conception. The only way we can break this accursed line up of race prejudice is to go forward under pressure and make the best of these hard conditions and do our utmost by our individual achievements to tear away the mask of hypocrisy from their faces so they can see themselves the laughing stock of three-fourths of the people of the world. If this veil is not lifted in the next decade we will see him driven back into sin and degradation from whence he came.

THE NEGRO OR THE FOREIGNER FOR THE SOUTH?

The unrestricted coming of immigrants into America keeps down the wage standard and the standard of living for the American laborer and imperils the condition of employment. It is also startling to be told that 35 per cent of those who come to our shores are illiterate as compared with less than 3 per cent of the old immigrant class. We are raising money to convert the far away heathen—untutored, uncultivated, unwashed, unshaved—are coming in flocks to our country.

There were 1,041,000 aliens, representing forty races, that came into America during the last year. At this rate imagine how many have rolled in upon America through the past years. Of the 92,000,000 people in the United States 41,000,000 are either immigrants or born of foreign parentage, leaving only 41,000,000 whites born of native white parents. The 10,000,000 Negroes give the numerical dominance in America of people who are not white people of American parentage. There are about 3,000,000 foreigners now in the south, and 50,000 came here last year; a large majority of these foreigners are ignorant, and only a few are members of a Christian denomination. If they are not Christianized they will heathenize the South.

Let the foreigners come into the South in large numbers and the white people of this southland will have more than a Negro problem on their hands. If the foreigner comes in large numbers in the south the Negro will leave. This the southern people do not want in a sense, for they cannot use the foreigner in their business as a servant like they can the Negro.

THE BYSTANDER

A few Sundays ago, a member of the People's Forum offered a motion to the effect, that a Committee be selected to investigate the tendency of Coroner's Juries to liberate Colored prisoners who had chosen Colored people as their victims. The motion was denied and we thought no more of it until recently a white attorney making a woefully weak and feeble effort to save his Colored client's life, reminded us of the aforesaid condition. Hailing from Texas, the land of Klux and Klan, the white lawyer—the lord and master for some of our people—related how down home "niggers" were regarded as liars, thieves, etc., with the intention, seemingly, to impress that this was a case where a Negro killed another one, and no one especially white people, should concern themselves, or take seriously. Such costly nonsense! Yet some of our people would doubly prefer to bargain for this kind of prattle and insult than pay half the amount for all of the intellect and brain our attorneys possess.

There are some smooth, unfair and tricky Colored lawyers and many bunco white ones; at any event you pay the white and pay them dearly, since they do not particularly care for your patronage. The race lawyers must give time, energy and pride; get half pay, and finally submit to ridicule after he fails to make the crooked way straight.

This is no attempt to justify crooked, illegal deals perpetuated by any one, but it is time that the attention of our people be called to the fact, that it is as bad when a jury convicts you with a white attorney as when a Negro is your defender. The penalty is the same.

We are not pretending thus to solicit trade for there are enough race respecting, race loving people to support any business that is legitimate and proper; yet, it is an injustice and wholly unappreciated, for anyone whether he be from Cincinati, Pasadena or Georgia, to get up before an intelligent group of people and villify our race, no doubt for high pay, and little criticsm. Like clinging vines some of our people shall always hold to "Mr. Charlie." This seems as true of churches as of individuals, any Negro lawyer can be demurred out of court, yet, "Mr. Colored lawyer, help the church, and by all means give us an address for such and such an occasion." With friendship for all and malice toward none, this article is written. We must work side by side and together, white and black; we in business and out shall, however, never be efficient until we get the chance, or a united people until we learn Greek for the Greek, the Egyptian for Egypt, the Negro for Colored America and one God for us all.

EDWARD MORRIS

We knew him little in life, but more in death. Few knew him as he toiled and worked, all praise his memory, in his absence. We love him for his effort, his worth, his bravery. He died in harness, fighting for a cause—an education—a battle many of us wage, yet few are successful. He lost in a combat most young men are too cowardly to tackle. It was a battle against great odds, an attempt to work and study, the result was the inevitable.

None knew of his pangs and sufferings, for as a brave martyr, he fought on mid silence and despair. We are prone to wonder whether or not this choice of life pays. Is it worth while for a young man to shun the primrose path, to divorce the bright lights and cleave to the long, narrow, pitiless road of preparation and justice? This was the query that faced Morris, it must be answered by each of us. Parents and friends often forsake and discourage. The way to success through books and education seems to leisurely and playful to them, they prefer a pick and hoe or a broom and mop. But with a determination as grim as death, and a hope as crystalline as the rays of the sun, we must lay aside those things which so easily beset us and exert perseverance to the end. It is a powerful compliment to be called a self-made man, yet, experience has convinced the writer that it is a risky ordeal, and a tired body is not the most conducive element for mental acumen.

Edward Morris, comrade and coworker, you fought a good fight. You have won in that from your decision and life, we have caught new inspiration and spirit. We too, shall press on with endless hope and unquenchable effort till we fall to rest and join you in that haven prepared for spirits who dare and do.

A RACE CHOIR

I gazed wistfully upon the immortal Tournament of Roses, and thought how glorious it would have been if some race organization or group, had sufficiently bestirred itself to the extent of representing us in that immaculate floral display; but in vain.

At last, however, a group has come on the scene, full of pride, pep, and pluck to represent, and to represent nobly, the Wesley Chapel Choir.

Too much praise cannot be heaped on this splendidly trained, neatly equipped and tactfully arranged group that passed and sang in the Music Parade Saturday evening, amid the wild plaudits of onlookers who lost sight of color and reveled in the majesty of art.

Arrayed in large busses, beautifully decorated with green fern and California poppies, the full choir, in becoming vestment sang into the soul, as the bystanders stood silent, looked with amazement, and only broke the spell with wild acclaim. What a triumph for Wesley, its pastor, its choir leader. It had a yet greater significance, it was a triumph for the race and exhibited the clean respectable and intellectual portion of our group.

HOW TO CURE INFANTILE ECZEMA

By Dr. E. B. Lewis, B. Sc. M. D.
1618 1-2 Est 9th Street.

Eczema in its infinite variety, is a name that is used to cover a multitude of sins—not always of the victim, but rather of the absence of complete medical knowledge and its application. Time was when eczema and other affections of the skin were glibly ascribed to "scrofula," "leprosy" and "uric acid diathesis." Some whose opinion are founded upon ancient assertions still hold stoutly to this doctrine.

Be this as it may, eczemas are not always wholly dependent upon any single internal or external factor. Fat healthy-looking infants—the overfed sort—are at times the first ones to have eczema of the scalp, the face, behind the ears and elsewhere.

The use of fluids that irritate the skin, hard water, sharp winds, dry air, cold and heat, strong soaps or dirt may all excite the delicate skin of an infant to the point of such eruptions. Commonly, however, there is also internal susceptibility from too much sugar, sweet, rich and greasy milks and artificial foods.

To be sure, mothers who are too overworked to keep their children scrupulously clean can still be held accountable for these dermal maladies. Irritation from dirt, greases, soiled clothing, perspiration behind the ears, in the creases of the lips and other folds of the skin are often the cause of these eczemas.

Intestinal disorders and other digestive disturbances, excessive use of fatty and cereal or farinaceous foods such as potatoes and oatmeal are sometimes the underlying soil of eczemas.

Indicated Local Treatment.

One of the frequent forms of infantile eczema is by strange preference limited to the cheeks, scalp, forehead, ears and neck. It may occur elsewhere, too. Small, red papules appear first and then coalesce. Thereupon a moist, red surface exudes serum, lymph or even matter. This dries and forms the thick crusts which may be as hard as that worn by the man in "the Iron Mask."

These crusts must be removed with hot water and castile soap. Occasionally it is necessary to soak them off with bicarbonate of soda in water. Beneath the crusts there is a red, inflamed, granular surface which bleeds readily and exudes matter of lymph. It is upon this denuded surface that yellow oxide of mercury ointment or some moist eczema remedy is to be applied. At the same time the food and diet are reduced in quantity and changed in quality.

Swollen lymph glands of the neck and in other neighborhoods of the eruption give proof that bacteria and other microbes, if not among the true causes, are at least secondary invaders of the eczematous areas. These large lymph nodes are sensitive and painful, and are among several other causes of restlessness, loss of sleep, night terrors, nightmares, talking and muttering in sleep. Head lice are also sources of such scalp eczemas.

Seek the Cause

Contrary to one of those many apparently undestroyable delusions so old and so widespread that the truth does not prevail, it is never dangerous to cure an eczema for fear of "driving it in." This absurdity is only one of many that seem to prove that "man is a reasoning animal" yet fails to use his knowledge of research.

To cure any skin eruption in the shortest possible time is most desirable. A judicious estimate of the individual's rations, habits, sleep, sunlight, air, soaps, water, garments, occupation, baths and personal cleanliness is more essential than the lotions and ointments, salves and other skin applications. These however, are as a rule necessary.

The removal of scabs and crusts comes first. Comfort from the itching is next in order. Then protection of the new skin that is forming. The pulverized preparation of calamine or black wash allowed to dry on in layers allays the itch andsoreness. Then the oil of cade and salicylic acid ointment to cure the open places is called for. Study labor, patience and persistence bring the reward of a complete cure.

Dr. Lewis will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest to the public. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. E. B. Lewis, 1618 1-2 East 9th Street. DENBY'S PARTY GIVES HAITIAN OCCUPATION THE USUAL WHITEWASH

Congressional Visitors to Island Report "Complete Tranquility" But Fear Withdrawal of U. S. Murder Marines Would Mean Uprising Against Puppet President.

(Crusader Service)

PORT AU PRINCE, May 23.—Members of the Congressional party which arrived here yesterday on the transport Henderson for a two day investigation into the effects of the benevolent seizure of the Haitian republic and thoughtful suppression of the liberties of its people by the purely unselfish and highly altruistic Government of the United States, confess that they are greatly impressed with the complete tranquility observable on every hand.

In spite, however, of this cemetery-like quiet, the visitors feel quite certain that it would never, never do to withdraw the United States marines from the scene as the withdrawal of this force, which is so representative of the kind interest which the Colossus of the North holds in her weaker neighbors to the South, would undoubtedly lead to the regeneration within the breasts of the Haitian people of such ancient and foolish notions of liberty as the right to elect a President sans the valuable advice of the altruistic pirates in Washington. In fact, even so cursory and fleeting an investigation as the two day visit allowed the Congressional party served to convince those able advocates of the "white burden" of voluntary, and even insistent, carrying of the valuables of the colored brother, that the withdrawal of the American Big Fist would immediately destroy the graveyard quiet or "peace American" and result in a determined effort on the part of the populace to overthrow President Borno, alleged puppet choice of America for President of the once free Republic of Haiti.

However that may be, the Congressional Party, direct from the highly civilized land of the Ku Klux Klan, the Bastrop tortures, the Florida peonage cases, the reactionary American Legion, Tammany Hall, corrupt politics, unbridled profiteering in the necessities of life and other beautiful flowers of American civilization, is quite certain that "as for absolute quiet, no place could have more of it than Hayti now enjoys"—unless it might be a cemetery.

And, as crowning proof of the tranquility with which the land is blessed under the American Occupation, the visitors found that Haitian workers who are getting 30 cents a day for road work, would be quite satisfied with 20 cents. Strong detachments of United States marines are stationed at strategic points throughout the republic to ensure a continuance of tranquility—made possible no doubt, by the cold-blooded murders of three thousand unarmed natives, women and children included, during the first year of Occupation. And, lest untoward incidents should mar this blissful tranquility born of cracker guns and bayonets, these detachments are often supplied via roundabout routes to lessen the chances of convoys meeting up with live Haitian patriots who still cherish dreams of independence, and perhaps, remember how Toussiant L'Overture used to get his supplies by capturing them from the enemy.

WHITE FOLK BACK OF GARVEY'S AFRICA MOVE

Threaten to Make America so Hard for Race That We Will Gladly Follow Marcus Over the Seas.

(Crusader Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—Reminiscent of the circulars distributed among Negroes last summer advising them that Garvey and the Ku Klux Klan were their two best friends and that they should beware of the Church of Rome and the radical groups within the Race, propaganda circulars are being distributed far and wide over the West to the effect that the Knights of the White Light have undertaken the task of not only making the Negro fall in line with the Garvey program and depart for parts in Africa, but of making the Negro earnestly and anxiously desirous of going!

The leaflets, mailed to white citizens of these parts, inform them that the aim of the Knights of the White Light is to see that all people of African descent be chased out of this country. They have taken a vow to force the Negro to go to Africa, and to want to go.

The circular reads, in part:

"Speakers or agents are to tell them of the beautiful home across the Atlantic from whence they came. Nor is the press to be idle, all manner of magazines, papers, pamphlets, calculated to excite a desire in them for a home across the pond, will be scattered among them.

"We must send agents among the Negroes, to encourage the emigration, telling them of the delightful climate, and the rich soil, where cotton and all kinds of fruit grow wild. Where there are not white men to rape their women and lynch their men, where they can have officers and make their own laws, and where freedom will be as unlimited as the sunshine which is above their heads,

"Transportation must be furnished them or, if possible have them to furnish their own ships.

"In the fewest words possible the purpose of our organization is to transport all Negroes in the United States to Africa. As there is no law to compel the coon to leave unless he wants to, the first step is to make him want to emigrate as suggested above. Every person who joins this order swears among other things to assist the coons to the conclusion that it is to their interest to place the Atlantic ocean between themselves and the members of the Knights of the White Light."

BONDS SHOULD WIN!

JOHN R. HAYNES TO HEAD FREE HOLDERS TICKET TUESDAY

DR. JOHN R. HAYNES FOR HEAD OF BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS

A new constitution for the city of Los Angeles virtually will be the task of the 15 Freeholders which will be elected on next Tuesday. Therefore it is well that every voter should be alert and choose for their choosen ones who are sought for their devotion and sincere interest in not only the growth of the city but who stands for the program of all the people along with that of the city itself.

Dr. John R. Haynes Stands Out.

The Eagle has watched the public career of Dr. John R. Haynes for many years and we have long since been convinced that he stands at all times for all of the people regardless of race, creed, or color. We have found his counsel and interest to be genuine and sincere and for that reason we are urging all of our people to especially line up and support Dr. Haynes as a member of the Board of Freeholders. We want to see him get such a heavy vote that it will be considered fair him to become the chairman of the same.

Very Vital Issues

It is of the utmost importance that men of the calibre and known integrity of Dr. Haynes are on this board, for in the forming of a new city charter many things which will be of great import to the average citizen will be proposed and strong pressure to put them over and this is the big reason we want men like Dr. Haynes on a board who have no interest to serve, here and except to present a charter which will benefit not one class of our citizens against another class, but a charter that will benefit all of the people of our great city alike.

The supporters of municipal ownership are strongly for Dr. Haynes, and are supporting the following candidates, who are in complete harmony with his progressive views:

For the Council: Charles J. Calden, J. F. Hughes, Walter Mallard, W. J. Saudbera, R. S. Sparks, Fred C. Wheeler and Boyle Workman.

For Freeholders:

[illegible] Baskerville, Robert M. Clarke, Edward A. Collins, John R. Haynes, Freeman A. High, John B. Hurd, Franklin D. Powell, Arthur W. Kennedy, Ray Malcolm, Mrs. Tupper Merrifield, William Mead, Watt L. Mortimer, Nathan Newby, Josefa T. Peltzner, David Woodhead.

Dr. Haynes also asks his friends to be sure to vote for the $35,000,000 power bond issue, Proposition No. 4 on the ballot.

WHEELER MAKING WINNING FIGHT

With the support of numerous committees representing labor, fraternal, civic and other organizations Councilman Fred C. Wheeler is conducting an intensive campaign this week for re-election on June 5. Headquarters have been established by Mr. Wheeler in the Byrne building, Broadway and Third Street.

During his career as a public official, Councilman Wheeler has worked vigorously and consistently for every movement for the upbuilding of Los Angeles and the best interests of the people on issues of vital importance to the development of the city.

In one of his talks this week before a large group of members of an improvement association Councilman Wheeler said:

"Municipal electric systems have brought low rates, which have been responsible in a great measure for the rapid growth of the city.

"Recognition of Councilman Wheeler's ability in handling municipal problems has been state wide. He is first vice president of the California League of Municipalities, which comprises 247 cities and towns in the State. He also is a former president of the State Conference on City Planning.

As a councilman Mr. Wheeler has made a record replete with achievements that have won for him the support of thousands of men and women in every field of activity in the city. COMMENTS

Among the features at a circus was a fat midget, a lady whose breadth was equal to her length, and the specimen termed the "What is It?" Preliminary to the performance the freaks were paraded the arena. The fat lady midget felt, and owing to her peculiar shape, was not able to regain her feet. The "What is it?" seeing her predicament offered to assist her, but she railed over and roping his color waved him away, and lay in that position until one of the white employees came to her assistance.

The pin-headed "What is it?" showed a spirit of helpfulness: What did the fat lady midget show?

A well dressed white man boarded a street car and took an seat along side of a colored man equally well dressed. Evidently the white man had not noticed the color of the other, and when he did, moved his seat. When he was comfortably seated along came a man, also white, who had evidently been toiling in some white substance which adhered to his clothing, there being but two vacant seats the toiler preferred to sit by the side of one of his own complexion, and when he

NATIONAL BAPTIST CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN L. A. IN SEPT.

Propaganda Spread by Letters Sent To Other Sections by Traitor or Traitors in the Ranks and to the Cause of the Baptists in Los Angeles, Must be Judged by the Source From Which it is Sent.

By: JOHN EMERY PROWD

The following letter speaks very clearly for itself, and therefore we publish the same:

Atlanta, Ga., May 11th, 1923.

Rev. L. B. Brown,
1359 East 20th Street,
Los Angeles, Cal.

My Dear Friend Brown:

It is being rumored here and throughout the South that you all have fallen down in your arrangements to entertain the National Bapt. Convention, and that a committee is to be sent with instructions in advance to cancel the meeting there.

Now as you know for purely business and economical reasons I did not favor coming to Cal. at this time, but after the matter was settled in St. Louis, as a good Baptist I fell in line and am lining up Ga. to be there in large numbers.

Please acquaint me with the facts by return mail so I will know whether or not to go further on my Railroad arrangements.

A number of us are determined that the Convention shall come to Los Angeles unless you Pastors desire a release. If you all really want the Convention, get busy at once and write the Leaders in all the States and do this before the Committee arrives, and before our Executive Board meets in Hot Springs.

It is evident that somebody there is trying to call the Convention off. Be those of you who really want it had better get together and work like getting out fire.

As one of your old Georgia boys, I will stand by you unless you take down. The outlook is better than it was last year.

Fraternally Yours,
P. JAMES BRYANT.

There is no question in our minds but that the National Baptist Convention will be in Los Angeles in September. California was selected as the next meeting place of the Convention by a vote (almost unanimous) of the National Baptist Convention which met in St. Louis last year.

The point that is too deep for us is why, don't the few, (and we could even minimize "few" who do not wish the Convention to meet here (for reasons best known to themselves and which, we daresay they can't give the public); why don't they, we repeat, drop from the ranks of being a part an aparoid of those who are earnestly and sincerely working to the end that the Convention, coming to Los Angeles, might be a great success.

If, we say, these few have some petty, selfish and individual grievances—why not go off into some corner and nurse these "attacks" at their own expense, and not to the ridicule and detriment of the Baptist Brethren in Los Angeles who are making all preparations possible for the coming of the great Convention in September.

These Judases who meet with their brethren, pretending to help in the great task of making preparations, and then on the other hand writing letters into other sections of the country which spread propaganda to the contrary, are known to us, the brethren's eyes are opening on them every day, and ere long they must meet their sure fate, and reap their undesired reward.

It is high time that the Baptist Ministry of Los Angeles cease from its line of assistance work long enough to examine its ranks carefully in order that it might locate its treacherous, two-faced and hypocritical "Christian" brethren and unmask them by the public.

There is no question to be raised about the Convention meeting here in September, just spread the news far and wide to this effect, join the ranks of those who are making preparations and work so hard and fast that the "Drones" and "Traitors" will be dropped by the wayside and "lost in the shuffle."

The National Baptist Convention will meet in Los Angeles, California in September, 1923—so spread the news and tell your friends.

If you would know your enemy within, watch those who would fight your interest when you have known service and who have stood by you and with you in all times. Don't swap the old for the new.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH WRITES MRS. VIOLA HARRIS-BRANDON A LETTER OF THANKS

Our Dear Mrs. Brandon:

As you are closing your most excellent career with us as Choir Directress, we take this method in expressing our deepest and most heart felt thanks, for the faithful service you have rendered our Church.

You came to us a stranger, about eight months ago. Your characteristics of noble womanhood; your masterfulness of unprecedented force and power; your efficiency and proficiency in the musical art banished from our minds, forever the idea of stranger, friendship unshakened, and unmoved, by the earthquake of volcanic influence of human hand, between thee and us.

Even to the extent of the recent announcement of discontinuing your service as Choir Directress with us, which was more painful than an electric elbow shock, our love, our esteem for you remain deep seated in our hearts.

Mrs. Brandon, we reluctantly give you up. How endearing has been our relationship! You have stolen into our life, and into the life of our Church as a sun beam. But be it far from us to exercise the slightest spirit of cruelty, to ever persuade you not to do a thing which in your estimation is for your own betterment.

Now that you are leaving us to go to a new field of endeavor, we assure you, an interest in our prayer. If we have been of any service to you, or meant any thing toward your advancement, happy are we to know it. There is not the least regret in our hearts of having contributed, to your progress in the lime light of Los Angeles musical world. Rather we are happy to have had the opportunity through the medium of our church to present a worthy young woman of the race to the City and County of Los Angeles.

You have appeared in some of the largest and most influential churches of Southern California. Where ever you go, we are persuaded to believe, that when in a state of meditation some of your most delightful, and pleasant, and sweetest reminiscences, will be your association with us. Again, yea thrice we wish you a brilliant success in your work. Now we bid you God speed.

Signed on behalf of our Church, Committee:

Mrs. ESTELLA THORNTON
G. C. COLEMAN,
Mrs. M. F. MITCHELL.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
14th and Birch Street.

We had another high day and the services were well attended both morning and evening. The ex-minister, Rev. Brother C. Cothram, preached at 11:00 o'clock hour using for his subject the third chapter of the 2nd Cor. and the ninth verse: "For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's building. His theme was: "We are co-workers with God and the church seemed to take on new life and Brother Cothram was at his best."

WALL ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
East 8th and Wall Streets.
Odd Fellows Hall.

Our services last Lord's day were good both in spirit and attendance. Rev. T. C. Cothram preached morning and evening. He brought us a wonderful message in both sermons. His morning subject was co-workers with God. He made it plain that we being God's children should not be weary in well doing, that a continuance in faith and works as taught by God. We would inherit the gift of eternal life through Christ the Son of God our Lord. The evening subject was "The Love of God for the World." Text John 3:16. He showed that God loved us first, not because we loved him or that we were righteous, or did any thing to merit his love but while we were yet sinners. He proved his love by the unspeakable gift of His son, Christ, Jesus our Lord. Our audience was good. Every one seemed to be greatly encouraged and edified. Come and worship wiht us.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—
24th Street and Central Ave.
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Pastor.

Sunday, June 3rd being the first Sunday in the month will be Communion Day at this Church. The Pastor will occupy the pulpit at both hours and administer the Lord's Supper at the close of each service. Preceding the Communion in the morning there will be a Baptismal service. Every member is urgently requested to be in his or her pew at the 11:00 o'clock hour. Friends are cordially invited to worship with us at all times.

Splendid services were held last Sunday. The Pastor filled the pulpit at both hours, speaking in the morning on: "The Disappointed Christ." At the evening hour he gave an expository sermon on the "Lord's Prayer." The Candle Lighting service last week was a huge success from every angle. See article about it elsewhere in this issue of the paper. We thank all who took part. Come with us and we will do thee good.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—
54th and Birch Street.

Last Lord's Day was indeed a high day and the most powerful day we have had for a good many Sundays. At the 11:00 o'clock hour Rev. I. J. Williams the acting minister, preached from the 1st chapter of Gen. using for a subject "God's dominion." the 26th verse: "And God said let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and they (we) have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

At 3:00 o'clock St. Luke 10th chapter and the 41 and 42 verse. "And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her." And this sermon brought down the house, by much so that two souls came forward and took membership in the person of Brother A. Blackburn and his wife, Sister E. Blackburn of Oklahoma.

Among the visitors was Mr. C. L. Brock.

Services for next Lord's Day as usual. Bible School at 9:45 preaching at 11:00 o'clock. Young People's Society at 7:00 p. m. and preaching at 8:00 p. m. Prayer Meeting on Thursday evening from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. in connection with our Bible drill.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH—
West 36th street and Normandie Ave.
Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge, Pastor.
Los Angeles, Cal., May 27, 1923.

Our services last Sunday were excellent. Sunday School quite interesting and well attended. The pastor spoke in the morning his subject being "The Ultimate end of the Traitor." The text was taken from Matt. 27:5. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The B. Y. P. U. is getting along nicely. It was largely attended Dr. Gantt occupied the pulpit at the evening service His text was what think ye of Christ. Matt. 24:42. Dr. Gantt is truly a great preacher. Visitors always welcome.

TABERNACLE CHURCH—
Rev. Davis, Acting Pastor.

Last Sunday was a great day in Tabernacle Church with Rev. F. H. Davis in the pulpit, taking for his text the first chapter of Romans and the 16th verse. "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ." Promptly at eleven o'clock our services began, and many were present to enjoy one of the strongest sermons preached in Tabrenacle for more than two years. Many rejoiced because of the presence and power of the Holy Spirit. Rev. Davis will be with us Sunday night, June 3rd. n the morning we will hold Covenant Meeting. All are welcome.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH—
Holding Services in the Y. M. C. A.
Ninth and Hemlock Streets.
Dr. H. D. Prowd, Pastor.

Our Sunday School was well attended and the Lesson very ardfully discussed. At the 11:00 o'clock services Dr. Prowd preached from the Text. Mark 16:3 "Who Shall Roll Us Away the Stone" and from Luke 24:2 "And They Found the Stone Rolled Away." The subject was Stones Rolled Away, and the entire discourse was fraught with teaching, comfort and hope. It was made very plain that we most of the time put stones on our own pathway, while others at times place them in our way, and some are rolled therein the way of trial, but The Almighty God is sufficient to move all away. The B. Y. P. U. was conducted at the usual hour, nad all benefitted from the subject. At night the Text was "I will dwell in the House of the Lord forever." The singing was excellent and all enjoyed the day of blessing. We extend hearty welcome to all but urge that you come praying.

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH—
Twelfth and Hemlock Streets.
Los Angeles, California.
Rev. F. H. Davis, Bro. T. Pastor.
Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.
B. Y. P. U. 6:30 p. m.

The regular morning and evening services were held last Sunday. Inspiration was to be gained from both meetings. Rev. Davis filled the pulpit in the morning with the subject—"I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ Jesus" And the Holy Spirit came and dwelled among all that were in the House." We are sure they will return again on the first Sunday in April. In the evening the Rev. Green from Phoenix, Arizona, took his subject from the 13 chapter of the first Chro. Abide by these Faith, Hope and Charity but the greatest of these three are Charity. We hope to have this Man of God to worship with us again.

We are pleading to all of the Loyal Members of God and Tabernacle Baptist Church to return to your Church and give God the Glory. Be not deceived; God is not mocked what soever a man sow, that shall he also reap.

AT 1007 CENTRAL AVENUE—
11:00 a. m. Preaching
8:00 Evangelistic sermon.

Rev. L. E. Brown and his band of loyal church workers have pitched a whirl wind campaign to raise $5000.00 for our new church home on 27th and Paloma Street.

We come to our friends to ask your aid to get us into this beautiful church edifice.

The campaigners are out after 500 friends who will donate $10.00 each. We have a friend who will give us $1000.00 if we 500 will raise our $10.00.

Let us put this pony in whirl wind style.

We have many times to Los Angeles let the know of our struggle. We are out of doors. We have sinner friends as well as others whose sympathy is with us.

Rev. [illegible], Pastor.

Last Sunday was Rally Day in the church. [illegible]

[illegible] the church in Pasadena. [illegible] Rev. [illegible] Pastor. All [illegible] were present, [illegible] with special collections.

A splendid attendance, five churches represented and another splendid offering was made. The Endeavor was well attended and the Young people were in larger numbers than usual.

At night Brother Washington, from the West Side Mission, spoke to a mixed audience from the text, "What will it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

A third splendid offering was taken.

Total offering for the day, more than $300 dollars with the promise of more to come. We cordially sincerely thank all visitors and participants, and pray God's choicest blessings upon you all.

FIRST A. M. E. ZION CHURCH—
Corner Pico and Paloma.
Rev. W. E. Shaw, Pastor
Res. 1217 Paloma Street.

"I will meet you at Sunday School," should be the slogan this week and passed along by every true Zionite and well wisher of the Sunday School because Sunday, June 3rd will be observed by this church as "Go to Sunday School Day. This broad invitation is extended to everyone (mothers and fathers in particular), so come early and show the children that you are at least interested in them.

Rev. W. E. Shaw will occupy his pulpit at both services next Sunday. Come out and hear the Truth and the Truth shall set you free. We are living in an age when sin is whitewashed over or never mentioned but Rev. Shaw stays on the firing line and does not give Satan a chance to blind fold you.

"Woman's Day" was a very successful affair last Sunday. The sermon by Rev. Ida Ford instead of Rev. Mary Palmer shall ever be remembered by those who heard it. Text: "Ye are the salt of the earth." Matt 5:13. Mrs. Margaret Hood Banks read a paper that was very interesting and timely dealing with the different types of women of the Bible. Her papers are always exceptionally good and deserve great commendation.

Rev. Shaw could not be present at the 3:00 o'clock services as he was obliged to fill a previous engagement at our sister church in Monrovia. He preached a fine logical sermon on "Faith."

Remember the rally on the mortgage indebtedness is at the door. Every member is expected to rally to their leader.

A welcome is extended visitors and friends to all services.

Make this your church home.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH—
Eighth St. and Towne Ave.
Rev. A. Milton Ward, Minister.

Rev. H. B. Gantt will occupy the pulpit in historic Eighth and Towne Avenue Church Sunday at 11:00 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. respectively. Holy communion will be celebrated at both services.

Interesting services were held last Sunday. Pastor Ward occupied his pulpit at 11:00 a. m. and in the evening there was a song service conducted by Payne Middleton, the Western field secretary of the Allen C. E. League. Mr. Stello of Philadelphia, favored the audience with the solo "The Lord is My Light and My Salvation." By urgent request he responded to an encore. He is to render a solo next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.

There were two accessions to the church and the offering for the day was nearly $300.00. Many prominent visitors were in attendance. Rev. and Mrs. J. H. McCorkle of Riverside and the Rev. H. B. Gantt and wife worshipped with us.

Rev. Ward was voted a vacation by the church and left on Monday for points in the East. He plans to be out four weeks.

The Sunday School and A. C. E. League had an interesting session last Sunday. There were 17 additions to the membership of the Sunday School. The red ship sailed ahead for the 2nd time since the drive has been on.

There is to be a debate and dinner served at the church Tuesday June 5.

HARDING INSISTS ON WHITE SUPT. FOR TUSK. HOSPITAL

Makes Half-Promise That Negro Superintendent Will Be Appointed Later.

(Crusader Service)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Declaring that selection of a Negro personnel for the Tuskegee (Ala.) Hospital for Negro veterans of the World War, would require time and that meantime it was necessary to retain white officers in charge, President Harding refused to reconsider his decision to appoint white medical officers to these positions, leaving to Negroes only such subordinate positions as ward doctors, nurses, attendants and interns.

That statement was made officially at the White House last week in explanation of Mr. Harding's attitude toward the few hundred Negro civil rights organizations and white residents of Tuskegee upon control of the institution.

KLAN HEADS IN FUSS AGAIN

Control of Suckers' Initiation Fees the Real Cause of Struggle Between Simmons and Evans. Latter Got $100,000 in Charge Made by Former Imperial Wizard and All in Six Months Time—Oh Say Some Sucker Organization.

(Crusader Service)

ATLANTA, May 30.—The Courts may think they settled the fight for control of the Kluxers between Imperial Wizard Evans and former Imperial Wizard Simmons. But Evans and Simmons know there's too much sucker money involved for any such polite settlement. And both of them are determined to have their two hands in the pie, too. So Simmons started things anew here today, when he made the 'sensational' charge that "a recent audit of the Klan books showed that Evans in six months received in fees more than $100,000, and that this money was deposited to his personal credit and appropriated to his own use."

From this it would appear that our own Marcus Garvey of "Black Star" fame will have to take a back seat. Evans has it all over poor Marcus. Says Simmons about Evans: "In addition to a salary of $15,000 a year (true, Marcus' was supposed to be $25,000 a year, but he claimed he rarely got half of it) and the fees which he appropriated, Evans has charged to the Klan every item of his living expenses including house rent, grocery bills, light and fuel, and automobile upkeep and gasoline." Whew! Oh, boy!

In Evans' absence, his attorney declared that Evans would return to Atlanta, Klan imperial city, and 'make things hum.' A fight to the finish is promised. At him Evans! At him Bill! "Attaboy."

GARVEY FACES U. S. COURT

"Provisional President" of Africa Charged With Using the Mails to Bamboozle and Defraud. Case Opens at Last "No Law Against Dreams," Says Prosecutor, But Law Against Anyone Using the Mail to Fool the Public.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, MAY 30.—Marcus Garvey was forced to go to bat today in the government's case against himself and other officers of the Black Star Line (defunct) on the charges of using the mails to defraud the public. Confidential request by Garvey's attorneys for further postponment of the now famous case was definitely refused by the District Attorney's Office.

The case opened Wednesday with Garvey losing his first skirmish when his counsel attempted to have the case tried before another judge than Judge Mack on the argument, branded as ridiculous, that Judge Mack was a contributor to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, a rival organization, according to counsel for Garvey. The prosecutor argued that Judge Mack, being interested in the advancement of colored people, as evidenced by his contributions to the N. A. A. C. P. was the person most fit to judge of the merits and demerits of the case against Garvey.

On Friday the case was continued with an adjuration from the prosecutor to the jury to discount any statement from the defense regarding race betterment as having any bearing upon the case. Assistant Federal District Attorney Mattuck, representing the government, made the opening argument to the jury in the Federal District Court presided over by Judge Julian Mack.

"There is no law against dreams," said Mr. Mattuck, "but there is a law against anyone using the mails to fool the public, regardless of their race or color." Thirty to forty thousand colored people would be better off today if the Black Star Line had never been started, for these unfortunate investors have shares in their possession that are worth less than nothing. It is the purpose of the prosecution to show that various fraudulent methods were employed to induce people in all parts of the country to subscribe for stock in the steamship company which is now defunct after squandering over one million dollars. It will be shown that money from the U. N. I. A., the Negro Factories Corporation and several other subsidiaries, of which Garvey was director-general, found its way into the treasury of the Black Star Line."

While Mr. Mattuck was making his scathing denunciation of the "president" of Africa, and his financial schemes, Mr. Garvey sat leaning over a table beside his array of five lawyers headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson and C. W. McDougal. Every once in a while when an especially blistering shaft was cast the brilliant little eyes of the man who sent his propaganda into remote places of Negrodom would twinkle and a look of nervousness would overspread his face only to pass away in the next second.

As the case promises to be long drawn out and the testimony of scores of witnesses to be taken, the prosecution plans to conclude argument presented [illegible] Monday morning.

POLITICAL MISLEADERS SHOULD BE POLITICALLY ASSASSINATED

HERE is a fac-simile of the Application made by RALPH L. CRISWELL to join the KU KLUX KLAN. It was discovered by the District Attorney in his raid on Klan headquarters last year, and published in the Los Angeles Times, June 8th, 1922. Mr. Criswell at first denied making the application, but afterwards admitted that he had done so.

In the recent Primary Election MR. CRISWELL RECEIVED MORE COLORED VOTES for Councilmanic honors than any other white candidate; (Can you believe it?) while men like WHEELER, SPARKS and MUSHET, who fought the KLAN and made it unlawful for them to appear disguised in public places, received little consideration from the Colored voters.

This is why they say the Negro is politically "BLIND IN ONE EYE and CAN'T SEE OUT OF THE OTHER."

STUDY OF ANT HABITS PROVES INTERESTING.

By Wendell Gladden.

Has the ant a sense of smell?

Well, we shall see.

One day ma made three large lemon pies for my exclusive use. She put them on a table near the kitchen window to cool. Naturally, I began working as hard as I could so that I could make a counter attack on the pies with all the fervor that a spoiled stomach and appetite would permit.

So when I ceased my labors I ran to the table where the pies were lying. But to my surprise I saw three cross-eyed ants walking around the crusts. I let my index finger drop on one of the ant's head, and behold—his eyes bulged out and he sank within the depths of cooling lemon.

Having removed the greedy pests from my sight I felt certain that my troubles were over and left the kitchen for a few minutes to prepare for the feast.

But to my surprise again there were fully three hundred families of ants seizing my pies and attempting to drag them away.

I was unable to eat, and so I went away disappointed. Can the ant smell? I'll say so.

Listen—I afterwards gathered a large household of these busiest of little creatures and studied them.

Here is what I discovered about these seemingly insignificant things.

First, that the ant is allied to the bee. A lens-shaped scale or segment found at the waist or peduncle distinguishes it from other insects.

Surely, thot I, each male member of the familes that undertook to devour my precious dessert must have loosened his belt at the waist and tested the capacity of its abdomen by storing away an enormous amount of food.

Speaking of eating reminds me of an old man in Missouri who staked a purse of $5 against $100 that he could successfully put six dozen fried eggs into the dark warehouse of his body without the least effort.

He won. He had a neighbor who could eat a whole sheep and still have a gnawing appetite left.

With these astounding incidents in mind it is obvious that had I eaten the three pies, no record would have been broken.

The ants have a queen and young ones and are sociable. Both males and females have wings. The undeveloped females are the workers, and are wingless. So you see, the weaker sex is coming into its own.

Unlike most of that particular sex, the queen ant is not jealous.

It is not unwise to predict that the day is not far distant when ants will send telegraphic messages from one community to another, because of the educational facilities, the skill, and ingenuity of the workers.

Nor will it be difficult for them to construct airplanes and visit their pesty racemen in Central America.

An army of these leaf-cutting ants are as great a menace to lemon and orange groves as the Rocky Mountain locusts are to a wheat field.

There are many species of ants—the brown ant that lives in a burrow and throws up dirt around it—the carpenter ant, large and black found in logs and rotten timber—and the honey ant which stores away honey for hard times.

Slavery is still in existence, for there is the slave-holding ant, with a rusty red head and foreparts, and brownish legs and abdomen. The slaves have dark red legs. Scouts go out and locate them. Armies of ants then go out in orderly array and capture the unfortunate insects and keep the eggs until they mature.

When one ant meets another, he crosses his antennae with his friend's and apparently gives him some information of some sort, it is thought.

There are many moral lessons to be learned from the ant. The ant has an enviable place in literature. And I know Solomon's words apply to me also: "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise."

After all, has the ant a sense of smell? Yes, he has olfactory organs which stimulate a sense of smell similar to human beings. But I believe they can smell the pungent odor of lemon pie a mile away.

CUB CAPERS

By Leon Whitaker

This is the last week of school at the Southern Branch. The Northern Branch has been out for a month. Speaking of the Northern Branch, let it be mentioned that Misses Thelma and Lois Gibson, Kid Allen, the Alpha Phi Alpha and the other residents of those famous cities Berkeley and Oakland, surely know how to make things pleasant and hospitable for four little cubs and cubs to be, during one happy Easter week.

Errol Jones, the Southern showing been gone, is a prince among fellows and a wonderful entertainer in Christchurch.

William Rox is going to spend one month in the summer surveying camps in Griffith Park. While others are loafing, he'll be slaving. Hats off to you, Bill.

Sumner Thompson, the prize-winning sergeant, will spend his summer pushing a pen in the water office. He'll have the best go and the mojo also.

Miss Marian Robinson will no doubt push the little blue Paige up and down the book of California.

All the Feds will go to summer school. Who wouldn't go at 150 grand a month. We'd go all our lives.

Lorenz Graham will sling hash and hop bells along with being a tea-hound and a social lion.

Bill Stovall will go out with Mother Nature and drink deeply of her pure fresh air and salty waters. Possibly so, possibly so.

Edgar Johnson will stay in the post-office and compete with Miss Clod as a sniffler. Those post-office drafts are awful, but as negotiable paper, those checks are so nice.

Miss Harrison will probably go to the beach on moonlight evenings in South Carolina.

Miss Carter will most likely consolidate U. S. C. and S. B. U. C. but then we would be obliged to pay tuition.

Miss Hilda Johnson will read seven Spanish novels in Spanish. Pardon us.

Miss Bessie Evans and Miss Jewel Hoffman will gambol on the green; not gamble, but gambol.

The other darling little cubs so engrossed in their examinations, have refused to tell the author of any of their impending plans, but we know that all the individual summers will be well spent.

The one who styles himself scribe and Jefferson Brown, who is no longer little Jeff, will trek South to Imperial Valley "hot" on the trail of the dollar. Will say "hot" before it's over. Three and a half months of 90 degrees sun at 130 degrees in the shade should give us all kinds of insolation and energy?

The Cub will caper no more for a long time. The wandering pen is laid aside to cake with rust and ink while the happy summer days take precedence over all else. Good bye.

There's a guy so drunk that he thinks a bedroom suite is set with pajamas.

Ain't but the one, Bud.

NOSTALGA

By Wendell P. Gladden, Jr.

I would not think of home—
Where snow-clad
And purple peaks
The cerulean covering
In jagged outlines meet;
Where west winds sweep
The heaving sea;
And the aroma
Of new-born
Flowerets
And fruitage
Floods
The sun-kissed land;
I would not think of home—
But memories
Still linger.
I would not htink of home—
Of laughing childhood,
Happy faces,
And neighbors
With hearts so warm—
Where awaits
And prays for me
A tender Soul;
One whose cheeks and lips
I pressed—and called
My mother.
I would not think of home—
But there are those
Who love me,
And whom I love.

BROWN AND WHITTAKER GET LETTERS

BROWN AND WHITTAKER RECEIVE LETTERS IN BOXING AT BRANCH.

Jefferson Brown and Leon Whitaker, members of Southern Branch's varsity boxing team were recently rewarded for their good work with a letter and a numeral respectively.

Brown is the first colored student to earn his C at U. C. S. B. He competed in four of the matches arranged for the team, and won three of his bouts.

Leon has the honor of being the first race student to win a numeral for boxing. He won one of three fights in which he was engaged. At the Vermont institution he is acknowledged as lightweight champion.

Whitaker and Brown were the first race students to make the trip to Berkeley in competition for the Cubs. It is claimed that Brown is the first Jefferson high school graduate to earn a letter at the Branch.

Incidentally, both men are members of Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, and are living up to the character of its members by their hard work and destre allyays for achievement.

OMEGA TRIUMPH

Monday night fulfilled the mystic ordeal of initiation for two men into the life and fellowship of Lambda chapter of the OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY. Dr. Eugene C. Nelson and Mr. Jewel V. Hodge, a sophomore dental student at U. S. C, were the favored ones who boldly withstood the ordeal and consecrated their lives to the fraternity.

The Lambda chapter song, "All Hail Omega," an original composition, marked the close of the initiation; after which a refreshing repast, replete with oriental dainties, awaited both pioneers and new members at an exclusive downtown cafe. The room was beautifully decorated with the fraternity colors, purple and gold. Delicate hues of shaded lights blended everywhere to a focalized area, circumscribing the Greek symbols, O-MEGA PSI PHI.

Wm M. Peterz was toast-master for the evening. His introduction of Chauncey Townsend, who delivered the address of welcome, was marked by a review of OMEGA'S achievements for the year. Dr. Nelson responded with a carefully worded impromptu. Brother Nelson, as he shall be known by the members of the fraternity, is one of the most successful physicians and surgeons on the Pacific Coast, and his accurate comprehension of problems pertaining to the welfare of races is as amazing as his success. Brother Hodge continued the response with a modest but impressive speech. One meets him to give their instant approval; and his sincerity is a kind which will invite the enthusiasm of all. Other members of the chapter followed with illuminating speeches, in which they outlined the object and ideals of the organization.

An abundance of wit and eloquence which every man enjoyed enormously was to be had throughout the evening. It was a glorious occasion, a little touched perhaps with the splendor of setting and depth of appeal OMEGA men can display.

IN THE MUSIC WORLD

By John A. Gray.

One of the most important events in musical circles, from the standpoint of racial benefit, was the party given by Frederick T. Steinway, of the house of Steinway and sons, at New York's Hotel Gotham. This party was given at the above named place in honor of Frits Reiner, the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra conductor, who sailed a few days afterward for Europe. Mr. Reiner has just finished his first season in America as conductor of the above named orchestra. He attracted much interest last autumn, when he first arrived, because of his lively interest in jazz music.

The guests on this occasion were selected fro mthe greatest men in the musical world. Pianists, composers, managers, artists, singers, teachers and conductors were represented by some of the most capable men in each class. In this brilliant assembly was Mr. Harry Burleigh, our greatest living composer. Mr. Burleigh sang several numbers, all Negro spirituals, and played his own accompaniments. But to quote Mr. Pierre V. Key, in the "Sunday Times,"

The program arranged by Ernest Urchs for this occasion was so perfectly in place, and so admirably interpreted, that it demands a word or two. It consisted of several Negro spirituals, harmonized by Harry T. Burleigh, and of eleven Burleigh songs...all in the characteristic vein. The first group of eight were sung by Burleigh himself, who played his own piano accompaniments; the last three, including the always welcome "Deep River," by Alma Beck.

If only some students in singing (and some teachers, too) could have heard Burleigh they could have learned a lesson in technical delivery of song. No physical effort; no constriction of the throat. Just clear and easy singing, with vocal enunciation permitted to go its proper way, unhampered. And, incidentally, very musical interpretation."

In not this tribute to a race musician and to race music something to [illegible]—EAGLE, May 31, 1923 and entertainment in Negro music and a race composer. That Mr. Burleigh has a vocal attainment of which teachers could learn something is also an acknowledgement that our race is capable of high development. But to our thinking, the greatest benefit lines in the recognition of Negro music by the world's greatest musicians. What greater encouragement should the young race musician demand? Why should he not feel proud and inspired?

SEATTLE VISITOR HONORED

Mrs. D. A. Graham was delightfully entertained Monday evening by her son, Lorenz B. Graham, and a host of friends assembled by him at the home of Mrs. E. A. Snyder, 1275 W. 37th St. Some of those present had known the guest of honor over a score of years or more. All spoke of the high regard in which she and her husband, the Rev. D. A. Graham, have always been held. Almost the affair proved to be an impromptu recital, Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Jr., pianist, and Mr. Barto Duncan, violinist, have both been under the notice of Mrs. Graham for several years. Besides the numbers of these recognized artists, vocal solos, original readings, and a male quartet made the passing of hours a matter of moments. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, coffee, and pastry were served by the host.

Mrs. Graham will leave on the S. S. Ruth Alexander Sunday morning for her home in Tacoma, Wash. She states that she has been royally entertained while in the city and has been favorably impressed with Southern California. Her son, whose guest she has been, is a student at the University of California here.

CANDLE LIGHTING SERVICE BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

A most enjoyable evening was spent Thursday evening of last week at the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, 34th Street and Central Avenue when Circles No. 2 and No. 7 of which Mrs. A. C. Lightner and Mrs. N. E Perry, respectively, are leaders, gave a Candle Lighting sevice. A fine program was rendered which included an address by Atty. Willis O. Tyler, who thrilled the audience with his matchless eloquence as he told of the Educational and Economic opportunities we have here. The speaker feared that we as a group are not grasping these opportunities as we should. He cited the comparatively small number of our young people who are taking advantage of privileges of High School and College. Other numbers on the program were: Vocal Solos by Miss Dorothy Armstrong, and Miss Solly. Piano Solo, Miss Lillian Brasley. Miss Ella Hardie gave a humorous reading entitled: "Uncle Daniel's prayer." Following the program the lights were lowered and the Candle lighting took place. The Candles which were of various colors stood in rows having a white background and presented a very beautiful picture. Those who lighted candles and the amounts follow:

INDEPENDENT POLITICAL LEAGUE ENTHUSIASTICALLY ENDORSES MR. C. W. CLEGG FOR COUNCIL

Once more we are on deck, the Independent Political League. The Committee has been for fifteen days or more with Lucas C. Luke as Chairman to hunt down the various candidates that have favored us all along as much as other folks. Now here we come with another man who is seeking the suffrage of our people for Councilman, Mr. C. W. Clegg. We have known him for years and he certainly has gone the rounds in our favor many and many a time. Surely we will give him our support, as a whole. He is as precious to us as ourselves to each other. Watch that name, Mr. Clegg, it's quite important. I said to you before, "A hint to the wise is sufficient" and I know our Race understands me. I will close by saying, he shall get our vote as a whole. I know this will meet your approval. We must remember these white men whom we vote for in our prayers because, they all have stood the test. Can a leopard change his spots, or can a bear change his paw? No.

Your brother,
LUCAS C. LUKE.

NEWS OF CALIFORNIA STATE

RIVERSIDE, CAL.

The reporter of the Riverside notes has been out of the city for the past two weeks, and has not had time to gather doings of Riverside but will try to be on the job next week.

There was quite a large delegation of the A. M. E. Church in attendance at the District Annual Meetings of the A. M. E. Church held in Watts. Each department of the church was well represented and each delegate did credit to their church and town.

THE LOS ANGELES DISTRICT CONFERENCE; WOMAN'S MITE MISSIONARY SOCIETY' THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AND THE A. C. E. LEAGUE, OF THE EIGHTEENTH EPISCOPAL DISTRICT OF THE CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE OF THE A. M. E. CHURCH: IN ANNUAL SESSION AT GRANT CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH, WATTS, CALIFORNIA. REV. JAMES WASHINGTON, PRESIDING ELDER; REV. J. W. PRICE, PASTOR.

The most glorious district Annual Gathering in the history of the California Conference has just come to a close. There were upward of three thousand people in attendance at the various sessions of the different departments. The moral and spiritual benefits of the work of the previous years were visibly stamped on the work of this conference. Every department showed increase in numerica l and financial strength, and the spirit of th esrevice, in bringing a better revelation of the will of the Father to men was loudly proclaimed in every speech and paper. Several new Missions were established during the year and reported at the conference and great gains were indicated in most of the fields of labor. The Sunday School showing an increase of 00 and the numerical strength of the membership of the churches showed an increase of 6.

The District Conference

The Conference was opened at 9:00 a. m. Wednesday by the Presiding Elder of the District. The usual devotionals were observed. Rev. Hartnet of Long Beach leading. Rev. J. E. Fletcher preached the Annual sermon and the Holy Communion was administered to those present at the opening session.

Business Session

There was a volume of business of business transacted during the various sessions held, principal among the sessions was the one held jointly with the Misisonary department, the Sunday School and the A C. E. League, to consider a resolution presented by Dr. G. L. Cooper of Pasadena. The resolution made provisions to facilitate the evangelic and missionary work of the district. The resolution provided for a class affiliation of all the members of the district, both Ministerial and layety for the purpose stated above. The need of such an affiliation was based upon the inadequate funds of the missionary department of the annual conference to meet the demands of the smaller towns created by the heavy influx of the members of our group.

The Reports of the Stewards

This report showed 115 conversions and 365 accessions, a total of 3034 members, an increase of 561 over last year. There were many visitors to the conference. Distinguished among them were wives of pastors in other fields, widows of the honored dead, and ministers of other districts, conferences and denominations. Presiding Elder Wilson, of the San Francisco district remained throughout the sessions of the Conference and was a stimulant to the services.

The entertainment of the conference was all that could have been desired of a cosmopolitan charge. The committe on provisions expressed especial delight in caring for the delegation.

The Missionary Department
Mrs. Isadora Steward President.

On the afternoon of the first day, the convocation of this department was held. The organization was perfected and reports of the branches were heard. Mrs. Washington, wife of the Presiding Elder, of the Southern District and State president of the W. M. M. Society was present and gave an inspiration to the wrok. At the night session, Rev. L. S. Goolsby of San Diego, preached the sermon. His subject was "Under Weights." All present agreed that the message was masterful and timely. This department showed a total enrollment of 336 members in the senior societies and 131 in the auxiliaries, a total of 467 members. The program rendered by this department was highly spiritual and beneficial. Mrs. J. W. Price and Mrs. J. E. McCorkle rendered an (annual) duet that brought many shouts of praise and a feast of joy.

The Sunday School Convention

This meeting was held on the second day of the convocation Mrs. Edna Bomar, San Diego, is District Superintendent. The organization was perfected and splendid program was carried out. The delegates of the convention then made reports. Their reports showed that there are 178 Officers and Teachers engaged in the work in the Southern District and that there is a total enrollment of 1462 Scholars in the different departments. In the cradle roll there are 172 infants enlisted. The total increase over last year is 500.

The A. C. E. League

Mrs. O. E. Phelps, District Superintendent. This meeting was held on the third day in the afternoon. Principal on the program was a review of the work of the district by the district Superintendent and an address by Mr. Payne Middleton President of the Western States Leagues and the Memorial services held for Mrs. Dora Parker, former superintendent of the Junior branches. The report of the different Leagues where the Superintendants had visited were marked with the especial benefits received by them. The evangelistic work of the district seems to be most effective through this department and by the aid of these wrokers. The recognition was acknowledged when the Mass Meeting of the departments in session voted a token of appreciation to Mr. Middleton of $50.00 for the splendid work that he had been able to do in the past seven months.

A joint session of the Conference, Missionary Society, Sunday School and League were held at the night service of the third day. A review of the work of the sessions closing was made by the Presiding Elder; he also pointed out the hopes and possibilities of the work in another twelve months under proper diligence on the part of all. A special selection was rendered by Brother E. Hall of the First Church, Los Angeles. Resolutions were read from each department, the financial committee made report. Announcements were made. The Leagues held a pep meeting and the conference was adjourned.

PRIVATE POWER CORPORATIONS PLAN TO GRAB MILLIONS FROM PUBLIC ARE YOU GOING TO LET THEM DO IT?
A TRAGIC SITUATION

Your Municipal Electric System has reached the limit of electrical devlopment, for many years, along the Aqueduct. It already is buying 30 per cent of its power from a private corporation.

For this power it is forced to pay more than twice as much as it costs the City to generate its own electricity.

In addition to this, the demand upon it for light and power is increasing 22 per cent annually, and for this increase it also must pay a private corporation more than twice as much as the City's cost of production.

TO MEE T AN EMERGENCY

To meet a grave emergency the City is submitting to the people a bond issue of $35,000,000. $10,000,000 will be used for the complete construction of a power plant to generate 250,000 horsepower at Boulder Canyon, and to pay the complete cost of transmission lines to Los Angeles.

Boulder Canyon Dam is to be built and financed by the Federal Government. No part of the bonds is to be used in the construction of any dam anywhere.

The entire amount of these bonds, with interest, will be repaid from electric revenues. They will not increase your electric rates and they will not increase your taxes. On the other hand, they will make it possible for your Municipal Electric System to continue its present low rates.

EFFORTS TO BLOCK PROGRESS

Private power corporations are exerting every effor to prevent the City from extending its light and power system, to meet the needs of the people. Its dummy organizations, under various deceptive names are desperately fighting the proposed issue of Electric Power Bonds. In their frantic efforts against Proposition 6, they are flooding this city with vicious and ridiculous lies.

One of their favorite lies is that this bond issue will increase your taxes. As a matter of fact, this is the only bond issue on the ballot that will not increase your taxes.

Another of their lies is that this bond issue will exceed the City's bond limit. The fact is that after the $35,000,000 have been voted, there still will be an ample bonding margin remaining.

A third, and their most malicious lie of all, is that these bonds are to be used to build a dam at Boulder Canyon. The truth is that not one penny of this bond issue is to be used to build any dam, anywhere.

Circulars bearing the imprint of the "Working People's Civic League," are being distributed by the Edison Company from its garage at 1515 East First Street. A half dozen other deceptive "protective organizations," working in the selfish interests of private power corporations, have also suddenly made their appearance.

The only "people" these "leagues" are "working" to "protect" are the fat profits of the private power corporations at the expense of the people of Los Angeles. Why are these private power corporations and their agents so desperately fighting Proposition 6? Because, if they can prevent the City from generating more chean power at Boulder Canyon, the City will be forced t obuy this electricity at profit of millions to the private corporation, and at a loss of millions to the City and its people.

IT IS UP TO YOU

The Edison Company says that it can generat electric energy just as cheaply as your municipal system. If it can, how does it explain the fact that its house lighting rates in towns just outside Los Angeles are 29 per cent higher than the City's rates?

The corporations also charge that the City's water bureau is financially helping the Power Bureau. If that were true, where in the world would the Water Bureau get all its money? How do the corporations explain the fact that the City's water rates are just one-third of what the water rates are in San Francisco, served by a private corporation? And how do they explain the fact that water rates are just one-half of what they were in Los Angeles, before the City took over its water system from a private corporation?

It is your electric system that the City is operating.

It is your electric system selfish interests are desperately attempting to cripple and render inadequate.

It is your money that the municipal electric system has saved for you, by maintaining low rates.

It is this same money that the private power corporations are frantically trying to get their hands on.

Do you want them to succeed?

Do you wish to contribute $5,000,000 a year to a private power corporation?

The situation is entirely up to you.

——BUT REMEMBER——

A Vote For Proposition 6 Will be a Vote to Prevent an Annual Loss of $5,000,000

SONG AFTER ADOWA

By Ben E. Burrell for Crusader Service.

Tune Ethiopia's lyre and say:
"Praised be the living and the dead."
Our Ethiopia lives again,
Our Ethiopia lifts her head;
Tho' bleeding from a thousand wounds
Unbroken is her ancient spear;
Again her grandeur shall arise,
A flaming sun from year to year.
Who says that Ethiopia's sons
Have lost their fighting blood of old?
Who says that Ethiopia's suns
Shall see her beacon fires grow cold?
Nay, let the rolling torrents sweep—
Like granite rocks they face the flood,
Theirs is the one enduring faith,
Theirs the eternal heart of God!
And thou, Adowa, thou hast seen,
The alien army melt away;
The rolling cannonade is gone
And Ethiopia wins the day.
Europe's proud boast is heard no more,
Flung like a challenge to our hills,
Crushed are her armaments of war,
Her dead Adowa's valley fills.
Our Menelik rode forth to war,
Our Menelik who knew no fear
Went forth to battle as a king,
And wielded as a king our spear.
Down like a lightning shaft he came
And charged upon the alien foe;
Sword against sword and steel on steel
They reeled, they faltered from the blow.
So tune again the lyre and say,
"Praised be to Ethiopia's dead,"
Our continent shall live again,
Our ancient race shall lift its head.
Where'er her sons embattled, strive
To conquer 'gainst an alien foe
Another Menelik shall rise
To give another battle blow.'

TO THE COLORED CHRISTIAN VOTERS OF LOS ANGELES:

By Evangelist Cuddy, the White Anti-lynching Preacher.

As you all know my efforts for justice and your rights, I am sure you need all the information you can get about the Candidates, especially the School Board; I therefore, recommend to you the following candidates, for your consideration: Miss M. Jessie York, Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, Wm. B. Himrod, Mrs. Mary C. Millspaugh, M. C. Bettinger, John J. Craig, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Clarke.

The making of a new Charter can work much to your disadvantage. Therefore, the following names are apt to do more justice to your rights than the others I know of. Dr. John R. Haynes, Richard A. Collins, John S. Horn, Freeman A. High, Franklin D. Hewell, Mila Tupper Maynard, Joseta H. Tollhurst, Charles A. Baskerville, Roy Malcolm, William M. Morse, Jr.

I recommend for the council Robert T. Brain, Fred C. Wheeler, I. F. Hughes, Charles J. Colden.

The POWER BONDS—No. 6, should carry all your votes. It will make work and cheaper water than the Capitalists who want control of the water supply will ever give you.

Councilman Allen carried in his pocket for several weeks a request made by the colored people's forum, to have a city ordinance passed against wearing masks. Allen finally reported to the council that there was already a city ordinance against wearing masks at night time, and thus killed the proposition until the Inglewood affair came up. The indignation at that time forced this law to be made. This man Allen has the K. K. K. spirit. Do not fail to do your duty and vote for good government and the welfare of your children.

Keep this for your make-up ticket if you think them worthy of your vote.

Yours truly,
Evangelist CUDDY.

CITIZENS TICKET FOR SCHOOL BOARD

The Board of Education should be composed of individuals who are not pledged to or dominated by any group, creed, faction, party, or individual. With this idea in mind, the Citizens' School Committee was organized. Seven candidates were chosen, after very careful consideration.

The candidates chosen for endorsement by this Committee were: John B. Beman, Frank O. Bristol, Robert L. Burns, Mrs. George H. Clark, Frederick R. Feitshans, Mrs. Lucia Macbeth, and Robert A. Odell.

Of these candidates two have intimate knowledge of Eastern Los Angeles. Mrs. George H. Clark taught for four years in the Breed Street School. After her marriage she continued her interest in Eastern Los Angeles, where for the past fifteen years she has worked in the International Institute. Mrs. Clark's grandfather was an editor on 'The Liberator.' Mrs. Clark has been very active in the work of the colored Y. M. C. A., and has been greatly interested in the various religious and educational questions of Los Angeles. The appreciation shown for her work resulted in Mrs. Clark receiving the highest vote of any of the twenty candidates for the Board of Education at the Primaries on May.

Frederick R. Fietshans has lived in Eastern Los Angeles since he was five years of age. Mr. Feitshans is the only candidate living east of Main St., who is now running for the Board. Having seven children in the schools, and having always been interested in the development of Los Angeles, Mr. Feitshans will undoubtedly prove a valuable member of the Board of Education if elected.

John B. Beman is a graduate of our grammer and high schools, and of Stanford University. He has been in business as an attorney in Los Angeles for twelve years. He has two children who are to be educated in our schools. In the Primaries on May 1 Mr. Beman ran third among the twenty candidates, although his name has never been before the voters of this city in any previous election.

Frank O. Bristol has lived in Los Angeles for ten years, during which time he has been very active in public service. During the War Mr. Bristol served as a captain overseas in the Red Cross. His interest in the schools was aroused through his work as a member of the Schools Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and through his interest in his two children, one of whom is in our schools and on of whom is to enter later.

Robert L. Burns served five years on the School Board of Hutchinson, Kansas, and for twenty-five years was in charge of a large flour mill. Mr. Burns was the first flour-mill owner in Kansas to change from a twelve-hour to an eight-hour day, and thus led the way for the final adoption of the eight-hour day among all the millers of Kansas. Mr. Burns has had four children in our schools, two of whom have graduated, and the other tow are now in our high schools. As he can devote his entire time to this work, his experience and ability will be of tremendous value to the city of Los Angeles if he is elected.

Mrs. Lucia Macbeth has been very active in the Parent Teachers' Association work, has had three children in our schools, and is a highly educated, capable woman. Mrs. Macbeth ran fourth among the twenty candidates, which shows how greatly her previous work is appreciated by the people of Los Angeles.

Robert A. Odell is the only present member of the Board of Education endorsed by our ticket. Mr. Odell has been absolutely fearless in his condemnation of politics in the schools, with the result that he has antagonized many school politicians. In spite of this, however, he ran second among the twenty candidates at the Primaries and led by almost 10,000 votes every other member of the Board of Education who is standing for reelection.

SANTA BARBARA

Sunday was an ideal day and the services at St. Paul A. M. E. and Second Baptist Churches were good and well attended. The Sunday School at Second Baptist was well attended also. The pastor, Rev. H. B. Thomas, delivered two good soul-stirring sermons at the usual Sunday service hours to a splendid audience.

The organist, Mrs. H. B. Thomas, is training the children and an interesting program will be rendered on children's day. All are invited.

The B. Y. P. U., Mr. H. Alexander, President, has taken on new life and a number of visitors can be seen at the meetings. All are welcome to spend one hour of interesting discussion as the topics grow with interest each Sunday.

The delegates, Rev. C. Harris and members of St. Paul A. M. E. Church have returned and report a useful session accomplishing their undertaking and doing a great deal of good for the progress of the work.

Mrs. C. McGowan is home again from the hospital and reported doing nicely.

The St. Paul A. M. E. Church entertained with a missionary program Sunday afternoon which was a success.

Mrs. J. D. Stewart, Mrs. William Boykins and Mrs. Lena Simms expect to leave Friday to attend the grand lodge session in Oakland.

On last Sunday a jolly party motored up from Los Angeles as far as Santa Barbara consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones and Lillie Jones, all of Los Angeles and Lucian Jones of Seattle, Washington. While in the city they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Jones. [illegible] sister, [illegible] returning home Sunday evening. This visit brought five brothers and one sister together, who had not met for [illegible] years.

Whet up your old knives and on Tuesday next go to the polls and swat the L. A. Gas & Electric Company by voting "Yes" on proposition No. 6.

Dr. Haynes is always for the people—Vote for him to head the Freeholders Ticket.

The political hustlers, roor backs and thimble riggers will have a long rest after next Tuesday.

If you have not heard Chandler Owen and you are progressive as well as intellectual, go to the Independent Church meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock or if you cannot get there go to Douglass Temple at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

TUESDAY'S CHOICE.

The Soaring Eagle in the pending campaign has stood in ground and our columns have been an open forum, that all who cared could state their case. Therefore we have an abiding faith that all may consider well and choose well for the various offices and proposition.

However, if we would speak and represent, we could not fail to support the ticket for Freeholders headed by Dr. John R. Haynes. For School Board we could choose to vote for and support Miss Jesse York. Then for the City Council among others we would stand by Wheeler, Sparks, Mushet to the utmost, for they have always responded to the call for the man fartherest down. There are others, outside of the above on both the School Board and Councilmanic ticket who are worthy of your consideration.

We call especial attention and will support Bond issues No. 2 for the Public Library and No. 6, which will eventually give to the people a cheaper light and power rate and is being bitterly fought by the Los Angeles Gas Company and which company gives absolutely no consideration to the people as a whole.
